Schools set registration dates

It won't be long before summer vacation is over and students register for classes.

Dimmitt schools will register Aug. 18, Hart schools register Aug. 13, 17 and 18, while Nazareth plans registration for Aug. 20 and 23.

DIMMITT

Seniors will register from 9 to 10 a.m., juniors from 10 to 11, sophomores from 11 to 12 noon, and freshmen from 1 to 2 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 18. The seventh and eighth grades will register from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

New students are asked to come in and register any time between now and the registration date.

New students need to bring health records and birth certificates to enroll, receive room assignments and meal tickets.

Room assignments will be posted and meal tickets will be given out on Aug. 18 to students in kindergarten through eighth grade.

HART

On Friday, Aug. 13, seniors will register from 8:30 to 10 a.m. Juniors are scheduled for 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

On Tuesday, Aug. 17, sophomores are to register from 1 to 2:30 p.m. and freshmen from 2:30 to 4 p.m.

On Thursday, Aug. 18, eighth grade students will register from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. and seventh graders from 10:30 to noon.

Elementary pupils will register Aug. 17 from 1 to 4 p.m. and Aug. 18 from 8:30 a.m. to noon.

NAZARETH

Seniors will register from 9 to 10:15 a.m., juniors from 10:15 to 11:30 a.m., sophomores from 1 to 2:15 p.m., and freshmen from 2:15 to 3:30 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 20.

Kindergarten through eighth grade students will enroll on the first day of school, Aug. 23, starting at 9 a.m.

Ramirez charged

Manuel Hernandez Ramirez, 54, of Pharr, was arraigned on one murder, three assault and one theft complaints last week in Malheur County Circuit Court of Vale, Ore.

He is accused of killing his step-son, Ruben Ramirez, 18, of Dimmitt, and wounding three others in a shooting spree on July 18 and has been ordered to enter a plea on the charges Aug. 24.

He has been charged with first degree assault in the shootings of his wife, Lucia, 54, and his sister-in-law, Celia Uribe. Officers said Mrs. Ramirez suffered an abdominal wound and Mrs. Uribe was paralyzed from the neck down.

He has been charged with second-degree assault in the shooting of his wife's niece, Anita Ramirez, 36, who was treated for a back wound.

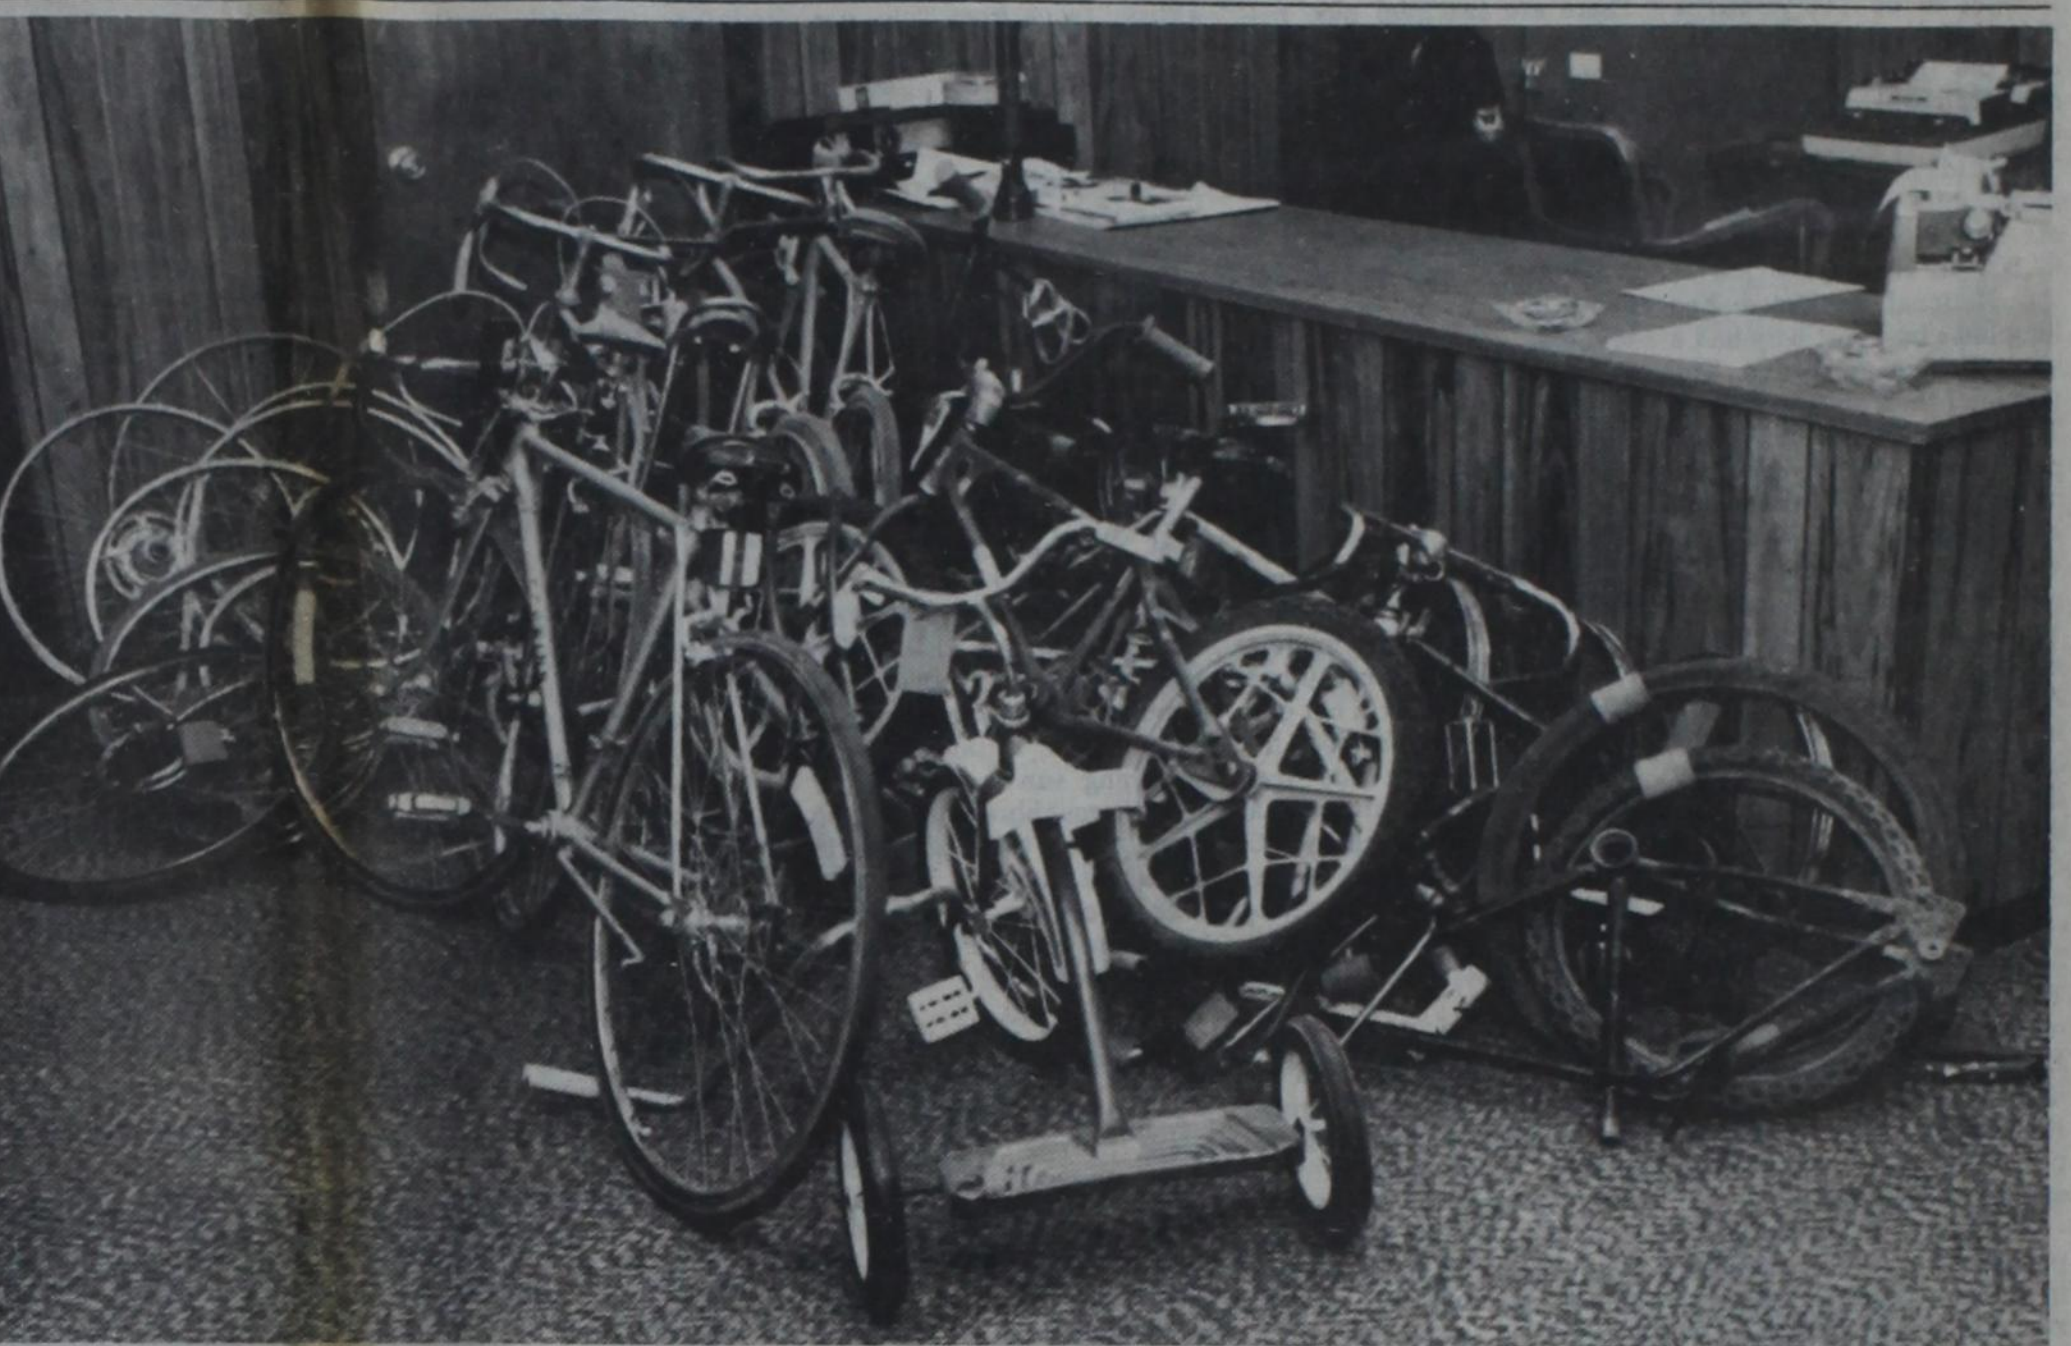

County District Attorney Jacques DeKalb also said the defendant is accused of stealing a gun from the home of a nephew before the shooting.

