Luxury Cruiser Fire Toll May Reach 200

SHIP'S PASSENGERS FOR MOST PART UNITED STATES VACATIONERS

Trans-Atlantic Fliers Sought

BY THOMAS G. MCQUAID
UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (UP)—A flash fire turned the luxury cruiser Noronic, "Queen of the Great Lakes," into a roaring inferno early today and Police Inspector Vernon Page said number of dead might reach 200.

Most of them were United States Tourists who boarded the famous excursion boat at Detroit and Cleveland for a gay weekend. Blanket wrapped bodies were still being sought from the charred ruins of the floating pleasure palace hours after the fire. Dr. Smirle Lawson, chief coroner, declined to release any names until identification was complete. He said the next of kin would be notified in all cases before the names were released.

It was apparently the worst ship tragedy since 134 persons died in a fire aboard the Norco Castle which burned off Asbury Park, N. J., in 1934.

Recruit At Camp For Basic Work

Recruit John S. Owen, of Ranger, Texas has been assigned to the Fifth Armored Division for fourteen weeks of basic training at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas. Reactivated July 8, 1948, the Fifth Armored "Victory" Division, hung up a brilliant war record in six European campaigns during World War II. Trainees entering this fourteen week cycle are expected to be among the last before the camp and division closes by April 15, 1950.

Before entering the Army, Recruit Owen was employed in farm work. He is now assigned to Co. "B", 15th, Armored Infantry Bn.

The fire, which broke out at 2 A. M. while the palatial ship bobbed at her dock here with sleeping and merry-making passengers, ripped through the excursion boat from stem to stern in 45 minutes. Eight hours later the flames were brought under control and firemen began bringing out the victims, wrapped in grey blankets, three and four on a stretcher.

U. S., Britain Again Accused Of Abetting Tito

BUDAPAST, Hungary, Sept. 17 (UP)—Lazar Brankov, former counselor at the Yugoslav legation in Budapest, testified today that the United States and Great Britain promised military support to Marshal Tito if he would fight Russia.

Brankov was the third of eight defendants in a treason and espionage trial to testify before the People's Court. The trial was in its second day.

Just before the session was adjourned at mid-afternoon, the court asked Brankov:

"What did (Yugoslav Interior Minister Alexander) Rankovic tell you about the agreement between Tito and the Anglo-Americans?"

"I learned that the Anglo-Americans promised military support to Tito if he would fight against the Soviet Union," Brankov replied.

Brankov did not specify when, where or how the purported Anglo-American promise of military aid was made.

He pleaded "partially guilty" to the charges against him. Today's testimony was to the effect that the defendants plotted to overthrow the Hungarian government in an overnight coup with 10 army battalions and from a "Balkan Bloc" under Tito.

CHILD WELFARE CLUB LAUNCHES FUND DRIVE

Members of the Child Welfare Club of Ranger are launching their annual campaign for funds and are appealing to the people of Ranger to support their efforts through contributions for the work.

During the past 27 years the Child Welfare Club has been active in Ranger as a social welfare organization, aiding needy children to obtain lunches at school, necessary medical assistance and clothing. The tremendous responsibility of investigating and aiding unfortunate families in Ranger has been shouldered by this organization. In most cities this community chest, funds for which are raised by annual drives.

In the absence of such a community chest, the City Council of Ranger has approved the request of the Child Welfare Club to act in this capacity, authorizing them to solicit funds from the people of Ranger. The funds used for this outstanding work are raised by the monthly assessments of the club members and donations given by various Ranger firms and individuals. Without assistance from the local people this worthy work cannot continue.

HOLLYWOOD BREAKFAST PROVES HILARIOUS EVENT

The Breakfast in Hollywood sponsored Friday night at the Recreation Building by the VFW Auxiliary, turned out to be not a breakfast at all but a picnic of laughs brought on by the numerous contests staged.

The Rev. James W. McClain of Eastland, master of ceremonies, selected from the big crowd contestants for the various contests which developed situations that kept the audience in an uproar.

