WALKER PREDICTS BUTCHERY IF ANY FURTHER BACKING UP

Taft Says Opposes M'lization

WASHINGTON, July 29 (UP)—Chairman Robert A. Taft, O., of the powerful Senate GOP policy committee, said today he is "absolutely opposed" to Bernard M. Baruch's total economic mobilization plan.

Taft said the 80-year-old Baruch's proposal for strict wage, price, rent and rationing controls goes entirely too far. He is opposed even to President Truman's more moderate program.

But despite Taft's opposition, sentiment was growing for the Baruch plan among both Republican and Democratic legislators. Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas, Ill., predicted it would receive considerable support if it comes up for a vote on the Senate floor.

Navy — Launches drive to recruit 70,000 skilled construction men as standby seabase reserve.

Air Force — Says it will order 50 reserve chaplains to duty; plans to call undischarged number of reserve WA's—women of the Air Force.

Security — Senate completes Congressional action on bill to let Coast Guardsmen search foreign ships entering U. S. waters.

Stockpiling — President Truman asks Congress for an extra $600,000,000 to stockpile critical materials.

Rubber — Truman orders several synthetic rubber plants re-opened.

Sen. John J. Sparkman, D., Ala., said he would urge the Senate banking committee Monday to incorporate Baruch's drastic curbs in President Truman's somewhat softer control bill.

Eyewitness Account

SERGEANT ALTON WALKER REPORTS ON HOW THINGS ARE WITH NATIONAL GUARD

Editor's Note: The following is a report on the part the local National Guard unit is playing in war exercises at Fort Hood. Sergeant Alton W. Walker, son of Hall Walker, wrote the eyewitness report. In his own words, it follows:

Service battery arrived at North Camp Hood July 16, 1950 at 5:00. The first job we had to do was to put up the tents and draw bedding before the troops could retire for the night. The next day was to clean up the area that we were going to call our home for the next two weeks. In what looked like a cattle pasture one and one-half weeks ago, you now can see 500 twelve-man tents and 4,500 men belonging to the 49th Armored Division of the Texas National Guard living in an area about the size of Ranger.

Wednesday morning the 648th armored E. A. Co., left North Camp Hood for a three day stay in the field. The first job to do, after arriving in the field was to camouflage the trucks from air attack and set up our defense against enemy troops. We set up our field

Not Dunkirk—Alamo? GENERAL WALKER COMMANDS AMERICAN TROOPS TO STAND AND FIGHT OR DIE

By Gene Symonds
United Press Staff Correspondent
WITH THE U. S. 25TH DIVISION, Korea, July 29 (UP)—Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, Seventh Army commander in Korea, told his forces today to stop retreating and fight to the death to hold what they have.

The men who must defend the foxholes answered that they would. Walker said there would be no Korean Dunkirk. Should the Americans be thrown back to their aid and supply port of Pusan, he said, "There will be a butchery such as there has never been in history."

"We have retreated our last step," he said in a fiery front-line speech reminiscent of some made by his own former commander, the late Gen. George S. (Blood and Guts) Patton.

"We cannot afford to go back any further. In fact, there is no place left for us to withdraw to—every man must fight to the death if necessary until help arrives."

Walker laid down the law to headquarters officers of the 25th division, part of his U. S. eighth army, and told them to relay his words to all Americans fighting in Korea.

Walker said he was "damn sick and tired" of hearing the phrase, "withdrawing for the purpose of readjusting our lines."

"By God," he exclaimed angrily, "There aren't going to be any more readjustments—except forward."

Services Set For M. Peery 2:30 Sunday

Services for Mack J. Peery, Mineral Wells, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday in the Morris Funeral home chapel, Ranger.

Rev. L. T. Aultman of the Ingwood Heights Baptist church, Fort Worth, will officiate.

Peery was born in Blanco county in 1881. He had lived in the Ranger vicinity for 30 years. He was a Methodist and Mason.

Survivors include the following: His wife, whom he married in 1901, the former Miss Clara Wedekind; five children—Neville, and Mrs. Ronnie Jones of Ranger; Cecil of Fort Worth; Lloyd of Mineral Wells; and Mrs. R. A. Barr of Odessa; a brother, Jim of San Antonio and two sisters—Mrs. Susie Crider, Ranger and Mrs. Dennis Williams, Millersview.

