BRITISH WINDOWS WRECKED

Windows in this store were shattered by a mob during anti-Jewish demonstrations in Liverpool, England. These demonstrations resulted from Jewish action in Palestine. (NEA Telephoto).

Well... I Dunno, But...

This is one of those blank days and if we get to the end of this column today, even we'll be surprised.

Did hear this morning that Burla Garner and Ruby Lindsey founds had won prizes in Interstate Theatres gift book sales. The contest was carried on last Christmas when the Christmas giftbooks of tickets to the shows were being sold. Burla gets a $15 prize and Ruby a $10 prize.

Well, there's one paragraph!

Ernest Shelton who's been in Fort Worth ever since the rodeo closed and who with James King was in charge of the rodeo parade, asked us today to thank all of the people who had anything to do with the success of that event.

He stated that he and James certainly had the cooperation of everybody and that without that help the parade wouldn't have been possible. He particularly mentioned those who were responsible for the street shows, the Young School dancers, Mrs. Dayton Rutledge, Mrs. Evis Landers, Mrs. Mammie Ruth Hamrick, Miss Elsie Hummel, James E. Morris, seven-year-old A. K. Niver from California who initiated Al Johnson, the Ranger Transfer and Storage for all their help, Sig Faircloth, Jr., for use of his truck, trailer, Bouriand Music Company for the pianos, and Dr. P. M. Kuykendall for the trailer for the judges stand.

He also expressed appreciation to all of the bands and to the merchants who had entries in the parade.

Three more paragraphs. Yes there is the weather and brother who we wish it's rain. We think we'd be tempted to run right out in it, if it'd only start.

After talking with some of the policemen this morning, we're thoroughly convinced that they and Commissioner Angus mean business about going after the traffic violators. And don't ever think that they don't have the regulars spotted. So drivers, you'd better watch your step. We think their program is right and we're glad to see the corrections made. Many people have complained to us about some of the violations, particularly those about the post office. And that will be taken care of in the program as outlined to us this morning.

If you're a little careless about making that parking angle, making u-turns where you shouldn't, if you turn around in the middle of the street, if you do any of the other things you're not supposed to do, you'd better look out, cause the policemen will getcha.

Mary Jane Van de Putte of Detroit formerly Mary Jane Dreinhof of Ranger, writes home of an incident, that's odd and interesting.

In the Our Town column of the Detroit Times, there appeared a little item about Mary Jane. Right after it came out in the paper, she had a telephone call. It was from a woman with whom Mary Jane had worked at Camp Wallace and she had learned about Mary Jane being in Detroit through the item in the paper. The girls got together right quick over the lunch table to renew their friendship.

Following is the item: TEXAS RANGER. Mary Jane Van de Putte is a bride from Ranger, Tex. She married the post office's Albert Van de Putte last spring, and is now an enthusiastic Detroit.

But what flabbergasts her about our town is not the huge automobile plants nor the wide highways. It's our rivers and lakes. A spare moment the honeymooners have spent in boat trips to Cedar Point, Bob-Lo, drives up to Lake Huron. On the boat trips she just sits out on the deck and looks.

I never knew there was so much water in the world," she says. One of the best suggestions we've heard recently was that made last night when a friend, irate about all of the Senate in-

Peanut Trading Reported To Be Light This Week

Peanut trading continued light this week with prices on shelled goods unchanged, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Buyers began to show more interest in new crop peanuts, especially for future delivery, since the announcement of the 1947 peanut marketing program.

Oil mills had about finished crushing peanuts for the season, and very little farmers' stock peanuts changed hands. Peanut meal prices averaged slightly lower, with 43 per cent protein meal selling at $57 to $58 per ton at the mill.

Under the new government program, southwest farmers' stock Spanish peanuts get support at $201 per ton for base grade 70 per cent sound mature kernels. Runner type draw $185 for base grade 65 per cent. For peanuts above or below base grade, $2.90 per ton is added to or subtracted from the base price on Spanish, and $2.50 on runners.

Other features of the support program are similar to last year's, except that dealers who wish to participate must agree to pay regular scheduled prices to farmers. Many southwest peanut areas need rain. North Texas and Oklahoma continued hot and dry this week and some fields began to wilt. Good rains would materially improve crop prospects. Fairly good rains in South Texas have helped the growing crop.

