

Baby Joins 33 Who Die In Chicago

By Charles H. Smith
CHICAGO, May 26 (UP)—Search crews found evidence today that a baby died with 33 other persons in an explosion and fire that blasted a south side neighborhood when a trolley ploughed into a gasoline tank truck last night.

Fifty persons were injured in the disaster. Police and firemen dug through the ruins of seven buildings ignited by the searing flames that trapped passengers aboard the crowded street car.

Patrolman Van Clay found a baby's foot lying in the street near the crash scene. It was sent to the police laboratory.

Officials believed the baby's body may have been consumed in the fire that left four of the seven buildings with all interior walls and flooring burned out.

Deputy Chief of Police Philip Bretzke said there was a possibility, however, that the baby's body was one of the charred pieces in the Cook county morgue.

The search crews proceeded gingerly for fear that the water-soaked walls still standing might collapse.

They believed, however, that the bodies of all victims had been found.

Meanwhile, officials organized a sweeping inquiry to determine whether criminal negligence was involved in the disaster. Coroner A. L. Brodie said he would impanel a jury of experts June 1 to investigate. He was expected to coordinate inquiries by the fire department, police, state fire marshal, the interstate commerce commission and the state commerce commission.

Private investigations were expected by various insurance companies and by petroleum associations interested in the shipment of gasoline and other inflammables.

A search for four children previously reported missing was abandoned after one reported that she personally had handed them through a window of their flaming apartment to a stranger who apparently took them to his home. Radio stations broadcast a request for the stranger to take the children to the Red Cross for return to their mother.

Soviet Troops Seize Chunk Of Iran Territory

TEHRAN, Iran, May 26 (UP)—Soviet troops have seized a five-mile strip of Iranian territory in the isolated far eastern section of the country, the newspaper Tehraneh Mosaavar said today. The Russians have refused to withdraw despite a strong protest to the Soviet Embassy here by the Iranian Foreign Ministry, the paper said.

The newspaper said the seized area was near the town of Sarakhs, in Eastern Khurasan province about 100 miles east of Meshed. The border there is formed by a dry river bed and has been the scene of frequent disputes.

Authoritative sources meanwhile said acting Iranian Foreign Minister Ain Gholl Ardalan conferred yesterday with U. S. Ambassador John Cooper Wiley. American embassy sources declined to reveal the subject under discussion.

Col. Here To Help Organize State Guard

Headquarters Unit Is Almost Formed

The Texas State Guard unit here is being re-organized. Texas State Guard Major Calvin Brown said today that Col. Lawrence Collins was here today to help form company units at Ranger, Eastland, Dublin and Cisco. The Ranger battalion headquarters unit is almost organized now. Enlistments will not be made until the headquarters organization is completed, Brown said.

The Guard organization was formed at the start of World War II to relieve the National Guard for active duty. An application has been made with the Federal Communications Commission for a wave length for the local battalion. Brown said that Jimmy Smith would have charge of radio communications. The state and federal government will supply arms and clothing when the unit is activated.

The battalion headquarters unit will have 56 men when at full strength. The battalion will carry 413 men on its full-strength roster.

Brown stressed the importance of the unit in this area, pointing out the number of refineries in the close-by area. He said the local battalion during the war was one of the finest in Texas.

Bridges Doubts CIO Strong Enough To Expel Union

LOS ANGELES, May 26 (UP)—Harry Bridges says the CIO is in a "rotten shape" and he doesn't think it is strong enough to expel his International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

"I don't think there is enough steam left in the CIO to kick us out," the ILWU president said yesterday. "It's in rotten shape." Bridges, recently convicted in San Francisco of perjury for allegedly lying about former Communist ties, speaks at a rally here tonight.

He said the CIO executive board was contemplating the move because the ILWU insisted on making its own political endorsements.

Both Marriage Minded
CUMBERLAND, Md. (UP)—Getting a marriage license is a family affair for Jay Lee Jobs, 45, and his daughter, Wilda Lee, 16. Jobs got a license at her court house to marry Reba May Gwynn, 22-year-old widow. Then he signed an application for his daughter, who is planning to wed Joseph Ray Barclay, 21, of Carmichael, Md.

