Britain Faces Major Political Crisis

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

The flags are out and the crowd's gathering and everybody's on his toes about the rodeo. Members of the fire department were busy this morning putting out the flags in the street light standards and stringing the flag standards across the street. The police department was also helping with the work.

Those decorating the town have asked that the merchants cooperate by putting out flags in the sidewalk standards in front of the business houses.

Yes sir, the town is putting on a festive air!

A. W. Warford is another public spirited citizen who's given substantial backing to the Jaycees' rodeo. He bought fifty tickets to the show and these will go to friends in Brownwood, Breckenridge, Abilene, Fort Worth, Tyler, Waco, San Angelo and Gorman.

That would say is real help to the cause.

Many have asked us about what time the rodeo parade starts. The parade starts at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon but the pre-parade shows begin at 3:15 o'clock.

They tell us that Frank Reeves of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Wendell Bedichek, managing editor of the Abilene Reporter-News, will be out for the first performance of the Jaycees' rodeo.

D. E. Pulley who's donating three handsome prizes for the rodeo winners has announced that special presentations of the prizes have been arranged. His daughter, Dena Pulley will present the lucky cowboy with the solid gold watch with diamonds on the dial; Gail Garner will present the lucky cowgirl with the diamond studded wrist watch and Peggy Lee Russell will present the 72-piece silver set to the winner.

The prizes, a public spirited donation from the Pulley Jewelry Company, will be awarded the last night of the rodeo just before the final event.

The girls that will present the awards will also ride in the Pulley entry in the parade.

We hear rumors to the effect that one of the floats in the parade, along with all of its other decorations, will bear the brands of ranches surrounding Ranger. Understand that this particular entry has required hours and hours of work on the part of a number of people. And it is so hot, too!

Through the courtesy of Saule Perlatin and his Globe store, the largest pair of "Lee's Riders" (rodeo pants, is what they are) will be on display each night at the Jaycees' rodeo.

Jaycees are complaining that not enough Ranger people are heeding the "go western" request made in Mayor Lee Dockery's proclamation last week, making this week rodeo week and asking the people to wear western garb as far as possible.

So getcha a bandana or sumpin' and join the parade and spirit of the thing.

We still say that we're missing a good bet by not employing C. E. May, Jr., on our reporting staff. If he could think up as many angles on other things as he can on the Jaycees' rodeo, we couldn't miss on taking him on the staff.

She's been back from Dallas, Tex., that her husband Bob, is slowly improving but will be in the Veterans Hospital there indefinitely but while there Susie visited all the Ranger people that she could locate. She had a visit with Walter Lee Jackson who's also in the hospital and who sent everybody a big "hello". Then she went over to the Methodist Hospital and looked up W. J. Powell, who's in training at that hospital.

Machines now being built produce enough popcorn in one day to fill a house. The machines are 15 feet long.

REGISTRATION FOR RODEO CLOSES TONITE

Entries to the Jaycee rodeo which opens here Wednesday night will not be accepted after 8 o'clock tonight, according to Jim Dean who is in charge of registration at headquarters in the lobby of the Gholson Hotel.

The office was set up early this morning and cowboys and cowgirls had been pouring into the office all day today.

Indications are that there will be more entries than in last year's show and that the rodeo is going to be a fast moving one.

This is the Range Junior Chamber of Commerce's second annual world championship rodeo and has developed into one of Ranger's major civic projects.

C. E. May, Jr., reported this morning that ticket sales are brisk and it is felt that the first night will be a sell-out. Tickets may be secured at the C. E. May Insurance company office on Main St.

Prizes totaling considerably more than $2,000, the amount put up by the Jaycees, will be awarded. Entry fees will be added to the big pot which will go to winners of the events. In addition to the money the best all-around cowboy will be given a solid gold wrist watch with diamond numbered dial the winner of the cowgirl contest will receive a diamond studded watch from Pulley's Jewelry Company, and other prizes include a $175 saddle, a set of silverware from Pulley's and a pair of shop-made boots from Greer's Boot shop.