It was stated today that funeral services will be held in Fairfield sometime Friday.

Freed From Nazis BOSTON (UP) — From Nazi slave-laborer to kitchen helper in a Boston hotel is the story of 15-year-old Polish refugee Jack Melnik. What's more, young Melnik is attending night classes at the Boston Junior Episcopalian Society, where he hopes to learn how to become a full-fledged chef.

INDONESIA ASKS FOR U. S. INTERVENTION

BATAVIA — Indonesia asked the United States today to persuade the United Nations to appoint a special commission to arbitrate the Dutch-Indonesian dispute, the Indonesian radio at Jogjakarta reported.

The United States had offered its good offices to help end the dispute. The Jogjakarta radio said Indonesia was accepting the offer of the good offices, which should be used to get the UN Security Council to appoint an arbitration commission.

The Indonesian decision was made by the full cabinet, the broadcast said. It came after U. S. Consul General Walter A. Foote went on the air twice to broadcast his offer of good offices directly to Jogjakarta. Batavia, however, had thought the good offices could be used for mediation or arbitration by the United States.

Jogjakarta made it clear that it still wanted its case to go before a commission of many nations, not one.

Huge fires raged out of control in Java's largest oil fields at Tjepoe, eight miles east of Semarang, United Press Correspondent Peter Hill reported after a flight over the area last night.

Plans For Coming Of Gainesville Circus Started

Time at the Lions Club meeting at noon today at the Gholson Hotel was given over to making plans for the coming of the Gainesville Circus and a meeting is called of all dealers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Lions Club for 9:30 o'clock Friday morning at the Gholson Coffee Shop. At this time the groups will organize for work to be done in connection with the circus.

A contract was awarded Crawford Ruttrill to do all advertising for the circus in adjoining towns with the exception of newspaper advertising. He will put out all billboard posters and do advertising in 16 towns over a public address system in an airplane.

The club voted unanimously to instruct the secretary to notify the city commission that they heartily endorse the airport improvements program and to offer the services and assistance of the club in carrying out the program. James P. Morris and Crawford Ruttrill were the guests of R. V. Galloway at the luncheon.

Defends British Government's Crisis Proposal

LONDON — Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton defended the government's crisis plan today before an ill-tempered House which greeted him with growls and shouts of disapproval reflecting both Conservative and left wing Labor opposition to the program advanced by Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee.

Dalton told the House of Commons that in his view the American loan to Britain would be exhausted in October—a month or two earlier than previous estimates. Only yesterday Attlee said "before the end of the year."

Dalton said that Britain would halt purchases of foodstuffs in the United States and other "hard currency" countries immediately upon exhaustion of the dollar credits.

Dalton pointed out that the index of American wholesale prices had risen from 101.7 in January, 1946, to 150.6 in July, 1947. American farm prices in the same period rose from 129 to 182, he said.

"These are not the same dollars we borrowed," he said, in explanation of the rapid spending of the American dollar loan.

Good Program Planned For Lacasa Meeting

The program committee for the good will trip to Lacasa, composed of J. E. Meroney, Delbert Cappe and R. J. Rains, stated today that a good program is being planned for the trip.

It was also stated that much enthusiasm over the meeting is being shown by the people of Lacasa and the business people of Ranger are urged to do their part and attend the meeting.

Those who plan to attend are asked to meet at the Chamber of Commerce at 7 o'clock Friday evening and from there go in a group to the meeting which will be at 8 o'clock in the New Hope No. 3 Baptist church, a mile and a half from Lacasa on the Caddo road. This is the fourth in the series of trips being made to communities in Ranger's trade territory. The trips are being sponsored by the trade extension committee and the agriculture and livestock committees of the Chamber of Commerce and of which T. C. Wylie and H. C. Henderson are chairmen.

H.D. Council To Hold Physical Education Course

It was announced today that the Eastland County Home Demonstration Council is bringing a nationally known physical education instructor to Eastland on August 25 and classes will run through August 29.

The instructor will teach those in the class at least 100 party and club games and the classes are open to all women of the county. A fee of $1.50 will be charged for the five afternoon sessions.

