Arab States Accept Four-Week Truce

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

The false alarm storm clouds Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning deposited a measly .07 of an inch of rain but it did cool off the night.
However, the day got a nice warm start with the thermometer sitting on 80 degrees at 8 o'clock.
Yep, it looks like a hot, dry summer ahead.

Johnnie Ky Jones, small son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jones, on observing the daughter coming and going at our apartment, after returning from school, inquired, "Who's that other girl at your house?" We explained who she was.

A day or two later, we met Johnnie Ky in the hall. He stopped us and said, "Is your brother up at your house?" A little puzzled, it took a second for it to dawn on us that he meant daughter. "You mean our daughter," we said. "Yeah, that's it," and with that he took off in a run to see for himself.

Then there are Jimmie and Tommie Full, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Full, who always call us "Mr. Ducker" instead of Mrs. And they rarely miss a day calling out "Hi, Mr. Ducker," as we cross to and fro from the hotel to the office.

Sara Beth King, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. King, apparently a reader of the Ranger News, recently happened to pick up two or three papers in which this column did not appear. She turned to her mother and said, "Mrs. Ducker has quit writing her column and she oughtn't to do that."

Thanks Sara Beth for the inferred compliment!

Reports have been coming in about the widespread publicity that was given the Ranger Country Club's annual invitation golf tournament. Released to the papers of the country through the channels of United Press and Associated Press, it evidently awakened interest of the sports editors from the number of papers over the state that picked up the stories off the wires.

And they're still talking about that tournament. There's just never been another one like it.

We got another good luck penny last night. Now if they'll just keep coming, that is enough of 'em, we'll sure believe in them bringing good luck. But we been carrying two good luck pennies plus a rabbit's foot for sometime now and nothing spectacular has happened. In fact, we're still following the same old grind!

State Continues 4-H Girls Club Record Program

Now in its 26th year, the National 4-H Girls' Record awards program is being continued in Texas.

The purpose of the program is to encourage 4-H girls to become proficient in housekeeping skills and managerial abilities that make for a comfortable, satisfying home.

Awards for superior records on county, state and national levels are the same as provided by Montgomery Ward last year, viz: gold-filled medals of honor, Chicago 4-H Club Congress trips, and $200.00 college scholarships, respectively.

More than $15,000.00 in college scholarships has been awarded to the national winners since the program's inception.

Last year's state winner in Texas was Helen Grace Kolaja, Damon.

There were 37 county medal winners in 1947.

County extension agents will furnish full information regarding this program.

House Prepared To Finish All Necessary Work

WASHINGTON, June 9, (UP)—Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck said today the House should be able to finish up next week "all the measures we ought to do and can afford to do."

He told the House that present plans of House Republican leaders are to try to clean up all pending legislation next week "in the hope that we can conclude action on these matters by June 19—two days before opening of the Republican National Convention.

Halleck's statement seemed somewhat at odds with the statement yesterday by Chairman Robert A. Taft, R., O., of the Senate policy committee that there are "serious doubts" whether Congress can wind up next week.

Taft indicated a summer session would be necessary on unfinished business. Democrats leaped on Taft's statement. They charged Republican leaders are considering a summer session of Congress because they are "scared" to take their present record before the voters in November.

Vandenberg Hits House For Cuts In ECA Funds

WASHINGTON, June 9, (UP)—Senate President Arthur H. Vandenberg charged today that the House used a "meat-axe technique" in cutting the "guts" from the European Recovery Program.

In a stinging rebuke to the House-approved foreign spending slashes, Vandenberg charged the House with attempts to "veto" the Marshall plan. He appealed to the Senate for restoration of $2,160,000,000 in House spending cuts.

The Republican foreign policy leader made an unprecedented appearance before the Senate appropriations committee to charge that the House action would "repeal, by indirection," the Marshall plan which he said now had become a basis for American foreign policy.

The Michigan Republican declared that such action would be "a cynical reversal" of a major policy decision. He said it would throw the world into "terrified confusion" at the shift in American foreign policy.