The watches are on display in Pulley's display windows and the saddle and boots are in the Kanger (Greer's) Boot Shop display windows.

INVESTIGATORS HEAR HENRY I. KAISER

WASHINGTON — West Coast Industrialist Henry I. Kaiser told Senate investigators today that an appeal to the late President Roosevelt resulted in an about-face by the Navy in its opposition to Kaiser's plans for building jeep aircraft carriers.

A few moments before the hulking Paul Bunyan of West Coast industry, red-faced and angry, had accused his questioners of denying him the right to protect himself against a "smear campaign."

He appeared before a Senate War investigating subcommittee to tell his side of the story of an $18,000,000 air mammoth which still is earthbound after five years of building.

But in the stormy wrangling with the committee—which refused to listen to a prepared statement until he had answered questions—Kaiser ranged from flying boats to aluminum plants to anti submarine aircraft carriers and back to flying boats.

The senators are investigating war contracts granted to Kaiser and his former associate, millionaire plane-maker Howard Hughes for experimental aircraft.

Kaiser told the senators that top-ranking naval officers gave him a flat "no" on his ideas for the baby carriers until Mr. Roosevelt changed their minds.

Another stage will be set up in front of the Gholson Hotel and from this stage the Light-rust Doughboys will perform. This stage will also accommodate the judges, and a clown skit will be presented here, too.

Three blocks off Main Street will be cleared of cars before the parade and people are asked to cooperate with the effort. The blocks from the derrick to Maston Street will be cleared

Citizens Vote To Back Commission In Airport Improvement Program

Remember This Fellow?
Well, he's Bill Merrick, the clown who had his back broken at the Ranger Rodeo last year. Bill is back in the swing again and will perform at the Jaycees' rodeo beginning Wednesday night. He has recuperated from the accident and is eager to start all over again.

FINAL PLANS FOR RODEO PARADE ARE ANNOUNCED

Ernest Shelton who is in charge of the rodeo parade announced today that the parade will form at the softball field at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and will start down Main Street promptly at 4 o'clock.

The parade will move down Main Street and at the derrick turn south on Commerce to Pine, then up Pine to the South Austin intersection, where it will disband.

The Rev. James W. McClain, formerly Dr. I. Q. of radio fame, will announce the parade. There will be at least three bands besides the Ranger band in the parade.

Prizes will be awarded in the float and horse divisions with first prize in the float being $20. Second prize in this division will be $10. Only one prize will be given in the horse divisions for women and men. There will be a prize of $10 to the winner of the women riders division and $10 to the winner in the men riders division. Judging will be based in the latter two on general appearance of the rider and the horse.

Beginning at 3:15 o'clock the pre-parade shows will be staged on the improvised stages on Main Street. The Young School folk dancers, under the direction of Mrs. Dayton Rutledge and Mrs. Evis Landers, will perform on a stage to be set up in front of the Arcadia Theatre. Mrs. Mammie Ruth Hamrick at the piano will accompany the dancers.

Another stage will be set up in front of the J. C. Penny Company store and on this stage Miss Elsie Hummel will play mirabelle numbers accompanied by James E. Morris of Oklahoma City.

Still another stage will be set up in front of the Gholson Hotel and from this stage the Light-rust Doughboys will perform. This stage will also accommodate the judges, and a clown skit will be presented here, too.

Three blocks off Main Street will be cleared of cars before the parade and people are asked to cooperate with the effort. The blocks from the derrick to Maston Street will be cleared

TO OFFER SERVICES OF GROUP TO CITY LEADERS AT MEETING TONITE

Forty-one business men who attended a meeting at the Chamber of Commerce Monday night, voted unanimously to support the city commission in any efforts that are made to improve the Ranger airport, and a committee was appointed to visit the city commission meeting tonight and offer the services of the group in whatever capacity they can serve.

