Saturday Is Bargain Day In Ranger

Well... I Dunno, But...

Directors of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce tell us that tickets to the banquet Monday night are going like hotcakes and those who want to attend had better speak up because only 200 can be accommodated.

Tickets may be secured from the directors or by calling at the Chamber of Commerce office. But don't buy one unless you intend to be at the banquet.

Bring on the dry ice! We recently commented on the fact that a process of producing rain by scattering dry ice among the clouds had been proven. According to the scientists, the dry ice is sprinkled among clouds from an airplane, producing a condition that produces rain from clouds that otherwise had not produced.

Seems to us that now's as good a time as any to try out the deal, for heaven knows we need rain. Today is the 29th day since rain has fallen here and this following an unusually dry month of May. We hope that before this goes to press, the clouds hanging around will have given forth.

Too, out of the 18 days' temperature recorded so far this month only three days have had maximum temperatures under 90 degrees. Average maximum temperature for the month is 91 and 5/9 and average minimum temperature is 73 and 2/9.

You've been looking for 'em and here they are—the bargains we mean. Appearing in this edition of the Times you will find advertisements telling of the bargains that Ranger merchants will give you on Saturday. Read those ads and find what you want, then go get it.

The merchants are designating Saturdays as bargain days in Ranger and each week will have something special to offer. With most of squealing our heads off about high prices, these bargains should prove popular and lets cooperate with the merchants by patronizing bargain day sales.

Furthermore, Ranger merchants have extended a special invitation to the ranchers and farmers of this area to seek their needs in Ranger on Saturdays.

With the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Rodeo and Round-Up just about six weeks off, the boys are beginning to get all steamed up and are thinking up new advertising ideas for their rodeo, and other new features to make the rodeo even better and bigger.

Right at the present they are also busy cleaning house like a bunch of fastidious housekeepers expecting company, just about finished painting the grandstands and have the frame work up for the roof of their livestock show barn. They're cleaning the rock off of the grounds so that a big mower can be put to work on the weeds, of which there is a bountiful crop, we understand.

An the Jaycees have sure made Ranger rodeo minded. Even hear of people planning trips at other times so that they can be here for the big rodeo July 30 through August 2.

Though we hadn't got our wish for rain at press time this afternoon, the threat of rain had cooled temperatures at 1 o'clock this afternoon it was only 79 degrees. The highest hit up to that time was 85 which is better than 10 degrees lower than the maximum Wednesday.

We're still hoping for that downpour.

RUSSIA JOLTS DISARMAMENT PROSPECTS

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—Russia jolted United Nations disarmament hopes today with a prediction that the Russian-inspired arms scrapping negotiations may collapse before they begin.

Some big power diplomats felt however, that Soviet Deputy Minister Andrei Gromyko was bluffing. In an agry move which was likely to have its first ramifications today at important closed meetings of the United Nations atomic energy commission, Gromyko warned that disarmament talks were headed for a breakup because the western countries refused to link them with atomic control.

Gromyko foresaw dark days for his own government's project last night after the disarmament commission had turned aside his earlier warnings and adopted an American, rather than Soviet, plan of work for disarmament negotiations. The American proposal was an almost meaningless one aimed solely at nursing against disarmament musing into territory of the atomic commission.

Rumor Of Storm At Gorman Said To Be Unfounded

Rumors to the effect that Gorman had a storm of some kind Wednesday night were without foundation according to Eugene Baker, publisher of the Gorman Progress.

Mr. Baker reported this morning that they did have a heavy rain and a rather high wind, but added that a check with an insurance firm revealed that no damage had been reported from Gorman or surrounding territory.

COUNTY FARMERS NOW HARVESTING $500,000 WHEAT OAT, RYE CROP

Primarily Eastland County is not a grain producing county. Eastland County farmers, however, are this week winding up the work of harvesting (harvesting of rye just beginning) a crop of wheat, oats and rye, conservatively estimated at a value of $500,000 and this in face of the fact that the yield has been unusually low and the price only slightly above normal.

In addition to the wheat, oats and rye, and which is not considered here, is the corn and row crops. Corn is being cut

W.O.W. To Hold District Meet In Mineral Wells

MINERAL WELLS, June 19—Farrar Newberry, Omaha, Neb., national president of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society, will come to Mineral Wells on June 26, and be a guest at a district meeting of the Woodmen of the World to be held here at that time.

