BIG OIL WELLS STILL EXIST HERE

(Editor's Note: The following article is contributed by one who has studied both the old-time boom and the present oil development.)

We need to re-adjust our sights. Those who can remember the great boom of 1918-20 compare the big gushers of that era with the wells being drilled today.
They recall the 14,000-barrel Norwood gusher; the Perkins spouters which made the sailor who owned the land famous as "the millionaire son"; the "big wells drilled on the church grounds at Pleasant Grove and Merriman.

But there are oil men who say that producers are being drilled in this field now that will stand comparison in volume with the great gushers of the "good old days."

There's where the re-adjustment of our sights comes in.
Back in 1919, you'd hear about some well blowing in for 5,000 barrels. Actually, someone visited the well, watched the flow for an hour, made an excited estimate of 200 barrels, multiplied that by 24 which would give 4,800 but 5,000 was such a good round figure—and so another 5,000-barrel well was reported.

But, in any event, a well in those days flowed wide open through casing which was 6 and 5-8th inches in diameter. Now, when a well is gauged the oil comes up through a tubing which is inside the casing. This tubing is only two inches in diameter. Not only that, but the tubing is a choke which, if opened to capacity, would be only one inch wide.

Veterans To Have Part In Soldier's Rites

It was announced today that members of the veterans organization in Ranger will participate in funeral services Sunday for Cpl. Franklin Frasier whose remains are to arrive from overseas Friday.
Members of the American Legion and veterans are specially urged to be at the American Legion meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock to make plans for the funeral and to attend to other important business.

Public Schools have had, for we believe our new set-up should help us to give to the patrons and the children a better school system.
Mr. John Winder, principal of the Senior High School and the Junior High School, will be glad to talk to any of the parents or students prior to registration or after registration. The thing we are particularly interested in is the boy and girls who are interested in furthering his or her education with the greatest possible advantages. Mr. Guy Hancock, who is principal of both elementary schools will likewise be very glad to assist parents and children in the elementary schools.

Remember that we are here to do everything we can for a continued educational growth and development for the betterment of Ranger and the surrounding communities whose children will attend the public schools.

SPY HEARINGS BLASTED BY TRUMAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (UP)—President Truman today called the Congressional spy hearings an infringement on basic American rights and declared flatly that no U. S. secrets leaked out during the war.

Mr. Truman also told newsmen that—
1. The question of returning Italy's former colonies to Italian jurisdiction is not a political issue. It was an indirect slap at Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's proposal that the colonies be returned to Italy under a UN trusteeship. This question, Mr. Truman said, is being worked out by the United States, France, Britain and Russia.

2. The government is considering a $100,000,000 loan to Palestine but that this country will send no troops as such to the Holy Land. If the United Nations sends a UN police force, and other nations participate, this country will send its share of troops.

3. New credit controls provided in the Republican anti-inflation law should be, and will be, put into effect as fast as possible. However, it takes a little time.

4. His campaign plans are still indefinite, except for a Labor Day trip to Detroit and other Michigan cities.

5. He cannot comment on the Moscow talks.

6. He doubts very much that the oil industry is right in its prediction there will be no fuel shortage this year.

The speaker was introduced by Morris Newnam who explained that the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce had been investigating the possibility of having Ranger sprayed as a matter of protection of public health. He also explained that city officials are interested in the movement.

Guests at the luncheon were James Campbell of Hugo, Oklahoma, B. A. Tankersley of Gordon, Mayburn Harris, W. E. R. Owen and Sam Gamble all of Eastland and Howard Oliver. John Winder was introduced as a new member.

Jaycees Issue Warning To Vandals

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce today issued a warning relative to the destruction being wrought at the rodeo arena and stated that it has become so serious that they intend to catch the vandals and when they do, turn them over to police.

"We'd hate to embarrass parents," one of the men said, "but the time has come when something has to be done, and we intend to do it," he added.

