Third Truman Veto In Week Overridden

CONGRESS OVERRIDES RAILROAD BILL VETO; MAKES HISTORY

WASHINGTON — An angry Congress today handed President Truman his third legislative defeat in four days by overriding another veto.

This time, it enacted the Reed-Bulwinkle Railroad Rate Bill into law over the President's objections — and it made history in doing so.

Available records showed that this was the first time in history that three Presidential vetoes on major bills have been overridden in one week.

Today's coup de grace was delivered by the House which overrode the veto of the Reed-Bulwinkle Bill by a 297 to 102 vote—31 votes more than necessary. The Senate yesterday voted 63 to 25 to override. Earlier this week, Congress overrode vetoes of a big appropriation bill and a measure eliminating steermen from social security protection.

Sixty-nine democrats joined 228 Republicans in voting to override Mr. Truman's veto. Four republicans, 96 democrats and the two American Labor Party members voted to sustain the President.

These rebuffs were, in part, the Congressional answer to Mr. Truman's indictment of the present Congress as the "second worst" in history.

With a Saturday adjournment still the goal, the House continued to consider changes in the much-amended draft bill. It also prepared to receive a revised housing bill.

Meanwhile, the Senate dragged into another day of debate on its long-range farm program. But Senate Republican whip Kenneth S. Wherry said there was no doubt Congress would finish Saturday.

House Democratic leader Sam Rayburn announced he would go along with the Republican leadership in its effort to adjourn Congress by Saturday night. House Republicans gave him a big hand, but the GOP applause stopped quickly when Rayburn added: "I think it's a good thing for the country to adjourn the Republican Congress at any time."

The House Bank Committee made a fresh start on housing legislation. It approved, 15 to 11, a bill stripped of the controversial public housing and slum-clearance provisions of the Senate-approved Taft-Ellender-Wagner Bill. House GOP leaders hoped to bring up the revised bill under suspension of rules. A two-thirds affirmative vote then will be necessary to pass it.

Aboard Truman Train — President Truman offered his record to the approval of the voters in a rear platform talk at Sedalia, Mo., today and told 4,500 listeners "if you don't like a president you can always kick him out."

In a four-minute speech, Mr. Truman told his battle against high prices and laid another lash on congress in the process.

He said this congress had "done a grand job to the people, certainly not for them."

HAS FAITH IN CROPS
LAWTON, Okla. (UP)—A Lawton used car dealer has faith in this year's crops prospects. He advertised that grain farmers with good bill-paying records can buy "used" 1948 model cars with no down payment. Come in and get 'em, he offers and pay when the harvest is in.

Two Singers Are Presented By St. Paul Church

The laymen's movement of the St. Paul Baptist Church presented Geneva Ervin, soloist, in a recital of semi-classical, spiritual, and gospel songs Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Recreation building.

The audience was welcomed by the pastor of the church, the Rev. A. L. Dunn, and the mistress of ceremonies was Mrs. Oona Durrell of Eastland.

Among the numbers sung by Mrs. Ervin were "I Had A Little Talk With The Lord" Misry in the semi-classical group; "Swing Low Sweet Chariot" in the spiritual group; and she closed with "The Day Is Past And Gone" in the gospel group. Mrs. Ervin was accompanied by Mrs. Jennie V. Branch of Abilene who also played a musical prelude at the beginning of the recital and a musical interlude before the second group of numbers.

Mrs. Ervin's great artist on her recital was her daughter, Mrs. Blanche Ware-Mims of Cisco who sang "A City Called Heaven" and "Indian Love Call." Mr. Mims was accompanied by Mrs. Durrell. Reverend Dunn introduced the Rev. Z. H. Hickson of Mineral Wells, moderator of the West Texas District Association of the Baptist Church, who spoke briefly. Reverend Dunn also introduced Dr. A. K. Wier who made a short talk.

Schuman Gets Prompt Peace In South France

PARIS, June 17 (UP)— Premier Robert Schuman's prompt report to a Communist labor challenge brought a truce to riot torn Clermont-Ferrand today and appeared to have checked an incident strike wave in south France. Reports from the south indicated that about 50,000 workers were out in sympathy with the Clermont-Ferrand strikers. But the call of the Communist-led labor confederation for a sweeping stoppage had fallen short, and the general trend was back to work.