Other distinguished guests to be here also will be the four Texas State managers of the Woodmen of the World, and one national director, George W. Hine, Abilene; Noble T. Lee, Dallas; Roy W. Martin, Houston; R. N. Dusan, San Antonio, and John J. Wahl, of San Antonio. All are managers except Mr. Wahl, the national director.

All the field men of the West Texas district will join Manager Hine here, also, and Woodmen and degree staffs from a number of lodges throughout West Texas will take a part in the meeting and program.

A banquet at the Baker is planned for that night at 6:45, at which time Nathan Theford will preside; Rev. Chester Watt, of the First Baptist Church, will give the invocation and President Newberry will be the speaker. He will be introduced by State Manager George Hine. The speech will be broadcast.

A large class initiation is scheduled for 8 o'clock that night at the convention hall. The Mineral Wells W.O.W. degree team and degree staff will put on the work. At this meeting 25 year pins will be presented to approximately 100 Woodmen. Fifty-year pins to be presented to three.

One of the highlights on the off-program schedule will be a softball game at 4:30 at the Travis Park, of the local W.O.W. team of Mineral Wells Lodge No. 703 and a team representing Camp No. 1, of Dallas.

Some 300 guests are expected to come here for the district meeting.

The earthquake in 1755 in Lisbon was so great it disturbed water in Loch Lomond, Scotland, 1,220 miles away.

short by the dry weather that has prevailed for several days, and many grain sorghums are yet to be planted.

Eastland County Agent, J. M. Cooper has expressed surprise at the rapidity with which the present grain crop is being harvested. This, he thinks, is due largely to the fact that there is an unusually large number of combines owned in Eastland County. "Eastland county farmers are really becoming machinery conscious," Mr. Cooper says.

EISENHOWER PASSES OFFER OF COLUMBIA

WASHINGTON—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, army chief of staff, said today he had been offered the presidency of Columbia University in New York.

Eisenhower said, however, he has no intention of leaving his present assignment "during the current year."

Maj. Gen. F. L. Parks, war department information chief, issued a statement which said—"In answer to many inquiries from the press, Gen. Eisenhower has directed me to say that he has no intention of leaving his present assignment as chief of staff during the current year, and never without the full approval of the secretary of war and the president."

"In determining any future activity in which he might embark at the conclusion of his duties as chief of staff, he would like to utilize his energies in something connected with public service of non-political nature."

Officials Silent

NEW YORK—Columbia University officials had no comment today regarding a statement by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower that he had been approached regarding the possibility of becoming president of the university, but would not leave his post as army chief of staff in the current year, at least.

Previously, Kredrick Goykendall, chairman of the trustees of the university, had said that "no president of Columbia has been selected."

Bradshaw Family Together First Time Since '39

The Bradshaw family, one of the well-known families of Eastland County, had their first get-together since 1939 Sunday when many of the members, as well as a number of friends, met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. (Ralph) Bradshaw on South Dixie Street, Eastland. They plan to make the gathering an annual affair.

Present Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Garverick and R. E. Bradshaw and wife of Cisco; A. E. Bradshaw and family, and R. R. Bradshaw and family of McCamey; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Buckbee and family of Iran; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hoffer of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Snoddy and Bob Leverage of Seranton; Miss Louise Snoddy of Mesquite.

Victim of Snake Bite Reported Out Of Danger

Attendees at the Ranger General Hospital reported today that Wanda Jean Johnson who is being treated there for rattlesnake bites, is out of danger.

It was stated that she is still suffering as a result of the bites and the treatment that was necessary to give. She received two bites about the wrist, which, it was explained, is a very severe dose of poison.

She was bitten Monday morning while in the orchard at her home at Morton Valley, the first strike of the snake knocking her to the ground. She heard the rattle but thought it was a cricket and not until the snake struck again did she realize what had happened. She ran to her home and was rushed to the hospital.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Johnson of Morton Valley.

Ambassador To Turkey Named

WASHINGTON—President Truman today nominated Edwin C. Wilson, ambassador to Turkey, to be chief of the American mission for aid to Turkey.

Mr. Truman also nominated Charles E. Saltzman, vice president of the New York Stock Exchange, to be assistant secretary of state.