First contest winner was Mrs. Roscoe Hopper who outbawled five others to burst her balloon first and win a handsome prize. Mrs. Wilson Guest "out called" her husband in a contest with three others and carried off the prize for this contest. Mrs. Guest was assured by the Rev. McClain, that her husband, several blocks away, was already on the run for the Recreation building after her demonstration on husband calling.

Mrs. Carl Heinlein outdid Mrs. George Rogers in a husband "defaming" debate with short rebuttal. Gaston Dixon & Bill Hinman in a blindfold battle with newspaper were declared a tie and both awarded prizes.

Highest laugh of the evening was the contest between Bruce Maddox and Floyd Killingsworth to don within the shortest possible time what they found in suitcases presented them and what turned out to be women's apparel. The "Red Skelton" demonstration that followed brought down the house.

Mrs. Harry Walter of Eastland and Mrs. Bruce Maddox won the prizes for being the slimmest in a diet contest and Louaine Shaffer won the "whistling" contest for kids when he was able to whistle first after eating crackers.

Snoddy Rites Set Sunday

Funeral services for John R. Snoddy, 75, of Cisco, who died Saturday morning at 6 o'clock in a Cisco hospital of injuries sustained in an automobile accident Thursday, will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Scranton Methodist Church.

Mrs. Snoddy, 71, also injured in the accident and in a Cisco hospital, is said to be improving. She sustained a compound leg fracture in a collision with another, driven by George G. McGee, 21, of Cisco, on the Scranton Road, in front of the Snoddy home. Both cars were heavily damaged. McGee was uninjured.

Eastland survivors of Snoddy included a daughter, Miss Louise Snoddy, teacher in the Public Schools; and a sister, Mrs. Ida B. Foster.

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

October 8 this year will be observed as American Newspaper Boy Day and circulation managers all over the country are keenly conscious of the need for the day to impress subscribers with the importance of the carriers in the newspaper world. The following editorial is reprinted here because of the thoughtfulness of it.

Today we pause for a moment in our busy task of helping to pass on the day's news by paying tribute to more than a half million boys.

The newspaper carrier who each day delivers papers to homes all over America.

There are so many benefits enjoyed by these youngsters.

They are learning to do business through practical experience. They are earning their own spending money—buying clothing or saving for their educations. They are kept from possible temptation because they are busy.

Your carrier is an important person in the American way of life. If you don't think so, just remember a night when he isn't on time. You stew and fret. That's because you have become dependent upon him. That's why he's important.

People in newspaper work realize the carriers' importance—and we want our readers to feel the same way about it.

Remember that the youngster who comes walking or cycling down your street with a sack full of papers is more than just a kid with a pin-money job. It's his duty to see that the millions and millions of papers published daily reach their destination with the least amount of lost time.

This early age training is beneficial as can easily be seen by studying the life stories of many of our prominent Americans, past and present.

There were Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Edison among the famed men of American history.

And playing an active part in today's life are such notables as Attorney General Tom Clark, Gen. Omar Bradley, Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Gov. Warren of California, Gov. Thomas Dewey of New York, Walt Disney, Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh homerus, slugger, U. S. Justice William Douglas, and Sen. Robert Wagner.

Need more names to convince you that newspaper carrier training is a step toward a good spot in life?

So when your carrier boy is coming around remember that he is getting training for a useful life. Remember that he's doing the job because he wants to get ahead. He's energetic. He has ambition. Give him a word of praise. He's a young businessman, entitled to the respect of all.

CHILD WELFARE CLUB LAUNCHES FUND DRIVE

From the looks of stories coming over our wire Saturday, motorists should take a little more care during the week-end jaunts.

Speed and ignoring traffic signals apparently are the cause of most of the accidents occurring. Motorists should remember that they may be driving behind another who will turn sharply to the left in front of them and keep far enough behind other cars to make allowance for a quick stop.

Like we said once before we're most to the point about highways that Pete Adams always emphasizes about the wild bulls and horses. "We wouldn't get on one of them things for anything."

E. F. Arterburn announced the addition of three names to the list of donors for the athletic fence fund. They were: Crawford's Rexall Store, Frozen Food Lockers and Piggly-Wiggly.

