WASHINGTON COLUMN

Kline, Iowa Corn and Hog Man, Gives Farm Bureau New Look

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—There is a decided new look about Washington headquarters of American Farm Bureau Federation, probably the most powerful of the farm pressure groups in the capital. The man responsible is Allan B. Kline, an Iowa corn-hog man who this year succeeded big Ed O'Neal, the Alabama cotton planter who was AFBF president and chief Washington lobbyist from 1931 through 1947.

O'Neal's drawing, easy-going ways have been banished. A new staff of younger, bristling middle-westerners has been moved in under Roger Fleming. The offices themselves have been moved from a crowded suite in a downtown building to half a floor in the Standard Oil building at the foot of Capitol Hill. There are thick carpets on the floor, pastel tinted walls, modern desks. The Farm Bureau is now definitely big business.

AFBF was founded in 1920. It grew up with the county agent movement. When Ed O'Neal took over its presidency it had less than 300,000 members and it was broke. Today it has over 1,300,000 members and over $1,000,000 in the bank.

THE name of new President Allan B. Kline is apt to be heard a good bit more around Washington in the shaping of future farm policies. He is 53, of medium height but stocky, with big hands and a weather-beaten face. He has a degree from Iowa State College. He has been to Europe four times in the last four years to study European food problems. His 540-acre farm produces $40,000 worth of hogs and hybrid corn, has a swimming pool and tennis court. He can talk farm economics like a college professor and by the hour. He does it without reference to notes or manuscript, citing statistics all the while. Which may account in part for the fact that he is also a member of the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank board. His specialty is monetary policy.

In talking about today's prices, Kline distinguishes between farm prices and food prices. He says most people believe that food grows in grocery stores. They forget that in the grocery store price are also transportation, processing, handling and storage costs—all of which are piled on top of the farm price. Farm prices, Kline points out, are flexible. They go up and down on the market. But other elements in food prices are what he calls "sticky." They go up, then stick there. Labor and freight costs, for instance.

KLINE'S chief interest—the American Farm Bureau Federation's chief interest—is in what he calls the "commercial" farmer. Of America's 6,000,000 farm families, only half are commercial farmers. They produce more than they consume, to sell. They're in business. That takes capital—more in most cases than it takes to run a grocery store.

The other half of America's farm families merely live in the country. The U. S. could produce a lot more food if these subsistence farmers could be put on a commercial basis, says Kline. He believes the U. S. could consume all that these farmers might produce.

Kline denies the frequently-made charge that the farm organizations are to blame for the delay in lowering farm support prices until 1950. Farm Bureau had a big fight over that at its annual meeting last December. One group wanted to keep support prices up to 90 per cent of parity indefinitely. Kline led the fight for a cut to 60-80 per cent of parity. He won.

Right up to the end of Congress last June, all the farm organizations held together on the 60-80 formula. Denying that action until 1950 was something that the politicians thought up. He won't say who was responsible, but implicates both parties. As for rectifying that mistake in the next Congress, he sees no chance.

THE STORY: Hilary Shenstone, brilliant secret agent, recalls lying wounded in the Indian desert beside a crashed plane, after completing a dangerous mission. He remembers feeling a desperate need to return to his mother and Nana Sprinkle, his family's country home. Next thing Hilary is aware of, he is back in London dropping in at his club. But no one seems conscious of his presence. Hilary learns that his brother, George, has been cutting up with Alice, Hilary's fiancée. He thinks it's all a dream until he receives a report of his own death. Shocked at first, Hilary later decides to enjoy the situation. Next day he visits his mother's home. George and his mother are waiting for Alice for lunch. They, too, seem unaware of his presence. Hilary hears his mother encourage George to win Alice away from him.

XIV

"YOU needn't look so innocent, George, you weren't born yesterday!" said his mother, and both her sons regarded her with amazement and no little respect, from their separate viewpoints. "I don't believe Hilary cares a tuppence about Alice anyway," she remarked defiantly.

