Bulldogs To Open Season At Hobbs

The Ranger Bulldogs will start practice here August 15. The Bulldogs open the season in a non-conference game with Hobbs, N. M., there, September 8. The New Mexico team won the state championships last year, remaining undefeated and without a single tie game.

For September 15, the Bulldogs have scheduled Weatherford, Class AA.

The first home game for the local team will be with Bowie, September 22. Ranger Football Coach O. C. (Stubby) Warden predicted that Bowie would have another fine team this year.

Bowie was the only non-conference team to beat Ranger last year. It won its district in 1949.

Brady, already rated one of the better teams in the state by preseason prognosticators, is the last non-conference team scheduled by the Bulldogs. The two will meet September 29, there.

Coach Warden pointed out that the Brady team's halfback won the state 100 yard dash track event this spring. Siding him is a 250 pound fullback by the name of Samuel.

October 6, the Bulldogs will enter conference competition, meeting Cisco here, October 13, Dublin there, October 20, Comanche there, October 27, Hamilton, here; November 3, Delson, there; November 11, Eastland, here.

Warden said that he has only two first stringers back from last year. But he pointed out that his boys are hefty though green. He expressed a coach's optimism.

You May Be Awful Wide

BUT YOU AREN'T SO FAST, LEANS CRACK AT FATS; BUSINESSMEN TO CLASH HERE MONDAY NIGHT TO PAY FOR STADIUM JOB

By Rambler

"Ha, those Leans haven't got a chance," H. C. Henderson, captain of the Ranger Fat businessmen's softball team, said today.

The HIG wheel of the big team of businessmen looked down his nose at Lean Captain Bruce Maddox today, gurgled pleasantly in his broadside and snorted. "You Leans can't put on enough weight by Monday to be able to hit the ball anywhere. We won't even use an outfield against you."

Both teams are heavily loaded with brass and men—though the Fats are packing more weight for the benefit game Monday night.

The Quarterback club thought up the match in order to pay for getting the football stadium painted.

J. A. Bates is the Leans' co-captain. Bran Garner, who outran a slimmer Ranger citizen down main street a couple years back is the Fat's co-captain. Garner has made no statement on how he figures to keep his pants up as his belly shrinks going around the bases.

Some Belgians Don't Like Crown Prince

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 11 (UP)—Crown Prince Baudouin became King of the Belgians in all but name today in ceremonies disrupted by smoke-bombing, a fist fight and Communist shouts.

The disorders reflected the deep disaffection which forced Baudouin's father, King Leopold III, to yield power to his son.

The shy, bespectacled Prince was sworn in as "Prince Royal" at 3:12 p. m. Before a special joint session of Parliament which earlier had voted unanimously to give the 19-year-old Baudouin royal powers.

AS THE PRINCE STOOD ready to take the oath, Communist Secretary General Edgar Lalmand shouted the anti-Royalist slogan "Vive La Republique!" A Social Christian deputy standing next to Lalmand immediately punched him starting a fist fight which delayed proceeding for four minutes.

Earlier, a disgruntled nobleman tossed a smoke bomb at Socialists in the Parliament chamber in protest against the Socialist campaign of sabotage, strike sand riots which "defeated" Leopold.

Baudouin will reign as a virtual regent until his 21st birthday, Sept. 7, 1951, when his father's formal abdication will make him King.

Submarine Base May Exist In Guatemala

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 11 (UP)—A Russian submarine base may exist on the northern coast of Guatemala, a prominent Guatemalan exile reported today.

Manuel Cobos Batres, leader of recent anti-government demonstrators in Guatemala, said a current rumor in his country places the base "somewhere near Peten," near the Guatemala-British Honduras border. He said the base probably consists of a refueling station with large supplies of oil and fuel.

"The Americans know of it," said Cobos. "One of their airplanes flying near it crashed last year while observing the area."

Wallace Says Stalin Wanted Peace In '48

NEW YORK, Aug. 9 (UP)—Henry Wallace admitted last night that he was Communist in his Progressive party, which he abandoned this week, but said "they didn't care for my doctrine anyway."

Speaking on the Mutual Broadcasting System's reporters' round-up program, the former Vice President said he did not think the Communists were running the Progressive party when he was its Presidential candidate in 1948.

Council To Charter Bus For Hobbs Game

Cheer leaders and the Athletic council of Ranger plan to charter two buses to take parents, students and Ranger High School football fans to the Ranger-Hobbs, New Mexico game, September 8.

The round trip will cost $5.45. It will leave Friday morning and return after the game.

