Lewis Orders Miners Back To Work

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

Another Ranger woman has won one of the "Tunes for Trips" contests and has been given a round-trip ticket to New York via American Airlines.

She is Mrs. F. U. Bourland, Sr. The trip was originally scheduled for Washington, D.C. but at her request it was changed to New York.

The contest in which she won the trip is sponsored by the Pipkin Piggy-Wiggly stores in Graham, Ranger, Eastland and Breckenridge.

Sunday was the hottest day of the season with a maximum temperature of 95 degrees. It is also the hottest April 11 in the last three years, in fact the hottest day recorded for April in the last three years.

Rumor had it this morning that a dust storm and norther are converging on Ranger. The sandstorm moving in from New Mexico and the norther from Canada. Maybe when the two get together they'll bring about some rain, and goodness knows, we need it, for not one drop have we had since March 21.

W. M. Brown told us this morning that the low barometer indicated that some kind of bad weather was in store with the instrument column at the very bottom. We sure hope that the early, high temperatures are no indication on what's ahead. Getting such an early start, we hope, does not foretell a continued rise through the summer months.

Too, a little rain might be an inspiration to spur people in Ranger to activity in the coming clean-up, paint-up and beautification program.

That campaign gets underway officially a week from today and a big meeting to plan it is being held in the morning.

We notice that a neighboring town is advertising itself as the cleanest town in Texas and we'd like to see them have to take that back with Ranger away out in front. We'll have to admit though that they do have a clean town.

Two days of free hauling have been set aside, Tuesday, April 20 and Friday, April 23. And if you want this free service let it be known at the Chamber of Commerce or city hall after your trash has been gathered and placed in a pile.

We don't hear so much talk about high prices anymore. Guess people just gave up any hope of anything being done about 'em. One Ranger business man told us Saturday that the products that he handles have been advancing in price instead of going down. It's a grim outlook for most people.

Torn By Revolt

Rotting swept Bogota (1), where at least 33 persons were killed and over 200 injured when left-wing elements, spurred by Communists, revolted against Colombia's conservative government. Revolutionary fighting was also reported in Cali (2), the nation's third city. Lima (3), Peru, has been offered as a replacement site for the ninth Pan-American Conference, which was halted in Bogota by the disorder.

Top Performers In Cutting Horse Contest April 16

Those who understand cutting horses after looking over the twenty-two entered in the contest to be held Breckenridge Apr. 16 that it will take top class performance to win and that a real show is assured for the fans in this sport ever growing more popular in West Texas.

All the winners of last year are listed in the entries, and other fine horses are found to offer real competition.

The winners last year were Jim Maddox, Maryneal, riding "Snooks", 678 points; Robert Corbett, Breckenridge, riding "Housekeeper", 671 points; George Glasscock, Crescent, riding "Nigger", 666 points; Nig London, Throckmorton, riding "Little Boy", 662 points and Colney Hildreth, Alledo, riding "Flying H", 657 points.

How close the competition was is shown in the fact that there were only 21 points difference between top and fifth position. And all these horses and riders will be back.

Brief explanation of the contest, staged under National Cutting Horse Association rules and with judges appointed by the association, was made this morning. Each rider is allowed three cows, one minute to the cow or calf. The horn blows when he gets out the animal. The animal is worked the minute. Then a different animal can be selected.

The horse must do everything, with no rope, no man holds, but with a bridle on. There are many points on which the judges score.

Each rider is a member of the association and pays $15 entrance fee and $10 a year dues. The money prizes usually are divided 40, 30, 20, and 10 per cent, although this is up to the association and last year there were five winners. The owner of each day winner is presented with a trophy.

The contest will be held at the rodeo grounds under auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in afternoon and night performances.

Miss Bill Kennedy of Breckenridge will exhibit her horse "Dandige" but not as a contestant. Fern Sawyer, Cross Roads, N. M. will contest with the men, however on "Chum."

Entries close at one o'clock in the afternoon on the date of the show. Entries should be addressed to Robert Corbett, care of Chamber of Commerce, Breckenridge.

