That water meeting is to be in Eastland Tuesday and not Thursday as was indicated in the head on a story appearing in the Sunday edition of the Times.

The meeting will be held at 2 o'clock in the county court room and a report will be given by Harry Burleigh on the proposed dam site for a lake to create an adequate water supply for this area.

We learned this morning that Floyd Hightower who has been reappointed head coach at Highland Park School in Dallas is a brother of S. A. Hightower. Sports writers give Hightower credit for starting Highland Park on the road to football heights when he coached at the school in 1942 before entering the service of the navy. Hightower is credited also with starting Bobby Lane and Doak Walker on the road to football fame. He first joined the Highland Park coaching staff as assistant football coach and track mentor. Under Hightower the school has won seven district championships and his 1940 track team won the state championship.

Hightower's appointment as head coach has been the subject of a number of sports stories in Dallas papers.

Bidault Quiets Red Filibuster

PARIS, March 6 (UP)—Premier Georges Bidault suddenly silenced a four-day Communist filibuster in the National Assembly today by demanding a vote of confidence on powers to imprison Communist strike agitators in chains.

At the same time a strike on the Paris bus and subway systems, called by Communist Union leaders, closed virtually all bus lines and 12 of the city's 15 subway lines.

The demand for a vote of confidence automatically ended four days of riotous assembly debate on the government's anti-sabotage bill. Debate was marked by bloody fist fights when Communists attacked right-wing deputies.

The assembly adjourned at 10 A. M. after a 13-hour all-night session when Bidault called for a confidence vote. One full day must elapse before such a vote can be taken. The earliest the assembly could meet again, therefore, would be one minute after midnight Wednesday.

The bill opposed so bitterly by the Communists is designed to break the Communist Labor offensive against American arms shipments to France.

It provides solitary confinement sentences in chains for strike agitators and the death penalty for the destruction of military supplies. The Communists have promised to use both tactics to halt American arms shipments.

They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Anderson and will be guests at the Shamrock Hotel while in Houston.

JUBILANT MINERS FILE BACK TO COAL MINES

By J. ROBERT SHUBERT
United Press Staff Correspondent
PITTSBURGH, March 6 (UP)—John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers streamed back to the soft coal pits today, ending nine-months of strikes and disputes over a new contract, bringing the nation to the brink of economic disaster.

Jubilant miners hailed the contract signed in Washington yesterday by Lewis and the operators as a "great victory." The operators granted a 70-cent-a-day wage boost and a 10-cent-a-ton increase in welfare fund payments in exchange for elimination of the "willing-and-able-to-work" clause. Government officials in Washington predicted that it will take the Nation's industry two months to get over the effects of the greatest coal famine in history. Miners lost 111 days work and $1,559 apiece in wages on the average during the long labor dispute.

Some mines in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Indiana started production on the midnight shift and hundreds more prepared to receive full crews later today.

However, late arrival of the telegram from Lewis calling off a month-old strike was expected to keep many of the 372,000 miners idle until the first shift tomorrow.

Lewis' telegram to all local unions said: "A new contract has been approved by the policy committee and executed by the bituminous coal operators. All mines will resume work."

Some miners eager to get back to work convened special meetings of their locals and voted unanimously to return immediately.

Besides beef cattle, the group will see dairy cattle, sheep and hogs at different places where they stop.

Besides the Fry ranch other stops are to include C. N. McCain, C. C. Harris, Jack Baker, A. Z. Myrick, Ray Royal, Dr. F. E. Clark, T. G. Casdie, A. V. Clark, H. C. Wilkinson, R. E. Harrell and Archie Campbell.

Author Of Spoon River Anthology Dies Early Today

MELROSE PARK, Pa., March 6 (UP)—Edgar Lee Masters, 80, poet-author of "Spoon River Anthology," died early today in a convalescent home. He was stricken with virus pneumonia three days ago.

Masters, one of the Nation's best known poets, had been more or less an invalid since an attack of pneumonia in December, 1943.

His second wife, Ellen, 30 years his junior, with him when he died. He also was survived by his son, Hillary, 21, a Washington newspaper man, and two children by his former marriage.

The couple came here three years ago. Mrs. Masters is head of the English department at Ogontz Junior College for girls in nearby Rydal, Pa.

"He had not really been well for several years but he always looked forward to when he could resume his writing," Mrs. Masters said. "Then he contracted virus pneumonia. He died in only a few short days."

Masters was a successful Chicago lawyer when he turned to poetry at the age of 45. He published "Spoon River Anthology" in 1914 and six years later retired from his law practice to devote himself to literature.

Although Mrs. Masters said she had believed her husband was 81 years old, "Who's Who in America" lists his birth date as Aug. 23, 1869, in Garnett, Kans.

