Yugoslavia Defeats Czech Bid For UN Council

Well...
I Dunno,
But...

The staff at the Times became grandparents today and from the looks of things we'll be the dotting old grannies that we're supposed to be.

Billye Faye Pounds Beskow, now of Eastland, one times society editor of the Times and popular member of the staff, is the mama of a baby boy born Wednesday at the Ranger General Hospital. The youngster bids fair to be the quarterback that Billye Faye would have him to be, starting life at the healthy weight of eight pounds, nine and one half ounces.

We're all thinking up our remedies for colic, sleepless nights and bad temper and will be ready to start the advice whenever Billye Faye and Charles begin to need it. We forgot to mention incidentally that Charles Beskow of Eastland is papa.

According to our wire news today, there are at least two things that we won't have to read about for a while, we hope. The 81st Congress and rent controls in Texas.

The Republicans have labeled this session of Congress the "Eighty worst" - they did that because they were mad at Mr. Truman for labeling the GOP 80th Congress "one of the worst." But then the Republicans may have something in the name. Read this morning that the 81st Congress while in session 41 weeks approved the spending of 51 billion dollars. Better than a billion dollars a week. That's a little fast for us.

Rent controls in Texas died today good. While we've never been a resident in a restricted area and our pocket book wasn't touched by rent control, we sure got tired reading about it and all the fuss it created.

Maybe, one of these days we'll shake the shackles of federal control in a lot of other things.

Well of all things, we never heard of such a thing - a rich editor. But they tell us that George B. Parker, the late editor-in-chief of Scripps Howard papers left an estate valued in excess of a million dollars.

However, the news doesn't leave us with any illusions. He must have inherited it or got in the stock market. It just sure wasn't done by editing newspapers.

Oil Progress Program Given At Rotary Club

Morris Newnam was in charge of the program at the Rotary Club Wednesday at noon and presented H. P. Earnest who gave a classification talk.

Earnest who is in the wholesale oil and gasoline business tied his talk in with National Oil Progress week, pointing out the place that the wholesaler plays in the oil and gasoline business. He stated that the United States uses over 100 million gallons of gasoline a day and it is the wholesalers of the country that distribute this gasoline.

Earnest said that he came to Ranger in 1918 as an employee of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company and remained with that company for 15 years, later purchasing the Texaco agency from C. B. Pruet.

For the program, Earnest had arranged posters on Oil Progress and a place was marked by a small pamphlet, detailing "Petroleum Power for Progress", and giving figures on the energy supplied this country by petroleum.

G. B. Rush presided at the meeting and introduced Rotarian Stephens of the Eastland Club who was a visitor.

Applications For Housing Units Available

The Ranger Low-Rent Housing Authority today announced that preliminary applications are being taken at the City Hall from prospective applicants for apartments or other housing under the proposed project in Ranger arising through the Public Housing Authority.

These apartments will be modern and attractive costing about $6000.00 each. Applicants are asked to go by the City Hall immediately and give their names, addresses, approximate annual income and the number of members in their family. This information is required because the rental is based on percentage of income and the project is restricted to those families in the lower income brackets. For example, a man and wife with an income of $1800.00 per year would be required to pay $30.00 per month rent and would be eligible. The rental figure quoted includes all utilities.

The Authority, however, pointed out that the proposed project is only in process of being authorized and it will be quite some time before it is actually built and available for occupancy - if approved. The applications requested are necessary immediately in order to proceed with the program. The preliminary application requested may be made in person at the City Hall or by telephone to Number 78. Please act at once.

Minature Engine On Display Here

Trains are both vocation and avocation for D. L. Howard.

An engineer on the Texas and Pacific Railroad, Howard is now displaying in Ranger his minature engine that does duty for the kids in a park in Fort Worth. And he's thinking about putting one in a Ranger park.

The pint-sized engine is an exact replica of a real railroad engine and has capacity for 300 pounds of steam. He says, however, that he only puts it up to around 160 pounds for normal use.

Howard says that the only thing that's "jippo" about it is the piston rods that are imade from axels of a Ford automobile. It huffs and puffs over a grade just like a real engine and has a genuine whistle and bell, but has never had a wreck, the owner says.

For the next day or two, Howard will have the engine on display on Ninth Austin street by the Paramount Hotel.

Ochoa Indicted In Laredo Murder

LAREDO, Tex., Oct. 20 (UP)—A Webb County Grand Jury indicted George W. Ochoa, Dubou air control broker, for the July 31 murders of two men in a Laredo hotel.

But scar-faced Ochoa still had his freedom. He vanished into Mexico shortly after the slayings, and there his trail was lost.

He was indicted yesterday in the deaths of Henry D. Whittensburg, Jr., a prominent Rio Grande Valley cotton ginner, and ex-air force Cpl. James Lindsay, of Ft. Worth, Tex., and Oneida, Tenn.

Twenty-six witnesses appeared before the grand jury.

Among them were Rose Mary Cruse, San Antonio, who was in Whittensburg's hotel room when the killer walked in and abruptly opened fire, and Armando Jalomo, a bellboy at the Hotel Plaza.

Jalomo said that he directed Ochoa to Whittensburg's room shortly before the fatal shooting.

Both Miss Cruse and Jalomo are under bond, as material witnesses for the state.