Country Club Meeting Tuesday

A meeting of the members of the Ranger Country Club will be held Tuesday night at 7 o'clock at the clubhouse and all members are urged to attend.

A Dutch supper will precede the business session.

RUSSIANS SET UP ROAD BLOCK IN AUSTRIA

VIENNA, Apr. 12, (UP)—United States military and Austrian civilian traffic on the International Highway between Vienna and the American occupation zone of Austria was halted completely today by a hastily erected road barrier thrown up by the Russians, Austrian police reported.

Austrian officers at St. Pölten, the main town on the highway, said a road barrier had been set up in the center of the town, and traffic bound both ways was piled up for several hundred yards on both sides of the barrier. The Russians apparently stepped all vehicular traffic until they were able to complete the road block the police said.

St. Pölten is a key transport junction 35 miles west of Vienna on the highway running through the Soviet zone and connecting the America areas in Vienna and in Western Austria. The reported blocking of the arterial highway was the first major blow against American communications in Austria. It was the latest move in an apparent campaign to seal off Vienna from the west and make it untenable for the non-Soviet occupation forces.

Earlier today the Soviets set up a check point on the international road to the British operated Schwechat airport east of Vienna.

Urges Quick Action On UMT And New Draft

WASHINGTON, Apr. 12, (UP)—Secretary of Defense James Forrestal, asserting that Russia does not yet have the atom bomb, said today that the odds still favor peace.

But he urged Congress to move "at once and with firm and resolute purpose" toward the enactment of selective service and universal military training legislation.

Forrestal testified as the committee began hearings on a bill to draft some 560,000 youths aged 19 through 25. The committee last year approved UMT legislation but it has since been bottled up in the House rules committee.

While Forrestal was testifying Dr. Albert Einstein and 10 prominent educators and clergymen urged Congress to delay action on the draft until "the effects of the European recovery program have been seen."

Plane Shot Down
JERUSALEM, Apr. 12, (UP)—British ground forces shot down a Haganah transport plane today in the first incident of its kind in the Palestine campaign.

Convention To Be Homecoming For Two Texans

The 21st Annual Convention of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce to be held at El Paso, Texas, April 15-17 will serve as a homecoming for two prominent young Texans who have attained the highest possible honors in that unique organization of young men.

Some 1,500 delegates and wives from 130 chapters in all parts of the state are expected to be on hand to acclaim C. Taylor Cole, an oilman of Midland, Texas, and John Ben Shepperd an attorney of Gladewater, Texas, who will be recently returned from the World Congress of JayCees International at Rio De Janeiro marking the close of Cole's year as president of Junior Chamber International. Shepperd is president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce. His term will expire June 5.

Both figures have been in the headlines frequently the past year as their travels carried them to all parts of the globe on their JayCee missions.

Cole has visited in all of the twenty-eight foreign countries which have Junior Chamber groups. That number includes a predominance of Latin-American Countries as well as Canada, Alaska, Europe, Australia, the Hawaiian Islands and others.

Shepperd as president of United States Junior Chamber of Commerce has visited in forty-six of the forty-eight states in this country, has interviewed more than thirty Governors and accompanied Cole on his European visits.

Cisco School Girls Home After Jaunt Of State

Sandra Thames and Edith Gates, Cisco grammar school girls who disappeared from school ten days ago, are back at their Cisco homes, according to the Eastland County Sheriff's office.

Sandra Thames, located at Kerrville, and brought home by her parents Saturday.

Edith Gates was located in Ballinger.

Eastland county sheriff's officers, as well as other officers over the state, had been searching for the girls ever since their disappearance after being taken to school, was reported.

At Sheriff Williams' office it was stated this morning that they had been informed that the parents of the girls preferred to "press no charges" and that so far as they were concerned the matter would have to rest there.

Ranger Seniors Invited To Join In College Day

Senior students of Ranger High School are among those invited to be "collegians for a day" at Hardin-Simmons University Saturday, April 24, when the University plays host to several thousand students in annual Senior Day.

