Film Writer Trumbo Held In Contempt

Well... I Dunno, But...

Indications are that Mincal Wells is much interested in the game here Friday night. They're figuring on coming to the game 1,500 strong or at least that's the number of tickets they ordered and got. Ranger should at least match that number and if we do that'll be the biggest crowd yet to attend a game here this season. The Mountaineers are district contenders and they'll be here fighting to defend that position. Statistics would indicate that they won't have much trouble doing just that. But you never can tell. The Bulldogs were a scrappy lot at Breckenridge but then the Bucks might have been pulling some punches, as a little baiting device for others in the district. We've never done much football predicting and won't attempt any predictions on this game. However, if we did predict and turned up wrong, we'd sure have lots of company, since much of this year's predictions by big sports writers have run into big upsets. Somebody laughingly said the other day that if it rained Friday night we might have a chance. And looks like it might with heavy clouds still hanging around.

We've frequently commented on the fine records that Ranger Junior College students make when they enter senior colleges and Universities. One scholastic record combined with active participation in student activities indicate the all-round nature of the students. Yesterday we mentioned one who had taken a leading role in the play at TCU and this morning we heard of another ex-student that's got a leading role in a college play. He is James Metcalf, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Roney Jones who attended Ranger Junior College last year and who has been assigned a leading role in the homecoming play at Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos. The play will be given on November 8 and will be Our Town, a play that was once staged by the junior college here.

We have a man on our staff that's got the buttonless shirt problem solved. When he arrives at the office with a button missing, he goes to work with a stapler. He's become expert with that little machine, even if a lot of bodily gymnastics are required to get the job done. And the staples at least bind up a loose cuff or sagging pocket.

We have spoken about the effects of the rain on business, farming and ranching, but we've failed to mention the effect generally on the populace.

First we noticed that we felt peppier and then we began to notice that it was pretty general. There's something about these crisp mornings that adds "vim, vigor and vitality". It puts a punch into work and the disposition is definitely improved. Yes sir, you can't get around it, too much of any kind of weather reflects in the populace, particularly hot, dry weather.

People are beginning to show signs of being Christmas minded with the efficient, farsighted ones getting gifts in storage far in advance of the last minute rush in which we usually get trampled.

But there's just no use of us making a resolution to get it done earlier this year. After 40 years of making that resolution, we know at least that we won't keep it.

As far as the nerves are concerned, it's the wise one that gets his Christmas shopping done early. But knowledge of this fact hasn't yet made us wise enough to go ahead and do it.

ASKS RETIREMENT
BERLIN — Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany, said today that he had asked the Army to retire him in the 1948 calendar year so he could quit all Army and public life and "go catfishing in Georgia."

Hollywood Stars Protest House Hearings

Curious spectators peer through a window for a glimpse of Hollywood movie stars and producers who arrived in Washington to protest the House Un-American Activities Committee's investigation of alleged communism in the film capital. ARMY CALLS FOR SECRECY IN U. S. ZONE IN GERMANY

BERLIN (UP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor of Germany has ordered an intricate and far-reaching security program for his sprawling army and military government organization.

In a nine-page order, Clay called for the utmost caution and adherence to the letter of the rule book in handling secret military information.

Intelligence officers denied that the clamp-down was inspired by leaks or other breaches of security. They referred to the new order as "routine, wrapping up a lot of previous regulations." The new document referred to 12 earlier orders on the same subject issued within the past year.

This single sentence in the bulky mimeographed order was highlighted by being printed in capital letters: "Classified military subjects will not be discussed in public, nor disclosed privately to anyone in the military service not entitled and not required to receive such information."

The new Clay security system is virtually identical with that enforced by the Army during wartime.

It calls for the appointment of an "intelligence and security officer" in every staff division of American headquarters. In addition, it lays down the following precautions:

1. "Conversations concerning official matters will be closely guarded in public and in private, on and off duty."

