Expect Strike-Control Bill By March 15

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

The boys in the composing room and in the job department are having a lot of fun in spare moments these days. The reason—they've got a new Miller high speed, all automatic, cylinder press back there.

So fascinating is it to them that they've got us interested too and it sure is fun to stand there and watch that press click off thousands of printed sheets before you can bat an eye, almost.

M. S. Wade, who particularly likes to tinker with things, is the ring leader in the enthusiasm.

One of the most interesting talks heard recently was that given by Lewis Gregg at the home of Mrs. P. M. Kuykendall Tuesday. Lewis has been the representative of an American firm in Germany until recently and evidently, he didn't miss anything while in Europe.

Among the many things he spoke about was the fact that cigarettes are used instead of money over there. If you want anything or want anything done, you gotta produce cigarettes. Glad to know, too, from him that there is at least one German city that wasn't shattered by bombs. That city is Heidelberg which was declared an open city because of the university there.

He doesn't think the higher ups in Germany like us and cited an instance to prove his point. Walking down the street one day in Nurnberg he saw that a German woman had been struck by a car and seriously injured. Seeing a doctor's home nearby he rushed to the door to solicit aid. He said that a very striking German woman came to the door and despite all of his pleading and explaining, she refused to call the doctor. The doctor, who was her son, hearing the conversation, came out and went to the assistance of the distressed, only to find that the woman had died.

Furthermore when the doctor and Gregg started off to report the incident, the mother rushed out and upbraided him in German. Later the doctor explained his mother's dislike of the Americans by saying that his father and two brothers were killed in the last war.

H. R. Hicks says that the campaign for funds for the iron lung is getting far flung publicity and results, too. In the mail this morning was a contribution from Hazel Rogers of Monahans, a former Ranger resident.

People here are helping too and the fund is gradually building up. Also in the mail this morning was a contribution from Jimmie Arrendale for the iron lung and one for the March of Dimes.

Tickets are now out for the Elks Thursday night March of Dimes dance and they may be purchased by contacting E. F. Arterburn, Alvin Johnson, H. R. Hicks, Harlan Phillips and D. C. Arterburn.

Clever ad, that the Texas Electric Service Company carried in Tuesday's edition of the Times. Wonder who thought that up.

Feuds are the most devastating forces that can get into any cause and people who are inclined to engage in them should stop and think just what is to be gained.

Vandenberg, Connally Asked To Aid Marshall

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Truman has asked Senate President Arthur H. Vandenberg, R., Mich., and Sen. Tom Connally, D., Tex., to assist Secretary of State George C. Marshall in drafting of German peace terms, it was learned today.

Connally was reported by his friends to have assured Mr. Truman that he will accompany Marshall to Moscow if his services are needed.

URGES COOPERATION FOR SUCCESS OF SCHOOLS

Dr. G. C. Boswell, superintendent of public schools and president of Ranger Junior College has issued the following statement relative to the schools of Ranger and appealing for cooperation on the part of all for the success of the second semester.

"Your help in making the second semester the best one that we have had will be greatly appreciated. Lost time cannot be recalled, therefore, the whole school system should be given over to the best in all matters pertaining to school work.

There is nothing more intangible nor more necessary in any school than the proper school spirit. This doctrine needs to be preached and practiced by every teacher and every pupil and by all the parents. Anyone who can make a definite contribution to the improvement and promotion of the best interests of the school, has rendered a distinct public service. A teacher or pupil who attends only to his own work and has no interest in what others do, having a desire to leave the other fellow alone too, does not measure up to the highest standards of citizenship in a school. The one who wants to do anything that is to be done, the one who can join in team work and who has implanted strongly within himself the feeling of loyalty and courtesy towards others, can render a high type of service. The student body must act as a unit. It must stand squarely behind athletics, behind clubs, behind societies behind the high school annual, and all other activities that the school undertakes. In the grade schools every play, all contests, basket ball, and other activities undertaken by the schools should have the whole-hearted and enthusiastic support of every teacher and every pupil.

The property of the schools should be taken care of and each school should be an active and progressive, forward-looking, and forward-moving organization. Teaching within itself is not more than seventy-five per cent of the job. The rest of the work is found in full development of the activities which promote school spirit.

The modern school looks to the social side of the school as well as the purely intellectual. If the school discharges its whole duty towards boys and girls, it must furnish avenues of expression for the many-sided interests of the student.

We should think naturally of our schools as the temple of our democracy, for within its halls and its class rooms citizens are being made. Therefore, it is essential for teachers and pupils to think, to plan, and to work for the common good of man in all walks of life."

SOLDIERS IN ALASKA IN NEW GOLD RUSH

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UP)—There is a new gold rush in Alaska which rivals in enthusiasm, if not in rich strikes, the famous rush of '49.

Today's prospectors are soldiers stationed in Alaska. Their gold rush is sponsored by the USO and is classed as off-duty recreation. But that doesn't keep the GI "sourdoughs" from hoping to strike it rich.