The seniors will be entertained with a program at 10:30 Saturday morning in the new Rose Field House. Following the morning program, the students will be guests at a barbecue with members of the H-SU Cowgirl Band playing luncheon music.

All buildings on the campus will hold open house from 12:30 to 3 o'clock. Visiting students may inspect the various dormitories, bookstore, gymnasiums and classroom buildings.

There will also be an opportunity for students to counsel with faculty members concerning their educational program.

The program will be concluded in the afternoon and evening when the seniors will be guest at the second annual Hardin-Simmons intercollegiate rodeo. There will be bareback and saddle bronc stamping, steer riding, calf roping, and wild cow milking for the wadies while the cow-lassies will vie for honors in goat tying and cow milking. All contestants will be college students.

Invitations have been sent to all senior classes in West Texas. "It is possible we have overlooked some individual or group. A formal invitation is not necessary. If you want to come, you are welcome," according to W. C. Ribble, chairman of the program.

The senior day program has been a traditional event at Hardin-Simmons. Thousands of students in the past 25 years have been guests of the school on this day.

County Singing Attended By More Than 2,000 People

An estimated 2,000 people attended the Eastland County Singing convention at its 59rd annual meeting here Saturday night and Sunday. The session was held in the High School auditorium where the crowd overflowed the hall and spread onto the grounds outside where seats had been arranged and where sound amplifiers carried the program to all.

Because of a lack of the proper system (in fact there was no system at all) in parking of cars a number of people were unable to park anywhere close to the school building and never left their cars but drove away.

E. P. Robinson, president of the convention, was re-elected. A committee composed of Stanley Webb of Cisco, Clyde Fisher of Eastland and Pearl Hunt of Ranger was named to handle the matter of the next meeting place for the convention.

Attending the convention were many singers from as far distance as Amarillo, San Antonio, and Austin. In fact many of the old-time singers took advantage of the occasion to have a homecoming and get-together.

W. J. Laney, 77, one of West Texas' greatest gospel singers, along with Bud Warren, Tom Cooner, W. H. Hatley and others, were especially recognized at each of the convention sessions.

Visiting singers and singer organizations gave much of the credit for their being present and for the success of the meeting to what they termed "A splendid job of publicity" by the Eastland Daily Telegram staff and other newspapers of the County and State.

Newspaper Adv. Linage Was Up 8 Per Cent In Feb.

Newspaper advertising linage moved up 8 per cent in February, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Reports of 35 Texas newspapers showed $1,447,894 lines of newspaper advertising in February, or 26 per cent above a year earlier.

Colombia Breaks Off Relations With Russia

WASHINGTON, Apr. 12, (UP)—The Colombian government radio announced today that Colombia has broken diplomatic relations with Russia, a dispatch to the state department said.

The diplomatic break followed announcement yesterday that two Russian agents were arrested in connection with the bloody insurrection in Bogota, capital of Colombia.

The government radio said that 15 foreign agents including two Russians, were caught "in the act" and some were taken alive.

The radio said three foreign agents were arrested while trying to foment disorders.

Meanwhile, in Bogota, leaders of the ninth Inter-American Conference called a meeting to decide when and where they will reconvene their parley, wrecked by the 19-hour reign of terror.

PENSIONS FOR AGED MINERS AGREED UPON

WASHINGTON, Apr. 12, (UP)—John L. Lewis today dramatically called off the four-week soft coal strike 23 minutes before he and his union were scheduled to face contempt charges in federal court.

He gave his 400,000 miners the signal to return to work in a six-word telegram which advised them that their disputed pensions had been granted in a compromise settlement.

"Pensions granted, agreement is now honored," Lewis wired the miners.

Despite the agreement, Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough today ordered Lewis to trial at 10 A. M. Wednesday on a contempt of court charge.

Settlement of the pension issue—which touched off the coal strike on March 15—was reached at an early morning conference of the three trustees of the United Mine Workers welfare fund.

It was reached by a 2 to 1 vote. Lewis and Sen. Styles Bridges, R. N. H. the new "impartial" third trustee, voted for the pension plan. Ezra Von Horn, representing the operators, voted against it.