So. Democrats Proposal Voted Down By Senate

WASHINGTON, June 9, (UP)—The Senate today voted down a hotly argued proposal by Southern Democrats to require the armed forces to segregate by races men, who request it.

The action came on an amendment by Sens. Richard B. Russell, D., Ga., and Burney R. Maybank, D., C. C., to the pending 19 through 23 draft bill. Senate leaders hoped for a final vote on the bill tonight.

The segregation amendment was defeated by voice after a final hour and a half of arguments in which Russell and other southerners urged the "voluntary segregation" to "maintain efficiency" of the fighting forces.

They blasted at length the President's civil rights recommendations and said Mr. Truman's proposal to wipe out race barriers for men in uniform would violate "individual rights."

Although mechanization of farms has decreased the number of horses and mules on farms from the 1920 high of 25,000,000 to 14,000,000 today, more than 12,000 tons of steel is used annually to produce horseshoes.

The agreement recommended creation of a constituent assembly which would draft a constitution for a new German state. It also would set up machinery for seven-power administration of the Ruhr industrial area, with Germany having a voice in this.
"The United States believes the recommendations represent a major step toward a comprehensive solution of Germany's problems," Marshall said at a press conference.

Eastland Rites For Lee Boyett Were This P. M.

Funeral services were held at Hamner's Funeral Home in Eastland at 3:00 o'clock this (Wednesday) afternoon for Lee Alfred Boyett, who died about 1:30 Tuesday afternoon at his home on Eastland - Breckenridge highway in the northern part of Eastland.

Interment, with Hamner's in charge, was to be in the Flatwoods cemetery.

The deceased, who had been in ill health for sometime, was reported dead at the family home by his ten year old son, who appeared at the Texas & Pacific railroad station, not far from the Boyett home, about 1:30 p.m. and used a telephone there to notify the Eastland county sheriff's office.

Sheriff J. B. Williams and Justice of the Peace E. E. Wood went to the Boyett home where they found Boyett dead, having been shot through the head with a 22 calibre short rifle. The bullet, according to the officers, entered at the right temple ranged slightly upward, causing perhaps instant death.

Justice of the Peace Wood, after holding an inquest, rendered a verdict of suicide.

Surviving the deceased is his wife, who was away from home at work, at the time of the tragedy, and two sons by a former marriage. It was one of the boys that was at home with his father at the time of shooting.

It was brought out at the inquest that Boyett had talked of ending his life because he was tired enduring the ceaseless suffering.

Truman Calls Congress Worst In History

Aboard Presidential Special. President Truman today denounced the present Congress as "worst in this country's history."

Another state Democratic leader heaped criticism upon President Truman's western tour today, adding to the party rumbblings the chief executive left behind him in Montana and Nebraska.

Lew Wallace, Democratic nominee for governor of Oregon and a national Democratic committeeman, said he was "sick and tired" of the way Mr. Truman's assistants were handling arrangements for his visit to Oregon.

The President's special train was due in Portland tomorrow when Mr. Truman will tour the flooded area and confer with flood relief officials.

Hurley said he was piped aboard the battleship early in 1919 on an "important mission." It was to ask Adm. Henry B. Wilson, then commander of the Atlantic fleet, for his daughter's hand in marriage.

The answer was "yes" and today the admiral's daughter is Mrs. Hurley.

RELIABLE SOURCES SAY ISRAEL ALSO AGREEABLE

CAIRO, June 9. (UP)—The Arab states today accepted Count Folke Bernadotte's proposal for a four-week truce in Palestine, an Arab League spokesman announced, and reliable quarters believed Israel also agreed to it.

At Lake Success, a high United Nations official announced that the government of Israel had given unconditional acceptance to the truce proposal. The acceptance was said to have been sent to Bernadotte.

Bernadotte scheduled a press conference for this afternoon to make public the Jewish and Arab answers to his proposal.

All signs were that as United Nations mediator he had been successful in his delicate negotiations to bring at least temporary peace to Palestine at midnight Thursday CST.

The spokesman for the political committee of the Arab League told newsmen that the Arabs had accepted Bernadotte's plan, based on his interpretation of the UN Security Council's resolution calling for a month's truce.