Police Chief David O. Gallagher said that both Lindsay and Whittensburg were acquainted with Ochoa's wife, who has remained at the Laredo home while the search for her husband goes on in Mexico. Mrs. Ochoa an attractive brunette, declined to talk with reporters yesterday.

Says Oil Can't Carry Taxation Burden Alone

MINERAL WELLS, Tex., Oct. 20 (UP)—A spokesman for petroleum interests warned today that agriculture and manufacturing must be prepared to share with the oil industry a fair burden of impending new taxation to support the state government.

R. B. Anderson of Venon, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, was one of the early speakers at the 27th annual meeting of the Texas Manufacturers Association, which opened this morning.

"As we face the needs for increased revenue in January and in the year to come, the petroleum industry is willing to do its share, but I think it would be an unfair and unwise policy to ask that it do more," Anderson said.

"Every element of the state's industrial, agricultural and manufacturing interests which share in the current and prospective prosperity of Texas must make a fair and just contribution..."

He told the delegates that the future looked good for the state's biggest industry, which in the first nine months of the current year found 328 new oil fields and 69 gas fields and increased reserves of crude by 768,688,000 barrels in 1948.

New Bass Horn Presented Band

In a ceremony this morning at 10 o'clock at the band hall, the president of the Band Boosters Club, the treasurer and Mayor Price Crawley, presented a new bass horn for the band to Dr. G. C. Boswell, and W. R. Faifer, the latter director of the band.

The horn, complete with case and cymbals, was purchased Wednesday by Smith after the club had authorized its purchase.

Dr. Boswell in accepting the instrument, praised the club for the fine work they are doing for the band and thanked them for their efforts and cooperation.

The club recently completed raising funds for the purchase of the horn at a jamboree held on Main street.

Lineman Badly Hurt In Fall

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 20 (UP)—R. F. Sanderson, 31, lineman for the R. B. Stovall Company of Dallas, was in critical condition at St. Joseph's hospital today after coming in contact with 12,000 volts of power and falling 35 feet.

Texas Electric Service Company said the Dallas firm was stringing new wire under a subcontract. Sanderson was climbing a 50-foot pole when his arm brushed the high-voltage wire.

He suffered a compound leg fracture, possible broken back, and arm burns.

COUNTY PEANUT CROP BIGGEST SINCE 1942 SAYS T. C. WYLIE

The biggest peanut year since 1942 is the way T. C. Wylie of the Ranger Peanut Company describes this year's crop.

Wylie made the statement as he sat in his office where he could look out and survey the coming and going of peanut laden trucks that rolled upon the commercial scales, waited for the reading of the scales, then backed up to the warehouse to unload.

The warehouse, 60 by 100 feet, now holds 800 tons of peanuts and has room for only 300 more tons. The over flow will then be stored in the back of the Ranger Peanut Company's shelling plant. Wylie expects to buy three to four thousand tons before the season is over.

And the harvesting and marketing has just started, according to Wylie, who predicts that peanuts will be coming in until at least the first of December and possibly as late as the fifteenth. He expects a yield of from 25 to 30 bushels per acre with 25 bushels per acre being

DOCTORS LOSE BATTLE TO SAVE FROZEN BOY

SHELBY, Mont., Oct. 20 (UP)—Two country doctors admitted defeat last night after fighting for seven hours and one-half to save the life of a 12-year-old Polish refugee boy found frozen in a blizzard.

Dr. L. J. Salan and Steve Adaskavich worked long—but vainly—to revive young Bruno Kristovak, son of a displaced Polish couple.

They had conceded there was "only one in a thousand" chance to save the youngster, but their hopes soared in mid-afternoon when a faint heart murmur was detected. The doctors said then that the boy's lungs had not frozen.

Young Bruno and his 15-year-old brother, Stanislaw, wandered away from their ranch home near here Tuesday during the gaseous blizzard. A search party of 100 men found the older boy first huddled down in an exhibition building at the Marias fairgrounds here nearly 24 hours later. He suffered exposure, but will recover, doctors said.

Bruno was found shortly afterward on an open prairie about a mile and a half from his home. Searchers said he was "apparently dead."

Examination by physicians showed the boy had no heart-beat and no respiration, but Drs. Sal-an and Adaskavich said they believed there was still hope because the youngster apparently had been dead only a short time.

They immediately began the prolonged treatment, consisting of artificial respiration in a mechanical respirator and simultaneous injection of stimulating drugs.

A spokesman for the American Medical Association at Chicago explained there is a "twilight" period of about ten minutes following "death" when a chance of revival is present. AMA records show that one person who apparently had "died" during an operation was revived 19 minutes later.

The Kristovak family of mother and father and the 2 boys have lived and worked on the John Haquet sheep ranch near Shelby since arriving in Montana as displaced persons.

Nebraska once had a law making it a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both for discharging a firearm on a public highway "except to kill a dangerous animal or by an officer in discharge of his duty."

The first horse to run five furlongs in less than a minute was Turnstick in 1910.

HAS 20 VOTE MARGIN OVER RED SATALITE

United Press Staff Correspondent FLUSHING, N. Y., Oct. 20 (UP)—Yugoslavia scored a victory over the Soviet Union today, defeating Czechoslovakia, the Kremlin-backed candidate, for election to the United Nations security council.

