

EDDY NICHOLSON
... Philosophizes for families

Program to combine music with 'rocking-chair talk'

Rocking-chair philosophy and gospel music are combined in an unusual program by Eddy Nicholson, who will appear in the First Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

DRESSED in overalls and surrounded by such symbols of old-fashioned family life as a coal stove and wooden churn, Nicholson dispenses his non-pragmatic approach to the current problems of American families. He calls the 23-minute program "Folks Ain't a-Livin' No More... Just Existin'."

A native of the Tennessee hills, Nicholson put the show together a few years ago "just for fun and to keep the vocal chords loose," after a 30-year career of gospel singing on television and radio programs as well as in churches and evangelistic services.

EXPLAINING the reason for the program's success, Nicholson says, "Most folks probably have a deep desire to slow down and live. This program merely brings it to surface and shocks them into re-evaluating their life priorities."

"People relate to the primitive setting, old gospel songs performed bluegrass style, and family oriented stories," he adds.

By Bob Hill
A. G. Edwards & Sons, Inc.

We have short memories. There are more cars on the roads than ever before. Car dealers are selling the big models and can't give the economy models away. Motor home sales are booming and we have gotten off the "Conserve Energy" kick that was so popular a year ago.

WELL, the OPEC countries are quietly reaching a compromise agreement which will make all of us wonder why we haven't gotten our own energy house in order. It's only a matter of strategy and timing. The OPEC countries have to extend the current oil-price freeze until next fall. By then, the economic recovery of the West and Japan will have strengthened to where a price increase of at least 8% and possibly more can be posted without putting a dent in the current business boom.

There has been a steady increase in world oil demand. The OPEC countries are pumping 30 million barrels per day, up from just under 27 million barrels in January. The US will import about 7.2 million barrels daily which is 42% of total US oil consumption compared to 29% in 1972. And that's with states such as Texas pumping 100% of the allowable every month.

THE PUSH for a price increase by the oil producing countries is caused by massive spending programs in those countries started in the cushy big-income days following the hike in oil prices three years ago. However, the big spenders were caught in a worldwide recession, oil consumption dropped sharply and so did their incomes. The OPEC countries would have rammed through a big price increase long ago but the members were disorganized and undecided on the best time for an increase.

A Shell Transport and Trading Co. official believes a 10% increase will be the minimum and that it could come as early as this October. Iraq, Algeria and Venezuela want a $2.50 per barrel increase next fall. That's a 22% increase over the current price of $11.51 per barrel. Any price hike will hit the poor countries harder than heavily industrialized countries such as Japan and the US, so the OPEC countries have agreed to supply $400 million in aid to underdeveloped countries to soften the blow of a price increase. The numbers are impressive. A 10% increase adds $6 billion a year to the present total of $126 billion a year for the OPEC countries. Prices of gasoline, heating oil and naphtha will climb sharply.

Sale of KDHN awaits ruling

If the Federal Communications Commission approves the sale, Radio Station KDHN of Dimmitt will be under new ownership within two to four months.

HOWEVER, the station would remain under the same management. Gerald Marvin Hanners, who has managed KDHN since 1972, has filed an application with the FCC to purchase the station from High Plains Broadcasting Co., which established KDHN here in 1964.

"We expect action by the FCC in approximately 60 to 90 days," Hanners said. No broadcasting station can change hands without FCC approval. No purchase price has been disclosed.

Beef industry works tirelessly to keep it 'your best meat buy'

Two years of visionary planning and tireless work paid off today when President Ford signed the Beef Research and Information Act. Earlier this month, the bill passed the House by a vote of 200-170 and the Senate by 65-27.

"This is an exciting and far-reaching opportunity for cattlemen!" exclaims O. J. Barron, chairman of the Beef Development Taskforce, which developed the concept and successfully pushed it through the legislative phase, in spite of adamant opposition by labor unions and consumer activists groups. "This shows what a united cattle industry can do—we had endorsement by 81 state and national beef and dairy organizations, plus the Farm Bureau and the National Grange. Never before has the cattle industry been so united behind a program."

"This is enabling legislation, which merely permits the Secretary of Agriculture to publish an order and conduct a referendum," explains Barron. "There will be no program unless two-thirds of the producers voting approve it. Next step is to publish the order in the Federal Register. Then the USDA will conduct hearings around the country, probably in the early fall, at which any cattleman or organization may testify. Then a revised order will be published and a referendum conducted, probably in early 1977."