2. "Satisfactory identification will be obtained of any individual with whom it is necessary to discuss matters of a classified nature. In no case will such matters be discussed with strangers."

3. "Information classified higher than restricted will not be discussed by telephone conversations unless the conversation can be so framed as to convey no classified information to unauthorized listeners."

4. "Loiterers or other persons whose presence in or about any of the headquarters buildings is questionable will be detained by the guard and their presence will be investigated and reported to G-2 (Intelligence), Headquarters Command."

The four-star general also ordered detailed precautions for handling secret documents and for investigating persons who have access to them.

Grounds for Divorce

SEATTLE (UP) — Leon J. Harris filed a suit for divorce against Margaret Goldie Harris, charging her with giving away all his clothes. Harris said his 16 months of married life has been marked by a long list of indignities.

ALABAMA GOV. GETS TEXAS KISS

Governor Jim Folsom of Alabama seems to be well pleased with his blind-date which Governor Jester arranged for the Annual Air Day in Texas at Harlingen. Governor Jester assigned Miss Del Bradford, a University of Texas coed as the visiting Governor's date during the celebrations. (NEA Telephoto.)

RAMADIER HITS AT DE GAULLE, COMMUNISTS

By United Press

PARIS — Premier Paul Ramadier attacked Gen. Charles De Gaulle as an enemy of the republic today and denounced the French Communists as pursuing ends contrary to the safety of the country.

Fighting for the life of his coalition cabinet, Ramadier lashed out at both De Gaulle and the Communists, two of the greatest forces in France which had caught the administration between them.

The National Assembly, meeting in extraordinary session for France's gravest crisis since the war, was thrown into an uproar by the Socialist premier's assault.

Working toward an assembly vote of confidence which placed his government in jeopardy, Ramadier drew shouts of protest from the floor when he lumped De Gaulle among the "enemies of the republic," and in attacking the Communists demanded that no French party "should follow ends foreign to the safety of our country."

Sarcastically he referred to De Gaulle, resurgent political leader who amassed astounding strength in recent municipal elections, as a modern Joan of Arc.

"It does not seem to me that someone on the order of Joan of Arc could become the head of a political party."

Plane Accident Deaths Highest Ever This Year

By United Press

WASHINGTON — So far this year, 216 passengers and crew members have been killed in domestic airline accidents. That is more than twice as many as died in accidents in any one of the previous years of commercial aviation.

The 216 deaths this year occurred in five accidents, including the United Airlines DC-6 crash in Utah last Friday. The figure is more than twice the combined total of the last two years. It compares with a previous all-time high of 97 fatalities in 1946.

Omar Burleson To Speak At Joint Club Meet

A joint meeting of the Rotary Club and Lions Club along with their guests will be held Wednesday at noon in the Blue Room of the Gholson Hotel at which time Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson will be the guest speaker.

Congressman Burleson is representative of the 17th Congressional District and will speak on the work of the last session of Congress and of the problems ahead of the special session.

The meeting is sponsored by the Rotary Club.

Churchill Asks Confidence Vote

LONDON — Winston Churchill asked Commons today for a vote of no confidence in the Labor government on grounds that it had failed to overcome Britain's grave economic crisis.

Churchill charged that the nationalization program of Prime Minister Clement E. Attlee's cabinet had proved a failure, and called for a return to free enterprise.

The wartime Prime Minister and present leader of the opposition delivered his first speech of the third session of Parliament under the Labor government.

Livestock is grown on more than 5,000,000 farms in the United States and provides the largest source of cash income for the American farmer.

Puerto Rican Students Expect Plenty Patients

DALLAS, Tex., (UP) — Four Puerto Rican students now attending Southwestern Medical College here expect to have plenty of patients when they hang out their shingles on their native island.

Puerto Rico now has only one physician to every 4,000 persons. Dallas county has one physician to every 700 persons, yet Dallas doctors are overworked, and patients spend weary hours in waiting rooms.

Puerto Rico has no medical school. To relieve the critical shortage of physicians, the island's government is financing 139 medical students, 137 of them in the United States.

