Israel Gov't In Agreement With Withdrawal

TEL AVIV, Nov. 19 (UP)—The government of Israel maintained today that it had complied with a United Nations order to withdraw from the Negev desert, but at the same time was taking the position of having complied with the UN order.

The Israeli reply to the UN was transmitted to UN representatives in Palestine on the eve of today's deadline for carrying out the order.

A government statement made it plain that Israel was determined to keep the South Palestine desert, but at the same time was taking the position of having complied with the UN order. The "invading" Israeli troops who went into the Negev after Oct. 14, when the campaign against the Egyptians began, already have been withdrawn, the government reported.

The garrisons of 6, 20-odd settlements in the Negev before Oct. 14 will remain, it reported, since the government "notes with satisfaction" that the Security Council is not demanding the withdrawal of forces held there before Oct. 14 to safeguard the security of the state of Israel.

SMASHING VICTORY ENDS THREATS OF COMMUNIST ADVANCE TO NANKING

BY JOSEPH JACOB
United Press Staff Correspondent

NANKING, Nov. 19 (UP)—Nationalist planes and tanks slashed at fleeing Communist forces on three sides of Suchow today, following up what was hailed in government circles as a great victory which ended any present threat of a Communist advance to the Yangtze River and Nanking.

In Suchow, Chiang Kai-Shek's defense bastion 200 miles northwest of Nanking, the 400,000 residents were reported celebrating the victory, in which the government claimed the Communists had lost 200,000 men, with fireworks and parades.

Eight thousand Communists were reported to have surrendered in a body at a point seven miles southeast of Suchow, the nearest point to the city reached by any Communist spearhead. To the East and West of the city, Chiang's speedy mechanized forces were reported taking heavy toll of the routed Communists.

Government forces were reported to have lost only 40,000 men during the 14-day battle for the city which was the last barrier to keep the Communists from sweeping on to the Yangtze and the gates of this capital.

Military observers believed the immediate military crisis in Central China had been ended by the Nationalist victory, and tension eased in Nanking and Shanghai. Plans had been made to evacuate Americans in the entire area, but it appeared that these would not be needed at the present time. Nevertheless, American officials were expected to continue to advise Americans who can do so to leave China.

It was expected the Communists now would turn their efforts toward completing the conquest of North China.

U. S. Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart meanwhile flatly denied reports circulating persistently in Nanking that he had advised Chiang to seek peace talks with the Communists and try to form a coalition government.

The reports in usually reliable sources here said Stuart talked to Chiang not in his official capacity but as a personal friend, telling him that it was futile to continue the fight, and that sufficient American aid to turn the tide could not arrive quickly enough.

"It is not true," Stuart said in Shanghai, where he was attending a series of high level conferences. At the same time, director of information Hollington Tong denied a Washington report carried by a foreign news agency that Chiang said in his recent letter to President Truman that China would welcome the sending of American warships to aid the Nationalist government.

It was reported here that Chiang in his letter, which has not been published, asked the President for a flat statement of sympathy, solidarity and support to check spreading rumors among the Chinese that the U. S. has decided to leave the Nanking government to its fate.

So far as was known here, Mr. Truman's reply was little more than an acknowledgement of Chiang's message.

Funeral services were held today at 2 P. M. at Killingsworth's Chapel for T-S Robert U. Sides who was killed in action in World War II. Interment was in the Macedonia cemetery in Stephens County with David C. Ham, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Ranger officiating.

Born in Stephens County, March 24, 1907, the deceased had resided in Albany 20 years prior to enlistment in the service, August 28, 1942. He was killed in action in the invasion of France, before he could set foot on French soil. He was unmarried and a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge.

An honor guard of uniformed veterans escorted the procession. He is survived by the following brothers and sisters, Archie M. Sides of De Quincy, La., George S. Sides of McCamey, and Ollie F. Sides of Denver City, Mrs. C. E. Rouden of Fort Worth, Mrs. G.K. Salters and Mrs. H. A. Salters, both of Albany.

Pallbearers were six nephews; Saxton Sides, Max Weldon Sides, Lawton Sides, Meredith Sides, Rolland Rouden and Gordon Sides.

Initiation Backfires

NORTHER MOVES TO GULF; COLDER WEATHER COMING

By United Press
The mercury skidded to a low of 22 degrees in Texas early today, as a biting north wind swept across the state into the Gulf of Mexico.

