Air Secretary Visits With President Truman

Secretary for Air Stuart Symington, left and Governor Wallgren of Washington, visit with President Truman at the Little White House at Key West, Florida. — (NEA Telephoto).

Well... I Dunno, But...

We don't see why Olden couldn't start a campaign to make it self known as the chrysanthemum capital of Texas. After all Tyler began in a small way to be known as the rose capital of Texas.

And Tyler's roses have nothing on Olden's chrysanthemums. Right now we have a large yellow mum, a gift from the garden of Mrs. O. H. Dick of Olden, that would make the hothouse variety blush with shame.

Too, as we go to and from church Sundays, we pass along by a house that has a garden that is a riot of color and beauty, filled with all colors and varieties of chrysanthemums.

And there're many more gardens over there just like that.

You don't believe in dreams? Well, we're just about to arrive at a profound belief in them.

For years the women of Ranger have dreamed of a clubhouse with beautiful grounds and of a library that would be a source of pleasure to all of the people of the town.

That dream has come true and Wednesday as we sat in that clubhouse and enjoyed one of the most entertaining programs that we have heard in a long time and and looked to observe the beauty of the clubhouse, the sudden realization of a dream come true hit us with full force.

There it is, the concrete realization of that dream.

And the grounds at the clubhouse are beginning to take on that "House Beautiful" look under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Henderson, grounds chairman. Mrs. Henderson says credit should be given where credit is due, and promptly heaped credit on Mrs. L. T. Rushing and Mrs. J. J. Kelly who she says have been her constant help in the work that's been done.

Too, Mrs. Henderson pointed out that it's through gifts from Women of the town that they've been able to do so much effective planting. Mrs. Ross Hodges, Mrs. Q. G. Lanier and Mrs. F. F. Brashier, Sr., are the latest donors of plants for the grounds.

Aside from landscaping the grounds for shrub and flower planting, the women have designed and had executed parking space on the grounds.

And the rose bed is all ready and waiting for those roses that V. V. Cooper has promised.

And we realized something else Wednesday afternoon. That Ranger Civic League is an up-and-coming organization and promises great things for Ranger.

Barely an infant, having been organized two years ago the latter part of October, the League is forging ahead with accomplishments and we predict great things for it.

Under the generalship of Mrs. J. J. Kelly the League is getting things done and that's what makes any organization count. The programs this year have been outstanding and entirely worth the while of every woman in Ranger and that's exactly what the League was designed for—every woman in Ranger.

And if you're not a member of it, it's not because you haven't been asked to be. Memberships in the League are only $1.00 per year and this one little dollar gives women a vote in the League and a chance to participate in all of its activities and yes, an opportunity to serve your community. Because the League is designed solely to serve Ranger to the end of civic improvement and betterment.

If you're not on the band wagon, you're gonna miss something.

The Soap Corporation of America got a telegram from the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce this morning and here is the way that telegram read:

"We love your soap. We love its smell. Move to Ranger and all will be well. Jaycees promise no law suits." Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce.

It all grew out of a story carried Wednesday in the Ranger Daily Times. The story related how

ROTARIANS HEAR ABOUT PHONE SERVICE MIDGETS

Labeling his talk "A Miracle of Midgets," George W. Brown of the information department of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, told Rotarians Wednesday at noon about the big job done by the tiny pieces of equipment that help to carry conversations all over the world in seconds.

Intricacy of instruments used in telephone service was illustrated when Brown emptied the 433 parts of a dial telephone into his "cornbread" pan. Most minute he pointed out, is the tiny transmitter which houses 50,000 grains of carbon that change the sound waves of the voice into electrical impulses that travel over the wires and are changed back to sound by small magnets and a diaphragm in the telephone receiver.

Copper wires no bigger than a human hair, a cable tow and one-half inches in diameter housing 4,242 copper wires, a four ounce motor with a speed of 8,000 revolutions per minute, the two ounce magnet that can lift a five-pound iron bar and "thermistors" were part of the equipment shown and explained.

"Thermistors," Brown explained, are so sensitive to temperature that they can detect the presence of a man a quarter of a mile away, simply through body heat.

This midget, he said, was of great value during World War II as a vital part of the secret device the Holometer which detector snipers even in total darkness.