Anyone who wishes to attend the school of instruction should write or call Mrs. Alvis Wood of Ranger, as she is committee chairman for Ranger. Poor Well Cased For COHASSET, Mass. (UP) — The late Mrs. Caroline G. Plant bequeathed $150,000 to "the poor" of Cohasset, a town that last year failed to spend all of the $5,000 allocated for the care of its 12 general welfare cases. American agriculture is a $90,000,000,000 industry.

Senator Brewster Denies Howard Hughes Charges

Parking Tickets Mean Business After Saturday

Hershel Angus, police and fire commissioner, announced today that the tickets now being given parking violators in downtown Ranger are courtesy reminders to observe the new angle parking.

He stated that effective Saturday the tickets will "mean business" and offenders who are given a ticket will be fined. It was pointed out that when the proper angle is not observed, that takes up not only the space used by that car but the next space to it. Drivers are asked not to park in a space that is already out of angle because someone has parked wrong. This makes it necessary for another to park at the wrong angle thus becoming an offender, too, and for which they will be given tickets.

"When you run into a situation like that," Angus stated, "pass it up and find a space that can be properly used."

It was also announced that the curb to the postoffice will be marked off and the same requirements made for this street as for Main street.

Policemen have been instructed to see that any cars parked on sidewalks are removed and that cars blocking alleys be removed.

CORN BELT SUFFERING FOR LACK OF RAIN

CHICAGO — Corn belt farmers crossed their fingers today and prayed for a drenching rain to save their struggling crops from serious damage.

But the weatherman gave them little hope. The corn crop, beaten down by some of the worst corn-growing weather in years, was in urgent need of heavy rains within the next few days.

The weatherman could promise only scattered thundershowers.

Already considerable damage was reported on the sun-parched prairies where corn, the nation's basic crop, is grown. Some farmers compared the hot, dry winds, sweeping across their fields with those of the droughts of the middle 1930's.

The same farmers hoped for rain today were wishing only a few weeks ago that the rain would stop. The cold, wet spring and the late June floods struck the corn crop a heavy blow.

Thousands of acres of crop land were washed out, and elsewhere the corn crop was set back as much as two weeks. Then came a cool spell.

Club Votes To Back Commission In Port Program

At the regular meeting of the Rotary Club held Wednesday afternoon in the Gholson Hotel, Dr. C. L. Jackson, chairman of the special airport committee of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, gave a report of the committee's meeting with the city commission relative to accepting the improvements program.

Following his report a motion was made and passed unanimously that the club express appreciation for the work being done by the city commission and that the club give the commission hearty endorsement in carrying out the airport improvements program and offer every assistance from the club in order that the commission may act soon as the time to act is limited.

B. A. Tunnell presided at the meeting at which Edwin George gave a classification talk on Good Will As A Business Asset. He illustrated his point by citing the enormous prices paid for trade names established through years of taking the public into their confidence and keeping them informed. "Those who know you like you better," George concluded.

The meeting was held in the new luncheon in the lobby of the Gholson which has recently been opened up by the new operator of the Gholson Coffee Shop.

Water Shut-Off Scheduled For Friday Morning

It was announced today that the water in part of the east section of Ranger will be off from 8:30 in the morning to 12 o'clock and residents of that section are asked to make their plans accordingly.

Everything east of 5th street on Strawn road will be included in the shutoff while repairs are being made to the line.

The National Fire Protection Association says there are 14,000 volunteer fire departments in the United States and Canada.

Protests Soviet Seizure of Oil Refinery Plant

VIENNA — Lt. Gen. Geoffrey Keyes, United States military commissioner for Austria, protested "in the strongest possible terms" today the Russian seizure of the Lobau Oil Refinery near Vienna.

Armed Russian soldiers seized the refinery Saturday on grounds it was a German asset. The four-power Allied council for Austria still was considering disposition of the property.

HELD FOR INVESTIGATION

Virgil Manning, 28, formerly of Fairplay, Missouri, is being held in the Waurika, Okla., jail pending an investigation into his alleged connection with the Bugsy Siegel murder in Hollywood. Manning drifted into Waurika on a freight and gave himself up, saying that he was afraid for his life. (NEA Telephoto).

ADMITS TAKING FAVORS FROM PAN AMERICAN AIRLINES

WASHINGTON — Sen. Owen Brewster, R. Me., today denied as "absolutely false" a suggestion that he ordered a Senate investigation of Howard Hughes airplane contracts in order to further the interests of Pan American Airways.