Fair Theatre Damaged By Fire

DALLAS, March 6 (UP)—The Fair Theatre near Fair Park in Dallas was badly damaged by fire early today and fire department officials investigated possible incendiary.

The theater, located at 3709 Parry, was sold by the Interstate Theater Chain last December. Until about a month ago it was reticent to white audiences, then it became a theater for negroes in a white district.

The fire department estimated damage at $25,000. A nearby small hotel sustained some smoke damage but there were no injuries.

The theater had been closed for a week after removal of 800 new seats.

It was a four-alarm fire, turned in at 2:18 A. M. The blaze was extinguished at 4:07 A. M.

Jaycees To Meet

It was announced today that a Junior Chamber of Commerce meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Shelton Hotel.

All members are urged to attend as important business matters are to come before the group.

SAYS STATE ALMOST TWICE AS SAFE AS 12 YEARS AGO

DALLAS, Tex., March 6 (UP)—Gov. Allan Shivers today reminded the Texas Safety Conference that Texas traffic is "almost twice as safe as it was 12 years ago."

"If we had maintained the traffic death rate of 1937, we would have killed 3,925 people on Texas streets and highways last year," Shivers said. The actual figure was 1,957. That means the progress toward traffic resulted in the 1,968 lives last year in Texas."

Shivers told Association members that they were in the "lifesaving business" and must work constantly to cut down the still-alarming death rate on Texas streets and highways.

"We can be rightfully proud of the progress that has been made," Shivers said. "But there is no occasion for pride in the fact that every two days on the average 11 persons are killed in traffic accidents in Texas."

"We can feel a glow of satisfaction that every year more and more schools are teaching safety education to the boys and girls who will be tomorrow's drivers. But we can only hang our heads in shame that approximately 800 children of school age are killed every year in Texas accidents."

"We can find a tribute to the bigness of Texas in the fact that the state has more than 300,000 miles of streets and highways. But what Texas will boast about the fact that on an average day there are 483 traffic accidents on those streets and highways?"

The governor praised the Association for its constructive work over the past 12 years. He credited the organization for sponsoring legislation adopting the uniform traffic code, enlarging the Texas highway patrol and raising more money for administration of the drivers' license law.

Shivers said that the highway patrol was above politics and that its personnel qualified by passing rigid physical, mental and moral examinations.

"I, as governor, could not influence the selection of an applicant for a place on the State Highway Patrol," Shivers said. "no member of the legislature...no state official at all can exert such influence. That is exactly as it should be. That is the way we are going to keep it."

Shivers also emphasized that law enforcement authorities should deal harshly with persons convicted of drunken driving.

"I would like you to know that the executive branch cooperates to the fullest extent in the matter of protecting the public against persons who have had their licenses suspended for conviction on drunken driving charges," Shivers said. "As a matter of fact, before such a license is reinstated, the governor's office sends an investigator to determine if the person convicted of drunken driving has been driving a car at any time during the period that his license was suspended. If his investigation shows he has been driving a car at any time during that period, his license is not restored."

"And that holds true regardless of whether the person in question is a bank president or a truck driver—whether he is rich or poor, powerful or without influence," the governor added. "This rule has no exceptions."

Prince To Be Ft. Worth Guest

FORT WORTH, Tex., March 6 (UP)—Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands will arrive here late today, as scheduled, despite an attack of the flu that caused cancellation of appointments in Los Angeles Sunday.

Carewell Air Force Base officers here notified the Prince would arrive at the field at 4:30 P. M. (CST).

He will immediately present a citation and medals for valor to a fellow countryman now living in Houston, Tex.

The awards will be made to Pieter Cramerus, who served as a pilot with the Dutch East Indies air force during the war.

The citation will tell how Cramerus, although weak from pain and hunger, walked five days and four nights to obtain aid that saved the lives of six persons, after his plane was shot down by Japs.

Following the ceremony, Prince Bernhard will tour the Consolidated-Vultee plant where B-36 super-bombers are assembled.

A reception and dinner by the chamber of commerce will be given in Hotel Texas tonight in honor of the Prince and Dutch military and naval officials accompanying him.

Correction

Through error in an ad appearing in the Sunday edition of the Ranger Daily Times, a bath set which was advertised by Montgomery Ward and Company was listed as priced at $27.88 when the price should have been $97.88.

The set includes a lavatory, commode and five foot tub.

Eight Tons Of Blues

Trucker Clint Conger of Wilkesville, O., perches gloomily atop his cab in Cleveland, wondering what to do with eight tons of high-grade coal. Dealers refused to buy his load at $30 a ton when developments in the coal crisis promised early delivery at normal prices. Conger said he waited at the mine for four days to get the fuel, then hauled it 250 miles to sell it, claiming he'd lose money at anything less than $25 a ton.