He added that more money is still needed.

Feaming, as objectionable in new industrial processes as it is desired in other, is suppressed by as little as a few parts per million of a few silicone product.

Hoffman Shows Irish Officials How to Chase After Dollars

BY PETER EDSON
 NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Too much of this stuff now flying around about what Britain must do and what the U. S. must do to overcome Europe's dollar shortages is way up in the clouds. But Marshall Plan Administrator Paul Hoffman has a story which brings the subject right down to earth. This is it:

When Hoffman made his recent flying inspection trip to Europe, he stopped off in Ireland. Shannon, Ireland, is the first European stop for many of the eastbound trans-Atlantic planes. And it is the last stop in Europe for returning flights. Sometimes, when the weather is bad or there is plane trouble, passengers get hung up at Shannon for from five hours to five days.

On this last trip to Europe, however, Mr. Hoffman had business in Ireland. It is one of the Marshall Plan countries. It got $78,000,000 aid last year and has asked for $47,000,000 this year. This is less than any of the other Marshall Plan beneficiaries except Iceland and Trieste.

MR. HOFFMAN thinks that the Irish ought to start worrying about some dollar earnings on their own account. The Marshall Plan give-away is going to end in another three years. After that the British are going to be hard put to find enough dollars for their own use, let alone taking care of the Irish. So on this trip, Mr. Hoffman called on Irish government officials and started his "talk."

The Irish pricked up their ears and asked how.

"Right out here at Shannon airport," began Mr. Hoffman. "Shannon is the last stop in Europe for many home-bound Americans. Those who have been in Europe on business usually begin to remember—when they hit Shannon—that they've forgotten to pick up any little presents for the wife and family. And they start looking around the airport waiting room to see what they can buy."

"There's a little gift stall that has a few handkerchiefs. But the girl who is supposed to sell them works only a six-hour day. Usually she isn't there when most people want her."

"That stall should be open 24 hours a day," continued Mr. Hoffman in his most convincing manner. "Planes are arriving and departing at all hours of day or night. What's more, it should not be just a counter, but a complete shop with a full line of your best Irish linens and embroideries."

THE Irish officials began to buy, but Mr. Hoffman had other ideas.

"There's nothing there to induce tourists to stop off and see your beautiful little country. The hotel accommodations are terrible. The food isn't too good, though you've got more to eat in Ireland than any place in Europe. You ought to have a tourists' bureau there."

Then he had a third idea. Mr. Hoffman isn't a drinking man himself, so this meant nothing to him personally. But he pointed out that the United States had a $9,000,000,000 a year spirituous liquor market, and the Irish had a reputation for making some awfully good whiskey. Why weren't they selling more Irish whiskey to the U. S.?

Well, the Irish said they consumed about all the whiskey they made themselves, and they didn't know whether they wanted to cause a shortage at home.

Mr. Hoffman was persistent. He told them they ought to increase their production and export the surplus.

On Mr. Hoffman's return trip to America a few days ago, he wasn't able to stop off in Shannon again. His plane flew non-stop across the Atlantic. But before he left London, he heard that the Irish had opened a gift shop at Shannon Airport, and that it was open 24 hours a day with a full line of Irish merchandise.

SORROWFUL'S SORROWFUL—Sorrowful, a 5-month-old monkey at Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo, got into some monkey-shines and had to pay the penalty. It all happened when Sorrowful escaped the watchful eye of his mother, climbed to the top of his cage, and took a dive to the ground below. When he came up, he had two broken legs and a broken arm. Getting an X-ray exam from district park nurse Agnes McGuire, Sorrowful's now a sadler—and wiser—monkey.

PAGING PETER PIPER—Peter Piper can now pick a peck of pickles perfectly painlessly perchance he performs in the pickle pastures of Clinton Carter's farm near Mottville, Mich. Carter devised the gadget above to ease the usual backbreaking task of pickle-cuke picking. Stripped down 1935 autos carry outriggers on which pickers sit in comfort as they work. Cars, which travel a quarter mile per hour and require no drivers, steer themselves between rows in the 40-acre field.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 18.