Self, Jr. Set To Preach At Local Church

Reverend Joe P. Self, Jr., will conduct services at the First Baptist church Sunday. Self is a graduate of Hardin Simmons university.

He was chaplain in the Army for six years. He has been active in the ministry for the past sixteen years.

WALKER SAID THERE WILL be "no Dunkirk, no Batavia—no forced withdrawal by sea from Korea."

"There is to be no retreat," he repeated. "We must fight to the death to hold what we have. We cannot think of giving ground to the enemy and any man who does give ground will be personally responsible for the death of thousands of his buddies."

"We are going to win. Nothing is going to stop us. But every man must fight to the death if necessary until help arrives."

"MacArthur knows where we are and what we will have to fight with. We are fighting for time. We have reached the limit of our withdrawal."

"If the general says do it, by God we will do it—to the last man," a Lieutenant Colonel said.

WEATHER

By United Press
The weatherman had good news for most of Texas today. He said the rain which has plagued North and West Texas during the early part of the week was on the way out. A few scattered thunder-showers may be expected in both East and West Texas over the week end. But, generally, the weather will be dry.

The only precipitation reported to the Dallas weather bureau early this morning was in extreme Northeast Texas—around Texarkana.

Fifteen-year-old Noel July today is fighting crippling arthritis with the aid of $110 from the Baptist church.

But Noel, bound to his bed, will need much more help from Ranger people to beat the disease. And there's a new medicine which has already helped several arthritis victims that can help Noel if he can get it.

The medicine costs $10 a day for about a 100 days. And Noel's folks can't have that much money.

His mother, Mrs. Dick Noel July, has been working. But she is no longer able to do so as she must stay with Noel now.

Homefront Hit By Wartime Boom In Prices

Government Figures Show Public Buying Forcing Prices Up

By Charlotte G. Moulton
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 29 (UP)—The U. S. economic homefront was marked today with all the signs of a wartime boom, including rising prices and employment, record sales and hoarding.

Government figures showed that shoppers were out on a buying spree to lay in big supplies of consumer goods and the heavy purchasing was forcing prices steadily upward. At the same time, stepped-up defense production was absorbing the jobless.

The Bureau of Labor statistics reported that wholesale prices of commodities on its "sensitive list" climbed 3.8 per cent. Eleven of the 28 commodities stood at their highest levels of the year.

SOME INDIVIDUAL COMMODITIES made spectacular gains, the Bureau said. Rubber prices jumped 68.4 per cent in the past five weeks.

The Agriculture department disclosed that farm prices rose 6 1/2 per cent between June 15 and July 15 to reach their highest point in a year and a half. Livestock prices rose the most, foreshadowing even higher retail meat prices.

These disclosures followed a recent Federal Reserve board report that department store sales last week skyrocketed a record 46 per cent above the level for the same week in 1949. During the first month of the Korean war, the board said, sales climbed 22 per cent above the same period last year.

SUGAR WAS THE PRIZE item of the hoarders. Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan took steps yesterday to convince these unpatriotic buyers that sugar hoarding is a waste of time. He announced that the United States is negotiating to buy another 150,000 tons of sugar from Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands and perhaps an extra 100,000 tons from Hawaii.

Under the pressure of increased business activity and stepped up defense production, unemployment appeared on the wane. Director Robert C. Goodwin of the bureau of employment security said industrial mobilization for the Korean war already is reflected in most production centers. He predicted employment would continue to rise throughout the summer.

Goodwin said so sharp a job upswing was reported just prior to the outbreak of war that nine areas were dropped from the Bureau's list of communities with critically serious unemployment problems. There are now 22 such areas—spots with 12 per cent or more of the labor force jobless—compared to 43 in January.

Americans Stop Reds In Center

MacArthur Spokesman Says Reds Have Lost 31,000 Troops So Far; They're Drafting South Koreans

By Earnest Hoberecht
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, Sunday, July 30 (UP)—American troops, inspired by a fighting no-retreat order from their commanding general, held their positions today along the blazing 200-mile Korean front.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur said in his midnight summary that "increasing numbers of United Nations ground units" have contained the Communist threat on the Southern front, where the North Koreans had thrust to within 50 air line miles of the American base port of Pusan.