Yugoslavia was elected on the second ballot in secret voting in the 59-Nation general assembly. The vote was 39 for Yugoslavia and 19 for Czechoslovakia.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky immediately warned the assembly that Russia considered Yugoslavia's election a "new violation of the UN charter, undermining the very basis of cooperation of the United Nations."

For the second time within an hour in the tense session of the assembly, president Carlos P. Romulo called Vishinsky to order. He instructed the interpreters, manning the microphones in the simultaneous translation system, to cease translating remarks in the future whenever the chair calls anyone to order.

The huge assembly hall, which was a skating rink after it had served as a building in the New York World's Fair, buzzed when Romulo pronounced his second ruling against the acid-tongued Soviet spokesman. Romulo rapped for order again as he ordered the assembly to proceed with the election of six members of the economic and social council.

Ecuador and India were elected to the council on the first ballot. Ecuador received 57 votes of the 58 ballots cast and India 56. With only 58 of the UN's 59 members voting, the two thirds was 29.

On the first ballot, Yugoslavia received 37 votes and Czechoslovakia 29. A second ballot, between Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia, was ordered immediately, with Tito's regime gaining the extra two votes it needed and the Czechs losing one.

Ranger Sand Being Tested Near Eastland

W. U. Paul, Houston oil operator, was down to 300 feet Wednesday on a test of the Ranger sands in a wildcat operation two miles south of Eastland on the Nancy Usery survey.

The test is on a 2,500 acre foot lease, with property owned by Mrs. Beulah Butler, R. H. Patterson Company are the drillers.

Cable tools are being used in the test, with plans for a total depth of 3,300 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul are making their home in Eastland at 1103 South Seaman Street. Paul has had 25 years experience in the oil industry. If the first test is successful, plans are to drill additional wells on the on the promising lease, Mrs. Paul stated.

Returns From College Meeting

Dr. G. C. Boswell who has just returned from the annual Junior College conference at Texas A & M College, stated today that it was the best conference that he has ever attended.

Dr. Lawrence Bethel, president of the junior college at New Haven, Connecticut, was consultant at the meeting.

Subjects discussed were the junior college library, terminal and vocational education, agriculture, and business administration credit for the junior college. Dr. Boswell discussed the latter subject on the program and stated that a very interested discussion followed the talk.

He said that he had gained some very good ideas about the junior college and that some of them at least will be put into use at Ranger Junior College.

SENATOR MYERS PRAISES WORK OF 81ST CONGRESS

By FRANCIS J. MYERS
U. S. Senator From Pennsylvania; Democratic Whip
(Written For The United Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (UP)—Has the 81st Congress "made good?"

Of course I may be a little prejudiced on that matter, but - even allowing for that, and even considering all of the many things we have not accomplished in this first session but have postponed until next year - I think this congress has done a generally excellent job, a simply amazing job.

No, we have not yet passed in full the Truman program. We haven't, it's true written into law every one of the planks of the Democratic platform adopted at Philadelphia in 1948.

But we have made a start - in most cases a pretty solid start - on nearly all of those planks in our platform and in the Truman program and we have already enacted into law extensive portions of that program, including some which have been blocked and killed in a succession of previous congresses.

Mr. Thompson died at the Ranger General Hospital Wednesday. He was born in Van Zandt county February 21, 1898 and had resided in this vicinity for one month.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Lottie Thompson; three sons, Boyd, Bobby and Glenn Thompson, all of Ranger; two daughters Mrs. Mildred Knox of Houston, and Mrs. Georgina Perkins of Houston; two sisters, Mrs. Willie Knox of Houston and Mrs. Heddy Anderson of Athens and a brother, Nelson Thompson of California.

Survivors were nephews of the deceased.

Dwarf Cattle Just A Stunt Trainer Admits

JAMESTOWN, N. D. Oct. 20 (UP)—Animal trainer Gene Holter admitted today that he bought five head of dwarf cattle from a stockman who didn't want to be known as a breeder of stunted animals.

His worry about finding them in a "lost canyon" was started at the stockmen's request, Holter said. He said he paid $170 for the five under-size Herefords, averaging 200 pounds. They are 24 to 28 inches high.

L. Cadieux, a local photographer who took pictures of the tiny animals, viewed the whole affair as a "stunt."

"People are saying it's the best stunt that's been pulled off around here for years, but it got a little bit out of hand," Cadieux said.

Meanwhile, midget cattle turned up in normal channels at Marshalltown, Ia.

A waist-high, 400-pound Hereford heifer and a bull about the same size were consigned to the Marshalltown market by H. J. Anselme, of Nevada, Ia. They were sold to two regular buyers.

Alvorado Girl 4-H Club Winner

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 20 (UP)—Barbara Dell Dean, 17-year-old North Texas State College Freshman from Alvarado, has been announced as the 1949 winner of the Texas 4-H Home Improvement contest.

She will be awarded an all-expense paid trip to the national 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

Other statewide 4-H Club contest winners announced last night included:

Hubert Frerich, 16, Rowena, better methods electric contest.
Doris Rudolph, 16, fashion, home grounds beautification.
Bonnie John Gallagher, 18, Clarkwood, meat animal contest.

The congress which was elected in 1948 was selected for two years. The platform which we drew up at Philadelphia in 1948 was to chart our party's program - over a period of the four years of the Truman administration.

