Russia Hints At Ability To Make Atomic Bomb

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

So you thought it was dry and dusty! You're right, brother. And a lot worse than maybe you've realized.

September this year, though not quite so dry as last September, had only .15 of an inch of rain in the whole month, while September in 1946 had 3.79 inches of rainfall. Last year only .05 of an inch fell.

Goodness, no wonder that house is so hard to keep clean and our shoes always look so grimy, no matter how hard we dust and clean.

Fred Brown of Eastland, president of the national Highway 80 Association, struck a true note Thursday in speaking before the Lions Club, when he said that business people along Highway 80 could sell that highway to the traveling public by simply dishing out a super brand of courteousness, efficient service, and friendliness.

He's fast as right as can be. People remember a friendly and satisfying contact, possibly longer than the scenery round about, or the quality of a highway.

If a fellow has anything to sell or service to give, he should go about it efficiently, with a little bustle that makes one think he's enjoying the job. It costs nothing to be courteous and friendly, but both sure pay big dividends. That sounds like a good deal to us. Put out nothing in dollars and cents but get paid in folding money. Yes sir, we'd say that's an inexpensive investment that pays well.

Well, we see by the teletype that food prices have started a downward trend. But don't get excited for a while. Experts say that they don't know for sure when the consumer will feel the drop.

Maybe, eventually, we can eat meat again.

Unfortunately, nothing's been said about a reduction in clothes. We just can't seem to escape the shadow of that barrel.

Kids at St. Rita's Catholic School will have a field day Saturday. They're all to be the guests of Calvin Brown to see the Babe Ruth Story at the Arcadia Theatre.

Now won't the kids love that. Betcha that more kids than adults see that picture, 'cause Babe was sure their idol.

Burkett's Injuries Said Not Serious

O. Harold Burkett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Burkett of Cisco-Eastland Highway, who was injured in a car accident at Cisco early Thursday morning, is reported as not being critically injured and as doing nicely.

In this newspaper Thursday it was stated that O. Harold Burkett was a son-in-law of C. C. Street of Eastland. This was in error. It is Bob Burkett, brother of Howard, that is Mr. Street's son-in-law.

DIVORCED WIFE, HUSBAND DIE IN DALLAS SHOOTING

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 1 (UP)—A contested divorce ended in a murder and suicide for a middle-aged couple shortly after 7 A. M. today.

Dead were Charlie Joe Norton, 50, a Lubbock and Fort Worth real estate man, and his estranged wife, Mrs. Irene Pence Johnson Norton, 50-year-old secretary of a Dallas oil firm.

Police pieced together a wild story of the shooting, which started in the yard and ended in a bedroom of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cole, a middle-aged couple who live in a fashionable Oak Cliff residential section.

Homicide detectives reasoned that Mrs. Norton had left her home at 1225 N. Edgefield Ave., to take a bus to her downtown office. They believed her husband was waiting for her in a parked car at the intersection of Edgefield and Colorado, directly in front of the Cole home.

Mrs. Cole said she was lying in a front bedroom when she first heard shots. Her husband was asleep in a rear bedroom of their Austin stone home.

Apparently Mrs. Norton attempted to flee as she recognized her husband. She ran across the Cole yard and stumbled inside the door to Mrs. Cole's bedroom, where she fell with bullet wounds just above the right and left hips.

Mrs. Cole told officers that Norton put his foot in the small of his wife's back, held her down and fired one shot into her left temple. Then, he, Mrs. Cole said, turned a .38 caliber revolver and pointed it at his own head and fired one shot.

He fell across the body of his dead wife at the foot of Mrs. Cole's bed, where Mrs. Cole lay screaming.

Charles A. Swift Dies In Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 1 (UP)—Funeral services will be held Saturday for Charles H. Swift, chairman of the board of Swift and Company, who died late yesterday. He was 75.

Swift, who had been suffering a lung ailment for about two months, died yesterday. He had spent 54 years of continuous service in the meat packing business.

He was born in Lancaster, Mass., the fourth son of the founder of Swift and Company. When he was three years old the family moved to Chicago, where the father, Gustavus Adolphus Swift, started his meat business.

Charles Swift entered the business at an early age, first learning buying fundamentals and then working in other divisions of the company. In 1907 he became a director of Swift and Company and two years later he was named vice president.

Fred Brown Tells Lions Of Hiway 80 Hopes, Plans

What the Highway 80 National Association is doing and going to do was the subject of a talk given before the Lions Club Thursday by Fred Brown of Eastland, president of the National Association.

Brown explained that the organization is working slowly but thoroughly to bring more and more traffic over this nationally known route. He stated that a public relations firm in Dallas is preparing a booklet describing the attractions of the route and carrying a map of the same. The booklets will be distributed through every available outlet.