AUTOMOBILE TELEPHONE SERVICE MAY BE AVAILABLE HERE JULY 1

George Hutson of the information department of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company with headquarters in Dallas, in speaking to members of the Ranger Rotary and Lions Clubs Wednesday at noon, stated that if all plans carry automobile telephone service will be in operation in the Ranger area by July 1.

Tests are now being made of the system, part of the equipment for which is already installed, including the tall steel tower of the hill in the north edge of Ranger. Mr. Hutson who was introduced by C. A. Dunschie, district supervisor for the telephone company in this area, interspersed a highly technical lecture with quick humor, to bring an entertaining half hour of illustrated explanations on the ultra modern in communications, dealing with the "by waves of communications."

Speaks To Men's Clubs

GEORGE HUTSON

Mr. Hutson who has garnered his information from his own studies and from visiting with scientists in the largest scientific laboratories in the world, gave an illustration of the value of the micro-wave to communications. He explained that the micro-wave can bridge gaps to replace telephone lines, thus helping what a few years ago was a tremendous problem facing his company.

Micro-Waves were beamed unsee-through the air from a transmitter to trip a relay and light a small bulb atop a receiver some 10 feet away. Those waves, no longer than a cigarette, vibrated at the rate of 10,000,000,000 times per second in making the trip.

"They are the key to future communications whereby people

Ministers Vote To Cooperate In Civic Projects

At a called meeting of the Ranger Ministerial Alliance held this morning at 10 o'clock at the First Baptist Church, ministers of Ranger voted to cooperate with the Ranger Junior College radio program which is heard each Wednesday from 1:30 to 2:30 o'clock over station KSTB in Breckenridge.

Rev. Earl Bissex, pastor of the First Christian Church, will speak on the broadcast next Wednesday and other ministers will speak on succeeding broadcasts.

The ministers also discussed need of giving more attention to welcome new residents to the community and that the attention of Ranger churches be called to the need for housing for incoming families. Ministers agreed to assist in securing suitable living quarters for newcomers.

Rev. David C. Ham, president of the Alliance, pointed out that the ministers desire to urge members of their congregations to turn in to the local Chamber of Commerce any information concerning apartments and rooms for rent.

Rev. Cecil Ellis, newly appointed pastor of the First Methodist Church, was given a welcome to the Alliance.

The meeting was closed with a prayer offered by Rev. M. W. Wilson, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene.

McDonald Says Indictment Is Just Politics

WASHINGTON, June 17 (UP)—The Texas and Georgia state agriculture commissioners today denied government charges of illegal lobbying and intimated that they were the result of politics.

Commissioners J. E. McDonald of Texas and Tom Linder of Georgia maintained they were only doing their job in trying to get the highest prices possible for farmers in their respective states. They were indicted here yesterday, along with a New York cotton broker, a Washington commodity trader and two farm organizations, on charges of violating the lobbying law by failing to register as lobbyists. The Federal grand jury indictment said they lobbied in behalf of legislation that would boost commodity prices for their own gain.

In Dallas, McDonald dismissed the indictment as "just politics."

Winners In 4-H Country Program Get Silver Medals

Four rural youth in this county are eligible to receive sterling silver medals to honor this year for having top records in the 1948 National 4-H Home Improvement awards program, according to G. L. Noble, Director of the National 4-H Club Committee.

By taking part in the program members learn how to make home improvements for beauty, comfort, health and safety in keeping with the needs of every member of the family, and at minimum cost. They also demonstrate to others what has been learned relative to home furnishings, arrangements and practices.

The highest rating county winner between 14 and 21 years old is selected to receive the state award of a Chicago 4-H Club Congress trip, provided by Sears-Roebuck Foundation. Eight state winners named for national honors each receives a $200.00 college scholarship.

Winners of county medals in 1947 were Elvira Benavides, Johnnie Lou Wright, Geneva Smith, Daphne Smith, Brooks; Betty Blackberry, Peggy Wilsford, Billie Bell, Mary Jo Gattis, Grayson; Anna Lee Middleton, Carolyn Phelps, Margaret Spencer, Lou Paula Davenport, Harris; Lelda Payne, Mamie Jenn Smith, Patsy Hall, Margaret Davis, Titus; Joyce Isbell, Uphur.