Potato crop, prices 'good'

"The potatoes coming in are of very good quality and are better than normal in size," said Allen McClure of Dimco Industries Inc.

"Prices have been good up 'til now, but they will go down as more states go into production," he said, adding, "we handle table stock — fresh potatoes. And whatever the market price is, that's what we get."

Harvest of the 1,100 acres of potatoes began mid-July and will probably end around Aug. 25, McClure said.

STOLEN BICYCLES RECOVERED — A joint effort by the Dimmitt Police Dept. and the Castro County Sheriff's Office has resulted in the recovery of these stolen bicycles and tricycles and the arrest of several local juvenile boys. The bikes are mainly from the Dimmitt area. Officers said they believe the arrests should clear up the rash of bicycle thefts that has occurred here over the last several months. Law officers don't know who owns all the recovered bikes, so if yours was stolen recently you should go to the Dimmitt Police Dept. and see if yours is among them.

Approve paving compromise

City aldermen look favorably on 'business development bonds'

The Dimmitt Board of Aldermen agreed to a compromise on the South Broadway paving project in a special meeting last week, and decided at its regular meeting Monday night to encourage the establishment of industrial development bonds for Dimmitt.

City Attorney Jack Edwards brought up the matter of the bonds at the request of Jimmie George, who was not able to be present.

Edwards said that state law now allows a government entity to establish a development corporation for the main purpose of creating more jobs in the community.

He explained that a new business wanting to locate in Dimmitt but needing help with financing could apply to the city board, which would then refer it to the board of the development corporation. If the project were acceptable, the bonds would be floated through any willing bank, but would be treated as municipal bonds and would be tax-free.

"The city could not be held responsible in any way for repayment of the bonds," Edwards said.

He told the board that the Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce has wanted the city to take this step for some time. He estimated that setting up the corporation would cost $25 for the initial fees in addition to legal help in drawing up bylaws.

Aldermen said that further action on the matter will be taken as need arises.

"Any type of industry can qualify for use of the bonds, along with commercial-type residences in specially designated 'blighted areas' Edwards said. Commercial-type residences would include motels, apartment buildings, duplexes or other such rental dwellings.

In the special meeting July 21, the aldermen agreed to a compromise proposed by Alderman David Hays. Hays said that some of the property owners along the southernmost block of South Broadway had finally agreed to pay half of the cost of paving the street along their frontages.

Although Alderman Wayne Collins said he did not think the city should set such a precedent which might lead other property owners to think they would also be entitled to the same deal, Alderman Ann Armstrong said that she felt it was more the city's responsibility because of the drainage problems.

The board agreed for the city pay all the cost of paving the intersections and half of the costs along the frontage of property owners. It was also agreed that property owners may pay out their portion of the costs over a five-year period at an 8% interest rate.

The city board agreed to a request by Cargill to lease a strip of city land on Northeast Second Street to the company. The property had already been fenced in by the feed company at the request of former City Manager Garnett Holland.

Local terminal superintendent Steve Burnett said the company wants to place a trailer-type office building within the enclosure, but that part of the building would extend onto city land. Burnett said he felt that his company would agree to pay the legal costs of drawing up the two-year lease agreement and the city ordinance, as well as a $1 per month rental fee.

In other business, the aldermen:

—Decided to let bids on two new cars for the police department. Police Chief Don Franklin presented the specifications he wanted and they were approved. He asked for mid-size, four-door sedans with the standard "police package." The department's 1977 and 1978 Plymouths will be offered as trade-ins.

—Gave the police chief permission to order new uniforms for the department, including for animal control officer Charles Whitman and department secretary-receptionist Virginia Cowart. A total of nine personnel would receive four uniforms each at an estimated $80 or $90 each. The cost would be covered mainly through the officers' uniform allowance.

Franklin said the new uniforms will be a dark navy blue with stripes down the side of the pant legs. Mrs. Cowart's uniform would be similar, except with a skirt instead of pants.

"I think uniforms for the additional two people will help add to the professionalism and public image of our whole department," Franklin told the board.

—Heard a request from Castro Oil and Gas to install a key gas pump system at the municipal airport for the convenience of pilots. The board decided to wait until next meeting when some plane owners as well as other gasoline service owners could meet with the board to discuss it further.

—Met in executive session with Linda Hallman of the R. E. Harrington Co., which handles the city's unemployment insurance matters. No reportable decision was reached.

New AFS student arrives

By PATTI SCHACHER

Kim Vercueil of South Africa, one of two AFC exchange students who will attend Dimmitt High School this year, arrived in Dimmitt Saturday and has charmed everyone she's met.

The personable 18-year-old is at home with the Robert Bentons, her host family for the year.

Miss Vercueil (pronounced ver-KALE) enjoyed the trip over, but said the "most frightening thing" happened to her in New York.

"We just got off at the airport and were sitting in the front of the bus. We were driving down the wrong side of the street, and the traffic was coming from the opposite direction. My friend and I were hanging onto each other like two scared monkeys. And the bus drivers are crazy!"

"In New York there was 90% humidity, we nearly died," she added. "But the weather here is a lot like it is back home."

"When flying from Dallas to Amarillo, the land got flatter... and flatter... and flatter — much flatter than I expected it would be," she said.

Miss Vercueil is a native of a farming region and she said she was "very pleased to see cotton and cattle," which they raise in South Africa. But otherwise, she's in a new world.

KIM VERCUEIL, American Field Service exchange student from South Africa, gives a treat to "Joe," a horse that belongs to her host family, the Robert Bentons.

MAXWELL BLANCHARD, US Dept. of Energy site exploration manager, explains DOE's Waste Terminal Storage program to local citizens Friday in the Dimmitt City Hall. The first objective of the program is to isolate nuclear wastes and protect public health and safety, according to the plan presented by Blanchard and William Madia [background], site exploration manager with Battelle Memorial Institute.

Would nuclear dump affect irrigation?

How would placement of a nuclear dump site in the Permian Salt Basin affect irrigation?

That was the question raised by Castro County Commissioner Edd Wilson that plagued concerned citizens who attended the energy briefing held Friday morning in the Dimmitt city hall meeting room.

The meeting, sponsored by the US Dept. of Energy (DOE), was to inform residents about the waste terminal storage program and of the possibility of placing a nuclear dump site in this area.

The DOE program emphasized the possible construction of a "mined geologic repository" to be located about 2,000 feet below ground for storage of commercial waste from nuclear electrical generating plants.

The Ogallala underground water formation that provides water for a wide area is located 400 to 800 feet underground, said William Madia, site exploration manager with Battelle Memorial Institute.

The waste site "would not affect the quality of the water around here," he said. The difference from 800-ft. water depth to the 2,000-ft. repository would prevent contaminating, he added.

Waste-containing canisters made of glass, steel and lead should last roughly 1,000 years — until a time when waste radioactivity would not be dangerous, Madia said. The radioactivity "will never go to zero, but it will be technically safe," he added.

"It will have no more toxin than natural," said Maxwell Blanchard, DOE site exploration manager.

Blanchard began the meeting with an overview of the federal waste storage program before concentrating on the possibility of placing a nuclear dump site in the Permian Salt Basin, which stretches from south of the Midland-Odessa area through Eastern New Mexico, West Texas, the Oklahoma Panhandle and the greater portion of Kansas.

The DOE has contracted core drilling tests at several locations in Deaf Smith and Swisher Counties. Apparently, no similar sites have been considered in Castro County.

This spring, three exploratory shafts will be built "to get down to the host rock," and testing "at depth" will begin in 1985, Blanchard said.

According to plans developed by DOE, the first repository site will be selected in 1987, construction will begin in 1992, and the first repository will be in operation sometime between 1998 and 2006. The approximate costs of a repository will total $13 billion over 30 to 50 years.

The site will span surface and subsurface land of about 2,000 acres. Facilities will take up about 400 acres, so some of the site land will be available for farming or grazing with shallow water wells allowed, Madia said.

Between now and the time of site selection, DOE plans to make characterization studies on the impact a repository would have on a community. The study will include analyses of the biological, social and economic factors and on the results of increased population.

The facility will employ about 870 workers, Madia added.

Castro County residents were polite and attentive during the meeting. None of the hostility apparent in earlier meetings held in Hereford and Tulia were evident here.

This column has just got to be reactivated. People are entitled to some personal opinions, that is expert opinions of one kind or another.

For the past several years the author of this column has had ups and downs of various kinds, health and otherwise, that made it impossible to produce the column regularly, however we have, intermittently, had a little something to say when it seemed absolutely necessary. We hope to beat that record in the future.

Politics are beginning to pick up and the various races will need analyzing at times. I feel now that the column will lean slightly toward the democratic side, that is local, state and national. I feel that after close analysis of the various candidates, the majority of the voters will agree with me.

Then there is world conditions that need some attention. I am convinced that the OPEC countries, aided and abetted by some of the major oil companies, to some degree, have taken us for a ride. Of all the various things that inflation has been blamed on energy has been the main culprit but has received the least criticism.

There might be some justification for some increases in the price of petroleum products, but not to the exorbitant prices that are being charged. The cost of natural gas can't be blamed on the OPEC countries, we don't import natural gas. The cost of natural gas is twelve to fourteen times as much as it was a few short years ago. It is used to produce electricity, in the various metal smelters, to heat homes, to irrigate crops for food and fiber and for many other purposes where heat is needed. The impact of the cost of energy on the national economy is staggering and is the principal culprit in the upward spiral of inflation for the past several years.