The settlement provides a pension of $100 a month for miners aged 62 or older with 20 years of service and who retired after May 28, 1946.

A few minutes later, Goldsborough ordered the contempt trial after hearing arguments of UMW attorneys that Lewis had not disobeyed an April 3 court order to call off the strike.

Goldsborough ruled that the settlement of the coal strike this morning did not clear Lewis from the contempt charge.

The word from the coal fields was that the miners probably would go back to the pits with the night shift late today.

But some local union leaders said the miners would not go back while Lewis and the union faced contempt charges.

The White House declined comment, saying "the matter is for the courts."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Eisenhower's Golfing Remark Basis for Much Discussion

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Just about the only person who is not getting all excited about the renewed "Eisenhower for President" boom seems to be the general himself.
Since he retired as chief of staff of the Army, he's been taking life pretty easy. Most of his time has been spent leisurely dictating his book, based on his war memoirs. Words flow so easily from him, the first draft is almost finished. Before it goes to the publishers, however, the facts are going to be checked against official Army records. The general is a stickler for detailed accuracy.
In addition to writing, he's done a little portrait painting. His touch isn't bad, they say. He has avoided public appearances as much as possible and has courteously but firmly refused to give newspaper interviews or pose for pictures.
He's had a great deal of fun playing golf with his good friend, Maj. Gen. Floyd Parks, Army information chief. Both shoot in the high 80's. It was a conversation on the eighth hole of the Army-Navy Country Club course several weeks ago which led to the controversy over the recent claim that the general wouldn't accept a Democratic draft as presidential candidate under "any conceivable circumstances."
After he had holed out one over par Ike said, "By the way, Floyd, don't bother calling me every time you get a call about this presidential talk. You know how I feel and what I have always said. You know what to tell them."
That was before the Eisenhower boom had become so intense, however.

IN the meantime, Leonard V. FINDER, publisher of the Manchester (N. H.) Evening Leader, the man who got the now-famous "I Won't Run" letter from Ike, believed that he had gotten new information on the general's stand, in light of recent events.

FINDER prepared to issue a statement that the general could be drafted. General Parks, hearing of FINDER's intentions to release a statement, called FINDER and ordered him not to do so.

FINDER replied that he felt justified in issuing such a statement, as long as it expressed his own opinion and didn't quote the general in any manner.

That same afternoon, a reporter called Parks and asked him the same question about whether Eisenhower had changed his stand in light of recent events. It was to this query that Parks made the flat statement that Ike "under no conceivable circumstances" would accept a Democratic bid.

Parks now explains that his statement became slightly changed somewhere, so that the reader got the impression that those were Ike's own words.

CONFIDENT that his own information was correct—that Eisenhower would accept the Democratic draft under certain circumstances—FINDER challenged Parks' statement given to the reporter.

General Parks now frankly admits that he did not talk to Eisenhower before he gave out the statement about "no conceivable circumstances." He says he gave it out based upon his talk with Ike several weeks earlier on the golf course. And Parks still contends that Eisenhower hasn't changed his position one iota from the day he expressed it in the original letter to FINDER.

Parks is now sorry, however, that he let himself be quoted as the spokesman. He has been deluged by letters saying that Ike would not serve, if he were drafted by the people.

And, apparently, the people who count are putting more stock in FINDER's opinion than they are in Parks' statement, because the draft-Eisenhower boom is continuing unabated.

THE SCOREBOARD

Yankee Franchise Was Bought Originally for Only $18,000

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The Yankees will celebrate the 25th anniversary of their magnificent stadium by hoisting a world championship pennant to the top of the flagpole and playing the Red Sox April 23.

The Yanks opened the stadium by unfurling a pennant and meeting the Sox before 74,217 paid admissions April 18, 1923.

Despite the increased rivalry between the two clubs, the front office will settle for similar attendance this trip.

"We haven't progressed a bit," laughs general manager George M. Weiss. Charles A. Stoneham, John McGraw and Judge Francis X. McQuade did New York a tremendous favor when they kicked the paying colonels, Jacob Ruppert and Tillinghast L'Hommideux Huston, out of the Polo Grounds in the fall of 1921, gave them a year to find another lot for the Yankees.