On the maiden flight, the disc was umbrella-shaped, with the fuel tank protruding beneath the saucer. Now the tank is atop the disc, Mitchell said.

An upright "rudder" and a landing wheel also have been added, said Mitchell, who believes his invention will fly 1,000 miles per hour. It has both jet and piston-type engines and "should fly on either or both of them."

PHILIPPINE GOVERNMENT CALLS ON SOUTHWEST ASIA TO ORGANIZE

BAGUIO, Philippines, May 26 (UP)—The Philippine government called on delegates of seven nations of Southeast Asia today to form a permanent security organization against aggression in the Orient.

Foreign Secretary Carlos P. Romulo made the proposal as delegates of the Philippines, Australia, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Indonesia and Thailand opened a conference to further their mutual interests.

Romulo did not say exactly what nature such a body should have and what actions it could take, and he did not specifically name Communism as the threat it would guard against.

But the meaning of his words was clear to the delegates, all of whose countries are faced with the Communist danger, though in different degrees.

Philippine President Elpidio Quirino came close to spelling it out when he asked for mutual efforts to counter "the terrible menace which overhangs the world."

The Chinese Nationalist regime of Chiang-Kai-Shek was not invited and its observers were barred from the closed sessions to follow.

Today's session was open to foreign diplomats but the Chinese ambassador ignored the invitation.

Romulo, who also is president of the United Nations General Assembly, called for joint action after being elected president of the conference by unanimous vote.

He said his government hoped the parley would create a permanent regional organization which would guard internal security in Southeast Asia.

Harvester, Union Agree On Pension, Health Program
CHICAGO, May 26 (UP)—International Harvester Co. and the International Association of Machinists (I.A.M.) have reached agreement on a "contributory pension plan" and a liberalized health-welfare program.

The agreement, announced yesterday by both the company and the union, becomes effective July 1, 1950, if it is ratified by the I.A.M. locals.

It provides a guaranteed minimum $100-a-month retirement income for employees with 25 or more years experience after they reach 65.

In addition, the employes may receive the "pension annuity purchase by their own contribution."

The company will pay all costs of the liberalized health-welfare plan which provides a $2,600 life insurance program, and increased hospital and surgical benefits for employees and their families.

Perhaps 500,000 Communist Youth To Participate In Berlin Ceremony

By John B. McDermott
BERLIN, May 26 (UP)—The United States, Britain and France challenged Russia tonight on the eve of a long heralded "peace" demonstration here to cooperate in holding free elections to unify all Germany.

The reopening of the all-Germany election issue was calculated to take some of the wind out of the sails of the Communists who were massing young people in East Berlin for the toughest demonstration here since the tense days of the Russian blockade.

Britain rolled armored cars into Potsdamer Platz, the Times Square of Berlin, to guard against any violence during the rally of perhaps 500,000 Communist youths. Allied commanders have promised that any Communist attempt to cross into West Berlin will be repulsed.

Some 100 youths shouted insults at West Berlin police today along the Soviet-American sector border. Ten Russian soldiers and 35 East German police looked on passively.

Against that backdrop, the three Western High Commissioners sent separate letters to Gen. V. I. Chulker, Russian commander here, saying:

"My government would be prepared for me to share in the responsibility of framing an electoral law under which all-German elections could be held."

The letters listed eight principles drafted by the Big Three Foreign ministers at their recent meeting in London under which "German unity should be achieved," they were:

1. Free election of an all-German government.
2. Guarantee of freedom of movement, speech, radio, press, association and assembly and liberty from arbitrary arrest and detention.
3. Freedom of action for all democratic political parties.
4. Independence of the judiciary.
5. Prohibition of political secret police and police formations like the present East zone military force which the Western powers have labeled an army in disguise.
6. Assurances of a unified German economy, currency and customs and four-power agreement on such matters as reparations and industrial limitation.

7. Return by Russia of all plants seized from Germans in Soviet zone.
8. Establishment of a four-power commission exercising its reserve powers so as to permit the German government to function effectively.

First Meeting Of Economy Group Set For June 13
AUSTIN, May 26 (UP)—Initial meeting of the Texas Economy Commission will be held June 13 in the House of Representatives chamber.