"Asked if foreign pressure had been put on the Arab states, the League spokesman said "no, but we do not want to be put in the position of aggressors."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

'Voice of Washington' Needs Overhaul Rather Than Probe

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—It's a good thing there isn't a "Voice of Congress" program, or a "Voice of the White House." If there were, and if they were broadcast to the world, there's no telling what the faginners might think of America. For seldom have things around Washington been more hysterical.

The entire White House record on handling the Palestine issue seems to have been governed by emotion rather than reason.

State Department handling of a diplomatic exchange with Moscow backfired, throwing the administration for a bad propaganda loss.

Admirals, generals and fly boys are still feuding, despite armed services unification and orders to get together.

In Congress the record of jitters is unbelievable.

Trying to tack civil rights or race-segregation riders onto military appropriation bills.

Authorizing a bigger air force than the Secretary of Defense says is necessary, but blocking the draft and UMT.

Quibbling over appropriations for European recovery through peaceful means, for reasons of economy.

Approving $206,000,000 worth of pork barrel flood control, but denying $4,000,000 for TVA expansion.

Hamstringing the reciprocal trade agreements program which is now a basis of American foreign policy.

Whooping through so-called anti-Communist legislation of unclear meaning and doubtful constitutionality.

Hounding government officials because their relatives or in-laws are reported to be fellow travelers.

Summoning Gen. Douglas MacArthur from Tokyo just to testify before a Senate Appropriations Committee, like some two-bit bureaucrat. What kind of a hero's reward is that?

HOW can you explain all this excitement over a few corny Voice of America broadcasts to Latin America? All the stuff on those broadcasts was drivel, and maybe the government owes the Latinos an apology for its insult to their intelligence.

There is worse stuff on the domestic radio all day long. If Congress wants to launch a triple investigation about something, why doesn't it go after the soap operas, the commercials and the crime serials that keep the kids from going to sleep at night?

A couple of National Broadcasting Company script writers are probably going to be made the goats of these silly Spanish programs.

It is the fact that real responsibility rests with Congress—which by law directed that the handling of Voice of America broadcasts be taken out of the hands of the State Department and given to private enterprise—will be conveniently overlooked.

YOU can't blame all this on the heat, for the Washington spring has been fairly reasonable, though rainy. It must be campaign fever.

If that's what it is, the cure would seem to be a complete overhauling of the American electoral machinery.

What we have now was designed for a wheelbarrow and pony express civilization. But it no longer takes three weeks to get a letter or an idea from Washington to the west coast. It therefore doesn't make sense to spend nine months out of every fourth year going through the ordeal of political campaigning, primaries, conventions and final elections, particularly if it drives everybody nuts.

The election is still five months away. Fortunately there are still a few sane heads around like Senator Vandenberg, who can move in to stop some of these rash actions and keep the whole place from going up in smoke by spontaneous combustion.

But for gosh almighty's sake, isn't it about time that everybody calmed down and regained his senses—including his sense of proportion and, most important of all, his sense of humor?

THE SCOREBOARD

Musial Terrorizes Pitchers; Hits .400 for Flying Start

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—National League pitchers can't put out Stanley Frank Musial with a fire hose.

The Cardinal luminary currently is the hottest hitter in baseball.

Stan Musial wrecked the Dodgers with 11 hits in 15 trips for an average of .733, as the Red Birds swept the three-game set at Ebbets Field.

The Donora Dandy then cooled off on the eastern swing until he had only 24 hits in 42 times at bat, which left him with an average of .567 for the stretch and .409 for the young season.

In training a year ago, Musial's ambition was to be the first major leaguer in history to be on championship clubs his first five years.

Joe DiMaggio of the Yankees is the only other athlete who was in World Series his first four.

Musial's appendix and tonsils kicked up to upset his plans a year ago, but now that he is well and 15 pounds heavier than he was last fall, "THAT MAN," as opposing players call him, has other ambitions.

With his flying start, unusual for him, Musial would be the senior circuit's first .400 hitter since Bill Terry of the Giants performed the feat in 1930.

"Usually I don't get hitting well until it gets hot," smiles Musial.