"The big job of informing all 1.8 million cattle producers will begin immediately," concludes Barron. "State and county BDT's are being set up for this purpose. If the referendum passes, a collection of 3/10 of 1% of the value added by each producer will be made. This will raise $30 million to $40 million per year for beef research, education, information, promotion and market development—something our industry has needed for a long time."

Demand for ground beef continues to grow reports ANCA's Beef Business Bulletin, as a result of fast food business as well as home use. Estimated sales of ground beef were 23% of all beef sold in '74, compared to 17% in '72. Purveyors serving the institutional market account for 40-45% of all meat sold and 25-30% of this is ground beef. Although school lunch ground beef contains soy, 95% of ground beef sold to hotel/restaurant trade is pure beef. One Arizona retailer said ground beef accounts for 35% of beef sales tonnage.

T-bone steak without the bone! Using a process called meat restructuring or flaking, beef can be flaked, frozen and formed into various products such as strip steaks, patties, cubes, steaks, roasts and loaves. These products are now being offered around the country by various packers and retailers. A. E. Farrington of Wilson & Co., Oklahoma City says, "The advantages of flaking are greater juice retention, better flavor, maximum utilization of less tender cuts and trimmings and more acceptable products at less cost." Pork, lamb, fish and poultry are also utilized in the process.

Increase corn grain yields up to 10% with SPARK.™

Your Helena dealer has an exciting new way to help you increase corn yields up to 10%! SPARK GROWTH STIMULANT for corn, a combination of dinoseb plus surfactant, used as an over-all post-emergence spray on corn has the UNIVERSITY PROVEN POTENTIAL OF INCREASING GRAIN PRODUCTION BY 5% - 10%. Here is how SPARK helps promote bigger yields: -Enhances corn growth -Silks emerge about 2 days sooner -Tassels emerge about 2 days sooner. This means a longer pollination period and a tendency to get away from corn that does not fill all the way out to the end. Enhanced growth, longer pollination, fewer barren stalks, more complete ear-filling. They all add up to big potential production increases and profit.

