

Goodpasture to lay off 36 workers here

Goodpasture, Inc., will shut down production at its Dimmitt plant next Wednesday and lay off 36 employees here.

Plant Manager Owen K. "Pete" Stewart said the shutdown is being forced by a full inventory and a slow market for the plant's two agricultural chemical products — 32% nitrogen-solution fertilizer and Thio-Phite ammonium thiosulfate blend.

The 36 employees to be laid off — 35 next Wednesday and one more later — represent approximately 75% of the payroll at the local plant. Nine production employees, including salaried foremen, management personnel and the plant's secretary-dispatcher, will continue on the job, Stewart said.

Although the length of the shutdown is indefinite, Stewart said, "we're anticipating at this time that it will be six months, more or less."

"At this time, our plans are to start back up when the market situation justifies it," Stewart added.

The plant shutdown is a chain reaction to the continued depression in the farm economy, during which belt-tightening farmers have had to cut back on their use of agricultural chemicals, and to the reduction in planted acreage this year under the federal government's Payment in Kind (PIK) Program.

The local plant almost reached the shutdown stage in February when it filled all its storage facilities, Stewart said, but the shutdown was averted — or at least postponed — when fertilizer season started and sales picked up.

Goodpasture wholesales the products from its Dimmitt plant to independent dealers within a 150-mile radius of here, with storage depots at Dimmitt, Dalhart and Brownfield.

The Dimmitt plant abandoned its in-house retail store in March, and now sells only to local dealers through its factory sales representative.

This is the first time that full storage tanks have forced a layoff at the local plant since Goodpasture bought the facility from the Elcor Chemical Corp. in 1970. And it's only the second time Goodpasture has had to lay off a significant number of workers here, Stewart said.

"Back in March 1978, we had to shut down one ammonia plant (of two at the site) permanently and lay off about 20 people," he explained. "At that time, we were in the ammonia market, and production costs began to exceed the sale price we received for the ammonia, so we had to take ourselves out of the ammonia market."

Employment at the Dimmitt plant reached a peak of 63 before the 1978 cutback, and has been stable at approximately 45 for the past five years. Goodpasture is noted for having one of the highest wage scales of industries in the region.

There is no shortage of column material. Any number of events that have occurred recently should be analyzed and clarified for the benefit of the reading public. One of the justifications for the existence of newspapers is for the columnists to explain the cause and results of current events of local, national and world scope. For a columnist to fail in his responsibility and duty in the matter mentioned above, leaves his readers groping in the dark for answers of many important questions. A good conscientious columnist would never be guilty of letting his readers down.

On the other hand a columnist is, in some respects, like people. They usually have a daily routine. The first routine is usually created by a timepiece that makes a noise at 6 a.m. A smart columnist won't have the clock placed where he can reach it without getting out of bed, that would defeat the purpose of the whole bit. But after turning the thing off it is highly permissible to take the three steps necessary to get in position to sit on the edge of the bed. That probably is the most enjoyable 30 minutes of the lovely summer day. Just sitting there with no pressing decisions to make, no noise other than the ringing in your ears... Of course there is a miniature battle going on in your mind between the urge to lie back down and the burning desire to get the day's work started. A decision like that doesn't come quickly, it takes time.

Any neat housekeeper knows that a bed should be straightened up after it has been slept in all night. That's a must. That is it is a must ever since Jack Cartwright told me that he always makes his bed up first thing every morning before leaving the bedroom. I wish people wouldn't tell me how they do things. On the rare occasions when I start to leave the room without making up my bed, I remember the rash claims Jack makes about his bed making. Just for my own peace of mind I go back, pick up the sheet and put it on top of the bed. It does look neater that way.

My biggest problem of the day, I think, is putting my socks on. I don't have any trouble getting my left sock on. Fact of the matter is, I start on the left for everything. I don't only put my left sock on first, I occupy the left leg of my pants first, I slip my left arm into my shirt first, that is into the left sleeve of my shirt, I put my left shoe on first. Whatever I do for myself, I pamper my left side, it always gets the first attention. I hope my right side doesn't feel left out. After resting, and thinking, for awhile I manage to put on my right sock.

It's just like I said to begin with, a columnist has responsibilities when it comes to illuminating people's minds about local, national and world affairs. I will try to discuss some other subjects in a later column.

'Hart Days' will begin Friday

DRIVE IN?—The newly remodeled El Sombrero Restaurant, owned by Floyd and Mary Lopez, almost became a drive-in the hard way Tuesday evening. Tim Givens was heading south on Highway 385 when his trailer came unhitched as he hit a dip. The trailer, carrying a tractor, plowed into the El Sombrero sign and narrowly missed the building. Givens said he wasn't aware that his trailer had gotten unhitched until a witness honked at him and he heard the trailer hit.

Gas price goes down; PIGUA keeps pushing

Directors of the Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association learned at their board meeting in Plainview last Thursday night that the price of natural gas will drop by almost 10 cents per 1,000 cubic feet (mcf) with the August billing — not just for irrigation-gas customers but for business and residential customers, too.

PIGUA Board Member Carl King of Dimmitt said he had been notified of the coming price drop by Harry Neal, vice-president of Energas.

"He called me and told me he wanted us to know that, starting with their Aug. 1 billing, they were adjusting the price downward on all natural gas by 9.96 cents per mcf in the West Texas system, as a result of lower well-head costs," King said.

"We feel like this is a step in the right direction," King added. "To my knowledge, it's the biggest decrease in price that we've had during an irrigation season."

They're hoping to convince Gov. White to let Sen. Bill Sarpalius reintroduce his bill which would bring irrigation gas prices under the regulation of the Texas Railroad Commission.

