U. S., Britain Clamp/Blockade On Soviets

Well... I Dunno, But...

There's just nothing more vicious looking than a brahma bull and the ones that Homer Todd has already brought into Ranger for the rodeo this week are tougher looking than the average. They've really got a mean hump on 'em.

The arena is beginning to take on the rodeo look with part of the stock in the pens. There are calves, the bulls and horses.

Incidentally the arena sure looks fine and all the effort that the Jaycees have been putting out really shows up.

We've got the post-election drag this morning and looks like most of the crew has, too. And even if we could scare up an idea, we're afraid it'd hurt. Merely lifting the little finger requires an argument to get up the energy to do it.

And there's no rest ahead this week, what with four nights of rodeo along with the regular routine.

Well, what do you think. Somebody labeled this a gossip column Sunday. But that can't be because a gossip tells all he knows and if I'd tell all we know, we'd end in the penitentiary.

In fact, there are laws against printing some of the things we know.

The husband very tactfully suggested yesterday that maybe we should wear our glasses all of the time after we had mistaken two people for somebody else.

However, it didn't bother the mistaken persons but it sure made us blush.

We see that the U. S. finally got wise and is giving the Russians a dose of their own medicine and givin' the same reason for doing it.

Yes sir, that's a game that two can play.

Chigger Cure Recommended LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—Don't scratch that chigger bite but try fingernail polish. The polish eases the itch and dries up the bite, according to O.S. Bare, entomologist at the University of Nebraska. Acetone in the polish has the same effect as a salve on a burn, he said.

Ku Kluxers Initiate 450 In Fiery Cross Rites

White Stone Mountain looming through the blackness in the background, fiery cross burns over the ceremonies as 450 men are initiated into the Ku Klux Klan in Atlanta, Ga. About 2000 clansmen and several thousand spectators watched the well-advertised rites. Grand Dragon Samuel Green climaxed the gathering, telling the white-robed Klansmen the South would fight "Yankee" attempts to enforce racial equality.

NEBRASKA HAS LAKE AND CORNHUSKERS SEE POSSIBILITIES

OGALLALA, Neb. (UP)—No one has been trying to keep it a secret, but there is a lake a few miles from this town that many people, including Nebraskans, don't know about.

The situation may be changed one of these days. There are people who think the lake can be one of the "playgrounds of the Middle West," thereby enabling the Cornhusker state to cash in on some of the tourist crop.

Lake McConaughy, which measures 55 square miles, was built for work. Its purpose is to irrigate farmland. Now some people think there is no reason why gay-shirted vacationers should not frolic on its sandy beaches.

Prominent among those who think so is Mrs. Marcella Allen of Lincoln. As secretary of the Nebraska Reclamation Association, she first love is irrigation, but she also plugs for anything else she thinks might develop the state.

She, therefore, does not hesitate to spread the word about Lake McConaughy. She doesn't care how many people get in on the ground floor of what may be a new Nebraska industry.

Construction on the dam that holds back waters of McConaughy was started in 1936. It was completed in 1941. The lake grew up during the war when the people had other things to think about. As a result, Mrs. Allen says, not enough people are aware of Big McConaughy's recreational potential.

The word has got around to some, however. One Sunday morning about 10,000 cars were courted around the lake. The state fish and game commission reports that four tons of crappies were fished out of the clear, blue water in a single day.

"All this happened without avertizing," Mrs. Allen points out. "And with practically no accommodations for tourists."

One eating place is located on the lake, Mrs. Allen says. It seats 11. The day the 10,000 cars were counted, a man who sells bait had 2,000 customers. Mrs. Allen says things like that cause her to believe there is room for business expansion.

Kleiner Pool And Kirk Pool Wells Watched

Two large wells, one in the Kleiner pool in the northwestern part of the county, the other in the Kirk pool along the Eastland-Comanche border, were the highlights of oil development during the past week.

The Lone Star Producing Company's producer on the Kincaid struck almost as thick a pay sand as in the discovery well when 350 feet of the Mississippi lime was found and the new well is reported as having pumped over 300 barrels, which is even better than the first one. This flow was through choke; under the boom-day procedure of wide-open flow, oil men declare it would make several thousand barrels a day. The new producer in the No. 4 Kincaid.