The entire membership of 550 was asked to attend the session, called by former State Sen. John Redditt, temporary commission chairman from Lufkin.

The commission was created by Gov. Allan Shivers to study state governmental organization and the executive branch. The Governor said he planned to attend the June meeting.

Local Wits Have Little Joke Now At Wayland Cost
FLAINEVIEW, May 26 (UP)—Local wits today suggested "Smoke gets in your eyes" as Alma Mater song of Wayland college, following yesterday's unanimous approval by college trustees of President J. W. Marshall's "no-smoking" edict.

Dr. Marshall, with the announced intention of bringing "positive Christianity" to Wayland college, said recently that any student found smoking, drinking or gambling "anywhere at anytime" would be expelled.

His action brought the resignation from the board of Judge Frank Day, a pipe-smoking veteran of more than 25 years on the board.

UT SCIENTISTS WORKING ON MIRRORS THAT MAY REPLACE EXPENSIVE LENSES

AUSTIN, May 26 (UP)—University of Texas scientists worked today on a mirror-type gadget which may take the place of lenses in cameras and microscopes.

The new mirror optical systems are known as "objectives."

Howard S. Coleman, director of university optical research, said they would make optical instruments cheaper and lighter.

"A student-type mirror microscope should cost about $50," he said. "That instrument, with a lens, now sells for $150."

Coleman said similar reductions could be expected in mirror cameras.

"Not only will telephoto objectives cost less than corresponding lenses, but their length and weight will be greatly reduced," he said.

Coleman said the research project, undertaken in cooperation with the Armed Forces and the National Research Council, is just getting started. Tests began last February.

The University of Texas was chosen for the project because its optical research laboratory is the only known place in the world with adequate facilities for making the tests.

He had at murder, attempted murder, robbery or slugging to play each day.

Nationally, things weren't too different.

Remember the story of a couple months ago about girls in some of the big cities having acid splash on their dresses via water guns.

On September 3, 1926, it was cutting girls' hair, and must have been quite common. A national story in that day's issue of the Times calls a man who cut a woman's braids a "Snipperjack."

September 9, the same year, the Times had an extra—maybe one of the old timers can tell me whether it was a sports extra or because tip-jackers shot John Barnes—remember the 72 point banner.

We used the same class of type for our play story yesterday.

The same day, September 9, the Leader store ran a double truck advertisement. Ladies' suits ran from $125 to $35; dresses were from $125 to $15. Men's dress pants ran from $12 to $5.

On September 19, Dick Dare was chasing a woman in a comic strip. Sarah Bernhardt was critically ill in Paris.

Veal roast was selling for 25 cents a pound; fresh fryer chickens were selling for 40 cents a pound.

The Boston store owned by A. Joseph was giving 1.00 for your old straw hat if you bought a new one.

The Law was worrying about the Wobblies at this time instead of the Comies.

Will Rogers was around in those days. Samuel Goldwyn was producing movies.

The Old Majestic—remember it was presenting a seven act pantomime vaudeville show.

Two blocks burned for a million dollar loss according to the Ranger Times, September 15. The fire destroyed business buildings on the south side of Pine street; five on the north side.

Confusion Explained
PHILADELPHIA, (UP)—The director of a police boys' club was baffled by several of his basketball players, who sometimes tossed the ball to players on the opposing teams. Tests showed the errors were due, not to carelessness, but to color blindness. The erring players couldn't distinguish one colored jersey from another.

Floods in the Musqui basin killed 2,639 persons and caused $493,500,000 in tangible property loss in the last 14 1/2 years.

The Texas Electric awards program is proving to be the most popular contest among Eastland County 4-H Club boys this year with a total of 72 entering it, according to J. M. Cooper, County Agricultural Agent.

The National 4-H Club Garden Contest has the second largest number with a total of 54 boys enrolled.

A total of 36 boys have enrolled in the poultry production contest and 32 in the meat animal contest. There are 30 boys signed up in the field crops contests with 20 each in the dairy production and farm and home safety contests.

Several of the boys are entering in more than one contest, Cooper said.