"In other years I had taken me a while to catch up with the pitchers."

THAT MAN didn't crack 200 until June 1 last year, but that was due to his physical condition.

THERE isn't the slightest doubt in his mind but that he is headed for his third National League batting championship, and it will take a lot of pounding on the part of the American League's Williams, Boudreau and Joe DiMaggio to prevent his making it as many major league titles.

Musial, only 27 now, is one of the most individualistic hitters and versatile ballplayers, equally at home in any of the outfield, at first base and in the pitcher's box.

Perfectly relaxed, Musial is a left-hand hitting Rogers Hornsby standing as far back in the box and away from the plate as possible.

He faces the pitcher crouched and looking over his right shoulder like a thief expecting a cop on his trail. He cocks his right leg with the pitch—and bang! His follow through is such that he even looks good striking out, something of which he is rarely guilty. He has yet to look at or say hello to an umpire.

"Cocking the right leg is my way of taking aim," says the likable son of a Pennsylvania steelworker. "It is like the sight of a gun. I draw a bead with it."

No other hitter in memory swung like Musial, so the young man could not have copied another's swing. It just came naturally.

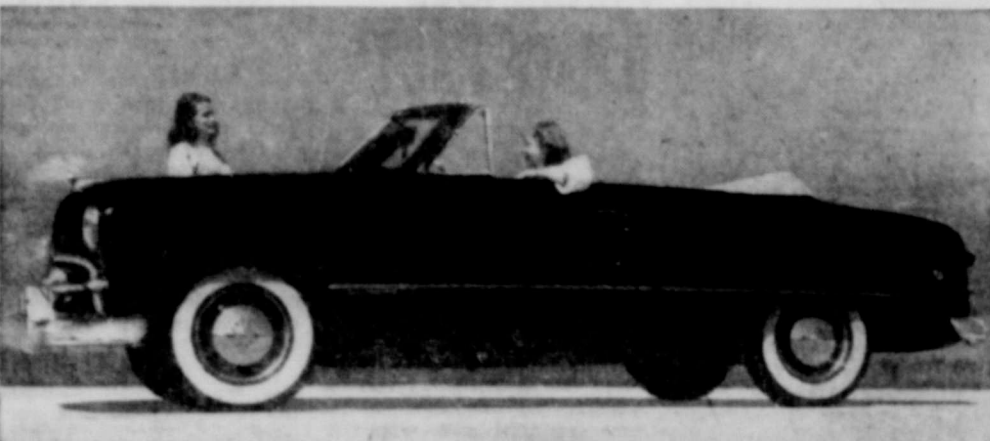

Musial swings a 35-ounce, 33 1/2-inch bat. He liked the barrel of the Mel Ott model and the thin handle of the Walker Cooper, so in 1943, when he topped his average to .357 in his sophomore year, the manufacturer blended them into the Musial edition.

But when they made Stan Musial, they broke the mold.

The New Look In Fords

Styling and engineering changes in the 1949 Fords are as extensive as the changeover from the T to the A a generation ago, according to Henry Ford II. The two-door sedan provides more room for passengers and luggage, a better ride and improved visibility.

The distinctive styling of the 1949 Ford convertible features smooth, flowing contours, full fender-width body and luxurious interior appointments. Completely new, the convertible chassis is doubly reinforced.

Fails to Get Trip But Rates A For Effort

SPRINGFIELD, Tenn. (UP)—

Eleven-year-old Bob Curtis and his cronies won't go to Bedloe's Island after all to help clean up the site of the Statue of Liberty.

Young Curtis read in his school paper that there were unsightly heaps of rubbish on the island.

He wrote President Truman offering to organize a group of schoolboys to go to New York and clean things up if the government would pay their expenses.

At long last Curtis got an answer from Herbert Evison, chief of information for the National Park Service. Evison, in effect, thanked young Curtis for the offer but said he believed the Park Service could do the job all right.

Don't Speed, Save Money Motorists Say

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—

Automobile operating costs increase from a little over two and a half cents per mile at a speed of 35 miles per hour to approximately six cents per mile when speed is increased to 65 miles per hour, according to the California State Automobile Association.

