British, Russians Settle Traffic Dispute

Well... I Dunno, But...

Monday is Flag Day and in looking up some flag etiquette that we were uncertain about we came across this.

"I am Old Glory:
For more than eight score years I have been the banner of hope and freedom for generation after generation of Americans. Born amid the first flames of America's fight for freedom, I am the symbol of a country that has grown from a little group of thirteen colonies to a united nation of forty-eight sovereign states. Planted firmly on the high pinnacle of American faith my gently fluttering folds have proved an inspiration to untold millions. Men have followed me into battle with unwavering courage. They have looked upon me as a symbol of national unity. They have prayed that they and their fellow citizens might continue to enjoy the life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness, which have been granted to every American as the heritage of free men. So long as men love liberty more than life itself; so long as they treasure the priceless privileges bought with the blood of our forefathers; so long as the principles of truth, justice and charity for all remain deeply rooted in human hearts, I shall continue to be the enduring banner of the United States of America. I am Old Glory."
Can we qualify for the challenge?

We have been told, though the FBI didn't tell us so, that the country through which President Truman is traveling right now is strong in Communism. If that's true, Truman's statement in a speech there to the effect that Joe Stalin is a fine fellow, rings loudly of politics.

We never heard of Mr. Truman making such a statement before and the fact that he waited until he got into a Communist stronghold to boost Stalin's stock, has the earmarks of a vote seeking statement.

And we're not sure that we think much of such a deal.

Many were expressing alarm today about the action to permit arms aid and support to Western Europe.

We can't quite agree. In fact, we believe that if the United States and others had interfered when Hitler and Mussolini first started their aggressions that there would never have been the second World War.

It all boils down to the old saying: "A stitch in time saves nine." If you know a man's got a gun in his pocket, you'll think twice before picking a fight with him and even so with nations. If those who have designs on portions of Europe know that they will start a fight with well armed nations by their aggressions, they'll be a bit more hesitant about walking in and taking over.

Yes, sir, we're among those that want a club handy, if the diplomatic method fails.

Many Drown In Ship Disaster

The Danish passenger ship Kjobenhavn lies partly submerged off the Jutland coast near Hals, after it struck a drifting magnetic mine with an estimate of 400 persons aboard. Unofficial reports indicate that over 150 persons are missing. (ACME-NEA Radiophoto Telephotoed from Copenhagen to London and Radioed from London to New York).

Senate Approves American Aid To Western Europe

WASHINGTON, June 12 (UP)—President Truman had a Senate go-ahead today to lend American support, and perhaps eventually U. S. arms, to Western European alliances to check aggression and insure world peace.

The Senate voted 69 to 4 yesterday to "advise" the President it favors renewed efforts to curb the United Nations veto power. The resolution also looked toward U. S. backing for such defense pacts as the five-power "Western Union" arrangement in Europe.

It came amid even stronger hints that the U. S. will not stand idly by in event of a military showdown in Europe.

Sens. Walter F. George, Ga., and Carl A. Hatch, N. M., Democratic members of the foreign relations committee, told the Senate that in such a case this country would give "actual military support to Europe."

Senate President Arthur H. Vandenberg called upon members to face "the grim reality that peace may fail" by voting for the resolution. He termed it an effort to make certain "another war will not be our fault."

White Hooded Men Break Up Girl Scout Camp

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. June 12 (UP)—Authorities today promised to investigate a night raid on a nearby Girl Scout Camp by a band of men wearing the white robes and hoods of the Ku Klux Klan.

Two white girl scout instructors conducting a "leadership training" course for some 20 Negro girls reported that the masked men broke into their tent late Thursday night and gave them 24 hours to "get out."

Scout officials said the camp was broken up yesterday to safeguard the lives of the students and instructors.

New Oil Activities Announced In Three Widely Separated Sections

Starting in 15 days, a test of the Ellenberger will be drilled on the W. E. Kirkland, six miles west of Eastland by Homer Glover of Tyler and Eastland.

Glover also will drill north of the Bilake pool on the Willie Ezell, inside the line of Eastland County, to the Caddo.

On city-owned land northwest of Eastland, the Tex Harvey Oil Co., of Dallas will drill. The land was acquired by the city in connection with Lake Eastland.

Negotiators Hint End Of Wage Deadlock

WASHINGTON, June 12, (UP)—Soft coal wage negotiators hinted today that the week-long deadlock in negotiations of a new 1948 contract has been broken.

Charles O'Neill, operator spokesman, and John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers president, told reporters after a two-hour negotiating session this morning that the conferences will resume at 3 P. M. Monday.

In contrast to other days of the week, both men declined to discuss any detail of the negotiating session. In the past, this has usually meant that some progress had been made.

