Britain Wants Modified Little Assembly

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

Ranger's been having football games all week and there's more coming up. The Bulldogs play Brownwood at Brownwood tonight and Ranger Junior College goes to Clifton Saturday night.

We understand that there will be quite a following for both games and that's good. But we ain't making any predictions, just keeping our fingers crossed.

Well, we finally got a little rain, 95 of an inch and still doesn't make an inch of rain for the months of September and October.

And they tell us that gully-washers fell all around us.

Shortcuts are sometimes costly and the man that takes 'em to dodge his obligations to his duties, usually winds up the loser. We are a firm believer in the theory that we get out of life just what we work for. Sure getting the breaks can help, but you gotta be able to recognize the breaks and make the most of 'em.

Yes sir, we believe that honest efforts are rewarded.

Which reminds us of those people who always want to reap the benefits of other people's efforts and take the glory when the job is well done. There are always those who sincerely put their shoulders to the wheel to build and build well, thank goodness, but just as surely do we have with us those that won't work but who ask for the glory.

Heard of good example of that this morning.

Don't forget that tomorrow is election day and it's up to you to determine the man that will go in there to help run your city's affairs. We are still privileged in this country to have a voice in selecting the people that run the affairs of the country, state, county and city and to keep that privilege we gotta exercise it.

And like we always say if you don't exercise that privilege, don't cuss the fellow that goes into office.

There was some argument around town this morning about what time the polls should open. We got two interpretations. One that they were to open at 7 a. m. and another that they were to open at 8 a. m.

We read the law on the matter and inquired of all who are authorities on the subject and there just isn't any doubt about it, they open at 8 a. m.

Many people were planning to go to the Fair tomorrow and wanted to vote before they left and this brought up the question. But it wouldn't delay the trip much if they waited to vote.

The question of absentee voting came up, too. But that's out because that has to be done at a set time ahead of the election and the deadline for that has passed.

Three Bandits Take $55,000

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Three armed bandits dressed like coal miners today held up a special police officer and a payroll clerk at Republic Steel's Sayreton mines and escaped with more than $55,000 in cash, Sheriff Holt McDowell reported.

R. H. McCracken, manager of Republic's southern mines, said the money involved wages for employees in two mines for the past 10 days.

He said the total was $55,001.44.

The payroll was delivered by an armored truck a few minutes before the bandits appeared at the payroll window at 6:50 a. m.

Hotel Fire Smothered
NEW ORLEANS (UP)—A general alarm fire broke out in the floor of the jam-packed 700-room Roosevelt Hotel here a few minutes before midnight last night but firemen kept the blaze isolated and put it out before anyone was injured.

To Sing In Eastland

Mona Paulee

MONA PAULEE TO APPEAR IN EASTLAND MONDAY

Unique in the staid history of Metropolitan Opera is Mona Paulee, a girl who made her way up through vaudeville and the five-and-dime and is still doing the unconventional—this season by criticizing via plane!

Unlike most singers, Mona, who will appear in Eastland on Monday, October 20 at the high school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. was not a child prodigy. Her father managed a theatre in Portland, Oregon which featured community singing led by an organist with slides. Mona will spend her spare time singing from the pit in the darkness. Finally she won $10 at an amateur contest in a rival theatre with a song entitled "Reaching For The Moon." And she's been reaching ever since.

By working from 3 a. m. to 8 a. m. wrapping bread in a bakery, she paid for her first music lessons. Later, the serious lessons came out of her salary as a vaudeville and night club entertainer.

It was in a night club that she first met her husband, Dean Holt, then a band leader and recently a Captain in the Air Transport Command. In the coming air-concert-tour which will cover the United States and Canada, Dean will accompany her—both as pilot and pianist.

In 1936 Mona was engaged by the San Francisco Opera Company understudied principals. Realizing that she sang minor roles and ing the need for a sounder musical foundation if she were to rise in the operatic field, within a year she had left for Los Angeles and serious study under John Patton, noted California voice teacher. And in the fall of 1940 she finally headed for New York, bound to win the "Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air"—which she did, though not before collapsing on the audition stage with a terrific case of bronchial pneumonia.

The following year she made her debut as Giannetta in Donizetti's "L'Elisir d'Amore" and within months was dubbed "the glamour gal of the Met."

As a matter of fact, she was voted the Met's pin-up girl just last year. (To make it official, so to speak.)

