Marjorie Maddocks has received another letter from the man in Sweden who wants a residence in Ranger. 'According to the letter the Swede had a brother, Fabian Amandus Fransson, who lived in Ranger in 1916 and in Cisco in 1917. The writer of the letter, Erik Winestam, says that at that time his brother over here had $10,000 with which he planned to buy Winestam a home. So far Marjorie's efforts to find the brother have run up against a wall, so if you know anything about Fransson, Marjorie would appreciate the information.

What's worrying us is whether or not the brother if found, would still have the $10,000.

Phone Company Makes Statement On Wage Offer

Representatives of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company here today stated that the offer which the company made to workers yesterday and which the union turned down last night would have meant an immediate wage increase of $4.00 a week to all employes. In the second place it would mean an increase of $4.00 per week in all top rates for all employes and would mean a $3.00 per week increase in all plant craft starting rates and in all other starting rates except those in the smaller towns where an increase would be $2.00 per week. The offer made by the company was termed "final" and it was uncertain as to what steps will be taken now to settle the more than a month old strike.

Critical Jury Oks Crafts Production

BOSTON (UP)- There's a salesroom in Boston's Back Bay exhibiting only articles which have won the approval of a critical jury.

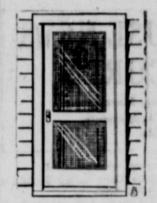

The articles are made by mas ter craftsman and are sold through the Society of Arts and Crafts, which celebrated its 50th anniversary in April.

The oldest organization of its kind in the United States, the saciety has sponsored many arti-sans who have gone on to independent fame.

Members of the society, who pay $33 annual dues, submit their work to a jury whose goal is to raise the standard of handicraft. Craftsmen determine the amount they wish to receive for their work, and a small percentage is added to take care of the #64 dty's overhead.