The committee is composed of L. R. Pearson, Hall Walker, Dr. C. L. Jackson, J. J. Kelly, H. C. Henderson and James P. Morris.

Those attending the meeting without exception expressed themselves as favoring a program of improvement at the airport. The city commission has had before them for several days the detailed application for federal aid. Deadline for action is drawing near and those citizens at the Monday night meeting felt that an expression from the people of Ranger might assist the commission in making their decision.

JIM DEAN HERE TO ANNOUNCE FOR BIG RODEO

Among rodeo folks that have already arrived in Ranger is Jim Dean who will announce the show and who says that he wouldn't trade his job for anybody's.

Dean is a veteran rodeo performer, having been in the game since 1935. He has appeared in rodeos all over the country performing as a bronc rider and bull rider. He attended the Ranger rodeo last year but had to take a sideline job because of an injury to his neck which required a very uncomfortable looking cast. So typical a cowboy is he that he has doubled for cowboy stars in western movies.

He is the one who had the tricky little Chihuahua dogs at last year's show.

Aside from doing the announcing, Dean is secretary for the rodeo and right hand man for Howard Brown of Dublin who is putting on the show.

Howard Brown is also here lining up the show. Brown who has been in the rodeo business since 1922 is at present stock manager for Colbert and Autry at their big ranch near Dublin and was formerly superintendent for Gene Autry World Championship Rodeo Association.

Alex Alexander, colored clown and bullfighter who performed at last year's show, has arrived and is practicing up on his stunts. Alex gave the spectators some thrills last year and like was mentioned once before, he's always two jumps and a pair of rodeo britches ahead of the bulls. He also acts as safety man for the bull riders.

WINS SLIGHT VICTORY ON BALKAN CASE

LAKE SUCCESS — The United States won a preliminary victory in the United Nations Balkan's debate today when it turned back French and Australian attempts to bar the big powers from the proposed Balkans peace-keeping commission.

France and Australia agreed not to press their proposals after American Delegate Herschel V. Johnson said the United States "feels very strongly" that all 11 nations of the UN Security Council should sit on the commission which the western powers hope to install for at least two years in the troubled Balkans.

The skirmish over composition of the border patrol rushed the council nearer the showdown in which Russia must choose between vetoing the American proposals or allowing them to be approved over the objections of the three Soviet-supported governments of the Balkans.

NEW COURSE OFFERED WOMEN WAR VETERANS

According to an announcement made today by M. D. Fox, Eastland county supervisor of veteran's education, women who served in the armed forces of World War II may now enroll in a course of homemaking.

This is an added phase to the Vocational School for Veterans, according to Miss Marie Strange, State Supervisor for Homemaking for Veterans, Austin, Texas, who visited in Eastland Saturday, July 26.

INDONESIAN AIR FORCE BOMBS TWO JAVA TOWNS

BATAVIA — The Indonesian "air force," in its first combat operation, bombed two Dutch-held towns in Java today, the Indonesian radio announced.

The targets were Semarang on the north coast and Salatiga in eastern Java. The raids presumably were carried out by one or two planes.

Today's Dutch communique reported two oil well fires in the Soony-Vacuum Fields at Pendopo, 100 miles inland from Palembang on Sumatra.

EXECUTION BEGINS GRIM WAIT FOR BRITISH HOSTAGES

JERUSALEM — British authorities hanged three members of the Jewish underground today, then began a grim wait in the expectation that the underground might kill two British hostages and dump their corpses in the public square within a few hours.

The Irgun Zvai Leumi underground said in Jerusalem that the hostages, two British army sergeants, were "being executed." A little later, a telephone message from a purported Irgun representative said that the sergeants would be returned today—probably dead.

The blind spot of the eye, where the optic nerve enters the eyeball, is about one-eighth of an inch in diameter.