County extension agents will furnish details of this program.

South Has Voice In GOP Civil Rights Plank

PHILADELPHIA, June 17 (UP)—The deep south today demanded—and got—a voice in writing the Civil Rights plank for the Republican Party's campaign platform.

It was the only sign of friction as GOP leaders began framing the declaration of principles on which they hope to capture the Presidency this year, and it was expected to be settled amicably.

The demand for deep South representation in the drafting of a party declaration or sue hiccups as poll taxes, lynching and racial discrimination was raised by Orville Bullington, Wichita Falls, Texas. He presented the demand at the first meeting of the GOP's informal pre-convention resolutions committee.

Demand For Peanuts Quiet At This Time

Demand for peanuts continued slow this week in southwest markets, reports the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Light offerings of shelled No. 1 Spanish peanuts brought 16-3/4 to 17 cents per pound.

Mills were completing shelling and cleaning operations in all districts.

Peanut meal held around $78 per ton on 41 per cent protein content, but moved very slowly. Oil was slightly weaker with late quotations at low of 33 1/2 cents after holding at 35 for several days.

Peanut crops in south Texas are badly in need of rain, according to growers.

Bangs Corners Bug Barometer Hits

BANGS CORNERS, O. (UP)—The 17-year locusts are due soon in the northeastern states. According to a local nurserywoman, they will foretell whether we will have peace or war, which of us will die within the year and will usher in the greatest year for chicken raisers since 1931.

Miss Eunice Merton, Richfield Township nurserywoman, has a wide reputation as the Bangs Corners Bug Barometer.

"If the markings on their green laced wings make a big black W, the superstition says we will have war," she said.

Old-timers locally remember the W as being big and black in 1897 for the war with Spain and again in 1914 for World War I. It was faint and small, to be sure, in 1931, Miss Merton said, for the war in Manchuria which heralded the last great war.

The superstition that a person stung by a locust will die within the year is just that, Miss Merton said, since locusts "can't sting or bite but just look ferocious."

On the subject of chickens, Miss Merton etched 1931 when grain lay untouched in feeders while the fowl would knock each other down to get at the "lovely fat locusts."

Mike Davenport Not Seriously Hurt In Accident

A check on a report that Mike Davenport, formerly of Ranger, had been seriously injured in an accident near Graham, revealed this morning that he was only slightly injured and had been released from a hospital shortly after entering it.

Mrs. Ira Wolford, sister of Mr. Davenport, stated today that he had sustained a slight leg injury in an oil well accident near Graham in which one man was killed. Details of how the accident occurred were not known.

Report Reveals Ranger's "Dire" Need For Additional Water Supply

D. A. Bandoen, general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the Ranger City Commission and a few interested citizens Wednesday night to give a report on the recent water resources survey and reported that the conclusion of the survey is that Ranger is in "dire need" of additional water.

He stated that Lake Hagan has a total of 700 acre feet of water, about one eighth of an acre foot of water per person in Ranger, whereas there should be about two acre feet per person. He pointed out that average consumption per person per day is 140 to 150 gallons of water and Ranger is using about 100 gallons per day per person. "Ranger's minimum should be one acre foot per person or 6,300 acre feet," he said. He pointed out that there were three possible sources for extending the city's supply, one was to enlarge the water shed of Lake Hagan, build a new dam below the present dam at Lake Hagan or build a dam on Russell Creek.

As to financing he suggested that profits from the present water department might be used, that tax valuations might be increased, or that a water control and improvement district might be formed to handle the situation.

He pointed out that waters already impounded near Ranger are the property of the state and that Ranger should make application immediately for its appropriation part of this water and follow up later with whatever action was necessary.

Mr. Bandoen pointed out that this report is the first to be made

Well... I Dunno, But...

One of the most informative and entertaining talks that we've heard around here recently was made by George Hutson of Dallas who spoke to Rotarians and Lions Wednesday at noon on the subject "By Waves of Communications."