One of the best in recent weeks in the Kirk pool is the No. 1 Sanders of the W. B. Johnson Drilling Co. of Longview, which produced 305 barrels in 15 barrels through a 20-64 choke.

Latest official reports in this area include the following locations:

Coast Oil Corp's No. 1 H. H. Richardson and No. 1 G. Bell, both in Kirk; Ryan, Hays & Burke No. 1 J. W. Rushing, Marble Falls test, two miles northeast of Desdemona; Phillips Petroleum Co., No. Rea, Ellenburger test, two miles northwest of Sedwick in Shackelford County; J. D. Sander Jr. No. 1 W. W. Allen, Blake Caddo field, four miles east of Cross Cut, in Brown County; B. F. Phillips No. 1 E. L. Findley B. wildcat, four and one-half miles northwest of Putnam, in Callahan County.

Band To Rehearse Tonight, Tuesday

Members of the Ranger school band are requested to be at the band-hall tonight at 6:30 and Tuesday night at 7:30 for rehearsals in preparation for the rodeo.

All members who expect to play at the rodeo will have to attend the rehearsals, it was pointed out today.

Yugoslavia Still Pro-Soviet

BELGRADE, July 26 (UP)—Yugoslavia will continue its "anti-imperialist" pro-Soviet policy without change despite the attack by the Cominform, Vice Premier Eduard Kardelj told the Communist Party Congress today.

Gate Crashers Got Ride RICHMOND, Va. (UP)—Police rented a 50-passenger bus to use as a paddy wagon for gate crashers at midweek auto races at the Atlanta rural exposition grounds. The bus made several trips to jail loaded each time.

STEVENSON-JOHNSON MAJOR RACE IN AUGUST RUNOFF

DALLAS, Tex. July 26 (UP)—Former Gov. Coke R. Stevenson and U. S. Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson today faced a runoff campaign for the U. S. Senate seat being vacated by W. Lee O'Daniel.

Returns to the election bureau showed Stevenson with a comfortable lead over Johnson, but not the majority for nomination without a runoff.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester had an apparent majority in his bid for a second term.

In other statewide races, one upset loomed. Associate Justice of the Supreme Court W. St. John Garwood, an appointee of Jester, appeared headed for defeat at the hands of a politically "unknown" Austin attorney, Jefferson G. Smith.

The Election Bureau's latest tabulation on the Senate race gave Stevenson 409,272; Johnson 329,853.

Supreme Court — Garwood 405,426, Smith 407,110.

No. congressional incumbent was beaten, but one—Rep. Tom Pickett of the 7th district—faced a runoff with veteran Nat Patton, whom he ousted from the office in 1944.

The Stevenson-Johnson runoff will be the only major one of statewide significance in the Aug. 28th primary. And the principal regional attractions will be run-offs in the 7th, 10, and 15th Congressional districts.

Retiring Rep. Milton West's 15th district seat will be contested between Lloyd M. Bentzen, Jr. of Weslaco and Phillip Kazen of Laredo.

W. K. McClain of Georgetown and Creekmore Fath of Austin were engaged in a heated race for the second place in a runoff with Homer Thornberry of Austin for the 10th district seat being vacated by Johnson.

Two Softball Games Scheduled

Two softball league games are scheduled for this week with the Ranger Transfer team and Minnie meeting tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the Ranger field. The Rangers and Desdemona will play Tuesday night and no other games will be played here until after the rodeo.

The Rangers will go to Breckenridge tonight where they will meet the VFW team at 8:15 o'clock.

Vet Insurance Reinstatement Deadline August 1

This is the last week for reinstatement of lapsed National Service Life Insurance on a "comparative health" basis, Scott B. Harrington, Manager of the Dallas, Texas Veterans Administration Regional Office reminded veterans.

Before August 1, an eligible veteran may reinstate any amount of term insurance—from $1,000 to $10,000, in multiples of $500—regardless of the length of time it has been lapsed, and usually without a physical examination.

