SEVERE COLD DUE TO EASE SLIGHTLY TODAY

Winter's strangulation grip on Texas may ease a bit today under the rays of a bright sun, but officials still were searching the record books to match the week's bitter taste of snow and sub-zero weather.

At least 26 deaths were attributed to the latest damaging blow that left a snow blanket ranging from one to nine inches deep over two-thirds of the state and plummeted the mercury to an 11-below zero mark at Lampasas in the hill country.

Zero and sub-zero marks were common throughout central Texas as clear skies combined with the heavy snow cover to push the mercury down to record low.

Losses to property and crops—especially in the semi-tropical Lower Rio Grande Valley—were expected to mount into the millions on top of the extensive damage suffered earlier last week and the week before in ice storms in North and West Texas.

The snow belt extended from the Oklahoma border to the coast and from the Louisiana border westward to Big Spring and Larfa.

Warmest spots in the state this morning were Laredo and Brownsville with 23 degrees, while Galveston reported 22.

Three-below zero readings were reported at Austin and Waco, two-below at Junction and two-below at Dallas.

The reading at Austin shattered a half-century-old mark that had stood since Feb. 1899.

Highway traffic was crippled in many sections due to snow and ice, but not completely halted. Schools were closed and industrial users of gas were operating with curtailed fuel supplies as residential users were assured of full supply.

Beside the sub-zero and near-zero readings this morning, other representative low points included:

cluded:

Mineral Wells four above, Luckin five above, Clarendon six, Amarillo nine, Wichita Falls and Guadalupe Pass 12, Abilene 13, Tyler and Houston 14, El Paso and San Angelo 15, Big Spring 16, Del Rio 17, Marfa 18, Corpus Christi 20.

Fires claimed four lives over the week-end. Asphyxiation claimed three lives, exposure three and traffic accidents five.

Latest deaths include:

C. E. Berryman, 45, Austin, died of exposure; Frank Little, 25, Greenville, killed in an auto accident near Greenville; R. L. Barrett, 34, of Dallas, killed in an auto accident near Fort Worth; While Cook, San Antonio, exposure; Mrs. Uora Hooks, Beaumont, burned to death; Ant. News Bellez, 48, Midland, burned to death; Grace Mae Mooney, 41, San Antonio, asphyxiation.

Memery Flavous, 46, Corpus Christi, asphyxiation in his car; Henry Castleberry, 85, Cleburne, burned to death; Dorman Williamson, 19, Childress, died in Amarillo hospital from injuries received in a car-truck collision near there Friday night in which two other West Texas students were killed.

Exposure also killed a four-month old San Antonio baby.

There will be competition in a rural arts program, meat animal program, poultry achievement program, health improvement, farm safety program and a contest in better electrical methods.

County winners will receive medals for their efforts and state titlists are awarded an all-expense trip to the National 4-H club congress to be held in Chicago in November.

National winners will be awarded college scholarships donated by various industrial concerns. Complete information may be secured from the county agent, J. M. Cooper in the courthouse.

Able Mabel Proves Her Ability

The Martin AM-1 Mauler, nicknamed Able Mabel by the men of the Navy, carries a destructive payload of 9000 pounds—three full-size torpedoes, 12 five-inch rockets, and in the leading edge of the wing, four 20-mm. aerial cannons. Those weapons make Able Mabel the most heavily-armed carrier-based dive-torpedo bomber. The total weight of 25,520 pounds it carried when photographed is believed to be the heaviest ever flown by a single-engine aircraft.

DIXIELAND, ATLANTIC COAST SWEEP BY STORM

By UNITED PRESS

A Texas-born winter storm roared northeastward across Dixieland today, carrying heavy snow, knifeline sleet and freezing rains to the Atlantic coast and Great Lake States.

Severe cold settled over the western range states where an estimated 5,000,000 cattle and sheep were starving and freezing amid giant snowdrifts. Skies were clear, however, and all "operation haylift" planes took wing to carry feed to the imperiled stock.