Longer Life Expectancy For Babies Of Today

CHICAGO (UP)—Babies born in 1947 have a better chance of living to old age than any of their predecessors, according to the president of the Chicago board of Health.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen said babies born last year will live an average of 66 1/2 years, compared with a life expectancy of only 49 1/2 years which babies had in 1900.

The number of babies born last year was 3,910,000. Of them, 3,700,000 will reach 21 and 2,500,000 will see 65.

If present children had to race the dangers babies faced at the turn of the century, he said, fewer than 1,000,000 would live to be 65.

U. S. To Send Patrols LAKE SUCCESS, June 12, (UP)—The United States will send truce patrol ships and planes to Palestine in response to an urgent appeal from United Nations mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte, it was learned today.

On city-owned land northwest of Eastland, the Tex Harvey Oil Co., of Dallas will drill. The land was acquired by the city in connection with Lake Eastland.

Coupled with the strong basis for production when the Bransford four miles southwest of Eastland, comes through as confidently expected and the steady progress being made on the Aaron, three miles below Eastland—all these give solid ground for an anticipated oil rush, centering around Eastland.

Bernadotte, Advisers Fly To Jerusalem

CAIRO, June 12, (UP)—Count Folke Bernadotte and his United Nations advisers made a flying trip to Jerusalem today while Arab and Jewish leaders still continued to charge each other with violations of the Palestine truce.

Bernadotte said he would stay in the Holy City for just a few hours "to get a first hand impression of the situation." However, one team of truce observers already was in Palestine and others were reported on the way.

Truman To Speak On Relations Of U. S. And Russia

Enroute With President Truman June 12 (UP)—President Truman switched abruptly from domestic to foreign issues today in preparation for his speech on Soviet-American relations at Berkeley, Cal.

The President may have indicated the tenor of his speech at Eugene, Ore., last night when he told a crowd gathered about the rear platform of his train that Marshal Josef V. Stalin was "a prisoner of the Politburo."

By Proclamation June Is Dairy Month In Texas

June is Dairy Month in Texas by official proclamation, signed recently by Governor Beauford Jester. The proclamation was presented by the Governor to Hermann Heep, Director of the Texas Jersey Cattle Club, at a brief ceremony held at the Heep Jersey Farm near Austin. Mr. Heep, Texas Breeder of fine Jerseys, is President of the American Jersey Cattle Club. At the official ceremony he accepted the proclamation as the representative of Grover Sellers, Sulphur Springs, President of the Texas Jersey Cattle Club, who was unable to be present.

Governor Jester told Mr. Heep that he wished to congratulate the Jersey breeders of Texas for having more Registered Jerseys than any other State in the Union. "Texas population is increasing rapidly as a result of new industries locating in Texas," the Governor told the gathering. "This means that we need more milk and dairy products to supply these people. This does not necessarily mean more cows, it means better cows, better pastures, soil improvement, better feeding practices and herd management. I predict that there will be a strong demand and good market for milk in Texas for many years."

In the proclamation, the Governor paid tribute to the 338,000 dairy farmers in Texas, who own 1,290,000 milk cows valued at 150 million dollars and which produced 4 1/2 billion pounds of milk in 1947 with a net value of 110 million dollars to milk farmers. During the past 20 years Texas has advanced from twentieth to eighth place among the States in value of dairy products. In spite of this increase, Texas has grown so rapidly that the State is still importing dairy products.

Way Cleared For Injunction To Halt Strike

WASHINGTON, June 12, (UP)—A presidential fact-finding board today cleared the way for the government to seek an injunction against the threatened nationwide maritime strike by reporting that it would tie up the entire shipping industry.

The board said that "if the status quo can be maintained, real and sincere collective bargaining may finally avoid the disruption."

Six maritime unions have threatened to call their 100,000 members out on strike at midnight Tuesday unless their contract demands are met. A Taft-Hartley law injunction would prohibit the walk-out for 80 days.

NORMAL FREIGHT SHIPMENTS TO BERLIN RESUMED AFTER RED HALT

BERLIN — The Russian army cut off rail freight traffic from Western Germany to Berlin for a time today, but finally reached an agreement with the British permitting resumption of normal shipments to the German capital.

Col. Hans W. Holmer, chief of the transport division of the American military government, announced that Russian-British negotiations had led to settlement which would permit resumption of normal freight traffic to Berlin by early evening.

Holmer said the Russians gave the green light to Allied freight trains, on which about 2,000,000 Germans in Berlin depend for food and other supplies, after conferences with the British authorities in Berlin and at Helmsstedt, which is on the Russian-British zonal border.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay had denounced the Russian action but had taken no action to enter the dispute, waiting to assemble all the facts. The British-Russian agreement settled the matter in the meantime.