Clear Skies, Warm Winds, Smell Of Fresh Water Awakes Fishers

By J. Fred Eder
United Press outdoors Consultant Clear skies, warm winds, the smell of fresh spring water, the pop-pop of a blue gill or crappie making his catch of a nice fat minnow or bug, causes a chill and thrill in the spine of a sportsman.
This great outdoor heritage of ours is both realized and symbolized now more than ever in Texas by the creation of man-made lakes. The range of activity available to be sportsman within the borders of our state has grown by leaps and bounds in the past few years.

The creation of Lake Texoma, Possum Kingdom, Buchanan, and the Colorado River lakes offer the angler a veritable paradise for fresh water fishing. New dams and lakes under construction present an even brighter future for our outdoor heritage.

Outdoor recreation in Texas has reached a new height. Each week end brings forth a new crop of anglers. The hunting and fishing bug's bite continues to play havoc upon many an unsuspecting soul who has ventured forth for a week end with nature.

Bearing in mind that there is a beginning to everything, your reporter will attempt to be as plain and clear as possible in answering your questions. This is your column, so don't hesitate to ask those questions, for doing so we all benefit.

For the first question we really have a confused and somewhat discouraged angler. It's a question that confronted all of us at one time or another.

Please tell me the truth about all the gaudy looking painted lures found in most sporting goods stores. I have a tackle box full of them but don't catch too many fish. I admit I'm a beginner and it's hard for me to recognize the qualities of a good lure. To me they all represent freaks with loud paint jobs and imitate no living creature. I'm beginning to wonder or if they are not made to hook fishermen instead of fish. Am I right?

A. To begin with, you have the wrong attitude. A most important factor in fishing is to have full confidence in your equipment.
A true fishing enthusiast gets half his fishing fun from the many clever and delightful gadgets and carefully worked out accessories that are made for his pleasure and protection.
There are some lures that do not qualify for the art of angling but no reputable sporting goods store will try to shove these lures

Snead, Alexander Lead In Fort Worth Colonial Invitation Golf

By Ed File
FORT WORTH, May 26 (UP)— Samuel Jackson Snead and Stewart (Skip) Alexander were out in front today as the field turned into the second round of the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament. The galleries agreed the man to watch was jovial Jimmy Demaret.

Demaret, the fashion plate of the golfing world, was three strokes off the leading four-under-par pace set by Snead and Alexander yesterday in the opening round, but the genial Texan was playing very sound golf and wants to win the $3,000 prize very much.

He called one of the best nine-hole performances of the opening round when he shot a 32 on the back nine to give his a 69 alongside Warren E. J. (Dutch) Harrison yesterday.

Demaret, now playing out of Ojai, Calif., was in trouble only twice all day, being in the rough on number 7 and in a trap on number 8 while staying within striking distance of the 56's posted by Snead and Alexander.
Demaret is some $4,500 behind Snead, the West Virginia hillbilly, in money winnings for the year ($13,216.16 to Snead's $17,728.
00) and the $3,000 top money he would do a lot toward close-ing that gap.

Snead, who was the only man in the field of 34 pros and one amateur to not go above par on any hole yesterday, still was scrambling for his 66 and observers felt he might "blow"; a round over the treacherous 35-35-70 par layout that crosses and parallels the Trinity River.

Snead and Alexander both had trouble carding their exceptional rounds yesterday, the second best rounds ever posted on Colonial's 7,100-yard layout. Fine putting, which saw putts up to 30 feet (Snead's for an eagle 3 on number 1) drop for them, helped them out of difficult holes.

REMEMBER the Sabbath Day to keep it HOLY

IN THE Ten Commandments, which do you suppose gets the larger treatment? Reverent observance of the divine order for a day of rest and of worship gets chief emphasis. A moment's reflection makes the reason clear. The man who does not take time to keep the Sabbath will likely forget to worship the God of his fathers; he who does not reverence God cannot be expected to regard his neighbor and his neighbor's goods. Sabbath observance stands, therefore, at the very center of religion and of morality. Then if you disregard the Sabbath you do it at the peril of your soul!

NOTICE the argument of Moses God could get His work done in six days, even the creation of a universe and all its creatures. Surely you do not need the seventh day for the lesser tasks of your doing.

