Russia May Lay Claim To Antarctic

WASHINGTON, June 10 (UP)—Diplomats speculated today that the Soviet Union is preparing to lay formal claim to a large part of the Antarctic continent.

This speculation came as U. S. officials frankly conceded they were "mystified" by a new Soviet diplomatic move, in which Moscow warned the world that it would recognize no international settlement of Antarctic claims to which it is not a party.

On the surface, the Russian note yesterday appeared to be a belated reference to an unsuccessful American diplomatic venture into the Antarctic picture two years ago.

At the time, the United States suggested to the seven nations with claims in Antarctica that some form of internationalization of the south polar continent be worked out.

Violence Erupts In Strikebound Textile Plant

MORRISTOWN, Tenn., June 10 (UP)—Violence erupted anew at the strife-torn American Enka Corp. textile plant today, and authorities called for National Guardsmen to return.

Only about seven hours after the remaining guardsmen evacuated Morrystown, police said one automobile-carrying homeward-bound non-striking workers was overturned and more than 10 others were stoned. Two workers were cut by flying glass.

A band of about 50 men armed with stones, lengths of pipe, lumber and bricks lined the highway in front of a roadblock of two cars and a truck at an underpass about one-fourth of a mile from the plant and intercepted the non-striking workers, deputies said.

Sheriff Robert Medlin, under the care of a physician because of a strain imposed by around-the-clock duty, appealed to Brig. Gen. Dwight McReynolds, of the 27th Infantry to rush his troops back to Morrystown.

McReynolds was expected to advise Medlin whether the request would be granted, as soon as he conferred with Gov. Gordon Browning and State Adjutant Gen. Sam T. Wallace.

Yesterday the 100 guardsmen remaining here were directed by Browning to leave Morrystown, despite a renewal of minor violence and vandalism, including the stoning of a car, paint-smearing and window breaking. Two workers were cut slightly.

Guardsmen were rushed in 13 days ago when state highway patrolmen and local authorities were unable to cope with car overturnings, dynamiting of the homes of non-striking workers and other violence.

CIO textile workers went on strike 11 weeks ago to back up demands for wage increases, differentials an insurance benefits that would amount to pay raises of 25 cents per hour.

Truman Attacks Soviet Leaders Vigorously In St. Louis Speech, Isolationists Get Strong Dig Too

By Merriman Smith—United Press White House Reporter ST. LOUIS, June 10 (UP)—President Truman today denounced leaders of the Soviet Union for threatening the world with another war.

In his most detailed indictment of Russian leaders to date, Truman accused the USSR of booby-trapping the road to world peace with increasingly heavy armaments. "Infiltration, subversion, propaganda" and "ominous tactics" in general.

He said that however grim the picture of Russian obstruction and war-like preparations, the "ominous activities" of the Soviets were being "offset by the growing strength of the free world."

This was Truman's second lengthy exposition of foreign policy in two days. Yesterday, speaking at the University of Missouri at Columbia, he warned the nation to expect continued heavy expenditures for defense and foreign economic aid. His bill of complaint against Russia today was longer and more detailed than any of his speeches since entering the White house in 1945. After accusing Russia of preparing for war he criticized the Soviet Union and its Communist subdivisions of:

1. Attempting to "extend the boundaries of their totalitarian control."
2. Establishing "dictatorships" by proclaiming national independence but actually imposing "national slavery."
3. "Not contributing to peace" and "refusing to participate in the work of the United Nations."
4. "Turning the school children of Eastern Germany into the same kind of pitiful robots that marched into hopeless for Hitler."
5. "Maintaining the largest peace-time armed force in history, far greater than it needs for the defense of its own boundaries."
6. Trying to take over Southeast Asia.

Carefully distinguishing leaders from the Russian people, Truman struck at top officials for using natural resources to build military strength instead of the welfare of their population.