The Russian move had been interpreted at first as another step in the Soviet campaign to force the Western Allies out of Berlin, but quick settlement of the issue suggested that the Soviets had intended no drastic action, and that Soviet officers might have misunderstood orders for new controls on traffic.

Geologist Have Eastland County Field Day

Members of the Dallas and Fort Worth geological societies as well as other geologists from over the state, to the number of approximately 100 have been in Eastland county for the past two or three days, according to the best information available, on what the profession calls a "Field Day."

The purpose of these field days, as we understand it, is for various geologists to go over a certain territory and make a study of it from the geological standpoint and then at some future meeting of the associations have a general discussion on the particular territory visited.

Eastland county, being in the oil limelight at this time, makes the visit of these geologists especially interesting.

Congress Must Work Fast For 'Electioneering' Record

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—If this year's elections were to be decided on some other basis than personalities, hunches or emotions, the most important issue would be the record of the 80th Congress, which has had a Republican majority, versus the record of the Democratic President Truman.

It has been a "business" Congress, definitely reversing the trend of the "labor" Congresses in the Roosevelt years. This probably explains why Fortune, the $1.25 glamor magazine of big business, leads off this month with the statement that "the 80th Congress has accomplished more important, useful work than perhaps any other peace-time Congress."

This could be damning with faint praise. But it will be quoted widely by Republican congressmen as justification for their record over the past two years. It is also open to Democratic challenge.

FORTUNE lists nine good things this Congress has done; refusal to seat Senator Bilbo of Mississippi, the European Recovery program, aid to Greece and Turkey, aid to China, passage of the Mundt "Voice of America" authorization bill, the Taft-Hartley labor law, tax reduction, the Lodge-Brown bill creating the Hoover commission to study reorganization of federal government, and the travels of 200 congressmen in Europe last summer.

Bilbo wasn't unseated, he was allowed to go home and die. ERP, the Truman Doctrine of aid to Greece and Turkey and the concept of the Voice of America came from the Democratic administration. Aid to China was taken up by the Republicans, against the wishes of the President and Secretary Marshall, who thought they had learned by experience that it couldn't be made to work.

It is still too early to tell whether the Taft-Hartley law is good or bad. It has been used effectively to stop John L. Lewis once and now faces a second test. The law has not brought labor peace; the effort to raise the wool tariff while the administration was trying to negotiate trade agreements with 23 nations at Geneva, the Howard Hughes probe.

That's a piker list, likewise open to challenge.

The real record of the 80th Congress is being made in the last two weeks of the session. There may be some fast work at the finish, but at present the list of measures to be by-passed looks longer than the list of measures on which action will be completed.

In passing judgment here, it is important to note the wide difference between the progressive Senate and the reactionary House. Both are apparently being killed in the House. The House quit cold on a long-range farm program. If anything gets done on this it will be through the efforts of the Senate. The House Rules Committee has for two years held up Universal Military Training. But give this some committee credit for blocking a tax reform bill so bad it was disgraceful.

Nothing effective has been done about the cost of living. The national health program is dead. Minimum wage standards will not be raised. Social security extension will be far less than recommended, if anything is done at all. Budget cuts will be insignificant even if ERP funds are reduced far below necessary minimums.

There is an awful lot in this record not to be proud of.

Joe Has the Killer's Attitude, But What About His Muscles?

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

POMPTON LAKES, N. J.—(NEA)—John Roxborough says Joe Louis has the same mental attitude he took into the battle pit the second time he tackled Max Schmeling.

Manager Roxborough talks as though that's all the long-term Brown Bomber requires at Yankee Stadium, June 23, to regain the prestige he lost when Jersey Joe Walcott twice set him on the seat of his silk pants at Madison Square Garden last Dec. 5.

"Joe spent 32 days on Irving Roone's farm, 26 miles northwest of Kalamazoo," explains Roxborough. "There was no golf, no diversions. Outside of his handlers and myself, those he saw or talked to were farmers. He had plenty of time to think, and he headed for Pompton Lakes and the boxing routine in the state of mind that was his before he knocked Schmeling into the hospital."

Roxborough took Louis to Roone's farm to get his mind off of and keep him away from golf. Had it not been for the golf courses there, he would have put in the roughing-it period at West Baden.

"Joe dried out for the first fight with Walcott, that's true," says Roxborough. "But he also was baked and burned out before it on golf courses. He doesn't play golf like the average fellow. He isn't satisfied with less than 36 holes a day. And any trainer will tell you that the muscles used in the golf swing aren't the ones that enable you to punch a bloke on the nose."