Wilson is a career diplomat. He is a native of Palatka, Fla., and a graduate of the University of Michigan and of Harvard.

Wilson's relief assignment parallels that of former Nebraska Gov. Dwight Griswold.

15 KILLED IN CRASH IN SYRIA

By United Press

NEW YORK—Pan American World Airways reported today that 15 passengers and crew members were killed today when one of their airliners crash landed in Eastern Syria.

A report phoned by a surviving crew member Third Officer Eugene W. Roddenberry, River Edge, N. J., to Pan American's office in Damascus, said that eight of the 27 passengers aboard were killed and that only three crew members including himself survived.

The scene of the crash was in the Euphrates river valley near the border of Iraq. Roddenberry made his phoned report of the accident from Dier-Ez-Zor.

Istanbul dispatches to the United Press said the plane crashed at Meydana, 200 miles northwest of Damascus, enroute from Karachi to Istanbul.

Railways Ordered To Provide More Safety Measures

By United Press

WASHINGTON—The Interstate Commerce Commission today has ordered railroads to provide "more and better protection for the traveling public" on high speed trains operating over tracks which lack block signal systems.

The ICC found that such systems are lacking on about 18 per cent of the total track mileage over which passenger trains are now operated at 60 miles an hour or faster.

It ordered the roads to install "automatic or manual block signal systems" on all parts of their lines where passenger trains travel 60 and freight trains 50 miles an hour or faster. Each signal in such system protects a certain block of track indicating to an entering train whether or not it already is occupied.

The first academy to train Coast Guard officers was founded aboard the barkentine Dobbin. Later the academy was established at Curtis Bay, Md., and finally at its present location, New London, Conn.

Lloyd L. Bruce Wins National Insurance Award

Lloyd L. Bruce, general agent in Ranger for Reserve Loan Life Insurance Company of Texas, has won the National Quality Award an honor given outstanding career life insurance representatives by the National Association of Life Underwriters.

Lloyd L. Bruce

To win the National Quality Award an individual must pay for a minimum of $150,000 of new life insurance a year for two consecutive years and at least 90 per cent of the business written must stay in force. In addition the life underwriter must be a full-time underwriter for at least two years and he must be a member in good standing of The Association of Life Underwriters.

Injured Girl Still Confined

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Ward of Ranger, were in Weatherford Wednesday and called at the home of Bonnie McDonald who was injured in the wreck in which their son, Donald E. Ward and Alton G. Wright were fatally injured last Saturday.

They stated that the young lady is still confined to her bed though her condition is not now considered serious. It was stated that doctors have ordered her to remain in bed for two weeks.

The rumor had been circulated here that she had died and this definitely is without foundation.

MERCHANTS TO GIVE SPECIAL PRICE ON SATURDAYS

Saturday will be bargain day in Ranger and if present plans work out every Saturday will be bargain day in Ranger.

In an effort to show the people that trade in Ranger that they appreciate their business and that the towns wants them to trade here, merchants will offer special savings on each Saturday. Each Saturday merchants of Ranger will have special $1.00 Dy bargains and other reduced prices on items, that will bring great savings to the people of the trade territory.

It was pointed out that rather than offer prizes or gifts to people coming to Ranger to trade, the business people are offering reductions that will actually mean much more to the people and at the same time be a way of saying "thank you" to those that come to Ranger to trade.

In the columns of this newspaper today you will find advertisements of the first of such savings. This serves notice of who has the bargains and what they are. The public is urged to study the ads for their own benefit and to make the most of the opportunity to buy for less.

This is a cooperative program on the part of Ranger merchants and has the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants Association and other civic groups.

Safety Lecture Given At Lions Club Meeting

A. J. Ratliff was in charge of the program at the regular meeting of the Lions Club Thursday at noon and presented E. B. Lathrop, of the public relations division of the Texas and Pacific Railway as the guest speaker.

Mr. Lathrop gave an illustrative lecture on railway crossing accidents and members reported that the lecture was very interesting and informative.

President J. A. Knox presided at the meeting and announced that officers will be installed at the next meeting.

Mr. Ratliff had as his guests for the meeting B. A. Tunnell, and Fred Warren of Electra and Ike Griffin of Marshall. Dr. R. C. Ameen had as his guest, Dave Adams of Abilene.