The U. S. Weather Bureau issued warnings that snowfall would be heavy today through the Ohio River Valley and as far east as Washington.

Snow fell at Baton Rouge, 80 miles from New Orleans, and reached a depth of 10 inches at Spring Hill, La. School closed in 21 Louisiana parishes.

Sleet in New Orleans dragged down stately palm trees and weighted the Spanish moss with so much ice that limbs broke off the live oaks. Louisiana's $1,000,000 strawberry crop was feared to be a total loss and peach growers in southern Georgia expected to suffer heavily. Both crops were in full bloom.

Temperatures fell to 26 degrees Rio Grande Valley and many of the area's 12,000,000 orange and grapefruit trees were covered with ice. The Valley's 25,000 acres of tomatoes appeared to have been wiped out.

Sleet and snow fell at Galveston and Corpus Christi, on the Gulf and an inch of snow covered central Mississippi. Jackson, Miss., had five inches as the mercury dipped to 22 degrees. Two weeks ago, Jackson sweltered in an 85-degree heat wave.

Former Resident Dies In Coleman

Mr. Hendry, born near Atlanta, Ga., on Jan. 13, 1863, came to Texas as a boy of 11. He was married and spent many years of his life in Ranger before coming to Goldthwaite in 1918. He moved from here to Coleman in 1930.

He is survived by his widow; three daughters, Mrs. Riley Eady and Mrs. Beatrice Close of Coleman and Mrs. Charlie T. Wilson of Goldthwaite; one granddaughter, Carolyn Close, 8, of Coleman; two nephews and one niece.

New Winter Low Hit Last Night

Almost a solid month of severe winter weather in Ranger was topped off last night when the season's low temperature of four degrees was registered.

The reading at 8 o'clock this morning was six above zero. Clear skies appeared late Sunday afternoon but the bright sun had done little to erase the snow which started falling late Saturday night and continued intermittently all day Sunday.

Precipitation from the snow amounted to .04 of an inch.

Buses were running very nearly on schedule and drivers stated that highways were in fair condition. One driver stated this morning that all schedules out of Dallas to the southern part of the state had been cancelled.

Collins stated that since the weather has been so very bad during the entire time for the drive, that it is being extended to give communities an opportunity to complete collections.

Mrs. J. A. Bates, Ranger chairman, stated today that she has not made a complete check as to what Ranger has collected but she announced that collections at the Arcadia Theatre, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights had netted a total of $110.71 for the fund. She also expressed her appreciation to B. E. Garner, owner of the theatre, for the privilege of taking the collections and for his courtesies in connection with the matter.

No figure on collections for the county has been announced yet.

Korean Battle Taking Shape

SEOUL, Korea, Jan. 31 (UP)—A "severe" battle is shaping up in a small village near the border separating the South Korean Republic from Soviet-Dominated North Korea, a spokesman for the South Korean Government said today.

The officials, Choi Whan, said the fighting was going on around Chungdang Village, two and one-half miles south of the 38th parallel and 65 miles east of Seoul, capital of the southern Republic.

Choi, who is operating chief of the National Emergency Diet, said about 400 soldiers of the North Korean people's army invaded South Korean territory and raided Chungdang.

Choi disclosed that revolts have broken out in the sixth division of the South Korean National Army. He said 60 National Army soldiers in Phonang, 160 miles southeast of Seoul, revolted and killed three officers and six soldiers who refused to take part.

The soldiers marched to the eastern port of Kuryungto, where they were being attacked by 240 police and 80 soldiers of the National Army. The rebels used American rifles and ammunition.

PEACE PACT, LIFTING OF BERLIN BLOCKADE OFFERED ON CONDITIONS

One Dies, Three Burned In Fire

Smithfield, Tex., Jan. 31 (UP)—An 8-year-old child was burned to death and three other persons critically burned early today in a blaze following a butane gas explosion.