He need only fill out a simple application form, in which he certifies that his health is as good as when the policy lapsed, and pay premiums for two months.

The privilege of reinstating on this basis will be available after July 31 only to veterans whose policies have been lapsed for less than three months. Where the period of lapse is three months or longer, the veteran will be required a physical examination and qualify as an insurable risk.

Body Of Lost Flyer Found; Funeral Wed.

Mrs. J. H. Goodrun of Ranger has received word that the body of her grand-nephew Jaes F. Rust who has been missing since December 3, 1947 has been found in the wreckage of his plane on Thomas Mountain in California.

The body was found Saturday and funeral services will be held Wednesday in San Bernardino, California.

At the time of the crash, Rust who was a student flyer was on a solo flight from San Bernardino to San Diego. An intensive search at the time was fruitless.

The flyer formerly resided in Ranger and Eastland and his wife who survives him is the former Ina Faye Norris of Carbon.

Other survivors are his father, a four year old son, a sister, Mrs. Doyle Flynn, all of San Bernardino and a brother, Virgil Rust who is in the Navy.

Mrs. Brittain Passes At Her Eastland Home

Funeral services for Mrs. T. J. Brittain, 73, 410 North Connelloe, Eastland will be conducted today at 3:00 p. m. at Hamner Funeral Home. She died Sunday morning at 8:10 in her home.

Survivors are her husband, and four children: Mrs. Mammie Hardaway, Pecos; Mrs. Midge Bates, Rossmore, Cal.; T. J. Brittain, Jr., Los Angeles; Orval H. Brittain, Odessa; 12 grand children, two great grand children, three sisters, Mrs. Mamie Pistole, Eastland, Mrs. Ella Davis San Benito and Mrs. Willie Davis, Ranger.

The deceased was born December 14, 1874 at Springfield, Mo., and has lived in Eastland for three years and in the County for some time. Interment will be in Eastland Cemetery.

Mother Of Former Resident Dies

Funeral services for Mrs. Oscar Marley of Wichita Falls were conducted at Wichita Falls this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Marley was the mother of Mrs. Mark Huff of Rusk, formerly of Ranger, and died in Wichita Falls Saturday.

Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Harris were in Wichita Falls Sunday to be with the family.

EASTLAND MAN KILLED. According to reports received in Eastland by the Eastland county sheriff's office Sunday afternoon, San Garrett of Eastland, was accidentally killed Sunday at

CONTESTED RACES ARE ALL SETTLED

The votes cast in Eastland County Saturday in the Democratic primary, had not all been tabulated Saturday morning. In fact one or two small boxes with not more than 50 or 75 votes were unreported.

According to the best information available this morning the contested County and district races in the County were all definitely settled.

Judge Geo. L. Davenport, incumbent, won over his opponent Earl Conner, Jr., by at least 150 votes.

Allen D. Dabney will go into a run-off with Cecil C. Collings for Associate Justice of Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals, Courtney Gray, incumbent, having been the third man in the race.

Sheriff Williams is leading his opponent Jack White by at least 379 votes.

County Judge P. L. Crossley is leading his opponent Claborne Eldridge by better than 350 votes. Billie Mac Jobe of Baird defeated both of his opponents, R. L. Pearson, incumbent of Ranger, and Charles H. Dawson of Cross Plains, in the race for Floterial Representative of Eastland and Callahan counties.

Turner Collier of Eastland, incumbent, was an easy winner over his opponent, Millard Slaughter of Cisco.

Charles Bobo was unopposed for justice of the peace and there will be a run-off between M. R. (Dick) Blackwell and Ike Lee for constable of precinct No. 2.

Other survivors are Mrs. Daisy Chappel of Christoval, Oscar Boen, Dave Boen and Clyde Boen of San Angelo, Virgil Boen, Del Rio; Howard Boen, California; Mrs. Dell Becker, N. M.; Mrs. Fannie Huffstader, Lubbock.

The deceased is well known in Eastland, having visited her daughter, Mrs. Ernest and her granddaughter, Mrs. Harris, here many times.