As Brown spoke on the many midgets that make modern telephone service the miracle that it is, he gave due credit to the men in the great research laboratories of the company who are constantly coming up with something new to improve that service.

Brown was introduced by C. A. Deuschle, district manager for the telephone company. The program was arranged by James Hatfield who presented Deuschle. Guests at the luncheon which was held at noon at the Gholson Hotel besides the speakers were Hugh Smith and Mrs. James Carr, both employees of the telephone company in Ranger, and Charles Milliken.

Members of the Ministerial Alliance of Ranger today announced plans for the annual Union Thanksgiving service.

French Forces Sent To Strike Hit Dunkerque

PARIS, Nov. 18 (UP)—Strong forces of French troops and Security Guards were rushed to Dunkerque, where 2,000 striking dock workers barricaded themselves behind locked iron gates of the port.

The longshoremen's strike scheduled to paralyze all French ports next Monday already was effective at the channel port, and the situation there was described as serious.

Strikers seized port entrances and locked the iron gates which were put up by the Germans during the occupation. They reinforced them with wire, barrels and packing cases, and pushed freight cars up behind the barricades.

Ferry services from Dunkerque to Dover—the route taken in 1940 in the historic evacuation of British forces from France—were suspended, and the boats were diverted to Calais.

Troops and Security guards patrolled the war-scarred streets of the town, but had made no attempt as yet to dialogue the strikers.

A number of pleas of guilty were heard by Judge P. L. Crossley in county court Tuesday. The jury called for that day was excused for the week.

Among the cases disposed of were:

State of Texas vs. Jake Stuard. Plea of guilty entered on reckless driving charge. Fine of $5.00 and cost assessed.

State of Texas vs. Will D. Hazel. Plea of guilty entered for reckless driving. Fine of $5.00 and cost assessed.

State of Texas vs. Lee Johnson, charged with possession of liquor, for the purpose of sale. Case dismissed on account investigating officers found only one pint of liquor.

State of Texas vs. Billy Jean Hancock, charged with driving while intoxicated. Case dismissed because defendant had entered a plea of guilty and paid fine in City Court.

State of Texas vs. Fairy Lee Patterson. Case continued on motion of defense counsel.

First Concert Of Season Tonite

The Barry Ensemble, an all-girl organization, will be presented in a concert at the Eastland High school building tonight at 8 o'clock.

This is the first in a series of three concerts sponsored this season by the Eastland County Community Concert Association, and admission will be by membership cards only. No admissions are sold at the door.

The association is a joint effort of the three towns, Eastland, Cisco and Ranger and tonight is opening its fourth concert season.

Remains Of T-5 Sides Arrive; Funeral Friday

The body of T-5 Robert U. Sides of Albany who was killed in action in World War II arrived in Ranger at 11:25 today and was taken to Killingsworth's Chapel, escorted by an honor guard of veterans in uniform.

Funeral services will be conducted at Killingsworth's Chapel Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and interment will be in the Macedonia cemetery in Stephens County. Rev. David C. Ham, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Ranger will officiate.

Born in Stephens county on March 24, 1907, the deceased had resided at Albany 20 years prior to enlistment in the service, on August 28, 1942. He entered training at Camp Pickett, Va. He was killed in action June 6, 1944 in the invasion of France and before he could set foot on French soil. He was unmarried and was a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge. Prior to entering service he was an employee of Rosser and Pendleton, Inc., of Albany.

He is survived by the following brothers and sisters, Archie M. Sides of DeQuincy, La., George S. Sides of DeQuincy, La., George S. Sides of McCamey, and Ollie F. Sides of Ranger; Mrs. E. E. O'Keefe of Denver City, Mrs. C. E. Houden of Fort Worth, Mrs. G. K. Salters and Mrs. H. A. Salters, both of Albany.

Boosters Urged To Go To Ranger Hillsboro Game

It was announced today that a concerted effort is being made to secure a big following of boosters to attend the Hillsboro-Ranger Junior College football game in Ranger next Thursday.

Buses will make the trip to Hillsboro and those who wish to make the trip are asked to leave money for fares at the Chamber of Commerce, the Retail Merchants Association or with Calvin King, president of the student body at Ranger Junior College.

