Comms Cave In U. S. Line With Heavy Force

By Robert C. Miller
WITH AMERICAN FORCES ON THE KOREAN FRONT, Korea, July 17 (UP)—The Communists came by the thousands in fanatical, screaming waves, right into American foxholes and beyond.

American artillery fired at point-blank range as fast as it could be loaded, but it couldn't stop them for long.

Neither could U. S. machine-guns who piled up Communist bodies like cordwood in front of their guns.

For every one killed, 10 took his place.

And still they came.

An aid station was enveloped. The North Koreans killed all the wounded, even the chaplain who had stayed behind to comfort the men.

That is how the North Koreans caved in the American line on the Kum river North of Taejon Sunday. They won by sheer weight of numbers. In simple arithmetic, it was hundreds of Americans fighting against thousands, perhaps tens of thousands, of North Koreans.

L. A. A. Dianda of Marquette, Mich., told how it was in the front lines.

"We must have killed 1,000 of them," the young Lieutenant said. "You just couldn't miss."

"We were dug in on a dike along the river," he said. "They opened up on us about 4:30 a. m. Sunday. The fire did not hurt us much, but we had to keep our heads down."

"The first attack came right behind the barrage. This first group of North Koreans carried only knives and hand grenades."

"They swam the river and scrambled up the banks and came right into the foxholes where we were ducking for cover. As fast as they'd clean out one foxhole, they'd move into another in sort of leap-frog fashion."

In this way, Dianda said, the Reds cleared an area of about 300 yards on either side of a vital bridge across the Kum which the Americans had blown up earlier.

"Then came the main attack," he said. "They poured out of the woods on the other side of the river in groups of about 70 yelling, 'Banzici! Banzici!', and running straight at us."

"They were all well-informed and every fifth man carried an automatic weapon. They tried to come through the hole they had made in our front-line defenses but we were ready for them."

"We had the area zeroed in with heavy mortars and artillery and blew them to bits at point-blank range."

"From 6 until 8 a. m., they kept coming out of those woods and we kept blasting away at them."

"They would hold their fire until they were on top of us and then give us the works."

"They pushed through our forward positions, but we caught them with machine-gun fire from our second line of defense along some hills about 500 yards to the rear."

"One machine-gunner must have killed 250 of them in 15 minutes. The Reds piled up like cordwood before his gun."

But the Americans did halt that drive, then started a tank-supported counter-attack and drove the Reds back across the river. By 10 a. m., they were in full retreat.

Then the American flanks caved in and the outnumbered Yanks were engulfed by the Reds hordes.

"It's a miracle any of us got out alive. If you got hit, you kept right on going. There are lots of kids we had to leave back in the rice paddies lying there in the mud as there was no way of getting them out.

"Lots of us didn't know why we were over here fighting, but now we know, we're going to even the score and give those blankety blanks the lesson they deserve."

"Lots of good Americans have to be avenged, and we are going to do it, no matter how long it takes."

Wallace Comes Out For US Korean Stand

NEW YORK, July 17 (UP)—Henry A. Wallace will step down as Progressive Party leader if the rank and file oppose overwhelmingly his stand on Korea, he told the United Press yesterday by telephone from his south Salem, N. Y. farm.

"We'll just have to wait and see," he said. Asked what he would do if the party membership opposed his stand on Korea, Wallace replied:

"That question automatically answers itself. Nobody could lead a group that was overwhelmingly in disagreement with his policies."

Wallace, who polled 1,157,172 votes in 1948 when he ran for President on the Progressive Party slate, Saturday declared himself "on the side of the U. S. and the UN" in the Korean war and blamed Russia for North Korea's invasion of South Korea.

The National committee of the Progressive Party meanwhile adopted a policy statement which did not say which side it was on and blamed no one for the Korea war.

Nation To Get Higher Taxes; Burdensome Wartime Controls If Korean Fighting Continues

By Lyle C. Wilson
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 17 (UP)—It was obvious here today that the nation will be asked to accept higher taxes and many burdensome wartime controls unless spending and time limits speedily are fixed for the Korean fighting.

Controls and taxes may be proposed piecemeal because this is a campaign year. But on the basis of President Truman's record in office, here is what to expect if the Korean breaks continue against us:

1. A Presidential request that Congress boost taxes by an overall $400,000,000 or more.
2. That Congress authorize the government to build steel plants and other facilities if private initiative fails to do so.
3. Installment buying and perhaps real estate credit controls to close the easy purchase markets.
4. Strict priorities and allocations authority for transportation and key materials.
5. Standby power to impose price ceilings on scarce and vital commodities and wage controls of some kind.
6. Renewed Administration pressure for extension of rent control.
7. Enormous emergency appropriations for national defense.

Truman has asked for all of the foregoing, except emergency appropriations, before. In 1947-48-49 he bombarded Congress with messages along those lines. Congress accepted some of the numerous anti-inflation proposals fired at Capitol Hill but balked at most of them.