Looking at the record of this first session, we find that the most important single phase of our program - the achievement of a decent world of free peoples at peace - has been adhered to by this congress with devotion, an intensity and a willingness which has seldom been equaled by any congress in our history.

Programs like the Marshall plan reciprocal trade, United Nations participation, voice of America, and others - which were fought over bitterly in the 80th congress, attacked ferociously, nibbled at, and in fact, were almost destroyed - were pushed through the 81st congress this session in full vigor, and for one reason only: Because the Democratic majority which believed in these programs held together and pushed them through. And then we followed through with the North Atlantic Pact and the arms program.

Perhaps we cannot in these two years accomplish all of the legislative goals we have set. We do not admit that, however, and we have no intention of slackening our efforts. On civil rights, although we have now been added in the senate by a Bi-Partisan coalition of Republicans and anti-civil rights democrats with a horribly retrogressive rule for attempting to shut off filibusters, we are going to fight down the line for the passage of the bills we promised in our 1948 platform.

Yes, I firmly believe this congress has done a good job - a simply amazing job when compared to the 80th, and when compared to the crepe-hanging predictions last spring of our "failures."

Next year, and next year's achievements will give the final standards by which to gauge the 81st congress. In the meantime, don't let the republicans fool you with their howls. Look at what they did.

Barbecue Tickets Committee Meets

Members of the ticket committee for the big barbecue next Thursday night met this morning at the Chamber of Commerce and mapped plans for the sale of the tickets.

It was pointed out that while it is hoped that every business man in Ranger will be present at the barbecue, those who do not intend to attend will not be asked to buy tickets.

"Ranger is to be host at the barbecue," one spokesman said, "and we want the business men to want to come."

It was explained that - by as much as Ranger is to be host to those attending, tickets will be sold to Ranger business people only. No tickets will be sold outside of Ranger.

The committee composed of Gaston Dixon, Delbert Capps, J. W. Elder Jr., and Bruce Maddox, has divided the town into sections and will set to work immediately to work those sections to sell as many tickets as possible.

THE FROG BOMBERS—This trio will be shooting at putting T. C. U.'s 1949 passing total past the 1000-yard mark this week when the Frogs play host to Ole Miss, one of the top ten teams of the nation for 1948, at 8 o'clock Saturday night at T. C. U. Stadium. Already they have to their credit more 1948 pass completions for T. C. U. (79) than for any other team in the nation. They are, left to right, Ray Bassinger of Hillsboro; Lindy Berry of Wichita Falls; and Dan Wilde of Graham. Currently ranked as the nation's No. 1 passer, a position he has held from opening week on, Berry has been the big gun in the Frog aerial attack, being responsible for 62 completions in 114 tosses for 825 yards gain and an average of .561. Bassinger and Wilde have four completions each to their credit, the former for 38 yards and the latter for 93, bringing the entire T. C. U. passing gain to date to 956 yards.

DRUGS TO CURE FUNGUS DISEASES DISCOVERED

By PAUL F. ELLIS
 United Press Science Editor
 NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (UP)—Several "highly promising" new drugs have been discovered and are now undergoing tests on human beings, a chemist disclosed today.

The new drugs include fungistatin and baciloycin which, according to Dr. Peter Regna, have activity against some of the fungus diseases. Athlete's Foot is among the fungus diseases.

Regna, who is affiliated with the Charles Pfizer & Co., Pharmaceutical house and a large manufacturer of penicillin, said that the scientists today are broadening their search for new drugs to find agents that will go after the viruses, such as cause polio and the common cold.

In a report to the American Chemical Society, Regna said "several highly promising antibiotics (drugs) which may fulfill some of the needs, have been isolated and are now being evaluated clinically."

The most valuable drugs isolated in the last two years, he said are polymyxin, aureomycin, chloromycetin and anti-fungal agents, such as fungistatin and baciloycin.

"While the administration of polymyxin has been observed to produce certain toxic manifestations (unfavorable side reactions)," he said, "it has been used with success in the treatment of whooping cough, colon bacillus infections and in certain types of influenza." Chloromycetin, he said, has "shown a low order" poison in the treatment of epidemic and scrub typhus, undulant fever, virus pneumonia, rocky mountain spotted fever, typhoid fever and in certain urinary infections.

He said that aureomycin has been useful against rickettsial diseases, eye infections, virus pneumonia, also undulant fever.

More than 100 new drugs produced by molds, fungi, and high plants have been studied in the last 10 years, he said, but only a few are being used in the treatment of disease. Actually, he said only penicillin and a lesser extent, streptomycin, "have satisfied the requirements of a dependable drug and thus have become an integral part of modern medicine."

Texans To Offer New Plan For Support Prices

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (UP)—A committee of West Texas farmers, ginners and oil mill operators were in Washington today to present a new plan for handling cottonseed support prices to officials of the production and marketing administration.

Members of the committee, who were to be given a hearing by PMA officials this afternoon, said they would urge authorization for ginners to buy seed at the prevailing market, with the farmer receiving reimbursement of the difference between that price and the government support of $45.50 per ton.

At a meeting in Lubbock, Tex., recently, representatives of the oil mill operators, ginners and farmers agreed that the present cottonseed support program was "unworkable and has cost the cotton-belt millions of dollars."