Two of the Puerto Ricans at Southwestern Medical College are on government scholarships, one is attending under the GI Bill of Rights and the fourth is paying his own way.

The students are: Jofeth Ramirez, Victor Rivera, Orlando Salichs and Manuel Amil.

When the four students return to Puerto Rico as physicians, they hope to help lower the island's death rate. Deaths per 1,000 population in Puerto Rico are: under one year, 95 there compared with 43 in the U. S.; one to four years, 18 compared with two here; five to nine years, a ratio of three to one.

Infant diarrhea is one of the chief causes of the high mortality among children, they said.

Yalta To Blame For Muddle In Central Europe

AUBURN, N. Y. — Chairman John Taber of the House appropriations committee today charged that the situation in Austria and Germany "is terribly muddled because of the very embarrassing commitments made by President Roosevelt at Yalta and by President Truman at Potsdam."

Taber, who recently returned from Europe, said agreements reached at these historic conferences permitted the Russians to move "into the most productive part of Germany and Austria."

"The Russians," he asserted, "have to a very large extent stripped the productive capacity of the factories."

Missing Pilot And Plane Is Sought In Area

Officials at the Eastland Airport were requested this morning to be on the lookout for a Swift plane No. NC78095 or NC 87005 piloted by C. L. Stewart of Sweetwater, missing since 2:30 p.m. Saturday. The pilot is believed to be enroute from Sweetwater to Dallas.

The request was from C. W. Brooks from Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Raising Chinchillas Beats Dentistry

CHARLESTON, S. C. (UP) — Dr. John T. Green has a chinchilla "farm" in his dental office here and says that on paper the little animals promise more profit than his drills and picks.

He started last April 15 with three pair. They doubled by Sept. 1 and should double again by Christmas.

"Since good chinchillas cost from $1,000 to $1,600 a pair, you can see that my potential profits are adding up rapidly," Dr. Green said.

He keeps the pets in a spare room in his office suite and feeds the babies goat milk from a bottle.

CARDINAL IS FIREMAN

NEW YORK (UP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman was made an honorary deputy chief of the New York Fire Department in recognition of the part he played in extinguishing a fire in the bedroom of his residence at the card of St. Patrick's Cathedral. Cardinal Spellman already was an honorary member of the Boston Fire Department.

Shavee Lee No Comment

NEW YORK (UP) — Shavee Lee, the Mayor of Chinatown, received friends at his insurance business at 40 Mot Street when he returned after a half year visit in China. Lee reported things were pretty bad in China, most Chinese are undernourished, and reconstruction and business are practically at a standstill. He declined to comment on the political situation.

Funeral For Leo Miller On Wednesday

Funeral services for Leo Edwin Miller, Jr., will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist Church in Ranger with Rev. David C. Ham, pastor of the church and Rev. Claude P. Jones of the First Methodist Church in Ranger officiating. Interment will be in the Evergreen cemetery with Killingsworth's Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Young Miller died at his home in Ranger Monday, October 27, 1947. He was born in Ranger on April 15, 1931 and had made his home in Ranger 10 years. At the time of his death he was making his home with his grandfather, Pete Kramer, and his aunt Miss Kate Kramer.

He was a senior student in Ranger High School where he was a favorite with students and active in student affairs. He was serving this year as one of the business managers of the school annual.

Mrs. L. H. Hagaman who had been associated with him through his more than three years in high school, and G. B. Rush, principal of the High School stated today that they had never been privileged to have a more capable, more cooperative, nor a cleaner student in moral and physical habits as was Leo. During his entire school life he had been on the honor roll.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church, the church youth choir and the Young People's Department of the Sunday School.