Bobby Glenn Hollingsworth was burned to death in the blaze that destroyed her farm home near Smithfield.

The parents and a younger sister, Mary Ina, 5, were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Fort Worth with second and third-degree burns over their entire bodies. They were not expected to live.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Hollingsworth. The husband, 32, is a driver for the Maddox Ice Co., and the mother, 25, a waitress.

The younger child was rescued from the burning one-story frame house by her grandfather, G. G. Hollingsworth, who lives about 200 yards from it. Edward Hollingsworth said he arose at 4 A. M. and went into the kitchen to light a butane gas cook stove. He said there was an explosion as soon as he struck a match.

The charred body of the burned child was found in the kitchen. Her head was pinned to the floor by the cook stove, believed to have overturned on her as she tried escaping through the kitchen.

Fort Worth Livestock Report

By United Press

The so-called Russian "Peace Offensive" reached a new peak of intensity today. The head man had taken over.

Premier Josef Stalin let it be known that he was ready to talk peace with President Truman, to sign a peace pact with the United States, and to lift the Berlin blockade under certain conditions.

Stalin took a personal hand in the cold war by means of an answer to a brief questionnaire submitted by an American correspondent for the International News Service. The long familiar Moscow technique of making such answers public through all available channels provides the import and effect of a proclamation by the head of the Soviet state.

Skepticism keyed the western reception of Stalin's statement. The attitude generally was one of wait-and-see suspicion—of wait for some action to back up words that had a familiar ring.

British officials saw the statement as an effort to wheedle a nation the Soviets had failed to intimidate.

Sweden offered Stockholm as a possible Truman-Stalin meeting place, but was frankly pessimistic that such a meeting would be held.

At Lake Success, the Soviets were reported preparing a new statement on world disarmament for the United Nations. It seemed no coincidence that such a statement would come on the heels of Stalin's expression of readiness to join the United States in gradual disarmament.

Diplomats at the UN foresaw the prospective statement as a Kremlin follow through on Stalin's peace pronouncement, doubting that it would show any new face or Soviet intentions with regard to the often debated disarmament issue.

Western Europe was inclined to place less emphasis on Stalin's statement than on Russia's request for Norway for information on Norwegian intentions concerning the proposed Atlantic Defense Pact.

Oslo announced that Sweden had refused to be associated with the Atlantic Pact, and that the refusal had broken up negotiations for a Scandinavian defense alliance of Norway, Denmark and Sweden.

Other Developments Abroad:

Rhodes—Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting UN mediator for Palestine, said he has presented new proposals to Israel and Egypt in hope of ending off failure of their armistice negotiations. The proposals were understood to call for both sides to make certain territorial concessions so as to solve the question of who gets what land in the Negev.

Tel Aviv—Provisional Premier David Ben Gurion's Mappai Party emerged triumphant in the first Israeli election, and made ready to take over the leadership in Parliament and to revamp the Provisional Government in keeping with the ballot count. The Mappai party got 152,922 of the 420,027 votes cast last Tuesday. Lacking a clear majority, Ben Gurion will have to form a coalition cabinet, but he will be in the commanding position. Meanwhile, reliable sources said Jerusalem soon may be declared the capital of Israel.

Beware of Romance

By Roberta Courtland

Life seems bright and beautiful to a young man named Merry Carson, whose big moment is Tip Kennedy, captain of the high school football team. And when Tip, driving her home in his motor car, says there's something he wants to talk to her about, Merry's heart begins to do things in her throat.

It seemed to her difficult with his words, and the Struggle-Buggy was parked in front of the Carson home before he finally said awarwardly, "I know that we're pretty young, Merry, and I don't want to go all soft and gooey. But I'm going to be through with high school this spring, and I've decided I'm not going to college. Seems a waste of time, when I'm going into the garage with Pops and I've got enough 'book-learnin' for that. Pops needs me, and I figure I can learn as much by working with him as I could by taking a four-year loaf in college."