PSYCHIATRISTS STUDY MAN WHO WENT BERSERK

NEW YORK, March 6 (UP)—Psychiatrists studied a 19-year-old negro today to learn what caused him to go berserk with a 14-inch butcher knife on a sunny, Sunday afternoon in Brooklyn, killing four men and wounding three.

The youth, William Jones, was released last week from Matteawan State Hospital for the criminal insane where he had been an inmate for 14 months.

"Jones was bright and happy when I bade him goodbye last week," said Dr. John F. McNeill, superintendent of the institution. "Something must have been bothering him, but he gave no indication of it."

Jones began his mad, 10 minute blood bath shortly before 4 P. M. yesterday.

Hundreds of strollers had been brought out of their homes by the spring-like 52 degree temperature.

Before the astonished men could answer, Jones flashed his knife and slashed down Matthew Kennedy, 21. Kennedy later was hospitalized in critical condition. His companion snatched up the babies from the carriages and ran to shelter.

Meanwhile, Jones shuffled on down the street toward St. Mark's place. There he met Aniello Duso, 61. Without a word the negro slashed Duso across the throat and in the abdomen. Duso died early today in a hospital.

Crossing St. Mark's Avenue, Jones bumped into Frank St. George, 46, who had watched the encounter with Duso with astonishment. Jones killed him.

A block further along the street, Jones met James Yearnis, 18, a negro friend. When Yearnis hailed him with a greeting, Jones stared blankly at his friend and gave him a glancing blow with the knife. Yearnis dropped to the street, but was not seriously wounded.

Jones then met John Gordon, 51, an old age pensioner. Jones stabbed the unsuspecting Gordon as he passed the man, killing him almost instantly.

Jones killed his last victim, Jerome Sullivan, 51, with wounds in the throat and abdomen.

At that moment, two patrolmen called to the scene by witnesses of Jones' earlier violence arrived. They halted Jones with their gun butts to subdue him.

Brownwood Gapes At Flying Object

(UP)—Hundreds of Brownwood citizens stopped work this morning to gaze skyward at a brilliant object believed at first to be a flying saucer but later thought to be a planet.

B. G. Joyner of the Brownwood Bulletin staff peered through a telescope and described it as circular in shape, shaded on one side and a brilliant silvery white color.

It could be observed by the naked eye. Joyner said it resembled the moon in partial eclipse, or like a brilliant star at dusk. He said it seemed to be moving with the sun.

(At Hamilton, Tex., Saturday, four women reported seeing a bright object in the sky. They thought it was a so-called "flying saucer.")

FINGERPRINTS Dont Lie By Rupert Hughes

THE STORY: The wealthy Wendell Palmer has been found dead in his library. His skull battered with a desk telephone. Police arrest his daughter's fiance, a young sculptor Paul Moody. Palmer had opposed Paul's courtship of his daughter, Azalea...

MARTIN QUERPEL looked like that man who does not exist—the average man. He was the average man, in fact. He was neither tall nor short, nor fat nor lean, nor dark nor light. No feature of his face was unusual or prominent. As a detective, he needed no disguise, since there was nothing about him to catch or hold the attention, much less the memory.

What Queripel liked best was a case in which he could prevent a crime, before it was committed. Unraveling mysteries and following the footsteps of hit-and-run killers bored him. He had heard only the first few words from Azalea Palmer when he decided that the case was not for him. The crime was done. The logical candidate for the boys was in jail. He was the poor little rich girl whose wealth and beauty had brought her such woes, but there was nothing he could do about it further than to be as kind as he could and ease her out of his office into the care of her friends and the help of all-healing to prove a very difficult, if not an impossible client. He knew that in times of hysteria, pouring out sympathy is like scattering oil on fire, so he spoke a bit sternly. "Before I consider anyone taking your case, Miss Palmer, I'd have to make one thing plain—one proviso you'd have to accept."

"If, in the course of my investigations, I should find further evidence that your lover committed the crime he is accused of—I will turn that evidence over to the authorities. I am a private detective, but I consider myself a part of the machinery of justice. And no money—no, not even my sympathy for you—could bribe me into helping to frustrate justice. Perhaps I might even convince you that Paul Moody is unworthy of your love."

HE made one last plea; for he was eager to escape from such a hopeless case: "Wouldn't you rather go to somebody with a more elastic conscience than I have?—or a greater devotion to his client than to a man's abstract notion?" She stared at him and the diamonds between her eyelids turned to white ice: "I want you to take it. Just because you're so honest."

NEWS FROM ACASA

The Lacasa Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday at the Community Center. A quilting party was held during the meeting.

A group from Lacasa was in Abilene last week to attend funeral services for Homer Smith, a long time resident of the Lacasa community. Those at the rites were Lee Cantwell, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cantwell, Mr. and Mrs.

"The cruellest crimes that criminals commit are not against the persons they kill, but against those they leave alive."