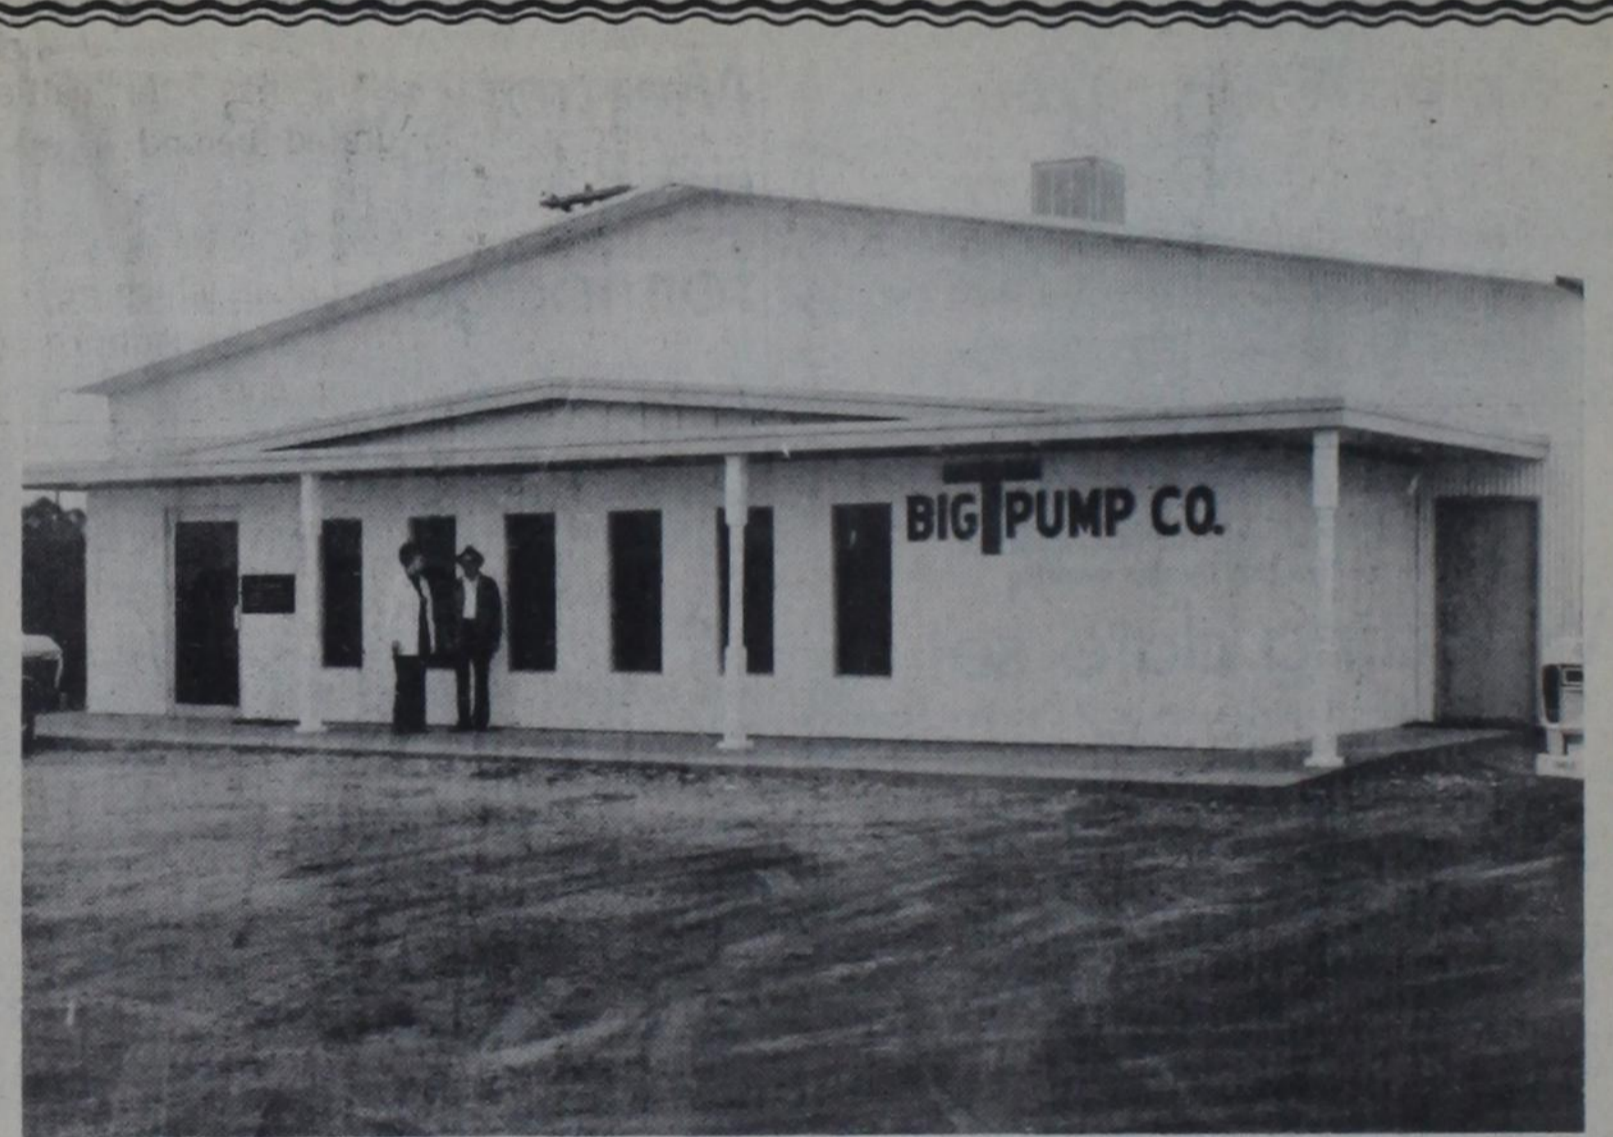

...AND PROVEN IN THE FIELD.