"We have tried to dissuade the Soviet leaders from this militaristic course, so unnecessary, so costly to their people and to ours, so antagonistic to the pursuit of peace," he said.

He said that this "state-manne-like move" would "help to end the age-old rivalry between France and Germany and result in a far more peaceful and productive Europe."

He was pleased, too, by the "growing community of purpose of the North Atlantic treaty countries." He said that "a balanced collective defense will be stronger and less costly than the old system of completely separate defense establishments." His criticism was not reserved for the Soviet Union alone. He took a stout punch at the isolationists in this country.

"Isolationism is the road to war," he said. "Worse than that, isolationism is the road to defeat in war. The people who are striving to destroy our foreign aid programs and—programs for—common defense—are striking at our own national security. They may not mean to do us harm, but they are as dangerous to our future as those who deliberately plot against our freedom."

The President was scheduled to fly back to Washington immediately after his speech here.

May Postal Receipts Go Down Some

May Money Order Business Beats April In Ranger

May's postal receipts here perhaps reflected a vacation period by dropping off slightly from April's receipts.

The receipts for May were $2,530.80 as compared with April's $2,581.92. Postmaster A. E. Crowley reported.

Post offices are rated on the amount of their postal receipts, which comes mainly from the sale of stamps.

In May, the post office did a bigger money order business than in April.

May Money orders totaled $17,523.06; in April $16,013.66.

Ranger individuals deposited $16,525 in postal savings during the month of May. In April they deposited $20,510. This government service in April paid out $16,528; in May it paid out $18,294, near $2,000 more than was deposited during the same month.

The postal savings department made interest payments of $574.34 in April and $504.72 in May. At the present time the postal savings has $314,425 on deposit.

Something More To Brag About

WASHINGTON, June 10 (UP)—Texans have something else to brag about—their state has the largest number of broadcast stations built or under construction. New York leads all the cities.

According to a federal communications commission survey, 222 broadcast stations have been authorized in the Lone Star state. California is second with 219.

New York city authorizations total 35, with Chicago having 34.

In television stations, New York state has the most—13, with Ohio and California second and third with Los Angeles heads the TV list of cities with seven stations, followed by New York with six and Washington, D. C., with four.

Local TP Sunshine Association Member Promises Good Meet

Spokesman Still Claims 1,500 Will Attend Singing Festival

A spokesman for the TP Sunshine Singing Association still sticks to his estimate that 1,500 people or more will attend the convention in Ranger.

The meeting is slated to open at 8 p. m. Saturday night at the high school auditorium.

It will continue from about 10 a. m. Sunday through the day.

Quartets from Stephenville, Fort Worth, Caddo and perhaps Dallas are expected to attend the song festival. In addition many singers from the surrounding territory are expected to participate.

Charles F. Ashcraft, a Ranger member of the association, took issue with this reporter's calling the festival a show, in one news story. He pointed out that sponsors of these gatherings have tried for at least fifty years to keep these meetings on a religious basis and that recognition to the Deity is made throughout the meeting.

This reporter did use the word 'show' innocently without any innuendo or slight intended. Ashcraft stated, "If you enjoy solos, duets, quartets and group singing in four part harmony, attend the meeting and see how happy this Christian group can be."

200 Four-H Boys Slated To Attend

At least 200 boys are expected for the annual six county 4-H Club camp at Lake Cisco, July 18 and 19, according to Eastland County Agent J. M. Cooper, who with several others recently met and planned the camp.

Other counties who will have 4-H Club boys and the respective agents are Cooper and Ed Steele, Jr., assistant agent, Eastland; Ralph Lindsey, Palo Pinto; W. R. Luce Stephens county; W. C. Vines, Albany, Shackelford county; and W. R. West, Baird, Callahan county.

The boys bring most of the food from home and the nominal fee charged is for swims, ice, cools and a few food items the boys do not bring.