Mrs. and Mrs. Harris will leave tonight for San Angelo to be with the family and attend the last rites.

Special Session Of Congress Convenes Today

WASHINGTON, July 26, (UP)—The GOP controlled 80th Congress convened in extra session at President Truman's call today, ready to give the President a firm "no" on meat rationing and price controls.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., and Senate President Arthur Vandenberg called the two houses into session at noon, EDT., after a leadership meeting to lay out the Republican plan of action.

The President will appear tomorrow before a joint meeting of House and Senate to deliver in person his legislative requests for an anti-inflation program and other laws he considers necessary now.

Mr. Truman invited Democratic leaders from each house to come to his office for a preview of his message. He expected to complete the final draft during the day and show it to four Democratic senators and four Democratic representatives at 3:30 P.M.

Despite an expected request for them by the President there was little prospect the Republicans would permit the return of rationing and price controls.

Ranger Police Locate Run-Away McCamey Girl

Through the efforts of Ranger police a 14 year old McCamey girl enroute to her home with her mother after having run away from her home during the weekend.

Chief W. G. Founds stated this morning that the father of the girl called him Sunday and stated that he believed the girl to be here. After a check it was learned that the girl had been here but had gone on to Dallas.

Ranger police located the girl there and her mother who had come to Ranger went on to Dallas this morning to return the girl to her home.

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce announced today that tickets to the rodeo are now ready and all who have reserved tickets are requested to call at the C. E. May Insurance office and pick up the tickets.

Tickets are still available and those who wish to secure tickets are urged to do so at once.

EMBARGO PUT ON ALL RAIL SHIPMENTS EXCEPT MAIL

BERLIN, July 26, (UP)—The American and British military governments today sealed the borders of their occupation zones in Western Germany against railway traffic into or out of the Russian Zone.

The Anglo-American embargo on rail shipments destined for or coming from Soviet-occupied Germany was one of the most drastic measures employed by the west in the crisis over the Russian blockade of Berlin.

The Western Powers attributed their action to "technical difficulties." That was the reason given by the Soviets when they clamped their land blockade on Berlin.

Maj. Gen. Charles Gross, deputy chief of transportation for the Anglo-American zone of Western Germany, sent a message to transportation officers which said "Due to technical difficulties, bi-zonal authorities cannot in August accept for movement across the United States and United Kingdom, zone railway traffic, exclusive of mail, originating in or terminating in the Soviet Zone."

The order in effect cut the Russian zone all forms of surface transportation also traversing the western zones. Barge traffic has been paralyzed for weeks. Thirty-four barges bound for Berlin from the west were being held up by the Russians, and 24 Soviet craft were interned in the British Zone.

The new rail embargo automatically cancelled out the shipment of more than 70,000 tons to the Soviet zone, scheduled for early August. The bulk was from Italy. Return shipments from the East included 30,000 tons of coal for Switzerland and 15,000 tons of Minerals and miscellaneous cargo for Italy.

High level representatives of the United States, Great Britain and France discussed a new approach to Moscow today at possibly the most crucial three-power meeting since the breakup of the foreign ministers council last December.

Top diplomats talked for more than an hour in the office of Sir William Strang, Foreign Undersecretary.

The three western powers must decide whether the new approach should be made personally by their ambassadors or some other high representatives, or by a further exchange of notes.

A foreign office spokesman said no final draft of a new note to Moscow had been approved.

Canada Probes Plane Crash

RIMOUSKI, Canada, July 26 (UP)—Department of transportation officials began an investigation today into the crash of a twin-engine DC-3 airliner on Gaspé Peninsula, killing 29 persons, including 22 vacation-bound lumberjacks. It was the worst air tragedy in Dominion history.

Tom And Ike, They Smile Alike. Somebody must have said something funny, as Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, left, and Republican candidate Gov. Thomas E. Dewey met at Dewey's Pawling, N. Y., farm. The conference was "non-political," but both men agreed that America "must stand with absolute firmness in Berlin."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

80th Congress' UN Support Leaves Much to Be Desired

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—What the last Congress did to the United Nations was both good and bad. Congressmen still view UN with fishy eyes.