Despite her seasonal contract with Metropolitan, Mona has concentrated from coast to coast and filled a number of outstanding engagements with such orchestras as the New York Philharmonics under both Mitropoulos and Walter, the Boston Symphony, the Toronto Promenade, the San Diego, Minneapolis, the Tacoma and Waco Symphony orchestras, and the National Symphony at Washington's Water Gate. Recently, she premiered the latest Hindemith work, "When Lilies Last in the Dooryard Bloomed." Radio programs which see her as a frequent guest star are "The Firestone Hour," "Let's Go to the Opera," "Invitation to Music," "CBS Symphony," "Ford Hour," "Coca-Cola Hour," "Music America Loves Best" and

Eastland Rites For Butler Held; Body To Dallas

A change at the last moment in the plans for the transporting the body of Samuel Butler from Eastland to Westchester, Pa., made it necessary to take the body to Dallas and ship it from there by regular airline.

Eastland services were held at the family residence this morning at 10:00 o'clock. The body was taken immediately to Dallas.

Further services will be held Saturday, if it arrives in time, at Westchester, Pa., at the home of an aunt, Miss Rose Darlington. Interment will be in the family's private lot in the Westchester cemetery.

BROWN ISSUES STATEMENT ON CANDIDACY

Calvin Brown who is a candidate for the position of finance commissioner of Ranger, has issued the following statement relative to his candidacy.

As you know I am a candidate for the position of finance commissioner of Ranger, and that I served on the commission once before.

In as much as no one had announced at the time that I filed my name for the place on the commission and being the first to file my records are open to the public both in Ranger and Eastland.

First I would like to call your attention to the Cemetery road that I was able to build through cooperation with the commission, and as you know the old road that we had to travel was beyond repair until this road was built and it is my hearts desire now to have that road black topped to the Cemetery.

Also you will recall that I started the old cemetery work to beautify the grounds there during my term of office. I also started the Blundell ditch which was a small cut to the city of Ranger with the cooperation of Government funds to finish the project, and before that ditch was put in you will recall that the highway would be covered with water that was impassable during a heavy rain.

It is my understanding that the City can find in the army camps barracks that can be filled on and moved into the city at a low cost for housing purposes and if that condition does exist I would be in favor of moving some of these houses into Ranger and making a project to house all the old people that are on a pension at a very low rate of rent because these people at this time do not get enough money to meet the high cost of living and that the City would hold this property until every thing would get back to normal and then sell the property and that would bring the City in some revenue, but first rent this to these old people so that they could live.

As you know that I have lived in Ranger for the past twenty years and have my home and my business here, and I want to see the City of Ranger prosper, and I would be for all the good things that can be brought to Ranger, and should you see fit to elect me to that post it will be my privilege to counsel with you when you have anything good for the town as you know that when I was your commissioner before this you did not hesitate to bring your troubles to me and we could set down and iron them out.

State Completes Case In Trial Of Dr. Ross

LA GRANGE, Tex.—The state completed its case against Dr. Lloyd I. Ross, San Antonio physician on trial for murder, at 10:45 a. m. today.

Only two witnesses, San Antonio police officers who connected the doctor with the murder weapon, appeared.

District Judge J. R. Fuchs then ordered court recessed until 2 p. m. when the defense will call its first witness.

Chief defense counsel Fred Blundell declined to reveal whether Ross would be called to testify in his own defense, but the unanimous opinion among close followers of legal strategy here was that he would not.

CIO GIVES PRESIDENCY TO MURRAY

BOSTON—Philip Murray of Pittsburgh was reelected President of the CIO by acclamation today after a noisy 20-minute demonstration by 600 delegates to the CIO national convention.

Murray, who has headed the CIO since 1940 when John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, stepped out, was placed in nomination by Jacob Potofsky, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

Potofsky described Murray as "the greatest labor leader in America and the world."

Once when Potofsky referred to this "great man who has dedicated his life to the cause of labor," a lone voice shouted from the floor, "John L. Lewis."

As soon as Potofsky had finished, delegates began pounding tables, clapping and cheering and parading around the hall. After 20 minutes, the band which had been playing Annie Laurie brought a halt to the demonstration by playing the Star Spangled Banner.

Says American Farmers Ready To Feed Hungry

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C.—Chairman Clifford R. Hope, R., Kans., of the House agricultural committee said today that American farmers are "ready to feed the starving people of the world without any quibbling over fine-point legal and economic theories."

Hope, a veteran farm-bloc legislator from the nation's breadbasket, said he was "convinced that the majority of farmers will support any reasonable and progressive plan to feed Europe."

But, he added, the farmer wants one assurance—"that Europeans will do everything possible to help themselves."

He said he believed the farm state legislators in Congress would vote favorably on the European aid program, but that it did not mean that they were committed to the Marshall Plan.

