Russia Pulls Four Military Leaders Out

Move May Signify Early Peace Pact

By John B. McDermott
BERLIN, June 8 (UP)—Russia replaced four military executives in Germany today with civilian commissioners in a move believed intended to speed a separate Soviet peace treaty with East Germany.

The shakeup replaced the Soviet military commandant of Berlin, Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, by a civilian commissioner. Similar changes were announced for the three Soviet zone provinces of Brandenburg, Saxony and Thuringia.

It was believed that the Russians were withdrawing occupation controls to pave the way for removal of Soviet troops, leaving control of Germany in the hands of the Communist-dominated East German government.

However, the Russians would leave behind the East German police army of 40,000 men to take over their occupation tasks.

Significant developments which point to an early Soviet-East German peace treaty are:

1. The puppet East German government's acceptance two days ago of the controversial Oder-Neisse line as Germany's Eastern frontier.

2. A reduction of 25 per cent in Soviet control commission staffs, implying that German leaders will be given more freedom.

3. Closing of Russian-operated East German concentration camps.

4. An announced end to prisoner of war repatriations.

5. Return to German ownership of 24 factories seized by Russia.

These acts all remove from possible peace treaty talks a number of controversial subjects which could easily embarrass Russia.

The Soviet-German news agency ADN identified Kotikov's successor as Sergei Alexejewitsch Dengin and said he would have the title of Soviet control commissioner for Berlin.

Not Quite But Police Almost Delivered Baby

Police officers Dave Morgan and Bill Hinman, who get plenty of screwy calls in a night's work, almost had the job of delivering a baby last night.

A woman picked after midnight to have a baby, Mrs. Dan Bachus at the Miss Ranger Cafe, got into the deal as the woman lives in an apartment above the cafe.

Mrs. Bachus tried to find a taxi, there weren't any.

In fact, at that critical time, there weren't any cars. So Morgan and Hinman were drafted. They got the lady to the hospital in time. She had been to the hospital once, given up, and returned home.

Flamingoes Nesting Together For First Time In Captivity At Zoo

SAN ANTONIO, June 8 (UP)—A pair of Flamingoes nested today for the first time in captivity. Fred Stark, director of the Brackenridge Zoo, said the two tall, brightly-colored birds completed their nest several days ago and the female had laid an egg Monday.

"As far as we know, and we're still checking records, this is the first time in history that Flamingoes have nested in captivity in the United States and probably in Europe," Stark said.

Stark looked upon the egg-laying accomplishment as equivalent to a mother giving birth to sextuplets.

"This certainly is rarer than the birth of human sextuplets," the zoo director remarked.

Stark said he had not given names to the mating Flamingoes "because all of them in the zoo look alike."

"But since these two are making zoological history we might give them names," he laughed.

Stark said the doings of the Flamingoes had a contagious effect on other members of their species in Brackenridge zoo.

Two more female Flamingoes have completed nests, and another two pairs are constructing nesting places.

Stark pointed out that Flamingoes had mated at Hialeah, Florida, but "that's not in captivity." Those in his zoo previously had started construction of nests, but never had completed them.

Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery. The Morris Funeral Home had charge of arrangements. Rev. Jasper Massages, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, conducted the service.

Jones, a World War I veteran, was a member of the American Legion and the Baptist Church.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Louetta Jones, and a daughter, Mrs. James Metcalf of Lamarque.

Different from most amateur contests where audience applause or judges decide the winner, Hayloft Jamboree gives the audience the chance to pick the winners by actually casting votes for their favorite.

This new impartial system has been worked out so that those who buy tickets to the entertainment are entitled to vote. The three amateur contestants who poll the highest total number of votes at both performances will be considered the winners.

The following is the list of amateur contestants who have already registered to compete in the contest: Richard Martin, Kenneth Mayhall, Robert Martin, John Slaughter, Burt Cliff, Patsy Taylor, Betty Maddux, and Earnest Shelton.

The committee in charge of tickets announced that people who buy their tickets in advance will be given a white ticket. This advance or white ticket counts as two votes for their favorite amateur.