Legion Business Meeting, Show To Be Tonight

It was announced today that the regular meeting of the Carl Barnes Post of the American Legion will be held tonight at 7 o'clock at the hall for a business session which will precede a film showing.

At 8 o'clock a combat film of part of the 36th Division will be shown and the public is invited to attend.

Two Softball Games Scheduled

Softball games are scheduled for tonight and Friday night, according to an announcement made today.

The First Baptist Church team will play the Goodrich Store team at 8 o'clock tonight at the softball field and Strawn and Premier Oil Refining Company team will play Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Expect Senate To Sustain Veto On Railway Bill

WASHINGTON — Democratic leaders were confident today the Senate would sustain an anticipated presidential veto of the Bulwinkle-Reed bill to exempt railroad rate agreement from the anti-trust laws.

The Senate yesterday approved the measure 60 to 27 over Democratic protests that it would result in a "transportation monopoly." Senate Democratic leader Alben W. Barkley promptly urged a veto.

House approval of the measure was considered a certainty since it okayed similar legislation last year. Rep. Carl Hinshaw, R. Cal., said he would urge the House Commerce committee to open hearings as soon as possible.

Boy Makes Habit Of Saving Lives

WACO, Tex. (UP)— Sidney Cockerham has a habit of saving people's lives.

The 19-year-old Marine Corps veteran, who says he'll re-enlist, was on his way home from school recently. Getting off a bus, he saw a small child drowning in a creek. Cockerham jumped in and saved the child's life.

When he was a small boy he saved a brother from drowning, and, at 15, he saved another child from drowning in a lake.

Hula Dance Modest, Princess Says

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (UP)—Laida Kreuz is the daughter of a retired Amataupulevasegatoapu Kreuz, S. naval officer, Milton J. Kreuz, who says the hula is not a "hotchy-kootch," but a "very serious" ritual dance.

Laida, a civilian employe at the Great Lakes Naval training station, makes her home in Waukegan. In her free time she serves as ambassador for her South Sea island country.

The dancing princess backs up her defense of the hula by claiming she has a long and varied knowledge of Polynesian dances. She has danced, she said, since she learned to walk back in her home town, Pago Pago, on Tutuila in American Samoa, and while a student at Sacred Heart Academy in Honolulu.

Born 23 coconut seasons ago, Kreuz, formerly of San Francisco. Her mother is a Samoan princess, daughter of the late Chief Aumualisinaono, "leader of battles," who ruled over Pago Pago before the U. S. Navy took over control.

The raven-haired reveler performs in her free time before clubs, night spots and special events. Her specialties are the hula and "Siva Nifo Oti"— Samoan knife dance. Another of her specialties—the Tahitian "Siva Sasa"— she describes as "making all the motions sitting down."

Getting back to the hula, the princess said "it is not supposed to be a bit suggestive. It's been misinterpreted terribly."

She pointed out that "wrong hula dances insult the natives, too.

Paris, Of All Places, Reports Lack Of Beautiful Women For Models

By Sally Grambling
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS (UP)—France is facing its most critical shortage yet a dearth of beautiful girls.

That is the opinion of Marcel Renville, president of the largest Paris model agency, who is in a dither wondering where he will find enough beautiful girls to act as mannequins in the fall collections.

"Beautiful women simply don't exist in France any more," Renville sighed. "Out of every hundred I see, only one really qualifies for the job of fashion model."

As this correspondent was interviewing Renville, a shapely blonde stalked out of his office shouting.

"Take that blonde girl who was just in my office," Renville said. "She won't do at all. She had an excellent figure and a pretty face—but she was much too short and what a lack of charm!"

Renville's standards for beauty are so high that the average French girl is almost sure to fall down one one of the qualifications.

Men should not despair about the shortage of Parisienne beauties, however. French girls are just as shapely as they were 100 years ago. Put since the "haute couture" has demanded tall, slim models, the average pretty girl in France cannot fill the bill. In a recent model contest, 250 young women ranging in age from 17 to 40 paraded past Renville and a group of fashion experts.

All wanted to be models. Only one qualified. She is red-headed Elyane Everard, twenty-two year old daughter of a garage mechanic and has been a fashion model for five years.