Most important favorable action was Senate passage of the Vandenberg resolution, reaffirming U. S. intent to work for peace through UN. Being just a Senate action not requiring a vote by the House nor signing by the President, the Vandenberg resolution is not law. But it is an important policy statement. It backs up the President, State Department and U. S. mission to UN.

Ultimate revision of the UN charter is cautiously called for by the Vandenberg resolution if other, voluntary means for ending use of the veto on international dispute cases and admission of new members do not prove successful. Main purpose of the Vandenberg resolution, however, is to let the world know that the Senate is behind all efforts to promote regional security pacts and disarmament, while at the same time strengthening the United Nations world police force.

RECORD of the last Congress falls short of this goal. Congress provided enough money—over $13,000,000—for the U. S. share of UN expenses. It provided another million plus for pay of the U. S. mission to the UN—now numbering 188. Congress failed, however, to authorize appointment of another U. S. deputy to serve on the Security Council with Ambassador Austin and Dr. Philip C. Jessup.

Congress also failed to complete action on a $65,000,000 non-interest loan to finance construction of new UN headquarters buildings on the Rockefeller-donated site in New York.

Toward auxiliary organizations of the United Nations, the Congress showed pretty general indifference, if not outright distrust.

After much pressure upon it, Congress approved U. S. affiliation with the World Health Organization. However, three restrictive conditions were tied on to the measure.

Congress also tied conditions onto U. S. participation in the International Children's Emergency Fund relief work. Last year Congress gave ICEF $40,000,000. This year Congress was asked for $60,000,000 more. It cut this to $35,000,000, specifying that none of this money could be spent behind the iron curtain. It also provided that other countries would have to put up $28 for every $72 put up by the U. S.

For International Refugee Organization, Congress also did some fancy cutting. It provided $70,000,000 for the U. S. share, with other countries putting up $54.25 for every $45.75 from the U. S. Another qualification was that only 60 per cent of the U. S. funds could be spent unless the diet in the refugee camps was reduced.

WHETHER any of these limitations on an international agency by the U. S. Congress can be made binding is a question no one can now answer.

Congress also refused to ratify a convention on privileges and immunities for officials of other governments serving the UN in the U. S. Authority to loan U. S. government technical experts to UN organizations also failed to get action.

Revisions in the International Labor Organization charter were approved, but some of the ILO conventions were not ratified. U. S. membership in an Intergovernmental Maritime Consultative Organization was not acted on.

An international wheat agreement which would have set top and bottom prices for the principal exporting and importing nations failed to get action. As a result, the cost of Marshall Plan relief purchases of wheat is expected to be increased.

Charter of the new International Trade Organization was not submitted to Congress for ratification this year. That, the UN building fund loan and many of the other matters which could not be considered will be up before the next Congress.

THE SCOREBOARD

Senior Circuit Race Is Open; Braves Haven't Cinched Flag

BY JIM O'LEARY
NEA Staff Correspondent

(Pinch-hitting for NEA Sports Editor Harry Grayson, who is en route to London to report the Olympic Games.)

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Old-timers can now tell the pennant winners simply by the Fourth of July rule. But not this department. It's all too confusing.

Talk the senior circuit, for example. The Boston Nationals, leading the crop, should be a shoo-in.

Pickers Johnny Sain, Bill Voiselle and Lefty Warren Spahn are breezing along. Veteran rightfielder Tommy Holmes, rookie shortstop Al Dark and leftfielder Jeff Heath are hitting. Catcher Phil Masi, Dark, second baseman Eddie Stanky and his understudy Connie Ryan, plus centerfielder Jim Russell have given the Braves defensive strength up the middle where it counts most.

The bats of first sacker Earl Torgerson and third baseman Bill (Most Valuable Player) Elliott are sure to get hotter. The leadership couldn't be better. Everyone knows what Billy Southworth did in St. Louis back in 1942-43-44.

What else does a club need?