The Golden Text is: "Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob" (Psalms 114:7).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "With my soul have I desired thee in the night; yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early; for when they judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness" (Isaiah 26:9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "In proportion as the belief disappears that life and infelicities are in or of matter, the immortal fact of being are seen, and their only idea or intelligence is in God" (page 279).

There are four copies of the Magna Carta in existence, two in the British Museum, one at Lincoln Cathedral, and one at Salisbury Cathedral.

ALLERGY TO HUSBAND GETS HER ANNULMENT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17 (UP)—Joyce Holdridge, a pretty brunette, was free today from the husband she loves deeply but cannot live with because she is allergic to him.

The strange case was expected to set a legal precedent.

"He was the finest husband a woman could ask for," the 27-year-old ex-Wac said after winning an annulment yesterday for S. a n Francisco Watchmaker Noler, H. Holdridge, 26.

"I love him deeply. If it wasn't for my allergy to him we would be living together happily now."

She testified that every time she was near Holdridge or even heard his name, she broke out in a severe rash all over. She said that during their two-year marriage she spent a year and a half in hospitals trying to get a permanent cure.

Mrs. Holdridge produced a medical report from Dr. Gordon A. Dayton of Arcadia, Cal., who treated her at a San Francisco Veterans' Hospital. He noticed that her condition grew worse when she left the hospital to visit her husband on week ends.

"She had been suffering from a severe generalized dermatitis manifested by reddened, swollen, itching and scaling areas most marked over her hands, forearms, chest, neck, face and thighs," the doctor reported.

"It soon became evident that there was something physical in the home or about the person of her husband to which she was sensitive."

Mrs. Holdridge said she had no complaint about her husband's conduct, but that doctors had finally convinced her she could not remain married to him. Superior Judge Ray Brockman granted the annulment on "physical incompatibility" grounds to Holdridge, who stayed in San Francisco.

True Religion Sings of God

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
DANGERS constantly beset the people of Israel, at times surrounded by hostile tribes, and later imperilled as their little land lay between the great empires of the ancient world, striving for conquest and mastery—Egypt on the south, and always some great power on the north, east, and west, Assyria, Babylonia, Syria, Persia, Greece, or Rome, whichever it might be.

That the dangers of this situation were real was evidenced in the successive and terrible tragedies that befell the people. Not only did they suffer invasion, destruction, and exile, but other sufferings and persecutions were incredible. When Grecian conquerors sought to Hellenize and corrupt the worship of the Temple, 800 protesting Pharisees, then the party defending the purity of religion, were crucified in one day, and on another occasion 6000 worshippers were put to the sword in the very precincts of the Temple.

That, in spite of all the tragedies of the ages in that little land, there should have been survival, until now, in the 20th century, the Jews are again seeking restoration in their homeland, is the miracle of the ages.

BUT even greater is the miracle that out of that little land of sorrow and tragedy should have come the richness and sweetness of a religion, with its uppermost note of triumph and joy.

The late Dr. George A. Gordon, famous minister of the Old South

Church, in Boston, once remarked that it was the quality of all true and great prophecy that it bursts into song. There are passages in the great prophecies, such as that of Isaiah, that fairly sing in their praises of righteousness and peace, but the Psalms were the great outpouring of prophecy in song.

Here in the Psalms is the personal joy in religion, the joy manifest in the Christians of Jewish heritage, Paul and Silas, singing in the darkness of an inner prison, with their feet fast in the stocks (Acts 16).

What was the source and nature of this joy in religion? It was, first of all, a profound confidence in God. A modern poet has said, "It fortifies my soul to know, that though I perish, truth is so." This is a modern version of that unshaken faith in God that sustained Hebrew saints. It was the source of personal serenity and joy in religion.

Along with this was the sense of community. It found its strength in the sense of God's choice and call, and one's part in that chosen community. Its highest expression is in the passionate declaration of that patriotic citizen of Zion, in Isaiah 62: "For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake will I not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth."

Who could measure the joy and strength of a modern democracy, if its every citizen had a similar passion for the commonweal, and for all the high idealism that democracy professes?