Rep. Arthur G. Klein, D., N. Y., told newsmen he will introduce a bill today that would restore the President's World War II authority over rationing, raw materials and wages.

But many members of Congress, including some of Truman's own lieutenants, were convinced there is no need for such action now.

Police Search For Boys Who Stoned House

HOUSTON, July 17 (UP)—Police searched today for two carloads of young boys who stoned the residence of Texas Communist Leader James J. Green and left a warning for "Comms" to "cease activity."

Green was not at home yesterday when the youths started the rock barrage. One stone ripped through a window into the living room of the Communist Leader, but two others missed their mark and broke windows in an upstairs apartment occupied by another family.

Police found one brick on the front porch wrapped in paper and addressed "to the Comms". Inside the wrapping, another message read: "Warning to the Comms, cease activities at once. Veterans and mothers and fathers of sons who gave their lives in World War Two."

Warm War In Short

WASHINGTON, July 17 (UP)—Sen. Edward Martin, R., Pa., blames "inept, stupid blundering" by the State department for the Korean war.

In his weekly radio broadcast to Pennsylvania constituents, he said the United States "do-nothing" policy in China led Russian leaders "to believe they had a free pass into Formosa and South Korea."

He also assailed U. S. officials who had claimed the South Koreans were well prepared to meet any challenge from the North.

WASHINGTON, July 17 (UP)—Youngjeung Kim, president of the Korean affairs institute, wants the United Nations to take over the South Korean government because, he says, the present regime is "wholly unpopular."

In a letter to UN Secretary General Trygve Lie, Kim said defeat of the Communist North Koreans would be only a "temporary solution" of Korean problems. He urged creation of a UN group to take immediate control of South Korea's civilian government.

WASHINGTON, July 17 (UP)—GOP Sens. Owen Brewster, Me., and Leverett Saltonstall, Mass., and Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D., Ill., have warned that Americans "must tighten their belts" to help the war effort.

Speaking on the "meet your Congress" forum over radio station WINX, Brewster said the Korean campaign should be financed on a pay-as-you-go basis which probably would lead to higher taxes and some production controls. Saltonstall and Douglas agreed.

WASHINGTON, July 17 (UP)—The Civil Service Commission said today that all permanent government employees who enter the armed services will be guaranteed reemployment rights.

The commission said this holds true for reservists called to active duty, draftees and persons who enlist voluntarily.

WASHINGTON, July 17 (UP)—President William Green has pledged the AFL's full cooperation in "all-out preparedness" to meet Communist aggression.

He said in an editorial written for the AFL publication, American Federationist, the fighting may be "localized" in Korea for the moment but it is "only a question of time until the inevitable happens."

HOUSTON, July 17 (UP)—The Houston Press, in a front-page editorial, today urged that the United States prepare itself for "deadly danger" by calling up National Guard and Armed Forces reserves immediately.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 17—Yugoslavia offered today to make peace with Russia and the Cominform on a basis of mutual respect.

Reconnaissance Is Carried Out Over China Coast

TOKYO, July 17 (UP)—U. S. Naval air reconnaissance is being carried out over the Southeast China coast and the Formosa strait to guard against Chinese Communist attacks on Formosa, Gen. Douglas MacArthur said yesterday in a communique.

The communique said the reconnaissance operations by the American fleet also would prevent air and sea operations against the China mainland by "the government of Formosa" (Chinese Nationalists).

BULLET

WASHINGTON (UP)—Vice President W. Barkley said today in a message to Congress that the war is still on.

Gen. MacArthur Asks Press To Censor Itself

TOKYO, July 17 (UP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur called upon the press today to censor war news itself and leave the Army free to fight battles.

He made known his views in commenting the Chicago Sun-Times for announcing that during the Korean war emergency it will not report the departure and nature of American troop movements from U. S. ports.

At the same time, a dispatch from Korea disclosed that Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commander of the Eighth Army, had ordered Marguerite Higgins, New York Herald-Tribune war correspondent, out of the Korean theatre of operations.

An order from U. S. Army headquarters in Korea said Miss Higgins was to proceed immediately to rear area headquarters and thence to Japan. No reason was given for her expulsion.

Miss Higgins said she would confer with Walker to see if the order could be rescinded.

MacArthur yesterday lifted the ban his press relations officer, Col. M. P. Echols, had imposed on Peter Kalischer of United Press, and Tom Lambert of Associated Press returning to the Korean front.

MacArthur said he had decided to permit the two newsmen to return to Korea because he had confidence in their judgment because they and their bureau chiefs were friends of his.

He said he did not have to go into details of the matter. He said he was about one connected with the operations still holding or formal press censorship.

All planes returned safely even though anti-aircraft fire was encountered on both raids and several Yak fighters were sighted near Seoul.

The communiqué said that reconnaissance photographs taken after the Seoul mission showed that shops in the marshalling yards were "in flames and through tracks severed."