Last night part of the oak fence out there was literally mowed down and goats already at the arena for the Friday and Saturday sheep and goat show were turned out. The last of the goats were not found until 10 o'clock this morning.

Police are cooperating with the Jaycees in an effort to catch the vandals and anyone found molesting the property out there will be thrown in jail, just like any other law breaker, it was stated.

Arnold Kirk Interested In New May Well

Arnold Kirk, well known Fort Worth oil man, has a half interest in a well recently completed near May, in Brown County, which is attracting much interest.

The well, drilled by Man and Griffin, with whom Kirk is associated, gauged 260 barrels in 24 hours in the Marble Falls. The No. 1 Henry is three miles north of May. An offset to the west has been started by the Champion Oil & Gas Company.

Man Griffin and Kirk hold 600 acres in leases in that area.

The Kirk pool, along the Eastland-Comanche boundary, was discovered by Frank Kirk and his son, Arnold Kirk.

HISS REFUSES TO SUBMIT TO LIE-DETECTOR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19 (UP)—Former State Department official Alger Hiss has refused for the time being to submit to a lie-detector test in connection with the House spy investigation, it was disclosed today.

Hiss was accused by ex-Communist Whittaker Chambers of being a cell leader in a prewar Communist underground formed among government officials here. Chambers, now a Time magazine editor, said the underground's purposes was to infiltrate the administration, to set up an espionage organization, and ultimately to overthrow the government.

Hiss, a high-ranking official who was instrumental in creating the United Nations, called Chambers charges "complete fabrications."

Chambers has said that he is willing to take a lie detector test. Hiss told the House Un-American Activities he never had been a Communist and never knew any body named Chambers. In a face-to-face meeting arranged by the committee in New York this week, however, Hiss recognized Chambers as a man he had known in 1934-35 as a writer named "George Crosley."

Committee members had declared that Hiss or Chambers gave perjured testimony. In an effort to find out which was the guilty man, they proposed that each take a lie-detector test.

Cheaney Baptist Church To Open Revival Friday

A special team of workers will be present to assist in a Vacation Bible school which will open Monday, August 23.

Russia Now Has Control Of The Danube River

BELGRADE, Aug. 19 (UP)—The Danube River, Europe's greatest waterway, came under the monopolistic control of Russia and her satellites today under the terms of a new convention approved by the Danube conference.

Russian delegate Andrei Vishinsky, Romania's Ana Pauker and other Communist luminaries put their signatures to the convention last night. Shortly afterwards, Vishinsky announced that the Moscow-dominated meeting was over and Russia held a tight grip on the most important stretch of river—from Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, to the Black Sea.

American, British and French delegates boycotted the signatory ceremonies in disgust after Russia rode her draft convention through by a 7-0 vote. The western powers pointedly refused to vote on each article of the convention knowing their votes would be worthless because of the solidarity of the eastern bloc.

MAY DECIDE TO HAVE MEETING ABOUT GERMAN SITUATION

BERLIN, Aug. 19 (UP)—The final conference between the three western envoys and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov probably will be held today or tomorrow, the Soviet licensed ADN news agency said today in a Moscow dispatch.

The dispatch said diplomatic observers in Moscow believe an agreement will be reached later this week for a four-power foreign ministers conference on the German question.
The agency said the western powers probably will seek another conference with the Generalissimo Stalin before final arrangements are completed.

In Berlin meanwhile the city council found itself in severe financial straits because of the east-west cold war. The council declared it was prepared to introduce its own Berlin mark if it couldn't obtain either eastern or western marks or both for city business.
The Soviet controlled Berlin press barely touched on the Moscow reports and concentrated its attention instead on plans for western power control of the Ruhr and creation of a west German state.

Coast Oil's Kirk Pool Wells Make 300 Bbles. Daily

The Coast Oil Corporation's No. 2 Della Graham is proving one of the best wells in the Kirk pool, making almost 300 barrels a day. Nos. 3 and 5 are rigging up. Coast No. 1 Bell, adjoining the Graham on the east, has set pipe and the company is moving in for the No. 1 on the Richardson, which corners the Bell to the northeast.