Farmers who have tried SPARK say: "I'll never plant another acre without SPARK." Ralph Russell-Michigan. "I got 8 bushels per acre increase...didn't have as many barren stalks, ears were filled out better." Everett Curtner, farmer and bank president, Union City, Indiana. "We returned $19 per acre on a $5 investment...at least a 7-bushel increase. SPARK could mean the difference between a new piece of machinery this year and next year. I'll spray ALL my corn in 1976." Otto Werner, Hanna, Indiana. TIMING... IT'S ESSENTIAL: The most important factor in SPARK application is timing. Look to apply SPARK when corn is in the 6-leaf stage, about 2-4 weeks before tassel emergence when corn is about knee-high. Get into the field, split some stalks, and find the unemerged tassel "2" in length. The best time to apply is when the unemerged tassel elongates from "3" to about 7" in length. SPARK. PRODUCED WITH THE HELENA GUARANTEE OF QUALITY. Every can of SPARK is lab-tested for consistency and produced under the most careful quality control. When you buy SPARK, you buy the best. Ask your Helena dealer about SPARK, the corn growth stimulant that is leading the way to bigger yields and bigger profits for you.

For more information, contact Helena Chemical Company, South 385, Hereford, Texas. Phone 364-3733. Spark has been registered for use in Texas, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma.

Janie Sheffy, Johnny Vick married in garden setting

May blossoms in a natural garden setting decked the scene for the marriage of Janie Sheffy and Johnny Lee Vick Saturday. The late afternoon ceremony was conducted in the backyard of Mrs. Sid Sheffy's home, 705 West Bedford.

THE BRIDE is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sheffy and the granddaughter of Mrs.

Sid Sheffy. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Vick.

Rev. Marvin Roark, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, directed the couple in repeating wedding vows at an altar improvised under a shady tree. Flowering iris, roses, daisies and other late spring blooms grew all around the altar and the area where the guests were seated.

Shelly Lupton of Hereford was Miss Sheffy's only attendant and James Michael Stidham acted as best man for his brother-in-law. Jamie Stidham was the small flower girl. Joe Sheffy, brother of the bride, and Perry Gipson, the groom's cousin, were ushers.

WEDDING music was by Rita Stidham and Skip Skinner playing piano and guitar. Skinner was the soloist for "Your Song," "Something," "My Love" and "Wedding Song." Perry Gipson sang "Color My World."

Her father gave the bride in marriage. Her white gown, styled on simple lines, was ruffled with wide lace at throat and wrist, down each side of the bodice to form a yoke effect, and around the empire waistline.

Her white picture hat of lacy braid had bridal illusion draped around the crown and caught at the back with a cluster of flowers, flowing free the length of the gown. White roses, daisies and babybreath were arranged in a nosegay for her bouquet.

THE MAID of honor was dressed in blue taffeta with a blue-flowered inset above the high waist, which was circled with a cummerbund. She carried a nosegay of blue daisies and the flower girl, also dressed in blue, had more of the daisies in her basket.

A reception in the United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall followed the wedding. Kelly Potts invited guests to register.

Connie Sheffy ladled punch as Robbie Sheffy served the triple-tiered wedding cake from a table ornamented with daisies and candelabra.

For the wedding trip to Ruidoso and into Western Colorado, Mrs. Vick wore a blue pantsuit. The couple will be at home after a week at 220-R North Broadway.

All of this getting out of school by a sizeable portion of the population gave me pause for thought.

I'D FORGOTTEN that even good students are nervous about passing on to a new grade and don't feel safe until they see the magic words on paper. And when they do see them, it's cause for celebration, whether they are official graduates or going from one grade to another.

But, with a little reflection back to those golden days of yesteryear, I recalled a few of those last days of school. The books have all been turned in and there isn't must to do but wait for the day to pass when school is over for one long, glorious summer of vacation.

Then, there would come the first morning of no school on what the week before was an official school day and only illness would suffice as an excuse for not attending. (Or maybe an appointment with the President.)

IN A FEW days the memory of bells ringing with a summons to class would fade along with homework and hall passes and milk breaks. Then, a new experience begins—summer doldrums. After all the activity of school, time would hang heavy and drag on like soggy tennis shoes in high grass.

Well, for those who begin to feel bored around June 10 we can help. That's the day we start our summer reading program with a party which we hope will resemble a small carnival when launched.

Of course, we hope to not only sign up many people for summer reading, but also to keep things lively all summer and encourage everyone to read. We want reading to be fun and hope to offer material interesting enough to capture the reader's fancy from the beginning and carry it through. We may work up a new movie schedule.

I may have already mentioned this and if so, this will be another reminder. We're in the best-seller business. There's a table beside the circulation counter set aside for the top ten fiction and non-fiction books each week. If your favorite is checked out, let us remember you on our reserve list.