"She thinks he does," said George. "It amounts to the same thing."
"No—it doesn't," she contradicted. "Besides, she wouldn't be happy with him. I mean—" she added quickly, and then hesitated. "—that is—I don't think she would," she finished lamely.

"Why?" demanded Hilary. "She went to drawing little meaningless things on a fresh sheet of note-paper."
"What makes you say I couldn't have made her happy?" Hilary pressed her.

"I wasn't—very happy," said his mother. "Just above a whisper, whispering the busy part of her own. And Hilary's exactly like his father."
That jerked George out into the open.

"Oh, here, I say—I always thought you and the garnet bit

Veterans: Do You Want This?

Any veteran who wants this can try his hand at winning it just by writing a letter. The alligator, that is. Miss McClure, Hollywood starlet, got it from a Florida fan, but she lives in a hotel where no pets are allowed. So she'll give it to the veteran who writes the sincerest and "cutest" letter on why he'd like it. Her address is 1626 North Vine St., Hollywood 28, Calif.

NEW WHITE POWDER BOON TO CAN-OPENING FEMALES

By Barbara Bundschu
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (UP)—A simple white powder that tastes like the inside of your mouth one minute and a juicy red beef steak the next is working magic today for the American cook.

"It just makes things taste more so," explains Victor Bergeron, the "trader Vic" of an Oakland California restaurant.

Bergeron claims the powder will make a one-broth taste like there had been at least six chickens in the pot. Or a weak pan gravy turn out redolent of the meat it's supposed to accompany.

But the powder's usefulness isn't confined to making something of nothing. By accentuating whatever flavor it lights on, Bergeron says, it makes almost any good thing taste better.

The Chinese discovered it centuries ago, Bergeron says, and it's apparently the main reason Chinese mixed vegetables taste like individual celery and carrots and peas instead of like vegetable soup.

The American product is known technically as sodium glutamate or vegetable protein. It's made from what's left of the sugar beets after the sugar is taken out, according to Bergeron.

To prove its power, Bergeron suggests you take a tall glass of

Waco Leader Dies

WACO, Nov. 1 (UP)—Funeral services were scheduled to be held at 4 P. M. today for Albert T. Clifton, 69, prominent Waco financier and industrialist, who died Sunday in a Waco hospital.

Earlier this year Clifton was chairman of the board, president, vice-president or director of 21 corporations. He recently resigned the chairmanship of the First National Bank of Waco.

He served as president of the Texas Manufacturers Association, of which he was one of the organizers in 1915. He was instrumental in bringing the Missouri-Kansas-Texas warden shops to Waco in 1923.

Sheriff Ready To Take Embezzler

CLEBURNE, Tex., Nov. 1 (UP)—

Sheriff Houston Walling today was prepared to arrest Edgar J. Williams, 39, charged with embezzling from the Citizens' Trust and Savings Company of Joshua where he had been employed for 15 years.

District Attorney John A. James, Jr., said Williams called the sheriff from his attorney's office and told him to come and get him. Williams had been sought since Thursday when embezzlement charges were brought against him by Mrs. Tom Crowder of Joshua, niece of the late Angus McMillan and executrix of his estate. McMillan was owner of the Citizens Banking Company.

RANGERS VS. COYOTES IN HOMECOMING BATTLE

BY MARVIN GROSS

Homecoming fans at the Ranger Junior College shin-dig will have a double feast come Saturday evening—a get-together supper in the school cafeteria and a peek at the high flying Rangers, winging along on a four game winning streak toward a conference championship.

The Rangers have three obstacles who can toss a detour their way—Weatherford, Decatur and Hillsboro. But Yarbrough is looking no further ahead than to Saturday's Weatherford ball game. The Rangers topped a non-conference foe—Navarro in their last outing but showed a glaring pass defense weakness.

The Coyotes of Weatherford haven't done anything to cause much of a disturbance in football circles this season. In fact a mediocre Hillsboro outfit rapped the neck Coyotes 30-0. And Navarro did a similar job on the same boys.