PARTY SAYS ATTLEE CAUSE OF ECONOMIC DISTRESS

LONDON — Britain today moved into a major political crisis with high government leaders meeting to determine their strategy in the face of mounting economic anxiety.

The cabinet met with Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee who tomorrow faces a rank and file attack by his own parliamentary Labor Party on charges the government has bungled Britain's economic recovery.

There was a possibility the government might decide to go to the country in a new general election in expectation that it would be returned even if by a reduced majority, thereby gaining another two years of life.

The stock market broke sharply under the threat of the domestic economic and political crisis. Sharp selling hit all sections yesterday and dropped indices to levels close to those of the critical early days of the war.

For the first time since the Labor party took office two years ago criticism within and without party ranks was centering squarely on Attlee himself.

Laborite backers charge that Attlee has failed to inform the country of the critical facts of the economic crisis and has failed to provide the country the leadership it needs.

RANGER RODEO ATTRACTING COWGIRLS

According to James King who is in charge of the cowgirl sponsor contest for the Jaycee rodeo, he is getting so many entries that he doesn't know what he is going to do with all of them.

At last reports there were 20 girls in the contests and another one was reported this morning. She is Erlene McDonald of Jefferson and will ride her horse, Cloudy, in the rodeo.

According to members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Miss McDonald was enroute home to Jefferson from the plains country and on passing through Ranger noticed the hub-bub at the rodeo arena. She stopped to inquire about what was going on and on learning of the cowgirl sponsor contest, immediately decided to enter the contest.

PREMIER MINGUS MEET IN FIRST LEAGUE GAME

Play in the Ranger Softball league will reach a climax this evening when Premier and Mingus meet in their first league tilt.

Premier, who won the first half of league play remains undefeated in the second. Mingus, who replaced Ranger High School in the league for the second half of play, has played 27 games this season without a loss.

A large crowd is expected to attend the game.

In a game played Monday evening, Strawn defeated the Goodrich team by a score of 8-7.

WAR SERVICE NOT WASTED, TEST FINDS

NEW YORK (UP) — Most veterans are better prepared to succeed in their jobs because of their military experience, the New York University testing and advertisement center announced.

Dr. W. D. Gleen, director of the center, said tests and guidance given to 12,500 veterans and a large number of civilians proved that the veteran was in error in considering service time as time lost.

"In reality," he said, "it probably has pulled him out of a civilian rut, given him some kind of education or training, or given him self-confidence, initiative and maturity."

VOICE OF AMERICA PROGRAM CURBED

WASHINGTON — The state department today curtailed the voice of America foreign broadcast program 40 per cent to conform with congressional budget cuts.

Congress voted $6,900,000 for the voice of America, on which $8,400,000 was spent last year.

Congress, meanwhile, got under way a recess investigation of the department's foreign information projects to determine its usefulness.

Two committees concerned with the program asked all senators and representatives traveling abroad this summer to bring back reports on the effectiveness of the broadcasts.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—The government is worrying about how much you should be allowed to go into debt now. It is worried about how much you should owe the man who comes around every month to collect that long-past-due installment, or else take away the new car, the love seat or the washing or talking machine.

During the war the government wouldn't let you buy any merchandise on time unless you were considered a good enough credit risk to run a 30-day charge account. Then on Dec. 1 the installment buying curbs were lifted on all except 12 lines of goods still in short supply.

On these items you have to pay at least one-third down and sign away your life to complete payment on the unpaid balance within 15 months. This is done under what is known as Federal Reserve Board Regulation W. It's due to expire July 31, and that's what all the bother is about.

Representatives of practically every trade association dealing in autos, furniture and household appliances have been in Washington telling Congress it ought to take off all the controls and let buying on time go its own sweet way.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN might extend the Regulation W controls by executive order, but he says he won't unless Congress gives him new authority.

Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board originally asked for permanent authority to put these controls on or take them off whenever the situation warranted. When the House of Representatives refused to grant that power and voted to let the controls expire at the end of the month, Eccles changed his tune and asked the Senate to extend controls for a year only.

Banking and Currency is trying to make up its mind on this point now.

Sen. C. Douglass Buck of Delaware, acting chairman of the committee, favors changing the terms to require say only 20 per cent down payment and allowing up to two years in which to pay off the balance.

Other senators favor keeping the time-payment controls tight until the supply of these scarce items catches up with demand. Their point is that to take off the controls now would merely increase the demand and so shoot up the prices still further.

Still other senators feel that all restrictions should come off. Their argument is that restrictions on installment buying work a hardship on poor people. It would do your heart good to know how they worry about the poor.

THE way it works out these cash customers grab off all the new cars or vacuum cleaners as fast as they come on the market. But families of limited means are out of luck unless they can get money from the loan sharks.

Auto, furniture and household appliance dealers who want to sell direct to installment buyers send their representatives to Washington as friends of the poor man. They don't want to see him discriminated against by this wicked Regulation W. What isn't mentioned is that by selling goods on time, carrying charges and interest on unpaid balance can be added to the price to yield a higher profit.

From the Federal Reserve Board point of view the danger of taking off controls is that too much buying on time at high prices may contribute to a depression.

That's what happened in 1929. Business was booming and everybody owed money for things bought on credit. When the crash came people didn't have enough money to pay balances. Federal Reserve Board people say they think that shouldn't be allowed to happen again.

SPORTS

BY JOE DONOVAN
NEA Special Correspondent

(Pinch-hitting for Harry Grayson, who is on vacation.)

LONG BRANCH, N. J.—(NEA)—Brother combinations in sports are not uncommon. Over the years the list is long.

Boxing had its four Zivic brothers of Pittsburgh, led by former welterweight champion, biscuit-nosed Fritzie. Golf has a flock of Turnesses of which clan little Willie only recently won the British Amateur championship. And the DiMaggios, Couper and Walkers have been stickouts in baseball. There are others.

But this small New Jersey summer resort on the Atlantic Coast lays claim to the only all-brother baseball team in the country—and with substitutes.

Actively engaged every weekend of the outdoor season, the club is composed of the 12 Accera brothers.

They are even managed by their father, "Pop"—Louis Sr., 62, which makes the entire setup a family affair.

Oldest member of the playing tribe is 42-year-old Anthony, coach and pinch-hitter. He and Pop run the squad.

The greatest gap in age of any two of the boys is five years, between the first born, Anthony, and second son, Joseph, 37. Then come Paul, 33, Alfred, 30; Charles, 29; James, 27; Robert, 25; William, 23; Fred, 22; Edward, 20; Richard, 18, and the youngest, Louis Jr., 16.

Virtually born and reared in sports, the Accera family has figured prominently in interscholastic activities for the past 22 years at Long Branch high school here. Louis Jr., just graduated, is the last to carry the Accera banner. A heavy hitter, he started at second base.

Of the brothers, and including Pop, it is difficult off-hand to

Early Morning

Last night, a friend of mine suddenly yawned like a sleepy cat and grinned at me. She announced, "I found out this morning how the sun really looks!"

My friend and her husband have a country home where they stay part of the time, but she loves the night. Usually she is asleep when the sun comes up early in the morning, for no apparent reason. She did just that, and as I watched her face as she talked, I saw that something about her experience had changed her; that under her light banter of conversation, she had undergone a change. There was something different about her voice, too.

"I've been tired lately and . . . oh, I don't know . . . nothing made any particular difference. I got into some old clothes this morning and found myself wandering around in the field near the house. A few stars were left in the sky and . . . did you ever smell vetich in the field in the early morning? It's pretty heady stuff. I heard birds singing and saw the animals getting up to meet the day. It was so peaceful and still and far away from everything. Somehow, I was awfully hungry when I got back to the house. I never felt better in my life. I took a cold bath and . . . gosh . . . I kissed my husband when I saw him sitting at the breakfast table and I think I frightened him!"