Those people who wait until they go to the auditorium on the night of the show to buy their tickets will be given a blue ticket. The door or blue ticket entitles the holder to one vote for their choice of the outstanding entertainer.

First Negro Student To Attend UT Takes Seat Today For Summer

AUSTIN, June 8 (UP)—The first Negro student to attend the University of Texas took his seat today in an unsegregated classroom as the school's summer session opened.

Horace Lincoln Heath of Waco registered yesterday, paid his fees and completed enrollment for graduate courses in American political theory and constitutional law. Heath, who is 50, is a candidate for a doctor of philosophy degree in government.

His entrance followed a U. S. Supreme Court ruling this week ordering the University to admit another Negro, Herman Marion Sweatt of Houston, to the state law school. Sweatt plans to enroll in September.

Admittance of a third Negro, 25-year-old John Saunders Chase of Austin, was held up yesterday while authorities checked his high school credits in mathematics and physics because he lacked a transcript. Chase seeks a masters degree in architecture.

Two other Negroes also sought information about mathematics courses but a University spokesman said he doubted they would be admitted since the courses they want are offered at the Texas State University for Negroes.

At Norman, Okla., Malcolm Whiby, a Negro from Oklahoma City announced that he would be willing to live with foreign students at International House while attending the University of Oklahoma.

Whiby applied for admission to non-segregation living quarters yesterday on the strength of another Supreme Court ruling this week that races must not be segregated on the campus.

Garner Colburn, director of student housing, said he would admit Whiby to the international house dormitory for foreign students, if President George L. Cross consented him to do so.

Whiby favored the idea because "they already have 29 nationalities living there and the name suggests the very essence of democracy."

He said all students at the school had been "friendly and fair."

Fire Destroys Half of Town; Six Injured

FILLMORE, Mo., June 8 (U.P.)—A spectacular fire which raged for more than four hours and still is smoldering early today destroyed "half the town" in this Andrew county community in north-west Missouri.

Dr. E.C. Conrad, mayor of Fillmore, population 283, said injuries were confined to six persons, "all of them minor burns."

Nine of 17 buildings in the business district were destroyed, considerable additional damage was done by heat, water and smoke to other buildings, including residences, the Mayor said.

"We have no idea what the loss will be," Dr. Conrad said six hours after the blaze broke out in the rear of the town's theater. "But it will be a staggering figure."

Four Of Eleven Airmen Saved; Hunt Continues

YARMOUTH, Eng., June 8 (UP)—Ships rescued today four of the 11 American crewman aboard a B-29 super fortress which crashed in flames in the North Sea.

Planes, helicopters and ships pressed a widespread search for six crewmen still missing.

The survivors and one body were found some 18 miles off the east England coast, where the big bomber went down last night with its No. 4 engine in flames.

But hours after the crash no wreckage had been sighted.

Six sister B-29's attached to the U. S. Air Force Third Division took part in the search along with three B-17 flying fortresses from Wiesbaden, Germany, and a C-47 Skymaster from an English base.

Two of the survivors, Capt. Henry Walsh, pilot, of Alton, Ill., and Sgt. J. Ebert Minneapolis, Minn., sailed into Lowestoft, Eng., aboard a rescue craft this morning. Officials ordered them not to make detailed statements.

A third survivor, Staff Sgt. Charles S. Allen, of Derby, N. H., was rescued by the British Navy survey ship Scott.

A fourth survivor was picked up by rescue craft shortly before noon.

The master of the trawler Warren, which rescued Walsh and Ebert, said they were in a rubber life raft along with the dead man when found.

Grand Jury Indicts 25

A hard-working Eastland County Grand Jury returned 25 indictments in a three-day session which ended Wednesday afternoon.

Warrants were immediately issued by District Clerk Roy Lane for the arrest of the 25 offenders, 21 of which were for burglary. The other offenses were as follows: one each, swindling with worthless check, cattle theft, forgery and attempted passing, and removal of mortgaged property out of state.

Following Wednesday's session, the jury recessed until next Wednesday, June 14.