Sen. Owen Brewster, admitted in reply to questions by Howard Hughes today that he accepted two "free airplane rides" and "ham and egg breakfasts" from Pan American Airways. Hughes submitted the questions in the hope of showing that Brewster told a "pack of lies" when he denied under oath the millionaire plane-maker's charge that he tried to "blackmail" Hughes into merging his Trans-World Airlines with Juan Trippe's Pan American Airways.

Brewster countered with assertions that he went in for more lavish entertainment than did Pan-American.

The unusual question-and-answer session was conducted by a subcommittee of the Senate War Investigating Committee of which Brewster himself is chairman. The subcommittee is headed by Sen. Homer P. Mich.

Hughes questions were directed to Brewster by Ferguson, who hands the manufacturer's statements placed them after he obtained the privilege of cross-examining the Maine Republican personally.

Many of the questions were keyed to legislation, supported by Brewster, to consolidate U. S. overseas air service in one big company. Pan-American favors this proposal, Trans-World is against it.

Drop In Farm Land Prices Reported Today

WASHINGTON — A drop in farm land prices was reported today for the southeastern section of the United States.

It was the first regional reversal of a five-year inflationary spiral in farm real estate value but government economists said it could not be taken as a sign that the national peak had been reached. The southeastern decline—per cent from March 1 to July—was more than offset by increases in the value of farms in the midwest and live range lands in the southwest mountain states. The latter reflected higher prices for meagre grains.

As a result, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics said farm land values for the year as a whole increased two per cent during the four-month period. The national average for the year was a 1.5 per cent increase above the 1935-39 level.

The University of Iowa expects some 4,500 next fall, and will offer courses in 45 separate departments. The We Partly cloudy.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—Maj.-Gen. Archer L. Lerch, U. S. Military Governor of South Korea, is back in Washington to report. The story he has to tell is about how democracy is getting along in that liberated country.

Edson

Gen. Lerch has nothing to do with the Russians. His job is to try to help the Koreans establish self-government. He says they are among the most independent, individualistic people on the globe.

In the Japanese government, Koreans had occupied only the lowest clerkships. So the Americans had to begin at the top. All political parties were required to register—and three or more people associated for political purposes were considered a party.

First to be set up was the executive branch. Twenty-two U. S. officers were selected and each one made head of a department. Then Koreans were hand-picked as deputies to these "Directors."

Establishing a legislature was harder. A one-chamber, 90-member South Korean Interim Legislature Assembly was set up. Half the members were elected, half appointed by the Americans.

Most important was an election law. It caused quite a battle. They finally proposed that only those over 25 should vote. Conservatives thought young folks would be too liberal. The military governors thought otherwise.

SPORTS

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Ballplayers are inclined to laugh at Louis Norman Newsom's showboat antics, but Old Bobo was bitten by a fox at an early age.

At 38 he is pitching nearly as well as ever at something like $18,000 a year and is headed for a full World Series cut as a Yankee. He has talked the toughest owners into fat contracts when he wasn't really entitled to them.

It took me 20 years to get to the big league," cracked Newsom, when he reported to the Yankees with whom he always aspired to play. He wooed the New York Americans with the fervor of an ardent suitor, chatting brightly with Joe McCarthy, maintaining suitable decorum with Ed Barrow, but leaving at every opportunity the impact of his personality upon them.

Newsom had an unusual stay with the Tigers, not only in the number of games won and lost, but in his rise to influence and subsequent collapse.

Old Bobo completely captivated the hard bitten, rugged Walter O. Briggs. He had free access to the big office. After one game the Detroit needed, the auto-

DEATH of a DOLL

THE STORY: Agnes, a maid at Hope House, finds a crumpled doll costume hidden in a closet. There is a stain on the hem. Miss Small tells Miss Brady that Lillian Harris has been acting queerly again, reminds her that Lillian was in the lobby when Ruth became frightened.

MISS LIBBY'S call came a few minutes after nine on a cold, dark morning. Roberta turned to Nick who was only half awake. "Listen while I call Mark," she said as she dialed the bedroom phone. "I can't tell this twice."

