It is with pride that we present to you, the people of Ranger and surrounding territory, this new bank home. We welcome you to it and to the formal opening of the building Tuesday afternoon.

While we are proud of this new step in our progress, we recognize at the same time that it is your cooperation and the confidence you have shown in this bank that has made possible the fine improvements in this building.

We feel that the beauty of the new home is an asset to the town and that the sturdiness of the building represents in a physical sense the soundness of the institution that it houses.

And as we welcome you to the formal opening Tuesday, bear in mind that the welcome will outlast the "new" in the building and that this bank has pledged to this community and to the people with whom it does business, the greatest possible service through its facilities.

SHAMROCK HOTEL ALL SET FOR GALA OPENING THURS

HOUSTON, Tex. March 15 (UP) Oilman Glenn McCarthy's fabulous Taj Majal of hostelry, the 1100-room Shamrock, glittered from its ornate lobby to its shiny white kitchen today, awaiting the most gala opening the southwest has ever known.

The buzzing activity, noticeable ince the first guests moved in ten days ago, was a calm compared to the planned St. Patrick's day celebration Thursday when the huge glass doors will open the $20,000, 000 (M) hotel to recipients of spec al invitations. The deep-carpeted floors, mir ored walls and luxurious dining rooms served as a drawing card for the opening party. Stars of screen and radio, many of them McCarthy's personal friends, ac cepted invitations and planned the trip by air or on a special train arriving from Los Angeles Wednesday.

'ine guest list read like talent ssembled for a command perfor-

Also Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Van Heflin, Gale Storm, Marguerite Chapman, Walter Brennan, Eddie Bracken, Ellen Drew, John Wayne, Joan Davis, Charles Coburn, Dennis O'Keefe, Andy Devine, Wanda Hendrix, Audie Murphy, Edgar Bergen and Dorothy

Early visitors dug deep into their stock of superlatives to describe the massive 18-floor structure, boasting its own complete shopping center, a block-square garage, and several plush pentuse suites renting monthly at a four-figure sum.

Eves bulged several weeks ago when McCarthy revealed the opening night's dinner on the Shamserved at $42 per person. That ,he explained, would be the price in glamor-steeped Emerald. Shamrock and Grecian rooms. while a $33 level would prevail in the Pine Grill and small, third floor dining rooms.

Directing the art of eating at the Shamrock will be Ramon Baysca, internationally-known maitre D'Hotel, known profesionally