All users of natural gas, as a source of energy, could raise their prices to compensate for the added cost, with the exception of the American farmer who doesn't have the prerogative of setting the price of his product. None of the recent presidents have jawboned the gas industry about the unreasonable increases they have been making in the

Maynards take boys to World's Fair

By Mary Edna Hendrix

Wade and Walter Maynard, their son Wyette and friends Kris Keith and Kelly Goolsby went to the World's Fair in Knoxville, Tenn., July 23. They drove, with stops in Oklahoma City and Lebanon, Tenn. Motel rooms were no problem just as the Knoxville Chamber of Commerce had told them before they left. All of the rooms where they stayed were what they thought to be "very reasonable." Kris and Kelly's parents are David and Pat Keith and Michael and Melissa Goolsby.

Both days at the Fair they found large crowds, in excess of 75,000 on Sunday and 67,000 on Monday. A few of the National Pavillions had long lines but most only had a short wait to get inside. The theme of the Fair was Energy Turns the World, and each pavillion showed it's country's newest methods of producing energy and what was done with the money this energy produced. They thought the United States, Saudi Arabian, Italian, German, Japanese, Australian and Korean Pavillions to be the best in showing energy exhibits. The People's Republic of China had outstanding displays of the ancient Great Wall, furniture, silk goods, tapestries, jade carvings and showed artisans creating many of these items. The Egyptian Pavillion showed artifacts from museums in Egypt. The highlight was items from the era of Pharaoh Ramses II, as well as the period of Mary and Joseph spent in that country.

The group found the local people very friendly just like in Dimmitt. They were anxious that they pleased you and made you feel welcome. On the return trip the group stopped in The Hermitage, the home of Andrew Jackson. They toured the home and accompanying buildings and stayed at the Hermitage Inn.

The group decided to make a list of all rivers and lakes crossed on the trip home. They numbered 40 in all. All were flowing and water was abundant the whole trip. They enjoyed seeing rice and tobacco being grown as well as the beautiful wooded country on the way from Oklahoma City, on to Knoxville.

They stopped at Mud Island on the Mississippi River in Memphis, Tenn. This is a new park opened July 3, and is an educational park on the Mississippi River. The kids can wade in a replica of the River from Cairo, Ill., to the Gulf of Mexico. There is a museum which has a reconstructed three-level river boat in it. You can stand in the museum and hear conversations overheard from sailors on board during a mock gun battle. The panic in their voices is very easy to discern. There are two real nice restaurants, along with other shops on the island which is accessible only by monorail.

The group came back through Amarillo the evening the rains came to cease the flooding there.

On Friday and Saturday a group of five Cub Scouts and Webelos attended the Day Camp sponsored by Pack 250 in Plainview. It was held at the city park there. Going were Chas Humphrey, Bryan Nelson, Kris Keith, Wyette Maynard, and Bryan Hardy. Indian Lore was the theme. The boys participated in water relays, water polo and made a complete Indian costume. Saturday night after a hot dog supper, they performed Indian dances from the five Indian Nations around a camp fire. Staff members and leaders from Dimmitt going were Cubmaster Dana Nelson, Nell Humphrey, Walter Maynard and Pat Keith, all leaders.

Mark Broadstreet, son of Ruby and Gene Broadstreet, has recently moved to Tulsa to take a job there at the Lowry Music Organ Center. It is the largest of its kind in the Southwest. It is in the south-part of the mall. His parents received a letter this past Saturday and he said he was really enjoying his new job, the people he works with, his new apartment, etc. But most of all for a young man of 18 just starting out on his own he's doing real well and we are proud of him. He said he is pretty lonesome right now what with moving to a new location so if some of you would like to write Mark a few lines or just drop him a card I know he'd really appreciate it. His address is Mark Broadstreet, 8535C East 66th Place South, Tulsa, Okla. 74133.

Helen Richardson, Elizabeth Huckabay, Cleo Forson and Faun Welker are back from a 13-day trip into World's Fair country. The first stop for sight-seeing was in Memphis, Tenn., where they toured Graceland, Elvis Presley's mansion. They first saw the living and dining rooms which were lavishly furnished in satin upholstery, gold fringed drapes, soft carpeting, silver, crystal, china and blazing chandeliers. In the trophy room were the 16 gold and six platinum records proving the impact he had made on the music world. There was a large golden shield on which were engraved the names of the many charities he had supported. There was an array of costumes, some of which cost $100,000 each. One belt buckle was studded with diamonds, with the center one 11 carats. His "solid gold" Cadillac was displayed in the Music Hall of Fame.

Next they stopped in Nashville and attended the Grand Ole Opry and toured Opry Land. They went on to Nashville and dined at the Chattanooga Choo Choo Restaurant. The original railway station has been made into a glorified cafe.

At Gatlinburg they saw a show given by stars of the Lawrence Welk Show. The Ottwell twins from Tulia performed and talked with members of the tour about mutual friends in Tulia.

Then came the World's Fair at Knoxville, which was overpowering with its charts and mechanics showing the production of energy which was the theme of the Fair. The Chinese exhibit of silks, laces, embroideries, sculpting, etc. was more comprehensible.

Around Lexington and Elizabethtown, Ky., thoroughbred horse raising was at its best. They saw miles of white fences surround acres of blue grass pastures for their grazing. Mares and their colts were in stalls feeding and napping after their nights' recreation outside. The scorching sun is not healthy for thoroughbreds so they have to take their exercise in the air at night.

St. Louis was the next stop and there they had dinner on a riverboat with entertainment following.

At Joplin, Mo., all members of the tour enjoyed a steak banquet compliments of the Bynum Tours. Highlights of the tour were reviewed.

From Joplin on the trees became fewer and the plains began to take over until the tour ended in Amarillo. It was an enjoyable and satisfying trip.

They also saw "The Stephen Foster Story" a Paul Green play, at an indoor theatre in Bardstown, Ky.

Raleigh and Grace Strother, with her sister, Winnie Chappell of St. Jo, recently attended a family fathering at South Fork, Colo. About 60 people were there to enjoy food and fellowship. This is an annual affair at another sister's summer home on the Rio Grande, Fay and Bill Chappell.

Dan and Oma Dee Heard, Hazel McCormick, Pam, Walter and James White of Amarillo attended the wedding of Darendra Sue Young and Kris Cartrite at the First Baptist Church in Sunray Saturday night. Darendra is Hazel's great granddaughter. Oma Dee got the pleasure of doing her great niece's wedding. She wore her great grandmother's wedding band which has been in the family 65 years. Also attending were Sue, Shandra and Jeremy Young, the Kenneth Fries and the Dee Willards. On Tuesday night Oma Dee, Pam and James, Hazel and Sue and Darendra's sister Ramonda of Canyon all attended the wedding shower in Sunray. The couple will live in Sunray and Fowler families in the death of Jo Fowler. Some of the relatives here for the funeral were James and Joyce Autry from Rocky Ford, Colo., and their family Kelly, Debbie Sue Merritt's sister, Anne and her husband Brian and family, Mark and Mylinda Webster from Mountain View, Calif., were here for the beautiful wedding of Amy Merritt and Kelvin Parsons. Everyone enjoyed the music of The Southwest Express Band at the reception. I went with Irene Carpenter to eat at the Bobcat Drive Inn. Since I had eaten, I just visited while she ate. Mrs. Nellois Strickland is a waitress there and she said her husband, Horace, is the water supervisor for the City. The Stricklands are from Fritch.

VETERAN'S SERVICES

By Bedford W. Smith
Texas does not have a monetary cash bonus program for veterans; but, it does have a number of benefits for veterans and, in certain cases, for their survivors.

An important one for the Vietnam veterans is the "Agent Orange Assistance Program" for any man exposed to herbicides (defoliants) during their service in Vietnam, Laos, or Cambodia.

Those showing any symptoms should contact us or the Texas Department of Health at 1100 West 49th Street, Austin, TX 78756 or call 512-458-7251.

From conferences I attended in the spring at Amarillo and at Lubbock, the status of the Texas Veterans Land Board's Program was that it is taking no new applications.

Due to high interest rates it would have to pay into the Bond Market, none can be sold now. Also, to work out the applications on hand will take about two years.

For additional information, interested persons are urged to contact Sara Sprights at 512-475-2071 or to write Bob Armstrong in care of the Veterans' Land Board, 1700 North Congress Avenue, Austin, TX 78701 to secure details on how to bid and where tracts are located.

Pre-school screening to be offered in Hart

The Hart Independent School District will sponsor a free Early Childhood Screening of pre-school children between 3 and 5 years of age. To take part in the screening, parents may take pre-schoolers to the Hart school's kindergarten building between 8:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

The screening will be used to locate children who may need special education pre-school programs to help them succeed in regular kindergarten programs. Each child will be screened for fine motor, gross motor, conceptual and communication skills. A counselor, trained in the identification of children with special needs, will review the screening results with the parent or guardian of each child. Each child must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. The total screening process will take about one hour. For additional information, contact the Director of Special Education of the Castro County Cooperative for Comprehensive Education in Dimmitt at 647-3103.

THE WHITE TORNADO—The City of Dimmitt's new sweeper is on the streets now after being delivered last week. The 1982 Elgin White Wing was purchased six weeks ago at $44,856. It replaces a sweeper, still owned by the city, that is inoperable and has obsolete parts.

Presbyterian happenings

Paul L. Stanley, Ph.D., counselor for the Central Plains Mental Health Clinics in Plainview and Dimmitt, will be the guest minister at the worship service this Sunday at 11 a.m.

There will be a camp for third graders through fifth at Ceta Glen next week. Sunday church school is set for 10 a.m., and the adult class meets at the home of Mrs. Emily Clingsmith.

Gipson's group makes recording

Perry Gipson, a former resident of Dimmitt, and the Electric Cowboy Band have a record out that is called "I'm Just a Notch on Her Bedpost." Gipson's recording name is Colt Gipson.

He sings and plays steel guitar. He has entertained in clubs including the Star Dust in Wichita Falls. Gipson and his wife, Charlotte, live in El Paso where he has La Tuna country club.

TO HOPE is to enjoy.