Here for the conference were George A. Simmons and Roy B. Davis, Lubbock cotton oil men; Ray Grisham, cotton oil man from Abilene, Tex.; W. O. Fortenberry, Lubbock county ginner and farmer; Logan Sowder, Idalou, Tex., ginner and farmer; and G. L. Jackson, Abernathy, Tex., farmer.

Army Band Has Pipers
 FORT LEWIS, Wash. (UP)—The Second Division band here claims the only bagpipe section of an Army band in the country. Under supervision of John P. Ironside, 16 members have learned to play well enough to appear regularly as part of the band.

The first settlement in the Northwest was established by the Hudson Bay Co., in 1670.

A LONG WAY HOME, BUT JEWELER ENJOYED IT

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—(UP)—John Williams had a lesson in geography today and a new excuse for coming home late.

The spry 74-year-old jeweler flew from Newark, N. J. to Dallas and back to La Guardia field in New York in an attempt to reach his home at Fall River, Mass.

It was just a cross-country mix-up, red-faced American Airlines officials apologized. Williams boarded an airliner at Newark Tuesday night and took off for what he thought would be the short flight to Providence, R. I. He parked his car there earlier in the day before flying to New York on a buying trip.

When he heard passengers around him looking forward to sights in Mexico City, he just flipped the pages of a magazine contentedly and mused on the idiosyncracies of people who fly.

Five minutes after departure a hostess looked at his ticket. "She just seemed startled and left right away," Williams said. F. J. Robinson, an airlines official came up to him.

"Where are you going, sir?" Robinson asked.

Someone to Love

By IRENE LONNEN ERNHART Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: After Ted Dunsmuir's divorce, his ex-wife, along with another man, Ted turns to his old friend Jenny Pelekis. A quick marriage results in marriage. She is the rebound, although Ted tells Jenny and tries to convince himself that it is all over with Liz. Ted has not told his family that he has married Jenny because, he explains, "they'd raise such a fuss."

 JENNY and Ted had planned to settle down in the house on Catalpa street, at least until they were adjusted to each other. But they returned from Chicago to find the final eviction notice waiting in the mailbox.

"But Ted, you know what they say about living with your in-laws."
 Ted laughed and gathered her in his arms and kissed her. "Gee," he whispered, "what difference does it make where we live as long as we're together?"
 "No difference," she whispered back, the words coming out muffled. "I'd live in a tent."
 "Maybe it's a good thing," he pointed out. "I'd hate to live here anyway. It's an undesirable neighborhood."
 Jenny stiffened ever so slightly. "Well," she admitted, "perhaps it is, but Pop and I lived here so long it seems like home to me."
 "That's just it, darling. You've used to it and don't really see how cold and shabby it really is. I'd hate for any of my old friends to find me living in a joint like this."
 There was a short silence, and Jenny, realizing they could very easily quarrel, put her hands on either side of his face and said sweetly and shyly to discuss whether they should stay here when we can't pay the rent.

Her look on Ma's face stopped her. "You might as well get it straight right now, Jenny," she said. "Ted made a perfect fool of himself getting married just to spite Liz Conover."
 "Now Ma," Ted's face turned crimson.
 "You know it wasn't a thing else than that! Ma went on 'You just wanted to show Liz you could get married too. But I never thought a son of mine would be dumb enough to cut off his nose to spite his face.'"
 Harriet passed in her work, and there was a smug expression on her dark face as she put in her nickel's worth. "Liz probably won't even see that little old office stuck in with all the other marriage licenses, so I don't know what good it does you."
 "Cut it out!" Ted said. "I didn't marry Jenny to spite Liz. This is certainly a fine way to welcome us."
 There was a long chilly silence. Harriet began twisting strands of Ma's gray hair into pin curls again. After a moment or two Ma spoke again solemnly. "Put your stuff in the bedroom. Joe got his things moved out. Where he's going to hang his clothes I don't know, 'less it's in the pantry."
 "Ma, apologize to Jenny."
 "Ma ignored him. 'I ain't got time to get any fancy breakfasts for anybody either. It's enough to get my own and Harriet's and Joe's fore I go to work.'"
 "I expect to help around the apartment with the work," Jenny said, her first words.
 Ma's plump face didn't soften in the least. "I don't want anybody messin' in my kitchen neither, after I've got things red up and gone to work!"
 "Come on, Jenny," Ted said. She followed him into the living room where he picked up their suitcases. He motioned her into the bedroom, set the suitcases down and shut the door, and then turned to her.
 "Ted, we can't stay!" Jenny whispered.
 "They'll get over being hateful. Don't pay any attention to 'em."

queer streak of snobbishness in Ted. She changed the subject. "I suppose we ought to go over and see your family right away."
 "No!" The word came out sharply, but the surprise in her face seemed to embarrass him. "I didn't mean to sound so abrupt, Jenny, but I'll go around to see Ma first and sort of smooth over her feelings before I take you to see her."
 "You mean she'll really be angry because you've married me?"
 "Well," he parried. "It'll be quite a surprise. But I can wheedle Ma into almost anything. She'll come around. Only—well you can see how it is. She ought to be prepared."
 THE girls at the shop welcomed her back gaily the next morning, and she fell back into the easy routine of her work. But all day long a feeling of dread seemed to snowball inside of her.
 Nina and kindly offered to store the furniture that Jenny wanted to keep from the house on Catalpa street, an old solid walnut bureau with acorn handles, a cherry table and a ladderback chair. Nina also offered some advice. "I'd go live in one room somewhere before I'd settle down with the Dunsmuirs, Jenny. I don't care how nice people are, that sort of thing just never works out."
 "But it's only temporary, Nina, and I'm sure they'll try as hard as I will to make the best of it."
 But as she and Ted drove toward the Dunsmuir apartment that evening, she felt anything but calm.
 Joe, sprawled on theavenport reading the paper, did not bother to rise as they came in. He glanced up and spoke, but it was obvious he was miffed at having been shunted out of his room.
 Ma had washed her hair and Harriet was winding it up in pin curls for her.
 "Here's Jenny, Ma," Ted said, as they stepped into the kitchen. Jenny started forward but the