She was laughing, my friend, but it was to hide her "shining moment" because she didn't quite understand it herself. I waked very early this morning myself. I wasn't in the country, but I looked at the early morning sun. I, too, heard birds out in the trees, saying "good morning" to each other. I watched my little dog joyfully greet the cool air and I felt the early morning through every fiber in me; my body relaxed, my mind free from care. I recalled my friend's "shining moment" and I knew what she meant. I took a cold bath, and never did I enjoy hot, black coffee so much!

I don't recommend getting up early in the morning every morning because I am far too lazy, but if you are tired and disheartened and perhaps a little sad, try it some morning; get up and meet the day. I wager you, too, will experience a "shining moment" you will not quite know how to explain to your husband or your friends!

Seattle's 250,000 Rats Stump Foes

SEATTLE (UP)—Seattle's rat exterminators are holding their own against an estimated 250,000 rodents in the city but it is an endless battle.

Jack Lair, head of the rat slayers, said that although more than 100,000 are killed annually, they are replaced with newcomers. He estimated that one pair of rats produces about 250 descendants in one year.

He said 90 per cent of the rodents in the city were the big brown ones, weighing up to one and three-quarter pounds.

On Terms $11 a Month after Down Payment

To get "Something for Nothing"

The railroads have received 44 "rules" demands from the leaders of the operating unions . . . representing engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and switchmen. They say they are seeking only changes in working conditions—NOT a wage increase.

More Money For Less Work

But what kind of rules are being asked for? Twenty-eight of them would compel railroads to pay more money for the same, or less work; 7 would require additional and unnecessary men to do the same work; the rest would bring about changes in operating practices at increased cost.

For Instance:

The Union leaders demand additional train and engine crews on Diesel-powered trains—one full crew for every power unit in the locomotive. A freight train hauled by a 4-unit Diesel would have to carry 4 engineers, 4 firemen, 4 conductors, and at least 8 brakemen, or a total of 20 men instead of 5.

"Made Work"—Sheer Waste

The Union leaders demand that full-length freight trains be cut to about half their length, even though such trains are most efficient for low-cost service. You. This rule would call for twice as many locomotives, would double the number of trains, and make accidents more likely.

Additional equipment, yards, and other facilities required to take care of these short trains would cost hundreds of millions. What the Union leaders really want is to make more jobs.

The Union leaders demand that when a crew in one class of service perform incidental service of another class, they will be paid not less than a day's pay for each class, even though all service is performed as a part of the same day's work. The crew would get at least two days' pay for one day's work.

The Union leaders demand that the present basic day for passenger conductors and trainmen be reduced from 150 to 100 miles, which would have the effect of increasing their pay 50%. Such a run often takes only two or three hours!

You Can't Afford This Waste

Demands like these are against the interests of the whole American people, who depend on railroad service for nearly everything they eat, wear and use.

These rules would cost A BILLION DOLLARS annually—a gigantic waste which neither the railroads nor the country can afford.

Railroad workers are good citizens and good employees, with pride in their calling. Their record during the war was outstanding. We do not believe they fully understand the "featherbed" rules which the Union leaders are demanding. We do not believe they understand the harmful results which these rules would have to the railroad industry, to the millions of men and women dependent on railroads for their livelihood, and to the shipping and consuming public.

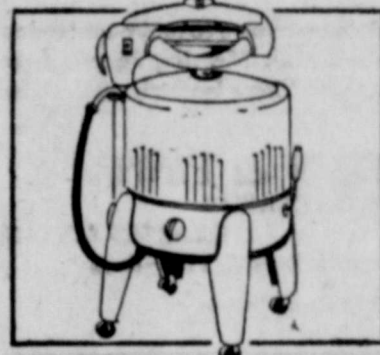

The great strength of America is in production—an honest day's work for an honest day's pay.