But what's the catch. Eddie Stanky, the infield spark, is gone for 60 days. That takes the club into mid-September with Connie Ryan, capable enough second sacker, plugging the gap.

The Pirates—maybe. Too much may depend on the batting strength of outfielder Ralph Kiner.

Fritz Ostermueller, 41 come World Series time, is carrying a terrific mound load.

But you can't count the Pirates out when they still hover around second place annoyingly.

Wonders Man Musial and the other hustling Red Birds are appreciated at home, and respected the league over.

Manager Eddie Dyer says, "If I can keep my regulars in the lineup and get a little more pitching help, we'll be tough to beat."

The Giants seem to have made their bid. The Polo Grounders are limping along on catcher Walker Cooper's bad leg with no pitchers to support the bats of Whis Key, Bobby Thomson and Whitey Lockman, but outfielders, to say nothing of home-run clouting first baseman Johnny Mize.

And just when everyone was giving up on Brooklyn including the legendary Dodger fans—wham!

Apparently Manager Leo Durocher has found a line-up that will suit him two days in a row.

Now that everyone knows what type of glove to take onto the field, the Braves are on the move.

So while things look very bright up in Beantown and the Hub is getting to be a National League town for the first time since Stallings' Miracle Club of 1914, the pennant still isn't in the bag. The race is on and it will be fun to watch.

Marathoner, Cows Disrupt Traffic

READING, Mass. (UP)—Clarence DeMar is hailed as "Old Man Marathon" because he is a perennial competitor and seven-time winner of the famed Boston A. A. road race. He finally has found a way to put his endurance racing to use—catching cows.

DeMar has a suburban farm here and owns two cows. Deciding to take a vacation he found a farmer willing to take care of his livestock. The only catch was that DeMar must deliver the cows to a Wilmington farm.

DeMar captured the cows and set off down a highway on foot with the pair in tow. An automobile roared past and one cow snapped its chain and set off across the countryside. DeMar lit out and effected a capture.

A short distance along the road, a car came past and the cow galloped off. Twice more it happened and finally traffic on the road became so entangled with cows and DeMar the police escorted the safari to Wilmington.

Nobody Loves Forever

By Margareta Brucker

THE STORY: Jessica goes to a movie with Doris and sees David in the audience—with Sara Lincoln. She feels she must speak to him and phones him at his office. David urges her to meet him that afternoon. She agrees. Mrs. Blake has overheard the phone call and tells Jessica that after Tom's return "there'll be no more of this gossipy talk about with strange men." Jessica tells Mrs. Blake that her marriage to Tom has been a mistake.

XXI

JESSICA dressed rapidly, late for her engagement with David, woke Betsy and hurried her into her clothes and across the street where Doris was busily engaged cleaning out her closets.

"Bill's coming home," said Doris over her shoulder. "After the training he's had in the Navy he'll expect to have the place looking shipshape, won't he? I got off early this afternoon. I'm not going back to work until Monday so if you want me to keep Betsy any time—"

Jessica smoothed Betsy's ruffled curls. "It will not be long now until we leave here," she said confidently.

"Any further word from Tom?" Doris frowned at a spot on a man's cheap sports coat and removed the coat from his hanger. Betsy ran about eagerly investigating the contents of a box Doris set on the floor for her to examine.

Jessica stood in the doorway stripping her gloves through her nervous hands. "No," she said, "but he's due home any day now. I'm planning to leave just as soon as I can after he arrives."

Doris shot her a glance. "You think it will be easy?"

"How can he keep me?"

Doris shrugged. "I've never known anyone more stubborn than Tom Blake, unless it is his daughter."

Jessica left with that, stifling her own doubts as she took the bus, and wishing that she had abided by her first decision not to see David.

BUT just seeing him dispelled all doubts. It was fun to have a handsome, broad-shouldered man come forward to greet you every day. Exciting to read the gleam in his bright eyes.

"You look wonderful today," he said, and his eyes darkened. "But this is no place to tell a woman that you love her."

Jessica said, "I'm a fool to see you after begging you not to call me, David."

"Such a lovely fool."

"David, I'm scared," she said.

"Scared?"