W. R. Luce, Stephens county agent, was named camp chairman at the recent meeting.

R. C. Burwell, Stephenville, district agent, was present at the planning meeting and indicated he would return for the camp.

Ag Department Predicts Low Wheat Yield

WASHINGTON, June 10 (UP)—The government figures to get rid of some wheat in its price support hoard during the next 12 months.

The Agriculture Department reported yesterday that farmers for the first time in seven years will harvest less than 1,000,000,000 bushels of wheat this year.

The prospective crop—944,514,000 bushels—would fall short by about 50,000,000 bushels of meeting probable domestic and export demand. It would fall short of last year's output by 202,000,000 bushels.

The cutback stems from bad weather and reduced plantings under the government acreage allotment program. It means a possible reduction from last year of about $400,000,000 in farm income from wheat sales.

But officials said Secretary of Agriculture Charles E. Brannan is almost certain to decide now that rigid production controls won't be necessary on the 1951 crop.

Brannan must announce by July 1 whether marketing quotas will be needed to hold down burdensome surpluses. Instead of quotas, the government probably will depend on the voluntary acreage allotment program in 1951. The 1951 planting allotment may call for a cutback of 10,000,000 acres, compared with this year's total.

West Rejects Soviet Plan

BERLIN, June 10 (UP)—The United States, Britain and France rejected today a Soviet proposal for withdrawal of all occupation forces as a prerequisite for free elections to unite divided Berlin.

The Western commandants in turn proposed their own plan for free elections in a note to Col. Alexei Yelizarov, acting Soviet commandant.

The note said four points were essential to unification and elections:

1. A freely elected German city government operating under a constitution drafted by representatives of the people.
2. Citywide freedom of activity for all political parties before and during elections.
3. Individual freedom of movement, freedom from arbitrary arrest, freedom of speech, and radio throughout the city.
4. Resumption of administration through the four-power coalition, the Allied government. The single power veto before the kommandant up in 1948 would be abolished.

Janet Blair Should Come To Ranger

HOLLYWOOD, (UP) — The Chamber of Commerce won't like this, but the "land of sunshine" is a flop as far as Janet Blair's concerned.

There ain't no sun. Hasn't been for almost two weeks now. And this leaves Miss Blair's much-photographed body embarrassingly white.

It's a horrible situation any way you look at it. The lack of sun, that is, there's nothing wrong with the Blair chassis.

"Except that I'm so pale!" she squealed. "And I'm supposed to look tanned for my role in 'South Pacific.' How can I look like I've spent months on a South Sea island if this darn California sun won't come out?"

All she looks like right now, she says, is like she's spent two weeks in California "smog."

A. K. Showalter, local forecaster, doesn't do much to cheer her up, either. His charts and gadgets don't pick up any sun to speak of for at least another week.

"Cloudy and overcast," his reports read. "With occasional drizzles."

Miss Blair takes this whole thing personally. Here she is all ready to wow the natives in her own home town of Hollywood, and everybody cooperates but the sun.

We found her in a strapless yellow bathing suit and goosepimples today, trying to "sit out" the fog by the Town House pool. Every time the sun peeked through momentarily, Janet threw off her sun (haw!) goggles and stretched out hopefully.

But by the time she got flat on her back it was too late. The clouds had taken over again.

"I've tried everything," she wailed. "The other kids in the show use sun lamps. But all they do to this skin of mine is make it peel."

"I can't use body make-up. I shampoo my hair every performance when I sing 'I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair' and the water floats my fake tan away."

"I've bought every brand of sun-tan oil on the market. That doesn't help much when there isn't any sun."

Ranger Rambling

What's going to happen to the false business?

I see by the papers that no longer will a gal have to buy false to give that seductive shape aimed at intriguing men into matrimony and shows of like nature.

Before we get too high on this subject, maybe I better explain like Will Rogers: "All I know is what I read in the newspapers."

But if your daughter in the next few days begins a lift weights don't get worried that she's going out for football.