R. V. Galloway, president of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, made a thorough investigation of the possibility of sending a special train to the game, but after going into the matter thoroughly and questioning citizens of the feasibility of the special, he concluded that it would be an impossibility.

It was the conclusion of all concerned that the trip by bus will be better and there will be sufficient buses secured to take all who care to go.

The game is one of the most crucial of the season, and it is hoped that a large following will go from Ranger for the game.

THIS, OTHER APPOINTMENTS INDICATE ADHERENCE TO BI-P ARTISAN POLICY

BY JOHN L. CUTLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 18 (UP) — President Truman today appointed John Foster Dulles acting chairman of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations meeting in Paris.

Dulles, adviser on foreign policy to Thomas E. Dewey during the Presidential campaign, will serve as acting chief of the delegation during the absence of Secretary of State George C. Marshall. Marshall is coming home to confer with Mr. Truman in Washington on Monday.

The president also appointed Benjamin Cohen, an alternate delegate to the UN General Assembly, to serve as chief delegate temporarily. Cohen will replace Warren R. Austin who is ill.

Announcement of the appointments preceded a luncheon conference between President Truman and Defense Secretary James Forrestal on critical world problems.

The Dulles appointment was the first affirmative action bolstering this country's bipartisan handling of foreign affairs since Mr. Truman beat Dewey in the Nov. 2 election.

The appointments were announced by Charles G. Ross, White House Press Secretary.

Dean Rusk, a member of the state department staff, was appointed alternate in place of Cohen.

Ross said he believed the primary purpose of the Truman-Forrestal conference was to give the defense secretary a chance to report on his recent trip to Europe.

Ross said Mr. Truman plans to leave Boca Chica Naval Air Base at 11 A. M. EST, Sunday and reach the capital about 3 P. M. It will be a nonstop flight.

Ross said that Mrs. Truman and Margaret were accompanied on their Havana visit by several male members of the presidential party. They invited Robert Butler ambassador to Australia and Mrs. Butler to luncheon aboard the yacht.

In addition to Forrestal, luncheon guests today were Gov. elect Fuller Warren, Sen. Claude Pepper and Rep. George Smathers of Miami.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Truman and daughter, Margaret were at Havana aboard the Williamsburg on a sight seeing cruise.

Rayburn Confers With President

SHERMAN, Nov. 18 (UP) — Rep. Sam Rayburn left in an air force plane today to meet with President Truman in Key West, Fla., but declined to say what he and the President would discuss.

"I'm just going to see the water," said Rayburn with a smile.

Importance of the conference was indicated by the fact that an executive order was issued to send the converted B-17 bomber from Washington to Farris Field to pick up Rayburn.

Rayburn, who drove here from his home in Bonham, was the only passenger aboard.

Farmers were getting 53 cents of the consumer's food dollar in July, 1946. Wholesaler, retailer, transportation companies and others shared the remaining 47 cents.

Last Rites For R. S. Balch Held In Ranger Today

Last rites for R. S. Balch of Ranger were conducted this morning at 10 o'clock at the First Methodist church with Dr. Claud P. Jones of Cisco, formerly pastor of the Ranger church and Rev. Cecil Ellis of Ranger officiating. Interment was in the Cedar Hill cemetery at Abilene following graveside services this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Killingsworth's was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Balch who died in sleep at his home sometime early Tuesday morning was born in Alabama, July 31, 1882. He came to Ranger in 1918 as an employee of Burton-Lingo Lumber Company, for which company he was Ranger manager at the time of his death. He had been with the company for 40 years, starting service with the company at Tye. From there he went to View and then to Tuscola. He was married to Lela Mae Brewster on September 26, 1909 at Capps community about eight miles from Abilene. He was a member of the Methodist church and a steward in the First Methodist Church of Ranger.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Balch of Ranger, two sons, Willard Balch now in Belgium and who was unable to reach Ranger in time for services, Robert S. Balch, a student at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene and a daughter, Mildred Balch, a teacher in the Ranger schools. Three half brothers, J. H. Rucker and Fred Rucker of Abilene and T. Rucker of Washington D. C. A number of nieces and nephews also survive.

Pallbearers were J. D. Nichols and W. F. Murray of Ranger; W. B. Ferguson and S. M. Miltstead of Fort Worth, P. L. Ullum of Sweetwater and W. L. Medley of Abilene.