"Of myself. I can't explain exactly. Maybe I'm trapped by a sense of duty. Maybe I'm infected with a feeling of obligation which makes me fear I won't have the strength to oppose Tom when he comes."

"What do you mean, exactly?"

"I'm afraid of Tom's mother, David. Really, I'm not being silly about this." She told him about the scene that afternoon and David listened gravely.

"It's probably just as well that she knows the truth," he said. "Why not tell her quite frankly that you plan to divorce her son?"

"I couldn't," Jessica shivered. "There will be unpleasantness enough later. Besides, I owe it to Tom to tell him first."

There were so many things Jessica wanted to discuss with David that afternoon. Mrs. Blake's growing influence with Betsy, her attempt to awaken Betsy's interest in her father, her own uneasiness. But there were eager plans for the future to discuss, too. Already David had requested a leave of absence. Possibly he might be sent abroad for his firm, and it was not impossible that he could combine business and a honeymoon.

Events moved swiftly these days. Rationing was abandoned on many things, regulations lifted. Was it impossible that he and Jessica take a wedding trip on a clipper to Europe?

She found herself alarmed by David's indifference to any obstacle which might arise to prevent the fulfillment of these plans, plans which seemed fantastic and unreal as Jessica listened.

THEY drove deep into the park where David had surprised her that day in October. He stopped the car and indicated the bench where she had sat so lonely, never dreaming that she would see again the man she had talked with at the airport—David. Odd now, to think of David as a stranger.

"There was never a doubt in my mind about you from the first moment I saw you, Jessica," he said. "You were lovely then—you are beautiful now. That's because you belong to me."

But she didn't belong to David—not yet.

She couldn't bear to discourage him when he pleaded with her to let him hold her in his arms.

All wrong, she knew, knew with an odd and growing sense of apprehension, a strange presentiment that they were crowding their luck.

"David," she spoke his name brokenly, her heart torn by a great fear.

David said, "You're crying. This is no time to cry. Look, darling, tell me why you are afraid."

She only clung to him, unable to put into words her feeling, unwilling to spoil this hour with doubts and apprehensions. Beset by a sense of benevolence, she lifted her face to meet his good-by kiss.

Maybe she lacked courage. Maybe weakness explained her failure to have the hope David held that they would soon be happy together. Possibly she was a coward, unable to make the right decision. Why else should she stand and look after David's car as it drove away, wanting to cry out and beg him to take her with him?

Jessica was obsessed by a feeling of deep despair which haunted her all that evening. There were so many obstacles between her and the new happiness David considered so certain.

Buffalo Bill Recounts 3 Escapes From Redskins In Frontier Days

NORTH PLATE, Neb. (UP)—The Lone Ranger and Silver or Gene Autry and Champ have nothing on one of the old west's real heroes—William F. (Buffalo Bill) Cody.

Forgotten details of the life of the famous frontier scout and his faithful horse, Brigham, have come to light here. A copy of the New York Waverly, dated Dec. 11, 1886, was unearthed when a home was being renovated.

The paper carried an interview with Cody, describing two escapes from the Indians.

Cody got his nickname after he had contracted to furnish buffalo meat to feed workers on the Kansas Pacific railroad.

The first escape from the Indians related by the scout involved his favorite horse. The escape took place in 1868 in the Smoky Hill country, Kansas.

Drawing in sight of the Smoky Hill River, Cody saw Indians. He wheeled and started Brigham at a "brisk pace."

"The Indians followed. They were

"well-mounted braves and armed with rifles," according to the account.

But let Cody tell the story as he did to a newsman 62 years ago. "My horse made a spurt, and, for two or three miles, did the finest running of that record. The Indians had good horses and one who rode a spotted horse gained on me far ahead of the rest. He had a rifle and sent several bullets around me that gave warning that my time had come to make a stand or get shot in the back.

"I think Brigham knew the time had arrived to face about and fight. Suddenly I wheeled my horse and, quickly raising my rifle to my shoulder, I sent a bullet into the head of the spotted animal. At the crack of my rifle, horse and Indian fell in a heap. I suppose they were some 80 yards distant. I did not wait but dashed away with the speed of the wind."