SPEAKING of the second edition with Herr Schmeling, June 22, 1938, Louis was given a tremendous lift at the last minute by Henry Armstrong and the late Eddie Mead.

Louis moved in at Pompton Lakes as Armstrong moved out to cuff Barney Ross around for the welterweight championship.

Rain postponed the Ross-Armstrong scrap, and Hammering Henry returned to Pompton Lakes, and shared the camp with Louis for two or three days.

While there, Fat Eddie Mead, who had a great time with fighters, saw the late Jack Blackburn trying to teach Louis how to ward off and get away from right-hand punches as Armstrong endorsed that you to make or break Smokey Joe. It was Eddie Mead who shouted "Go get him!" and shoved a snarling Louis out of the corner to destroy Schmeling in just two minutes and four seconds.

But that was 10 long years ago. Joe Louis' mental attitude may be quite all right for this one, but how about the state of his fighting equipment?

EIGHT SCIENTIST ON TRAIL OF CANCER AT HOPKINS

Hope They May Find Cure Or At Least Some Way To Halt Its Growth

By FREDERICK W. JONES

United Press Staff Correspondent BALTIMORE, Md. (UP) — A race which it is hoped may end in the discovery of a cure for cancer is going on in the laboratories of the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

Eight scientists, attacking the problem from a different approach, are working in their laboratories tracing down leads, any one of which they think may result in a cure, or at least the discovery of some treatment which may halt the process of the dread disease.

"There is no cure for cancer now," one of them explained. "We are just beginning to understand some of the phenomena relating to cancer, and we hope our studies will bring answers to some of the puzzling questions about uncontrolled growth, which is characteristic of cancer."

One of the eight scientists, Dr. Maurice Sullivan, believes the root of the may apple may hold one of the keys to cancer control.

Makes Warts Vanish

Sullivan discovered that the root, chemically known as "podyphyllum," will cause certain warts to disappear in two or three days. But the substance, he said, is highly toxic and cannot be used on cancer without endangering the health and comfort of patients.

Sullivan pointed out, however, that the drug does inhibit cell division and tissue growth, two outstanding characteristics of cancer.

Consequently, he wants to develop a substance with the same effect on tumors but one which is less toxic to the human system.

Dr. Perrin Long and his associate, Dr. Emanuel Schoenfeld, are attacking cancer from a different angle. Scores of cancer-killing substances are tested in their laboratory in an effort to find one which will not damage normal tissues.

So far, several have caused temporary regressions in various types of tumors, but all are so toxic that only small dosages can be used.

Results Uncertain

But they warn against over-optimism in connection with their research. They say:

"The fact that some chemicals show remarkable effects in animals is no reason to believe they will be effective in humans."

Animal tissues are being grown in the laboratory of Dr. M. Rosenfeld. He is seeking chemicals that stimulate tissue growth on the theory that the answer to cancer may lie in chemicals made available to body tissue. As part of his equipment, Dr. Rosenfeld uses an ultra-centrifuge capable of 1,000 revolutions per second to separate molecules by exerting a pressure of 250,000 times the normal force of gravity.

Cells, one of the smallest subdivisions of living matter, occupy the attention of Dr. M. M. Mayer. His research is concerned chiefly with the find of a mechanism in cells through which antibodies are produced to destroy disease-causing agents.

Wilkins Studies Glands

If antibodies are produced against cancer cells, Dr. Mayer said, perhaps they could be used to detect the disease in time for effective treatment.

Because glands may have some relationship to cancerous growth, Dr. Lawson Wilkins is studying the relationship of various glands to growth during childhood and adolescence. The adrenal gland is of particular interest to him.

Dr. I. B. Flexner of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, who also is attached to Johns Hopkins, has made photographs under the microscope of the growth of the liver and brain of guinea pigs to find out what factors are concerned with normal growth. The pictures show there is a critical period during the growth of tissue marked by the generation of energy. Flexner is seeking what causes this energy to be generated, how it is stored, and what enzymes are responsible for its release to cause growth.

Seeks Detection Test

Because only three per cent of the prostatic cancer patients admitted to Johns Hopkins Hospital report early enough for operations Dr. William W. Scott is seeking a simple test to detect cancer before it spreads from the prostate to other areas.

Certain parts of the body are in Missouri in exchange for their upstate New York farm lands. The Cayugas decided to go but found their new location was in swamps. Some of them drifted back and settled on other reservations in the upstate region.

Now that they have the money from the state to compensate their lost land, the Cayugas would like to return to the shores of Cayuga Lake, where once they hunted and fished at will.

Taxpayers in Seneca County, however, are opposed to the idea. Business men point out that both the federal and state governments already have taken over large sections of the county during the last few years, which has hit property assessment roles hard.