The colonels were paying 10 per cent rental up to $100,000, and were perfectly satisfied, but the New York National League moguls were mad.

Colonels Ruppert and Huston, who never did get along, had brought in general manager Ed Barrow from the Red Sox in the autumn of 1920 to back up the mite manager, Miller Huggins. A young fellow named Babe Ruth and others had also come along from the Sox, and the Yankees were stealing the Giants' stuff.

SO Colonels Ruppert and Huston were forced to buy the 10-acre plot across the Harlem River from William Waldorf Astor for $650,000, and for $2,500,000 more build the monument that made the American League top kick in the big town.

Outside of football and the more important fights, much has happened at Yankee Stadium in a quarter of a century—from Huggins to Buckey Harris, Ruth to Joe DiMaggio.

The Yankees completed a run of three consecutive pennants as they moved into the matchless edifice in the Bronx and have capped 12 since. They have bagged 15 pennants and 13 world championships in 27 years.

The Highlanders, as they were known at the outset, were born in a spirit of conviviality, when two men sat with Byron Bancroft Johnson at the old Criterion Hotel in New York in January, 1903. They were contractor Frank Farrell and Police Commissioner Bill Devery.

Baltimore had dropped out of the new American League, and Bill Devery, Ban Johnson and the New Yorkers the franchise for exactly $18,000. Colonels Huston and Ruppert paid $350,000 for the Yankees in December, 1914, and the American League gave Farrell and Devery $100,000 more.

Bob E. Webb, Daniel R. Topping and Larry MacPhail bought the Yankees empire from the Ruppert heirs in the winter of 1945 for the conservative bargain basement price of $2,850,000. The Yankees and their subsidiaries are worth $6,900,000 today.

Eastland County Towns & Communities

CISCO CONTINUED

The late C. U. Connelley, in a paper read before The West Texas Historical Society stated that when he was on his way to Eastland County in 1874 that he met a man by the name of Dawson from that county at Dublin. In the same paper he stated that Green Riddle lived West of J. T. Townsend in 1874.

It is said that Walker Pen's located near where the Robinson Ranch house was at that time was an early camp meeting place for the Methodist denomination. Some of the preachers prominent at these early meetings were: John Lane, George E. Fair and probably S. H. Trimble. The meetings are said to have been held "Under the spreading limbs of a large pecan tree."

By the time the Texas and Pacific Railroad reached Cisco (Red Gap) in the latter part of 1880 this section of the county had become pretty well dotted with ranch and farm houses. The writer will not be able to recall the names of all of these, even with the help of some of the old timers, but among them are Rufus Weddington, James Caradine, Tip Sanders, V. Mitchell, D. W. Birt, George Huestis, W. B. Cobb, Cornelius G. Stephens, W. C. Caldwell, the latter being the first postmaster for the community, L. Lamb, Will Palmer, John Lane and John T. Sue.

Red Gap became a post office April 22, 1878 with Cornelius G. Stephens as postmaster and was followed by James T. Caldwell Jan. 11, 1881. On May 16 of that year the name was changed and the office moved to town. A complete list of those who have served as postmaster will be found at the end of the chapter devoted to Cisco.

In the latter part of 1879 and in 1880 anticipating the coming of the Texas and Pacific Central railroads, people came to the vicinity of Red Gap in great numbers. W. T. Caldwell established a store there, probably in 1879, where he found Rev. C. G. Stephens running the Post Office, and a Baptist Church had been organized. Others settled or camped in the neighborhood awaiting the time when the place of crossing of the two railroads would be determined. The first to build through was the Texas and Pacific, its first train reached the townsite to be November 15, 1880 but established its station at Delmer, about four miles to the west.

The waiting people were not satisfied with this apparent location and waited with more or less patience for the Texas Central to make the actual crossing. This occurred May 20, 1881 and soon thereafter the town site was laid out and a lot sale held which gave the future city a flying start. The town was named for John J. Cisco, an official of the Texas Central Railroad Company.