She's just trying to develop—well, let's call it allure and let it go at that.

Now in case you didn't read the papers, this scoop information comes from backstage of the New York play, "Members of the Wedding." To quote from the story:

"Two actresses said they had found a method to circumvent Nature's annoying habit of short-changing you women. They predicted that the 'false' was on its way to a quick and tearless grave."

"A year ago James Holden, the bridegroom in the play, began to train for what he hoped would be a place on the Olympic weight-lifting team." As a result, he said sheepishly, "I began to develop in the wrong places."

To end the story up rapidly, his wife—who was so beautiful if only—looked on and began to use the weights. She developed a bust from a spare to 30 inches to a neat 36. In three weeks, Janet De Gore, the ingenue of the show, added two inches "to my 'no bust' line."

Holden, who maybe is watching these goings on from a purely objective viewpoint, says that four more young women of the cast are now using his exercising equipment.

As the Prince of Wales, King George IV of Eangland road in and wore 185 horse races, one of which was the English Derby.

THE STORY: Falling in love had not been Clemency's idea when she became a nurse. She had been a secretary to a doctor, but when she became a nurse she had to leave her job.  CLEMENCY had said nothing about finding the nursery open, knowing that it would only cause a row between Syrie and Jon and if acrimonious passages between those two could be avoided, she felt it would be a slight relief. She had warned Loulie to say nothing, but she had every intention of herself of coping with Jon in no uncertain manner at the first opportunity.

"Baba's only got a little cough," Syrie said after visiting the nursery, where Baba was inclined to enjoy being an invalid. "It's ridiculous to keep her in. I've told Loulie she can go out."

"I don't think she should," protested Clemency. "She kicked off her bed clothes last night and got chilled—"

"Nonsense. On a day like this," interrupted Syrie. "The sun will do her good. I have told Loulie to take her out—please see my orders are obeyed."

XXVII
 "DO you think I'd do anything to hurt the child?" Jon demanded, still reeking of liquor. "I'm the only one who cares about her. What'll happen to her, now that Piers is going to give up playing godfather to us all?"

"You have no right to talk about Piers like that," said Clemency.

"I've a right to talk about him any way I like," Jon retorted. "And he's got no right to ask a nice, decent girl like you to marry him."

Some undertone in Jon Amberley's words—which were unpleasant enough by themselves—angry Clemency to anger. It was use arguing with him when he was like this. Although her intention was mounting she was to realize this much. "If you know a my wife ever loved able of loving? Too bad," she demanded.

"I don't know, I Clemency, and I think to know. Do you know a my wife ever loved able of loving? Too bad," she demanded.

ety as she would have liked her to be—(Piers was sure to remember to send for the doctor) and she was alone with her thoughts.

Loving Piers—being loved by him—having each other always. She thought, a little smile touching her lips: I suppose I always knew it would be like this—when it came. I'm glad I never cheated—I'm glad I never cheapened myself. I'm glad every heartbeat—all I am are his.

She turned her head suddenly, conscious that there was someone else in the room, and saw Jon Amberley watching her from the doorway, that half sneer on his face which she had noticed when he watched Syrie yesterday.

"Hello, future sister-in-law," he said, moving forward rather carefully. "I've come to see my daughter."

Obviously, although he was not drunk, he was far from sober.

JON was in the mood to take offense, having had far more to drink than his inexperience guessed. He looked at her truculently. "My kid, isn't she? Or has my wife given orders, or my wife's been frigid?"

"Don't be silly," she said coldly. "Baba's got a bad cold. It she wakes up now she won't get off to sleep again easily. And it's your fault she has got a cold. (Why did you leave the nursery window open last night?)"

Jon looked taken aback at this direct attack. "Me?"

"Yes, you. I came in and found it wide open."

His expression changed to dismay. "I went out on the balcony for a breath of air—it was stifling. It's never stifling in there. The ventilators are always open. I found her with no bed clothes on and chilled through and through."