It had been reported earlier that American units from Okinawa had been rushed into the battle on the Southern front.

On the central front, where the Communists are swinging their heaviest punch in an effort to break through and drive U. S. forces into the sea before reinforcements can arrive, MacArthur reported two American divisions had hurled back repeated enemy drives.

"There was no appreciable change in the vital central sector of fighting, where the best Communist divisions are employed," MacArthur said. "Repeated attempts to break through defensive positions of the 1st cavalry and 25th division troops have been thrown back."

Lt. Gen. WALTON H. WALKER, American commander in Korea, warned his men to halt their retreats or face annihilation. He said in a grim speech at the front that there will be no Korean Dunkirk—no last minute evacuation by sea. The Americans, he said, must stand now or be butchered at Pusan.

MacArthur confirmed that the Red columns, encircling the American positions on the South, have advanced as far East as Kecheang, which is only 40 miles Southwest of the American defense base of Taegu.

ALTHOUGH THE COMMUNISTS sweep along the coast made "little progress" today, MacArthur said it had rolled 10 miles East of Haejong.

On the East coast, South Korean troops made slight gains in the fighting around Yongdok, 88 miles North of Pusan, but the enemy still held the town. Five and eight-inch guns from U. S. Naval vessels continued to blast at the Communists in the area.

IN THE MOUNTAINS 40 TO 50 miles Northwest of Yongdok, the Communists were putting new (Continued on Page Six)

SITUATION IN KOREA

When military forces of the Communist government of North Korea invaded the new Republic of Korea on Sunday morning, June 25, people of peace-loving nations saw their negotiations to establish Korean independence burst in the flames of war.

Japanese first invaded it with a large army in 1912, but were thrown out by Korean and Chinese forces. Until the latter part of the nineteenth century Korea was largely under the political and cultural influence of China. In 1894-95 Japan eliminated Chinese influence by force of arms.

At Cairo (1945), United States, China, and Great Britain promised that Korea would be free and independent. The Soviet Union agreed to it when it entered the Pacific War against Japan in August 1945.

BALANCING YOUR ACCOUNT

EVERYONE is interested as the seal performs his feat; for underneath is the slumbering concern that we may do as well at the end of the month, at Income Tax time, and ever at the close of the year, perhaps looking forward to the final settlement at the end of life itself.

BALANCING the account is never finished, as life goes on from one accounting time to another; the bank statement for the current month begins by unbalancing what we did only thirty days ago. Life is ever seeking a new form of achievement, giving us another set of figures to wrestle with. So we must look forward, with whatever anxiety we may feel, to the next accounting.

THE seal has succeeded well, but it did not do it the first time. Practice, hour after hour, made success possible. Try, try and try again; that is the rule of accounting. The man who has learned to make a daily check-up is well on the way to a successful weekly accounting. Children shy away from the test, as if it were something unreal, a form of persecution concocted by school teachers. Happy is the man who learns early that life needs continual checking and accounting. Happy is he too, if he forms the habit of making careful accounting, because he wants to know day by day how his account stands.

FINANCIAL accounts worry us perhaps out of proportion. Our really important accounting is with the inner person himself. Have I more friends than last year at this time? If not, why am I failing in friendship making? How do I stand in the matter of love and peace of mind and self-respect? Have I a firmer grip on my temper, better poise in meeting and dealing with my fellows? Is there more of genuine quality about my character than before? How am I doing as a man in the midst of his fellows? How much confidence does my family have in me? How much of happiness do we share together? Do I speak more kindly and smile more sincerely? The Church will help you in balancing the most important of all accounts.

Back in the Early Days—
... this country was surveyed in most part by the railroads into uniform and regular blocks or tracts. Tracts not so surveyed are usually irregular in size and description and are far more difficult to abstract and more expensive. But whether your property be a ranch spreading across the hills or a cottage by the side of the road, we find it by a system of abstracting unequalled in this area. And by getting the best you also have the cheapest.