Brady 19, Hamilton 14.
HAMILTON, Sept. 16—Brady counted on two long plays here Friday night to outscore Hamilton in a fine offensive football game, 19-14. The Brady clincher came in the third period when Weldon Ducas intercepted a pass and ran it back 41 yards for a touchdown. Earlier, Calixte Mayse of the winners had scampered 67 yards with a pitchout for the second Brady score. The first touchdown had come and a 16-yard run by William Turner on the fourth play of the game. Hamilton counted in the first on a 19-yard thrust by James McKie, and again in the fourth when Rusty McCollum went over from the one to climax a 75-yard drive. Hamilton held an edge in statistics piling up 10 first downs to 7, and gaining 198 yards against 170.

Big Spring 20, Cisco 6.
CISCO, Sept. 16—Amos Jones, Big Spring half back, accounted for all three scores as the Steers beat Cisco 20-6, Friday night. Big Spring led 6-0 at halftime on Jones' pass to Right Half, Martin for a touchdown after Cisco had fumbled on its own 16. The Lobos tied it up in the third when Quarterback Doug Johnson skirted left end for 35 yards. In the fourth Jones ran 25 yards and later plunged 4 yards for scores. Tubbs kicked the extra points. Cisco plays at Grand Prairie next Friday.

Bowie 26, Ranger 13.
BOWIE, Sept. 16—Bowie scored a touchdown in each quarter while Ranger made one in the second and third as the Jackrabbits took a 26-13 win here Friday night. Buddy Jeffries passed for two scores and Donald Bloom scored two. Jimmy Comacho and Buddy Hamrick scored for Ranger after drives of 65 and 60 yards, respectively. This was a non-district game. Bowie plays Olney in another non-district game at Olney next week.

Comanche 13, Santa Anna 0.
SANTA ANNA, Sept. 17—Two touchdowns on pass interceptions in the last quarter of play gave the Comanche Indians a 13 to 0 win over the Santa Anna Mountaineers here Friday night.

The game was played on fairly even terms the first half. The high point coming when R. D. Hartman of Santa Anna raced 80 yards to the goal line, only to have it called back for clipping penalty.

Comanche scored first in the latter part of the fourth when Hall went over from the 20 after a pass interception. They scored again in the closing minutes.

Full Week End Of Football Has Few Upsets

By United Press
 The 1949 Class AA and City Conference football races began to fall into a clearer pattern today with few upsets marking the first full week end of play in both conferences.

Three of the pre-season "powers" launched their campaigns last night and came off second best while five others opened with convincing displays of power.

Defending state champion Waco in Class AA was no match for Austin and tumbled 21-7, heralded Temple was nosed out 13-12 by San Antonio Jefferson and highly-regarded Texarkana was nipped 6-0 by Houston Lamar.