Her mouth was trembling, and Nick sat up hastily. But Mark was calm. "Take it easy," he said. She bubbled. It was Miss Libby, Miss Libby at Blackman's. She was raving mad because the Smith kids had come to work in hysterics and had to be sent home.

"And you've got to, Mark," Roberta said. "It sounds awful. Last night somewhere around one o'clock a girl went into the bathroom to get a drink. The blind girl, the one who roomed with Ruth Miller. Of course she didn't turn on the light because she never did that. She didn't need it. She went straight to a basin beside the window and got a drink and that was when her foot touched something soft."

"She's all right. Unconscious, but nothing to worry about. Now carry on like a good girl. Miss Small and I are lurching with Mrs. Marshall-Gill. Got to. And for heaven's sake, smile!" Miss Brady ran the elevator up to the eighth floor herself. Jewel was sleeping off a double dose of sedative. In the middle of the night's upheaval, Dr. Kioppel had gone from room to room looking for rolling eyes and closing them with capsules. Miss Plummer had kept out of his way. She was afraid of pills that put people to sleep. Sometimes they slept too well, and couldn't hear. Now, groggy with weariness and her own thoughts, she struggled with desk and switchboard and tried not to weep.

FROM that day on, she told herself, I've felt wrong. From the day that girl came here. There was something about her, something in the way she looked. . . . The long-distance telephone call to Chicago. She'd lost it. It had been thrown out. She'd decided after a vain search hadn't kept it because it was completed call. Kitty couldn't be expected to know it meant anything. If she could only remember one word, it might help. . . . Ruth Miller had made the call around midnight, and hung up. Without a word, she hung up. . . . Then there was the party. She was the one I asked to get the iodine for the chef. I know she was the one. Even though she looked like everybody else, all those flat faces staring at me, I know it was her. She didn't know where Miss Brady's room was, everybody else would get the iodine for her. And she never did get the iodine.

She stopped rocking. What am I thinking? she asked herself. As sure as I'm sitting here somebody brought me the iodine and banded. What's got into me all of a sudden? I never thought anything like this before. . . . But she knew there was nothing sudden about it. It had been there all along and she had covered it over with her little jobs of work because it had frightened her. She went back to the night, minute by minute, because she knew she must. . . . I saw her go up the stairs myself, and I waited. But I was busy, and everybody was running around, and I didn't see her come back. But she must have. She had to. Didn't I find the things right on the desk, and don't that prove it? I must be crazy, thinking she didn't come back, just because I didn't see her. I must be real crazy. (To Be Continued)

THIRD WORLD WAR PERIL ECONOMIC, MAURIOS SAYS

By Dorothy Russell
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 PARIS (UP)—The danger of a third world war lies mainly in the possibility of serious internal economic disturbances in Europe, Andre Maurois, noted French writer and philosopher, believes.

In an interview, Maurois told the correspondent he thinks Europe's potentially explosive economic situation is a far more disturbing element to world peace than the antagonism between the United States and Russia.

The United States, he said, can make a great contribution toward averting a civilization-shattering new war by facing up to its responsibilities and providing financial and economic aid necessary to Europe's recovery.

"The future of the world depends on the United States being well-informed in Europe and on its helping Europe out of its economic difficulties," Maurois said.

"I feel it is not only America's duty, but its interest to help Europe economically. If it does not there might be serious trouble."

"In terms of cash, a third world war would cost America billions, so it would logically be better to spend half that amount trying to avoid war—especially since another war inevitably would mean the end of civilization."

Maurois said he believed Americans did not know enough about France and European nations.

"In a way that is natural, because the United States is such a vast country," he pointed out. "But I believe it has acquired a sort of superiority complex, resulting perhaps in not enough desire to know what happens outside it."

Maurois declared that civilization's only hope of averting complete destruction through a new war lies in the formation of a world state. He expressed confidence that the nations of the world will realize the need for closer co-operation and will settle their problems without recourse to war.

"There will be no third world war unless everyone gets mad," Maurois added. "And although there is always a possibility that everyone will go mad, I don't think it will happen."

"I think we are moving toward a world state. There is no other solution. Of course, it will take time. But it is the only alternative to a third world war."

The white haired, 63 year old author, who has lived most of the past 25 years in the United States, said he regarded the current rivalry between the United States and the Soviet Union as "a normal reaction to the past war."