"My fault. I was a fool."

"Be more careful next time," said Clemency more gently. "A child could get pneumonia that way."

tried to keep her—Clemency—away from him?

She could not have him, but she did not mean anyone else to. That would be like Syrie.

But Piers—his brother's wife? Never! Never!

All her fierce love and loyalty rose up in her. And then a wave of fury against Jon. Piers must be told of what he was accused. Jon should not stay under this roof another moment.

She called Justine to watch Baba and then Clemency forced herself to walk steadily downstairs. She met Ahmed in the hall.

"Colonel Amberley in his study?"

"Yes," the man told her.

She tapped on Piers' door. Receiving no answer, she opened the door and went into the room. The desk lamp was burning, his fountain pen lay on the blotter. There was a half-finished cup of coffee—all the signs that he would be back any moment.

The lifeguard here at the pool loaned me his reflector boards. But what is there to reflect?"

In desperation, Janet said, she mixed up her own special sun-tan concoction. It's got a lot of almond oil, a little witch hazel, a dash of iodine, a pinch of salt and a sprinkling of tannic acid.

"If any sun does come out," she muttered grimly, "I'm ready to trap it down to its last ray."

Meanwhile, she looks awful purty, shivering in that strapless suit, but she smells like a French salad.

SCREEN WRITER ON WAY TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT — Screen writer Dalton Trumbo, wearing horned rimmed glasses, second from left, one of the Hollywood 10, is surrounded by banner carrying boosters as he begins trip from Los Angeles to New York which will end in a Federal Prison. If excessive rainfall has occurred just prior to harvest the potatoes are likely to be covered with small water blisters (small, white elevated spots on the skin). Harvesting should be delayed until these blisters have dried. If the potatoes are harvested when they are 'blistered' heavy losses from rotting may be expected.

The skinned or damaged potatoes should be separated from the others. Potatoes should be handled almost as carefully as eggs.

A cool, well ventilated cellar makes a satisfactory storage place for the crop. It is best not to spread them on the floor or ground. They will keep better if placed on a slatted or wire floor with about four or five inches of air space beneath them. Hay can be used or any arrangement that permits the air to completely encircle the potatoes.

Potatoes should be kept in the dark for light causes the potatoes to turn green in color, making them undesirable.

Very few potatoes were produced in 1949 due to blight, Cooper said. Present prospects are much better for good yields than were obtained last year.

Nation's Problem Named By Bradley In A&M Speech

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., (UP)— Gen Omar Bradley listed the nation's great problem of 1950 as "the determination of the proper course in world affairs and domestic affairs that we must follow."

The chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, speaking to the graduating class of Texas A&M College, warned the students each must solve the problem for his generation "and for generations to come."

The genial general said that 1950 could be the turning point in the relationship of the United States to the rest of the world.

"The events that have taken place in the past decade have brought us face to face with decisions which will affect your lives, the lives of your children in the years to come, and the future of this country."

The nation's future leaders will need faith, strong spirit and generosity to face these problems, Bradley said.

We must continue, rather than limit, any programs which will contribute to peace and reconstruction."

Bradley said nations needing assistance now were those "which have regained economic opportunity, and some worldly goods, but which lack the strength to defend themselves in case of aggression."

"This is a new experience for some of the nations which we befriend, and it is one with which we must sympathize. It is a condition in those nations which we want to help them correct."

"Our great opportunity lies before us in Western Europe, and I feel sure that Americans will give full consideration to continuing the project we have underwritten so far, provided that those nations do everything they can to help

Hints For Home Gardeners Given By County Agent

Home gardeners will soon be digging and storing their spring Irish potato crop. The length of time they can be stored will depend up on where you store them and the condition they are in when they are dug says J. M. Cooper, Eastland County Agricultural Agent.