He urged that people who live along the route and those that have businesses on Highway 80, exercise every effort to impress the traveling public with the route through courteous and efficient service, to make it the unforgettable highway.

The speaker stated that traffic on the highway is on a steady increase and cited figures to prove it. He said that a recent check showed that an average of 3,000 vehicles pass over the highway between Eastland and Ranger daily, an average of two vehicles every minute. Between Cisco and Eagleland there is an average of 2,900 vehicles daily.

Brown was introduced by Mayor Lee Dockery who arranged the program.

In a business session with R. V. Galloway presiding, members voted approval of a junior college scholarship to be awarded by the club to a worthy student, and referred the matter to the finance committee for final action.

J. E. Meroney reported on a recent meeting at Comanche and announced that the next zone meeting will be held in Ratcliff, November 22.

Mrs. J. J. Kelly appeared before the club and invited the members to attend the open house being given next Tuesday night at the Community clubhouse, by the Ranger Civic League. Mrs. Kelly is president of the league.

Contract Let For Farm Hiway Out Of Ranger

A contract has been let by the State Highway Department for the construction of a farm-to-market road known as Farm Highway 571 and extending from U. S. Highway 80 in Ranger seven miles southeast.

The new road will follow Hundell street to Spring Road and then out this route.

The contract specifies grading, drainage structures, flexible base and single asphalt surface treatment. The contract was let to Ernest Loyd of Fort Worth and called for an expenditure of $59,498.

Work is expected to start in about 15 days according to reports received here.

Loyd has contracted with Mrs. Ada Gordon and Frank Ames to deliver rock for the road, and delivery of 20,000 yards of rock will begin in about two weeks.

GRAND JURY RETURNS 14 INDICTMENTS

Makes A Number Of Recommendations

Following is the report of the 91st Court grand jury made to Judge Geo. L. Davenport Thursday afternoon, upon final adjournment:

"We, the Grand Jury, have returned fourteen (14) true bills and ten (10) no bills and have investigated numerous other cases involving both misdemeanors and felonies.

We find no violation of the law with reference to false weights and measures; we have returned indictments against those in jail or have no-billed them; we have investigated one car theft and returned an indictment, and several burglaries and thefts.

With reference to drunken driving and traffic violations we recommend that an additional force of two highway patrolmen be assigned to this district.

We have investigated several assault to murder charges and have returned appropriate indictments. The City County Hospital, in Ranger appears to be in good condition.

It is the consensus of this Panel of the Grand Jury after some discussion, that there was no evidence submitted of any fraud by election officials in the Democratic Primary in this county.

We strongly recommend that any bus driver carrying children for any school district be thoroughly qualified and have the appropriate operator's license. Although we encourage the proper enforcement of uniform traffic code against all persons, we especially direct officers' attention to this situation.

We recommend the Commissioners Court to abolish at least half of the voting boxes in this county as it is an unreasonable waste of money to keep them, and second, the majority of the voters in the smaller boxes as soon as they vote leave and come into the larger cities. They could easily vote in the larger boxes without undue disadvantage to the election officials, or to the voters. We earnestly urge that this action be taken at once.

We respectfully request that we be excused.

Signed: E. J. Poe, Foreman.

Favorable Weather Increases Peanut Harvesting

Peanut harvesting increased in the southwestern states this week, according to the Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Most sections reported weather conditions favorable for digging and field curing. Picking went forward actively, too. Sales of farmers' stock peanuts moved on the basis of the government support price schedule. Current marketings averaged 69 to 70 per cent sound meats.

Demand for shelled peanuts continued slow. Occasional sales of No. 1 Spanish brought 16-3-8 to 16-1-2 cents per pound.

Sales of peanut oil and meal in the southwest remained too few to establish a market. In the southeastern states, peanut oil and meal sold slightly weaker.

Soldier's Body Enroute Home

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fonville of the Crossroads Community Thursday received word that the remains of their son, Sgt. Harvey L. Fonville, is enroute from Europe to the United States.

Sgt. Fonville was killed in action in Germany on February 23, 1945 while serving with the 35th Infantry. He had seen service with the Third, Fourth and Ninth Armies.

The family will await further word from the War Department before making funeral arrangements.

PARIS, Oct. 1, (UP) — Russia hinted strongly today that she can make an atomic bomb, and Great Britain conceded this might be true.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky told the United Nations political committee that the United States no longer had a monopoly on the atom bomb.

Answering Vishinsky, British delegate Hector McNeil denounced as "nonsense an the poorest type of propaganda" a Soviet claim that world confidence would be restored by destruction of all American atom bombs.

"We don't know whether Russia has the bomb or not," McNeil said. "I just say we don't know. We don't know how near she is to perfecting one.

"On the other hand, everyone knows the United States has the bomb. And equally, everyone knows she is willing to make her information available for international control, providing she obtains by agreement reciprocity from other nations regarding international control and inspection.