Mr. Hutson, is not only extremely well versed on the subject but he has an inimitable public speaking manner that wows 'em. Technical words rolled off his tongue like water off a duck's back. But he did oblige occasionally, by halting to explain to this writer what the big words meant.

But listen here, from what that guy told us Wednesday, your thoughts from here on out won't be your own private stock, so you better take a little soap and water to 'em.

He told about riding in New York while talking to a fellow worker who was riding around in Remo.

And furthermore, Mr. Husband, hereafter if you're away from home and don't want to talk to your wife, just don't answer the telephone. For very soon all she'll have to do is dial the number where you're supposed to be, whether it's New York or San Francisco, and presto she's got you. That is if you're there and want to talk to her.

And the telephone company laboratories, which he explained are the biggest in the world, have their fingers in several other pies. For instance, it's their control equipment that operates Uncle Sam's big guns and lot of other essentials. And it's all a matter of just harnessing up a bunch of waves that's flying around loose in the air.

But seem' is believin' and he sure showed us just what he was talking about.

Came to our attention this morning a little incident that reminds us, that agencies that are organized to serve the public can't operate on thin air and if you expect to get service out of 'em, you gotta cross the palm with silver. After all the people that are hired to carry out the work of these agencies have to eat, too.

Somebody was kidding us yesterday about writing about the weather. But, you know what, there's no other topic in the world that gets as much conversational attention as the weather.

Be it wet or dry, cold or hot, good, bad or indifferent, they talk about it. Betcha, that if you check it, that every person you talk to today will get around to talking about the weather before you get out of his company.

You can't get around it. It's a universal topic. Everybody has it whether they want it or not, and usually they don't like the kind they've got.

Chambers of Commerce broadcast the fine weather of their area to build cities and draw tourists. Come C of C's try to cover up the type they have and Texas always admits that our is unpredictable.

Yes sir, there's nothing like the weather for a topic of conversation.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

How to Live Longer

Someone asked Pappy Miller last week how he stayed so spry at ninety. Pappy told him:

"Well, sir—when I work, I work hard. When I set, I set loose. When I think, I go to sleep."

According to Doc Hollister, that formula isn't far amiss. "Hard work," says Doc, "never wore out anyone before his time, providing he knew how and when to relax."

Doc himself works overtime, with his daytime patients at the office, and his evening calls. And when he gets home he takes it easy with a mellow glass of beer and chats with the missus until it's time to go to bed.

From where I sit, relaxing is a fine art—especially in these tense, fast-moving times. And there's nothing like a temperate glass of beer—enjoyed with pleasant company—to restore that easy frame of mind that one needs after a hard day's work.

Arctic Short Cut Takes Civilization To Top Of World

WASHINGTON (UP)—The "Arctic short cut" to Siberia and northern Europe may become well traveled some day.

"Man's gradual extension of settlements into the Arctic," the National Geographic Society reports, "is blowing the warm breath of civilization deeper and deeper into the frozen northern frontier."

The report noted that two new weather stations to be set up by Canadian and U. S. meteorologists at Prince Patrick and Ellef Ringnes Islands "lie within 850 and 750 miles, respectively, of the North Pole."

"One of the many land fragments reaching beyond Canada's mainland, Ellef Ringnes, the nearest of the islands, is about 2,650 airline miles northwest of New York City," the report said.

"Looking across the Arctic short cut toward Siberia and the northern coast of Europe, the island is 2,700 miles from Leningrad, 2,900 miles from London.

Prince Patrick and Ellef Ringnes are part of Canada's vast mainland and island region known as the Northwest Territories. They are in a part of the world once written off as too remote and lacking in natural wealth for any use.

"Today," the National Geographic said, "it (the region) is taking on increasing significance as a result of the discovery of its potentially rich mineral resources and the far-reaching global developments of air transport."

This county and Canada already have set up weather stations at Ellesmere, Cornwallis, Melville, and Devon, islands of a group which covers an area of more than 500,000 square miles.

Most of the islands are inhabited only by occasional bands of musk oxen, sea birds, seals, and walrus. Days and nights are gets as low as 40 degrees and more below zero.

After the long winters, spring bursts suddenly bringing luxuriant spreads of wildflowers, dandelions, and poppies. Streams flow briskly, if briefly, and flocks of migrating birds fill the air.