Olin Culberson To Be Eastland Speaker, Nov. 30

Olin Culberson, member of the Texas Railroad Commission, will be guest speaker at a joint meeting of the Eastland Rotary and Lions clubs, Tuesday, November 30. The joint meeting will be held at the regular meeting place of the Lions at the First Methodist church.

Commissioner Culberson is an entertaining and interesting speaker that many will want to hear. Lions and Rotarians and their friends in this area are invited to hear his talk on the above occasion.

In order that arrangements may be made to accommodate the crowd it is suggested that those planning to attend notify the secretaries of the Rotary and Lions club at their earliest convenience.

A new record was established by air express in the United States in the first nine months of 1948 when 2,969,411 shipments were flown, a gain of 10.4 per cent over the corresponding period of last year, Railway Express reports.

With an ingenious tool for every job from the twisting of a bolt to the Borro Crane that handles railroad rails like babes in arms, the nearly 300 workers, Mexicans, Negroes, and white men, are at work making the Texas and Pacific Railway east and west of Ranger safer for higher speed and for the greater volume of traffic that the road is now carrying.

Besides laying the new type rails which are heavily spiked to new ties, placed closer together, the crews are improving roadbeds with fresh ballast and pumping concrete into "water holes" which

Loyal Democrats Meet In Dallas In Closed Session

DALLAS, Nov. 18 (UP) — Loyal Texas Democrats today were expected to flex their political biceps at a closed meeting of the new Democratic State Executive Committee.

Those who refused to desert President Truman showed up in large numbers at the party get-togethers last night.

Loyal members of the party asked removal of National Committeemen Wright Morrow of Houston at the recent Fort Worth convention, but what their stand would be today was still a matter for speculation.

The Fort Worth convention urged the appointment of Bryon Skelton of Temple as national Committeeman, but Washington Democrats took no steps to make a change.

Morrow, a good friend of Gov. Beauford Jester and state chairman John C. Calhoun of Corsicana, drew criticism from pro-Truman democrats when he suggested a referendum last summer on whether Mr. Truman or States' Rights candidate J. Strom Thurmond should go on the Texas ballot under the regular Democratic banner.

Shipping Tie-Up Damaging Nation

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 (UP)—The maritime strike on the East and West coasts has idled 148,000 workers and 647 ships and is costing the nation's economy some $50,000,000 (m) a day, a United Press survey disclosed today.

While negotiators and federal mediators worked to settle the West Coast strike of 12,000 CIO longshoremen and the East Coast strike of 65,000 AFL dockworkers, some 34,000 seamen and 32,000 workers in allied industries were thrown out of jobs.

Spokesmen for the sugar and wool processing industries, dependent on imports, said they were faced with imminent shutdowns.

And the national defense program is being curtailed as the flow of important strategic materials is cut off according to a report by the commerce and industry association of New York.

THE STORY: Spring in the Indian desert, British secret agent Hilary Shemstone feels a desperate need to get back to England and to Nuns Farthing, his family home. He doesn't know the house has been let and that dreamy, 17-year-old Sabrina, whom he has never met, has adopted his old room and eagerly awaits his return. Hilary does return to England and to Nuns Farthing—after death. He is in his old attic room when Sabrina comes up, sits on the window seat.

HILARY sat down cautiously on the other end of the window seat and watched her, wondering what was in her thoughts.

At last she spoke again, very low, to herself. "I don't see why I shouldn't talk to him sometimes—up here," she said.

"The one?" said Hilary, delighted. "Why not?"

She turned her head slowly, and her eyes went dubiously round the room, blinking a little in the sunlight. If only there was a picture of him, it would seem more reasonable to pretend he was actually there and could hear if she spoke to him. Or if only one knew his name. . . . You couldn't live in a room all your life and not leave your name somewhere in it—or could you?

She cast a helpless, ingratiating look round the four walls again, as if seeking him. Where could one look? Would he mind very much if—?

"If I could find his name," she said wistfully, just above a whisper, "I think I could talk to him—sometimes."

"My name is Hilary," he told her, with a sudden, aching desire that she know it.