King said he feels PIGUA's active support of Sarpalius' bill was at least partially responsible for the Energas price cut — "that, and the fact that we've got natural gas running out our ears, and the fact that the number of irrigation wells supplied by Energas has dropped by 10,000 — these are all factors," King said.

King estimated the reduction will mean a saving of about $50 a month per well for the average irrigation farmer in this area.

McLains named Honored Pioneers

John and Jewell McLain will be the Honored Pioneers for the Hart Days celebration Friday and Saturday.

The McLains, chosen for their community support and longtime residence in Hart, will ride in the parade Saturday morning on a float prepared especially for them. They will also be presented with a plaque.

Almost a lifetime resident of Hart, McLain came to the town with his parents when he was five months old. He was born Oct. 30, 1903, in Oklahoma. His parents were John C. and Daisy McLain.

Mrs. McLain was born July 17, 1907, in Seymour.

She moved to Hart with her sister and her parents, Emanuel and Janie Wallace, in 1923.

Married Jan. 10, 1925, the McLains moved into a two-room house seven miles west of Hart, where they farmed and engaged in livestock operations until December 1947. McLain then worked at Farmers Grain Co. until he retired April 2, 1966.

On June 8, 1953, Mrs. McLain began work as a US Postal Service window clerk. She worked with the Postal Service for more than 18 years until her retirement in 1971.

The McLains now live on North Broadway in Hart where they moved in 1964.

Summer reading program continues

Rhoads Memorial Library is continuing its annual summer reading program through the middle of August. The theme of the program is "Lasso a Good Book."

This year's program, which started in June, has more than 70 area children participating. The program is primarily a reading contest; however, other activities are conducted also.

During the reading program, readers earn points for what type of books they read. Readers that have earned 100 points or more are John Waggoner, Susan Waggoner, Diane Peralez, Adolph Salazar, Bell Salazar and running close to 100 is Wendy Trayler. Diane Peralez is leading the pack with the 310 points.

During June, the library participated in the Texas Panhandle Library System's bookmark contest. The system, which consists of 22 member libraries around the Panhandle, conducts a book-mark contest every summer. Winners are selected from each library.

This year's winners from Castro County are Diane Peralez and Jennifer Hanners. They will have their bookmarks printed and distributed at the Tri-State Fair. They will also receive a cash prize from the library.

Other activities at the library include films every other Friday at 3 p.m. and puzzles and games to solve for prizes on Tuesdays.

Pevehouse deployed overseas CB Club hosts dance

Marine Cpl. Charles W. Pevehouse, son of Nathan and Ann Pevehouse of Dimmitt, has departed on a deployment from Camp Lejeune, N.C.

Pevehouse is a member of 3rd Battalion, 6th Marines.

The unit will spend six months overseas as a part of the Marine Corps' unit deployment program. The concept is designed to rotate whole battalions or squadrons at a time, instead of individuals at separate intervals. In this way, unit integrity is retained and the actual time spent overseas is shortened.

During the deployment, the command will conduct training exercises with the US 7th Fleet and units of allied nations.

The Castro County Lucky 7 CB Club will sponsor a western dance Aug. 6 at the Dimmitt Rodeo Grounds from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Music will be provided by the Little Bit of Texas band from Lubbock. All proceeds will go to the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Admission is $3 per person or $5 per couple.

PIK program, a look ahead to the 1984 farm program, and a producer's experience with HVI classing will also be featured plus research updates on hybrid cottons, Pima developments and breeding Acalas for stripper harvesting.

The afternoon sessions that day will be devoted to discussions on experimental row spacings and harvesting techniques. Research data comparing quality and yield differences with spindle pickers and strippers in California will be presented. Results of field demonstrations comparing strippers and pickers in Oklahoma will follow.

Field cleaners for cotton strippers and the equipment and procedures required to do a good job of ginning stripped cotton also will be discussed. A successful New Mexico producer will tell why he changed to stripper cotton, and a well-known California producer will relate his experiences with a modified 30-inch row spindle picker.

Topics the next day will deal with irrigation, including drip irrigation in Arizona and California, potential problems with drip irrigation, irrigation scheduling techniques, and new irrigation systems for water and energy conservation.

Other discussions will focus on western cotton pests, including boll weevils in the West, early season insect control, Texas root rot and controlling problem weeds.

An optional tour of cotton breeding research facilities, the Southwestern Cotton Ginning Research Laboratory and other local points of agricultural interests will be featured during the final day of the conference.

Havoc Rodenticide

HAVOC rodenticide is a totally new product for rodent control. HAVOC combines the best features of the acute and anticoagulant rodenticides. When used according to directions, HAVOC kills mice and rats in a single feeding like the acute poisons, but death from internal bleeding does not occur until the fourth or fifth day, like the anticoagulants. The delayed killing action of HAVOC eliminates the problem of rodents associating death with the bait.

The active ingredient in HAVOC is brodifacoum in a 50-ppm concentration, combined with grains in a highly palatable formulation that rodents prefer to most other food. HAVOC is available in convenient bait packs in two pellet sizes for both mice and rats.

Gospel group Upland cotton placed to perform under loan for PIK

The Voice of Praise, a gospel singing group from Plainview will perform in a 30-minute program Sunday at 7 p.m., at Lee Street Baptist Church.

The group, led by Denys Sanders, includes his wife Jolene, Jeff and Susan Moore, Murlyn Keller, Janie Morgan, Richard Stanley and Tamara Elam. Susan Moore serves as pianist.

They will be performing a blend of traditional hymns mixed with contemporary praise songs. There is no charge, and the public is invited to attend. Anyone interested in booking the group may contact Mike Samford, 618 NW Sixth St., Dimmitt.