Confronted by soldiers freshly arrived from the United States for post war duty and demanding "the shortest way to an undiscovered gold mine," the USO leased eight old mining claims near Fairbanks. There the off-duty miners pan for gold dream of the day they become millionaires.

USO hostesses most of them native Alaskans, drive the soldiers as far as possible over rough mountain roads in station wagons. On the last part of the trip to the claims, the GI's have to pack their pans and shovels through the gorges just as the old timers did.

Living nearby is a veteran sourdough who supplies the novice prospectors with advice on panning techniques, between tall tales of the Klondike's history.

The servicemen, however, will never get rich at the rate they're going. The best of them have been unable to pan more than $3 worth of gold a day.

Administration May Ask Help In Sugar Row

WASHINGTON (UP)—The administration may ask Congress for quick relief from the legal angle that is threatening industrial sugar rationing, a high OPA official disclosed today.

He said that in any event Congress will be urged to remedy the quirk before present rationing powers are extended, as expected. They now are scheduled to expire March 31.

Legislation On Federal Papers May Be Asked

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Truman may ask Congress for legislation requiring officials to leave official papers in government possession when they leave office, the White House said today.

Whether or not there is legislation Mr. Truman intends to set an example by leaving his public papers in the White House when he retires.

Underground Given Chance To Release Prisoner

JERUSALEM (UP)—The British gave the Jewish underground another chance today to release Maj. H. A. I. Collins, kidnapped British banker, before imposing statutory martial law in Palestine.

A high government source announced that Sir Alan Cunningham, the high commissioner, had extended the deadline of the ultimatum for the release of Collins or the military take over.

FILM HEAD GETS MEDAL OF MERIT

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The War Department announced today the award of the Medal for Merit to Jack L. Warner, vice-president in charge of production of Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

The award covers Warner's services to the War Department from September 1939 to September 1945.

The Medal for Merit grew out of the Badge for Military Merit established in 1782 in accordance with an order issued by General George Washington at his headquarters in Newburgh, New York. In addition to the Medal for Merit, rarest of all the awards of the government and issued so far to fewer than 200 Americans, there are two other awards, the Purple Heart and the Legion of Merit, which have their genesis in General Washington's original order.

Early in the war, even before the United States was actually involved, the War Department sought Warner's aid and asked that he bring his thirty years of motion picture experience into the preparation of arming the country.

Warner thereafter recruited and provided producers, writers, directors and technicians for the armed forces and established the First Motion Picture Unit of the Army Air Forces. In addition to making hundreds of training films at the Warner Bros. Studios, he supervised the production of a great number of recruiting subjects which were shown in the nation's theatres. He also aided in sending thousands of prints of feature films overseas for the entertainment and morale of troops.

Presentation of the award will be made by General of the Army Henry H. Arnold on Warner's return from Europe.

Report Claims Wages Can Be Guaranteed

WASHINGTON (UP)—A special study submitted to President Truman was reported today to say that much of American industry can institute guaranteed annual wage plans for employees.

The study is a summary of an 18 month survey. Guaranteed annual wage plans are possible, according to the report, but should be worked out through collective bargaining with unions on an individual company basis, it was learned.

Parimutuel Horse Racing Bill Up Before House

AUSTIN (UP)—A bill that would return legalized parimutuel horse racing in Texas was placed in the hopper of the House of Representatives today.

The bill would limit the number of major tracks to four, each to be allowed two 30-day meets a year. The five per cent tax proposed on bets would go to teacher retirement, dependent children of veterans, needy blind people and old folk pensions.

Cadet Corps At A. & M. Stages A Protest Today

COLLEGE STATION (UP)—The Texas A. and M. College Cadet Corps of 2,100 staged a protest march to the home of President Gibb Gilchrist early today and more than 200 officers and non-commissioned officers submitted their resignations after a change in the administration of student discipline.

Warns Against Cut WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. Albert J. Engel, R., Mich., warned his fellow Republicans today that plans for an across-the-board cut in income taxes "may spell defeat" for the GOP in 1948.

U. S. GIVES UP AS MEDIATOR FOR CHINESE

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States, irked by the delaying tactics of both sides, today formally abandoned its long efforts to mediate the bitter civil strife between Chinese Communists and the central government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

The American decision—signifying early withdrawal of American Marines from China—was revealed by the state department in an announcement issued simultaneously here and in China.

Specifically, the department said that this government has "decided to terminate its connection" with the committee of three which was established under American auspices on Feb. 19, 1945 to seek accord between Chiang's Kuomintang and the Communist party.

James Healer Enlists In Army For 18 Months

JUDGES OF LIVESTOCK ANNOUNCED

Judges for the beef cattle, hogs, sheep and goats division entered in the annual Eastland County Livestock Show at Cisco on February 21 and 22 have been selected it was announced today.

Joe Weedon, Grosvenor, in Brown County has been invited to judge the beef cattle according to M. E. Fry, Cisco, President of the Livestock Association. Weedon a breeder of registered beef cattle for many years, has judged in several big Eastern shows and annually exhibits on a show circuit, and has taken cattle to National shows. He grew up in the beef cattle business in Brown County as his father also bred registered beef cattle.