C. N. White is said to have purchased the first lot sold and to have selected lot 1, Block 29, but four other lots were conveyed to him in the same deed. Most all lines of business were represented by the purchasers. W. A. Stephens is said to have erected the first store building in the new town and to have engaged in general merchandising if this be true, he was followed closely by John P. Patterson, J. & E. H. Campbell, W. T. Caldwell moving his store from Red Gap; Hugh Corrigan, Mr. Chapman, Doss Rogers and others.

Mrs. Phoebe Haws coming from Stephenville where she had long conducted a hotel, erected a frame structure at the north end of Avenue D, on the west side and continued that business here. A Mr. Heddinger also contended for a part of the hotel business and W. D. Chandler ran a boarding house.

Drs. C. S. Vance, W. E. Mancill, H. McNeill, C. F. Morris looked after the health of the new town.

A lumber yard was established by J. B. Amerman who soon sold to Porter and Park who in turn sold to the M. T. Jones Lumber Company which was succeeded by Rockwell Brothers.

Not all of the houses were built of lumber or stone. In 1881 there was a "Picket" house at the intersection of Ave. E. and fifth Street but it tenure was short, probably on account of its reputation.

Texas General Fund At New All Time High

AUSTIN, Tex. Apr. 12—$50,301,231, is now the amount of surplus cash in the General Fund. After the first of September the balance in the fund went down slightly each month until March. The last raise in the price of Crude Oil reached the fund in the form of taxes and reversed the downward trend. Geo. W. Sheppard, State Comptroller, predicts that the balance in General Revenue will continue to rise.

Spending from all funds for fiscal operations has now dropped seven million per month behind receipts.

Motor Fuel Tax fell behind the same month a year ago for the first time in over a year. Sheppard does not think this is an indication of a reversal in our prosperity but is explained by the bad weather during February.

The school funds of the state are being added to in increasing amounts from Oil Royalties, Leases and Bonuses. In fact the prosperous condition of Texas fiscal affairs and the optimistic outlook are primarily a result of the prosperity of the oil and allied businesses.

Derrick, Tall As 20-Story Building, Will Guide 225,000 To International Oil Show

New Type Rig Can Drill to 3-Mile Depth; Powered by Three Supercharged Diesels

TULSA, Okla.—Towering 180 feet, one of the tallest derricks ever erected will serve as a landmark to the 225,000 delegates and visitors expected to attend the International Petroleum Exposition here May 15-22.

The derrick contains one of the show's chief attractions—National Supply Company's contribution to deep well drilling. This is a huge rig rated for drilling with 48-inch pipe to a depth of three miles or more into the earth in the industry's effort to meet the world's insatiable demand for more oil. The rig will be powered by three supercharged diesel engines having a combined output of 1800 horsepower at 900 revolutions per minute.

Record-breaking size, power and performance reportedly will characterize many of the company's exhibits. The traveling and crown blocks on the derrick, shown in the attached photo, are reported to be the largest ever built. The crown block, visible at the top of the derrick, has a rated capacity of 630 tons.

Over forty carloads of machinery and construction material are going into this one exhibit, which will feature the contributions to the industry by National Supply's six factories in this country. Construction of the exhibit started last December.

Size of the exhibit is suggested by the fact that the permanent building shown in the foreground is two stories high and can accommodate at one time several scores of people viewing the interior displays.

The exposition grounds cover more than 15 acres. The oil show is reported to be the largest single industry exposition held anywhere. Because of war and the unsettled conditions that followed, this is the first year since 1940 that the exposition has been scheduled.

Only 2 Votes But Wins

STOUGHTON, Mass. (UP)—Though he received only two votes as a write-in candidate, compared with 1,763 ballots cast for his opponent, George Hill has become a member of the town finance committee. Hill was ruled the winner because his opponent, William Hill, was disqualified for not being a registered voter of Stoughton.

YOU WOMEN WHO SUFFER HOT FLASHES then FEEL CHILLY-

Here's Good News!