Cotton farmers who do not have enough upland cotton under loan to cover the amount they will receive under the payment-in-kind program will be required to obtain loans on their 1983 production, Charley E. Hill, County Executive Director, said.

Farmers who do not harvest upland cotton in 1983, or those who do not harvest enough to satisfy their PIK entitlement will instead receive cotton from government stocks.

Hill said cotton producers may place their 1983 crop in an approved warehouse and receive a regular price support loan for the cotton. Beginning on October 15, storage payments will be made for up to five months.

"Any time during these five months, the farmer may redeem the loan and sell the crop to the Commodity Credit Corporation," said Hill. The farmer is then eligible for immediate payment-in-kind.

Castro County farmers participating in the program need about 20,000 bales of their 1983 cotton crop to use as collateral which can be redeemed and sold to the CCC for PIK purposes. About 1500 bales will come from CCC stocks.

Under the program, farmers receive an amount of commodity as payment for reducing their plantings to specified levels. Farmers who signed up for PIK agreed that they would obtain a loan on their 1983 production if necessary to satisfy program needs. "We are exercising this option to assure that sufficient quantities of upland cotton will be available to meet PIK needs," said the ASCS official.

Further program details may be obtained from the local ASCS office.

Employers tax deadline draws near

August 1 is the date by which employers must report on Form 941 social security and withheld federal income taxes for the second quarter of 1983 and pay any taxes due, the Internal Revenue Service says. If the quarterly liability (less any deposit during the quarter) is $500 or more, the unpaid balance must be deposited.

This deadline does not apply to employers who make timely deposits of the full amount of tax due in Federal Reserve or approved commercial banks. They are allowed until Aug. 10 to file Form 941, "Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return."

Employers who have not received a Form 941 by mail can order one through the Forms-Tax Information number listed in the telephone book under U.S. Government. IRS Publication 15, Circular E—Employer's Tax Guide, is also available by telephone.

Tax extensions due by Aug. 15

Taxpayers who asked for an automatic extension of time to file their 1982 federal income tax return must file the complete return and pay the remaining tax due by midnight August 15, the Internal Revenue Service says.

For additional information regarding the filing date extension, taxpayers may call the IRS Forms-Tax Information number listed in the local telephone directory under U.S. Government.

Glass named top freshman

Area FFA'ers Woody Glass of Dimmitt, and Joel Birkenfeld of Nazareth won top honors at the recent Texas 55th Annual State Convention for Future Farmers of America. Thirteen area students attended the convention in San Antonio.

Glass was named Star Greenhand. Star Greenhand is awarded to the top first year Vocational Agriculture student.

The selection process starts in the spring with each chapter submitting the name of one student to the district organization. Each district winner is then submitted to the area organization. The ten area winners are then invited to Austin in June where the final selection is made. Each step of the selection process requires a complete review of the students records, a detailed application and an in-depth interview.

Glass, selected for his well-rounded involvement in the Vocational Agriculture Program, received the award out of more than 1,400 chapters, 170 districts and 10 areas in the statewide FFA organization.

Glass is the second student from Dimmitt to receive the honor in the last three years. Kennen Howell won the honor in 1980-1981.

Birkenfeld won first place in proficiency in Soil and Water Management.

Kennen Howell, Dimmitt chapter president, served on the Courtesy Corps during the three-day convention. At the convention, Howell received the Lone Star Farmer Degree, which is the highest degree a FFA member can receive at the state level.

Six Nazareth FFA members received the Lone Star Farmer Degree. They were Allen mauer,

APPEARANCE IN HIRING

Recent research shows that the more contact with clients is required by a job, the more emphasis is placed on appearance in the hiring decision, says Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "A study of hiring agents shows they judge appearance primarily by neatness, ornamentation or jewelry, and the design, cut and color of clothing," says Brown. Both employers and employees emphasize that appearance is only one factor in the hiring decision. But clothing and appearance is one thing that the job applicant has control over in the hiring situation, notes Brown.

THE American Cancer Society estimates that the average pack-a-day smoker costs a company $625 to $759 per year in expenses related to increased absenteeism rates, greater health care needs and higher accident rates than non-smokers.

The Young Farmers' regular business meeting will follow the program.

Wales named to honor group

Timothy Michel Wales of Dimmitt is among 235 Texas A&M University students inducted into the freshman honor society, Phi Eta Sigma, for the spring semester.

Wales, an agronomy major, was named to the prestigious group for maintaining a 3.5 or better grade point average during his first year of university work.

Game Tuesday night in Fort Worth.

Cleveland played on the second platoon of the North All-Stars, coached by Frank Bice of Andrews, and provided the court leadership in the second quarter to spark the North to a 45-44 halftime lead.

After seeing four minutes of action in the 10-minute opening period, Cleveland played almost the entire second quarter, scoring six of his points and getting three assists and two steals during the second.

However, the South All-Stars won the game, 91-86, for the third year in a row to even the North-South series record at 19-19.

"Of course, I wish we would have won," the 5-11 Cleveland told reporters after the game. "But I think I did all right. I guess I'm kind of pleased."

This was the second major post-season all-star game for Cleveland — an unusual feat for any high school player. He played earlier this summer in the Texas Association of Basketball Coaches' all-star game in Waco, and was named the Most Valuable Player.

Cleveland finished the game as the fourth highest scorer on the North squad, behind three who finished in double figures. Chosen as Most Valuable Player for the North was Pampa's Mike Nelson, a 6-3 forward who led the North with 21 points.