McKEEVER ISSUES HIS STATEMENT

The following statement has been issued by C. C. McKeever with reference to his candidacy for the position of finance commissioner of Ranger.

"I wish to make the following statement soliciting your vote and support in the election for the office of Finance Commissioner for the City of Ranger.

I believe in democratic form of Government and propose to represent the wishes and needs of the majority of the Citizens of Ranger. I am not obligated to any group or individual in any manner whatsoever. I propose to support any issue that may arise from time to time that will be for the progress of the City of Ranger and the benefit of the majority of the Citizens and Taxpayers.

The issues of the City are too many to try to discuss in a limited amount of space but as each issue is brought before the Commission for their approval or disapproval my vote, if elected, will be guided by the following—that is, if it is in the wishes of the majority of the Taxpayers and Citizens and if it is a good sound economical progressive Government.

If elected, I will use my efforts and influence to bring new industry to this town to increase our payroll and create more jobs for our Citizens.

I propose none other than to represent the people of the City of Ranger for a progressive, good, honest, cooperative, constructive, economical Government for the Citizens of Ranger.

The future progress of our City depends on the decisions made today.

MAKES BITTER ATTACK ON ATTITUDE OF THE RUSSIANS

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y.—Great Britain proposed a middle-way version of the American "Little UN Assembly" plan today to give the world a "safety valve" for the growing tension between east and west.

Giving modified support to Secretary of State George C. Marshall's plan for a year-round meeting of the 57 United Nations, Sir Hartley Shawcross of Great Britain denounced Russia's vehement opposition to the idea as "an exciting excursion into the realms of phantasy."

In an impassioned plea for Soviet cooperation in the proposed "Little Assembly," Shawcross disavowed any western power plot to use the plan for an attack on the security council and the Big Five veto power.

Shawcross scoffed at Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky's attack on the American proposal. It was nothing, he said, but "a blood curdling picture of warmongers and Fascist beasts, goblins and ghosts engaged in some dark plot, some deep machination, to subjugate and set aside the UN charter."

"We really ought to get away, so far as we can," from these phantasies, these fears, these neuroses and try to picture international politics as something other than a perpetual struggle whereby one side tries to get the better of the other one."

Shawcross made a sweeping denial of any ulterior motives on the part of the United States in proposing the plan which would keep the 57 United Nations in session around the calendar for debates of problems blocked in the security council or submitted in advance for next year's session of the General Assembly.

He proposed for Great Britain, however, a modified version of the "Little Assembly" idea and emphasized that it would give the committee considerably more limited powers than that originally envisaged by the United States.

The British proposal would allow the committee to consider only 1, matter left for it by the current assembly session and 2, items proposed by UN countries for the 1948 assembly session.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C.—(NEA)—Nobody has ever gone around inspecting garbage cans to check up, but official and unofficial estimates on the amount of food wasted in the United States today put the figure at nearly 25 per cent of all food produced. That makes it approximately a $3 billion annual loss.

On this basis, President Truman's politically smart suggestion that the American people "waste less"—instead of merely asking them to "eat less"—as Taft did—may give the new Citizens Committee under Charles Luckman something to work on in helping meet foreign food shortages.

In various food drives during the war, an effort was made to beat into public consciousness the fact that more food was wasted here at home than was supplied to the armed forces overseas and through Lend-Lease aid combined. Last year, only eight per cent of America's food production was shipped abroad, so cutting American food waste would supply enough food to meet all relief needs, if this pretty theory could be worked out.

BRECKENRIDGE DOWNS RANGER B PLAYERS

In a game played Thursday night at Ereckenridge, a scrappy Ranger B team lost to a much heavier Breckenridge team by a score of 31 to 0. The heavy Breckenridge team ran and passed with ease to score once in the first quarter, twice in the second quarter and twice in the third quarter.

At the start of the game, Ranger received and displayed some ground power, making two first downs, but lost the ball when a pass was intercepted. Breckenridge plowed down the field for their first touchdown.

Ranger finally stopped the Breckenridge running attack so Breckenridge took to the air. Forest Erney of Breckenridge tossed some beautiful passes with Cameron on the receiving end most of the time.

The B boys from Ranger never gave up and were on the Breckenridge 20 yard line only to have their drive stopped by an intercepted pass at the end of the game, Ranger's last drive came when Buddy Hamrick charged down the field when his team mate Billy McKinney punted behind the goal line and caught the Breckenridge tailback fumbling the ball. Hamrick pounced on the ball on the 45 yard line, Comacho, Hamrick and Sides worked some good runs to give the Ranger fans some last minute thrills.