Milliner Claims She Married Oil Man 43 Years Ago

HAYS, Kan., Oct. 20.—(UP)—A prominent milliner here claimed today that she had been married secretly to Mark Hadley, wealthy oilman and rancher, for 43 years and said she would contest his will.

Hadley died of a heart attack last week, leaving his entire estate to local institutions. Decilla Deane said she and Hadley were married in a Catholic Church in Damar, Kan., in 1906.

"The marriage was kept secret because I would not have been welcome in the Hadley home," she said.

The estate's worth is indefinite, based on oil royalties from the Hadley pool which has produced for more than 20 years.

The will provided that 85 per cent of the estate go to trustees of Hadley Memorial Hospital and 15 per cent to the retired minister's fund of the Methodist Church here. It also provided for a $20,000 cash gift to the local Methodist Church for purchasing a pipe organ.

Hadley left no known survivors, his lawyer said.

LONGHORNS TO TAKE IT EASY REMAINDER OF WEEK

By United Press
The Texas Longhorns relaxed today as Coach Blair Cherry told them to "take it comparatively easy" until they knock heads with the Rice Owls in a make-or-break game at Austin Saturday.

Cherry hustled the Longhorns through a workout against the air and ground offense he expects the Owls to use and reported the squad was in excellent physical condition.

Injured backfield veterans Ray Borneaman, H. J. Shands and Billy Pyle still were not running at full speed, however.

At Houston, Rice coach Jess Neely was unhappy.

He said the Owls looked nothing like the team that stunned 72,000 fans at Dallas last Saturday with its 41-27 upset of Southern Methodist.

"I have never seen our boys let down so," Neely said. "I don't know what it was, but we looked terrible."

Neely reported that Rice scrubs scored eight times against the varsity during the workout yesterday.

"We tried everything from a five-man to an eight-man line and we still couldn't stop them," he moaned.

The spartan spirit put a glint in the eyes of Matty Bell's Southern Methodist Mustangs, who hunkered down yesterday to the touch task of getting ready for Kentucky's Wildcats without all-America Doak Walker.

SMU players let it be known they would try to win the game for the Doaker, who is battling influenza at Gaston Hospital in Dallas.

Bell said that half back Frank Payne and Fred Benners would take over Doak's duties in the signal calling department against the undefeated, untied Kentuckians at Dallas Saturday.

Texas Christian's Horned Frogs spent the day yesterday on a defensive scrimmage against University of Mississippi plays.

Coach Dutch Meyer said he couldn't see how the Frogs could sault on Kentucky agreed today that, without Walker, their chances against the Bruisers from the Bourbon Country were poor.

But Canny Coach Matty Bell would not share their pessimism.

Bell put SMU through a stiff workout yesterday, moving Frank Payne from his halfback post to Walker's post in the team's single-wing formation.

Fred (The Needle) Benners, lanky quarterback who took over the signal calling last Saturday night when Walker was hurt in an out-of-bounds tackle, also was available for duty against Kentucky. Playing his first collegiate game against Rice, Benners tossed one touchdown pass and showed signs of developing into a great back.

Doctor Orders "No Visitors" For Doak Walker

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 20 (UP)—The "no visitors" sign was posted outside Doak Walker's hospital room today and his physician told nurses the great Southern Methodist quarterback was to receive no calls or messages.

All-America Doak was hospitalized yesterday with influenza. Nurse at Gaston Hospital said he "rested comfortably" overnight, but still had fever.

Walker was considered definitely out of SMU's intercollegiate clash with powerful Kentucky in the Cotton Bowl here Saturday, and there was some doubt that he would be in condition to play against the Texas Longhorns Oct. 29.

At first it was feared the popular triple-threat back had developed virus pneumonia, but through examination proved other wise.

SMU supporters who had believed the Mustangs would rebound from their startling loss to Rice last week with a savage as-beat Mississippi. Although the interconference clash with the Rebels will be a night game at Fort Worth Saturday, Meyer said there would be no workouts under the lights.

"It destroys our routine, having those night workouts," Meyer said.

The Baylor Bears and the Texas Aggies should be in top form when they meet at College Station Saturday.

Coach Bob Woodruff said Baylor was in perfect physical shape after the Varsity finished its practice against a freshman team.

At College Station, coach Harry Stiteler said his Aggies were ready to avenge, reporting that only halfback John Christensen, who was injured in the LSU game, was a doubtful starter.

The Office took full advantage of the absence of two of the keglers on the Truck team and took four points and in so doing gained one point on the league leading Auto-Elec. For the Office, C. D. Beck took honors with high game of 179 and series of 481. J. B. Weekes, team captain, was the top keglers for Trucks with a 141 game and series of 599.