The other escape he described took place when Cody and a companion, identified only as Scotty, were trapped on the plains while hunting.

Cody was well-mounted and said he could have outrun his attackers. Scotty was driving a light wagon and mules and Buffalo Bill refused to abandon him.

They quickly piled butchered buffalo meat around the wagon to construct a makeshift barricade. The Indians immediately killed the horse and mules and circled the improvised fort.

Cody said he had arranged for the cavalry to come to his rescue if they ever saw smoke near where he was hunting.

While Scotty diverted the Indians, Cody set fire to the grass on the leeward side of the wagon, sending up swirling smoke.

"The red warriors began a war dance at what they considered a piece of folly," the hunter recalled. "None of them suspected I had given a signal for aid.

About an hour later the pair was rescued by the arrival of the troops who saw the smoke signal. Five dead Indians were found had taste in your mouth, your coffee (and tobacco) lose their natural flavor, your food does not agree with you; you may have heartburn, gas and dizziness; at night the gas in your bowels may press upon your bladder making you get up frequently, thus breaking into your sleep.

In the morning you are tired instead of refreshed. Gradually your health is impaired.

Your complexion may become sallow or bilious; dark rings may appear under your eyes; you may feel lazy, dull and irritable or blue and melancholic. You may have frequent colds (catarrh) or dull head-ache; your bowels stop their free, full and natural action; you have constipation, gas, putrefaction and self-poisoning. "Intestinal toxemia" or "acute gastritis" as many doctors call it.

HOW TO GET RELIEF

You can relieve this condition, usually overnight, by taking Calotabs at bedtime and drinking water freely next day.

The beneficial effects of Calotabs lie in the fact that they are (1) laxative, (2) antiseptic to the intestines, (3) diuretic to the kidneys, (4) effective in relieving symptoms of biliousness and acute gastritis due to constipation or faulty digestion.

Calotabs are pleasant to take (sugar coated), prompt and effective. Try them and see. Follow label directions. At your drugstore.

Spare Those Snakes Naturalist Pleads

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UP)—A movement in Kansas to give snakes a break may or may not succeed.

But Russell Camp, director of the museum of natural history at the University of Kansas, said it was a time people showed more consideration for snakes, especially the rodent-killing, harmless types.

Of course, Camp said, there are rattlesnakes, copperheads and cottonmouth moccasins in Kansas which deserve to be killed. He hopes to educate Kansas residents in snake identification through museum exhibits of life-size models of all snakes found in the state.

Snakes help the farmer, Camp added, by eating rodents that eat grain.

He said that snake-killing once got so bad in South Carolina that the state had to send outside for a new supply of non-poisonous reptiles. And in California, it is against the law to kill non-poisonous snakes.

32 Exiles Escape Spain In Home Made Vessel

CARACAS, Venezuela (UP) — A party of 32 Spanish exiles, including one woman, arrived at La Guaira aboard a sailing vessel which they had built themselves to escape from Franco and Spain.

The little schooner left Santa Cruz in Tenerife and made the crossing to Venezuela in 37 days. Leaders of the party said there was no sickness and the supplies of rice, corn, meat, sardines and water held out on the 3,500-mile voyage. They eked out their diet by fishing.

The exiles arrived here without papers and were admitted by immigration authorities as voluntary immigrants.

"QUICK-CLEAN" WASHING every time...with this GENERAL ELECTRIC WASHER

Ask any woman why she bought a General Electric Wringer Washer and she'll tell you that the BIG G-E gets clothes really clean!

Clothes aren't just swished around in this roomy wringer washer. The "three-zone" Activator® tumbles and loosens the clothes... forces soap suds into every piece of washing... and chases out the most stubborn dirt and soil. It washes clothes quickly and thoroughly—yet is gentle with the finest fabrics.

Come in and let us show you the only washer that has the G-E Activator, the One-Control Wringer, and a Perma-drive Mechanism (only four moving parts!) It's built for long, dependable service... quiet operation... and it gets clothes clean, clean, clean!