CHARLES the Fat was a Saxon King. The Saxons inhabited modern day Germany.

afternoon we went back to the Astrolab to hear Kelley play his trombone in the Governor General's Foot-guard Band. They honored us by playing "The Yellow Rose of Texas," and dedicated it to my sister, Kelley's mother. Before the concert we ate Beaver's Tails — this is a large piece of dough shaped like a beaver's tail and fried. The girls had sugar and cinnamon sprinkled on theirs but I had cream cheese and chives on mine.

We ate at The Mill one night. This is an old two-story mill that has been redecorated and is now a beautiful restaurant. It is situated alongside the rushing Chaudiere Falls on the historic Ottawa River and it serves as a fond reminder of the original grist and saw mill built in 1840.

We visited with a family from Turkey. The mother was gathering large grape leaves to wrap around a meat dish to be cooked and the grandmother was frantically trying to keep the three grandchildren from falling into the Ottawa River. One day as we were riding the bus we visited with a family from Pakistan, but they are living in New Brunswick now and the husband is a chemist in the hospital in Quebec. The day we took the boat ride on the Ottawa River we visited with a family from Holland.

We saw a birds eye view of the huge new Rideau Centre Mall. We went to several art museums, an open air fruit, vegetable, and flower market. If we had stayed much longer, Oleta would have come home speaking French.

The Murdocks had a busy weekend. They went to Amarillo to watch Debbie play ball in a tournament and they won. Wanda's mother, Mrs. W. H. Felder, from Hart went along to watch her granddaughter play.

We always enjoy hearing from our two summer exchange students, who are in Europe this summer.

Cara Higgs will return Aug. 27 after two months in Germany. She begins school there Aug. 1. Recently she has visited Paris and Berlin.

One of Cara's best surprises has been a telephone call from Swansea, South Wales. Mrs. Megan Thomas, a pen pal friend for seven or eight years, called to tell her that she was coming to Germany to meet her American friend. Years ago, when Cara's family lived in East Texas, she became acquainted with her Welsh friend in an unusual way.

A close friend of the Higgs' purchased an oak sideboard from an antique dealer, who had just returned from a Great Britain buying trip. When the buffet was being cleaned up, some personal mail and photographs were found inside. Cara was asked to return this by mail and enclose an explanation, since she enjoyed corresponding with people of other countries.

Mrs. Thomas immediately returned a letter of thanks, and expressed a desire to continue corresponding.

A close relationship has developed between the Welsh Thomas Family and the Texas Higgs Family, as they have exchanged stamps, postcards and souvenirs.

Now Cara will be able to meet her pen-pal in person because of her A.F.S. experience.

Kyla Boozer is having a good time in Italy this summer even though her Italian brother was injured in a motorcycle accident, and was hospitalized for 10 days. Last week Kyla's parents, Monty and Sue Boozer, received a special message via Nancy Ross. The Rosses knew some folks in Amarillo who were hosting a gentleman from Italy.

Years ago, Ruberto was an exchange student and lived in Amarillo. When he heard that a summer student was coming to Italy from Dimmitt, he greeted her at the airport, and later shared his experience while in Amarillo.

On their first night in New Jersey, Carol-Lee's parents, Harry and Doris exchange student, Owen Viles this week. Owen is to arrive in Amarillo July 28 from New Zealand. He is 17 and active in scouting, sports and music.

Mrs. Milton (Sandra) Bagwell has returned home after July 22 surgery at Nichols Hospital in Plainview.

Edward and Bernice McCormick from Paris, Texas visited his aunt Beral Hance. Other visitors with the McCormicks were Dan and Oma Dee Heard and Danny. Ron Hance and his grandmother Beral Hance went to Panhandle on Sunday to visit Beth and Jack Hodges. Their daughter Keri Hodges was home for the weekend from Oklahoma City. She is a federal bank examiner there.

The Don Nelson family had a memorable vacation during their trip to New Jersey for the recent wedding of their son and brother, David, and Carol-Lee Syvertsen.

Accompanied by Verbie's mother, Vadabel Oldham of Lubbock, they were joined at the Dallas-Fort Worth airport by Connie and Larry Nelson-Daniel. David met them in Washington, D.C., and guided them on a three-day tour that included the Capitol, the Smithsonian Institution, Library of Congress, Lincoln Memorial, Washington Monument, George Washington University, the House of Representatives, the Vietnam Memorial (where Don found the name of a former classmate, Gene Easley), and an evening in Georgetown.

Congressman Kent Hance hosted them at lunch in the House of Representatives Dining Room on Verbie's birthday.

Driving from Washington to New Jersey, they went through the Pennsylvania Dutch country and stopped at Gettysburg, where they toured the battlefield and saw the campus of Gettysburg College, which Carol-Lee attended.

IT'S estimated that 75 percent of Americans know their astrological sign.

Syvertsen, hosted them at dinner. In nearby Clinton, they stayed in a renovated 145-year-old farmhouse.

They spent a day in New York City, where all the kids took the seven-hour Gray Line tour that included the Statue of Liberty, Wall Street, the World Trade Center, Harlem, the Bronx, Central Park, Skid Row, Broadway and other sights. Don and Verbie spent the day in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Afterwards, they all had Reubens and cheesecake at the Carnegie Deli on Seventh Avenue. David said it was his second, and last, time to drive in New York City.

The next day they went to the beach and boardwalk at Beach Island State Park, where Nathan learned how to ride the breakers and Don learned the hard way that you have to put sunscreen lotion ALL OVER.

They spent Friday the 15th getting ready for the wedding, and that night Don and Verbie hosted the rehearsal dinner. On the 16th, David and Carol-Lee were married in the 96-year-old United Methodist Church of Flemington with Connie and Larry officiating at the ceremony. Afterward, there was a big reception dinner-dance at the nearby Beaver Brook Country Club.