As the Norther left behind spotted patches of snow in the Panhandle and sub-freezing temperatures over a wide area of West Texas, the U. S. weather bureau forecast still colder temperatures for tonight.

The chill from the cold snap was expected to be felt in Texas for at least two days, with warmer weather expected by Sunday. Midland and Wink, in southwest Texas, recorded the lowest temperature of 22 degrees early today while Salt Flat had 24 degrees.

Amerasia's reading was 26, with 28 at El Paso, 42 at San Antonio, 45 at Lufkin, 44 at Tyler and Dallas and 50 at Houston. Brownsville reported the highest temperature of 57 degrees.

The high winds were expected to die down tonight. Colder temperatures were forecast for East Texas, with low readings of 28 to 34 in the north and west central portions.

Continued cold was forecast for West Texas, with low temperatures of 26 to 32 degrees except for the Del Rio-Eagle Pass area.

Main skies were expected in the entire state. Rising temperatures were scheduled to reach West Texas sometime Saturday.

VISHINSKY REFUSES TO SPEAK ON SIZE OF ARMED STRENGTH

By R. H. Shackford
United Press Staff Correspondent
PARIS, Nov. 19 (UP)—Andrei Vishinsky defied western demands that Russia disclose the size of her armed forces today, shouting in the United Nations General Assembly "I won't answer. I won't answer" any such questions.

The General Assembly in full session resumed debate on disarmament. The long smoldering animosities and frictions between the East and West boiled up at once. Denunciations flew thick and fast.

Vishinsky accused the United States and Great Britain of plotting an atomic war against Russia and of being afraid that "peace might break out." He tore savagely into secretary of state George Marshall's statement last week that a Soviet "peace offensive" was a "dangerous procedure."

Before he spoke, John Foster Dulles charged Russia with trying to increase its advantage in U. S. He told the assembly that the U. S. was building up its armed forces to keep the Soviets out of the vacuum created by the war in Western Europe.

Hector McNeill of Great Britain

As the Norther swept into the Panhandle yesterday, it swirled clouds of dust ahead of it, cutting visibility sharply.

As it hit the gulf coast, thunderstorms were precipitated, with 39 of an inch rain at Houston, 85 at Beaumont and 24 at Galveston.

Wichita Falls, in North Central Texas, recorded 21 of an inch, and with the exception of light snow flurries in sections of the Panhandle and at Lubbock, on the South Plains the rest of the state remained dry.

The norther reached its greatest velocity at Clarendon with winds up to 55 miles an hour. Snow also fell at Clarendon. Wichita Falls clocked a 52-mile-per hour wind with strong gusts. The cold front moved into Texas yesterday after leaving snow in Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska.

Most of the property described in the suits filed Wednesday is located in Clegg with some farm lands and some lots in the old Mangum townsite.

John Deere Party Draws Big Crowd

Farmers, and ranchers, their wives and families from all over this section were in Ranger today to attend the John Deere party at the Taylor implement company and talk of the year and ranch hummed as implements and farm equipment were inspected.

At noon all were guests of the company at a hotdog luncheon served at the store and following that the visitors were guests at a film showing at the Arcadia theatre. Feature picture was "The Sugar Plum Tree" starring Billie Burke and six other films dealt with various farm and ranch interests such as pasturage, harvesting, wheat operations and one film on John Deere equipment and replacement of parts.

Reese Barone of Dallas, with the advertisement department of the John Deere company, was in Ranger to assist Wayland Taylor, owner of the Ranger store, in entertaining the guests.

He stated that there were some of the finance committees that have not reported and asked that they do so immediately so that the total amount of money available will be known.

Street lights are going up on Main Street and other Christmas decorations will be out in the near future.

Explosion Rocks Neiman - Marcus

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 19 (UP)—Neiman-Marcus, famed Dallas specialty store, today suffered its second pre-Christmas mishap within three years when a pre-dawn ammonia explosion rocked the basement and shattered several ground floor show windows.

Damage was not expected to approach that of an early morning fire two years ago which almost completely wiped out extensive pre-Christmas stocks at a loss of around $500,000.

Accurate estimates of the loss were not expected for several days.