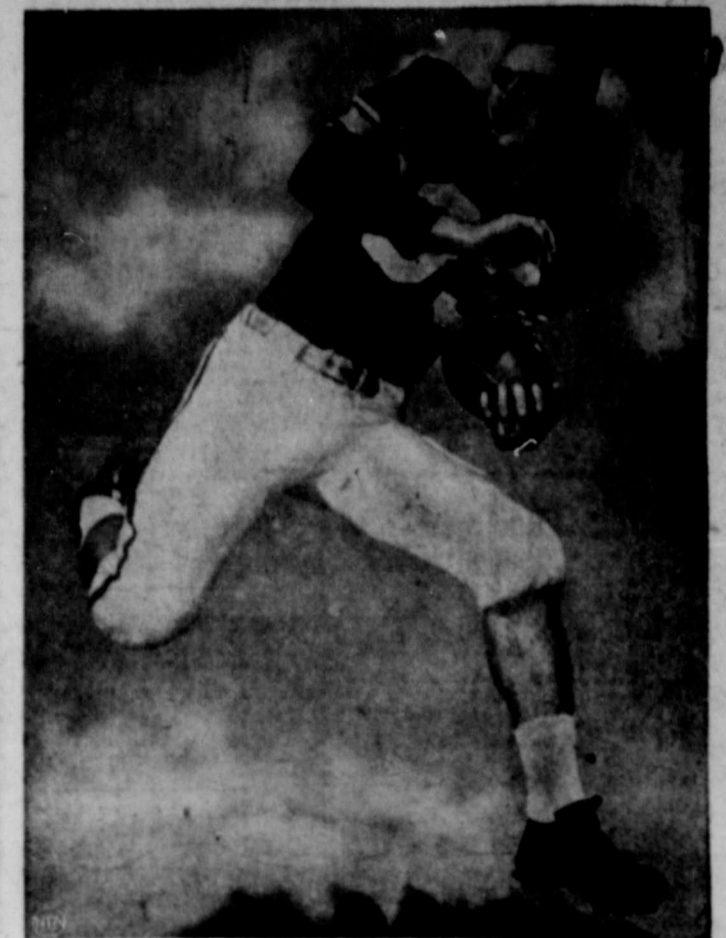

It might be said in favor of Temple and Texarkana, however, that both were operating with their big backfield aces, Roy Pace and Jerry Norton, respectively, handicapped by injuries.

Amarillo lived up to advance notices by walloping Denton 56-12 as did Wichita Falls in trouncing Denison 32-6 and Lubbock in blasting Childress 47-0. Baytown looked good in roughing up Conroe 46-6 and Houston Davis, the city conference favorite, blanked Orange 12-0.

Among the minor surprises were Beaumont South Park's 41-21 victory over San Antonio Brackenridge, Stephenville's 33-12 win over Brownwood, Breckenridge's convincing 27-6 margin over Fort Worth Paschal, and Galveston's 68-0 romp over Bonham.

Port Arthur, established No. 1 AA team after whipping Odessa last week, came through with a close 7-0 interstate victory over Forties High of New Orleans.

Odessa bounced back to whip Sweetwater 20-6 and Abilene downed Fort Worth Arlington

TREE-TOP HIGH—Buddy Jones appears to be running in the clouds, which is where a lot of people are when discussing Oklahoma's football outlook. The 152-pound safety man's pass defense held the Sooners' opponents to a 36.9 completion percentage in '48.

The word "Oregon" is derived from the Indian words meaning "river of the west." You can determine the color of a hen's egg in advance by examining the lobes of her ears. White lobes mean white eggs; Brown ones, brown eggs.

Young P-T.A. Has Opening Session

The Young School Parent-Teacher Association met in the school auditorium Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock for its first regular meeting of the current school term.

After opening with the singing of "America" each parent and teacher present was introduced to the group. The program consisted of a talk by Morris Jeffries, the school principal. Jeffries discussed barriers which often prevent close cooperation between parents and teachers and explained how those barriers can be overcome. He also spoke at length on the subjects of health and safety, explaining health and safety measures the school is taking and how parents can help by supporting the school policies and by sending their children to school adequately fed and at the proper time so no children will be on the school grounds before the arrival of teachers who can supervise their play and be responsible for their safety.

In the business session which followed, the budget for the 1949-1950 school year was adopted. Details of the annual membership drive were explained. The aim is for every parent of every child in Young School to be a voting member of the Parent-Teacher Association, as well as any other adults who are interested in promoting the welfare of children and youth in the home, school, church, and community. The entertainment committee reported serving refreshments to parents on registration day.

Regular meetings will be held the second Tuesday of each month in the school auditorium at 3 P. M.

Red accessories with a "look of affinity" were planned to give town-and-country elegance to this red and gray tweed suit. A beret of red beaver felt sports a pheasant feather; red calfskin pumps tie ghillie-fashion, and a red alligator bag swings from the shoulder of the checkered tweed jacket.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The tweed suit, worn with a sweater or simple woolen shirt and other accessories with a "look of affinity" for tweed, is more than a new fall style.

"It's a new mode of dress for American women," says Brigance, a designer who has helped to give tweed suits their new look of town-and-country elegance.

"A tweed suit worn with a sweater," says Brigance, "dresses women warmly and tastefully, even without a coat. Like their English-lady cousins, whose suburban life is spent in and out of doors and who also mush through all kinds of weather, American women are finding in tweeds a new way to cope with winter."