Based on a 1,000-mile motoring trip, the study showed that gasoline consumption of the average car driven over average roads at the higher speed is nearly doubled of that of the 35-miles-per-hour speed, and four and a half times more oil is used.

Tire wear and repair costs are tripled.

Miss Helen made a grab at it. "Oh, no, I couldn't let you." "Nonsense." He grinned at her impudently. "You'd better, you know, if you want to catch that train. Look, I'll have on and save you a couple of seats."

THEY hurried after him, puffing and blowing. The ticket collector shooed them through the barrier.

"Train's just going."

The young man was waving to them frantically. He had seats, it would seem, in the very last car.

partition. He came running towards them and grabbed Miss Alice by one arm, and Miss Helen by the other. And with one last effort they made it.

The guard slammed the door of their carriage. Paul glanced up at the two suitcases he'd flung onto the rack. He could read the labels on them even though they were upside down. Miss Helen Melville, Miss Alice Melville. Holy smoke! So these really were the two old dragons.

Miss Alice sat back in her corner and laid a hand over her heart.

"You all right?" he asked anxiously.

"Oh yes, thank you. It's just—I'm not very used to hurrying."

"Let me open the window a little more."

Miss Helen looked at the young man who'd been so helpful and decided he was really very pleasant. He was extremely nice-looking too. And he'd got such charming manners. He was clearly the sort of young man any young girl might fall in love with.

She wondered who he was and where he came from. She wondered if just possibly it might be a good idea to sound him. Of course she'd not been introduced to him. So far she really knew nothing about him. But maybe he knew someone she knew. Maybe it might be all right, if his answers to her questionings were satisfactory, to ask him over one afternoon just for tea.

At any rate it would be interesting to see how Patience liked him.

TEXAS GAS PRODUCTION IN BIG GAIN

Texas boosted its gas production 157 per cent between 1939 and 1947 and today the nation is beginning to reap the benefits.

A recent report of the Texas Railroad Commission lists at least 17 major pipe lines completed under construction or proposed for carrying gas from Texas to the East Coast, the Middle West, the Rocky Mountains and the West Coast.

A recent Federal Power Commission report listed 80 per cent of the nation's gas production currently goes to industries but noted a trend toward gas fuel for homes.

Growth Watched
Petroleum industry officials are watching the rapid growth of gas transmission lines with interest, particularly in view of the continued close battle for balance of supply and demand for petroleum and petroleum products.

Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission, places the state's gas well production last year at 2,241,697,304,000 cubic feet as compared with 872,268,000,000 for 1939.

He said authoritative sources predict Texas production will continue to increase and reach 4,750,000,000 cubic feet during 1950.

A Railroad Commission map shows pipe lines currently carrying Texas natural gas to West Virginia, Newark, N. J., Louisiana and Mississippi, Oklahoma, Kansas City, St. Paul, Chicago, Detroit, Denver, and Monterey.

Most of these projects have lateral lines feeding other areas.

Proposed lines or lines under construction would serve such areas as New York, Pittsburgh, Ohio, Iowa, Michigan, and California.

Rapid fire natural gas pipe line developments last week saw: The Federal Power Commission approved construction of a $151,000,000 line by Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Company over a 1,840-mile route from South Texas to the New York - Philadelphia area.

FPC approval for Texas Eastern Transmission Co., owner of the government-built wartime Big and Little Inch pipe lines of three new gathering lines to Texas and Louisiana fields. The lines will boost the company's capacity to 508,000,000 cubic feet daily by the end of the year.

A federal court of appeal in Washington upheld a 1946 FPC ruling authorized the Michigan-Wisconsin Pipe Line Company to construct a line from a point in Illinois in Wisconsin. The order had been disputed by Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company which supplies some parts of Michigan as well as other Middle West states.

President's Life Not An Easy One, Writer Reveals

WASHINGTON (UP)—What does the President of the United States have to do?

Everyone knows he has a hard job. Just how hard it is, few voters appreciate.

His working hours generally are 7 a.m. to midnight—except on nights when he toils "late." He lives in a goldfish bowl as far as his private life is concerned. Secret service agents never let him out of sight and his personal physician gives him twice daily—or oftener—checkups.