View from the library
By BRICK AUTRY

Did you ever wonder why they called library science a "science"? What kind of a science it is, anyway? Obviously it's not like any of the physical sciences, and librarians certainly aren't paid like scientists in other areas. Librarians are not known as library scientists. They don't go around with strange and exotic looking instruments like some other scientists do.

In the course work that a librarian must go through, one learns that the science part of library science is putting items in a coherent and orderly way. They stick this thing called "Dewey's Schedules" in your hands and tell you to get busy. Oops. This is cataloging class. Thank heaven there are only two semesters of it.

First, in order to keep everything straight, you start with setting down some rules. Some nice rules like "no coffee cups on the catalog" seem okay because that means no coffee will be spilled in your work while you put all the little cards into their places. But then you go to work in your office and find that the space for the coffee pot is right next to the catalog and the most convenient place to put your cup when your desk is full is — you guessed it — on the catalog.

Or making a rule about how to deal with a person who wants to use the library and who is not a regular patron is always an invitation for trouble. For when it is least expected, one will come along who doesn't fit the rule in the first place.

Or when you make too many rules on how to put books in the collection, you find to your own humiliation that most of them were stupid in the first place. Library Science then is the inexact science of keeping everything in place despite the rules. However, this will never be found in a text book. Text books have too many rules.

Neither will anyone willingly bring the subject up. It sounds pretty crazy when one says, "Yes, that's the general rule, but we never use it."

It doesn't seem right somehow. And it's never fair to the person who took the trouble to make the rule, either (nearly always a person of some importance).

YOU CANNOT push anyone up the ladder unless he is willing to climb himself.

Rotarians hear talk on US and USSR Navies

U.S. Naval Petty Officer Jack R. Barnes presented a slide program to the Rotary Club last Friday.

Barnes, a Perryton native, is stationed at the Amarillo Navy Reserve Center. The program promoted the navy and compared US and Soviet naval and maritime capabilities. The program stressed that the U.S. needs more recruits, ships and submarines to handle its responsibilities.

According to Barnes, the Soviet Union has 375 submarines to our 125. They have 430,000 officers and men in active duty; while the United States has 542,000. But both countries have the problem of manning their vessels.

The Red Navy has the faster deeper diving submarines. They also boast the largest submarine in the world. It weighs 25,000 tons compared with the US's 18,000 ton submarine.

But the US's major advantage over the Soviets, Barnes explained, is that their technology is far more advanced. Soviet subs can be detected and tracked on sonar because they are extremely loud. U.S. submarines, on the other hand, cannot be detected because of their low noise level.

In the 1960's, the U.S. started to cut back on the production of ships while the U.S.S.R. stepped up the production of ships. As a result, the Soviet navy is sufficient in size to challenge the U.S. They have 2,000 ships and the U.S. has 475.

The pressure remains on the navy for the national defense even in peace time.

10 YEAR NO SWEAT WARRANTY

If Air Conditioning doesn't have it here it probably doesn't have it.

Gas Air Conditioning Has It!
No other air conditioner has a warranty like a gas air conditioner because no other air conditioner is built like a gas air conditioner.
Gas air conditioning has fewer moving parts and no compressor to wear out or break down. This means less wear and tear and lower maintenance costs.
That's why gas air conditioning is so dependable and why it has a warranty that's twice as long as other types of units... a full 10 years!
Find out more about the air conditioning that's backed by the best warranty available. Call Energas today for a free cooling survey and cost estimate. There's no obligation.
Remember, all air conditioning was not created equal. And we have the paper to prove it!

Manufacturer's limited warranty covers all defects in materials and workmanship on the sealed refrigeration unit for ten years from the date of installation of the air conditioner when it is installed in a single family residence. All other parts are warranted for one year from date of installation.

Students, sponsors have 'marvelous' European tour

"We just had a marvelous time," Emmett Broderon said of the recent European trip that he, his wife Sue and 54 youths from West Texas took.

The Broderons helped coordinate the trip involving 15 youths from this area. Youths from Dimmitt who went were Jim Birdwell, D D Bishop, Rhonda Ross, Janet Sammann, Kim Sides, Laurie Sides and Lisa Wales. From Hart were Clay Barnes, Phillip Hawkins, Dan Jones, Elias Martinez, Abel Reyna and Derek Rich. From Earth was Jamie Byres, and from Springlake was Jeff Jones.

Another who took the tour was Larissa Pickens, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Jim Pickens, of Amarillo and formerly of Dimmitt.

Those taking the trip sponsored by the American Leadership Study Group were able to receive transferable college credit for their experience — six hours in history and six hours in humanities. Each participant was required to write a report about each country visited and to take a final exam consisting of two essay-type questions that took from two to five hours to answer.

The trip began with a nine-hour flight on June 7 to London where the tourists had a six-hour layover and saw Winchester Cathedral. A three-hour flight took them to Athens, Greece.

MAKING THEIR OWN TABLEAU of the statues behind them at the Rodin Gallery of Paris, France, are (from left) an Amarillo youth and Dimmitt students Janet Sammann, Laurie Sides and Lisa Wales.

"It was about 22 hours from the time we left here (the US) until we got to lay our heads on pillows," Mrs. Broderon said.

"First in each city, the guides took us on an overview of the city. Later, we walked around in small groups to see what we wanted to see, using 'walking tour booklets' provided by the tour company, she added.

In addition to the usual cathedrals, castles and ceremonies seen at each location, the tourists saw the ancient ruins of Greece, the blue Aegean Sea and the green Ionian Sea. They were in Greece a week.

An 18-hour boat trip took the group to Italy. Relatives of Rosetta Bellinghausen of Dimmitt met the Americans at Pompeii.

In Rome, the travelers saw Vatican City and St. Peter's Cathedral. They threw coins in the famous fountain. After four days in Rome, they went to Florence.

Armando Bellesia of Fabrico, Italy, AFS exchange student in Dimmitt in 1978-79, was waiting for the Americans in Florence. He stayed with them for four days and gave special tours.

"He took time out from his studies" for the baccalaureate exam which was to be taken at the end of July "to be with us," Mrs. Broderon said. The best thing about Florence, she added, was the special ice cream called "gelati." They also saw a leather factory.

The group bussed through Switzerland and had lunch there before going on to Austria.

"We all loved Austria. The people were marvelous," Mrs. Broderon said. She described the salt mine as looking like a scene from "Alice In Wonderland." Each person dressed in miner's clothing and slid down a chute to the mine.

They participated in a special folk evening with native Austrians, saw a marionette show and saw thousands of people in Salzburg who were to be in the song festival, like the one depicted in the movie, "The Sound of Music."

The highlight in Germany was seeing the site of the 1972 Olympics, Mrs. Broderon said.

In France, the travelers saw sites in and around Paris. They had walking tours and rode the underground metro. They attended several theatre events and concerts.

At the Cathedral of Chartres, Malcomb Miller, world-renowned authority on gothic architecture and stained glass windows, explained all the windows telling of the different trades of the people who helped build the church.

The ferry ride across the English Channel took only 45 minutes. After Canterbury, the tourists went to London. They saw the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace. Many in the group saw more theatrical productions and concerts including a performance of "King Lear" at Stratford on Avon.

"The rail strike didn't bother us too much because we had chartered buses and the underground system," Mrs. Broderon said.

Awards were presented on the last evening in London, and four local youths were recognized. Because he seemed to enjoy the trip the most, Jim Birdwell was given the Most for His Money award. D D Bishop was named Special Angel because courier to American tourists. "The kids tried not to miss anything," Mrs. Broderon said, adding, "We just didn't have the time to get in everything we wanted to do."

The youth ended their tour July 10, but the Broderons spent another six days traveling in Scotland and Wales.

"We rented a small car and stayed in bed-and-breakfast places. The people everywhere were so nice to us," she said. "One lady gave me some white heather, which grows in the mountains and is very rare."

Mrs. Broderon said that her favorite place during the trip was "where I was at the time." Her favorite thing was "the people everywhere."

"The hospitality of these people was great in each country," Mr. Broderon said. He added that they were friendly, helpful and polite.

We at Southwestern Public Service Company are forecasting now how much electricity you'll use today, tomorrow, next week, next month, next year, even 5 and 10 and 15 years from now. We take the forecasting job seriously. It tells us how much electricity to generate for you in the next few hours or few days. It helps us decide how much fuel to buy. And forecasting helps us decide when, where, or if we should build new power plants.

Grafton Clarke, Fuel Planning Senior Engineer, Amarillo.

School is out, and youngsters are out and about. Their safety concerns us, as it does you. We recommend this important warning about power line danger: Never climb a tree which is near electric power lines. There may be power lines among the branches. If the lines were touched, tree-climbing fun would turn into tragedy.

Mike Costello, Safety and Claims Specialist, Roswell.

Everyone, including SPS, is affected by high money costs. When we borrow money at today's high interest rates, or sell stock, people are actually letting us use their savings to build new power plants and lines and to buy equipment. If we do not pay the going "wage" for their savings, people will stop letting us use their money, and our ability to deliver the electricity you need will be limited.

Bob Whippo, District Manager, Seminole.

Knowing what electricity is worth is worth knowing. For answers to your questions, call or write your SPS manager.

Strickland goes to firemen's training school

Lonnie Strickland, a fireman with the Dimmitt Volunteer Fire Dept., attended the 53rd Annual Texas Firemen's Training School last week at Texas A&M University.

The school was attended by nearly 2,000 students representing about 750 cities from more than 25 states. Firemen chose their courses at the school from a list including fire fighting, fire prevention, officers' training, pump maintenance, specialized fire protection and disaster rescue training.

Strickland was sponsored by Castro County Farm Bureau and Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies.

Kelly Autry and his family were vacationing in Red River, N.M. when they received the news, so they came on to Dimmitt for the funeral.

Connie and Gene Ivey entertained the Dimmitt Dinner Club last Monday with a backyard supper. It was a planning meeting for the club's entertainment for next year. Those enjoying the delicious meal were Morgan and Geneva Dennis, N. A. and Thelma Bryson, Jim and Ruth Hays, Oleta Gollehon, Irene Carpenter, Billye Wesson and Mary Edna Hendrix. Madge Robb entertained some of her cousins last week. Shirley Thompson came from Harrah, Okla., and spent the week, then on Friday another cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Randolph from Boise City, Okla., spent the night. These girls' mothers were sisters and the cousins really enjoyed visiting and reminiscing about the good times they had when they were younger.