The explosion, caused by escaping ammonia fumes in the air conditioning machinery, put out one compressor, blew out a light basement wall and set off the automatic sprinkler system in the basement.

The major damage was caused to small reserve stocks in the basement from the sprinkler system's water. Most of the store's extensive stocks are housed in outside warehouses.

The flash explosion came at 2:25 A. M., shortly after a night watchman and a passing police patrol car noticed escaping fumes almost simultaneously and turned in fire alarms. Fire trucks were pulling up to the building as the explosion occurred.

Christmas Program Plans Completed

H. G. Adams, president of the Retail Merchants Association, stated today that plans for the Christmas program in Ranger are going ahead and that a visit from Santa Clause has been definitely arranged for Saturday, Dec. 4.

He stated that there were some of the finance committees that have not reported and asked that they do so immediately so that the total amount of money available will be known.

Street lights are going up on Main Street and other Christmas decorations will be out in the near future.

Oil and Gas News

Glover's Kurklin Is A Well; Plans To Drill Others

Texas Rangers are famous for their persistence and for "always getting their man" and Homer Glover, former Texas Ranger, has carried the same qualities over into the oil business.

After weeks and weeks of perseverance and hard luck, he has at last got an oil well. Preparations are now being made to install the pump.

The well is the Kurklin No. 1, 6 miles west of Eastland, in the H. & F. C. survey.

When the sand in which production had been counted on was removed, it was found that water had intruded the stratum. So Glover went deeper, to the Marble Falls. There, circulation was lost. He went still deeper, came back to the Marble Falls and bailed and swabbed out around 500 barrels of mud. Just about all others were shaking their heads. But at last, a little oil came through Glover put it back to help in the cleaning out process.

And now he has a well. In fact, the area gives promise of developing into a pool. The 4M Oil Company, in the Hill, 1800 feet east of Glover's well, has a small pumper. Two other locations have been made in the area and Glover is planning to drill a second well.

City Secretary Faces Grand Jury

DALLAS, Nov. 19 (UP)—Mrs. Stella Rhode, Grand Prairie City secretary, was scheduled to show her books and records at a Dallas county grand jury hearing today.

Jury bailiff Sam Davis handed Mrs. Rhode a subpoena at her office in Grand Prairie city hall yesterday and said the jury wanted to ask her about a $10,000 check made during 1947 and 1948. The subpoena was drawn up after Grand Prairie residents said they wanted to know more about operations of the city's finances. No indictments or true bills will be returned because no charges have been made during the investigation.

Brilliant New Comet Makes Camera Bow

"Comet 1948 L," the most brilliant aerial visitor seen in the Northern Hemisphere since 1927, is photographed by an 18-inch camera at Mount Palomar observatory, California. The comet is visible just about dawn. It was first seen in South Africa, and astronomers say it rivals the famed Halley's Comet for brilliance. They are working now to determine its orbit, and to figure out when it may be expected back again.

Agencies To Show How To Rebuild Farm

WACO, Tex., Nov. 19 (UP)—It will take more than a "dry north" to keep Waco groups from rebuilding Ned Shurette's 172-acre farm today.

Last year Shurette, 31, was a tenant farmer. But he bought a farm from the farm home administration through its loan plan and moved into a neat white frame house last November.

Farsighted Waco citizens grabbed a chance to convert Shurette's place into one of the country's most modern farms. A committee made up of the McLennan County Soil Conservation District supervisors, the Waco Chamber of Commerce, the Farm and Ranch Club, and various agricultural bureaus in the county planned to rebuild his farm with $10,000 worth of equipment, including 60 farm machines.

They set Nov. 12 as the date of their "save-a-farm" project. But it rained on Nov. 12 and the groups postponed the demonstration until today when hundreds of persons who had driven to the little farm on the Mexia highway promised to come back.

Waco officials checked the weather bureau last night and vowed they would go ahead with their plan unless they are chased by a thunderstorm.

Some 15,000 persons were expected to arrive today to watch the 250 soil technicians remodel the farm in less than 24 hours.

The "Save-A-farm" project was organized to stress the importance of soil conservation. For Ned Shurette it will be a day to remember.

Football Players On Non-Stop Jaunt

DE LEON, Tex., Nov. 19 (UP)—Three members of the football team from the Gateville State Training School took off on an end run last night and still hadn't gotten back to the line of scrimmage today.