"Well, Merry," Susan flashed, her voice thin and shrill. "You're just in time to hear the news. Your father has decided that he's bored with us, you and me, and wants a divorce."

"Oh, I don't, Tip—I wouldn't think of it." "Well, then, how would it be if you and I sort of set our sights together? That is, when you get through high, we could be formally engaged and everything?" Merry's eyes were shining and her young face was all aglow.

Merry looked like a stranger. "Well, Merry," Susan flashed, her voice thin and shrill and shaking. "You're just in time to hear the news. Your father has decided that he's bored with us, you and me, and wants a divorce."

Merry held up her little paw, grubby from the day's activities at school. The nails were embrowned with dirt, for no matter how low she stooped to bite them in moments of stress. And Tip slipped the ring on her finger, where it hung loosely.

"You don't know anything about her," his voice came through clenched teeth. "I know she's a no-good. Any woman who puts and connives to steal a husband from his family."

"You're sweet, Merry. I'm pretty crazy about you," he said huskily. "I love you, too, Tip," she told him shyly.

"Nobody stole me. Don't talk like a fool, Susan!" Kin's voice grated furiously. "You and I haven't had a real marriage, not in years, and you know it. Our marriage fell apart ages ago. You are so busy with your house, with your domestic problems, you haven't had time to give a thought to me, or to Merry either."

BAYLOR BEARS REMAIN CONFERENCE TOP TEAM

Baylor's Bears were in the driver's seat as the southwest conference basketball race turned into the home stretch today, but both the Texas Longhorns and Rice were in excellent position to displace the crippled Bruins.

The defending champion Bears, with half their conference schedule past history, resume play this week against an improving Arkansas quint at Waco, but will sorely miss the service of their stellar guard, Bill Johnson.

Johnson, who suffered a back injury in an auto accident last week, will be out for the remainder of the season.

The Bears have won five of their six starts, but still have to meet potent Texas and Rice again, each of whom has lost only one game while winning three.

If home courts prove any advantage in the topsy-turvy race, Rice will get a slight edge in having five of its eight games in Houston. Texas has four of eight at home, Baylor three of six.

The week's card will open tonight at Fayetteville with Texas A. & M. bolstered by the addition of Jewell McDoyell of the freshman squad, meeting the Porkers.

A non-conference tilt between Texas and Oklahoma will be played in Austin Thursday night.

Texas Christian and Southern Methodist resume their cellar battle at Dallas Friday night. In addition to the Baylor-Arkansas set at Waco Saturday night, Texas will invade College Station against Aggies.

CONFERENCE STANDINGS:

Team	W	L	Pct.	Pts	Opp
Baylor	5	1	.833	294	247
Texas	3	1	.750	186	172

Basketball Game Is Called Off

Coach Boone Yarbrough received word this afternoon that the Clifton team which was scheduled to meet the Rangers here tonight, will be unable to get here and the game is called off.

The coach at Clifton informed Coach Yarbrough that he had been trying to reach him by telephone since 9 o'clock this morning but because of interrupted telephone service the call was delayed.

Coach Yarbrough stated today that the two teams will likely meet here Saturday night in a conference tilt.

Hogan, Demaret Playoff Today

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 31 (UP)—Ben Hogan and Jimmy Demaret will tee off in an 18-hole playoff for $2000 first-place money in the Phoenix golf open, their second playoff match in a week for the big end of one of the nation's gold-dust winter tournaments.

Battlin' Ben staged almost a repeat yesterday of his performance in the Long Beach open last week to tie the colorful Demaret, Ojai, Cal., with a 71-hole total of 178.

Hogan, as in Long Beach, needed a birdie on the final hole of play to deadlock his long-time golfing pal.

He got a four-foot putt as a gallery of 6,000 watched intently.