Our sympathy goes to the family of Mrs. Homer Hill, a longtime Hart resident. I have been especially close to the Bud Hill family since they moved to Dimmitt.

Sandra and Buddy Michels and their sons, Mark and Greg, have been visiting Sandra's mother, Mrs. Gladys Leeth, and sister Kathleen Foster. The Michels live in Houston.

Dr. Neil Bryson and his wife Carolyn from Tulia have been visiting his parents, N. A. and Thelma Bryson. Neil and Carolyn had been backpacking at Pagosa Springs, Colo.

The Clucks held their family reunion at the Villa Inn in Amarillo. There were 60 relatives from Houston, Oklahoma City, Clinton, Elk City, Gruver and Dimmitt who enjoyed all the fellowship, concerts and eating. Retta and Mary Cluck attended from Dimmitt.

Oleda Schumacher was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club at the Senior Citizens Center. Johnnie Vanoy was high scorer and Jo Gregory was second high. Others playing were Betty Cartwright, Emily Clinging-smith, Louise Mears, Cleo Forson and Elizabeth Huckabay.

Letters Ice blades in Pct. 4?

Dear Editor:

ICE BLADES IN PRECINCT 4!!!!

Ridiculous!!

Please tell the woman who saw "ice blades" on Precinct 4 graders to either have her eyes examined or learn a little about grader blades. Precinct 4 does not own and, as far as I know, never has owned ice blades.

Precinct 4 uses scarifier blades to drag roads with. Precinct 4 is not the only one in the county that uses scarifier blades, and if she would check, she would find that these blades are used statewide, where road conditions warrant the use of them. Another reason we use them is that when we buy scarifier blades we get "two for the price of one" — we get a scarifier and a blade, too.

Girls visit Fort Smith

By VIRGIE GERBER

Gale Birkenfeld, Teresa Wilhelm, Elaine Verkamp, Rene Ramaekers, Anne Birkenfeld and Anita Huseman enjoyed a trip to Fort Smith, Ark. They spent some time at the St. Scholastica's Convent with the Benedictine Nuns and Sister Adrian took them all to Subiaco Abbey for a tour. Darryl Birkenfeld and Diego Martinez of Taos, N.M. and the Francis Gerbers furnished transportation for the girls.

While the girls were in Arkansas, Fritz and Julene visited her sister Etta Mae and her husband Bill Sellers in Vian, Okla.

The Vincent Gerbers and the Marvin Hoelting family enjoyed several days vacation at Six Flags. They toured the Dallas Cowboy Stadium and went to a Ranger ball game.

Glenda Gerber, Traci Hill, Cory and Wade Hoelting spent a couple of days in Odessa with the Gene Gerber family. Gene is out of the hospital and recuperating at home for several weeks.

Gene and Rubye Hubbard of Fort Worth spent last weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Annen. On Friday they all spent the day in Amarillo and had supper with Faye and Lerry Spencer and girls, Marcie and Laura.

Mike Schulte and Christi Calhoun were married in Wichita Falls on Friday. Sunday, they were honored with a reception at St. Anthony's Parish Hall in Hereford. Mike is the youngest son of Edna and Joe Schulte of Hereford. Those attending from here were the Cecil Hoeltings, the Vincent Gerbers, the Albert Schultes, the Buddy Durbins, the Vincent Gugge-moses, the Sonny Hochsteins, Rose Hindman and Brigetta Dobmeier.

Henry, Ginger and Debbie Gerber were here Sunday afternoon visiting with relatives.

Miss Malia Hubbard of Fort Worth has spent the past month here with her aunt, Cornelia Annen, who is recovering from her recent heart problems.

Gladys and Wayne Gipson of Roswell came Friday night to be with her family for a few days, while Rubye Hubbard was with the Raymond Annens. The Dale McLains spent most of the weekend at the Annens also. Douglas and Karen McLain of Lefors were also here with the family on Sunday.

Miss Denise McLain returned to Roswell after spending a month with her grandparents, the Raymond Annens.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Gugge-mos and Cornelia Annen attended the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. George Schulte in Lubbock Saturday. The ceremony took place in a beautiful garden setting in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Birkenfeld.

Art Schulte and his sister Teresa of Nebraska spent several days here visiting his cousins.

A party honoring Rose Warren on her 79th birthday was held at the Bud Kerns' home Saturday evening. Those attending from out of town were her daughters, Bonnie Golder from Big Rapids, Mich., and Dolores Giesler and children Wendy and Becky from Modesto, Calif., Tom and Kay Warren from Montrose, Colo., Long Vo, Theresa, Patricia and Tom Kern from Irving. From Nazareth were Gene and Anne Kern, C. B. Wilhelm, the rest of the grandchildren and three great grandchildren. It was an enjoyable party for Rose, having all her children home and all but four grandchildren present.

Francis and Betty Wilhelm attended the funeral service for Legionnaire Sam Williams on Saturday in Friona at the First Baptist Church.

Craig Wilhelm flew to Austin for a visit with Doug and Alice and on to Bryan to see Gordon.

Stanley and Chris Gerber have been vacationing in Ranger with Neal and Colleen Wilhelm and Lori Gerber. On to Arlington to watch the Rangers play the Milwaukee Brewers and then to Six Flags.

Harold and Natalie Gerber and Olin Schulte of Odessa spent the weekend at Nazareth. Natalie stayed for a few more days. Ashley and Gwen Hoelting returned to Odessa with Harold and Olin for a vacation at the Bill Hoeltings.

The class of 1967 had a get together Saturday night at the Legion Hall. Jim and Cathy Wagner of Fort Worth were visiting his folks over the weekend and wanted to reminisce old times with some of his classmates who were near. Those present were Claude and Brenda Annen, Allen and Stevie Dobmeier, Raelene and Tommy Hoelting from Nazareth; Shirley and Dickie Schacher from Dimmitt; Tommy and Tricia Lange, Gerald Witkowski and his wife, all of Hereford; Dwayne Huseman and friend Terri of Amarillo. John Slavik, the class sponsor, also stopped by to visit.

'Crime Line' goes for charter

The new Castro County Crime Line, Inc., came a step closer to reality this week when the articles of incorporation were signed and mailed to the Secretary of State in Austin.

"I expect that sometime next week we'll have the charter, and the corporation will be ready to begin carrying out its program."

Meanwhile, Sheriff Lonny Rhynes said the first $500 for reward money already has been donated to the citizens' crime-reporting service.

Rhynes explained that the Sheriff's Office recovered a stolen vehicle belonging to John Merritt three months ago. Merritt is a member of the American Motor Club, which forwarded a $500 reward to the Sheriff's Office. The money will be turned over to Crime Line when its incorporation is complete, Rhynes said.

In addition to filing for incorporation, Davis said, he is applying to the Internal Revenue Service and the State Comptroller's Office for specific tax-exempt status for Crime Line as a charitable organization. When this status is attained, he said, all donations to Crime Line by local residents will be tax deductible.

Virtually all money donated to Crime Line will go for rewards to pay anonymous callers for information that helps solve felony or misdemeanor crimes within the county. The only operating expenses will be necessary printing costs, telephone rental and Post Office box rent, Davis explained.

Crime Line's board of directors — which is still being formed and expanded — decided at its second meeting Monday night to establish a Reward Committee to set the amount of reward for each crime or type of crime, and a Grievance Committee to settle questions involving duplicated information from two or more secret witnesses.

Reward limits and specific policies will be set after the organization is incorporated and its working committees are formed, the board decided.

Board members estimated that the Crime Line program could be put into force about mid-August, as soon as a private-line telephone is installed. At that time, a public appeal will be made for donations to the reward fund, and the phone number and call-in procedure will be publicized.

Crime Line will have its own number, and the law enforcement communications center in the Sheriff's Office will monitor the phone.

A caller with information on a specific crime will be urged not to give his name, and will be assigned a number to use in further calls. After the caller gives his information to Crime Line, he will be told when to call back. Meanwhile, the information will be forwarded to the appropriate law enforcement agency, which will act on it. If the caller's information leads to an indictable arrest, he will be told when he calls back on the appointed date to pick up his reward at a designated "drop site," which could be anywhere in the county.

A member of the Crime Line's Drop Committee — not a law enforcement officer — will make the "drop" and will return to the site later to make sure the reward has been picked up.

Crime Line money — whether it's being received or paid out — will be handled only by citizens who are members of the Crime Line board of directors or one of the working committees. Law enforcement officers will have nothing to do with receiving Crime Line donations or paying rewards.

Law officers and members of their immediate families will not be eligible to receive Crime Line rewards.

Castro County Crime Line, Inc., is patterned after successful programs in Lubbock and Albuquerque.

4-H'ers bring home 9 ribbons

Scott Simpson earned his way to the state record book competition when he and eight other Castro County 4-H'ers competed on the district level.

In the district competition blue ribbon winners were: Senior Dairy — Scott Simpson of Dimmitt.

Junior Clothing — Charlynn Hunter of Dimmitt.

Junior Dairy — Sheryl Simpson of Dimmitt.

Junior Food & Nutrition — Lorelea Acker of Nazareth.

Junior Horse — Joel Nelson of Dimmitt.

Junior Sheep — Robin Price of Easter.

Junior Swine — Trampas Moke of Bethel.

Mike Huseman of Nazareth received a red ribbon in Senior Shooting Sports and Bart Huseman of Nazareth received a participation ribbon in Senior Swine.

Onion harvest is almost nil

"The onion harvest has been a disaster."

These words from Allen McClure of Dimco Industries, Inc., speak for all onion producers in the area.

According to McClure, only one-fourth of his firm's 500 acres of onions ever made it to market.

Lee Drake of LaMantia, Cullum, Collier & Co., Inc., said his firm had no alternative but to plow up about 70% of the onions that were still in the field, because LCC was having to throw away almost three-fourths of the crops already harvested.

The market for onions has been almost nonexistent all season, and the price was just as bad, according to Drake.

Franklin talks to Kiwanis Club

Police Chief Don Franklin stressed the need for more professionalism in the Dimmitt Police Dept. Monday when he presented a program for the Kiwanis.

Other changes to expect are new uniforms, personnel changes, new fleet plan, and more service programs such as Police Cadets or Explorer groups for youth.