For only through greater production can we hope to stop the steady upward surge of living costs.

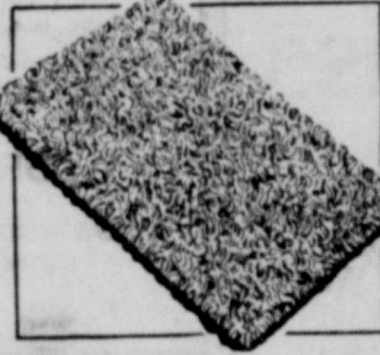

Surely, if ever there was a time in our history when we needed to work, not waste, this is it.

Andrew May Sentenced

Visibly shaken, former Congressman Andrew J. May leaves Federal Court after being sentenced to eight months to two years in prison for fraudulent conspiracy and bribery. The sentence came after impassioned pleas for leniency were made by May and his co-defendants, Murray and Dr. Henry Garsson. The trio were released on continued bond in view of the fact that they were planning an appeal. (NEA Telephoto).

Program subjects will include use of airplanes for aerosol and spray applications, fog dust applications and in scouting for crop damage and estimates. Use of the helicopter as a means of applying chemicals and new chemicals for pest control also will be discussed.

The first ship built in America was the Virginia, a "pretty pryncess of about some thirty tonne," constructed at Popham Beach, Maine, in 1607.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

The population of New Mexico is approximately 665,000 and is expected to grow to 700,000 by 1960.

Misuse of electric iron is responsible for nearly 40 fires a day in the United States, fire authorities estimate.

World peace is the most urgent problem facing the United States in the opinion of Republican Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, above, who is quoted in the July issue of Cosmopolitan magazine as saying: "Peace at home and abroad is the most urgent problem facing the American people today. We must find a way to stabilize labor-management relationships at home so high and uninterrupted production can sustain high wages and low prices. On the other hand, we must persistently hunt for collective peace and security in the world—not only to stop another war but also to remove the burden of armaments from national economies of all concerned. There are other problems. We must sustain Western Democracy against Eastern Communism, at home and abroad. But the firmest answer is my first one—PEACE."

THESE ARE THE DAYS WHEN MY ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR
PROVES ITS WORTH

These are the days when the reserve power that is built into every electric refrigerator really proves its worth. When temperatures stay around a normal figure, your electric refrigerator practically coasts along, maintaining proper box temperatures easily. When hot days like we've been having come along, there is ample reserve power available in your electric refrigerator to cope with the situation automatically. All that happens is that its motor runs more often and a little longer at a time. Your electric refrigerator, by keeping perishable foods fresh and wholesome for long periods of time, has been a money-saver for you from the very first day you owned it. To make sure that you continue to benefit from this saving, take good care of it—it's an investment that pays real dividends.

Harrisburg Challenges Portland On Roses

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UP) — Harrisburg wants to become the "Rose City of the United States" and some of its leading horticulturists are shaping strategy by which they hope to take the title away from Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Carey O. Miller, chairman of a Garden Club committee for the promotion of the Rose City idea, said her group is conducting a count of the city's rose bushes and she predicts the census will show "two roses grown in Harrisburg to every one in Portland."

The committee is looking for a Rose City slogan to back up its claim to the title, something to beat Portland's "A Rose for You in Portland grows." The best three entries will be awarded money prizes.

SOCIETY

Father Jim Night Opens At Canteen

Opening night of "Father Jim Night" at the Teen Canteen Monday evening was attended by approximately 150 young people and sponsors from Ranger, Eastland, Cisco and surrounding communities.

The evening's program, under the direction of the Rev. James W. McClain, priest of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, changed every thirty minutes. After a short explanation of the rules and the purpose of the evening, the first thirty minutes was spent in dancing. This was followed by games and a quiz program based on the Dr. I. Q. radio program.