A spokesman for the council said that all wishing to go should contact Seeborg Hightower at the Texas Electric company office or any of the school's cheer leaders before August 18.

COMMUNISTS REACH TO WITHIN MILE OF BEST US AIR FIELD

280 Dancers Expected To Come Tonight

E. N. Varner, emcee of the Promenaders Square Dance Round-up, set for tonight, predicted that 25 or more squares would attend.

Callers are coming from Fort Worth, Brownwood, Cisco, Byrds, Perrin, Palo Pinto, Breckenridge, Hamilton and Meridian.

THE ROUNDUP IS THE Second area wide square dance to be held here this year.

The dance has swept the country in the past two years. California as usual with the state started the craze. College circles picked it up. And then everybody was doing it.

AFICIANDOS OF THE DANCE say that you can't drink and keep up with "Turkey in the Straw." They point to the liveliness of the tunes, the quick thinking necessary to follow the calls in support of the statement.

The dance will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 at the Recreation hall. Admission is a dollar per couple for the dancers; 25 cents for kibitzers.

Russians Hold Trump Card By Ability To Pick Time, Place To Start Diversions Of Choice

By Harry Ferguson

UP Foreign News Editor

One of the trump cards the Russians hold in their long-range program for world domination is their ability to create a diversion at any time and place they choose. They get the attention of the world fixated on one spot and then quietly go to work to push their plans somewhere else.

Most experts now think the Berlin blockade was nothing but a Soviet diversion. The Russians got the eyes of the world fixed on Germany and then organized the Communist conquest of China.

When it became clear that the Chinese Reds were going to be able to drive Chiang Kiashek off the mainland of China, the Berlin blockade was lifted.

Korea may be a diversion, too. The Soviet thinking may run along the lines that the United Nations will get their strength committed to the Far East and thereby leave Western Europe vulnerable to attack—either by Russian or satellite armies.

A familiar voice spoke up on that general subject today, Winston Churchill took the floor at the meeting of the European assembly and made one of his famous "it is later than you think" speeches. The European assembly consists of 15 nations. It is meeting in Strasbourg, France, to try to work out a plan for a unified defense against the threat of Communist aggression.

So far the assembly has had slow going. It is faced with all the disrupting factors that handicap nations when they try to act in concert—national rivalries, differing economies and a fear that anybody who takes too positive a stand will antagonize the Russians.

Churchill tried to cut through all those difficulties. He proposed in a formal resolution, that Western Europe create one big army and that all the 15 nations throw their resources into a common pool under a unified command. That is the only way, he warned, to prevent World War III.

CHURCHILL MADE THESE points:

1. The Russian armed forces at the points of crisis in Europe outnumber the Western Democracies at least six to one.

2. The only realistic defense move made against the Russians so far has been the establishment of American air bases in England. "We are still under the shield of the Atomic bomb, possessed in formidable quantities by the United States alone," he said.

The two chief danger points in

US Troops Rush To Front To Try And Save Air Base From KoReds; North Koreans Hold Bridgehead

By Earnest Hoberecht

United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Saturday, Aug. 12 (UP)—Tank supported U. S. and South Korean defenders today staved off Communist troops driving toward the best Allied airport in Korea. The Reds have captured the port of Pohang, and now are trying to seize the nearby airfield.

The Communists are within one mile of the main runway of the airport, which is six miles south of Pohang. They blasted it with artillery set up only a mile and a half away.

But U. S. Troops rushed to the Pohang sector and a crack outfit of South Koreans absorbed the first impact of the Communist onrush and early today they were clinging grimly to the field. A brisk battle touched off by Allied counter-punches died down somewhat toward midnight.

Communist guerrillas ambushed a U. S. relief column speeding toward Pohang, including a score of tanks, but part of the force broke through and went directly into the airport battle last night. The Allied forces braced, and the enemy drive was checked.

At the other end of the beachhead line on the south coast, American troops closed in on the transport junction of Chinju, and authorities reported that the North Koreans were fleeing the city.

Along the Naktong river, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that, except for the Communist pocket in the river bend north of Masan "all other Communist bridgeheads have been erased by American units all along the river front."

ALTHOUGH THE BRIDGEHEAD victory eased the immediate threat to the emergency capital of Taegu, big forces of North Koreans were reported massing on the west bank of the Naktong some 10 miles to the west.

United Press correspondent Robert Vermillion reported from the east coast Pohang front near midnight that the big fight at the edge of the airport had died down. The foremost Communists were doing some sniping and it drew answers from airmen around the field, Negro soldiers and a South Korean unit.