Are you between the ages of 38 and 52 and going through that trying functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel clammy, so nervous, irritable, weak? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms! It's famous for this!

Many wise "middle-age" women take Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against this distress.

Pinkham's Compound contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs. It helps nature (you know what we mean!). This great medicine also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect.

Building Wizard Would Save Cities By Moving Rich Back From Suburbs

By Robert Musel
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—William Zeckendorf awoke during the night with one of the fabulous dreams he makes come true with astounding regularity and grabbed for the telephone.
Nelson Rockefeller's sleepy voice answered.
"Tell me," snapped Zeckendorf, "have you got too much money or are you interested in making more?"
"I've got some money," Rockefeller admitted cautiously, "but I believe in free enterprise—so I'm always interested in making more."

"Good," said the real estate wizard who had assembled the land for the United Nations site, "then listen to this."
His crisp, enthusiastic voice crackled on and before the financier went back to sleep, Rockefeller had agreed to place a whole research unit of the Rockefeller organization on an idea which Zeckendorf believes will revolutionize one phase of industry.
Behind his desk as president of Webb & Knapp, Zeckendorf is working on plans for saving the nation's big cities from the bankruptcy he believes many face inevitably unless they find new sources of revenue.

"You have this sort of thing happening all over," he said. "A city grows up on a cow pasture layout and then the rich folks begin moving to the suburbs. In other words, you begin to lose your most taxable citizens and the burden of municipal services falls on the poor. Unless many cities extend their boundaries to increase income from tax sources, they may be forced to encourage emigration and depend on the centralization of commerce and industry within the city borders."
One of Zeckendorf's solutions is what he calls thinking in "vertical terms." For a New York city he projected a city within a city to be called "X-City." That was well under way on the drawing boards when he was persuaded to give up the site for the United Nations.

At a cost of $50,000,000, Zeckendorf was going to build four 40-story office buildings, three 30-story apartment buildings, a 6,000-room hotel, a garage for 5,000 automobiles, a helicopter air port, an opera house, a concert hall and several other buildings, including a night club. At peak occupancy, X-City would have had working or living accommodations for 100,000 people.

"Whatever the solution," he said, "big cities must plan right now for the needs of the years ahead."
Zeckendorf, a movie-style getter whose loud neckties beat down on a gathering paunch, is a self-made man whose partners are the socially elite John H. P. Gould and Henry Sears.
He started by collecting rents for an uncle and a few years later was consuming million dollar deals by telephone. He became famous among realtors for reorganizing the tremendous Astor holdings in New York adding $5,000,000 to their value.
At 42 he is a millionaire with a penthouse garden that provides him with his only exercise outside of hunting trips in Maine. He is one of the highest gardeners in Manhattan.
Zeckendorf, whose family originated in Tucson, Ariz., is committed to city life and spends most of his time dreaming up such items as business centers in Houston, Denver, and Atlanta. Once he bought almost the entire waterfront of Hoboken, N. J.

Pension Check Fifty-Seven Years Old Found

AUSTIN, Tex. (UP)—A grizzled veteran of Texas' war for independence wrote his senator in Austin 57 years ago wanting to know what happened to his quarterly pension check.
The whereabouts of the check was discovered recently in Austin—tucked away in a rolltop desk.
The state treasury warrant was dated Nov. 18, 1891, and was made out to Lewis C. Clemons of Washington County. It represented a quarterly payment of $37.50 on Clemons' $250 annual pension.
Guy W. Bell removed the roll top from incumbent Senator Geo. Moffett's desk while refinishing senate furniture. The warrant and a roll of correspondence had been jammed beyond reach in the old desk.
The correspondence was a letter from Clemons to his senator stating that he had not received his pension check for July, August and September, 1891.
Records reveal that Clemons was born in Kentucky in 1816 and enlisted in Capt. Philip Coe's Ranger Company in 1835. He fought in the battle of San Jacinto and the distance of airports from big cities is another of his pet concerns. Recently he mildly suggested to Mayor William O'Dwyer that New York might be well advised to build an airplane landing field 12 floors high covering 144 blocks of Manhattan. Cost $3,000,000,000.