The men who volunteers for year-long assignments at the weather stations depend for their entertainment on books and music. Phonograph records are prized. Airmail arrives once a month.

Foreign Students Invited To U. S.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UP)—A chance conversation on a subway car started a student project that is bringing 70 foreign students to attend Massachusetts Institute of Technology this summer.

The students were invited from 17 European countries and include representatives of states behind the "Iron Curtain."

Earl W. Sames, Jr., and Lloyd A. Haynes were returning from Boston to Cambridge when their conversation turned to the post-war troubles in Europe. Both had been in Europe during the war.

As a means of contributing to Europe's recovery and to aid world peace, they decided that it would be a wonderful thing to invite foreign students to study at M.I.T.

Other students, then the school itself and the U. S. State department took up the project. Fraternities offered to house the visitors and M.I.T. agreed to waive tuition.

Several thousand graduate students of science and engineering applied for the 70 vacancies. Allocations were made on the basis of war damage to the countries and no questions as to race, religion or politics were asked.

Steam From Valley Of Hell Gives New Hope To Coal-Starved Italy

By Aldo Forte
 United Press Staff Correspondent
ROME (UP)—The mighty strength of volcanoes in Italy's "Valley of Hell" soon may be harnessed and controlled in an attempt to render Italy independent of imported coal.

Carried out originally as a dream cherished by the late dictator, Benito Mussolini, the experiment now is being followed with success in the valley at Lardarolo in Tuscany. The live steam from nearly 300 natural and man-made wells is fast becoming Italy's great source of electric power.

To Wed Socialite

The exclusive social set of Palm Beach, Fla., is a-buzz over another surprise society romance. Millionaire Allen Pinkerton Carlisle, of Long Island, N. Y., and movie starlet Karin Booth, above, announced their engagement. Carlisle, 36, recently divorced, is a noted yachtman. The 27-year-old actress will wed under her legal name, June Frances Hoffman.

20 mile area has been known for more than 100 years, it is only recently that Italian engineers have turned over 300 of the once uncontrolled wells into more than 2,000,000 kilowatt hours of energy daily. From that source, electricity is furnished to operate the new electrified railroad between Pisa and Rome.

Eight huge turbine plants are turning out 32,800,000 kilowatt hours of electricity every month. More than 2,000 men are employed in the project, living in the strange and dangerous land where steam roars skyward.

New steam wells are being drilled. It takes nearly eight months to drill some of the wells, which go down 1,000 feet. Just before the workers strike steam, the crew dashes for safety. The escaping steam wrecks all drilling machinery not carried to safety in time. Rocks and volcanic lava gush out 1,000 feet with an explosion which can be heard 12 miles away.

Then for two weeks the well is allowed to clean itself out, after which it is capped and controlled, the steam being channeled into condensing tanks and converted into electrical energy.

Besides the great importance of the wells for electrical purposes, they also have a substantial output of boric acid and other by-products of boracic nature.

The young Italian reprobic is resorting to the exploitation of its numerous sources of hydro-electric power to free itself of coal importations. New projects are under way to exploit this so-called "white coal," plentiful throughout the peninsula.

The project's forecast production of a total of 5,931,000,000 kilowatt hours. The plan should be completed by 1952 and the government counts largely on Marshall Plan aid to see it through. Besides financial help, Italy needs supplies such as lumber, copper and dynamite to harness its numerous geysers, waterfalls and rivers.

Many Human Ailments Trace To Animals

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The animal kingdom is a reservoir for at least 75 diseases which are of potential public health significance, according to Dr. Karl F. Meyer, director of the Hooper Foundation at the University of California Medical School.

Almost every common domesticated animal was included in a list presented by Dr. Meyer of diseases transmittable to man.

When the offending animal can be destroyed, control of infection of man is effective, he said. He offered as an example the slaughtering of tubercular cattle.

Cultured Bugs Are Useful To Concern

CLEVELAND (UP)—To most persons bugs are a nuisance, but Dow Chemical Co. deliberately raises them.

The firm breeds a special kind of bug because the tiny forms of life eat an industrial waste material which chemists can't destroy in any other way.