The feeling grew on him minute by minute as he watched her that some sixth sense of hers would surely hear him, that already her sensitive, childlike perception had picked up some impression of his nearness and that she was glad of it.

SHE had risen and gone to the desk, and now she stood looking down at the blotter.

"There's that letter to Thompson," she murmured, "only he didn't sign it."

"The phone rang," he explained. "He might have had a book-plate," she muttered, drifting disconsolately across the carpet. "But all he ever does is write 'Shemstone' inside the cover."

"It's in my Kipling," he said, following her. "Surely you've had my Kipling off the shelf?"

She stood behind the chest-of-drawers, scowling at the handsome rows of books in their open shelves which lined the walls.

"To your right, Sabrina—the other side of the mantelpiece—He spoke your right name in the middle of the room behind her, motionless there, striving desperately now to reach her with some sense of his words. "Those red and gold books on the second shelf to the right of the mantelpiece—they were all given to me by a dear maiden aunt with a vice for scribbling on fly-leaves, dates and all. Find my Kipling, Sabrina—"

She wavered, hung on one foot, moved vaguely towards the mantelpiece, and halted again.

"Keep your right, Sabrina—that's it—you're getting warm now—the Kipling, Sabrina, you can't miss it—no, the shelf above that one—above it—"

Her feet had carried her forward uncertainly. Her hand came up, hovered, and fell on "Puck of Pook's Hill."

"Got it!" cried Hilary with infinite satisfaction, from the middle of the room.

SHE lifted the book off the shelf and opened it, turning the leaves lovingly.

"Did you read this when you were little, I wonder?" she murmured. "I did, more than once. It would be fun to read it again—together."

She carried the book to the chest-of-drawers and sat down there, one foot beneath her.

The cover, loosened from much use, fell open, away from the writing on the fly-leaf. Her eyes widened as she read.

"To darling Hilary on his 12th birthday, with fondest love from his Auntie Dot, Sept. 6, 1916."

She gave a little gasp of triumph and excitement, and read the words again unbelievably. "Why, that's it! I've found you." And she repeated thoughtfully—"Hilary."

"That's it," he said, watching her. "Do you like it?"

"Hilary," she said again softly. "It's perfect. It couldn't have been anything else."

"You heard me!" he marveled. "You must have heard me—in a way, I can get through to you. Perhaps with practice I can make you know all the things I want to tell you—because you found your way to me."

She had pulled a pillow into place behind her back and begun to read, becoming instantly absorbed. Hilary went back to the window seat and sat down there.

He had a good deal to think about, as they sat together through the lazy June morning. He would have come back to England, he was thinking, in the ordinary course of events, some time later in the summer—about the middle of August. He would have come down to Nuns Farthing at once to see about his room. He and Sabrina would have met then—those clear gray eyes, that wide, engaging smile, the warm little fingers—her implicit confidence in the man who belonged to this room. . . . He would have had to exercise patience—she was so young—but she was his, and he liked to think he would not have been clumsy or hurried her. . . . Obviously, whenever, however, he came, he was to find her here waiting for him. But it oughtn't to be like this. Something had gone wrong, out there on the Front. It was never meant to be like this.

the O. H. Williamson home one night this past week. For the first time in several years all the children of Mrs. Annie Lee Williamson, a home owner here for many years, were all together.

Mrs. Williamson is in poor health now and is unable to get around too much by herself, but you will not find a more jolly person any where. She is the mother of twelve children, five of them having passed into their reward. Mr. W. G. Williamson passed away some thirteen years ago. Those present for the reunion were, Mrs. Annie Lee Williamson and sons, Don, of Marshall, Lee, of Olden, Less, A. W., O. H., and Dee, all of Morton Valley, and one daughter, Mrs. Ludie Mae Owens, of Olden. A number of grand children and two of the great grandchildren were present.

MARKETING with Marjorie

Come Thanksgiving, you'll be mighty thankful you marketed early. So look over the ideas below and plan your dinner right now. Then choose all you need for your Thanksgiving feed from A&P's big stock of big values!

GOOD USE FOR A GOOD HEAD

Ever eat all of a salad, including the bowl? You can when it's made like this: Hollow out a firm, green cabbage head and shred portion removed (about 1 1/2 quarts). Add 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. pepper, 1/2 tsp. sugar, 1/2 tsp. grated onion and 1/2 tbsps. vinegar. Add 1/2 cup of tangy ANN PAGE SANDWICH SPREAD from the A&P; toss; chill and pile into cabbage shell. Serves 6.