YOU are under the command of God; you are a part of His creation; there is nothing more important for you than that you remember God and your relation to Him. The Sabbath is such a time of remembrance. The church bell, the rest from daily toil, the quietness in the busy street, the need of your own soul, unite to remind you of your God and His day. The law gave commandment His people to keep this one day sacred to the Lord; to use it for one's own profit is to rob God of the time which belongs to Him.

HERE is an ancient command, never more important than today. The press of the material and the secular war never more insistent; things want to get in the saddle and ride mankind. Remember the Sabbath; then you will worship God and know that you are the eternal child of the Highest. He who remembers the Sabbath most is most likely to remember to attend his church.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU
Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Educator Warns Of Texas Need For Quality

AUSTIN, Tex.—A study of the needs of state-supported colleges in Texas similar to that which led to enactment of laws improving the public school system was called for here today. "Unless Texas improves the quality of training available to its youth in institution of higher learning the high standards established for public schools will be undermined," said Dr. Sam Barton, of Denton, president of the College Classroom Teachers Association.

Dr. Barton said his association which is affiliated with the Texas State Teachers' Association, would soon place results of numerous surveys before the Texas Legislative Council, a state body charged with making recommendations, after complete investigation of various matters, before the legislature.

Dr. Barton listed the major needs of the colleges as:

1. Standardization of student-teacher ratios to prevent overcrowding of classes and the overloading of instructors and professors with classes.

2. Equalizing of salaries with similar institutions in other states to prevent Texas losing many of its most able teachers.

3. Increasing the library facilities and laboratory equipment and expenditures for research.

"The inadequacies of our present college system must be called to the attention of Texas. Our state will suffer unless our colleges are able to produce well-trained teachers to go into our new greatly improved public school system," Dr. Barton said.

"Our association is confident that once Texans are made acquainted with the colleges' needs they will rally to continue the climb in education which they started when the enacted the Gilmer-Aikin laws. Those laws lifted Texas to a place among the leading states in education."

Teacher student ratios are out of proportion in the various Texas schools and most college class rooms are crowded, Dr. Barton pointed out. "The ratio among Texas colleges varies from a low of 9.7 students per teacher to a high of 23.2," he said. President Truman's commission of higher learning recommends a ratio of 20 for the freshmen and sophomores, 13 for juniors and seniors and 10 for the graduate level.

Ratios in recitation hours are also too high. They vary in Texas from 12 to 18 hours to six to fifteen hours. Better institutions

Charm for Spring Table Setting

It is very simple and inexpensive to arrange a table that will delight your family and make meal time a treat. Do one of your old white linen table cloths in a light green dye. Place your silverplate carefully and correctly. Silverplate should be dramatized by table settings which bring out its delicate beauty.

Your plainest china or pottery will be most effective, perhaps a yellow or white to complete the green of your "carpet" of linen. For your floral arrangement, snip young shoots from a bush or tree. Use dark green tumblers as a refreshing touch for an early Spring table.

The young bride above fondly admires the latest design in 1881 (R) Rogers (R) Silverplate by Oneida Ltd. It's the Brockwood pattern, a 55-piece set in an anti-tarnish chest. It's available at local jewelry stores, and sells tax-free under fifty dollars.

that our colleges are losing 29 percent of the members of their faculties holding doctor's degrees. Worse yet, only 60 percent of those are being replaced with other teachers holding doctor's degrees.

Dr. Barton compared salaries paid in Texas colleges to others.

"A comparison of salaries with those in state-supported institutions in California, Connecticut, Illinois, Arizona, Colorado, Massachusetts, Indiana, Michigan and New Jersey, most of which are teacher training institutions, shows Texas badly lagging.

"The minimum salaries for instructors in Texas is $1,919, whereas the minimum in those nine states is $3,000.

"Skipping assistant professors and associate professors, we find that the minimum salary for professors in Texas is $3,700 whereas it is $4,780 in those nine states.

"Out of fifteen Texas colleges studied, nine had a top salary of $4,850 for full professors while the top salary range in the other states is from $5,000 to $7,400.

Under His Hat PHILADELPHIA, (UP)—When William Hoey, 43, appeared in court as a suspected numbers writer, Police Capt. William Hill noticed his hair seemed strangely out of place. A closer look revealed Hoey was wearing a toupee covering, police said, a bald head and three pieces of paper with numbers plays written on them.