The first ferris wheel, built in 1891, was so large that it needed 175 freight cars to carry it, says the World Book Encyclopedia. That caused so much expense that after an exhibition in St. Louis in 1904 it was broken up and sold for scrap.

Jingle-Jangle Of Diesels Brings Old Bells Back

HOUGHTON, Mich. (UP) — When the Cooper Range railroad in Michigan's upper peninsula copper country replaced its steam locomotives with modern diesels, folks along the right-of-way complained.

Not about the diesels but about the bells they carried under their running-boards. The bells jangled continuously and had none of the fine old rallooding tone of the steam locomotive bells.

The railroad's president, Homer Johnson, made everybody happy by salvaging the old bells and substituting them on the diesels.

In the 3rd century, B.C., Hannibal of Carthage marched elephants over the Alps in his war against Rome.

Midwest-States To Commemorate Arrival of Swedes In This Country

By Sam Hancock
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO (UP)—Twelve midwestern states are preparing celebrations commemorating the tide of Swedish immigration 100 years or more ago.

The event will be marked by official visits of Swedish royalty and American officialdom, church services, exhibitions, music and song. Americans of Swedish descent and others thus will observe the centennial at various times and places in the Mississippi valley. The farm lands to its immediate east and west and at other points well removed from the midwest will join in.

Although there were Swedes in Delaware in the early days of American colonization, the full tide of Swedish immigration came to the middle west between 1840 and 1850.

The war years halted plans for a Swedish centennial during the early '40s, but this summer the preparations then held back will materialize.

Chicago's plans for the royal party include a banquet at the Palmer House the night of June 5 for official visitors.

From Chicago, Prince Bertil and his party will go to Rockford, Ill. for a two-day celebration, including a folk festival in the Rockford stadium June 8.

Willard Swaney was a medical patient in the West Texas Hospital and was dismissed today.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hughes of Eastland are parents of a baby girl born today in the West Texas Hospital.

Mrs. M. O. Cleveland of Eastland is a patient in the West Texas Hospital.

tentative itinerary, Bertil will go to Detroit on June 13 and 14. The party will go then to Omaha, Neb. for a June 19 banquet and outdoor festival on June 20.

After Omaha the prince and his group will go to Rock Island and Moline, Ill. and Davenport, Ia. Augustana College, which has furnished much of the impetus for the centennial celebration, it at Moline.

In Des Moines, capital of Iowa, the Swedish delegation will be taken on a June 23 tour of the city followed by a parade and banquet. June 25 will see them in the

...It's a Habit That Pays!

"My conscience wouldn't let me throw out even a drop of used fats when I know they're still needed so badly. Why, today's shortage of fats and oils is still very serious, our government says.

"I really get a kick out of seeing how much extra fat I can save... by melting down trimmings, skimming gravies, and scraping pans. I re-use it, certainly. But there's always something left to make saving worth while!

"Have you ever stopped to think that used fats are the only kitchen waste that can be turned into cash? That's a good point to remember in these days of higher food costs."

Only the KAISER and FRAZER have it!
TRUE ECONOMY-
with Your Kind of Driving

THOUSANDS OF OWNERS TELL US

No matter what speeds they drive or roads they travel...
Gasoline Bills are Lower in a KAISER or a FRAZER

How many more miles per gallon will you get from your 1948 Kaiser or Frazer? There is only one honest answer. Mileage varies with the speed you drive over the roads you travel. It may be anything up to 26 or more miles per gallon. Thousands of K-F owners verify this. Yet in each case they report many more miles per gallon from their Kaiser or Frazer than from car they drove before.

Top Economy for '48!—others claim it—Kaiser-Frazer delivers it! Among 1948 full-sized American motor cars, only the Kaiser and the Frazer have highest compression engines as standard equipment. That alone means less waste and more wallop in every drop of gasoline you buy. You get new power and a combination of top performance with top economy that is brand new to motoring.

Four 1948 models now on display—at no increase in price! See them! You'll insist we let you drive one!