"CORN" AS CAN BE

Honest Injun, this corn pudding is the best thing that's happened to corn since the Indians discovered it! Beat 1 egg; add 1 cup milk, 1 cup of A&P's golden sweet IONA CORN, 1 tbsps. fat (melted), 1 tsp. sugar, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/2 tsp. pepper. Mix well; turn into greased casserole and bake in moderate oven, 350° F., 1/2 hr. or till set. Serves 4 to 6.

HOLIDAY HIT

If you want to make a big hit on the big day, take my tip and take a trip to your A&P for a rich JANE PARKER FRUIT CAKE. Studded with glacéed cherries, pecans, raisins and citrus fruits... this luscious fruit cake is America's favorite. Bet it'll be yours too!

CRUST ISN'T A "MUST"

Pumpkin pie filling baked in a casserole instead of a crust is just as tasty...especially if you use A&P's choice ANN PAGE SPICES and this recipe: Mix 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1/2 tsp. nutmeg, 1/4 tsp. ginger, 1/4 tsp. cloves and 1/2 tsp. salt. Add to 2 eggs, slightly beaten. Add 1 1/2 cups cooked or canned pumpkin; mix well and stir in 2 cups milk. Pour into 1 1/2 qt. casserole; set in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven, 375° F., 1 1/2 hrs. or till set. Serves 6.

NEWS FROM LONGBRANCH

Mrs. G. W. Stowe, Cor.

LONG BRANCH, Nov. 16—Mr. and Mrs. Doss Cozart, Mr. and Mrs. G. Y. Alford, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. John Edward Dudley were here from Okra Cook, Romney and Cisco, respectively for church Sunday. All except Mrs. McCollum, are member of the Long Branch church.

Fred Wilson and his son-in-law, who farms at Pleasant Hill, made a business trip to Fort Worth Tuesday.

Rev. Windle Lee was physically unable, due to a light heart attack, to be here Sunday and he invited Rev. Tommy Green from Howard Payne to preach at Long Branch Sunday morning and evening. Willey Lee who will receive his degree at H. P. in June six months later than Mr. and Mrs. Green, accompanied the visiting preacher and delighted his audiences Sunday morning and evening with two special solo renditions accompanied by Miss Lucille Furr at the piano.

Rangers Seek Seventh Straight Against Allen

FINISH HOME CAMPAIGN IN NON-CONFERENCE TILT

Detouring slightly from their stretch drive to snare the northern zone of the conference, Ranger Junior College still in the clouds with a six game winning run, take off against Allen Academy tonight.

And although the battle will have no bearing on the conference, chase the Rangers are anxious to sidetrack any possibilities of a form reversal. On paper the Rangers rank as huge favorites but the rapidly ending topsy-turvy grid season has pushed paper predictions down to the worthless class.

The Academy lads almost pulled the unexpected last year in the muck and mire down at Bryan. The Rangers pushed them all through the ooze but only came home with a 7-6 squeeze.

But there has been no hint of complacency in the Ranger drills this week. Thoughts of the important Hillsboro clash have been shelved until the timer's gun pops on the Allen Academy game. The previous record of Allen however has been nothing but a long string of reverses.

Available manpower for the Rangers is at the highest since way back in the Cisco game. The slow healing injuries which robbed Boone Yarbrough of full strength have finally disappeared leaving a physically fit squad—and necessitating some line-up changes.

Johnny McClendon who gave up his starting pivot spot to Joe Neel in the past ball game has recovered enough to answer the opening whistle. Likewise tackle, Bob Herrington should be ready to resume his tackle duties which have been filled by Bill Goodwin. Ben Blitch is fit enough to start at his left end post.

Changes in the backfield will probably see Bobby Gene Williams coming in for offensive work at the left half spot. Previously Williams had been used almost solely as a defensive line backer and a kicking specialist. But Williams has shown too much drive and hustle in scrimmage sessions to be relegated to work on the defense.