200 Lucky Ones LOST BATTALION RETURNS FROM DEAD, LED BY LITTLE 10-YEAR-OLD SOUTH KOREAN BOY

By Peter Kalscher
United Press Staff Correspondent
ON THE YONGDONG FRONT IN KOREA, July 28 (UP)—A "lost battalion" of 200 Americans staggered out from behind enemy lines last night, led to safety by a 10-year-old South Korean boy. Included in the American group which "came back from the dead" were American wounded and one likely appendicitis victim, carried on litters by South Koreans.
The ordeal began Tuesday when the Americans were cut off by a Communist roadblock south of Yongdong.
John W. Jackson of Richlands, Va. (rank unavailable), his face gray and drawn from exhaustion, told how the group twice tried to get through the enemy roadblock but couldn't make it.
Wednesday morning they headed south and dodged through mortar, machine-gun and rifle fire, plus "almost continuous sniper fire."
At mid-day Wednesday the Yanks managed to surprise some North Koreans in a town south of Yongdong.
"Here we did ourselves some good—we got plenty of them," Jackson said.
The Americans lost their tanks when the road narrowed down so much that the Yanks couldn't get through. The tanks were blown up by their own crews so the enemy couldn't use them.
"We hadn't had anything to eat since the night before," Jackson said. "We kept climbing mountains and down gullies. The people were friendly but sometimes we had to get tough to get litter bearers for the wounded."
For a day and a half, Jackson said, the party had no water.
"About the middle of the second day we got the biggest thrill yet," Jackson said. "We were spotted by U. S. observation planes and later five of them came over and dropped food and medicine and blood plasma."
The plasma was administered to the wounded by Pfc. James Reynolds of Guntersville, Ala., a medical corpsman. Reynolds personally shepherded the suspected ap-pressure along the Yongju-Andong and Tanyan-Yechon axis. MacArthur said the enemy made "slight gains" in those two drives.

Walker said that any Communist breakthrough to Pusan would lead to "a butchery of Americans" such as there has never been in history.
In Tokyo, a spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur estimated that American and South Korean forces already have killed or wounded 31,000 North Korean troops. He said altogether 500 North Korean prisoners have been taken by the American and South Korean forces.
The Communist command is drafting both North and South Koreans to fill the gap in their battle line, he said, and some are being flung into the fighting with only four days' training.

Fifty Killed In Brazilian Plane Crash

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, July 29 (UP)—Fifty persons, including one American, were killed last night in Brazil's worst airplane disaster.
A Panair Do Brazil four-engine Constellation struck a high tension wire and crashed in flames on a hill as it was coming in for a landing at Porto Alegre, 700 miles South of here.
The American was Ralph Motley, 48, of Richmond, Ind., head of the Atlantic Refining Company in Brazil, a long time resident of this country.
The company, an affiliate of Pan American World Airways, said the plane was on a routine flight from Rio De Janeiro to Porto Alegre.

General—

Walker took over command of the 20th corps in France during World War II when Patton was promoted to commander of the Third army. When Walker was raised to Lieutenant General, Patton gave him the rank of three stars which he in turn had received from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.
A grizzled old Master Sergeant, Richard Collins, of Dothan, Ala., who has been in the Army 27 years, said: "I really believe our outfit can hold now."
"I don't like that running, no way," said a taciturn medic who refused to give his name.
An executive officer, a Major, said he felt his men had been carrying out the order before the General made it, with past withdrawals being merely adjusting to better positions.
"It's being done," he said. "We didn't run from those positions. We fought all the way back."
Pressed as to whether he thought his unit would stand where it is, the Major said it would, but added: "They are sacrificing some pretty good boys in there."
A battalion Sergeant Major, James Blockshear said: "I think we should, I'm ready to try and hold them."
Pvt. Thomas Young, an ammunition bearer from Philadelphia, said: "I think he should have said that a long time ago."
Asked whether he and his buddies were ready to stand and hold even against superior numbers, Young said: "I think they are ready. Most of them have been ready for a long time. I think we can hold them."
"We kicked them pretty good yesterday, and I think we can keep on," Young's gunner, Fred Caraway, of Dallas, said. "That's what we wanted all along. I didn't see any reason for running yesterday. They can't beat us. We got too much power for them. I think the General was right."
WALKER, A SQUARE-JAWED Texan, resembles Patton more than his speech. He, too, love tanks and likes to swagger around with a couple of revolvers strapped to his hips. But his return figure contrasts with Patton's trim form.