Agents Search For Income Tax Violations

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 8 (UP)—Government agents searched a betting syndicate's records today for possible income tax violations by gamblers or Western Union employees who allegedly acted as agents for handbooks.

County and state authorities, who seized truckloads of letters and telegrams in a raid on the syndicate's headquarters near here Monday, made them available to internal revenue agents yesterday.

The records included a card index file containing more than 200 names and labeled "W. U. Agents". The cards gave the names of the agents and the towns where they operated.

A Western Union spokesman has promised punishment for any employee violating a company rule against aiding gamblers.

Four men accused of operating the syndicate posted bond yesterday on a gambling indictment returned against them at Bridgeport, N. J. An attorney for the men served notice that they would fight extradition.

In Washington, Senate Crime Investigators planned to question William Molasky, vice president of Pioneer News Service of St. Louis, about telegraphic bookmaking operations in this area.

Holasky has been linked to a nationwide gambling syndicate by testimony of Missouri Attorney General J. E. Taylor. Sen. Estes Kefauver, chairman of the special committee conducting an inquiry into crime syndicates, said Molasky would be questioned Tuesday.

In Texas, State Attorney-General Price Daniel today prepared to ask a district court to ban Western Union baseball tickers from the state. An injunction now prevents the telegraph company from furnishing horse race information to bookie joints, but Daniel said gambling operations are still flourishing with the aid of the tickers.

Distant Star BY HERMINA BLACK

THE STORY: Falling in love had not been Clemency Norton's idea. She became a nurse covering for Baba, small daughter of Syria and Jon Amberley. But now Clemency realizes she has lost her heart completely to Piers Amberley, Jon's brother, at whose apartment North Africa home the family lives. Syria, despising her weak husband and in love with Piers herself, is bitterly sarcastic when she hears the news. And, although her lips are smiling, Clemency's eyes open a window to her own heart. She has the uncomfortable memory of Jon watching his wife with an almost frightening grin of sadistic appreciation.

The Sid Jon" asked Clemency. "You left him with Baba?" "Yes, he said he would sit with her in case she woke again. I said she would not, but he was quite angry—he told me to go away. That he could be alone with his own child sometimes if he wished to. I had to obey." "I see, Loulie," she said. "I should have known you would not be so careless." "Thank you, Sitt. Shall I keep the little flower in bed?" "No. But just sponge her face and hands. I will come and take her temperature," said Clemency. "I see, Loulie," she said. "I should have known you would not be so careless." "Thank you, Sitt. Shall I keep the little flower in bed?" "No. But just sponge her face and hands. I will come and take her temperature," said Clemency. Drinking her tea hurriedly, she thought with angry contentment: I suppose he was drinking again. Thank goodness I came up when I did. Baba's temperature was a little up, and Clemency decided to keep her indoors, but she had reckoned without Mrs. Jon Amberley. Syria looked into the nursery to inquire coldly what was going to happen to her daughter that day—obviously implying that she could not expect much attention from her governess. "I am keeping her in," replied Clemency. "She seems to have caught cold. In any case I should have stayed with her, but Piers went out early—before we were up. He has some business on the oasis of El Hassarl."

Record Number Candidates Seek Texas Lieutenant Governor's Seat; State Candidates Listed By UP

CORSICANA, June 7 (UP)—A record number of candidates are seeking the post of Lieutenant Governor of Texas and promised their race would be the hottest of them all, come election day.

The field for Governor jumped to seven as a woman school teacher, a drilling contractor and Caso March, whose campaign has been going at full speed, filed their $100 fee with State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman John C. Calhoun as time was running out.

J. M. Wren was the last gubernatorial candidate to appear at Calhoun's office. Wren, 46, a Houston oil operator, drove through a heavy rain from South Texas to enter the race after hearing that the U. S. Supreme Court had ruled against Texas on segregation and tidelands issues.

Mrs. Benita Louise Marek Lawrence, 34, of Brenham became the first woman to file in the 1950 race for governor. Others filing for the post include Gov. Allan Shivers, Gene S. Porter and Wellington Abbey of Houston, and Charles B. Hutchinson of Dallas.