The trio left their teammates working out in the DeLeon gym and went to the shower room, where they fled through a window stole a car (1941 green Chevrolet sedan license No. BR 9092) and made their getaway.

They were identified as J. D. Martin, Donald Lowery and Louis Caldwell.

The rest of the squad went on and played the game — against Comyn High School and lost, 34-6.

Half Her Troubles Settled By Town

ODESSA, Tex., Nov. 19 (UP)—When Mrs. Emma Louise Wilson returns to Odessa tomorrow, she will find that half her trouble with a bank and a federal judge is over.

Mrs. Wilson was convicted on a charge of embezzling $2,181 from a Fort Worth bank. Federal Judge Whitfield Davidson gave her an 18-month jail sentence but said he would suspend it if she paid the money back.

The Odessa American said it did not condone her actions but offered to take contributions from citizens and neighbors who wanted to see her return to her four daughters who live here.

Donations had reached $1,033 yesterday.

Half Her Troubles Settled By Town

Mrs. Wilson, now in a Fort Worth Hospital, will leave tonight for Odessa.

Bougainvillea, the flower of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, comes in many colors. During winter months driveways, hedges and houses of the area are aflame with the bright red, purple, pink or bronze of the flower.

SEASON'S WORST STORM SWEEPS ACROSS MIDWEST

By United Press
The season's worst storm swept over the midwest today, lashing a wide area with rain, wind and drifting snows that blocked roads, tore up communications and isolated many great plains communities.

The effects of the storm were felt as far east as the Atlantic coast. The low pressure area in the midwest caused westerly winds at New York bringing an ocean fog into the city — reducing visibility to half a block.

Temperatures were falling quickly in the wake of the storm. The coldest spot in the country at 6:30 A. M. (EST) was Fraser, Colo., where the mercury dropped to nine below zero. It was two below at Big Piney, Wyo., four below at Pueblo, Colo., three below at Sinclair, Wyo.

Julius Badner, U. S. Weather Bureau forecaster at Chicago, said the storm was centered over Lamoni, Mo., at 7 A. M. (EST). He said the storm center seemed to be "spreading out and slowing somewhat in its northeasterly movement."

He said the storm was "one of the series born in the Pacific that hit Oregon earlier this week."

The new storm moving onto the Pacific Coast was felt as far down as Southern California where dust clouds rose 8,000 feet near Bakerfield. Waves battered many California ocean-side towns and forestry officials feared that brush fires might be spread by the high winds.

The snow belt extended as far south as Lubbock, Tex., and north to Minnesota. Rain fell in a wide belt east of the Mississippi river to the Kentucky and Tennessee mountains and south to the Gulf of Mexico. A capital Airlines DC-3 over-shot the Birmingham, Ala., runway during a severe wind and rainstorm on the southern edge of the storm area. The plane spun sharply on one wheel and dug a wingtip in the mud but none of the six passengers or three crewmen was hurt.

The weather bureau said the snowfall on the plains was "similar to a blizzard but lacked the sharp decline in temperatures that usually accompanies a true blizzard."

Democrats Oust Morrow; Select Byron Skelton

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 19 (UP)—A Democratic State Executive Committee resolution committee was today in the lap of the National Democratic Committee today.

The state executive committee voted yesterday that Wright Morrow of Houston, appointed to the post of national committeeman at the May convention, be removed on charges that he had been too friendly with States' Rights Democrats.

The association voted to hold its 1949 convention Nov. 18-19 in Houston and named W. E. Biggs of Greenville as president. Dr. Thomas H. Taylor of Brownwood was named first vice president; E. H. Erwin of Rusk was named second vice-president, and John D. Curtin of Galveston was chosen secretary treasurer.

RANGERS ROUT ALLEN ACADEMY TO LENGTHEN VICTORY STREAK

BY MARVIN GROSS

It was a night for eskimos and clipper ships. It was a night for fireside chats and steaming Java but they played football out at Bulldog Stadium. And the Rangers made merry either bucking a 40 mile an hour gale or rolling with it, plastering Allen Academy 33-0.

It was the Rangers seventh straight of the year but Hillsboro kept pace in an afternoon contest — rallying in the final half to nip Cisco 19-13. On Thanksgiving Day football fans will take a brief respite from Turkey and such to see the big conference pay-off battle between Ranger and Hillsboro.