He compared the conduct of the two great powers to that of "a married couple who disagree but don't come to blows."

Maurois said he believed it was "quite possible" for the two countries to come to an agreement on essentials.

"I don't think America is trying to impose the Truman Doctrine throughout Europe," he explained. "Nor do I believe, for that matter, that the Soviet Union is trying to impose Communism throughout the world."

Maurois said he saw no harm in Americans and Russians spreading their ideals as much as they pleased, providing they did it peacefully.

"What I am against," he said, "is any type of totalitarianism—either state trying to impose a uniform way of thinking on everyone else."

Two New Pipelines To Ease Shortage Of Midwest Oil

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—The middle western states, now struggling through a shortage of gasoline, are promised relief by next year when two new pipelines costing about $50,000,000 are completed.

The Magnolia Petroleum Co. is now at work on one pipeline, and the Texas Co. is supervising an operation undertaken by four companies in surveying for still another.

The two lines will overcome the shortage of 100,000 barrels of oil which now plagues the vast mid west and has caused six oil companies to announce rationing of gasoline to their dealers.

The principal reason that mid-western states are short is the constantly increasing demand for petroleum products. The shortage was aggravated by the inability of oil wells in Oklahoma and Illinois to produce sufficient quantities.

In 1937, Oklahoma wells produced about 627,000 barrels daily but today the rate is only about 390,000 barrels daily.

Illinois wells boomed from a mere 20,000 barrels daily in 1937 to 403,000 barrels. But today the flow has dropped to 190,000 barrels daily.

Kansas production has increased but not enough to compensate the drop in Oklahoma and Illinois. Refineries in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio are capable of handling the oil but the big problem existed in cracking a transportation bottleneck.

The Magnolia line will run 650 miles from Corsicana, Tex., to Patoka, Okla., and will carry 104,000 barrels daily.

The line to be built by Texas Co., Sinclair, Shell, and Cities Service will extend 440 miles from Ja. N. M., to Cushing, Okla. It will have a capacity of 150,000 barrels daily.

The two lines will connect in Oklahoma with lines for transportation through Tulsa to the refineries in Ohio, Illinois and Indiana.

Houston oilmen say the situation in the midwest would not have occurred during normal times. But the war halted at but the most essential pipeline construction.

The land will fall on the West Texas fields to supply the oil for these new lines, but the estimates indicate that West Texas can produce about 100,000 barrels of oil each day above the present rate.

More applications for the registration of trademarks were filed with the U. S. Patent Office in 1946 than in any other year. The total including renewals, was 789.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

By Boyce House

The paper shortage in this country is highly serious. One reason is that everybody wants to be a columnist and then gather the "cream" of his columning and put it in a book.

The latest of these Johnny-Come-Latelys in the field of what might laughingly be called literature is Billy Rose, who has been very successful as a producer of shows, and of course that qualifies him as a writer, just as making a billion dollars by manufacturing automobiles makes a man an authority on any subject he wants to talk about.

And metropolitan papers, dazzled by a "name", are using Billy's output in a big way. His column, in case you have been so fortunate as not to have read one, consists of a marvelous display of egotism—even for a columnist—and of a parade of all the trite fictional situations that have been worn to shreds by students taking a short story writing course by correspondence.

Mr. Rose says he writes the column himself—but maybe he produces his column the same way he produce his shows. Back in 1936 and 1937, when the "Broadway Barnum" put on the Fort Worth Casa Manana, DuBois designed the costumes, Johnston painted the scenes, Suesse composed the music, a Hollywood dance director put on the dances, Winkler provided the lighting effects and John Murray Anderson put it all together as director. With these slight exceptions, it was 100 per cent Billy's work.

Billy got his start by writing songs. Everyone knows how lofty the ethics of Tin Pan Alley are. They borrow from Bach, they mooch from Mozart and they bum from Beethoven.

'48 Candidate

With the sage observation that "if all the meat animals killed in a year were set tail to tail they would stretch seven and a half times around the world," Dr. John Maxwell, 84, of Chicago accepted the nomination as 1948 presidential candidate of the American Vegetarian Party. Party organization and candidate nomination occurred at a meatless dinner in a New York hotel.