"To destroy all bombs in America, to destroy all plants known to be in America, to destroy plants known to be in the United Kingdom — none of these things would create world confidence."

Vishinsky, in rejecting the American plan for control of atomic energy, had repeated the long-standing Soviet demand that all atom bombs in the hands of the Americans must be destroyed.

The only way confidence can be restored to the world, McNeil said, is for all the world to know that the atomic bomb is not possessed exclusively by any one power.

He deplored the tone of Vishinsky's speech, and said that while it was remarkable for its "range of vehemence," he didn't think it was "equally remarkable for its accuracy."

He said the atomic problem is haunting the world, but he expressed fear that the "firmness and fierceness" of Vishinsky's language indicated agreement is impossible.

McNeil said he was sure that if the plain people of any part of the world were confronted with a choice of surrendering some of their sovereignty or facing atomic war "they would grasp any kind of reasonable assurance that atomic war might be delayed and possibly averted."

He warned delegates that they would be denounced if they reported back to their peoples that an atomic war is threatened.

"The world knows how massively hideous the consequences of an atomic war will be," he said. "We won't be able to pretend afterward if any of us are left after an atomic war that we do not know the dimensions of misery and death that could be inflicted upon us by our failure if this weapon is used. Historians would have to go back to the world-raging plagues of the middle ages to find a parallel."

McNeil did not answer Vishinsky's bitter invective and his denunciations of the United States.

Vishinsky had cited a campaign speech by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, the Republican presidential candidate, at Phoenix, Ariz., as a proof of the United States' "aggressive policy."

He also cited a recent report by President Truman on progress in atomic weapons shown by experiments at Entiwetok. He said, Mr. Truman "boasted" about these gains, and described this as "shameful."

Bulldogs Open Conference Play Against Gorman

WARDEN HOPES TO REBOUND AFTER TOUGH ALBANY DEFEAT

Razor sharp and victory hungry, the Bulldogs set sail tonight to make an auspicious conference debut with an 8 P. M. date against the Gorman Panthers at the high school field.

And it was captain Keith Munnerlyn who raised the Bulldog battle pitch to a new zenith. Sustaining a painful injury in Wednesday's practice session, fiery Keith was right in the thick of things in yesterday's final brush-up.

"It'll take more than this little scratch to keep me out of uniform," said the 175-pound end. "Why the swelling is practically all down and anyhow I play better when there's something bothering me."

While Keith will don one of the brand new Bulldog moleskins it is doubtful whether he'll see much action. Coach Warden is content to let his ace pass receiver sit this one out and save him for the more rugged battles with Cisco and Dublin. But Munnerlyn has his mind set on 45 minutes of action.

Expected to spell the team captain are Jackie Hummel, a sophomore end who lacks playing experience and Charles Wheat who started the season playing at guard.

The Bulldogs spent the final practice session setting up defenses against the Panther single wing and spinner plays. As is pre-prise the backfield quartet. However Buddy Hamrick will take over a halfback role when the Bulldogs are forced on the defense.

Excepting for the doubtful end spot the rest of the forward wall will be the same. Jimmy Lee will again hold down left end with Fred Langley and Marvin Wilson covorting at the tackle spots. Little Jimmy Peterson and Dean Elder will again start at guards with E. P. Robinson at the pivot post.

Warden isn't exactly looking for a romp but he does anticipate a slightly smoother sailing than the Oney and Albany setts. The Panthers, coached by Jack Davnport, have shown an in-and-out brand of ball thus far this season. At times the offense shows definite potentialities but more often the team runs off their plays locking snap and precision.

Following the Cisco game October 8 the Bulldogs plunge into heavy conference action. In order, Dublin, Comanche, Hamilton, DeLeon and Eastland will be faced. Dublin looms as the strongest foe at the moment although the Eastland Mavericks, judging from their upset 13-12 win over Winters last Friday are likely to continue their steady improvement and cause future trouble.

Bertolino Slugs Win Over Ruiz

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. Oct. 1 (UP)—Eddie Bertolino's stock went up last night, as he slugged his way to a 10-round decision over game Churcho Ruiz of Mexico City, who simply refused to be kayed. Only the stamina of Ruiz kept him in the fight between the two welterweights of almost equal poundage. Bertolino weighed in at 133 1/2, Ruiz at 134.

Bertolino floored Ruiz in the first round with a stiff fight. In the second round, he gave the Mexico scrapper a bloody nose and in the third round, started measuring him off.

In the fourth round, he knocked Ruiz against the ropes and landed blow after solid blow. But to the surprise of fans and Bertolino, Ruiz refused to go down.

Ruiz, a hard-hitter himself, chalked up three of the rounds to his credit, while Bertolino took seven.