A. degrees granted in accord with the Gilmer-Aikin program and for which considerable additional salary is granted under state laws."

The College Classroom Teachers Association has made several studies of instructors' and professors' salaries as compared with those paid in similar colleges in other states.

Primary In California May Play Crucial Part In National Politics

By Bruce Blossat
NEA Staff Correspondent

California, warming up for a bigger role in national politics is staging a lively, tangled primary campaign with a U. S. Senate seat and the governorship the main prizes. Voting day is June 6.

The state's entry into the 10,000,000 population class means that, starting in 1952 it will pack much more weight than heretofore at national party conventions. Winners in California will have to

In the governorship race the leading figures are hearty Gov. Earl Warren, 1948 GOP vice-presidential nominee now seeking a third term at Sacramento, and James Roosevelt, ex-Marine, Democratic state chairman, eldest son of a famous father.

Neither has primary opposition within his own party. But California's odd cross-filing system, which allows a candidate to seek both party nominations, has Warren and Roosevelt battling each other as if the fall election were coming up.

Mrs. Douglas, an ardent Fair Dealer, has been canvassing California like a veteran trouper used to one-night stands. She began her drive last October and except for short interludes in Washington, has been at it ever since.

Labor has lined up almost solidly for her, and she claims the backing of eight Democratic county organizations. Some key Democrats, however, are cool to here.

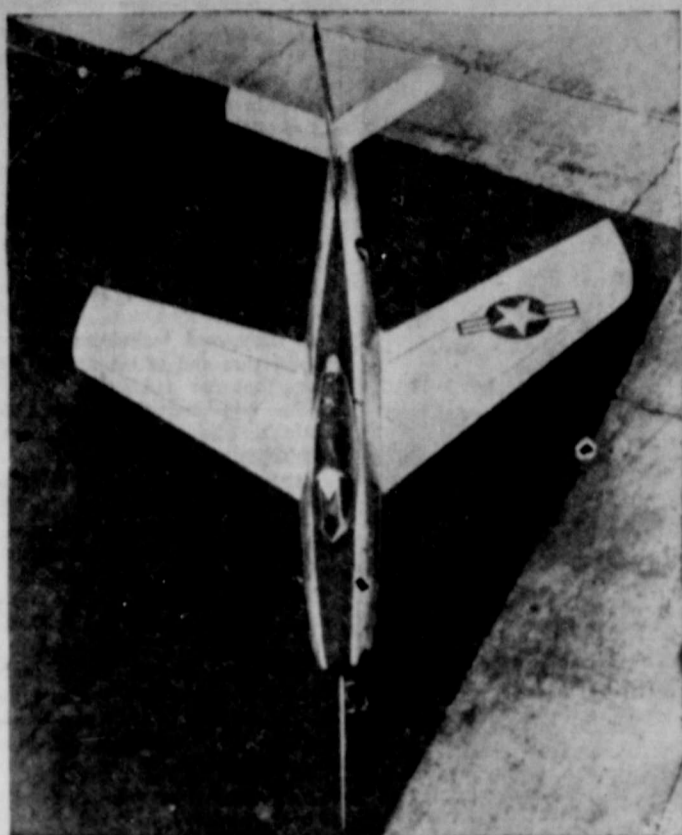

Lately she has charged that the Los Angeles Press, including her opponent's paper, is imposing a "news blackout" of her campaign. She has been buying advertising space in the Daily News to "bring light to the blackout."

Boddy's paper announced that "in the interests of accuracy" it would measure the space devoted to the Douglas campaign and publish the findings.

Some observers believe Boddy's entry into the race took some of the steam out of Mrs. Douglas' efforts. Until late winter she campaigned on the assumption her opponent would be Sen. Sheridan Downey, incumbent Democrat and arch foe of Michael Strauss, head of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation. But Downey withdrew, willing his political organization to Boddy and killing reclamation as an issue.

Entering the fight with little more than two months to go, Boddy launched a determined drive to weld together all conservative Democrats, many of whom had been looking for a place to land.

Boddy's keynote has been: proren has fought successfully for some welfare measures and vainly for others. Having won both nominations last time, he gave his second term a strong "non-partisan" flavor. This may have helped him in a state with a majority of voters registered as Democrats.