Some of the Indians themselves, not wishing to offend the White Man, have suggested going to neighboring Cayuga county, which borders on the north and east side of the same lake. But, so far the matter is resting.

Anyhow, the first move is up to the Cayuga squaws to choose a new chief.

When the Cayugas went west to the Missouri swamps, they had eight chiefs. Five of them migrated, three remained here. Since then, the tribe always has kept three here, but one died last year.

Finally, after the Cayugas do their voting, their reservation plan must be ratified at a council.

Dr. Erl A. Bates of Cornell University, advisor to the Six Nations Indians, says between 350 and 400 Cayugas probably will be involved in the move. Resettlement will be further complicated he adds because the Cayugas have inter-married with other tribes and, under their matriarchal system, a majority of the women and children session of the entire Iroquois Confederacy.

on the new reservation must be Cayugas. Bates also says he wants to make sure that if and when the Indians do choose a reservation site, it will be kept secret until all negotiations are completed so that one

Women In Shorts O.K. Judge Rules

CHICAGO (UP)—Judge John R. McSweeney upheld the legal right of women to wear shorts on Chicago streets.

Two young women, Nona Conkoff and Mary Scott, were charged with disorderly conduct after appearing in shorts.

The assistant public defender, who represented the girls, said, "If the police are going to arrest people for wearing shorts, they'll have a busy summer."

McSweeney said it "wasn't very modest" but he dismissed the charges.

Wisconsin, with its thousands of dairy farms and cheese factories, produces one out of every two pounds of cheese sold in the United States.

Proposes Cities Be Turned Into Neighborhoods

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP)—Cities are changing from cultural centers to traffic conglomeration, says Frederick J. Adams, head of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology planning department.

He believes the trouble with the modern city is that it is designed for adults instead of children.

It should be possible to redesign cities into neighborhoods small enough to give children self-contained educational, social and economic life growing into cultural centers, he believes.

His proposed suburban neighborhoods would range from 2,000 to 8,000 population and cover a maximum of 250 acres. The neighborhoods would have all the facilities of a city, only on a smaller scale.

Muench Takes Over

BOSTON (UP)—The unpronounced English name of Muench promises to become a power in this realm of the Lowells, Cabots and Lodges. Charles Muench will take over the baton of Serge Koussevitzky as permanent conductor of the Boston Symphony next spring and Charles Lawrence Muench, president of Hood Rubber Co., has just become president of the chamber of commerce. The two men are not related.

HOMELESS CAYUGAS, WITH STATE FUNDS, SEEK NEW LAND

By BETTY BAUER

United Press Staff Correspondent SENECA FALLS, N. Y. (UP)—

Cayuga Indians have $300,000. They are looking around for a new homeland. But they must produce a new chief before they can do anything about it.

Under tribal law, that is up to the "clan grandmothers."

The Six Nations Council at Onondag reservation, near Syracuse, ruled that the Cayugas must have the necessary number of chiefs before they can vote on what to do with the money allotted them by New York State and on where to set up a new reservation.

Dr. Jonas S. Friedenwald has been studying the rate of growth and influence of different conditions on this growth rate. He has found that X-ray and ultraviolet rays, certain chemicals, and dietary deficiencies, especially lack of vitamin A, retard corneal growth. He is now trying to trace the mechanism of these actions to the enzymes of the cells.

One hundred years ago the government offered the Cayugas land

Hirohito's Ears Studied As Clue To Racial Origin

By PETER KALISCHER
 United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO (UP) — The position of Emperor Hirohito's ears may prove that his imperial ancestors were East Indians, an Indian scholar believes.
 Chaman Lal pointed out that the Mikado's ears are below the line of his eyes, in the same manner as the ears of the Saka dynasty of India. He claimed it was no mere coincidence but another link in the anthropological chain between the Japanese imperial family and their Hindu origin.
 The ears-below-eyes theory is not Lal's but that of an 87-year old Japanese scholar, Kitaro Nagasawa, whom Lal met here. Nagasawa told Lal he published a leaflet on Hirohito's family tree several years ago for which he almost went to jail. He was accused of affronting the imperial family.
 "I since have found out that the physiognomy of the members of the imperial house has something in common with that of some Indian tribes," Nagasawa wrote.

Decides 90th Birthday Marks Last Party

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Mrs. Ida Springob was 90 years old and, as usual, gave another of her 77-year birthday parties.
 Mrs. Springob began the tradition when she was 60. She decided she would stress an especially festive occasion once every 10 years instead of an annual party. Friends were a little disappointed, however, when she announced: "This is my last party. Ich denk nicht, another party."