Demaret, who finished about an hour ahead of Hogan, had muffed a two-foot putt on the 18th which would have meant his first Phoenix title after being a runnerup several times.

Both the little Hershey, Pa. veteran and Demaret carded mediocre final rounds. Demaret had a 37-36 for a two-over par and Hogan shot a 38-36 for a 74.

The play today marks the 12th day in the last 15 that Hogan and Demaret have been out on the fairways, and the pressure of that pace apparently was beginning to tell on even the usually steel-nerved Hogan as scores balanced.

Hogan, shooting for his third Phoenix championship and third straight winter tournament title, said he would return to his Texas home after today's playoff, skipping the open and other events for a rest.

Austin Mercury Hits 50 Year Low

AUSTIN, Tex. Jan. 31 (UP)—The temperature in this capital city dropped today to a frigid one-below zero, shattering a half-century record that had stood since Feb. 1899.

City temperature was at a virtual standstill as some six inches of snow and ice glazed the city streets.

City schools and the library were closed. Hundreds of capital employes thumbed their way to work.

At least one death was attributed to the weather.

C. E. Berryman, 45, died at Brackenridge Hospital after he collapsed on a small bridge just outside the city limits. Death was attributed to exposure.

The forecast called for a gradual rise in temperature to the mid-thirties by late afternoon.

Miss Burns, Mr. May Married In Ft. Worth Sunday At 5 P. M.

At 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Jane Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard N. Burns of Fort Worth, became the bride of C. E. May Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. May of Ranger.

The ceremony took place at the University Christian Church in Fort Worth with the Rev. Granville T. Walker officiating. White gladioluses on a background of palms decorated the altar which was lighted by white tapers in floor candelabra. White candles marked the ends of the pews.

Preceding the ceremony James T. Anderson of Austin sang "Because" and "Ich Liebe Dich" accompanied by Mrs. George Orum of Fort Worth. During the ceremony Mrs. Orum played "Indian Love Call", a tradition among members of Ko Shari, an organization to which the bride belonged at Texas Technological College at Lubbock.

Bridal attendants were Shirley Burns, sister of the bride, maid of honor, Mrs. James B. Hay of Dallas, sister of the groom, matron of honor, Mrs. Jack Butler of Austin, bride's matron, Frances Hicks of Fort Worth, bride's maid and Barbara Champion, flower girl. All of the attendants wore gowns designed with tight fitting waists with off-shoulder bertha collars. The full skirts fell into three tiers in the back. Each wore braided head bands and gauntlets to match their dresses. The bride's maid and bride's matron wore in turquoise blue taffeta, the maid of honor in fuchsia and the flower girl in blue and fuchsia changeable taffets. The attendants carried arm bouquets of gardenias and the flower girl carried a white satin basket filled with white rose petals.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with full train. The tight fitting basque was designed with an illusion yoke and a pearl embroidered panel around the waist. The long tight fitting sleeves came to a point at the wrist. Her fingertip veil of illusion was fitted to the head with a halo of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

The groom was attended by James B. Hay of Dallas as best man and groomsmen were Charles Milliken, Deane Crawley, and Bob Earnest, all of Ranger. Ushers were James Ratliff and Earl Pittman of Ranger.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the Colonial Country Club. Mrs. Earl Pittman of Ranger and Mrs. Bryan Hanley of Fort Worth presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Porter Wilson and Mrs. W. E. Price, both of Fort Worth presided at the wedding cake. Mimi Hicks and Mrs. A. T. Morton of Fort Worth were in charge of the bride's book.

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. For the past several months she has been working for the Yale Institute of Alcohol Studies in Fort Worth.

Mr. May is a graduate of Texas University where he was a member of Chi Phi. During World War II he served as a lieutenant in the Navy for four years. He is now engaged in the insurance business with his father in Ranger.

Besides the wedding party those from Ranger who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. May, Sr., Miss Beulah Harrison, aunt of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Matthews.