The Rangers should be closer to full-strength than they have been in the past few games. First string guard Edwin Crum is about ready to take up where he left off and Ben Blitch should be ready to see some action. But Claude Neeley and Lee Ligon are still lacking peak condition and may continue their bench warming duties.

The Rangers are due for a tough week of scrimmage drills. Yarbrough wore smiles after the Navarro squeak but realizes there are some chinks that must be filled in the pass defense armor. Bill Reed of the Navarro Bulldogs tossed 16 bulleaves in 27 tries—an average that usually wins football games.

While in the main, line play was good against Navarro. Reed at times, was given half a day to spot a receiver. And once the 134-pound bombshell spotted them he didn't miss.

The local passing game, used in moderation was also successful, with four completions in eight attempts. Two of Junior Arterburn's heaves went for scores—to Howard Frazier and to Dale Jones.

Although full credit probably wasn't given the punting of Bobby Gene Williams went along way toward the Rangers' victory. Bobby had a 36 yard average in five punts but one effort saved the Rangers from being placed in a dangerous hole. Punting from his own 35 on last down, Bobby received a high pass from center and with the Navarro line charging like rockets a kick seemed an impossibility. But Williams somehow got the foot to the ball and boomed a 50-yarder out of reach of Bill Davis, Navarro safety man, or not to buck up against the punter. Whether they have any desire passing of Reed once more, the Rangers may have to undertake that distasteful task again. The Bulldogs look like sure winners in their conference zone and if the Rangers come through, the two clubs will have to do it all over again.

GROSS UNDERSTATEMENTS BY MARVIN GROSS

Let the bugles blare and the banners fly high extolling the super eleven of Notre Dame and Michigan. But what town in this great big U. S. A. had a quartet of champions as Ranger did. Four wins in four attempts and the kids are still rolling.

With three more grid attractions on tap this week the home town unbeatables get an opportunity to stretch the string to lucky seven. Tomorrow evening the Junior High meets its only conquerors—Breckenridge while Friday the Bulldogs take a little ride to De Leon and for a Homecoming attraction—Ranger and Weatherford. Get the baby sitters ready—mamma and poppa got things to do.

Although it must be said the dope bucket stayed right side up the past week-end, we just modestly shout to the world we picked 11 winners in 11 attempts. Said the Longhorns couldn't hold up in a major test and they didn't. Said Baylor would just have a wee bit more than T. C. U. and by a matter of a foot and a half we were right.

This Southwest Conference race is all ready to be wrapped up by the Mustangs. All Matty Bell needs is a little string Baylor will get knocked off by Texas this Saturday, you can bet your mother-in-law on it and S. M. U. will pin number 8 on the Aggies at Dallas. Thus the Ponies will be the first team to repeat honors in the seven year Southwest conference if Dook and Gil don't suddenly hit out in Philadelphia, 34—Pittsburgh 7
Chicago Bears 35—New York Giants 14
Detroit 24—Green Bay 20
Washington 59—Boston 21
Chicago Cards 27—Los Angeles Rams 22

The Kansas City Pla-Mors, perennial front-runners in the United States Hockey League, were pulling away from the field today. The Pla-Mors won their fifth game of the young season with out defeat last night as they turned back the Houston Huskies 6-2 and stretched their point total to 11, three ahead of Houston and Fort Worth—the southern bracket leaders—and four ahead of St. Paul, the runner-up club in the northern sector.

Southwest Texas Leads Conference

Southwest Texas State's Bobcats were in the driver's seat in the Lone Star Conference race today after ushering out North Texas State as a contender. Undefeated inside the conference for two seasons, North Texas took a 24-14 licking from the inspired Bobcats at San Marcos Saturday and now has only a slight chance to regain its prestige this season.

MUSTANGS RATE STRONG CHOICE TO TAKE CONFERENCE HONORS

By Ed File
United Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 1 (UP)—

Southern Methodist University's defending champions may take over undisputed leadership of the Southwest Conference this week as the spirited gridiron race hits the home stretch.