PORTUGAL IN SEARCH AGAIN OF WOLFRAM

LISBON (UP) — Coincident with renewed world tension, the search for wolfram has been renewed throughout Portugal. Latest official figures showed that amount thus far extracted from the country since the end of World War II have been negligible, however.

Wolfram mines now existing in the country are owned by British, American, Portuguese and French concerns or individuals. Government legislation authorizes export only to countries whose nationals own the mines.

Wolfram mines formerly owned by German concerns now are controlled by the Inter-Allied Commission. Sale and transfer of ownership is expected to be announced soon.

Exports since the war have not been important. In August, 1946, one ton was exported, in September none, in October 17 tons, in December 181 tons and in January 1947, 224 tons. No figures for months since January have been announced. Wolfram normally is mined as a by-product, not for itself alone.

The price has declined as sharply as production. During the war it was selling for 700 escudos a kilogram. Now it sells for 30—last year it brought 12. Among the agents dealing in wolfram in Lisbon are Rumanians and one Yugoslav.

Airport Activities

Speedy says--

Gleason Romans, Tulsa, Okla., was in Ranger yesterday afternoon. Probably he has the same kind of trouble with his wife that everyone else does, he was driving his car and had his wife as a passenger. Gleason is owner of the airplane pipeline company—and is employer to Jimmy Phillips and A. Kisk. The company bases two planes in Ranger.

Max Starks, Dallas, was an airport visitor yesterday.

C. M. Michael, Fort Worth, landed here in a P.T.-19 yesterday.

One of the most urgent needs on the airport is hangars. Plans owners are willing to pay rent, but there are no hangars available to rent. This is discouraging to an owner with a new airplane.

Obstruction lights are in the process of installation at the airport. All light poles, hangars, and houses that would offer any hazard to night flying are being wired for a red light. A time clock will be installed on the runway lights and obstruction lights and they will burn from dusk until 1 a.m. Thus will Ranger airport be available to any transient aircraft at any time.

Well I Dunno...

He's right. We get so tired of reading about these long-drawn-out investigations out of which comes nothing but a lot of scandal and publicity for the investigators and those investigated.

Why not let the FBI handle it. They know how to find out who's who and who does what, without a lot of hulahoo that doesn't mean anything.

Frankly while we don't approve of some of the things that have been going on, we're glad to see Howard Hughes make Senator Brewster the monkey.

When? We made it.

Mechanical Store Designed To Sell Groceries Faster

By William J. Fox United Press Staff Correspondent MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Sam Egro, Memphis inventor, has come up with the latest in sales ideas—the mechanical grocery store.

Another Memphis inventor Clarence Saunders developed the "feedstore"—an electrically-operated grocery store. Before that, someone invented the nickel-in-the-slot automat.

Now Egro has topped them all with his patented plan to eliminate clerks, checkers and cash registers at the grocer's.

Egro, a slight, graying Italian, spent several years developing his idea. He tried and discarded various electrical and mechanical models before experimenting successfully with the present device which he said will "revolutionize" the food store business.

The key to the plan is a hand-sized "register", which is in effect, a miniature adding machine. The customer picks it up at the door and carries it around with him. Food in cans and packages lines the store shelves, with prices set in a mechanical attachment. When he buys an article, the customer inserts his register into the attachment. That releases a single article and automatically records the price on the register.

As each purchase is made, the price is added and the total listed immediately. When the shopping tour is completed, the cashier fits the hand-sized machine into a master register. There it is recorded on a master list and the customer pays his bill. Egro, who formerly operated grocery stores in Carlsbad, Byhalia and Greenwood, Miss got to work on the new device after he lost his business and fortune through illness.

The pilot model has worked successfully, he said, and he is now set to go into production. He said he was negotiating with a large engineering concern for the manufacture of the device.

The inventor said his brainchild should make it possible for grocers and other storekeepers to operate on a five per cent profit margin and still make more money than on present price mark-ups. The result should be an added 10 to 15 per cent saving for the customers.

Egro said he based his estimates on the fact that increased speed and the elimination of checking and sacking would result in added sales volume.

The device, he said is fool proof. The customer won't be overcharged and the store owner won't be defrauded. In addition, the shelf attachments will show at a glance a permanent inventory of sales and stock on hand, while the master