The next portion of the program was a square dance, conducted by Grady Slaughter, Bill Pitzer, Marshall Watson, James Alexander, and Bob Pitzer, all of Breckenridge. A thirty-minute movie followed and the evening was ended with another thirty minutes of dancing.

Out-of-town sponsors present included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sandler, Mrs. E. L. Graham and Mr. and Mrs. George P. Fee of Cisco. "Father Jim Night" will be held each Monday night at the Teen Canteen and all teen-agers are invited.

Major problem facing the United States is balancing the inconsistency between our wage scales and the cost of living in the opinion of Republican Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, who is quoted in the July issue of Cosmopolitan magazine as saying: "Balancing the present inconsistency between our wage scales and the cost of living is our most urgent problem. We have sixteen million industrial workers and forty million nonindustrial workers, such as grocery clerks, schoolteachers and farmers. Raising industrial wages without aiding the larger nonindustrial group will bring greater dislocation to our economy. Today, the only way to increase our economy can stand is in the forty-million group. Then, if strikes can be avoided, a resultant increase in production and reduction of prices will follow, forestalling a depression."

Ranger Sales Company Gets WAA Materials

Ranger Sales Company, 216 North Austin St., Ranger, was awarded two lots of material at the government surplus property clearance sale at North Camp Hood near Gatesville, Texas, Friday, in the $250,000 sale sponsored by the War Assets Administration.

Over 75 lots went to bidders from the central Texas area. The WAA sale was one in a series being held at various army installations in Texas.

NEWSPAPER UNPHASED BY TROUBLE

The accidental would find it hard to believe that four writers and eight compositors could turn out an eight page paper every day in a language which uses up to 12,000 different characters. But come what may, the China Daily News reaches its 9,000 subscribers six times each week.

Every morning, Editor Eugene May assembles his small editorial staff in the paper's cluttered "city room" to read the latest United Press teletyped dispatches and skim through the New York morning papers. Then they weigh the relative merits of the day's top stories and make up the paper. The columns, incidentally, go horizontally from right to left, to the confusion of the accidental reader.

One third of the news content of the China Daily News is devoted to cabled articles from the orient. Other features include letters to the editor, a cultural page society notes and editorials.

There is no Chinese typewriter in general use, so copy for the paper must be hand written, with special pens, as Chinese scholars have done for centuries. Translating the news is no mean task, even for these experts. Since most of the Chinese population has a low literacy, the translators must simplify the vocabulary in their stories.

Setting up the type for the China Daily News would seem to be a herculean task. No linotype machine has been devised for the language, so the compositors must search through a labyrinth of type trays throughout the press room looking for proper characters. Far from a needle in the haystack proposition for these experts, the typesetting goes on with amazing rapidity, such man setting 2,500 individual characters in a single day.

Other troubles beset the technical department of the paper. For one thing, it takes almost as long to replace type after use as it does to make up the paper originally. Then, if a typesetter neglects to follow written copy to the last twist of a figure, the complete meaning of a story may be changed.

LUCKY STRIKE presents THE MAN WHO KNOWS—

THE TOBACCO AUCTIONEER!

"I was born on a tobacco farm and I've sold tobacco at auctions for over 19 years. In all that time I've seen the makers of Lucky Strike buy fine, good-tastin' tobacco... tobacco that's got quality, real quality."

John L. Cummins

J. L. CUMMINS, INDEPENDENT TOBACCO AUCTIONEER of Cynthiana, Kentucky (22 YEARS A LUCKY STRIKE SMOKER)

FINE TOBACCO is what counts in a cigarette

JOHN CUMMINS IS RIGHT!... And like him, scores of other experts... who really know tobacco... have seen the makers of Lucky Strike buy "tobacco that's got quality."

After all that's what you want in a cigarette... the honest, deep-down enjoyment of fine tobacco.

So remember...