Allen Academy will field an eleven which will have a slight weight advantage. A pair of 200-

BULLDOGS ROLL OVER STAMFORD TO CLIMAX WINNING CAMPAIGN

By MARVIN GROSS

The Ranger Bulldogs etched out their farewell on the blustery Stamford field last night—etched it out in big, golden letters with a stunning, spectacular 33-0 triumph over the highly-regarded Stamford Bulldogs. And then added the tinsel to the good-bye gift to Stubby Warden by carrying the popular mentor off the field on their shoulders.

It was by far the stellar Bulldog performance of the wonderful season. Every earlier mistake and there were a few erased as the Bulldog offensive spearheaded by savage Raymond Comacho, exploded for quick, long distance touchdown thrusts.

With their eighth victory in 10 starts the Bulldogs closed out their most successful year in many a man's memory. Five straight wins were reeled off in the latter half of the schedule and in the final four not an opponent crossed the Bulldog goal line.

There was a red-hot passer on Carl Coleman's Stamford club who went by the name of Ted Sitton. Ted was as accurate as his press notices read but ranga Ted tossed his completions to the wrong team. Four times a Bulldog stole a Stamford pass—Raymond Comacho twice, Dean Elder and Charlie Campbell—and three times made proper use of the break by scoring.

In the final wild eight minutes of the second quarter the Bulldogs all but finished the harried Stamford boys with three lightning scores. And with that 26-0 halftime advantage Warden slowed down the slaughter by giving his potential 1949 team a chance at the action.

The Stamford running game which broke loose for four touchdowns against Anson was set staggering back to their own goal line by the superb Ranger front line. From his backup post Dean Elder roared through time and again to spill Sitton and the remainder of that wall frog, Langley, Marvin Wilson, E. P. Robinson, Jimmy Patterson, Keith Munnerlyn and Jimmy Ice would't take a backward step.

The Bulldogs had a howling wind and 85 yards to eat up after the opening kick-off. They started slow—a little timidly—then ranted like wounded bears to shove across the first marker.

After Raymond Comacho had lanced for a first down on the 30, Buddy Hamrick made his game's debut with a 28 yard heave to Kenneth Williams moving the Bulldogs to the Stamford 38. The unstoppable Raymond moved first to the 24 then to the 19. Stamford end Ray Hansen broke through to throw Comacho back to the 22 but little Hamrick took over again. He found Jimmy Ice with a pass on the 12 and lanky Jimmy sidestepped four Bulldogs to start the deluge. Jimmy Comacho converted and the boys were never headed.

Always on their own territory Stamford tried to unwind their heralded passing game. But midway in the second period Raymond Comacho plucked off a Sitton chuck and returned to the Stamford 37. Here R. C. Smith fed a pitchout to Raymond, captain Keith Munnerlyn obliterated a Stamford defender on the 25 and Raymond streaked all the way around right end. Comacho hit the mark again giving the locals 14 big points.

About 48 seconds later Dean Elder got in the way of another pass and squirmed from the 25 to the five and the Bulldogs were set again. After the little Comacho was stopped for a two yard loss, Hamrick chanted Raymond's number. Langley and Paterson opened a gaping hole on the left side and Raymond danced over.

Trying the air once more, Stamford saw another effort boomerang when Charlie Campbell got into the act, intercepting on the 25. Smith threw to Ice for a first on the seven. A penalty pushed the Bulldogs to the 12 but Smith calmly pitched to Munnerlyn who crossed the wide marker. Comacho missed leaving the Bulldogs with 26 points for

Bivins Surprises Battling Champ In Exhibition

CLEVELAND, Nov. 18 (UP)—Jimmy Bivins was enjoying a suddenly fatter reputation as a heavyweight challenger today but the suspicion lingered that champion Joe Louis may just have been toying with him in their six-round exhibition bout.

Bivins, Cleveland negro who has coveted Louis' crown for years, started a crowd of 10,866 at the Arena last night as he carried the fight to the champion for the first four rounds, even opening a gash in his left brow.

The fact that Louis rallied in the last two sessions and rocked the Clevelander with stiff shots to the jaw failed to erase the good impression created by Bivins' early attack. Whether, as Bivins hoped, that impression was good enough to gain him a title bout next June remained to be seen.

Louis, however, seemed only half-hearted in the first four rounds and didn't really open up at any time in the longest bout of his current exhibition tour.