Survivors are the following: Mrs. E. A. Engel, Mrs. G. B. Magruder, Mrs. V. A. Coggins, Frank Miller, and Roy Miller, all of Fort Worth; his grandparents, Mr. Kramer of Ranger and J. D. Miller of Fort Worth.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the First Baptist Church in Ranger with Rev. David C. Ham, pastor of the church and Rev. Claude P. Jones of the First Methodist Church in Ranger officiating. Interment will be in the Evergreen cemetery with Killingsworth's Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Farmer Program To Be Announced

WASHINGTON — The President's food committee turned its attention today to the nation's farm bins which hold the bulk of the grain it hopes to save for hungry Europe.

Chairman Charles Lockman, convinced that the food conservation drive is "hitting its stride," said it would announce a nationwide program for the farmers to follow tomorrow.

He said the program, drawn up with the help of the Agriculture Department and major farm organizations, would help farmers "make substantial savings in grain." It will be more specific than the department's previous suggestions, Lockman said.

Forest fires burned enough lumber in 1946 to build 200,000 five-room houses. Ninety per cent of all fires are due to carelessness.

REFUSES TO SAY WHETHER OR NOT HE IS A COMMUNIST

WASHINGTON — Film writer Dalton Trumbo was charged with contempt of Congress today for refusing to tell House investigators whether he was a Communist.

After a noisy exchange of shouts, Trumbo was removed from the witness stand and the House Un-American Activities Committee produced evidence it said proved Trumbo was Communist party card holder No. 47187.

Another film writer, John Howard Lawson, was charged with contempt for the same reason yesterday.

Trumbo refused to say "yes" or "no" to the question as the committee continued its investigation of Communists in Hollywood. The committee, as in the case of Lawson, refused to let Trumbo read a prepared statement.

Trumbo told the House Un-American Activities committee it was trying to destroy the screen writers guild. Then, as he got up to leave the stand he shouted:

"This is the beginning of an American concentration camp."

There were boos and applause from the audience as Trumbo walked to a seat in the front row of spectators. Committee Chairman J. Parnell Thomas, R. N. J., gavelled the audience to silence and warned against further demonstrations.

The uproar marked the beginning of the second day of the second week of the committee's public hearings into Communism in Hollywood.

Meanwhile, a long-awaited "mystery witness" — said to be a former FBI agent — was reported ready to testify that Russia paid "special attention" to Communists in Hollywood.

The investigator was said to have proof that the Communist party considered Hollywood so important that it gave movie Reds "autonomous" status instead of requiring them to work under the direction of William Z. Foster and other national Communist leaders.

"The proof will be there," the committee source said. "Everybody will be convinced that there is a definite tieup between Hollywood Communists and Soviet Russia."

Italy's Peace Treaty Shelved

LAKE SUCCESS — The United Nations general assembly today shelved debate of Italy's peace treaty until the end of its session and plunged into a fight over the American-Soviet deadlock in Korea.

The postponement of the Italian treaty was agreed to unanimously on the motion of Brazil in the assembly's 57-nation political and security committee.

Argentina and six other Latin American nations seeking assembly support of their campaign to soften the Italian treaty did not dissent and the matter was dropped to the bottom of the committee's loaded docket.

CONSERVATIVES IN BRITAIN SEE NO CHANCE TO RULE

By Homer Jenks
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 LONDON (UP)—The Conservative Party was committed to a demand for an early general election by its Brighton conference.

Party leaders privately see little hope of returning to power for another five to seven years unless the economic crisis gets a lot worse.

Only a Labor government can call a general election before the present parliament is scheduled to expire in 1950. High government spokesmen repeatedly have said they have no intention of going to the people for a new mandate before then.

Top Conservative leaders believe they stand a good chance for recovering in 1950—or before then if the government calls a general election—perhaps half the 170 seats they lost in 1945.

But they conceded privately

they probably could not overcome the present Labor plurality of 206 until the following general election, presumably in 1955, if then.

Nevertheless, the Conservatives showed more signs of life and recovery at their Brighton conference than at any time since their 1945 disaster.

The progressive and younger elements of the party showed for the first time decisively that they were in control. Overwhelming approval of the "industrial charter" drawn up by the party's industrial policy committee sent the Tories diehards reeling.