Thus it can be seen that steady progress is being made on the program recently announced by C. P. Porter, vice president and general manager of the Coast. The company will drill a total of 21 wells in the Kirk pool. The No. 2 Della Graham gives the Coast seven producers in the pool.

Rain Falls As Babe Ruth Buried

VALHALLA, N. Y. Aug. 19 (UP) — Babe Ruth was laid to rest today in a wooded highlands near the Hudson river during a drizzling rain.

A requiem mass at St. Patrick's cathedral on New York's Fifth Avenue, attended by 3,500 friends, officials and early arrivals, preceded the burial. Another 50,000 stood outside in the rain to see the start of the funeral procession.
There was a brief prayer at the graveside after the procession reached the Gates of Heaven Cemetery here in suburban Westchester county. The mahogany casket, shrouded with heavy green ferns and topped by a single spray of American beauty roses, was laid in its last resting place.

Spain Loses Out; Rita Hayworth Born In U. S. A.

By Don Allan
United Press Staff Correspondent
SEVILLE, Spain (UP)—Rita Hayworth's many Spanish fans have heard sad news. The famous actress was born in New York and not in Seville.

For years a lively controversy has existed here over the birthplace of Rita, born Margarita Cansino, and most Spanish moviegoers claimed her as a Spaniard from Seville.

The man who shattered this illusion is her grandfather Antonio Cansino at 83 is lively and spry and walks with the grace of a born dancer. A typical Andalusian, quick-witted and proud with the music of the Gypsies in his voice. He speaks Spanish with a strong Sevillian dialect and despite his many years in America, almost no English.

In the modest room which he occupies in the home of relatives there are pictures of Rita Hayworth and her only child, Rebecca Welles. Over a bed hang two Spanish guitars one a magnificent instrument 87 years old.

To the guitar, he said Rita Hayworth danced her first steps with her grandfather as her teacher. She learned rapidly because she, too, is a true Andalusian, descended from generations of dancers, he explained.

Rita Hayworth is the most popular Hollywood actress in Spain, as much for her Spanish origin and dancing ability as for her face and figure. After the showing of her film "Gilda," all Spain swept with a Gilda craze. There are now Gilda shoes, Gilda hairdos, perfumes and an especially pretty girl is dubbed a "Gilda."

Antonio Cansino gave his first dancing lesson 70 years ago. Since then he has traveled with dance troupes all over the world, served as dancing professor at the Royal Opera house in Madrid and performed before royalty.

In recent years he has served as a technical adviser on dancing for Hollywood studios and has continually helped his granddaughter with film routines. He has no plans for returning to America.

"I came back to Seville for a decent glass of sherry and to talk my head off," he says, "and I'll stay here until I've had enough of both."

A jack rabbit can run faster than a race horse, according to the World Book Encyclopedia. The jack rabbit has been clocked at 45 b.p.h. while top race horse speed is only 42.3 m.p.h.

but we are gradually catching up with our work. The oil activity in so far as it relates itself to our business is about over. There has been a sharp decline each month since April which was the peak month on all classes of orders. Oil men estimate that 80 per cent of the county is now leased. If you are one of the 20 per cent who may need to use your abstract soon please file your order now.

Big Oil Wells . . .

 When we read today that, on official test, a well gauged 250 barrels in 24-hours, (we can be sure that it did—and that this was accomplished through two-inch tubing and the very small opening afforded by the choke. A well which flows 250 barrels in a day under such conditions would probably be capable of several times that output if allowed to flow wide open, as was the case with the old-time wells.

Take, for example, the Lone Star Producing Company's Kleiner 1-A, completed a few weeks ago. This well encountered a total thickness of 340 feet in the Mississippi lime, of which 180 feet was gas formation and 160 feet was oil formation. Only 14 feet of the oil sand was perforated.