Guy Powell, Llano, former county agent has accepted an invitation to judge the hogs, sheep and goats in the show. Powell has both exhibited and judged in many shows during the last 20 years and is in great demand as a judge in county and district shows on the above animals, it was said. He is now coordinator of the GI Vocational School in Llano County.

Powell judged sheep at the annual county show in Ranger last March.

REPUBLICANS HOPE TO WARD OFF ANOTHER COAL STRIKE

WASHINGTON (UP)—Chairman Fred A. Hartley, R., N.J., said today his House labor committee will try to get a strike-control bill to the House floor by March 15 with the idea of heading off any effort by John L. Lewis to call another soft coal strike April 1.

Hartley's announcement came as the Senate labor committee heard industry witnesses ask for legislation to outlaw secondary boycotts, the closed shop and industry-wide collective bargaining. Bills to invoke such bans are being considered by the committee.

Hartley said his committee would open its hearings with testimony from House members who have introduced amendments to the Wagner Labor Relations Act.

Hartley indicated that his committee would act independently of the Senate, but that "we will cooperate with the Senate labor committee".

The Senate group meanwhile heard R. Stafford Edwards, president of the Electrical Manufacturers Association, complain that the industry can sell its products in large city markets only on terms dictated by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL.

TWENTY MILE TUNNEL TO DIVERT WATER

CHICAGO (UP)—A 20-mile tunnel, to be cut through the towering Medicine Bow Range in central Colorado, will rob the Colorado River of enough of its flow to irrigate hundreds of square miles of parched plains lands lying to the east of the Rockies, geologist John C. Hoff reports.

Dr. Hoff, of the Colorado School of Mines, told here how the engineering project will divert water already well on its way toward the Pacific via Grand Canyon, into the South Platte River instead. The Platte feeds into the Mississippi River system.

The Blue River tributary of the Colorado will be dammed to back up water that will be guided by canals into a series of tunnels and conduits, Hoff said. Passing under mountains and across valleys, the water finally will emerge on the eastern slope of the Rockies. From there it will be guided into the South Platte to swell its flow across thirsty plains.

In addition to the main 20 mile tunnel under the middle range of the Rockies, the new diversion system will include an eight mile tunnel, several shorter tunnels, three dams, at least six miles of huge conduit tubes and more than 15 miles of canals.

Hoff said work on the project would be started next summer.

MORE STATES ACTING ON DELINQUENCY

CHICAGO (UP)—An increasing number of states are acting to curb juvenile delinquency by preventive as well as corrective programs, according to the American Public Welfare Association.

Commissions studying juvenile delinquency will report to legislatures in New Jersey, Michigan and Massachusetts this year and in Mississippi in 1948. Legislation recommended by these research groups is expected to emphasize a need for correcting environmental defects which cause youngsters to go astray, as well as broadening court and institutional programs. Other states have put such programs into effect, and New Jersey is establishing a central state diagnostic center to study delinquent youngsters. A similar center was organized in California last year.

New York recently began special classes for delinquent children to help guide them toward better adjustments. In Atlanta, Ga., the board of education has been authorized to establish detention and instruction schools for the mentally defective, delinquent and neglected children.

Michigan and New Jersey raised age limits at which young offenders may be treated as juvenile delinquents rather than adult criminals. Michigan raised the age for boys from 18 to 19, and New Jersey increased the maximum from 16 to 18.

Why Does the Baby Ask, Why . . .

. . . is explained with reason by the psychologist, but when a grown person, mature in years and probably business experience, rushes into an abstract office and asks the abstractor "Why didn't I get an abstract when I bought the place?" is one the psychologist doesn't care to explain, and we have never tried. It's a man's privilege to err and blunder which may explain in part why only a small per cent of the persons reaching 65 years of age are self-supporting. What a tragedy!

Mrs. Kuykendall Hostess At Affair

Mrs. F. M. Kuykendall was hostess to the Columbia Study club when members of that group met at her home Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

Mrs. James P. Morris, president, presided at the meeting and presented Mrs. J. E. Matthews who gave a delightful review of Louise Baker's book, Out On A Limb.

Finds British Set For Export Drive

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (UP)—Industry in England is going all-out to design newer and better machines for export, Dr. Erle A. Walker, director of the ordnance laboratory at Penn State College, reported upon his return from a trip abroad.

"England realizes that she must export in order to live," Dr. Walker explained. "And about the only tool she has is what was formerly 'Britain's know-how.' To this end, almost every industry in England is making a determined effort to design machines for export."

Dr. Walker added that the country's industry is trying to rally the best scientific talent it can. Despite all these efforts, the professor found, the revival "is being hindered by almost the same factors that are hindering our revival in the United States."

He said that there were many strikes, and "productivity of the average individual worker has fallen off." He concluded that the "British workmen feel they are being denied a well-earned rest or the spree they have postponed for many years."

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jensen who have been in Walters, Oklahoma for several months are at their home in Ranger for a short stay.