The pressure never ceases. Visitors, mail and problems pour in without respite.

Merriman Smith, United Press White House correspondent, has undertaken "to show in human factors and in words of as few syllables as possible how the intricate 20th century presidency operates" in his new book, "A President Is Many Men."

Avoiding the legalistic side of the story, Smith endeavors to highlight and describe the office now sought to eagerly by a host of candidates.

"It is the story of the night President Jackson's guest ate nearly a ton of cheese at the White House; how some of the most distinguished world figures are not above stealing White House silver for souvenirs; the story of what Thomas Jefferson called life in 'splendid misery'."

Smith said in a foreword to his book. Back of the President moves an army of advisers, secretaries, experts, "idea men," "insiders" and workmen of all kinds.

Mainly by anecdote and allusion to the striking or bizarre historical facts, Smith gives a lively picture of this army in action. Dozens of anonymous but powerful figures are brought to the surface and the author gently exposes their methods.

It's extremely hard for the President to amuse himself. A dance or dinner party turns into a rigorously programmed affair at which he, his wife and family are apt to be prize exhibits, and in which they must follow strictly formalized procedure. A trip finds his every mile recorded in a special White House book, endless arrangements involved, and urgent communications dogging him at every step.

The President is bound by tradition and rule in many, many ways. He was not even allowed to help himself to a "snack" out of the White House ice-box under a rule that he must not touch anything but absolutely fresh food. Franklin D. Roosevelt finally shattered that obviously antiquated rule.

The President has many things no millionaire could buy, to be sure. His private plane and private railway car are far beyond any private individual's dreams. His prestige and power defy exact limitation. And his wife can indulge herself in various ways, if she wishes: Mrs. Coolidge drank two quarts of orange juice daily while she was in the White House. In the round, however, the White House makes a poor sort of home. Smith recounts an indicative of life there the story of "Sistie" and "Buzzie," the Roosevelt grandchildren, who once took some aluminum serving trays to use as sleds because no one had remembered to get them real ones.

Drug Store Cowboys Called Dead Loss

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UP) — Druggists no longer welcome the high school crowds who used their stores as hangouts before the war, according to the president of the Illinois Pharmaceutical Association.

Labor costs have risen so much, Harold W. Wild said that nickel and dime soda fountain drinks show little if any profit.

Druggists discourage lingering over drinks. Some now charge a minimum of 15 cents per customer. Others use a more direct method. They are chasing the high school crowds out.

Wild said druggists are forced to keep a steady stream of customers to show any profit.

Wild has his own solution to the problem. He took his soda fountain out.

State Is Solvent; Has $164,219,714 In Cash On Hand

The state of Texas is very much solvent these days with $164,219,714.48 cash on hand in its treasury kitty, the state Treasury Department reported Saturday.

That's the total cash in the 183 separate state funds as of May 31, an approximate $6,500,000 increase over the total on April 30, according to the department figures.

The department report shows this picture:

The general revenue fund, currently being eyed by proponents of better roads, more teacher pay, a state veterans bonus and other purposes, is far and away the largest single fund with $62,024,907.05 credited to it.

Other eight-figure funds include the unallocated clearance, $17,499,144.56; the state highway fund $18,965,249.97; the permanent school fund, $13,892,242.64; and county and road district highway fund, 10,829,750.10.

The total net of all funds was 156,693,907.92 by the end of May. That plus outstanding warrants amounting to $7,597,806.86 gave the overall cash figure.

There's An Easy Test For Grade A Eggs

ST. PAUL (UP) — University of Minnesota farm school men say a housewife can tell whether highpriced eggs really are grade A.

If the egg has a round, high yolk and if the cover of the yolk is strong and has plainly-seen white knots on its sides, the egg is grade A.

If the egg flattens out and runs all over the dish, or has barely-visible white knots on the walk, farm school experts suggest buying elsewhere.

The latter, they said may be perfectly all right but they're considerably less than grade A.

Dittmar thinks the shifting American policy has the Germans in that area completely confused.