Veteran oil men express the opinion that if the Kleiner well had been flowed wide open, it likely would have produced as the rate of 15,000 to 20,000 barrels a day. This would compare very favorably with the Norwood gusher, which is credited with having had the biggest flush flow of any well drilled during the great boom—14,000 barrels a day.

Or take another recent completion—also a Lone Star well, some 14 miles north of Eastland. Observers voice the belief that this well, if permitted to "cut loose," would have produced oil at the rate of 5,000 barrels or more, a day.

"Then, why aren't these wells allowed to show what they can do?" some one asks.

Because there is no reason any more to "turn 'em loose" and see just how much a well can make—because the operator can sell only 50 barrels a day (or whatever the allowable of the pool is).

But it is when a comparison is made over a long period of time that present-day wells shine. After all, it doesn't matter how fast a horse starts a race. The important thing is, where is he at the finish? So it isn't so much a question of how much a well makes when it first comes in but how much it yields during its lifetime.

And, often, the situation with reference to a gusher of 1919 and a present-day well is a good deal like the hare and the tortoise. Modern wells do not start off fast but, like Ol' Man River "they jes' keep rollin' along."

Let us consider that 5,000-barrel well of the olden days which we were talking about. The chances are that, within a week, it had fallen to a thousand barrels a day—and in a few months it might even have ceased to flow and was on the pump.

But that well had dropped out of the limelight. More wells were coming in; wells with big initial production—so the public forgot about the earlier one.

Wells today do not run wild, with the loss of considerable amounts of oil. Instead, they are brought in under control and there is no waste of the crude. Gas, the natural lifting force of the oil, is no longer swiftly dissipated. Instead, it is conserved so that it will bring up the greatest quantity of oil possible.

The East Texas field already has produced more oil than the original estimate for the field's entire lifetime—and its future recovery is still almost equal to that original estimate. That is what conservation can do.

Had similar procedure been possible in this county, Desdemona would not be a village with only a trickle of crude from an area of once-nifty gushers, and many of the wells around Eastland which were plugged long ago would still be producing a steady output of liquid wealth, thereby benefitting operators, workers, landowners and, indirectly, the entire community.

And so when we hear of a new well gauging 350 barrels a day (and some of them do), let's think in terms of controlled flow instead of a spectacular column of oil "over the top" from a 1919 wide-open gusher, which speedily ran its course—but think, rather, in terms of years of production.

Eastland County once tried, like the little boy, to eat all the sugar in the barrel at one time—and wound up with a terrific stomach-ache.

Every day, or almost every day, a new well comes in, making its $132.50 worth of oil and with indications that it will go on steadily and faithfully producing for a long time. It is on such enduring foundation that prosperity which lasts is built.

But it's lots of fun to talk about those wild gushers of "the good old days."

General Information
 1. Q—What is the purpose of the new Selective Service law?

A—To train a body of men capable of defending the nation and to select the men for this duty by the fairest method possible—registration of every man 18 through 25 years old, regardless of wealth, influence or social position. From this registration will be chosen those men 19 through 25 years of age who are deemed best fitted to receive 21 months of training.

2. Q—Is this the first peacetime draft?

A—No. The first was in 1940.

3. Q—How many men will be affected by the Selective Service law?
 A—Military authorities estimate 9,600,000 men will be registered in the United States and its possessions. In Texas between 550,000 and 575,000 men are expected to register.