Here are Elyane's measurements: Height 5'5 1/2"; neck: 13"; bust: 34 1/2"; thigh: 21"; calf: 13"; ankle: 8". Nevertheless Elyane is upset because her mother and father consider modeling "a kind of peddler." And the life of a model is not too easy.

home, Elyane has a hard time making ends meet. She is given a great many of the dresses she means after the collection is finished. But food is a big and having no kitchen she is forced to eat out in restaurants.

She is alone, since her family lives in the country. Because model reputations are considered "questionable" by bourgeois Parisians, Elyane has had a time finding the kind of people she would like.

"I don't believe the model heritage has anything to do with a lack of beauty," Elyane explained.

Tall slim girls, or any kind of girls will refuse to be mannequins as long as outsiders attach a stigma to the profession.

Cry Havoc

Out of the type-casting rut is June Havoc, star of Broadway and Hollywood. She retired from the movies after getting too many gum-chewing roles. But now she's back with parts she wants—a sultry siren in the new George Raft picture, "Intimacy," and a secretary role in the forthcoming "Gentleman's Agreement."

Woman Scientist In Russia Trails Meningitis Cure

By Walter Cronkite
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 MOSCOW—(UP) Lisa Stern, a member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, believes she has discovered a way to combat tuberculosis-meningitis, once a certain killer.
 Her method is a combination of brain-spinal injections and the new drug, streptomycin.
 Less than a year ago Miss Stern who did her first research with R. Gaultier in Switzerland during the first World War, began experimenting with injecting streptomycin into the cerebro-spinal fluid through the nape of the neck.

 In the months since, the lives of 30 children stricken by the dread meningitis have been saved.

Time is the important factor in Miss Stern's method. The disease must be detected and treated within its second week. If treated in the first part of the third week, life might be saved but prevention of paralysis blindness or deafness is difficult. After the 17th day of the disease there is little hope of effecting a permanent cure, according to Miss Stern.

She believes that the new technique may lead to even more important discoveries in the treatment and perhaps cure, also by streptomycin injection, of tuberculosis itself. She warns however, that it is far to early to make any predictions along that line.

The method is being applied successfully here in treatment of encephalitis or inflammation of the brain, and even in cases of stomach ulcers and bronchial asthma.

With her "brain injections" of potassium phosphate during the first, Miss Stern, working at the front, developed a five minute treatment for traumatic shock which brought the wounded immediately out of the state of serious depression that frequently caused death.

All those methods stemmed from her original Swiss experiments with Gaultier, during which they discovered that not all substances injected into the blood make their way into the cerebro-spinal fluid.

They discovered what they later named the hematencephalic barrier. The problem was to hurdle this barrier to reach, without surgery, the central nervous system.

Miss Stern came to the Soviet Union to continue her research under state subsidy. Here she first began to develop the technique of

Schoolmates Honor Trackman Dillard

BEREA, O. (AP)—One of the nation's fastest Negro hurdlers is being honored in a unique but practical way by his schoolmates at Baldwin-Wallace College here.

The trackman is Harrison Dillard, holder of six American hurdling championships—the national AAU high and low hurdle crowns both outdoor and indoor, and the national collegiate high and low hurdle championship.

Some 1,500 B-W students took part in the program to provide a year's tuition for Dillard's first-born child, although he is not even engaged at present. The campaign was kicked off with a "Dillard Day" at which the dean and team coach spoke.

Wisconsin Plans Helicopter Training For Vets

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—Wisconsin may have one of the first state veteran-training programs for the development of helicopter, amphibious, and float airplane instruction.

The program was endorsed by members of the Wisconsin Aeronautics Commission and recommended to the governor's educational advisory committee for action.

The commission emphasized the reaching the central nervous system by injecting medicinal preparations directly into the cerebrospinal fluid. Her first practical application of the method was in the traumatic shock treatment.

Hang On To War Young Folks Time Jobs

CHICAGO (UP)—Many of the children and youth who held wartime jobs haven't quit them, the Encyclopedia Britannica 1947 Book of the Year says.

More than twice the number of 14 to 17 year olds employed in 1940 were working last year.

That was in spite of the fact that child labor and school attendance laws, weakened during the war have been made stronger in most states, Miss Beatrice McConnell of the Department of Labor, author of the article, said.