Seven of the candidates for Lieutenant Governor had experience in the state legislature. Others were a retired Houston banker, two former gubernatorial candidates, the president of the Texas Safety Council and a Negro preacher.

Attorney General Price Daniel, State Treasurer Jesse James and Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray, Jr. were without opposition.

Two candidates posted filing fees just in time to prevent a pair of incumbents from returning to office without opponents.

Mansfield publisher James L. Allred filed for Commissioner of the land office in opposition to incumbent Bascom Giles and Clifford E. Butler paid his fee to oppose Robert S. Calvert in his bid to return as state comptroller.

Ranger Rambling

Well, sometimes, I think maybe I'm awful lucky. Rode around with Allen Full in his red convertible yesterday in the midst of the Breckenridge celebration and I'm still here to talk about it.

Ten Ranger citizens had some very good barbecue over at Breckenridge Wednesday night when the Ranger Jaycees helped Breckenridge hold their rodeo.

The Ranger delegation was small in size. But there were some pretty good voices in the crowd so I think Breckenridge knew we were there.

After hunting three places to eat, Morris Newham led us off the main traveled stem to a very fine place. It had a shuffle board and everything. The juke box pounded out the old time boogie, warming up Bruce Maddox enough that he either came in first or last in a fast round of shuffle board.

I even got to ride a horse in the parade. Or maybe you can't call it riding. Someone tried to tell me that you aren't supposed to hold onto that horn looking arrangement.

But I figured they were spoofing me, so I wrapped both hands around the horse holding the reins in my teeth. Maybe that's the reason the Breckenridge crowd was so good humored. Still, I think I was doing right—or was I?

Mrs. Helen Bradford, a very pretty girl as you all know, carried the Ranger colors with an assist from Blonde Betty Melton.

Sunday, that's the horse that I was straddling, didn't like it at all that Mrs. Bradford was leading the Ranger delegation.

In fact he disliked it so much that about halfway through the parade, he galloped out in front. For a minute, I was quite a hero—everybody looking at me you know.

I was just looking for some pretty girl's lap to land in. As all the pretty girl's laps appeared taken, I decided to stick to the horse figuring that would be more comfortable than the street.

Considering that this is an after-Breckenridge morning, I'll cut off this column until tomorrow.

The Little Things We Notice—
... in preparing your abstract often grow into big things as time passes. For example, if the deed is drawn in a careless manner by an inexperienced person it may be full of errors which will show up in your abstract when it comes time to sell, get a loan or lease for oil and gas. The abstractor must copy the instrument just as he finds it on record. The moral is, have your legal documents drawn carefully and only by experienced conveyancers.

Oklahoma Farm Wife Claims To Have Had 38 Children In 38 Years

ATWOOD, Okla., June 6 (U.P.)—Thirty-eight children in 38 years that's the motherhood record claimed by Mrs. George E. Berry, an Oklahoma farmwife.

Like the woman in the nursery rhyme who had so many children she didn't know what to do, Mrs. Berry, 66, has had so many she has a hard time keeping count of them.

The Hughes county mother, who lives half a mile west of here, says that she gave birth to the following:

One set of quintuplets, one set of quadruplets, three sets of triplets, five sets of twins and 19 children born singly. All 38—28 boys and 10 girls—were by first husband, John Womack, who died in 1939. The children were born in or near Dallas.

Only 11 are still living. Many died at birth or in early childhood.

There are few records to support her claim. However, the Kiwanis club of Dallas honored her with a gold medal in 1940 as the most prolific mother in that city. The club, with Judge Joe Hill acting as president, checked with neighbors and credited her with 37 children, most of them born in the family home. She has since recalled an additional son, Floyd, born in 1938.

The Kiwanis survey showed the quintuplets, three boys and two girls, were born in 1933. All died at birth. The quadruplets were born in 1929 but only two lived. This birth is listed in city county records as twins.

The plump farmwife says she is one of 20 children herself.

Aside from the Kiwanis club medal, she has never won recognition for being a many-times mother. In 1938 she applied to Gov. James A. Allred for a "mother's pension" but didn't get it.

"I always expected to get a medal from the government," she said. "But I guess they just forgot."