The "traveling trophy" at the wedding was won by Stephan Thoreson and Disa Ogustochter of Iceland, who were in France with David as AFS exchange students in 1980.

Both now work for Icelander Airlines, and scheduled a New York flight with two free days so they could attend the wedding.

For Nathan, the highlights of the trip were the day at the beach and the liveliness and food in a kosher deli in NYC. For Don and Verbie, the most memorable part was seeing two of their kids perform the wedding for two of their others.

Cattle situation remains stable

Despite poor returns in the cattle market, most cattlemen have not reduced their herds sharply from a year ago. And a little real change is expected over the next year or so, says an economist in livestock marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Cattlemen are neither expanding nor contracting their operations, so there should be little change in beef supplies during the next couple of years. Lower interest and inflation rates along with reduced availability of beef due to the growing population should push cattle prices somewhat higher in 1983.

Brooks-Dudley vows are read

Sheila Ann Brooks and Rickie Lynn Dudley, both of Odessa, exchanged wedding vows Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Hart with Elder Vernon Venable of Clovis, N.M., great-uncle of the bride, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks of Hart. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dudley of Lockney and Gail Johnson of Amarillo. Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Weldon Davis, organist, and Jennifer Davis, pianist. Soloist Leslie Davis sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Twelfth of Never."

Guests were registered in the church foyer by Susan Thames of Midland. The registry table was set with the bride's book, a red feather pen and a miniature of the bride and groom on a marble and brass pedestal.

The altar area featured a brass arch entwined with greenery and decorated with large white bows flanked by a seven-branch candelabra on each side adorned with white bows and streamers. On each side of the altar rail were arrangements of lemon leaf ivy and glass globes with red candles.

Pew markers were large red bows tied with white silk flowers. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin with an overlay of organza. The fitted bodice of satin and Alencon lace was appliqued with seed pearls, and sequins accented the yoke of Alencon lace and point d'esprit. The high neckline featured pleated ruffled trim. Long fitted lace sleeves had matching pleated ruffle trim. On the skirt were strips of Alencon lace and ruffle pleated trim cascading to a chapel-length train. She wore a fingertip-length veil of illusion.

The bride carried a bouquet of white silk and red rosebuds, baby's breath and white streamers. In her bouquet she tucked a silk handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother, Evie Welty. She also followed tradition and used her maternal grandmother's wedding ring as something old. Something borrowed was the handkerchief, something new was her wedding dress, and something blue was her garter, made by her mother. She had pennies in her shoes coined in the years in which she and the groom were born.

Maid of honor was Clenda Wilson of Lubbock, cousin of the bride. Bridesmaids were Cindy Brooks of Canyon and Ronda Brooks, sisters of the bride. The attendants wore street-length sundresses of red and white dotted swiss, accented with straps tied in bows at the shoulders. Each dress was styled with a blouson bodice and flounced ruffle hem featuring a wide sash in a bow at the back. Each bridal attendant wore a ruby necklace, a gift from the bride, and carried a long-stemmed red rose tied with white ribbon streamers.

Flower girls were Amy Shofner of Lamesa and Rachel Wall, cousins of the bride. They wore red and white dotted Swiss dresses styled as pinafores with shoulder ties and a large ruffle at the hem. Each carried a white wicker basket filled with red silk flowers and tied with red and white bows and ribbon roses on the handle. They had red and white ribbon barrettes with ribbon streamers in their hair.

Candlelighters were Robin Brooks, sister of the bride, and Melinda Wilson, cousin of the bride. They wore dresses identical to the bridesmaids' and each wore a red silk-rose wrist corsage.

Herbert Dudley, father of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Richard Smotherman of Amarillo and Jerry Thames of Midland. Serving as ushers were Billy Shofner of Lamesa, uncle of the bride, and Kenny Venable of Olton, cousin of the bride. Leland Venable of Olton, cousin of the bride, was the ring bearer. He carried a white satin and lace ring-pillow made by the bride's mother. The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with tails and a lapel boutonniere of white silk roses. Groomsmen wore gray tuxedos with white shirts and red silk rose boutonnieres.

A reception honoring the couple was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth with lace flounce, and appointed with silver and crystal. Centering the table was a large colonial candle-octagon lamp, flanked by the flower girls' baskets and the bride's bouquet. The three-tiered chocolate wedding cake with white icing featured a stairway filled with red flowers spiraling to the top, which had a Precious Moments bride and groom figurine. Mrs. Roger Noble of Lubbock and Buni Zabielski of Roaring Springs presided at the table.

Coffee was served from a silver service on a round table covered with a red linen cloth. Centering the table were crystal tulip candleholders with red candles encircled with a red and white silk flower ring at the base. Mrs. Neoma Wall, aung of the bride, served at the table.

Net bags with bird seed were distributed by Robin Brooks, sister of the bride. Members of the house party were Edna Kittrell, Betty King, Greta Davis and Lawanda Wilson.

Special guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Venable of Olton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brooks, grandparents of the bride, and Mrs. Virginia Dudley of Turkey, grandmother of the groom.

Energas officials explained that the base rate for gas has not changed, and that the price reduction is in the "pass-through charge" reflecting lower well-head costs, and that the pass-through can fluctuate from month to month.

"I hope this (price reduction) signals a downward trend in the cost of gas that will continue," King said.

Dimco donates potatoes

Dimco Industries Inc. recently donated more than 6,000 pounds of potatoes to the High Plains Food Bank in Amarillo.