The Ramblers from Allen were a scrappy hustling crew — had a fine back in Esquivel but the all around punch and drive of the Rangers were far too much for the military lads to handle.

For the third straight game the Ranger forward wall applied the whitewash to the opposition. In fact they outdid most previous efforts by holding the Ramblers to a single first down. Allen made a few inroads in Ranger territory but only after a couple of out of bounds kicks-offs had given them the ball on the mid-field stripe.

The Rangers sewed it up early with two first period touchdowns, added markers in each of the last three quarters with the reserves seeing most of the action. And two midjet halfbacks Oates and Jimmy Brock completed the job. Brock ripped the Allen line apart with consistent ground gaining activities.

After fullback Bailey Woods returned Allen's kick-off to the 37, the Rangers bit into the teeth of the gale to march 63 yards for the opening score — and thereafter it was no contest.

A penalty moved the Rangers back to the 32 but Bobby Gene Williams tore off 18 yards around right end to the 50. Woods, Jimmy Crawley and Williams snuck for a couple of first downs to the 18. Then Junior Arterburn fed to Crawley who found a canyon at right tackle, slipped off from secondary men and was over. Johnny McClendon converted.

Stepped on their own 17, Allen's Wimpee had the wind at his back but only got off a 10 yard punt to the 27. Penalties pushed the Rangers to the 40 but Arterburn faked an end sweep, threw to the opposite side and Blitch gathered it in on the 5. Woods on a delayed buck smashed over and again McClendon made good for 14-0.

Midway in the second period an exchange of fumbles set up another Ranger score. Fumbles killed off a Ranger bid on the 10 but seconds later Dale Jones nestled around a Rambler miscue on the five. Three smashes, the third by Bailey Woods accounted for the third touchdown. McClendon made it 21-0.

The teams ran around in the wind the remainder of the half but early in the third stanza another Wimpee punt put the Rangers in business again. On the 37, Woods and Arterburn picked up a first on the 24. The same combo lugged to another on the 13. And from the 10, Frankie Ford ran in solitude over left tackle.

Williams Adds To Victory String

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19 (UP) Lightweight champion Ike Williams, hardbitting negro stylist from Trenton, N. J., celebrated his 19th straight victory today following his four-round technical knockout over Billy Nixon of Philadelphia.

Williams, working up little enthusiasm and even less perspiration, stopped Nixon in 1:49 of the fourth round last night in a non-title bout scheduled for 10 rounds. Referee Charley Daggert halted the bout after Nixon rose groggily following his fourth trip to the canvas. Williams, who donated his entire purse to the Trenton negro YMCA, weighed 139, three pounds less than Nixon.

GROSS UNDERSTATEMENTS

BY MARVIN GROSS

Creaking a little at the joints the front running Mustangs are ripe and juicy for a humpty-dumpty tumble. And can the Baylor Bears apply the impetus to send S.M.U. plunging earthward? Never — Doak Walker, Gil Johnson and anyone else concerned will rip the good old Baylor line for another conference triumph.

The Frogs hit the road for the Rice battle at Houston. It figures like this—T.C.U. doesn't lose on the road—Rice doesn't win at home. T.C.U. is now on the road—Rice is now at home. Result—T.C.U. to win by a touchdown and a half.

Remaining conference entry in action finds Arkansas picking on Tulsa. Word from Fayetteville has it that Clyde Scott is back in harness and that's enough. The Golden Hurricane is a pretty sounding phrase but the action lies the word.

Michigan won't have the same romp it had over Indiana but will definitely have more points than the Buckeyes from Ohio State. Picking the Wolverines shouldn't count in the prediction column. It's too easy and too mechanical.

The Big Seven diadem will probably go to the winner of the Oklahoma-Kansas joust. Which means that the Sooners will be champions. That Mitchellled T attack is more than the Jayhawkers can handle.

In the East, Columbia should add another to their slim string of successes over Syracuse. Penn State will have a battle but should have too big a line for the improving Pitt Panthers and Holy Cross will scott over hapless Temple—the alma mater.

Jumping around — Wisconsin will hit the chalk marks again this time to Minnesota. Charley Justice and North Carolina will thump Duke, Alabama will pour it on L. S. U. and Tennessee over Kentucky.