"Other buildings in the yards were damaged and on fire," the communiqué said. "One of the flights reported seeing several Yak fighters but stated they moved out of range upon spotting the B-29's."

Meantime the Far East Air Forces said seven B-29 airmen rescued by a British Naval unit were crewmen of a super fortress shot down by two Yak fighters west in Inchon July 12.

The plane referred to was the first superfort lost to enemy action.

Previously five airmen from a B-29 forced to ditch in the Japan sea on the east coast of Korea July 13 were reported picked up.

No names were given in the Air Forces announcement regarding the latest rescue.

Sportsmen Urged To Lend A Hand By Confederation

He branded "false" the notion that Texas has unlimited hunting.

Premier Plans Refining Unit At Fort Worth

Officials of Premier Oil Refining Company of Texas have just announced from the Longview Texas office that the company will install a new platforming unit at its Fort Worth refinery.
Contracts have been let and construction will proceed as rapidly as possible. Construction on an enlarged Polymerization unit is already well along at Premier's Arp Texas plant.

According to R. F. Hargis, president of Premier, the platforming process at its Fort Worth plant will be the first of its type to be built in the State of Texas, and it represents the latest advancement in petroleum processing equipment.

The Platforming process was discovered and developed by Universal Oil Products Company of Chicago who have been responsible for many developments in refining process facilities. This latest process is unique in that it employs percentages of Platinum in the catalyst, yet operating cost are not excessive because the Platinum is recoverable when the catalyst becomes inactive.

Platforming is essentially a reforming process that is capable of increasing the Octane rating and other performance characteristics of gasoline. Blending stocks from the Premier unit at the Fort Worth plant will be transported to, and blended with gasolines being produced at Premier's other three Texas plants located at Baird, Arp and Longview, Texas.

This program will make the quality of gasoline available at all four of Premier's Texas refineries among the best in the petroleum industry and Premier will be in a position to meet the anticipated higher quality gasoline requirements of its customers throughout its entire marketing area.

Nuptial Shower, Tea Compliments Miss Ussery, Bride Of Paul Mathis

Complimenting Miss Leola Ussery, who was married to Paul Mathis Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist Church, the Amelia Class of the First Baptist Church entertained last Thursday evening with a nuptial shower and tea at the home of Mrs. C. C. Harris, 605 Young Street.

The hostesses were Meses. F. R. King, Harris, W. H. Gay and Allan Smith.

Mrs. Harris greeted the guests at the door and presented each to the honoree, Miss Ussery, and her mother, Mrs. John Ussery, and Mrs. Anna Mae Mathis, mother of the bridegroom.

Miss Sandra Peterson registered the guests in the bride's book. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and decorated with an arrangement of pink and white asters. Misses Mary Joy Wilson and Melba Jean Nowell presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Allan Smith was in charge of the gifts which were displayed in the bedroom.

A large group of friends of the couple called during the evening.

Houston Nails Title Of Big City Of Dixie

HOUSTON, July 17 (UP)—Houston, with a population of 593,600 today nailed down the title of "largest city in Dixie." The figure was released last night by District Census Supervisor George F. Findlay only 24 hours after it was revealed that Area census supervisor James Stroud was moving into Houston from Dallas to take over the headcount and speed returns.

Teeming, industrial Harris County is the biggest population center of the biggest state, Findlay announced, with a population of 801,169, far over early guesses of 700,000 to 750,000.

Thus, the bustling port city displaces historic New Orleans as the South's Queen city. The New Orleans 1950 population is 368,878 for the city proper, and 682,658 for the metropolitan area.

The new figure for Houston is an increase of 208,486, or more than 54 per cent over the city's 1940 population of 384,514, and ranks Houston fourteenth among the nation's cities, trailing Milwaukee.

Houston and Harris County had been the stumbling block in the Texas census count for weeks.

Mrs. Gerald Lee Complimented At Shower Friday

Complimenting Mrs. Gerald Lee, who was married here recently, Mrs. William Lee entertained with a miscellaneous shower Friday evening at her home, 1109 Foch Street.

Mrs. Lee Greeted the guests at the door and presented them to the honoree, Mrs. Gerald Lee.

For the occasion the home was decorated with garden flowers. A large group of friends called during the evening and presented the honoree with a lovely shower of gifts.

Back in the Early Days—

... this country was surveyed in most part by the railroads to uniform and regular blocks or tracts. Tracts not so surveyed are usually irregular in size and description and are far more difficult to abstract and more expensive. But whether your property be a ranch spreading across the hills or a cottage by the side of the road, we find it by a system of abstracting unexcelled in this area. And by getting the best you also have the cheapest.

Other units will go on a three-day bivouac, living under field conditions, next week.

The big event of the week was set for Saturday morning, when the division will stage a review in honor of Gov. Allan Shivers.

Yesterday's tactical move into the camp was accomplished without serious trouble. However, high winds battered pilots of light liaison aircraft hovering over canyons, and the hot Texas sun burned the skin of the citizens-turned-soldier.