4. Q—Who administers the program?

A—President Truman has named Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey as national director of the Selective Service System. In each state the

5. Q—When will the Selective Service law go into effect?

A—President Truman has issued men 18 through 25 years of age who are living in the U. S. and its possessions. Registration in Texas will take place on the following days: On Aug. 30, persons born in 1922 after Aug. 30, 1922, will register; on Aug. 31 or Sept. 1, persons born in 1923 will register; on Sept. 2 and 3, persons born in 1924 will register; on Sept. 4 or 7 persons born in 1925 will register; on Sept. 8 and 9 persons born in 1926 will register; on Sept. 10 and 11 persons born in 1927 will register; on Sept. 13 and 14 persons born in 1928 will register; on Sept. 15 and 16 persons born in 1929 will register; on Sept. 17 and 18 persons born in 1930 before Sept. 19, 1930, will register. Persons born on or after Sept. 19, 1930, will register on the day they are 18 years old or within five days after they are 18.

6. Q—How long will the law be in effect?

A—Until June 24, 1950, unless sooner terminated by the two houses of Congress.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS By Boyce House

Henry W. Grady, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, was a great orator. His speeches, after the Civil War, helped to bring the North and South together in mutual trust and understanding. He was also a great editor. Just how great let this fact attest: the number of copies of the Atlanta Constitution printed each day was four times as many as the population of Atlanta! Furthermore, a large proportion of the inhabitants of Atlanta were recently-freed slaves and could not read.

The explanation of so large a circulation was that the paper was so well edited that it reached a wide territory. It is said that the law in Texas at that time provided that the newspaper having the largest circulation in the county should be the official newspaper of the county—and in several Texas counties, the official paper was the Constitution which was published in Georgia.

The Civil War general with the oddest name was the Confederate, Brig. Gen. States Rights Gist. "States Rights" was his name. His father, looking forward to the day when that would perhaps be an issue on the battlefield, bestowed the name on him. General Gist was killed in the defense of Vicksburg.

Everyone of course knows about the Unknown Soldier—the hero of World War I whose name is known only to God. Of the 17,000 Union graves on the beautiful slopes around Vicksburg three-fourths are the last resting-places of men whose identities are unknown; more than 12,000 "unknown soldiers."

An average of 16,000 cases a year are handled by the New York City medical examiner's office, which is concerned with the investigation of deaths caused by violence.

Ancient Canterbury In Rebellion As Traditional Horn Sounds Again

By Richard D. McMillan
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON (UP)—There is revolt in the "mother city of the English-speaking race," Chaucer's Canterbury.

The signal for the "rebellion" was the sounding of the Burghmote Horn at a civic ceremony at which the mayor of the oldest cathedral city of England, Mrs. G. R. Hews, explained that the citizens were angered by attempts to rob Canterbury of its rights as a county in itself. The dispute was set off by decisions of a governmental boundary commission.

Rarely is the Burghmote Horn sounded in the city. Usually it is reserved for acclaiming a new mayor of the crowning of a new sovereign. In earlier times, as far back as the 13th century, its notes sounded to rouse the citizens to violence against the injustice or encroachment upon the rights of the populace whose town gave inspiration to the "Canterbury Tales".

Explaining the reason for the alarm note on the Burghmote Horn, the mayoress pointed out that Canterbury will lose some of the powers now held by the corporation if the suggestions of the boundary commission on the organization of local government become law.

It is feared that if the pattern of local government is changed there may be danger of some of the devastated parts of the city, hit by bombs during the war, may be rebuilt without regard to the traditions and style of the surroundings.

The citizens' revolt coincides with celebrations commemorating 500 years of the mayoralty of Canterbury. In the course of the celebrations, the dean of the cathedral, Dr. Hewlett Johnson, spoke of old battles between civic and church authorities which had once spoilt the harmony of the lovely town and even invaded the sacred precincts of the cathedral.

He went on to describe how even that morning the mace and the sword of state had been lowered as it passed Christ Church at the head of a civic procession from guild hall to cathedral, in token of old struggles and bloodshed between church and city retainers.

Then occurred the ceremony of sounding the Burghmote Horn, after which the horn was put away among the city's treasures. Citizens and monks together prayed in the cathedral that this new strife between the hallowed town and the encroaching outside powers will be settled "without further token of struggle."