When the Bulldogs put out that impressive finale a gonzo sprinkling of collegiate accounts from Athens saw quite a show. Needless to remark three or four of the Bulldogs were looked at with envious eyes.

Either time travels speedier when the wind is blowing or the

AERIAL DUEL EXPECTED IN BAYLOR-SMU TUSSLE

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 18 (UP) — Sparking aerial fireworks featuring Southwest Conference's two top passing elevens will highlight tomorrow's crucial contest between Southern Methodist and Baylor in the stand-out game of the day in the Southwest.

Upwards of 60,000 fans were expected to push into the Cotton Bowl as the two clubs make their bids for conference honors and a berth in the New Year's Day attraction on the same gridiron.

Neely Ready For Any Sprinkling

HOUSTON, Nov. 19 (UP) — The sun was out brightly in Houston today, mocking the gaint tarpaulins covering Rice Field here.

However, Coach Jess Neely ordered the big raincoat, taking on chances that the Owls would have to perform in the mud tomorrow against the tricky TCP Horned Frogs.

Heavy showers swept the stadium yesterday, but failed to interrupt the workouts Neely had ordered to condition his squad for the next to the last game of the year.

Neely expressed satisfaction with the way his charges have come through in their usual late season form, but observed that the Frogs haven't dropped a road game this year.

timer cut the final period of last night's Ranger-Allen game a trifle short. The final half was over before you could track down some hot coffee. But there was little argument over the curtailed activities.

spoken of earlier in the year as a man who had put his football days behind him, Jack Townsend made a surprise appearance on the field. Supposedly owning a twisted and torn knee, Jack frolicked like a five day old colt and the Rangers have another bustin' tinman.

SOCIAL WELFARE PROGRAM TO BE EXPANDED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19 (UP)—President Truman is reliably reported to be planning a new cabinet post to direct a vastly expanded social welfare program aimed at making America healthier and happier.

Creation of such an executive department would require congressional approval. But capital observers believe the new Democratic congress will go along.

Administration sources told the United Press that Mr. Truman will ask Congress to set up the new welfare department in his state of the union message. The message will be delivered to Congress shortly after it convenes Jan. 3.

Closely allied to the welfare program are relatively shorter range projects in the field of housing. The president and his lieutenants want rent controls extended for at least another year, and government-backed construction of low cost, low-rental housing.

Mr. Truman's welfare program in some respects is more far-reaching than anything of the kind proposed by the late President Roosevelt. It embraces:

1. Extension of social security benefits to millions of persons not now covered, and higher payments to the needy and aged.

2. A long range national health program, including pre-paid health insurance, to provide adequate medical care for millions the government says can not now afford it. The goal is "to expand basic health services and to bring them within reach of all the people."

3. Bigger federal grants to the states for construction of hospitals and other medical facilities and for medical research.

4. Increased federal financial aid for education. This will include money for school buildings, teacher salaries and other operating costs.

5. Possible government fellowships for medical students as a solution to the current shortage of doctors. Officials say the nation has only 80 per cent of the doctors it needs.

If Mr. Truman is successful in putting over the program, it would add millions of dollars to the government's annual welfare bill, which already tops $1,000,000,000 (B). Most of the added cost, however, would be met by increased income from social security taxes. Congress appropriated $1,245,163,265 (B) this fiscal year for government welfare and education activities.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS
 By Boyce House

When I was a boy in Memphis, Tenn., I met Capt. Dabney M. Scales, a hero of the Confederate Navy.

Not long ago, interesting details of his service were encountered in an old book.

Captain Scales was attending the United States Naval Academy when the Civil War broke out. He resigned and became the youngest officer in the navy of the Confederacy. He served on the famous raider, the Shenandoah, which cruised the seven seas, seeking Union vessels.

One day, south of Australia, they took over a ship which was flying the British flag but they thought this was a ruse. The vessel was hailed and proved indeed to be British—and then the Confederates learned an amazing thing. The war was over and had been for eight months!

Because a federal court held that the activities of the Shenandoah were in violation of the law—though actually its officers and crew were merely waging war, though of a daring nature—Captain Scales lived in Mexico for two years.

Then he returned to Tennessee and practiced law. In the War with