The concern had difficulty getting rid of phenolic waste materials. Phenol is used in making varnish, plastics and drugs. After going through various manufacturing processes, the waste material came out in such diluted liquid form that it couldn't be removed, yet even small amounts of it would contaminate a river or lake.

Scientists solved the problem when they discovered bacteria which devour phenolic wastes and thrive on them. Dow now grows enough of the bugs to consume several thousand pounds of the waste a day.

It's a Statue

Lost you wonder if it's something you ate, be assured it's just a statue called "Kneeling Figure" F. E. McWilliam sculpted it, and it's showing at the Open Air Sculpture Exhibition in Battersea Park, London.

Without Painful Backache
 Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.
 The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
 When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
 Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills

Surgical Methods Born In War Credited With Saving Lives

ROME (UP)—During World War II modern surgery, developing new techniques and methods, reduced the mortality rate to a low unprecedented in warfare and saved millions of men from permanent disfigurement or disability.

"That only 15,000 amputations were done in more than a million (American) casualties was a tribute to the medical departments," Comdr. Morris Weintrob of Brooklyn told the International Congress of Surgeons here. "During the same period 120,000 (American) civilians lost limbs because of accidental injury or disease."

He delivered a paper on "Surgical Lessons of World War II," in connection with the opening of a United States Navy medical exhibit, which proved one of the high points of the convention. After the conference, the exhibit was taken on tour through northern Italy, upon request of medical authorities in several cities of that area.

Weintrob and Naval Capt. H. H. Kessler of Newark, N. J., demonstrated the exhibit.

"World War II produced no outstanding discovery in surgical technique," Weintrob said in his paper. "Nevertheless, several important lessons were learned."

"Results were better because trained specialists were brought closer to battle areas, whole blood and plasma were available earlier and in greater quantity, and rear area treatment by specialists was more highly concentrated."

One of the most useful discoveries war surgeons made was in a simplified treatment for burns. A simple petroleum jelly pressure dressing was found much superior to the complicated procedure previously used in treating burns, Weintrob said. Ery skin grafts were made possible by penicillin and sulfa and "gave excellent results in the healing and reconstruction of burned areas."

Airmen involved in crackups often were injured in the middle third of their faces, surgeons found. Surgeons devised new ways to prepare the patient for facial reconstruction jobs when he could be removed to base hospitals.

Navy genital officers developed a plastic eye which could be moved from side to side or up and down like a real one. It was also superior to glass eyes in that it was held in by suction and could not fall out. It also proved to be "weather proof."

Scores of heart operations were performed under battlefield conditions to remove sections of sharpnel or bullets lodged in the heart, Weintrob said.

Rights of Municipalities by our legal consultant, Judge C. E. Coombes; and, fourth, Form III Water Application Permit.

It appears from our preliminary investigations.

1. That Ranger's water supply is wholly inadequate, cannot be secured from underground sources, and that a far more adequate supply with adequate dam sites might be secured from Russell Creek or nearby streams.

2. That Ranger, by full utilization of its water revenues, by increasing its assessed value either through the municipality or a separate water district, and by possible relief by repeal of the State ad valorem tax for general revenue purposes, can finance an adequate water supply and distribution system.

We therefore recommend, contingent of course upon subsequent complete engineering, that the City of Ranger immediately file application with the State Board of Water Engineers for appropriation of all appropriable water on Russell Creek, or other nearby streams, up to 1230 acre feet of water annually, and for the right to construct a reservoir with a capacity up to 6500 acre feet, in accordance with Form III attached, and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce offers its cooperation in completing and submitting Ranger's application before the State Board of Water Engineers.

Respectfully submitted,
West Texas Chamber of Commerce.
Homer A. Hunter, Chairman
Water Engineering Board.
Winfield Holbrook, Chairman
Water Resource Development Com.