The Mustangs and Baylor's continually surprising Bears remained the only undefeated teams to day as the schedule turned into November and Baylor will find itself the underdog in the top game of the week—against Texas at Waco.

SMU, which stymied the Texas Longhorns' title hopes with a convincing 21-6 victory parade at Austin last Saturday, will play host to the Texas Aggies in Dallas and only an upset of the ranked order could keep the Mustangs from chalking up their third straight inside the conference.

Rice and Arkansas collided at Little Rock in the week's other game, but with both clubs out of the running for the title, the game will narrow down to one of personal interest.

Texas Christian will be idle, giving the Horned Frogs a two week rest before the game against Texas.

SMU provided to the doubtful against Texas that it had the makings of becoming the first team in conference history to win the title two peacetime years in a row. It played heads-up football to capitalize on two Longhorn fumbles and had the defense to stop a powerful Texas running attack that moved relentlessly until it got within reach of the goal line.

QUARTERBACK MEETING

The Quarterback Club will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce.

It was stated today that important matters will be discussed and officers will be elected. All members are especially urged to attend.

Future Plans Being Drawn Up For League

AUSTIN, Nov. 1 (UP)—The Legislative advisory council of the Texas Interscholastic League was scheduled to conclude a two-day session here today, with several sports matters on the agenda for discussion.

The council was scheduled to discuss a change in football practice rules, changing the permissible time for fall practice from a starting date of Aug. 15 to Sept. 1. Practice would be allowed from Dec. 1 to the date of the final state schoolboy championship game.

Eligibility of transfers in various sports also was on the docket, with a proposal for consideration to permit immediate eligibility to transfers in each sport activity not engaged in at the previous school. A year in the new school is required at the present time.

In yesterday's session the advisory council recommended that four new literary events be added to the league's spring contests. They were radio news casting, radio drama, oral interpretation, and lyric poetry reading. The recommendations go to the state executive committee for action.

RAIN DISSIPATES DEADLY FOG IN PENNSYLVANIA

DONORA, Pa., Nov. 1 (UP)—A "God given" rain today dissipated the deadly cloud of smog which settled over this Pennsylvania milltown over the week-end, killing at least 19 persons. But doctors warned that an epidemic of pneumonia might follow in the wake of the disaster.

At least 50 of the 600 persons stricken were hospitalized at nearby East Charleroi and New Eagle. Five of those were in critical condition and were put into oxygen tents.

Several hundred persons, most of them elderly people with asthmatic or heart conditions, were advised to leave the city until the smog cleared up entirely. Most of those who died were between 62 and 75 years old. All had chronic asthmatic and heart conditions, coroner L. C. Gray said.

Dr. William Rongaus, a member of the Donora board of health, blamed the death-dealing smog on poisonous gases from the American Steel and Wire Company's plant.

"I feel certain that the gases from the zinc works are responsible for it," Dr. Rongaus said. "It's not right. It's plain murder. These people were murdered. He said the zinc works gives off sulphur dioxide and when this is mixed with moist fog it forms sulphuric acid.

"When breathed into the lungs, it chokes people to death," he said. Officials said the smog was rapped over the city by layers of cold air which prevented the poisonous gases from escaping into the atmosphere.

The zinc works, the city's principal industry, halted smelting pending an investigation by local and state authorities.

Supt. M. M. Neale said they were cutting zinc and coal smoke to a minimum.

An official of the CIO steelworkers' union said "if the plant is to blame we'll close it."

The fog continued to hang over Donora today but the rain apparently washed the deadly gases out of it. There was no difficulty in breathing and Elizabeth Ostrand, secretary of the board of health, said calls for aid halted as soon as rain began to fall yesterday afternoon.

VOTE FOR JACK PORTER—HE CAN DO MORE FOR YOU AND TEXAS.

TO THE VOTERS Of Eastland County:

On Tuesday, Nov. 2, our county will decide whether or not we will permit the legal sale of 4 per cent beer in those precincts where it was formerly permitted.