Auto-Elec opened their seige guns but only contrived to take three points from the Gaugers who were short the extra pins which W. A. Halbrooks had been contributing.

Kilborn was again the leading factor in the Auto-Elec team with a 190 game and 488 series. Chesley Tipton took top honors for the Gaugers with 197 game and 499 series.

Air Patrol finding the Gang short two keglers, H. L. Maynard and W. T. Johnson, took full advantage of the fact by taking four points and moved from 5th place into 3rd place in league standing. M. W. Krajcar with 195 game and 465 series took top honors for the Air Patrol while H. G. Bridges with 163 game and series of 438 captured top honors for Gang but was followed closely by K. R. Cole with 164 game and 433 series.

AS The Sideline Sees It

Right at this particular moment there's doubt in our mind about what the weather will be for the Ranger Junior College Howard County College ball game tonight.

The weather man has been promising us a cold front, but if it's on its way, it must be traveling like that slow train through Arkansas.

But we're still pulling for that nuther to get here in time for the game tonight. And we may wish tonight, that we hadn't pulled quite so hard. That press box gets rather arish at times.

And still nobody is making any predictions about the game tonight.

The probable starting line up for Howard County, which averages 175 pounds is as follows: Ends, Puckett and Grigsby; guards Turner and Van Pelt; tackles, Gaines and Harris, and center, Guthrie. The backfield will be composed of Lees, Stallings, Rankin and Madison.

We heard a rumor today, never could confirm it though, that some of the Bulldogs were skating on thin ice on account of having broken training.

It would be a little rugged on the game as well as on the fellows themselves, if they were kept out of the Comanche-Ranger game tomorrow night. However the coaches would certainly be entitled to do just that if the boys defied the rules and broke training.

Coach Aills was right pleased with his female basketballers yesterday after they had taken two games, their first this year, from the Eastland girls.

And a right he had to be, too. It took 'em only three minutes to

'Family Affair' In District 8-A Set This Week

Reprinted From Abilene Reporter-News

It's strictly a "family affair" this week end in the six-team District 8-A. They tangle with each other in the second round of district play.

Eastland, Ranger, and Hamilton currently are tied for the lead in district competition and there is little indication that their standing will be changed after Friday night's game.

The Eastland Mavericks go to Dublin for a joust with the 20-20 Dublin eleven; the Ranger Bulldogs are host to the Comanche's inadequate Indians, and DeLeon plays at Hamilton.

District observers are of the opinion that the title will be decided next week and when Ranger and Hamilton tie into each other.

In district competition to date, Eastland holds a 20-7 win over De Leon; Hamilton defeated Comanche 45-12; and Ranger bested Dublin, 25-6.

For the season, Ranger and Hamilton have the more impressive records. Ranger's record includes: An 18-6 win over Olney, a 20-13 victory over Stephenville; a 25-0 triumph over Burk Burnett; and the 25-6 decision over Dublin. Ranger's only loss was a 13-26 setback suffered at the hands of the Bowie Jackrabbits.

Hamilton, likewise, has suffered only one reverse for the season, a 14-19 loss to Brady. Hamilton wins include a 36-0 rout of Goldthwaite, 19-13 victory over San Saba, a 27-0 shutout over Coleman, and a 45-12 district win over Comanche.

Eastland has the third best record of the district. Eastland Mavericks won 20-7 over DeLeon, 26-13 over Graham "B" team; 12-6 over Winters.

The Mavericks lost 0-19 to Coleman and 0-26 to Albany.

Following are the season and district records of 8-A teams:

Says Women In Minority Among Delegates To The United Nations

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Correspondent
FLUSHING, N. Y., Oct. 20 (UP)—The United Nations, concerned since its beginning with the rights of women, has only 15 women among the more than 400 delegates and alternates to the UN General Assembly, the hall from 12 of the 59 member nations.

Sixteen other nations list women as advisers, interpreters or top-level secretaries to their assembly delegations.

In the United Nations secretariat women are better represented numerically. A recent UN survey showed 1,400 women and 1,700 men on the payroll. The women are sparsely represented at top levels, however, with only 26 per cent holding professional rank as opposed to 71 per cent of the men. It must be said, however, that secretaries to top officials, who make more money than many professional workers and wouldn't trade their jobs for anything, are listed below professional level.

Four of the top-ranking delegation women — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt of the United States; Mrs. Cairine R. Wilson of Canada; Mrs. Sucheta Kripalani of India, and Senora Carmen De Senoret of Chile—are full-fledged delegates. The other 11, from Australia, Belgium, Denmark, Mexico, The Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, the United Kingdom, and the United States — are alternates.

"Certainly we serve without any discrimination," Senora De Senoret said. "I think that women's representation is increasing partly, perhaps through the influence of the UN."

Mrs. Wilson feels her own country is more backward in recognizing women in government positions than some of the Latin American Nations usually believed to keep their women strictly at home.

In lower Echelons of the Secretariat women feel there is little discrimination against them as to sex. They serve as translators, interpreters, protocol officers, and secretaries and assistants in almost every department.

Ann Sheehan, formerly a New York secretary, a wartime Spar, and supervisor of a UN secretarial pool, returned recently from eight months in Korea as secretary to the UN mission.