Father's Day Spokane Woman's Idea

Credit for originating Father's Day goes to Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, right, of Spokane, Wash. In 1898, inspired by love and sacrifice of her own Dad, who reared his six children after the death of their mother, she proposed a special day for honoring fathers. The Ministers Alliance and the Y.M.C.A. took up her idea, but it wasn't until 1910 that the first Father's Day was observed in Spokane. On the third Sunday of June, that year, a small band of women met in church for songs and verbal tributes to Dad. At that time there was entirely too much disrespect for fathers, Mrs. Dodd thought. Typical of that were such popular songs as "Father, Dear Father, Come Home With Me Now" and "Everybody Works but Father," which, she considered tended to spotlight the wrong type of father. Press, pulpit and women's groups took up the crusade and the International Father's Day evolved. The Rev. Conard Blumh, then pastor of the Centenary Church in Spokane, helped Mrs. Dodd draft the first petition for Father's Day. Besides being celebrated throughout our nation, the day is also observed in other countries. Mrs. Dodd's goal to have "fatherhood revered as greatly as motherhood" seems to have been achieved.

lowed to turn off the highway and they are warned to keep their vehicles in good working condition.

About two months ago the Russians ordered American and British repair stations along the route torn down. Now allied cars carry extra supplies of gasoline, tires and other spare parts. Furthermore, they have orders to help all non-Russian vehicles that have broken down inside the Soviet zone.

Besides travel, the Russians also control electric power for Berlin. By the flick of a switch they could black-out the four-power city completely from a power station inside the Soviet zone.

Now, as if in anticipation of such a move, the western Allies are speeding construction of a $400,000 power plant in the British section of the city.

The Soviet power supply, incidentally, furnishes electricity for DIAS, the powerful American-operated German language radio station in Berlin.

Despite the Soviet squeeze, life in Berlin goes on normally, from outward appearances at least. Both German and American telegraph and telephone communications between Berlin and western Germany still operate efficiently.

German freight trains arrive daily and unsuspected, the majority from western Germany. They carry American food imports which feed two-thirds of Berlin's 3,500,000 population.

The city's Americans, French and British are sitting tight. The American military governor, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, recently offered a free airplane ride home to any American civilian who wanted to leave Berlin. Only 23 out of 2,028 civilian employees took him up.

MARKETING with Marjorie

Between graduations, engagements and weddings, June is one of the most "entertaining" months in the year. So today I'm going to give you a few suggestions to help you give everyday fare a party air.

PRE-WEDDING RING

Giving a luncheon in honor of a bride-to-be? Then I can't think of a more appropriate main course than a rice ring filled with chicken a la king...or a better way to make one than with SUNNYFIELD RICE. This fine rice from the A&P cooks up as white as a wedding gown and as light as a honeymooner's heart. For a perfect union, combine 4 cups (cooked) with one of these: 1/4 cup minced parsley, 1 cup cooked peas or 1/2 cup sliced mushrooms.

ENTICING ICING Bell 1/2 cup A&P's ANN PAGE SYRUP until small amount dropped in cold water forms a soft ball (238° F.). Gradually pour hot syrup over 1 stiffly beaten egg white, beating constantly. Beat until spreading consistency, and add 1 tsp. A&P's ANN PAGE VANILLA EXTRACT.

IN THE PINK Is your guest of honor a sweet girl graduate? Serve a salad that looks as rosy as her future! To make it, pare a whole honeydew melon, cut a slice from end, remove seeds, and scoop out center portion. Fill cavity with A&P's SPARKLE STRAWBERRY GELATIN prepared according to package directions, and chill till gelatin is firm. Soften 6 ounces of cream cheese slightly with milk, add a few drops of red vegetable coloring, and frost entire outside of melon. Stud with strawberry halves, slice and serve on greens.

POST-WEDDING CAKE When you're entertaining newlyweds who are still up in the clouds, make them feel at home by serving cloud-light JANE PARKER ANGEL FOOD RING! This heavenly cake is so luscious they'll think it's fresh from your own oven... instead of A&P's. But if you want to add a personal touch, cover the top and sides with the fluffy frosting I'm going to give you the recipe for right now.

ALLies Marooned By Soviet Block Of Berlin Area

By Wellington Long United Press Staff Correspondent BERLIN (UP)—Thirty thousand British, French and Americans have been marooned on this political island in the center of the Russian-occupied zones ever since the "Berlin squeeze" started weeks ago.

Airplanes offer one of the two ways into and out of this island city, by flying along a sharply defined air corridor over the Russian zone along an international highway blocked at either end by Soviet border guards.

Even allied freight must be flown out of the city. Military freight trains still enter, but only from western Germany.