The Galveston scrapper said he got a bump on the back of his head in the third round which caused him to see four images of Ruiz the rest of the fight.

GROSS UNDERSTATEMENTS

BY MARVIN GROSS

We're still kind of peeved at the way some of those Southwest Conference teams booted our crystal gazing around again. But we're inclined to forgive and nobly will give them all another opportunity to make good—even the Longhorns.

And speaking of the Longhorns they seem to have steered away from dangerous opposition this week and should stampede over New Mexico down Austin way. But Paul Campbell will have to brush up on his aerial artistry if Texans are ever going to forget Bobby Layne.

Even tossing a coin seems like going out on a shaky limb when you consider the Arkansas—T. C. U. tea party. The Horned Frogs squeezed past two toughies while the Razorbacks were scoring touchdowns in the bush leagues. But we're sort of in love with the kid from Smackover, Clyde Scott, so it's the Razorbacks.

In Houston the L. S. U. Tigers will test Texas hospitality again. Where as it wasn't too good against Texas U, they'll have a slightly better time against Rice. But the good-natured Owls will still win the ball game.

Darinn' Doak and his wrecking crew won't have the picnic they experienced against the Smoky City gridsters. But despite Texas Tech's upset win over Texas A & M they can't do it two weeks running. Besides the Mustangs have a boy named Johnson who does pretty well flinging an oval-shaped pigskin around.

Which brings up the case of Oklahoma University versus Texas A. & M. The Aggies have little to offer in defense, suffering successive losses at the hands of Villanova and Texas Tech. The Sooners have a steady, improving eleven which makes the decision of the court a loud vote for Oklahoma.

Around the circuit we suspect Purdue will top Northwestern despite the Wildcats convincing win over U.C.L.A. The Boiler-makers will drop very few ball games this season and this isn't one of them.

Also we pick Notre Dame over Pitt; Penn over Dartmouth; Michigan over Oregon and Columbia over Harvard. Penn State starts

Harris Only Texan On Injured List

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 1, (UP)—Except for co-capt. Dick Harris the Longhorn roster was off the bench today and ready to meet New Mexico tomorrow in the third game of the University of Texas

Panthers from Gorman. Gorman has some fast, darting backfield performers but the Ranger club has some faster talent and a line that only moves in one direction—forward. Besides the Bulldogs are still growing over that Albany loss and have to take it out on someone.

Eisenhower Opposed Zoning Of Germany

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (UP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower insisted early in the war that once Germany was conquered the western nations should not set up separate zones of occupation, it was disclosed today.

Separate zones, he believed, would result eventually in a fatal division of the allies, according to Kay Summersby, former WAC captain who served successively as Eisenhower's chauffeur, secretary and aide.

Eisenhower's views on the occupation and other details of his private life during the war years were revealed in Miss Summersby's book, "Eisenhower Was My Boss," to be published Monday (By Prentice-Hall, Inc.)

Eisenhower believed, Miss Summersby said, that "The Russians would go ahead and do what they wanted to do, regardless of any western decision" and he therefore would not permit his staff to put proposed American, British and French boundaries on paper.

Truman Winding Up Big Swing

En Route With Truman, Oct. 1 (UP)—President Truman headed for home through Kentucky and West Virginia today, confident that his exhaustive 18-state swing had garnered a lot of votes.

The President was making a strong finish to his big tour. He scheduled 15 speeches today, winding up with a major address at Charleston, W. Va. at 8:30 P. M. (EST) He returns to the White House tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Hortense Matthews of Hollywood, formerly of Ranger, who has been visiting Ranger friends has gone to Millsap for a visit with her mother.

Mrs. Mamie Ward of Midland, formerly of Ranger, is here for a visit with her son, Sam Ward, and Mrs. Mrs. Ward and family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pritchard and family left today to return to Phoenix, Arizona after being here to attend funeral services for Mrs. Pritchard's brother, N. P. Burnett.

Mrs. S. T. Williams has returned from Seymour where she attended funeral services for her sister-in-law's brother.

In his big talk at Louisville, Ky., last night, Mr. Truman put in a stout plug for his Kentucky running mate, Sen Alben W. Barkley, and then berated the Republicans and the National Association of Manufacturers for using "vicious tommyrot" to wreck his anti inflation plans.

He charged that "the reason the NAM set out to destroy price control was that, in their greed, the leaders of big business wanted to make higher profits." He accused the Republican party of "carrying out" NAM policies in refusing to adopt his recommendations for price control.

"In 1946," he said, "The NAM set out on a well-planned and well-financed campaign to destroy price controls and in 1 year the organization spent $3,000,000 for this purpose."

He denied that business suffered under price control and rationing. "There never was a more vicious or better organized campaign to mislead and deceive the American people," he said. "I don't think you are going to be deceived again by that tommyrot."