Air Age Arrives
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UP) — Prospective high school teachers studying at the University of Illinois College of Education must take at least one airplane flight as "horse sense preparation" for the air age.
 Professor Harold Hand of the College of Education claims that Illinois is the only university to require flying and provide free sample rides on a large scale.
 "A teacher who knows nothing about aviation," Hand said, "is as much at a loss today as a teacher in 1915 who had never ridden in an automobile."

No Wonder Lassie Came Home

In Hollywood, even the animal stars have to be glamorous. Lassie, famed collie leading lady, strikes a pose reminiscent of the screen's most alluring blondes. The beribboned canine cutie lounges on a satin bedspread and fluffy pillows.

The twinkling effect is heightened by reflection in the ripple in the river caused by the progress in your boat. A million jewels are above and around you, the entire cavern alight with their scintillating luminescence.

This is the glow-worm grotto of Waitomo, and these are the glow-worms.

Hunt Their Prey

They are carnivorous and they are hunting their prey, the small flies that follow the course of the river in from its emergence from the outdoors a long way off.

"I'll tell you a little about them now," the guide says, "although any sound will cause a large section of them to douse their lights. Each worm is about an inch and a half long and is encased in a plastic-like capsule half again as long. The worm and the capsule are both glass-like and you can see through each; when I hold a light close in a moment you will see through the body of the worm to its vital organs, and will see the light in its tail.

"We don't know what causes the light, except that it is not phosphorous. It seems to be definitely electric. The worm can turn its light on or off at will and can regulate the brilliance. The burglar, he is the brighter the light."

Life-Color Movies Finally Possible Inventors Say

PARIS, (UP)—The world may see real life-colored movies soon as the result of revolutionary new way of making colored motion pictures announced here.

The system, devised by two middle-aged French inventors, Armand and Lucien Roux, is called Rouxcolor.

It consists of using a special spectrum lens attached to an ordinary camera and a similar type lens on the movie house projector. Ordinary black and white film is used.

The new lens has 40 finely ground pieces of optical glass in it, Armand Roux explained.

Roux said he and his elder brother had been working on the idea for making exact-color movies for 17 years. He said they had done all the work themselves, designing the lens, grinding the special prisms for it, and testing out the finished product.

The two brothers worked in a shabby laboratory on the fifth floor of a Left Bank building loft building. There, with the aid of friends who lent them money, they started inking in their spare hours in 1930. They made experimental lenses which produced better color movies than present processes.

Just before the war they finally got a nearly perfect color print. During the German occupation, Armand Roux said, he and his brother hid away the new lens the blue prints so the Germans wouldn't get them.

After the war, with the financial aid of Hollywood and some French bankers, the two brothers set to work to produce a practical method of making the complicated spectrum lens. The first lens was turned out only a few weeks ago.

TYLER FARMERS DECLARE WAR ON GRASSHOPPERS

TYLER, Tex. (UP)—The farmers in this agricultural section of Texas have declared all-out war against an enemy of mankind that once plagued the Egyptians of ancient biblical times—the grasshopper.

The farmers have good reason to go into action against the lowly 'hoppers. Reports of heavy hatchings have been received by the Smith county agent's office from all sections of the county. And some damage has been inflicted on crops in spots.

One bottleneck, however, has been the shortage of poison. Farmers cleaned the shelves of grasshopper poison in Tyler stores and a truckload had to be shipped in from Houston.

The 'hopper damage, however, hasn't been restricted to Smith county alone. Other counties in East Texas are preparing for a possible all-out fight against the insects. They're comparatively rare in this section, incidentally.

In Cherokee county, the infestation is reported to be fully 10 times heavier this year than last and the Western and Northern parts of Van Zandt county also report heavy hatchings.

In Wood County, Agent E. A. Spack said that while the infestation is widespread and unusually heavy it still is too early to determine how serious the grasshopper damage will be. He said that 'hoppers still were small and were concentrated around the edges of fields and along roads.

Agricultural agent F. J. Burton reported that farmers in Rusk county were "watchfully waiting." Hatchings have been unusually heavy, he said, but no major damage has been reported.

Entomologists at College Station informed of the situation in Smith County, urged that poison sprays be used in an attempt to control the insects.

They said that, because of the large amount of green vegetation in the area, poison bran broadcast in the fields is not nearly as effective as spraying of poison. The green vegetation is more tempting to the 'hoppers, the experts said.

Poison bran, however, has been used effectively in the more arid West Texas where there is usually less green vegetation.

Toxaphene is the cheapest poison, costing about $1 a pound in 100 per cent strength, while Chlor-dane costs $2.25 a pound. A pound of either poison mixed with 100 gallons of water will cover an acre of ground.

When Marcel Pagnol, famous French screen writer and producer, saw experimental films taken with Rouxcolor, he junked his latest picture, "The Pretty Miller's Wife." Pagnol will reshoot the film in Rouxcolor.