The food bank is not the first charitable organization to which Dimco has donated food, Manager Alan McClure explained. "We have donated food to various boys' ranches and girls' towns every year since I have been here," McClure said. "We are tickled to death to do it."

Dimco donates potatoes that are smaller than those used commercially or with digger cuts. However, the potatoes are still quality food, McClure said.

IN 1982 each American consumed 11 pounds of turkey and 49.5 pounds of broilers.

Police calls

Four juveniles were arrested Friday in connection with the burglary of a house owned by Adolfo Coronado at 402 NE Seventh. Coronado is in North Dakota for the summer.

The burglary was discovered by Jean Boyd and reported to city police by Maria Montejono. Both women are neighbors of Coronado.

Police officers found the youths and recovered a can of blue paint, two pairs of socks, a brown bicycle seat, a white whip antenna, a socket set, a reflector, four bicycle rims and six bicycle tires.

The youths were released to their parents.

Jackie Davis of Clovis reported the burglary of his house in Dimmitt located at 403 NW Sixth. The burglary occurred sometime between July 10 and July 24.

The burglar entered by prying open a door in the garage with a steel bar, officers said.

Items taken included a Coleman stove and lantern, a Remington .22 caliber pump rifle, a set of RCBS reloading scales, a box of primer reloads, a full-length rabbit-fur coat, a blue goose-down coat and a 19-inch portable color television.

Ten people were arrested and charged with various crimes during the week, including public intoxication (six), driving while intoxicated (two), disorderly conduct (three), assault, assaulting a peace officer, resisting arrest (two), possession of marijuana and driving without a license.

Four of the 10 were arrested in connection with a fight Sunday night. One of the four, Jimmy Reyes, was charged with public intoxication, assaulting a peace officer and resisting arrest.

Local officers picked up Martin Cardenas of Dimmitt Saturday for a Zavala County warrant for contempt of court.

County agents plan meeting

Discussions aimed at professional improvements will be among highlights of the annual meeting of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association in Wichita Falls Aug. 7-10.

The annual event, to be held at the Kiva Inn, should attract some 400 county agents with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says Johnny Cates, TCAA president and Wood County agent. Program theme is "TCAA Western Heritage and Growth."

Among featured speakers during the four-day program will be Dr. Perry Adkisson, deputy chancellor for the Texas A&M University System; Dr. Zerle Panshin, assistant administrator of the Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Also addressing the meeting will be Carl Cox, Natural Fibers and Food Protein Commission; Bill Nelson, Texas Wheat Producers Association; Phil Burnett, Cotton Board; and Tom Benson, Federal Land Bank.

In addition, a special program will be presented on the Waggoner Estate, and representatives of Texas' major livestock shows will discuss plans for the coming year.

Tours the afternoon of Aug. 8 will include the Moran Rig Manufacturing Co., Pittsburg Plate and Glass, Hoff Dairy, Shepard Air Force Base, Dick Gaines Horse Farm and Lone Star Hereford Ranch.

Seven outstanding Texans will each be honored as a "Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture" at a banquet Aug. 9. They are Bennie Claunch, Bailey County farmer and cotton ginner; Bob Traweck, Dublin dairyman and peanut producer; James A. Theeck, Washington County rancher; Lucas Reyes, field crops research scientist with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Corpus Christi; William A. "Bill" Porter, Terrell farmer and businessman; State Rep. Larry Don Shaw of Big Spring; and Charlie Rankin, farm broadcaster at Edinburg.

The preceding day eight outstanding county agents will be honored as recipients of the Distinguished Service Award, the highest award given by the National Association of County Agricultural Agents. The agents are Robert D. Adamson, Hartley County; Gordon L. Ford, Hopkins; William L. Schumann, Comal; Johnnie Cooper, Fort Bend; Glenn Huddleston, Anderson; Sam Kuykendall, Menard; Richard Spencer, Fisher; and Ronald Gooch, Donley.

In addition, Robert K. Lyons, Lampasas County, will be honored as the recipient of the National Achievement Award, designating him as the top county agent in Texas with less than 10 years of service.

A reception for "Man of the Year" award winners and recipients of the Distinguished Service Award and Achievement Award will precede the Tuesday evening banquet.

A host of special awards will be presented at the Tuesday noon luncheon. Special recognition will be given to county agents for excellence in result demonstration handbooks, public information and several other program areas.

The program will conclude Wednesday morning, Aug. 10, with a business session, committee reports and the installation of new officers and directors.

Aldermen ratify study of telephone rate hike

City Aldermen voted to join in the study of the proposed rate increases of Continental Telephone Co. at their meeting Thursday.

The regular aldermen's meeting, scheduled for July 18 was postponed because of the absence of Mayor R. L. Fleming and City Manager Paul Catoe.

Fleming and Catoe had been in Austin for meetings regarding the proposed rate increase.

By voting to study the increase, Dimmitt will join other cities and towns, such as Dumas and Tulia, to hire people to do the study to determine if the increase is justified.

The Texas Municipal League is organizing the study. Bill McMorries will head up the research group with the aid of an economist; an accountant, possibly Wayne Brown of Pampa; and an attorney, Don Butler of the TML in Austin.

Cost for the study will be $40 per capita, resulting in a cost for Dimmitt of $2,007.60. The total cost, which will be divided among participating cities, will be between $25,000 and $30,000.

The proposed rate increase will raise the monthly service charge for a one-party residence from $7.60 to $11.50. The service charge for a one-party business phone will be raised from $18.25 to $27.60 a month.

Discussion at the aldermen's meeting centered around the topic of whether a possible reduction in the proposed rate hike would justify the expenditure for the study.

