Commission Asks Aid In Jerusalem

Well... I Dunno, But...

In case you didn't know it there's a good natured feud that goes on between the Lions and Rotarians and we guess we were adding fuel to the fire Thursday. We wrote a story about what L. R. Pearson said to the Rotarians Wednesday and headed the story with the Lions Club instead of the Rotary Club.

Might be a good idea for us to throw our hat in first at the two luncheons next week.

But that's not all that happened in the paper Thursday. The society editor turned a deep purple when she discovered a line from this column mixed up with one of her personals. Though, in a way it made sense, it wasn't intended that way at all.

Oh me, there's nothing like the things that can happen in a newspaper.

Jesse James or not, the man in Oklahoma who claims to be, has stirred up the talk. Every where this morning people were talking about the case.

Personally, we'd say the story is the figment of somebody's imagination and possibly not the old man's.

But it all brings to mind the era of desperadoes. And the James boys and the Daltons were not the worst by any means. We recall the days of Bonnie Parker and the Barrows when we were honestly afraid to start out on the highways.

The gangsters of that era were as desperate as they ever get to be and were a threat to a lot more people than the James boys ever were.

Which reminds us. The daughter is still dubbed "Bonnie" by a friend because last summer when she and another young lady started on a trip by themselves, they were given a gun to take along.

Of course, it made no difference that neither could have shot anything if they'd had to, but the mamas and papas felt a little more comfortable about it all, with the gun along.

So, Pappy is backing out of the picture! Had a man offer to bet this morning, that he didn't. Don't know about that, but we'd lay a little bet that he's gotta trick up his sleeve.

O'Daniel Leaves Loop For Draft Into Senate Race

FORT WORTH, May 21 (UP)—Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, D. Tex., announced last night that he will retire from public office—if only temporarily—when his term ends in January.

But he left the door open to a draft movement to put him in the race.

He told a state-wide radio audience that his intention not to run for re-election does not mean that he is completely eliminating himself from politics forever, "nor from seeking public office at some future time."

He said he would not attempt to dictate who should be his successor, but he told Texas voters that if they do not like any of the candidates now running they have time before the June 7 filing deadline to go out and find one who does suit you and put his name on the ticket.

Says Lewis Is Looking For Alibi To Strike

WASHINGTON, May 21 (UP)—A coal industry spokesman charged today that John L. Lewis "wrecked" conferences for a new coal wage contract to build up an "alibi for another strike."

John D. Battle, secretary of the National Coal Association, assailed Lewis for walking out of the conference room two days ago solely because industry representatives insisted on a seat for the Southern Coal Producers Association.

Lewis, he said, is working the "old familiar pattern" of hiding behind "any excuse to put fear into those who must use coal to keep the wheels of commerce turning."

Ingenuity Finds Lost Mail Sack

Among the letters was a $100 government check for their ex-soldier brother, Orville.

The youngsters were worried sick when a search failed to find the missing sack.

Meat Packers May Return To Work Monday

CHICAGO, May 21 (UP)—The long and turbulent meat packing strike may end Monday at plants of at least three of the big four packing companies, an informed source said today.

International officers of the CIO United Packinghouse Workers recommended earlier this week to a-bout 70,000 striking members a-cout the nation to accept the 9-cent hourly raise offered by Swift Armour and Cudahy, Wilson was not included.

The packers had offered the raise before the strike began March 16. The union originally demanded a 29-cent hourly increase.

Workers at most of the struck plants across the nation voted last night on whether to accept the settlement terms. Returns from 100 plants in 44 cities were being received today at the union's international headquarters here.

First the reduction in the percentage of tax withheld from the lower bracket income by 3 per cent; the increase from $50 to $600 the allowed exemption and the reduction in the maximum charge on the higher income brackets.

He pointed out the community property specification that the law carries making it possible for husbands and wives to divide the income for tax rendition purposes.

No Union Shop Elections To Be Held In Texas

WASHINGTON, May 21 (UP)—The National Labor Relations Board ruled today that it will not hold union shop elections in the 18 states where union shops are prohibited by state law. Texas is among them.

The 3 to 2 ruling was first on this issue under the Taft-Hartley law. It was made in a case involving the giant food shopping stores in the District of Columbia and Virginia. Virginia has an anti-closed shop law that also prohibits the union shop.

The three man majority of the board held that the Taft-Hartley law removes all federal restrictions upon existing and future state legislation prohibiting compulsory unionism, even where such legislation may affect employees engaged in interstate commerce.

They said that it was "the intent of Congress to leave to the exclusive jurisdiction of the states the prohibition of union shop agreements to the extent that prohibition in this respect now exists or may hereafter exist in such states."