Long Prison Terms Meaningless In Tenn.

MASHVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—The Tennessee jury may say "99 years," "life imprisonment," or some other stiff sentence, but state prison records show that the "average" Tennessee convict is free after five years.

A survey showed that only 13 prisoners had served more than 20 years and that the oldest in point of prison time had been behind bars since 1921. However, only six of the 13 had been in prison continuously since they first were admitted. The seven others had been freed but brought back either for new crimes or for parole violation.

Recipe For Bugs

MANILA (UP)—When the bugs start swarming around your porch lights on summer evenings you might try an old Philippine remedy that's easy and cheap.

The Filipinos fill a basin with water and place it a few inches below the light. They set it on a step-ladder or suspend it from the light with a piece of cord.

A whirling swarm of insects will disappear into the water in a few minutes. Some of the bugs apparently die in by accident and the rest are attracted by the bulb's reflection in the water. The shinier the pan the better.

Quints Called Good Insurance Risks

NEW YORK (UP)—The Diane quintuplets, at 14, have defied the normal statistics of mortality risks, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

The quintuplets jointly have overcome risks that face an average woman in 65 years and how have 27 out of 100 chances that they will live to a marriageable age. Their chances of living until 50 are three to five and to 65 more than one in five, the statisticians say.

Dog Or Apartment? They Choose Dog

TULSA, Okla. (UP)—A Tulsa couple are so fond of their tiny Pekingese dog, Ming Toye, that they're willing to give up their apartment rather than their pet.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Haynes received an eviction notice claiming that Ming Toye is a nuisance. But they say they'll live in the rear of the cleaning shop where Haynes works rather than give up the dog.

Ming Toye was born in China and was brought to Tulsa by a bomber pilot who gave him to the Haynes. The couple keeps the tiny dog sleeping in a baby bassinet.

Bloodhounds Fly To Crime Scene As Sheriff Puts Law On Air Bases

By Sam Melnick
United Press Staff Correspondent
KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UUP) — This will not be good news to the law-breakers who might be planning to operate in or near Jackson County.

Sheriff J. A. Furdome proposes to make it hot for them. He has gone strictly modern and organized an air squadron to combat crime.

The air squadron is composed of volunteers. It operates at no cost to the taxpayer. There are 200 members, including trained personnel—pilots, physicians and surgeons, nurses, pharmacists, parachutists, etc. The squadron boasts some 20 planes of various types, including amphibian.

Even the equipment has been donated to the cause. "We're ready for any situation, anywhere in our area," Sheriff Furdome said. "In a matter of minutes, we can serve any sector of the county. If the emergency is within 50 miles of Kansas City, we can be there just like that," snapping his fingers.

Purdome got the air squadron idea soon after he took over as sheriff in 1945. There is a definite need for speed in the event of crime or disaster, he reasoned.

With planes and trained personnel, quick relief could be supplied in case of such happenings as tornadoes, floods or water accidents. And, of course, excellent service to the community in the speedy apprehension of criminals.

The air squadron has an iron lung in its equipment. Recently members flew it to St. Joseph, Mo. to aid in an infantile paralysis victim in a hospital.

Placed in the iron lung, the patient was flown to a Kansas City hospital. The man is alive today.

Later the squadron flew to Springfield, Mo. to pick up bloodhounds, needed by Kansas City, Kan., police to track down a murdered. The squadron got the hounds and the hounds got their man.

"Time is of the utmost importance," the sheriff says. "So often a minute saved can be the difference between life or death, making a case of putting it into the unsolved category."

The planes can be equipped hurriedly with the latest guns and tear gas in case of riots. There are ten parachutists in the squadron, ready to drop into areas that otherwise might be inaccessible.

Since 1937 there have been 16 murders in Jackson County and only three remain unsolved.

Jesse James Reminder Removed in Missouri

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (UP) — Another reminder of the Jesse James era has disappeared from St. Joseph, strating point of the Pony Express. Workmen removed an elevated platform on which spectators sat in April, 1882, when Bob and Charley Ford were sentenced to be hanged for slaying James. Removal of the platform was the first step in re-decoration of the circuit court room here. The Ford boys were not executed. They were pardoned and given a $10,000 reward.

Dim Your Lights and Save a Life!

To bring you more oil,
we've built a 10-story structure
in the open Gulf

Designing and building the equivalent of a 10-story structure in the open sea called for all the ingenuity and skill of the country's best engineers. Utilizing carefully controlled directional drilling, as many as seven oil wells can be drilled from this structure.