Says Frozen Food Idea Is Century Old

BOSTON. (UP)—Don't you think you are right up to the minute just because you have a brand new deep freeze unit in the pantry.

The idea is more than 100 years old, according to R. C. Poole, research and development engineer.

Poole told a meeting of food technologists here that in 1842 one

Country Cure Urged For Bowery Heavy Drinkers

NEW YORK (UP)—Drunkards will be banished from the Bowery if the East Side Chamber of Commerce has its way.

Mayor William O'Dwyer is studying a proposal the chamber made that a commission be named to consider Bowery alcoholics in a state farm colony until they are cured "or almost cured."

The state colony or farm has not been established, but the chamber said that if it should be created and the alcoholics sent there, the action "would materially reduce the disgraceful condition on the Bowery where three-times-daily police pickups of drunks seems like a continuous excursion.

 Commissioner of Hospitals Edward M. Bernecker said Bellevue Hospital had done yeoman-work in caring for the Bowery drunkards.

"We take them, clean them up, sober them up, turn them loose and in two days they are back again from the Bowery," the commissioner said.

Cause of Colon Ulcers Still Eludes Research

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Despite exhaustive research, the cause of ulcers of the colon still baffles the medical profession. Dr. Kendall A. Elsom, of the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, told the Philadelphia County Medical Society that knowledge of the cause of the ailment has not been advanced for the past 10 years.

He said it is now generally believed that some type of infection primarily is responsible, though no bacteria or infectious agency to which it could be attributed has been isolated so far.

CHICAGO (UP)—The Prudential Insurance Co., plans a $15,000,000 housing project to accommodate 1,500 to 2,000 families on the city's South Side. The development will be started this fall, if possible.

EASTLAND COUNTY'S FIRST SHERIFF

Henry S. Schmick was one of the early settlers of Eastland County. He came to this section of Texas five years before the county was organized and took an active interest in business and political affairs for fifty years. On December 28, 1932, he celebrated his 90th birthday at his home in Eastland. He died two or three years later.

M. Schmick was born at Pocahontas in Randolph County, Arkansas, Dec. 28, 1842. Here he spent his early life. When the Civil War began he enlisted at Pocahontas as a Confederate soldier in the 7th Arkansas regiment under the command of Capt. Joe Martin. Before the end of the year he became ill and was honorably discharged. In 1862 he re-enlisted in Company E under the command of Capt. Brashers and was elected 2nd lieutenant. During the remainder of the war his company formed a part of Gen. J. C. Tappan's brigade in Gen. Tom Churchill's division. Mr. Schmick was never in one of the great battles of the war though he took part in several of the minor engagements, the most important being the battles of Pleasant Hill and Jame's Ferry.

When the war closed Mr. Schmick was located at Marshall, Texas, and it was at this place that he laid down his arms. He came to Texas to make this State his home in 1868 and arrived at Mansaker's Lake in what is now Eastland County on the fourth day of July of that year. There were few settlers in this part of the country at that time and those that were here were harassed considerably by the Indians. It was not infrequent for Indians to come in on moonlight nights, steal the settler's cattle and horses and sometimes murder the owners.

Mr. Schmick was engaged in the cattle business from the time he arrived here until 1873. Eastland County was then organized and he was elected sheriff. Only about 50 voters were in the county at that time. He served two terms as sheriff, a term then being four years instead of two. Old settlers give Mr. Schmick credit for having been a very efficient officer during his eight years of service.

maintained in business at this stand for eight years and then disposed of his stock of merchandise. Two years later he opened up a dry goods business on the east side of the square which he continuously operated until the oil boom in the latter part of 1918.

Mr. Schmick married Mrs. Sinie Lawrence Alford a widowed daughter of Judge A. Lawrence, in 1882. To this union was born one daughter, Maude, who died at the age of sixteen. However, they took into their home a niece, Agnes Harwood, the daughter of Mrs. Schmick's deceased younger sister, and gave her all the comforts and advantages of a daughter. At the celebration of his ninetieth birthday, Mr. Schmick was presented with a duplicate of the pilot's license which had just been awarded Mrs. Agnes Harwood Doyle by the government inspector. He was ever proud of the fact that his niece was the first woman pilot between Fort Worth and Abilene, and the first one in Eastland County.