The charter would continue the nationalization of the coal mines and the Bank of England, but would restore a "lot of freedom" to the nationalized road transport and civil aviation and would revive the Liverpool Cotton Market, abolished by the Labor government. It called for a measure of central planning.

The diehards announced the charter as "milk and water Socialism." The national executive recommended acceptance of the charter only as a basis for discussion, but progressives won its endorsement as party policy with only three dissents.

Other signs at Brighton of the rejuvenation of the party were the opening of a drive for £1,000,000 as an election campaign fighting fund and the fact that more than 600 per cent of the speakers were under 40 years of age.

The fighting fund will give more party members a personal interest in the election. It assigns and enable more candidates drawn from middle and even working classes without independent means to stand as Conservative candidates.

Winston Churchill, leader of the party, resisted all efforts to commit it to a detailed program. But with Anthony Eden, deputy leader, Churchill set forth his broad general Conservative policy the guarantee of a minimum standard of life, combined with incentives in free competition for further betterment, abolition of monopolies and controls, restoration of the buying power of the pound and the strengthening of empire ties.

RECIPE

In a letter I received this morning, she wants to know, "What do you find to write about? I'd run out of soap?"

Soap, if used correct, and if it's good soap, lathers and billows and makes more soap.

Lovely, fragrant stuff! And so it goes with writing and living.

The more you live and the more you feel and observe, the more lather you make.

INSURANCE — REAL ESTATE

Life roars by me in an ever-gathering flood . . . things, and people are all around me . . . sounds and thoughts and smells and words.

It was Lord Byron who said, "But words are things and a small drop of ink may produce that which makes millions think."

Heaven knows, the words I write will never make millions think and the only answer I can give my inquirer is that surrounding her as surrounding me are the ingredients that go to make a newspaper column.

Take people, mix them well, add a gay laugh here, a salty tear. The result pleases some people. Those who do not, find the concoction to the taste can always throw it away and try another kind.

there, knead well with adversity or riches, roll out flat with bad luck, form a loaf of companionship and give and take, sprinkle well with ink, then slip into the linotype until well done.

Morton Valley 4-H Club Girls Met On Oct. 20

The Morton Valley Girls 4-H club met October 20, at 10:30 a.m. at the Morton Valley School. Mrs. C. Harris, sponsor of the club, met with them. Mrs. Harris gave a demonstration on making plastic bracelets. They were very attractive and the girls enjoyed making them. Four new members joined. They are as follows: Dorita Harbin, Doris Mae Vann, Frankie Lindly, and Annett Sherman.

The club will meet Monday, November 3.

Former Eastland Woman Is Successful As Song Writer

Mrs. Wood Butler, Sr., of San Angelo and formerly a resident of Eastland and who has written a number of songs and made many recordings, recently signed a royalty contract with the Peer International Publishing Company of New York City. This contract includes both sheet music and records written and made by her.

Two numbers by Mrs. Butler that the New York publishers are taking over are "Did-Ja" and "I Can Depend On You." Her newest number, "Travelin' Blues", is now on various record machines about town.

Other evidence of the success that seems to be coming to Mrs. Butler is the fact that band conductors over the country are seeking her songs. Tommy Cunningham, who plays in the Century Room of the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas, has written that he wants to broadcast "I Can Depend On You," over KRLL.

Mr. and Mrs. Butler lived in Eastland when Mr. Butler was connected with Butler-Harvey Chevrolet Company. Mrs. Butler, while living in Eastland, wrote and produced a three act play, "Century Of Progress," which she did the musical score for and which was put on at one of the Eastland theatres. In 1935 while living in Eastland Mrs. Butler wrote a continued article about the Century of Progress Fair held in Chicago which she attended. This article was published in a series of seven issues of the Daily Telegram.