It did not endear him to old-line Republicans. Some wrote him off after his defeat on the Dewey ticket, but he snapped back strongly. Today the GOP leaders are with him again. They know he's a vote getter—and they have no where else to turn.

To Warren this is a "vote of confidence" campaign. He's making his hardest push since 1942, continuing his "non-partisan" approach and assailing Roosevelt (though not by name) for promising too much.

The lanky Roosevelt, flashing the family grin, goes on plugging in his factory gate, street-corner and national—politics. Some observers suggest he may have burned himself out too early and is possibly losing ground.

But Jimmy, remembering his background, is confident he's on his way.

Promising Lead Found In Fight Against Polio

NEW YORK—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis reported today that its extensive research program has yielded "promising leads which indicate that drugs, serums and vaccines against polio are all within the realm of possibility." The information is contained in the organization's 12th annual report, published today, which declares, "The problem now is to determine which of these will serve as a practical means of control." In an introduction entitled "The Nation's Worst Polio Epidemic" Basil O'Connor, National Foundation president, listed 1949 as the likely turning point in the history of the disease, and said, "We may be able to halt the rising were listed as:

1. Growth for the first time of the polio virus in non-nervous tissue in test tubes. Great quantities of the virus would be needed should a vaccine be developed.
2. Classification by National Foundation grantees of three distinct types of polio virus. The search for all types, under way since January 1949, is expected to be completed by the end of 1951.
3. Improved techniques of rehabilitation and of mechanical devices that can reduce to "an absolute minimum the number of patients who suffer permanent disability."

Although the report warns that "obstacles that lie ahead (in research) cannot be minimized," it gave this optimistic conclusion: "We have reached solid ground. . . We are traveling in the right direction and as rapidly as man's ingenuity will permit."
While gains were being made on the research front, the program of patient care in 1949 was barely able to meet financial demands, it was revealed.
"Before the year was out," the report disclosed, "if the National Foundation's 2,822 chapters, 1,089 had gone broke meeting the demands of the epidemic. Scattered over 45 states and one territory, they had received epidemic aid (from the national office) amounting to $10,648,609 in this one year. An additional $677,778 was spent by the national office in direct aid not specifically chargeable to individual chapters."
"And this was just emergency help—a total of $11,326,387 added to $16,000,000 spent directly from local chapter funds to care for patients in this one year."

The Polio Emergency Drive last September raised $3,768,357, and the National Foundation balance at national headquarters at the end of 1949 was $1,318,877, the report showed. Local treasuries of the National Foundation—based on reports from 85.6 per cent of the local chapters (2,415 of 2,822) received at national head-tide of polio in the not-to-distant future."

Other portions of the report gave the following statistics for the all-time record polio epidemic of 1949 which drained the National Foundation funds to their lowest point:

- 1. Of the 42,375 new patients last year, the organization directly assisted 80 per cent of them.
- 2. Funds of 1,089 of the 2,822 local chapters were wiped out.

3. Were it not for an emergency drive last fall, the National Foundation's $2,500,000 in the red. "Despite the overwhelming cost of aid no single request for support . . . was refused for financial reasons," it was reported.

4. More respirators (a total of 803) were rushed to all parts of the country in 1949 than the total of all previous years combined.

5. Approximately 17,000 of last year's new patients will need continuing care in 1950. The latest advances in research

Margo Jones All For Small Local Theatres; New Idea Pans Out Good

By Ernest Conine
United Press Staff Correspondent
DALLAS (UP) — Margo Jones, an attractive Texan who provided one answer to unemployed actors' drooping heads, has vowed she would make her theatre '50 the greatest in the world.

And Margo, well-known on Broadway since co-directing Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie," has been in the theatrical whirl long enough to know how broad a statement that is. This fall, with Ted Adoue and Manning Gurian, she will take Owen Chump's new comedy, "Southern Exposure," to New York for another assault on Broadway. Miss Jones doesn't expect her Dallas enterprise to surpass New

Administration Warns Have SS Card Already

Students who expect to work during the summer vacation should see that they have their social security cards ready for immediate use, according to a statement made today by Ralph T. Fisher, manager of the Abilene office of the Social Security Administration. If you go to work for wages in private industry, you must show your social security card to your employer promptly. If you have never had a social security card and are going to need one soon, you should go to the local post office and get an application. Fill it out and mail it to the Social Security Administration, Abilene, Texas. You will receive your card in just a few days. If you have lost your social security card now is the time to ask for a duplicate. Get an application at your post office, fill it out showing that you have had a card and lost it, and mail it to the Social Security Administration, Abilene, Texas. You will soon have a new card with that same number.