Myer Silent On Outcome Of Grid Battle Saturday

FORT WORTH—Coach Dutch Myer will make no talk about the outcome of the T.C.U.-Texas A. & M. football game here Saturday, but he does believe that he will field the strongest aggregation that the Horned Frogs have had this season.

Handicapped by injuries all year, the Frogs now have only three players who are definitely out for Saturday's contest—Jim Lucas, tailback, who has not played a single down this season; Jerome Blazek, wingback; and Otis McKelvey, fullback.

Weldon Edwards and Harold Kilman, tackles, apparently will be ready for limited service. The remainder of the squad, particularly the men who went so well in the last two games—Arkansas and Miami—are in top shape for the Aggies.

We have played increasingly better ball each Saturday out," Coach Myer declares. "We have looked better in all departments—running, passing and defensive work. Whether or not we are strong enough to stop those Aggies, I don't know. But I do feel that we're strong enough to play a whale of a ball game!"

All tickets in the concrete stands—about 24,000—were sold by Tuesday of this week. End zone seats and standing room will be on sale at the Stadium Saturday.

Brewers Curb To Add Grain For Relief Pool

WASHINGTON — President Truman's food committee added 3,000,000 bushels of brewers grain to its foreign relief "pool" today—and said it shouldn't cost Americans many if any steins of beer.

After two days of negotiations, the brewers agreed to cut the use of corn 25 per cent, turn back to the government 200,000 bushels of wheat and rice, stop using feed barley and stop buying grain sorghums.

Atomic Bomb Of Love From Orient Offered U. S. As Cure For Ills

HONGKONG (UP)—A one-man Buddhist mission will invade the United States shortly, bringing with it Nibbana, Panca Khandha and the "Atomic Bomb of Love."

The missionary is the Venerable Lokanatha, who before his conversion was plain Salvatore Natale Cioffi of Brooklyn, where his three brothers and five sisters still are living. Lokanatha is looking forward to his first family reunion in 22 years and many fine hours of religious debate with his older brother, Magr. Angelo R. Violfi of St. Rosalia's Roman Catholic Church, Brooklyn.

Lokanatha, who wears the traditional yellow robes and shaven skull of a Buddhist monk, first became interested in Buddhism while studying for his chemical engineering degrees at Cooper Union and Columbia University.

Later, in his off hours from laboratory work on Staten Island, he spent many hours pursuing the subject in the New York Public Library. In 1925, he went to Rangoon and was ordained into the Buddhist faith.

Lokanatha believes the time is now ripe for a resurgence of Buddhism throughout the world, and especially the United States. On his current "lightning preaching tour" he will visit Shanghai, Manila, Honolulu, San Francisco and cities all across the United States to New York. In the latter city—possibly on Riverside Drive—Lokanatha hopes eventually to erect a "skyscraper pagoda" dedicated to world peace.

"Nibbana," he explains, "is the Supreme Fireless State, which is attained when all lust is completely destroyed." It is attained by eating little, sleeping little, keeping to a vegetarian diet, reading Buddhist books, meditating on the nastiness of the human body and watching the mind."

Lokanatha, who is a "Dhamma Dayako"—"Truth Giver—are each a bundle of electricity." Buddhism, Lokanatha says, is the only "absolute scientific" religion, and he hopes to point out its attraction to free thinkers, rationalists and agnostics in the United States.

The only way to save the world is to "hitch up science with the five precepts," i.e. abstain from taking life; do not take what is not given; abstain from adultery; abstain from lying, and abstain from drinking.

"Only by detonating the Atomic Bomb of Love can be destroyed suffering born of ignorance and bring Supreme Bliss to this unhappy world," says Lokanatha.

Oil from trees, called "tall oil" is recovered from pine logs used in making paper. This oil is widely used in making cutting, boring and grinding oils, and in the manufacture of paints, varnishes, linoleum, soaps and other products.

NEWS FROM LONGBRANCH CARBON ROUTE 1 Mrs. G. W. Stowe, Cor.

LONG BRANCH, Oct. 16—Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hastings were hosts at their home Sunday to a crowd of the latter's relatives. Most of those present had attended church services at their respective places of worship, while the gracious hostess put the finishing touches on the sumptuous dinner which was served about one o'clock. In the afternoon, while the older folk engaged in interesting conversations about new fashions, schooling problems, favorite recipes, stock farming and current events, the youngsters were busy at "play-housing", sports, et cetera. At the proper hour in the afternoon all gathered and partook of a home grown Thanksgiving dinner. Those at the gathering were: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ghormley and sons, Bobby and John of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Ghormley and children, Christine, Gladys, Betty Fay and James; Mr. and Mrs. Omer Hogan and daughters, Madeline and Nelda June of Carbon; Mr. and Mrs. Omer Hogan, Jr., and sons Wayne and Cecil from Carbon; Mr. and Mrs. B. did not saw wood and say nothing, but, like the good fellows, that they are, with the assistance of their industrious wives, they just threshed their (more or less) scanty crops and now they don't have to even pray for dry weather.