Miss Sheehan said she applied for a job as soon as the UN came to New York "because I had ideals." She said she'd learned — if only from her typing pool of Americans, British, French, Canadians and Russians — that "it's difficult working with so many different nationalities. It makes me understand the political problems are more difficult than I thought they were."

Her ideals are a little less enthusiastic, Miss Sheehan said, but she still has them and she has what she thinks is a good job.

We're Sure That Millions of Farmers and Consumers Feel Just as You Do!

One of the wonderful things about Americans is their great sense of fair play. Ever since the anti-trust lawyers announced their intention of putting A&P out of business, tremendous numbers of people like Mr. & Mrs. N. M. Gentlemen:

We have been distressed by the possibility that the A. and P. stores, because of unfair accusations, may cease to exist. I wonder if you will see that our letter reaches the proper source, if there is one.

We are farmers, as you know, and not only sell our products, but buy necessary food from local A. and P. stores. We deliver farm produce, daily, to approximately eighteen stores in nearby villages. This includes two A. and P. markets, whose managers very wisely buy on-the-spot, thus saving deterioration due to excess handling, transportation and longer time from the farm to store. Our price to sixteen stores is the same as we get from the two A. and P. stores.

We wondered whether the low prices we see all the time in A. and P. stores might mean that sales people were underpaid. Evidently not, for we have noticed that the same employees stay on year after year, and we know high-school students in our town who have started at the bottom with A. and P. and risen to responsible positions.

Then what is this all about, if the consumers, the salespeople, those who manufacture your brands, the truckmen, the laborers and the farmers are ALL satisfied?

We believe the answer is simple. The A. and P. has developed an organization whose efficiency should be an example to all stores handling food. If this were so, independent grocers could well expect larger profits. The solution is not in destroying something that has taken years to build, but in encouraging all merchants to still further improve the efficiency of their operations.

Very sincerely,
Niles M. Davies
Eunice Davies

For 90 years this company has tried to build a sound business on the basis of giving consumers more good food for their money and giving farmers better markets for their products.

It is heartening to know that the public approves of the job we have done . . . to know that our policy of fair, honest dealing has won us the friendship of millions of consumers and farmers.

We will always be grateful to all our good friends who have offered us their help.

We are proud to live in a country where such things can happen.

MERCY PLANES RUSH AID TO STRICKEN GUATEMALA

By Mario Ribas Montes
United Press Staff Correspondent

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala, Oct. 20 (UP)—Mercy planes rushed food and medical supplies today to flood-stricken areas of Guatemala where 4,000 were killed and 100,000 made homeless.

A government request for $2,000,000 relief funds went to congress along with casualty reports and estimates that $40,000,000 in property damage was caused by the swirling flood waters.

The floods, worst disaster in Guatemala's history followed 72 hours of torrential rains.

A U. S. Embassy amphibious plane, dispatched to the lake Atitlan region 50 miles west of here, was expected to return a group of trapped American tourists to this capital today.

Reports reaching here from towns had been obliterated in landslides, bridges torn from their moorings, highways zipped up, rivers diverted from their courses, and coffee crops destroyed.

The hardest hit areas were the departments of Escuintla, Quezaltenango, San Marcos, Santa Rosa, Jutiapa, Jalapa and Sacatepequez, most of which border on the Pacific ocean.

Survivors described how numerous streams in the mountainous central region of Guatemala were converted into raging torrents over the weekend, bringing death and destruction to small communities near them.

They said coffee planters on the slopes of mountains were swept away with their families and livestock.

Adobe dwellings melted into heaps of mud and bamboo structures were washed away like match sticks, they said.

Witnesses said that the rampaging waters swirled out of the mountains to the Pacific and Gulf of Mexico coastal plains, adding to the death and destruction.

Many persons were believed to have been washed into the sea, beyond recovery, because less than 500 bodies had been recovered.

Planes from the U. S. Caribbean Command Headquarters at the Panama Canal surveyed the disaster area to determine the regions most desperately in need of relief.

Truman Looks To Mediation To Settle Strikes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (UP)—President Truman said today he still is relying on mediation and bargaining outside of the White House to settle both the soft coal and steel strikes.

Mr. Truman told a news conference that he has no plans at the present time to intervene in either dispute.

He said he is in close touch with settlement efforts in both disputes and is hopeful mediation and bargaining would settle the strikes in the near future.

The soft coal strike is a month old; the steel strike 20 days. Both are beginning to cut deeply into the national economy.

Mr. Truman said he has no plans to seize either the coal mines or the steel mills.

The President added sharply that the sooner Labor and Management in the coal and steel industries reach agreement on new contract terms, the better it will be for the country and themselves.

Federal mediators are continuing conferences in New York with officials of the U. S. Steel Corp. and the United Mine Workers met once again at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., with northern and commercial coal operators.

Are YOU Going Thru CHANGE of LIFE?

causing you to suffer from HOT FLUSHES?

Does the functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women (30-50 yrs.) make you suffer from hot flushes, feel so nervous, high-strung, irritable, weak? Then try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. It's for you for this!

Taken regularly—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such "middle-age" distress. It's what Doctors call a uterine sedative. It positively contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs. Pinkham's Compound helps nature (you know what we mean). It's also a great stomachic tonic! Any drugstore.