"I am not for the raise and not against fighting," Alderman David Hays said, "but it seems inevitable that we will have a telephone rate increase."

Imposters reported posing as 'gas men'

Two men identifying themselves as Energas representatives reportedly have been going door-to-door here to "inspect gas appliances."

The men are not representatives of Energas, Dimmitt Manager Bob Caddell said.

Police officers picked up two men matching the description of the Energas impostors, who were distributing pamphlets for Kirby vacuum cleaners, Police Chief Don Franklin said.

The men were informed that they had to have a permit to distribute the items door-to-door within the city limits. The men denied having identified themselves with Energas.

"If we can reduce the increase slightly, the cost of the study would be money well spent," Alderman Wayne Collins said.

The Continental service areas affected by the rate increase include approximately 175 cities and towns. Andrews, Pecos and Nassau Bay are expected to join in the study also.

The proposed increases are scheduled to go into effect Aug. 4.

Police officers informed the men that they would have to submit an application for a permit to continue to distribute the pamphlets, or else they would have to leave town, Franklin said.

No application was submitted and the men have not been seen in the area since that time, Franklin reported.

Energas employees are identified by their blue uniforms with the Energas insignia and their vehicles with the Energas identification on the side.

"Under no condition should a customer allow anyone into their house without seeing an Energas vehicle or uniform or without knowing the party performing the service," Caddell said.

"We have not hired anyone outside Energas to do any surveys. No one represents Energas except Energas employees."

Should there be any doubt as to the identity of a representative, residents are urged to call Caddell, the Energas office or the Dimmitt Police Dept.

Commissioners buy $5 million coverage

County commissioners voted Monday to buy $5 million in personal liability insurance.

The insurance, which will cover all elected and appointed officials, will cost the county $4,497.74 and will last three years. The county's insurance agent is Keith Lowe.

Commissioners requested that the insurance become retroactive back to April 14 so that all the county insurance bills would come due on the same date.

They also voted to include several items that were left out of the original insurance package.

The commissioners had the opportunity to buy $1 million of insurance for $2,570, or $951 annually for three years, but opted to take the $5 million coverage instead.

Extension Agent Charles Hotel announced to the commissioners his plans to retire Aug. 31. Hotel has been with the county for 25 years.

Commissioners approved payment of $100 for pest control at the Castro Memorial Gardens, and the expenditure for Precinct 4 (Nazareth) of $2,383.25 to West Texas Gas Co. for a bill.

The county governing board learned that money will soon be available to pave several FM roads. The exact amount of money or what roads will be paved is not yet known.

Buck Garrett of Otis Elevator Co. discussed with commissioners repairs needed for the courthouse elevator and proposed a maintenance agreement.

The commissioners decided to call Dover Elevators in Amarillo for a service call, to see which would be a better deal for the county.

Fall gardening time at hand

Although there is still plenty of hot weather ahead, it's time to start getting things in shape for your fall vegetable garden.

Much of Texas is well suited for year-round gardening, and fall vegetables generally have better quality and flavor than those grown in the spring, says Dr. Sam Cotner, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Many popular warm-season vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, pole beans, potatoes, okra, cucumbers and squash can be planted during the coming weeks.

Also, the so-called "winter" vegetables such as broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, greens, parsley and carrots can be planted now for early harvesting. Later plantings of these cold-hardy crops will supply fresh vegetables well into winter.

What are some of the important aspects of fall gardening?