Let the potatoes mature before digging he says. They can be dug before the tops die, but they should be mature if they are expected to be kept in storage for any length of time. A simple and easy method of checking maturity is to press the thumb against the skin of a few potatoes, if the skin is tough and doesn't break easily, the crop is ready for harvesting.

LET'S GO FISHIN'
By Onoux Dick

Mr. Stevenson reports that E.B. Rainey, of Lake Route, Bradford, Texas had a party of friends from Weatherford which included Rayford Glenn; Joe McGill; Freddie Potter; Otis Wilson; Clip Towns and their families, and some others spent a week-end at Buckhorn and caught 80 catfish. They used minnows and shrimp bait.

Other catches there included Loftis, Aphel Sanders and J.T. Crawford that C.L. Anderson, Jim Gibson, Dallas, caught 18 bass there recently.

Mr. Ed Laney reports from W. Collins, George Striegel, Fritz Foster, Dallas, 4 Bass, one weighing five pounds; Bob Minton, Fort Worth, 4 and one half pound bass; Curtis Burke, Amarillo, 4 bass; H.H. Blake, Fort Worth, one 5 and one half pound bass.

Several other nice catches were made.

Austin, June 8—The current trend among woman folks to help catch what goes into the frying pan is reflected sternly in the May arrest report announced today by the Game, Fish and Oyster Comm.

Two touring women—one from Dallas, the other from Amble—paid $21 including cost for trying to do their bit without the new $1.65 state fishing license. All persons over 17 years of age need licenses when fishing in fresh water beyond their own home area. If they use artificial baits, they need a license everywhere except of course, for fishing in salt water.

Ms. J.C. Stevenson reports from Buckhorn Camp, Possum Kingdom Lake that Paul Allen and a party from Arlington, Texas spent several days there and had 54 catfish, weighing up to eight pounds.

Bob Walker and party from Dallas, caught 40 cats in two days at Buckhorn Camp. Ray Strode, Dallas, caught 12 bass on minnows. Ben Clark, Jay, caught 2 nice bass, one a five and one fourth pounder. Ed Waite, Jay and Mr. Stevenson caught 60 cat fish in five days of fishing.

The Little Things We Notice—
... in preparing your abstract often grow into big things as time passes. For example, if the deed is drawn in a careless manner by an inexperienced person it may be full of errors which will show up in your abstract when it comes time to sell, get a loan or lease for oil and gas. The abstractor must copy the instrument just as he finds it on record. The moral is, have your legal documents drawn carefully and only by experienced conveyancers.

AUSTIN, (Spl.)—Texas' private war on venereal disease among indigents is proceeding in wholesale fashion, with over 95,000 patients having passed through State Health Department rapid treatment centers since the first center was opened in 1943.

This was the word from State Health Officer George W. Cox, who Thursday described the 95,000 as "unlucky enough to have VD, but lucky enough to have gotten attention."

"Untended syphilis can cause heart disease, mental illness, blindness, and other severe physical disabilities," the health official asserted. He asked pointedly, "See why they're lucky?"

Two state supported rapid treatment centers; Rocky Mount Hospital in Overton, and the Mission Medical Center in San Antonio, are maintained by the State Health Department for handling cases of venereal diseases in people unable to pay for private care, Cox said.

Gonorrhea is handled in the VD clinics of local health units, rather than sending the indigents to the RTC's, Cox said.

"State Health Department policy calls for local health unit VD clinics as diagnostic centers," he said. "However, a good many rapid treatment center patients are referred ther by private physicians."

Rapid treatment center personnel conduct patient education via conferences, pamphlets, and motion pictures, which is, Cox said, "one of our most valuable educational processes."

"We learned long ago that educating patients while they are undergoing treatment has more retentive value than any other device we could use."

Ditch Expands Too Fast
MACON, Ga. (UP)—Workmen wanted only to dig a three-foot-wide slit trench, but before they were done they thought they were shovelling a short cut to China. Every time a shovel cut the dirt, the ditch would cave in. The "three-foot ditch" finally stopped at 30-by-35 feet.