County H-D Agent Offers Recipes For Canned Pears

By Mrs. Helen Marquardt
If you are planning on preserving pears, you might like to include some pear honey and pickled pears, says Mrs. Helen Marquardt, County Home Demonstration Agent. Here follows her recipes:

PICKLED PEARS

- 1 gallon pears
- 2 quarts sugar
- 1 pint water
- 1 quart vinegar
- 2 1/2 sticks cinnamon
- 2 tablespoons whole allspice (More spice if desired).

Kieffer pears or firm juicy pears are good for this recipe. Wash the pears, par, cut in half or quarter and core. Place the pears in a large enamel pan. Barely cover with hot water and boil 10 minutes. Drain the water off, but save 1 pint to use with the vinegar syrup. Mix sugar, vinegar and the 1 pint of water. Add the spices which have been tied loosely in a cheesecloth. Bring to boil and pour over the pears. Boil 19 minutes and let stand over night. Next morning drain off the syrup and boil down until thick. Remove spice bag. If pears are tender, they may be packed into hot sterilized jars and covered with boiling syrup and sealed. If they are hard pears such as Kieffer they may be added to the thick syrup and cooked for about 15 or 20 minutes then packed hot, covered with syrup and sealed.

PEAR HONEY

Cut or grind ripe late pears into small pieces. To four pounds of pears use three pounds sugar. Mix and cook until it is the consistency of honey. Pour into hot sterilized containers. Leave no head space. Seal. For variety add one half cup lemon juice or 1 cup crushed pineapple 5 minutes before packing.

MOSCOW PATRIARCH REBUFFED IN MOVE TO RULE CHURCH
By Walter Kolars
LONDON (UP)—A well-informed ecclesiastical source reports that the patriarch of Moscow and all the Russians, Alexius, has failed in his attempt to summon a conference of all Orthodox patriarchs to Moscow this autumn.
Patriarch Alexius in a letter to the oecumenical patriarch of Constantinople, Maximos, agreed to put off the conference in view of the short notice given. In his letter, which was in extremely respectful terms, Alexius reserved himself the right "in principle" to raise the question of a conference in Moscow in the future.
Alexius, however, did not suggest a new conference date and Orthodox church quarters believe the idea of a Moscow conference "to discuss certain questions of common interest regarding all Orthodox churches" has been dropped altogether.
In a letter to Alexius, the oecumenical patriarch had expressed his opposition to the Moscow conference proposal. The patriarch of Alexandria and most probably that of Jerusalem, whose prestige ranks high in the Orthodox world, likewise adopted a negative attitude.
The Moscow patriarch found, however, a certain response from among church leaders within the Soviet zone of influence, such as the patriarch of Romania, Nicodemus, and the exarch of Bulgaria, who both accepted his project. Those who hesitated to accept the invitation and thus to acknowledge the claim to leadership of the Russian patriarch included the Serbian patriarch, Gavril, as well as the patriarchs of Greece and of Cyprus.
It is recalled in London that for many months patriarch Alexius and other member of the Russian hierarchy such as Metropolitan Nikolai, developed a great diplomatic activity to bring about the conference.
Russian ecclesiastical dignitaries visited all countries with independent Orthodox churches to sound the views of Orthodox church leaders on the conference. Soviet state authorities granted all facilities for the trips abroad and were believed to have encouraged all efforts of the Moscow

"I Love You" Added To Basic English
CLEVELAND (UP)—In Cleveland College's new system of teaching Basic English, "Mother Wore Tights" would come out "Mother Put On Long-Bottomed Garments."
Miss Mary Reid, associate professor of English at the school, said new methods of teaching basic will include mail order catalogs and daily newspapers.
Now that the old Basic vocabulary of 180 words has been increased to include verb forms, Miss Reid said students will be able to say "I Love You," instead of the former, "I keep a great love for you inside me."
"The old Basic English frequently resulted in long, awkward sentences," she said. "For example, a student asked me to explain the book title, 'Beat Me When He sneezes.' 'I had to tell him: 'Give to Him Blows When He Has a Cough.'"