There are some jobs for which you will not need a card. If you are going to work on the farm, for the city, state or federal government, or if you are under 21 and working for your parents, you will not need a social security card. Do not apply for a card unless you are fairly sure to need it. Then get one promptly.

For the first time in our military history, members of the Organized Reserve Corps receive two major types of financial reward for their services. First—pay has been authorized for each drill period and each day of active duty, whether at a summer camp or elsewhere, and for certain types of specialized duty. Second—every member of the Reserve Forces may accrue credits toward retirement pay at the age of sixty. Take an active part in the reserve.

Best Of Luck Class Of 1950

York's dwindling number of playhouses in terms of box office receipts or audience capacity. A "full house" at theatre '50 (which becomes theatre '51 next year) means 198 persons seated chummily in a room smaller than the lobby of most theatres. What the enthusiastic Margo does intend to do is give drama-lovers in the Dallas area "good theatre." In the process, the wolf will be kept away from the stage door for many actors. Her pterory "theatre in the round" is popular, with nine or 10 actors signed each season. A 11 are paid the same salary — above actors' equity scale. There are no "stars" in the usual sense. Actor John Denny said two words in "Southern Exposure," but had the lead in "Golden Porcupine." The idea of local permanent theatres is catching on. Several have been established in other cities. "Our theatre '50 is an end in itself," Miss Jones explained. "We don't warm over Broadway hits, and this isn't a try-out ground for unproven actors or plays. But we're not afraid of new scripts," she said. A look at this season's program reveals three classics, including Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," and five new plays. "Nowadays, many producers and directors read good plays, if at all, with assumption it won't be any good," Margo said. "A lot of good plays are being passed up. The theatre won't remain a vital factor in this country if it slams the door on new blood and new ideas," she added. Theatre '50 is in its third season and has aroused international enthusiasm. It came on the scene at a time when many show people said the American theatre was sick. They point to the packed New York theatres — many operating at a loss — with thousands of good actors still unemployed. These are the problems to which Margo Jones thinks she has developed a partial solution. "Every city of America should have a permanent professional theatre," she said. "Decentralization

Possibility Short Season Opened On Antelope In West

AUSTIN, May 24.—The annual census of antelope is now underway in the Panhandle and West of the Pecos where the herds are concentrated, according to the executive secretary of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

Preliminary reports are favorable concerning the status of the fleet wild animal, which has been restored to a degree on the Texas plains. There is a possibility that a short open season will be permitted this fall West of the Pecos, and also in the Panhandle, where there has been no modern-day hunting.

The executive secretary estimates the present herd strength at about 9,000. The actual number, almost to the very animal, will be determined by the present census.

The tally is made by a two-man airplane crew. The pilot is Warden J. W. Gilbreth of Alpine, and the checker is Frank Etheridge, wildlife biologist.

The count is made on one ranch at a time and records kept on a master map which covers the antelope range. The executive secretary explained that men trained in his routine become very proficient. He added that the antelope herds are easy to spot because they stay out in the open plains areas. The number of bucks and does is recorded.

The executive secretary said a decision on whether there will be an open season will be made in July, probably at the monthly meeting of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

Texas has had four recent open seasons on antelopes since the herds were restored to substantial size under modern game management techniques. The last season was in 1948, when 814 permits were issued at $5.00 each. The total bag that season was 629 male antelope. The hunt is closely supervised and is broken up into staggered three-day periods for different areas during the overall nine to twelve day season. Extra game wardens are assigned to the supervisory detail.

No open season was held last year because of the severe 1948-winter season that caused some losses to the herds.

Federal officials say the population of Michigan, the nation's eight largest state, will go over the 6,000,000 mark when results of this year's census are tabulated.

Nebraska has a water supply of more than 1,000,000,000 acre-feet per year.