Whether the fabric for their new winter "dress" is as rough to the touch as hop-sacking or as smooth as silk, it's textured in the best tweed tradition. It has suppleness and warmth. It is woven in plaids, checks, stripes or monotonous for super subtleties or for color contrasts that are sharp and sure.

There's an example of the "sharp and sure" contrast between patterned and plain tweeds in Brigance's suit of red and gray. The double-breasted jacket is a checkerboard of red and gray, ensembled with a gray turtle-neck sweater. The skirt is monotone red.

Here are accessories with a "look of affinity" for his tweed suit, which Brigance picked. A beret of red beaver felt matched to the red tweed, is trimmed with a pheasant feather, a jeweled clip.

Also matching are red calfskin pumps, laced and tied ghillie-fashion, and a small, compact bag of red alligator, swung from a shoulder strap.

SCARF SCOOP

NEW YORK (NEA)—Scarf-collars and cuffs that reverse from a black velvet side to one of plaid woolen make two other bids besides reversibility for the approval of today's penny-wise woman. Scarves stay put without a stitch, thanks to a tuck-in collar design. Cuffs turn out from elastic bands. Both collar and cuffs can be reversed and interchanged to look like a whole drawerful of accessories. Typical switch is from the plaid woolen side (left) to the black velvet side, which makes collar and cuffs look like an entirely different set of accessories (upper right). The switch (lower right), to half-plaid half-velvet that comes from the trick of folding collar and cuffs is another proof of the versatility of these accessories.

CREWS BUSY CLEANING UP RAIL WRECK

LONGVIEW, Tex., Sept. 17 (UP)—Service on the wrecked main line of the Texas & Pacific Railway, blocked by 27 smashed freight cars, was expected to be resumed about mid-morning.

Emergency crews, working under the glare of searchlights, toiled last night to repair damage caused when a proton of an east-bound freight leaped from the tracks yesterday two miles west of Longview.

The spectacular smash up tentatively was blamed on a piece of scrap iron believed to have dropped from one of the leading cars on the freight.

The 19th car of the 71-car train first leaped from the rails. Behind it, 26 more cars smashed into wreckage.

Ten of the cars were loaded with distillate, seven containing oil and another was laden with explosives.

The extreme danger of fire or possible explosion brought a rush of police and highway patrolmen to the scene. Huge crowds were kept at a safe distance.

The train was going east from Fort Worth, bound for Texarkana. Five crewmen were aboard, but none was injured.

Passengers and freight trains were rerouted over the Cotton Belt by way of Big Sandy. Passengers service ran some two hours behind schedule as a result.

Limit Raised On Duty-Free Goods

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (UP)—The Senate has voted to increase by $100 the amount of duty-free merchandise which returning tourists can bring into the United States.

It approved the provision late yesterday as an amendment to a minor tax bill.

Since 1898, tourists outside the country for 48 hours have been permitted to bring in $100 worth of merchandise without payment of duty once every 30 days. The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Burnet Maybank, D. S. C., raised the limit to $200.

It did not affect another legal provision permitting tourists to bring in $300 worth of duty-free goods once every six months if they spend more than 12 days outside the country.

City fire officials said valuable time was lost by the ship's crew trying to extinguish flames before sounding an alarm. Persons on the lower decks were believed caught in their cabins.

When city fire fighters arrived, the ship was burning from end to end. Firemen scrambled up extension ladders from the shore to the upper deck and carried scores of passengers huddled there to safety, some screaming and fighting in fear.

Other passengers dived into the water and were hurried aboard small boats which raced to the area and helped with the rescue until the heat from the blazing ship drove them back.

The shooting flames on the dark water front attracted an estimated 200,000 persons to watch.

Lifeboats hung crazily in their davits, evidence that the crew and passengers never had a chance to launch them.

Doctors reported at least 106 persons from the ship hospitalized with severe burns. Scores of others were treated for minor injuries and released.

Officials of the Canadian line which owned the 6,000-ton Lake Queen, said they believed that more than half of the passengers had planned to spend the night ashore.