Back in Harness LAFAYETTE, Ind. (U.P.)—Floyd Fuqua, a retired fireman, went back into action when he saw a fire near his home. Fuqua used a two and a half gallon fire extinguisher to keep the blaze under control until fire engines arrived.

HONGKONG (UP) — "Floating fortresses" are being outfitted here to smash gangs of Chinese pirates and extortionists operating against shipping in South China. They are American landing craft which are being reinforced, armored and equipped with rapid-fire guns and 20-foot steel look-out towers. The shallow-draft vessels — ideal for operation in South China inland waters — will accommodate at least 100 soldiers each and operate from "mother ships."

Piracy has been prevalent in South China waters for hundreds of years.

Automobiles--

will be able to talk by telephone from automobiles, trains, airplanes and ships at sea to any other telephone in the world. The speaker said.

Mr. Hutson demonstrated the remarkable behavior of these mysterious waves which we never see, hear or feel, but which have a great bearing on our lives today, and will have even greater importance in years to come. The micro-wave beam pierced a sheet of cardboard and a section of plywood, singly and together, but could not get through Hutson's hand. It could get through a grill held with lines in horizontal position but was blocked when the grill lines were vertical. The explanation for this phenomena was that these waves are polarized—or travel like waves on the ocean.

He went into detail to explain how eventually Ranger through a network of lines and use of the micro-waves will be able to talk from automobiles traveling along the highways, to points in the network of automobile telephone service.

In closing he gave a brief outline of the nationwide operator dialing system which he says is in the offing; Overseas telephone service; explained the gaint vacuum tubes and radar tubes, quartz crystal filters and the proximity fuse idea of dialing.

With Mr. Hutson here for the lecture were George Brown of

Russia And West
Reach Deadlock
In German Zone

By JOHN B. McDERMOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent
BERLIN (UP) — Events of the past three months have been established beyond doubt that Russia and the Western Allies plan to go their separate ways in Germany.

Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, Soviet military governor in the Allied Control Council, tossed gasoline on a smoldering fire when he walked out on a Control Council meeting March 20.

A series of explosions followed in succession. Anti-British and anti-American propaganda flooded Germany's Soviet zone. Rail, air, and highway restrictions to and from Berlin were announced by Soviet officials. The Russian zone economic commission was propped up by placing Communists in key positions.

In western Germany it appeared that the Russians moves were part of a planned offensive to force the three Allied powers out of Berlin.

But two key developments upset their schedule:
1. They did not expect the American commander, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, to put up such strong resistance.

2. A collision between a Soviet fighter plane and a British passenger aircraft increased tension to a point where the U. S. and Britain were ready to go all the way to halt Russian aggression.

Apparently Moscow was badly informed about the American stand in this quadripartite German capital. Clay stood his ground and the western powers rallied to his side.

Dallas and Ed Paschen of Mineral Wells. Other guests at the luncheon and lecture were Lions Nicol Crawford, R. V. Galloway, J. Floyd Killingsworth, T. J. Anderson, J. A. Bates, and Rev. Cecil Ellis, minister of the First Methodist Church and Marion Thomas of Trinidad.

The program was arranged by Roterian Willard Swapey.

Just how badly the Control Council bogged down in efforts toward four power unity in Germany is seen in its 30 month record.

Russia used her veto power 69 times or 72 per cent of the time on legislation approved by the U. S., Great Britain and France. The United States used the veto 12 times, France 13 times and Britain twice.

Three-power unity was not the only thing that rankled the Russians. What stuck in their craw more than anything else was the way the U. S. and Britain went ahead with setting up Bizonia despite Soviet objections.

The progress of the Marshall Plan added more fuel to the fire. Russians strenuously objected apparently because ERP aid to western Europe also would help western Germany.

of "secret diplomacy" came next from Soviet quarters. The Russians declared that this and the other events added up to the fact that the western Allies were trying to split rather than unify Germany. But the three powers countered by pointing out that it was Russia who had blocked most of the Control Council steps for the recovery of Germany.

Charges and counter charges mounted. The stage was set. Sokolovsky stalked out of the Control Council chambers on March 20. His action rocked the four-power government so dangerously that now it appears to have collapsed completely.