"We work for you, and we welcome any input that you have," Franklin said, adding that the new Castro County Crime Line will work with community involvement.

He added that the staff is presently at full strength and includes six officers and himself.

Kiwanis will have a board meeting at 7 a.m. Monday. The program at noon will be a talk with the football coaches.

Members will begin to make plans for the annual installation banquet, tentatively set for Tuesday, Sept. 28.

MICROWAVE COOKED POULTRY

Poultry cooked in a microwave oven measures up favorably with that cooked in an electric oven. Nutrient retention and cooking yield were quite good in cooking tests using chicken broiler-fryers, says a poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Fryers were cooked in a microwave at two rates (800 and 1600 watts) and were compared with those cooked in electric ovens at 250 and 400 degrees F. Fryers cooked at 1600 watts were more dry in appearance and had higher cooking losses than those cooked at the other rates.

Church to show special film

The film, "Reflections of His Love" will be shown at the Sunnyside Baptist Church at 7 p.m. Sunday.

The film highlights the life, accomplishments and ministry of Joni Eareckson, a woman who as a child was left paralyzed from the neck down in a diving accident.

Rev. Richard Clymer extends an open invitation to everyone to attend the free movie.

"We feel everyone who attends will be touched by the remarkable life and witness of Joni Eareckson. It's really an unforgettable experience," he said.

KEITH LOWE'S
Insurance Agency INC.

RANDALL CRAIG [LEFT] AND KEITH LOWE

If you were insured through the Craig Agency, we're happy that you're now insured with us.

We are pleased to announce that Keith Lowe's Dimmitt Insurance Agency, Inc., has purchased the insurance business formerly owned by the Craig Agency.

All customer business has now been transferred to Keith Lowe's Dimmitt Insurance Agency, Inc. All policies previously held by the Craig Agency are being phased into our system, and will be honored and serviced with no interruption to your insurance program. We will notify you when your policy's renewal is due.

Keith Lowe's Dimmitt Insurance Agency, Inc., now represents all the insurance companies previously represented by the Craig Agency, plus several other companies with which we have previously been associated.

We want you to feel free to stop by our office to go over any part of your present insurance program that you would like to discuss — or just to have a cup of coffee.

We are pleased to announce also that Tammy Wilhite, formerly of the Craig Agency, is now working with Keith Lowe's Dimmitt Insurance Agency, Inc. Our staff also includes Vicki Bryant, Jo Hickey and Carolyn Young. These four staffers have a total of 36 years' experience in the insurance business.

For your convenience, our office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., including the lunch hour.

Watch for the announcement of our Open House at a later date for all our new customers as well as our old ones.

We look forward to working with you on all your insurance needs.

Alley takes new position in Lubbock

Ben A. Alley, assistant district engineer of the Austir district, has been named district engineer for the 17-county Lubbock district which includes Castro County.

Mark Goode, engineer-director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation announced that Alley assumed his new position on Aug. 1.

Alley, a 29-year veteran with the department, will replace the late C. W. Nall Jr. who suffered a fatal heart attack on July 9.

A native of Brady, Alley began his highway department career in 1954. He progressed through several responsible engineering positions with the Austin district and was named assistant district engineer in 1973. He has served in that position until his appointment to the Lubbock district this week.

Plainview has new manager of social security

Terry Clements has been promoted to the Manager position at the Plainview Social Security office.

The Plainview office administers Social Security monthly benefit programs, the Supplemental Security Income program and determines Medicare entitlement. In addition to Hale County, Plainview has in its jurisdiction Briscoe, Castro, Floyd, Motley and Swisher counties.

A graduate of Pittsburg University at Pittsburg, Kan. Clements began his career with the Social Security Administration in 1973 and was promoted to operations supervisor in the Plainview office in 1977. He served in this capacity until October 1981 when he was promoted to the position of training specialist in the Regional Commissioner's office in Dallas. He will replace Ray Purcell, who has retired.

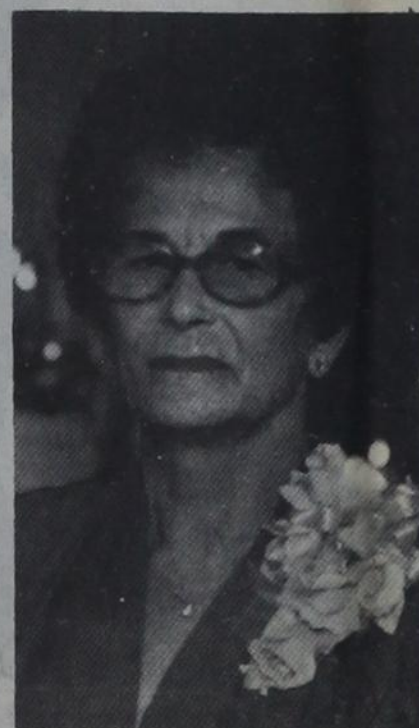

I NEED SOMEBODY TO LOVE — That's what this young female toy poodle needs. She would be great with children, Animal Control Officer Charles Whitman says. She has her shots and the price is negotiable. The deadline is Aug. 9. If you want to give her a home, contact Whitman through the Dimmitt Police Dept. at 647-4545.

ELECTRIC LEARNERS — Nine Castro County 4-H'ers spent five days recently in the New Mexico mountains, learning about electricity. Southwestern Public Service Co. was host and teacher at the Scott Able 4-H Camp near Cloudcroft for groups from 18 Texas counties. This was the 20th year for the project. Here, instructor Randy Eminger, SPS consumer service representative in

'Two-a-days' to start Monday

High school football players at Dimmitt and Nazareth will start two-a-day workouts bright and early Monday morning. And at Hart, they'll start one-a-days that evening.

After four days in shirts and shorts, they'll put on their pads and start contact work the following Friday.

In Dimmitt, workouts will begin at 7:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m., and new Head Coach Gene Griffin expects 80 to 100 freshmen through seniors to report, including 12 returning varsity lettermen.

Other new coaches at DHS this year are Ken Nordell and Jim Curlee. They join Griffin and returning coaches George Razor, Alan Steinle, Lyman Schroeder, Jerry Durham and John Thomas.

The Bobcats' first pre-season scrimmage will be against Kress there, Aug. 20 at 6 p.m. The freshmen will scrimmage the Hart junior varsity at Hart Aug. 26, and the following night the Dimmitt JV and varsity will host Farwell at 6 p.m.

At Hart, Coach Ken Hoskins and his staff will hold only one workout a day — at 7 p.m. — "because we've just got too many boys working to have two-a-days."

Hoskins expects 38 players to report, including nine returning lettermen, and plans to concentrate on "the basic fundamentals — the little things that can win those close games for you." Last year's Longhorns lost four games by a total of eight points while compiling a 3-7 record.

Hart's coaching staff is the same as last year except for Tim Walker, who joins Sam Browning, Mark Stroebel and Ralph Granger.

The Longhorns' first scrimmage will be at New Deal Aug. 19. The JV will scrimmage Dimmitt's freshmen Thursday night, Aug. 26, then the varsity will host Lazbuddie Aug. 27.

Nazareth's Swifts will work out from 8 to 9:30 a.m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. starting Monday.

Head Coach Ken Cole expected 35 boys to show, including 22 returning lettermen from the squad that posted a 7-3 mark and tied for second in the district last year.

The Swifts will scrimmage Whiteface there Aug. 20 and Claude at home Aug. 27 in preparation for the 1982 campaign.

Helping with the Swifts this year is a former Dimmitt player, Johnny Hampton, who succeeds Randy Johnson on the coaching staff. He joins veteran Rex Minshew in assisting Cole with the football program.

Lions will run Scout fund drive

The Dimmitt Lions Club voted Tuesday to take over the fund raising for the Boy Scouts here.

The Boy Scouts were among the casualties when the Dimmitt United Way collapsed this year. The South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, was allocated $1,250 by the United Way last year, but received only $500 after the UW drive fell short of its goal and disbanded. A recent letter appeal by local Scout workers brought in an additional $600.

The Lions voted Tuesday to serve as volunteer workers in a "sustaining membership enrollment" (SME) for the Boy Scouts, signing up individuals and businesses that are willing to sponsor a Boy Scout or Cub Scout during the coming year by paying all or part of the insitutional cost of his scouting.

Chet Braafladt, who made the appeal to the Lions Club, said it costs an average of $71.50 per boy per year to keep a boy in scouting. That figure includes the cost of merit badges, training for leaders, upkeep of scout camps, salaries for scout executives, building costs, etc., he explained.

In addition, individual Scouts and troops raise their own money to buy uniforms, camping equipment, food and project materials, he explained.

Braafladt said that 50 to 55 Dimmitt boys are active in Cub Scouts and 28 boys in Boy Scouts at this time.

"Those of you who were in Scouts had experiences and learned lessons you will never forget," Braafladt said. "I know I shall never forget." As a Eagle Scout from South Dakota, Braafladt attended a World Scout Jamboree in England.

The Lions voted to conduct the sustaining membership enrollment and to start the campaign by donating the first $71.50 to sponsor a Boy Scout during the coming year.

Boss Lion Marlos May appointed chairmen and committees for five other Lions Club projects during Tuesday's business meeting. They are:

—Halloween Carnival, Saturday, Oct. 30: Gary Hufhines, Calvin March, Roger Allison.

—Pancake Supper: Bob Caddell and Chuck Braafladt.

—Broom Sale: Dick Perrin.

—Grocery Fund-Raising Project: Fred Bruegel Jr. and Larry Kirsch.

—Eyeglasses: Joe Cowen, Rev. Vernon O'Kelly, Robert Ryan.

Craig insurance accounts are sold to Lowe's agency

Randall Craig announced this week that he has sold the insurance business of his Craig Agency to Keith Lowe's Dimmitt Insurance Agency, Inc., and has transferred all insurance policies to Lowe's agency.

The transaction was effective Sunday.

Craig has owned and operated the Craig Agency seven years, selling insurance, real estate and used autos. His insurance business was the successor of the Joe Cowen Agency, which was in business here 27 years.

Craig said he will retain his office at 112 E. Jones St., and will continue to sell real estate and used cars. He said he also plans to open an arcade in Friona soon and is studying other business opportunities in the area.

Craig added that he is working with the Lowe Agency to see that his former insurance customers are serviced and that their policies are properly transferred.