Dr. Bolton has been connected with A&M since 1909, serving as executive vice-president and dean of the college since 1937.

Tulsa Takes Lead In Hockey Play

By United Press
The Tulsa Oilers forged back into the southern division lead in the United States Hockey League today.

The Oilers whipped in three quick goals in the opening period to assume a lead the Dallas Texans couldn't overcome last night and went on to win a 5-3 verdict.

Meanwhile, the Fort Worth Rangers—with whom Tulsa was tied for the lead at 14 points each—dropped their game to the Houston Huskies by the same score.

Tonight's games will send Fort Worth to Houston and Kansas City to St. Paul the latter game pitting the 1-2 clubs in the northern division. Kansas City holds a one-point lead over the Saints.

Mustangs Prime For Baylor Fray

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 18 (UP)—Only a pair of reserves were on the doubtful list today as Southern Methodist prepared for its final hard workout before Saturday's crucial game against the Baylor Bears.

Frank Payne's chest and hip bruises suffered in the Arkansas game have kept the triple-threat back from practice and he was on the extremely doubtful list. Guard Eric Lipke was nursing a knee injury suffered yesterday and may not get into action Saturday.

The Bulldogs struck fast for an early third period score and called it quits for the season. A tiny nine yard kick by Sitton gave Ranger possession on the Stamford 28. In a flash Raymond repeated on the same pitchout play aided by a key block by Marvin Wilson. Jimmy added the 33rd point ending the scoring and a glorious season for Coaches Warden and Allis and their punchy Bulldogs.

Review, Shower Given Wednesday

At the regular meeting of the Ranger Civic League held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Community Clubhouse, Jo Oylar, talented book reviewer gave a delightful review of John Steinbeck's "The Pearl."

Miss Oylar's review was arranged by Mrs. Nicol Crawford and the speaker was presented by Mrs. O. G. Lanier, program chairman for the League.

Guests at the review and tea were welcomed by Mrs. J. J. Kelly, president of the Civic League, who told of plans for presenting "The Eternal Light, a religious play on December 2 and 3. Mrs. Kelly also presented to the clubhouse on behalf of the women of Ranger, a nearly complete set of dishes. The set which is 100 place setting was purchased by individual contributions from women. Mrs. Kelly pointed out that some of the dishes are still at Killingsworth's where others who wish to have a part on the gift may leave their donations.

Mrs. Kelly also praised the work of various committees of the League and stated that the executive board had granted the garden committee $50 to be spent in beautifying the clubhouse grounds.

At the close of the program, refreshments were served from a table decorated at one end with a harvest arrangement from which extended skewers ringed with doughnuts. At the other end of the table was a copper plated pewter tea service at which Mrs. Kelly presided. The attractive table arrangement and refreshments were arranged by Mrs. W. L. Downtain, hospitality chairman of the League and Mrs. James P. Morris, Mrs. Bob Allen and Mrs.

judge in a district court at Wichita Falls awarded eleven families $31,916 because the fumes from the soap corporation's plant nauseated them.

Because the women in the families had to stay home and smell the fumes longer than the men who were away at businesses, the women got the biggest end of the payoff. They got $1,000 each while the men only got $500 each.

Witnesses testified that the fumes smelled like "dead salmon."

But the Ranger Jaycees think that if the plant were located in Ranger, they could arrange about gas masks or maybe a shift in winds to take care of the fumes, and at the same time add a good sized payroll to the town.

Whatever the results of the telegram may be, the Jaycees are on the beam for new industry for Ranger.

Athletes Know the Benefits of Heat Lamps

Electric HEAT LAMPS ARE KEYS TO BETTER LIVING

Take a tip from athletes and their coaches and trainers—they all know that one of the best ways to get quick relief from muscular aches and pains is by applying the relaxing, soothing heat of an electric heat lamp. Sore and stiff muscles, strained ligaments of more severe sprains all react to the penetrating heat of heat lamps.

Electric heat lamps have many other uses around the home, too. For example, they dry fingernail polish, paints and lacquers rapidly. And best of all, they fit any standard lamp socket. No special stands or holders are needed, unless you prefer them.

Appliance stores, department stores and furniture stores have electric heat lamps available now.