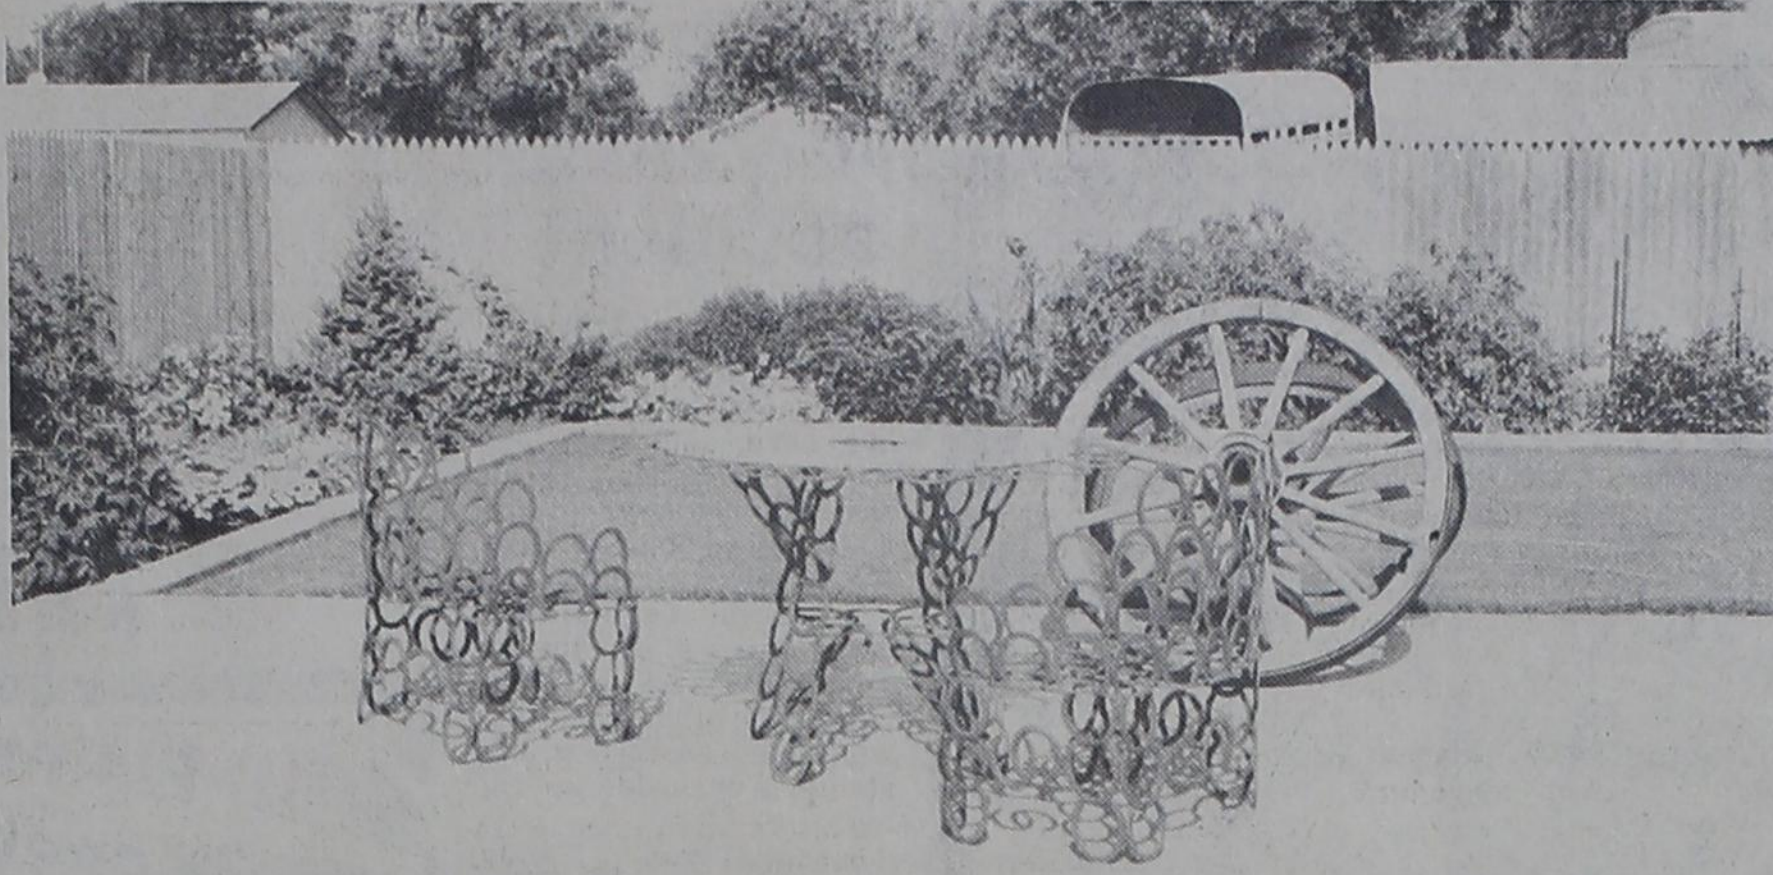

First of all, get the land into good shape, suggests Cotner. If you had a garden this spring and fertilizer was applied, little if any additional fertilizer will be needed before fall planting.

For new gardens, apply two to three pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 per 100 square feet and work it into the soil, recommends the horticulturist. If plants make slow growth, apply a light amount of fertilizer between rows and water it into the soil.

Adequate water is vital for a successful fall garden, particularly for seed germination and early plant growth. Cotner suggests "pre-irrigation" before planting followed by subsequent, light waterings three or four times a week to keep soil from drying and crusting. Water stress during early growth of plants can reduce later yields.

Transplanting is a good practice in the fall since this allows seed to be started in areas sheltered from high temperatures and drying winds. Check at garden centers for recommended varieties of vegetables and strong, vigorous, healthy plants. Or you may want to grow your own transplants, notes the horticulturist.

COUPONS — A BARGAIN?

"Cents-off coupons for use in food markets are a form of advertising and not necessarily a bargain for consumers," says Mary Clayton, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Using coupons may not be the best answer to high food prices for many families, since coupons are primarily issued for storable brand-name items rather than less processed, perishable products. If consumers want to reduce food costs, they should compare the cost of brand-name products with cents-off coupons, to generic or house brands which may still be less expensive. Consumers should also try to prepare more dishes from "scratch." This will generally result in lower costs than processed, prepared food items even with coupon reductions, says the specialist.

Girl hurt in boat accident

Seven-year-old Wendy Traylor of Dimmitt received serious injuries to her head and both legs Sunday afternoon when she was run over in the water by a boat at Lake Mackenzie, near Silverton.

She is in the intensive care unit of Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, where her condition was listed as serious but stable Wednesday morning.

A second grader, Wendy is the daughter of Michael and Linda Traylor.

Mrs. Traylor said Wendy had been riding a surfing board behind the family boat when the mishap occurred. She had let go of the tow-rope and was waiting in the water while her father circled the boat to pick her up, when another boat ran over her in the water, Mrs. Traylor said.

Wendy sustained a broken leg, severe cuts to the other leg, and a gash on her head. She was taken directly from the lake to Northwest Texas Hospital's emergency entrance.

She is now in traction, and is expected to be hospitalized four to six weeks, her mother said. She is in Room 500 at the hospital.

Texas homeowners can now select a new, semi-dwarf variety of St. Augustine grass for their lawns. The variety is called "Seville," a patented St. Augustine grass produced by Pursley Turf Farms of Palmetto, Fla. Seville is resistant to St. Augustine Decline virus, moderately shade tolerant, medium textured and as cold tolerant as other St. Augustine varieties, says a turfgrass specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. However, it is susceptible to chinch bugs, is more subject to heavy thatch accumulation, and is more susceptible to Downy mildew.

Ortega wins scholarship