Police calls

At approximately 8 a.m., Thursday, officers went to Killingsworth on US 385 south about a burglary. Someone broke out the glass door on the east side of the building during the night. Taken from a gun cabinet were two rifles and two shotguns. The glass and guns were valued at $785.20. Also reported missing was a $22 Buick Yearling knife.

Allsup's clerk Raymond Robel advised officers that between 4 and 4:30 a.m. Sunday, someone had taken an AM-FM radio valued at $30 while it was sitting on the newspaper stand outside the store on West Bedford. The radio belonged to Raymond Guajardo.

Edward Lee Gonzales, driving a 1970 Buick Skylark, was northbound on US 385 when his brakes failed to hold at the traffic light. He swerved to miss a collision with another vehicle, stopped at the light, proceeded into the intersection and struck a 1969 Chevrolet pickup driven by Sotero Veltran Ramos. Both men were issued citations for no proof of liability insurance, and Gonzales was ticketed for having defective brakes.

At 3 p.m. Thursday, officers investigated a call in reference to a family disturbance on Cleveland.

Mable Ewing said that sometime last Tuesday or Wednesday, July 27 or 28, a boy's 10-speed bicycle was taken from her residence on Southwest Fourth. It had been left leaning against the house and was valued at $50.

Officers made 10 arrests this week including four for disorderly conduct, two for violation of probation, two for public intoxication and one each for simple assault, driving with a suspended license and driving while intoxicated.

Fire calls

Several volunteer firemen of the Dimmitt Fire Dept. responded to a call at 5:30 Monday.

The fire was in the electrical machinery of Waggoner Dairy, located approximately 10 miles south of Dimmitt on US 385.

The fire was extinguished before the two county units and an emergency vehicle reached the site.

Insects of interest

Sorghum midge appears

By Allen Knutson
Extension Agent, Entomology

As sorghum heads begin to emerge and bloom, be alert for SORGHUM MIDGE infestations. Sorghum midge were found in several fields in early bloom July 28 near Dimmitt. The sorghum midge is one of the most damaging insects to grain sorghum in Texas.

The adult midge is a tiny, red-orange fly that lays its eggs in the sorghum flowers. A tiny maggot hatches from the egg and feeds on the developing seed. Seed fail to mature and heads become "blasted" and barren.

Midge emerge, mate and lay eggs in the morning. By mid-afternoon, many have died, particularly if temperatures are high, and few will be seen. More midge will emerge early the next morning to infest heads again.

Midge lay eggs only in spikelets that are flowering, which can be identified by the presence of yellow anthers. Look for midge about 10 a.m. to noon on blooming heads, when the wind is calm. Check several areas of the field.

Treatment is recommended when midge average one per head and 25-30% of the heads begin to flower. Retreatment may be necessary if midge are present 3-5 days later and the field is still flowering.

CORN

Economic infestations of SOUTHWEST CORN BORERS have been found in corn, and aerial applications began last week. Infestation levels are light across the area at this time. Approximately 5% of the pest management acreage has required treatment.

Other reports also indicate few fields are requiring treatment compared with last year at this time. Fields infested with first generation SWCB received the greatest egg lay this week.

Field scouting should continue for SWCB, as moth emergence and egg lay is not yet complete. Significant egg lay could continue through Aug. 10-15. Light trap catches increased this week to 10-20/night. Last year 3,280 SWCB moths were captured in the light trap on July 24-25. This would indicate the current SWCB adult population is much lower this year than last. Scouting for SWCB eggs will be particularly important this year to identify those specific fields that are economically infested. Scouting is also necessary to properly time insecticide treatments for after-egg hatch but before larvae have tunneled behind the ear or into the stalk.

SWCB eggs are laid singly or in masses of 2-3 or more on both sides of the corn leaf. Eggs are creamy white when first laid. Three wavy red-orange lines appear across the egg as eggs develop. Eggs hatch in 4-6 days, and young larvae begin to feed in ear husks or behind the ear or leaf axil. Field data collected near Plainview showed 80% of the eggs are laid on the leaves four below the ear leaf to two leaves above the ear leaf. Also, about 80% of the eggs are laid on the upper surface of the leaf.

Treatment is usually recommended when 20-25% of the plants in a field are infested with SWCB eggs or small larvae.

How is this number determined? Some research has found tunneling in the stalk by second generation SWCB can reduce yields by 9%, probably as a result of interfering with water and nutrient uptake. The amount of yield reduction may be related to water and fertilizer management and the stage of ear development at the time stalk tunneling begins.

Given a 9% yield reduction on 25% of the plants in a field with a yield potential of 9,000 pounds worth $5/cwt, the expected loss would be $10.13/acre.

This loss would approximate the cost of one insecticide application. Use your own estimates and costs for your particular situation. This equation considers only yield loss due to tunneling. Losses due to harvest delays and corn left in the field as a result of SWCB lodging are additional.

The pyrethroids Ambush and Pounce received a Section 18 registration this week for SWCB control. Restrictions include (1) rate of 0.1-0.2 lbs. AI/acre and (2) maximum of two applications/field.

SPIDER MITES are of concern, since populations often rapidly increase as ears begin to fill after pollination. Research has indicated that spider mite reproduction may be stimulated by movement of plant sugars in the stalk and leaves that occur during kernel development. Mite colonies are present in the middle third of plants in some fields, but colonies are often small and causing no damage at this time. Leaf damage is increasing in other fields, and treatment should be considered. Pirate bugs, lacewing larvae, and other predators are common. The best approach is to frequently monitor spider mites and damage now until dent.

COTTON

The first blooms occurred in many fields this week.

Large numbers of FLEA-HOPPERS can be found in some fields. However, it is difficult to justify treatment at this late date. Square initiation to bloom requires about 21 days. Squares initiated Aug. 1 would be flowers about Aug. 21. Weather records show that a white bloom on Aug. 20 has about a 25% chance of making a harvestable boll.

Insecticide applications to cotton now can reduce beneficial populations we need for BOLLWORMS. Field scouts have found a very few bollworm eggs in cotton this week. Beneficials should control these early, light egg lays. Egg laying in cotton is expected to increase as we enter August.

SUNFLOWERS

A large acreage of abandoned cotton was replanted to sunflowers this year, and many fields will soon be flowering. Fields should be scouted for SUNFLOWER MOTHS once blooming begins. Sunflower moth populations are usually the highest in July, but can threaten sunflowers blooming in August.

Sunflower moths are silver-gray to tan in color, about half an inch long, and rest with the wings held against the body. Look for moths laying eggs in the head or flying about the field in the morning or evening. Moths are more difficult to find during the day as they rest on leaves and fly when approached.

Treatment is recommended when 20% of the heads are open and sunflower moths are present. Retreatment may be necessary at 5-7 day intervals if moths continue to be found. Sunflowers bloom rapidly, so begin scouting for moths at the first bloom.

SORGHUM

Infestations of CORN LEAF APHIDS have declined this past week in several fields as a result of lady beetle predation and emergence of heads. Showers July 29-30 will help to wash off accumulated honeydew. Adequate moisture levels should be maintained where large numbers of corn leaf aphids exist so plants do suffer water stress.

Untreated sorghum should have large populations of beneficials to control GREENBUGS, which are increasing in pre-booting fields. Also, brown, swollen mummies, which are parasitized greenbugs, are being found. The early appearance of these parasitic wasps could provide significant greenbug control this year.

WAR AGAINST FLEAS

Fleas have been a major problem in parts of Texas this year, says an entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Cat fleas which infest dogs or cats and readily attack humans are the most common. Flea control must include treatment of pets and thorough treatment of the entire premises — indoors and outdoors. Insecticides containing carbaryl (Sevin), dichlorvos (DDVP), pyrethrin, rotenone, malathion, methoxychlor or propoxur (Baygon or Sendran) are labeled for use on animals. Outside the home use chlorpyrifos (Dursban), diazinon, propoxur or carbaryl. Chlorpyrifos should also be used on floors and bedding areas.

ELBOWS IN, THUMBS DOWN — Dimmitt Basketball Camp participants work on the proper form for the chest pass. About 45 Dimmitt girls in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades attended the camp in the DHS gym to learn fundamentals of the game.

Jerry Schaeffer: All-American

Editor's Note: The following tribute to Jerry Schaeffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Schaeffer of Dimmitt, appeared in Warren Hasse's "Talking It Over" sports column in the Canyon News. It is reprinted here with permission of Hasse and the Canyon News.

By WARREN HASSE

The rest of the story, as Paul Harvey Aurandt, Jr., would say. Or perhaps, finding the silver lining.

West Texas State basketballers looked forward anxiously to the 1978-79 season because it included back to back games at Kentucky and Arkansas. Great trips, great arenas, great crowds, great basketball traditions.

So it was an extremely depressing blow to sophomore Jerry Schaeffer, a 6-3 high school cage hero at Dimmitt, when told he was being dropped from the squad. Nothing personal, simply a talent evaluation coupled with too many players. Jerry came off a winning high school program, in which he was a leading scorer, and recruited to WT with phrases like "future All-American" thrown around loosely.

"I was crushed, unhappy and lost," said Jerry last week. "I sat down and thought about it, and finally realized that it happened to me because I had forgotten something else that was more important, my church. I got reacquainted with God, and started praying for my former teammates, like Maurice, C.J., and Reed. They didn't know anything about it."

A year passed, and Jerry was still unsettled. A close family relationship made the restlessness obvious to his parents. A phone call one day informed him he was going to the East Coast, and 48 hours later he found himself in New York, just a few miles from former teammates Reed Addison and Maurice Cheeks, now a starting rookie guard with the Philadelphia 76ers.

"I kept praying for them, and even wrote Maurice a long letter and sent him a Bible. And I wrote Cheeks' teammate Bobby Jones (a strong Christian worker) and asked him to assist Maurice." Then, one day Jerry went to Philadelphia to watch the Sixers play and visit Maurice. "One of the first people I met was Jones, who introduced me to another man, who was the team chaplain. 'Have you seen Maurice, he asked? 'He's got something to tell you. Don't ask him, just let him tell you in due time."

And Jerry had to be the happiest 21-year-old in town when Cheeks finally, and quietly, revealed he had discovered something more important than basketball. And Schaeffer has also found something more important, as he continues his education in Fort Worth, which when completed, will have him totally prepared for a lifetime of service to mankind as a church youth worker.