Your need for oil is today so urgent that the oil industry is searching for and producing oil in locations once considered impractical for exploration and production. The most spectacular of these locations is in the open Gulf of Mexico, where Humble and other oil companies hope to find beneath the Continental shelf some of the oil you need.

To prove this region, and to produce oil from it, calls on the best engineering skill and scientific knowledge available in the United States, and requires the investment of huge sums of money.

The Humble Company now has off-shore drilling operations under way in water 50 feet deep, eight miles off the coast of Louisiana. The drilling rig rests on what can be best described as the tenth story of a building, with the first four stories under water. The structure is built to withstand the worst weather the Gulf develops.

On this platform are living quarters for the crew, which will work around the clock in shifts. There is storage space for all the materials needed to meet foreseeable drilling conditions. And, above all, the structure has been designed to provide a safe home for crew members beyond reach of the ocean waves.

You are asking for more oil than ever before in history, and the oil companies' decision to risk drilling in the open Gulf is a good example of how the oil industry is doing everything that possibly can be done to provide you with more oil.

You can help this effort by making your personal demands for petroleum products reasonable, by cooperating with programs designed to conserve oil products for the uses to which they are best adapted, by the exercise of patience as the oil industry acts to meet the need.

All supplies and materials are brought to the "sea-going" drilling rig by boat. Here a tug maneuvers a barge loaded with drilling mud into position for unloading.

Every late device is utilized to speed up this effort to supply you with more oil. This radar charts the movements of boats, enables the operator, by radio, to tell them where they are and give them a course to and from port. It makes a valuable contribution to safe navigation, especially when a sudden fog rolls in.

The barge, Cap, a converted LST, is anchored about 25 miles from the large structure as construction begins on one of several smaller drilling platforms to be erected off the Louisiana coast.

Tornado Blows Savings Bond 75 Miles But It Gets Back to Owner

Coatesville, Ind.—Shown with a savings bond, which was returned to him after a 75-mile flight from Coatesville, is Artie V. Bunten. Attached to the bond is a letter he received from the finder of the bond, Ernest Sheets of Jonesboro, Indiana.

This is the story of a United States Savings Bond which traveled 75 miles on the wings of a tornado.

The bond was one of 17 which disappeared when the storm demolished the Coatesville home of Artie V. Bunten, an employee of National Malleable & Steel Castings Company.

For several days after the tornado, Bunten searched through the rubble that once was his home, looking for the 17 bonds and anything else of value. All of the bonds were of the $25 variety. Finally, he found one.

Then came a letter from Ernest Sheets of Jonesboro, Grant County, who said he had found one of Bunten's bonds in a woods near his home.

The Sheets' home is at least 75 air miles from Coatesville. "I am glad to be able to return your bond to you," Sheets wrote.

"I know how much you can use it as I can imagine how it would be if I were in the same circumstances."

Bunten cheered, still felt keenly the loss of the other 16 bonds. Then he remembered he had purchased the bonds through the payroll savings plan of the castings company, a plan still in operation.

Company officials told him all serial numbers of his bonds were listed and that he could report the numbers to the Treasury Department and be issued duplicates.

The Indiana State Office of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division is cooperating to restore Mr. Bunten's bond holdings.

U. S. Treasury issues new bonds to replace any U. S. Savings Bonds which are destroyed or lost by the owner. The duplicates bear the same date of purchase as of the missing bonds.

Iron Curtain Up Before Envoys Of Food For Children In Europe

PARIS (UP)—One of few organizations in the United Nations which doesn't suffer from "iron curtain trouble" is the group which distributes food to the hungry children of Europe from headquarters here in Paris.

Officials of the U.N. International Children's Emergency Fund travel with ease across supposedly tightly closed frontiers. One day they may be in Hungary, the next in Bulgaria, the day after that in the Soviet zone of Austria.

ICEF's progress of food distributed more than $20,000,000 worth of milk, fats and meat protein in Europe was started last November. Since then it has distributed to 12 European countries.

With the exception of France, Italy and Greece, those countries are in the so-called "iron curtain" zone. They include Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Hungary, Poland, Rumania and Yugoslavia.

The ICEF needs inspectors to see that its food is distributed without regard to race, creed, or political party. The recipient governments must also publicize the ICEF's efforts.

"In the six months we have been operating in Europe, we have not received a single complaint of maldistribution of food or attempts to credit our efforts to a government or a political party," the official said.

Teams of ICEF workers, ranging from two to six people, work in every one of the countries concerned. The governments themselves pay an additional staff made up of its citizens.

In return for milk, fats, and meat products from the ICEF, the receiving countries contribute products of which they have enough, such as grain.

The fund is able to distribute a supplementary 500 calories to some 4,000,000 European children. It estimates that as many as 39,000,000 are undernourished, but