In 1943, the Texas Legislature rewrote the Texas Liquor Control Law, and placed severe restrictions around the sale of beer in counties where legal control is in effect. It placed almost unlimited discretion in the hands of the County Judge as to who would be granted a beer license, as well as the location of any such license. It placed added restrictions and penalties as to hours of sale and to whom sales could be made. For instance, sales to minors result in severe suspensions or outright cancellation of the license by the Liquor Control Board. Sales must stop at midnight on week days and cannot be made before 1:00 P. M. on Sundays.

The Legislative gave the cities the right to further regulate hours of sale, but not to extend them beyond the hours given above. Incorporated cities have the power to zone the sale of beer in any manner they see fit, and to confine its sale to strictly business districts.

The sale of legal beer brings license fees to the Federal County, City and State governments. Legal beer pays millions of dollars annually to the State and Federal governments. For example, the October report of the Liquor Control Board shows that the State alone collected in revenues from the sale of legal alcoholic beverages sold in Texas during September 1948, the sum of $2,378,354.05.

State law provides that three-fourths of these State revenues be paid into the Clearance Fund (from which Old Age Pensions are paid,) and one-fourth to the State Available School Fund.

Remember, the bootlegger pays no taxes or license fee and sell his products to anyone who has the money, no matter what his age or condition. He has no license to protect.

Nearby wet counties are attracting business which rightfully belongs to Eastland County merchants and farmers. Our citizens go there, but beer and many other things in these towns.

We sincerely believe that we should vote for legal beer and that conditions would be much improved under our present strict State Laws. We have formed ourselves into a Legal Control Committee, not only for the purpose of seeking to legalize the sale of beer, but to offer our help to our officers and the community in seeing that its sale is kept under wholesome conditions.

We hope you will join us by voting for legal sales next Tuesday by scratching the bottom lines on your ballot.

Sincerely yours,

EASTLAND COUNTY Legal Control Committee

734 Texas Men To Be Called To Service In Dec

AUSTIN, Tex. Nov. 1, (UP) — A December selective service call of 734 men from Texas will mean that 3,600 draft age men will take their physical examinations this month, state selective service headquarters announced today.

The state call for November is 670 men.

Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry, state selective service director, said that the first inductions under the new selective service act will take place Nov. 25 and 30.

Physical examinations for registrants during November will be made at armed forces joint examining and induction stations at Amarillo, Austin, Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Houston, Lubbock, El Paso, San Antonio and Texarkana.

Dead Man Smiles, Was Only Fooling

FORT WORTH, Tex. Nov. 1 (UP) A "suicide" is coming back to life today in the city jail.

He is a 39-year-old caretaker in a downtown office building. Last night, he called his wife and told her that if she did not agree not to contest the divorce he is seeking, he could commit suicide.

She refused. He fired a .30 caliber rifle into the floor and dropped the phone.

The hysterical wife called the police. They found the "victim" alive and smiling.

Fighters Battle Forest Fires

LUFKIN, Tex. Nov. 1, (UP) — Weary firefighters were hard-put today to bring under control flames that raged in timberlands in three East Texas counties.

The Texas Forest Service reported a total of 67 fires raging yesterday. Since Jan. 1, more than 350,000 acres of woodland has been burned over—enough timber to build 23,000 five-room homes.

Engine failure late yesterday afternoon forced Pilot P. R. Wilson to make an emergency landing on a highway and left only Pilot Pete Singleton on fire spotting patrol, the forest service said.

BEFORE YOU VOTE CONSIDER!

- ★ From a business standpoint, the only ones to benefit from the sale of legalized beer will be the few who sell beer—other business will suffer.
- ★ It will not help our schools
- ★ It will not help the old age pensions
- ★ It will not help our churches
- ★ It will increase physical danger from drinking drivers
- ★ It will increase broken hearts, broken homes, death and lasting sorrow to the non-user as well as the user.
- ★ It will increase lawlessness, crime, and many other evils.
- ★ You can't have beer without the undesirable results associated with it: Do you want both?
- ★ Legal control of beer doesn't control the evils connected with it.