BREAKS COURSE RECORD IN NATIONAL OPEN—Lee Mackey, Jr., a little known driving range operator of Birmingham, Ala., kissed one of the balls he used in the record shattering 64 over the Merion Golf Club course in the first round of the National Open at Ardmore, Pa. This clipped three strokes from the first round for the 50 year old tourist.

The wardens were not vindictive. Both made the routine notation that the woman's fishing rights should be restored.

The indiscretions of the woman folks were greedy in the minor according to the Commission's report. Many violations totaled 182. They ranged from poaching deer, ducks, turkey and white winged doves to pollution of state waters. Ten pollution cases brought standard $100 fines plus costs.

Wardens seized 14 persons for hunting or possessing deer. Most of the cases involved night time activity. Fines in these incidents ranged up to $200. Ninety-three charges resulted from fishing law violations. More than one half were because proper licenses were lacking. Two men were charged with having undersized bass.

Two Austin men and one Fort Worth resident paid $23 fines and costs for exceeding the 20-hook trout line limit on Lake Travis. The pair had a 55-hook line. The other had a line with 48 hook.

Big game poachers included: A Menard man who paid $119.70 for possessing venison; an Ozama man who paid $226 on the same charge; a Fort Worth resident who paid $60 for hunting at night; a San Angelo man who was assessed $34 for hunting from a car; a Pledge man, on his third game law violation in -17 months, paid $112 for killing deer after his license had been revoked; a Henderson man who paid $41 for hunting deer at night; an Eagle Lake man who paid $61 for refusing to permit search of his car and for assaulting a warden with his car; and a Tom Ball man who paid $61 after his car was found to contain blood and deer hair.

Fines and court costs for May totaled $4,004.85 as compared to $4,316.68 levied for April.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Bright and airy shoes carry the washability of summer play togs right down to the toes. Carry-alls with waterproof linings make a color match with these cool rubber-soled shoes. All that needs to be done to clean these accessories is to dunk them in suds, rinse and hang up to dry.

White ballet slippers which the model wears (right) owe their sleek fit to a concealed lacing around the top. Black and white striped swagger bag picks up the stripes of the blazer jacket. Casual, wedge-heeled strollers (top left) of Chinese blue have multicolored striped straps across the toes and heels which repeat colors used in the roomy tulip-shaped drawstring bag. Lacerings on the barefoot sandals (lower left) can be removed and other colored ribbons substituted to match play clothes. Thick cork and rubber soles insulate feet from hot sands or rocks.

CURTAIN 8:13 P. M.

THIS CHURCH PAGE IS PUBLISHED WEEKLY WITH THE HOPE THAT MORE PEOPLE WILL GO TO CHURCH. IT IS SPONSORED BY LOCAL BUSINESS FIRMS WHO BELIEVE WE SHOULD ATTEND RELIGIOUS SERVICES REGULARLY.

A world is trying to find its way. Not only dark Africa and the islands of the sea, but also our own Americas must soon find the better way, if the whole globe is to be happy. Better living means not only the good of the individual, but the fellowship of all men of all races and creeds. How can we have peace and plenty and joyous living in the Western Hemisphere? Here are black people and white people, here are red people and brown people and yellow people on the same continent. How can we get on, when we are so different? How can different races live together in mutual helpfulness? How can separate nations assist each other to prosperity and to happiness? How can rival religions tolerate each other? How can we bring peace in the cold warfare of labor and capital? How can nearby communities learn friendliness and mutual respect? How may we have better living in our homes and neighborhoods? Good living anywhere and everywhere? Who can give us help here?