WANTS UN TO SEND ARMED FORCE TO HALT HOLY CITY WAR

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. May 21 (UP)—The United Nations truce commission in Jerusalem appealed today to the Security Council today to dispatch a strong, neutral armed force to impose a ceasefire on Arabs and Jews in the Holy City.

The commission, despairing of achieving a Jerusalem truce without force, warned that the only alternative was a fight to the finish.

The urgent cablegram asked the council to invoke the strongest clause of the UN charter—the provisions for quelling aggression by armed intervention.

The truce commissions cable signed by Chairman Jean Nieuwenhuyus of Belgium, was relayed to UN headquarters by way of Paris. It reached the Security Council at the height of a serious split over the UN's role in the Palestine warfare and UN diplomats were doubtful that the commissions appeal would be heeded.

TEL AVIV, May 21 (UP)—Israel threw its infant air force into the desperate battle for Jerusalem today.

Haganah army sources here said that an unspecified number of Jewish planes went to the aid of Jewish army men who are taking a pounding from superior Arab legion forces in the Holy City.

"All our planes returned to their base," the Haganah report said.

Reports of the ground fighting in Jerusalem were fragmentary, but they left no doubt that the Jewish defenders were in a desperate position.

The 100,000 Jews in the Holy City have been without food convoys for a full month, as Arabs blocked the life-line highway from Tel Aviv. Water and electric power reserves were reported falling.

Police Captain Shot By Red Headed Barmaid

NEWARK, N. J. May 21 (UP)—A police captain was shot to death with his own service revolver today during a pre-dawn rendezvous with a red-headed barmaid in his police station.

Police seized Mrs. Ann Powers, 39, as she ran from the office of Capt. Thomas J. Rowe, 56, a 33-year veteran of the Newark police force, after the shooting.

Six hours later, police quoted her as saying—"I don't know why I did it." Rowe was shot a few minutes after he and Mrs. Powers had entered the precinct police office together at 4 A. M. EDT. Police Chief John Haller said the two apparently had met after Mrs. Powers had finished work in a Newark bar.

Rail Strike Threat Is Story Of Inter-Brotherhood Warfare

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Rail strike or no rail strike, behind the threatened tie-up of American transportation was a little-known drama of inter-union warfare and jealous rivalry among the so-called "brotherhoods" of railroad men.

Leading characters in this drama were the heads of the five operating brotherhoods of men that run the trains: Alexander F. Whitney, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; H. W. Fraser, Order of Railway Conductors; D. B. Robertson, Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers; Alvanley Johnston, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; Arthur J. Glover, Switchmen's Union.

For a long time, the Firemen have wanted to absorb the Engineers and the Trainmen have wanted to absorb the Switchmen. They have had many jurisdictional fights and membership raids.

In 1946, the brotherhoods got their first-round postwar wage increase. A fact-finding board had recommended an increase of 16 cents an hour. This was acceptable to the 16 non-operating ("non-ops") brotherhoods—the clerks, telegraphers, machinists and so on. Three of the "ops" were also agreeable. They were the Conductors, the Firemen and the Switchmen. But two others held out.

They were Whitney's Trainmen and Johnston's Engineers. They caused the two-day strike of 1946. They went over the heads of the fact-finding board and appealed to the White House. The other 18 unions didn't want a strike. Their leaders blasted Messrs. Whitney and Johnston loud and long.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN talked tough. He seized the railroads and asked Congress to draft the strikers. But instead of backing up the fact-finding board, Truman gave in to the two strike leaders and offered them 18 1/2 cents an hour increase instead of 16. They accepted it while Truman was speaking to Congress.

Now the 2 1/2 cents difference is important. It helped establish the belief that, if strike leaders go to the White House, they can get more. This extra 2 1/2 cents that Truman gave them in 1946 made Whitney and Johnston heroes among the brotherhoods.

In 1947, the 16 non-ops asked for their second round raise. Last July they agreed to arbitrate. In September they were awarded 13 1/2 cents an hour wage increase. They took it.

The five ops at first didn't ask for a raise. Instead they asked for changes in some 40 rules. Heads of the ops pointed out their members they had more to gain from rule changes. When the non-ops got their 15 1/2 cents, however, the ops heads were forced by their brotherhoods to ask for a second round raise. So, on Oct. 1, they demanded 30 per cent more, with a $3 a day minimum raise.

In November, Whitney for the Trainmen and Fraser for the Conductors, accepted this offer. The three others—Robertson for the Firemen, Johnston for the Engineers and Glover for the Switchmen—decided to threaten a strike. In this they were exactly following the Whitney-Johnston pattern of 1946.

President Truman appointed a board to investigate, last January. The board reported in March. It said, in effect, that it could not upset established wage differentials in the railroad industry by giving one craft more than another. Particular mention was made of the rivalry of engineers, and trainmen of switchmen. It awarded the same 13 1/2 cents, retroactive to last Nov. 1.