After retiring from business in 1918, Mr. Schmick and his wife, made their home at Dallas and San

Eastland County's First Sheriff

The late Henry S. Schmick, above, was one of the early pioneers of Eastland County and served as the County's first sheriff. He served two four year terms, having been elected when there were only 50 voters in the entire County.

Shavey Lee Likes China Somewhat But N. Y. Chinatown Is Preferable

HONG KONG (UP)—On his first visit to China in more than 20 years, the mayor of New York's Chinatown still prefers the neighborhood of Mott and Pell streets where he was born and raised.

Shavey Lee thinks an occasional trip to the old country would do every Chinese-American a world of good. His primary reaction, however, is "It's a nice place to visit, but I wouldn't care to live here."

From his loud ties to his two-tone shoes, Shavey is an American as baseball and hot dogs. He has a New York accent, he slangs in American and his outlook is peculiar to the millions who have lived in the world's greatest metropolis and rarely can be happy anywhere else.

Shavey was never elected to be mayor of New York's Chinatown, and can't even explain how he came to be known as such. But most New Yorkers have heard of Shavey Lee and he knows a good cross section of them, from Mayor O'Dwyer down.

Officially, Shavey is an insurance man. He handles the Chinese agency in New York for the United States Life Insurance Co. He also owns a restaurant called Shavey Lee's.

Unofficially he is spokesman for several years with their niece, Mrs. Doyle. Three years later they came back to their home in Eastland.

Mr. Schmick rests in the cemetery at Eastland.

and protagonist of New York's more than 200,000 Chinese, of who he is justly proud as having the lowest crime rate of any nationality group in the city.

Shavey is not the only famous member of his family, who originally emigrated from Canton more than half a century ago. His sister, Capt. Emily Shick, was the first Chinese-American girl to join the WAC, and later was one of the first American officers to enter Hong Kong after the Japanese surrender.

Shavey's brother, Thomas H. Lee, was the first Chinese-American to be admitted to the New York Bar, where he is now one of the few practicing Chinese attorneys.

Shavey arrived here from Shanghai, where he found the job of Mayor K. C. Wu not one to be envied. When she shakes the dust of China shortly, he'll be quite ready to head back to the sidewalks of New York.

"If you ever want to get hold of me," he says in his best East Side accent, "don't bother to phone. Just walk down Mott Street and ask anyone where is Shavey Lee. They'll tell you."

These monkey acts in Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo are just as bewildered as they look. The newly designed cage they're in is fitted with a special transparent mirror glass which allows the children in the foreground to view monkey antics but does not permit the monkeys to see the children. They only see themselves, as their side of the glass is a mirror.

Veteran Finds Education Tough After 13 Years

SEATTLE, (AP)—Roland McKee, a 31 year old war veteran, is finding hitting the books just about as tough as hitting beach-heads during World War II. He enlisted in the army in 1937 and was discharged in 1943. Since 1945 he has been burning the midnight oil and rising early in the morning to gain his bachelor's degree of education at the University of Washington. McKee had been out of school 13 years. Five days a week he hauls an 800 lbs. mail for the Federal Reserve bank to earn money to support his wife and three children.

Russie To Produce Low-Priced Cars

MOSCOW (UP)—Factory tests have been completed on the first 100 Moskvich low-powered, low-priced automobiles, and they will go into mass production soon. The new car, which bears some resemblance to the British Austin or the American Crosley carries four passengers, has a 23-horsepower motor, develops a speed of 55 miles an hour, and gets 30 miles to the gallon of gas, it was announced.

Rate of production or price of the car were not revealed, but production is to reach 60,000 annually "in the next four years," according to the Moscow News. It is intended that its price will make it available to what the News called the "general buyer."

Stone Age Lined Up

PRAGUE, (Czechoslovakia, UP)—A Stone Age village 25,000 years old has been discovered near Kladno, coal mining and industrial center north of Prague.

Your Cost of Living is a PENNEY Problem

Maybe we ought to say it's THE Penney problem—that's what we built our success on.

We make it our business to think about getting the things you need, at prices you can afford. We don't have "sales". Why should we, when we sell at lowest cash prices EVERY day! When prices zoom, we fight to keep them down. When prices fall, they fall for YOU—fast and low—at Penney's. Millions of hard-working American families know this. They are our customers—the backbone of our business.