Eager and learning minds go to school and sit under capable teachers. Is there a great Teacher in the art of better living? Look to the Book! Here is direction toward the life of goodness and of wisdom. Give the children the lovely stories, as of Joseph and his brethren, of the birth of Jesus, the never-to-be-forgotten parables. Let the girls and boys reflect on the Proverbs of Solomon, and let them sing the songs of David. If youth could sit at the feet of the Master and learn the Sermon on the Mount, they would have a moral and spiritual constitution for living. Isaiah and Jeremiah and Paul are good and strong meat for all mature women and men. Not one teacher, but many, await the reader of the Book of Books. And somehow, as we read the Book, it becomes for us The Word of God, in which He would lead and bless all His children. Our God speaks to men; they will here tell us what He has said to them; as you read with ears to hear, He may speak to you. Be a regular attendant at your church. Your pastor expects you.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger civic character. Strenuous today declares that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of these perilous times. Thus we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE
"God the Preserver of Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon, which will be read in all Churches of Christ Scientist on Sunday, June 11.
The Golden Text is "Withhold not thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: Let thy loving kindness and by truth continually preserve me" (Psalms 40:11).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee."

Texas Ranks Among Top In Conservation

AUSTIN, (Sp.)—Texas has taken rank with national leaders in conservation education, Everett T. Dawson of the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission Staff reported on his return from a Chicago conference.

Dawson, Game Department Director of Wildlife Conservation and education, presided at the fifth annual national workshop of the National Committee of Policies in Conservation Education. Forty leaders from twenty states attended.

The Texas official said this state with its 24 workshops in colleges and universities is "among the very leaders". Teachers in elementary and secondary schools learn in the workshops how to introduce conservation education into classrooms. Dawson said cities like Waco, Tyler and Austin have been recognized for their model school conservation projects.

The Chicago parley adopted standard policies to guide school administrators, supervisors and teachers in introducing or expanding teaching conservation.

Dawson explained that the trend "points toward emphasis on conservation subjects in all the schools." Importance of education in current activity," he said, "was indicated by Leonard Schwartz, Secretary of the Illinois Conservation Commission." Schwartz told the workshop that new Illinois game wardens are told to expect to spend 10 per cent of their time in law enforcement activities, 25 per cent in public relations and 65 per cent in educational work.

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Step by step will those who trust him find that 'God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble'" (page 444).

One Gal Doesn't Think Football Player Would Be Good Husband, He Would Want "Liniment—Not Love"

By Virginia MacPherson HOLLYWOOD. — (U.P.) A household of Hopeful beauties waiting for their big movie chance killed time today by cooking up a "cold shoulder" pool—and wound up with five famous bachelors they "wouldn't marry if he was the last man—ETC."

Crooner Vic Damone topped the list, followed by millionaire Howard Hughes, G-man J. Edgar Hoover, and football star Glenn Davis.

This will probably come as a refreshing switch to all these gents, who spend most of their time counting would-be wives out of their hair. But they'll get no chasing from the luscious lassies at Hollywood's studio club, where young actresses park their curves between trips to casting offices.

At least, that's what the girls say. "We mean it," added Kay Curtis, who canvassed her house-sisters during a dull morning. "Take Vic Damone, for instance. "Married life with him would be awful. A girl'd have to sleep with one eye open and a baseball bat handy to beat off the competition. A million women are in love with that voice."

The girls put Howard Hughes second, she explained, for the same reason. Too many dames are after the man who's a multi-millionaire and also the boss of a big movie studio.

J. Edgar Hoover gets the "thumbs down" treatment because he's too good at his job.

"Most brids have to fib a little now and then—about the budget and things," she confessed. "But what chance would a girl have with a guy who's the world's best crook-catcher?"

All-American Glenn Davis got a unanimous "no" as a bridegroom because:

"An athlete leaves all his pep and zing behind him on the football field," Kay giggled. "When he comes home he needs liniment—not love."

In addition to its regular train service, British Railways operate 70 hotels, 130 passenger and cargo vessels, 70 docks and harbors, and 34 canals.