The three holdouts refused to accept this finding. One of the reasons they gave was that this was now 1948 and that they should have something more, in the nature of a third-round increase. The board said no to that, on the ground that this was only a remnant of the second round that it was deciding upon. So the three holdouts issued their call for a strike on May 11.

One More Good Pitcher Is All Indians Need—Boudreau

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—"If we just had one more dependable pitcher to go with Feller and Lemon," Manager Lou Boudreau believes the Cleveland club would run one-two with the additional handcuff king.

Gene Bearden, a huge left-hander who bagged 16 while losing seven with an earned-run average of 2.86 for the Oakland Coasters last trip, may be the man.

"Bearden had good stuff against the Giants on the spring training trip, and when a pitcher can check Mize and Company he can stop any outfit," said Boudreau, hopefully.

Bob Muncieff may be considerable help when the warm weather sets in. Don Black and Allen Getfeld have been disappointing. Steve Gromek is one of those promoters, but the tall sidestarter hasn't lent much of a hand since the war year of 1945. Russ Christopher and Ed Klieban are the relief workers, and the former has saved a half dozen games already. Bill Kennedy, a large southpaw drafted from Scranton, and Lyman Linde, with Oklahoma City in 1947, have caught the boss' eye.

A deal may be arranged between now and midnight of May 19, when the clubs have to whittle down to 25.
Boudreau is optimistic for the first time since he assumed command in 1942 because this is the first season his club has had balance—outside the box.

A LOT of learned baseball men contend the Indians have the best all-round infield in baseball built around the incomparable double play combination of Boudreau and Joe Gordon. Kenny Keltner started off pacing the home run derby. Eddie Robinson played best base despite a sprained ankle, and is backed up by vice-president Hank Greenberg. Johnny Berardino is ready to step in at shortstop, second or third.

The Tribe's outfielding was on the weak side last season, with Edwards, Peck, Mitchell, Seery and Metkovich.

Now Thurman Tucker is covering center like the dew and Mitchell and Al Clark alternate in left, with Larry Doby and Seery doing the same thing in right, depending on the pitching.

Tucker, Mitchell and Doby are keeping such an accomplished left-hand hitter and flycatcher as Walt Judnich in the dugout.
Doby, the Negro four-sport star of East Paterson, N. J., High, only has to shake over-anxiousness. He smacked towering home runs in Washington and Boston—three in four games.

Back of the plate, the sizable target that is Jim Hegan is ably supported by Joe Tipton, who hit 373 for Wilkes-Barre, and Ray Murray, up from Oklahoma City and bigger than Hegan. Working the second game of the double-header in Boston, young Tipton belted a homer that put the Injuns four runs on top.

Libraries To Foster Study Of Russian Topics

CHICAGO (UP)—Russian relations will be the first of five controversial topics to be undertaken in the American Library Association's "great issues" program.

The topic was chosen as the first of the issues to be tackled by libraries "because it is one of the most controversial," said Carl H. Milam, executive secretary of the association. "We feel that we can make a real contribution to the understanding of this crucial issue by disseminating dependable information on all sides," he said.

The New York Public Library will make up a reading list of about 40 titles of the best printed materials dealing with both sides of the issue. They will be distributed to all libraries.

Selected from a poll of outstanding leaders in business, labor, agriculture, science and other activities, the other four topics in the "great issues" program are: inflation and deflation, management-labor relations, civil rights and "how much world

Atlanta's Lights Have Seen Many Strange Sights

ATLANTA, Ga. (UP)—Atlanta's policemen see strange sights while on duty.

They were nonetheless taken aback when they were called upon to arrest a blacksnake, a one-eyed bulldog, a man and a woman.

Two patrolmen were called to a restaurant by patrons who had been frightened by the snake. The owners said the snake was a souvenir of a trip to Okefenokee swamp.

The bulldog they listed as a pet. The automobile driven by the couple, plus the snake and the one-eyed bulldog, were impounded in the county garage. Their owners went to jail on a charge of drunkenness.

The giraffe probably has a longer neck than any other living animal, but it has only seven neck vertebrae, the same as most animals.

Car Device Would Halt Hit And Run Driving

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP)—John F. Oberlander believes he has something to turn hit-and-run drivers into "hit-and-sit" drivers.

It's an "automatic cop" which, Oberlander says, will halt a car automatically after the first bounce in an accident.

The "cop" consists of a pane of glass with a strip of lead foil running through it. It is attached to the front bumper of a car, wired and connected to the engine.

Then, Oberlander says, when the "cop-fitted" car runs into another car or pedestrian, the glass will crack, the lead foil break and the engine will be short-circuited.