★ Statement by Calvin Brown ★ I am a candidate for City Commissioner. I cannot see all the voters in person. Therefore I make this brief statement on the main issues before the citizens of Ranger. 1. Ranger needs an adequate water supply. I think water is more important than an airport but I favor both. 2. I favor improving the road to the cemetery. Black top it if possible. 3. The vacant property at Main and Commerce should be improved or condemned. The owner of this property should be induced to repair or remove this eye-sore. 4. The tennis court adjacent to the swimming pool can be completed for a few dollars. I favor installing the back stops on these courts at once. 5. I would favor the city buying a street roller from Army Surplus. 6. This would enable the city to black top a number of streets at a very low cost. 7. Houses adjacent to sewer lines should be required to connect, for sanitary purposes. 8. I will work at the job. ★ CALVIN BROWN ★

Young Old Timers Land In Police Net

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Tommy Bishop and Elroy Weber are hardened travelers—even though they belong to Milwaukee's very young set.

Tommy is 4 and his pal is 6. They were found in crowded downtown Milwaukee, apparently lost. Friendly spectators kept them supplied with candy and ice cream.

Then the squad car came to pick them up. As they entered, Tommy surprised the onlookers with a casual, "Here we go again."

But the police were not surprised. They said the boys had been given free rides by their department at least a dozen times in the last six months.

Herman McBroon, flight student from Fort Worth, landed here yesterday. He was enroute from Fort Worth to Wichita Falls, supposedly direct. Mr. McBroon, upon landing, says "Where am I? I followed the railroad track out of Fort Worth." When he found he was in Ranger and had followed the wrong railroad track, McBroon was sure an error had been made somewhere.

Charles Wyatt from Colorado City and H. Lewis from Sherman were here on the airport Wednesday afternoon. They were enroute to Sherman from Big Spring, and were flying a Porterfield.

Les Miller, Aeronca Regional Representative, and Robert Helms Weatherford, landed here in a new Aeronca Chief.

A vote for C. C. McKeever tomorrow would be a good way to start the day.

Fewer Horses On Farms But Lots Of Tractors

AKRON, O. (UP)—Figures from the B. F. Goodrich Co. indicate that the swing to "more horsepower and fewer horses" is continuing.

The company announced that production of tires for tractors and other farm vehicles in 1948 will more than triple that of previous years.

The figures show the number of horses on farms dropped from 24,000,000 to 12,000,000 from 1921 to 1944, while tractor usage increased from 400,000 to 2,100,000.

matic deadlocks and internal dimensions if people drank more of the bubbling beverage and less whiskey, according to Edgard du Prey, French champagne authority.

"You can always tell if champagne has been served at a gathering," he said on a visit here. "The most austere, the most snobbish, the most lofty giggle after drinking champagne. But after whiskey drinking, the offish ones become more offish and snooty and the noisy ones more noisy." Du Prey said nothing about the cost of champagne.

Lower Valley Improvements Plan Announced

AUSTIN, Tex., (UP)—The lower Rio Grande Valley can look forward to an irrigation and reclamation project of an area 70 miles long and 30 miles wide after an announcement by Wesley R. Nelson of the Federal Bureau of Reclamation.

Nelson, who is assistant commissioner of the federal bureau, made the announcement at the recent meeting of the Texas Water Conservation association in Austin.

The project will cover parts of four Rio Grande valley counties with more than 700,000 acres scheduled for development under the federal agency's plan.

The bureau's project drainage plan calls for construction of more than 300 miles of outlet drains which will be 15 feet in depth.

The area covered in this project will start at Brownsville and extend to a point about 10 miles west of Mission, Nela, said.

Parking Meter Offense Costs $337

STILLWATER, Minn. (UP)—A former county sheriff paid $337 for his first infraction of this community's new parking meter regulations.

Thomas Maher, Washington County sheriff for 28 years, found a tag on his car for overparking in a metered zone, shortly after the new devices were put into operation. About 25 others also were liable for fines.

At the police chief's office Maher paid a $1 fine. While talking to the chief, he laid his wallet on the chair. When he turned to leave, the wallet was gone—plus $336.