He spoke now as firmly as he could, counseling the pathetic victim of a two-man feud to steel herself to bravery. It was like asking a rose to be marble.

"Your trust in Paul Moody touches me deeply, my dear child," he murmured. "And this man must have many engaging qualities to have won such love as yours."

"If you could only know how sweet and good he is! And he's a great artist."

"So I've heard. So was Benvenuto Cellini—a great artist and a great criminal. He killed four men and was proud of it. An artist is necessarily an inventor, an impersonator. Even a painter or a sculptor must be something of an actor to succeed, and an excitable, passionate one. I understand that Paul Moody had a very hot temper and your father had done everything he could to hurt the young man's pride, and finally he prevented him not only from marrying you but from winning a big and lucrative commission."

"Yes, but—"

Queripel moved on: "According to the papers you yourself found your father beaten to death with the heavy base of his own telephone."

"That's all too true." She shuddered.

"A girl friend of yours—"

"Nadine Fennell. Yes. She reminded me not to touch anything. She notified the police. A radio car arrived almost at once. Then detectives and a whole flock. One man began to lift the fingerprints he found."

QUERPEL took it from there. "And when he turned in the fingerprints from the scene of the crime they proved to be exact duplicates of the acknowledged fingerprints of this man Moody."

"She nodded helplessly, but without conviction. Queripel pleaded: 'If I were you, I'd be as brave as possible and let justice take its course.' (To Be Continued)

WEST HARTFORD, Conn.—Eight-month-old Cathy Andreak, youngest of the 116,000 stockholders of Packard Motor Car Co., is a contender for the title of "America's Youngest Stockholder." 16, Mission, and Tomas Garza, Jr., into a report that border patrolmen invaded a mission home last week looking for "wetbacks."

Bentsen, here from Washington for the week end, said he talked to Matvos Cavazos of Mission, who made the charges. In asking the investigation Bentsen said: "I know these allegations are contrary to general policy and attitudes of the immigration service, but if there have been departures from the policy certain disciplinary action should be taken."

To Ask Continuance In Murder Trial

AMARILLO, Tex. March 6 (UP)—Attorneys for Donald Gene Young, one of two men charged in the Oct. 6 slaying of Charles Lee Freeman, planned to seek a continuance in his murder trial today.

Attorney George McCarthy said Young's mother was reported critically ill in an Amarillo hospital. Young's co-defendant, former football star Dwight Hoskins, was convicted and sentenced to 35 years in prison. Hoskins allegedly fired the shot that killed Freeman, a cripple, at his service station.

WARMING UP FOR THE COLD WAR—Communist influence in rich and strategic Southeast Asia is definitely on the upsurge, according to a United Press survey. With the area's huge rubber and tin production—sought by Japan in World War II—as its apparent goal, the Soviet is attempting to pull these young, floundering nations into its orbit. Reports indicate that the U. S. expects a major cold war offensive by the Reds in these countries. Secretary of State Dean Acheson has called upon them to link forces in an economic, political and social union to resist the spread of communism, offering the possibility of an Oriental Marshall Plan or Point Four program. Map above indicates the "hot spots."

Aureomycin Used Successfully In Treating Disease

NEW YORK, March 6, (UP)—Aureomycin, the golden-colored drug has scored again in the battle against disease.

This time, the drug has been found to have "definite benefit" in the treatment of infectious mononucleosis, a strange but not uncommon disease.

The new report comes from Dr. Harold A. Lyons and Edward M. Hard, of the U. S. Naval Hospital St. Albans, N. Y., who Young was accused of being with Hoskins at the time of the slaying.

Hoskins, onetime all-state back for the Amarillo Sandies, will face trial March 20 on a charge that he effected a jail break for Edward Lee Rader, a convicted burglar.

Hoskins was accused of gaining keys to free twins Edward Lee and Leo Earl Rader from the Potter county jail by threatening the night jailer with a butcher knife.

Edward Lee Rader, now serving a prison sentence for a grocery burglary, will be returned to testify in Hoskins' trial.

tested the drug on 18 persons. Twenty-five other patients were treated without the drug.

Persons with the communicable disease have a high fever, a sore throat, generally swollen lymph glands. Its a tough disease to beat quickly.

The Naval doctors in a report to the New York Academy of medicine said that in the drug-treated patient group the disease was terminated in less than 30 days in 72 per cent of the cases as compared to 36 per cent in the group not given the drug.

Duration of the hospital stay was comparable in the two groups to the duration of the disease, they reported.

The drug also cut down the high fever usually present. The doctors said with Aureomycin treatment, 40 per cent of the patients returned to normal temperature in 24 hours after treatment was started, and 70 per cent within 72 hours.

Mobile, Ala., was the first Capital Cotton States to establish a public school system.