He got some practical experience last week, conducting a basketball camp at the Amarillo First Baptist Church Family Center's fantastic facilities. And voluntarily assisting him was his closest and most respected friend, Cheeks. During a break in one of the morning sessions, the youngsters, from sixth through ninth grades (in respect to UIL regulations) sat around the Director of the Sixers' Symphony, and asked questions.

The very first one: How much money do you make? "I make enough money, I really can't say" Cheeks quietly responded. (And his agent, a Houston attorney who is currently in negotiations to improve the contract, would have fainted.)

Does Dr. J. practice those fantastic shots? "Dr. J. does a lot of things that surprise me. I just stand back and watch. He doesn't practice them. He saves them for y'all."

How long do you hope to play? "Twelve years. I hope to play six or seven, maybe eight, more years."

In response to other questions the answers flowed. "The toughest teams we play are the Lakers and the Celtics. I'd rather play the Lakers because it is more fun. The Celtics are so physical it's like a war. My favorite player is Julius. We haven't won any championships, YET. Caldwell Jones is the hardest worker on our team."

"I took a lot of time to develop my skills. I can't stop here after four years, to achieve the things I want to achieve. You have to put your mind to it if you want to do it right. Set goals and never settle for an alternate place in anything you do. My goal was to become a professional basketball player. I've learned now through life and meeting people that I shouldn't have set a single goal. I should have prepared for other things, too. There are lots of other things outside of basketball, which you can only expect to play for 10 or 11 years, if you are lucky."

"I should have focused more on being a good student. I majored in PE and didn't participate or attend classes like I should have. Now that I'm out in the world I realize I should have attended classes more and set other goals. There are always guys out there better than you are and so you have to reach out and just try harder. I know lot of guys with more talent than I've got but they don't put out as much."

"I accepted Christ when Jerry put me over to it."

"I went to DuSable High School in Chicago. I played basketball every day. We didn't have a junior high program or a facility to play in. We just had to find a basketball and a place to play. You kids should appreciate what you've got here."

And the questions continued. Do you expect to make the Hall of Fame? "No. Only a select few get that honor."

Do you associate with the other team players? "No, not really. We visit a little bit on the court. I see more of them in the summertime than during the season."

And obviously from the youngest little girl present among the 40 campers, came the hesitant query: Did you speak any other language before you learned English? Meeting, laughing, adjoined! And Cheeks retired to one of the beautiful six in-house bowling lanes to roll a hefty 124 game.

Yes, Jerry Schaeffer, you've obviously found the silver lining behind that dark cloud that confronted you your sophomore year in college. And you're just starting on the rest of the story. There are more ways to be All-American than wearing a basketball uniform at West Texas State.

Lady Longhorns stronger with return of Hartman

Cheryl Hartman, formerly of Nazareth, is back in action for the University of Texas women's basketball team.

Hartman, a 6-1 senior center, didn't play during the 1981-82 season due to a serious knee injury that occurred at the end of her junior season.

Nary a cog has been removed though, from the Lady Longhorns' fast-breaking, full-court pressing basketball machine which compiled a 35-4 mark a year ago and finished second in the AIAW national tournament.

But in many ways, it will be a much different Longhorn squad which will take the floor in November, though many faces will be familiar.

Texas returns eight players who earned letters in 1981-82 — five who started nearly every game. That quintet included All-American candidate Terri Mackey at point guard, off-guard Esoleta Whaley, super newcomer Annette Smith in the middle, and forwards Sherryl Hauglum and Joy Williams.

Together, they helped roll up a school-record 32-game winning streak, won state, regional and Southwest Conference tournament titles (as well as several invitationals), and hiked Texas' national ranking to fifth by the end of the year.

However, when Coach Jody Conradt views her 1982-83 roster, the starting cast is far from set. The returning talent, and that gained from stellar recruiting efforts, give the seventh-year UT head coach a deeper, taller, more experienced squad, and one which should be tournament-tough after last year's swing through the AIAW national finals.

"We have an interesting situation on this team," she said. "There is no doubt about the amount of talent we have — it is considerable. We will have several players battling for positions and playing time."

"But that is something we lacked last season because of our injuries. Our depth is such now that players will have to work that much harder to keep a spot. The people in our program are the type who will welcome that kind of challenge, though. They know it will improve our team overall."

Two potential frontline players return in Hartman and 5-4 point guard Kriss Ethridge. Both missed all of last season with injuries, but have made excellent recoveries.

Hartman was a starter as a sophomore and junior, and according to Conradt, is one of the most competitive athletes she has ever coached. She averaged 9.8 points and 6.6 rebounds per game, and is nearing the 1,000-career-point plateau. Hartman was also the leading scorer for the US Women's Select Team during its summer tour of Bolivia.

"Hartman will do whatever it takes to get the job done in the middle," she said. "She is not a prolific scorer and is not super-quick, but when it comes to defense, we have few who are better."

Actually, Hartman's offense has been consistent — she is a 51% career field goal shooter. But her biggest contributions have been on the defensive end of the floor.

Conradt welcomes Hartman's return. She will complement the explosive Smith, one of the country's top freshman last year, the veteran Williams, and highly-regarded rookie Cara Priddy.

The 6-2 Priddy made every prep All-America team last season while competing for Kirtland (N.M.) High School. She averaged 37 points and 14 rebounds per game and hit 72% of her field goal tries.

Smith used her quickness to outmaneuver and outscore taller opponents last year, and her leaping ability allows Conradt to keep her in the middle. With Williams, who has been the Horns' most consistent rebounder the last few years, and much-improved sophomore Shell Bollin (6-2), Conradt has her deepest center corps ever.

Ethridge's return gives Conradt additional flexibility in the backcourt. Like Mackey, Ethridge is exceptionally quick, a sharp passer and a solid outside scoring threat.

"We lost quite a bit of quickness when Mackey or Whaley went to the bench last year," Conradt said. "That will not happen now that Kriss is back."

Texas also is deep at the off-guard position with the cat-quick, defensive-minded Whaley, Ethridge's younger sister, Kamie, and seniors Nancy Walling and Cathy McDonald.

The younger Ethridge was the top guard in the Texas high school ranks last year and averaged 21 points and six assists for 5A state power Lubbock Monterey. Conradt said the 5-5 sharpshooter also has the ability to play point guard.

The candidates at forward are a similar blend of youth and experience. Wing Sherryl Hauglum is UT's money player from the perimeter — she can turn games around with her long-range shooting sprees.

Freshman Audrey Smith (Annette's younger sister) has good range and ballhandling abilities, and is a fine rebounder for her size (5-7). Smith averaged 17 points and 11 rebounds last season for Bay City High School.

One of Conradt's most pleasant preseason surprises has been the play of Fran Harris, a 6-0 strong forward from Dallas South Oak Cliff. Harris, a mobile front line player who averaged 20 points and 12 rebounds during her career at South Oak Cliff, was a scoring standout in several summer all-star contests.

"This is the best, offensively skilled group of freshmen we have ever brought in," Conradt said. "Naturally, the freshmen have been better year after year because the high school programs are improving. They will help us right away."

While Conradt looks for UT to be a much more potent team offensively, she still is concerned about the Horns' overall size.

"We don't have the size to dominate opponents on the boards," she said. "We will continue to rely upon our defense to make up for any lack of height in the middle. Our quickness will be a key factor for us."

Texas will be gunning for its seventh consecutive 20-win season and the first official Southwest Conference championship.

"Going to the conference and NCAA format is a benefit from a fan and media standpoint," she said. "The NCAA tournament format is much clearer to people than the AIAW structure. But going to a conference schedule also forces us to play all of our tough non-conference games early in the season. The first month of a season can make or break a team."

If the Horns can endure their stiff December schedule — which includes tests from Tennessee and Kansas State, among others — and play as expected in the SWC, then "playoff fever" could strike again in Austin come mid-March.

Softball league meeting planned

The Dimmitt Softball Association will hold a meeting Friday at 6 p.m. in Ann's Steak House. The purpose of the meeting will be to get league play underway and handle other business.

Anyone wishing to enter a team in this year's league is asked to attend. The league will be open to Nazareth and Hart teams, this year.

For more information, call Sal Ortiz at 647-3653.

Boosters will meet Tuesday

The Dimmitt Athletic Booster Club will hold its first meeting of the fall Tuesday night at 8 in the high school cafeteria.

President Garner Ball said new officers will be elected for the coming year, and the football program and other fund-raising projects will be discussed.

The meeting is open to all adults who wish to join in supporting Dimmitt High School's athletic teams.

Mustang Stars lose slugfest

Dimmitt's Mustang League All-Stars were eliminated from the sectional playoffs last Thursday in Amarillo when they lost a 22-21 slugfest to Amarillo Blue.

The game went down to the final inning. Dimmitt built an awesome 16-6 lead in the fourth inning, but Amarillo scored nine runs in the bottom of the fourth to cut Dimmitt's advantage to 16-15. Dimmitt added a pair of sixth-inning runs, but Amarillo countered with a run in the fifth and two in the sixth to tie it at 18-18.

In the top of the seventh, Dimmitt pushed across three runs for a 21-18 lead, but let the game slip away when Amarillo scored four runs in the bottom of the inning to win.

The Dimmitt All-Stars — playing for survival after dropping their first game of the sectional tourney last week — stayed alive last Wednesday night with a lopsided 18-8 victory over Hereford. Winning pitcher for Dimmitt was James Flores.

The victory over Hereford advanced Dimmitt to its game against Amarillo Blue the following night.

The Mustang League All-Stars were the final Dimmitt team still alive in the junior baseball playoffs. All other local all-star teams were eliminated earlier in Pony, Bronco and Babe Ruth tournaments.

DHS football season ticket sale date set

Season tickets for reserved seats in Bobcat Stadium will go on sale Aug. 9.

The reserved-seat section of the stadium is the center third of the home stands, below the press box. Season ticket prices for the five home football games this year are $22.50 for the upper section (metal seats) and $17.50 for the lower section (wood seats).

Those who had reserved-seat season tickets last year may renew them from Aug. 9 through Aug. 20, according to School District Business Manager Gene King. Those seats not renewed will go on sale to the general public Aug. 23.

Anyone wanting to purchase reserved-seat season tickets should do so in person at the School Administration Building on West Halsell Street, King said.