The Korean Republicans moved into a broad, gravel-strewn river channel midway between Pohang and the airport. They were trying to keep the Communists from moving along the coastal shelf against the airport.

VERMILLION REPORTED that an estimated 10,000 Communist troops and guerrillas had gathered at Kiyae, nine miles west of Pohang. But only around 2,000 were in action. What the others would do was keeping the Allied forces guessing.

MacArthur's communique said only this about the Pohang area: "In the Kiyae sector, United Nations elements were counteracting the plunge of the North Koreans down the corridor separating the east coast and the South Korean defense positions."

A headquarters spokesman said "counteracting" meant that action was being taken to slow the progress of the drive, although not necessarily by counter-attack.

Atomic Papers Recovered By Scotland Yard

LONDON, Aug. 11 (UP)—A briefcase packed with secret atomic information, stolen Tuesday from a train in Northern England, was recovered today in the Southern port of Folkestone.

It was not immediately certain whether the documents had been recovered, but a Scotland Yard spokesman said police were satisfied the brief case was stolen by a sneak thief rather than a Communist spy.

A suspect located in London was held for questioning.

The case was being carried by Frank M. Greenless, an Atomic Energy officer of the Supply Ministry, to a research station in the north of England. He left his compartment in the London-to-Blackpool train for a few minutes. When he returned the brief case was gone.

The Loves of Carmen

By SOPHIE KERR

XXVI
IN Cordova, Carmen—even as Pablo said—was having a wonderful time. Her eyes were fever bright as she whirled in a wild dance. She danced in the main room of Lucas' house, a beautiful house, rich and luxurious. Her host sprawled on a couch, watching her. She danced with half a dozen young Spaniards, matadors, picadors and other friends of her host and she devised her dance to utilize all of her partners—going from one to the other, flirting, advancing, retreating—first with this one, then with that one. But all the time her attention was centered on Lucas as though she danced for him alone.

of the cave. There were some odds and ends lying there which belonged to Carmen—a comb, a scarf, a piece of mirror, an old pair of red shoes. Don Jose picked up one of the shoes. It was worn in the shape of a foot, with little frayed ribbons hanging from it. He was looking at it wonderingly when he heard the sound of a walking horse outside the cave. Dancaire and Pablo glanced up. Don Jose replaced the shoe and went quickly toward the entrance as Carmen came in. She was wrapped in a long cloak, her manner wary and defiant.

IN the cave Dancaire played cards with Pablo, who had pulled his bruised body together again. They both glanced up and then away as Don Jose entered. Jose's face looked savaged by the strain of waiting for Carmen, wondering where she was and what she was doing. Pablo, still very sore from his beating, was pleased at the exhaustion in Don Jose's eyes.

As she moved closer to Don Jose he saw she was wearing a new dress. It was very elaborate and made of the best quality of silk. "Where did you get that dress?" Carmen realized she had made a mistake. A glimmer of fear moved across her face. "That's my affair."

The Loves of Carmen

By SOPHIE KERR

XXVIII
THE bull-fighting procession moved through the tunnel that led into the arena with Lucas walking arrogantly at the head. Friends and hangers-on scattered, hurrying up the steps that led to the grandstand. Carmen stood at the mouth of the tunnel, waving after the matador. "Bring me his cap, Lucas," she called out.

HE followed her, still hanging on to her hand, his voice unnaturally hoarse and rapid. "It was because I struck you, wasn't it? You wouldn't have left me, I know you wouldn't. I don't know what made me do it." He tried to smile at her. "I'll be such a good husband—you'll see." His face was working but it found a forced smile. "Let's go home, Carmen."

After the first shock of recognition, Carmen glanced quickly around. "What kind of a fool are you to show your face in Cordova?" she snapped. "You'll be caught."

She tried to pull her hand away. "His control began to crack. 'You'll do what I tell you to do.' 'I'll do what it pleases me to do,' she snapped. 'I always have and I always will.' She twisted her wrist out of his grasp. 'And right now it pleases me to watch a bull fight and a bull.'"

Coronation Of Queen Fairbetter Slated At 6:30 P.M. Saturday

GORMAN (Spl.)—Club women of Gorman are cooperating in working to make the coronation of Adele of the House of Fairbetter, Queen of the Horned Tooth Derby, a stately and beautiful event.

The coronation will be staged on the courthouse steps in Eastland at 6:30 p. m., Saturday, preceding the start of the derby at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Brogdon were Queen and King of the Indian Trail Festival. Miss Lydia Faye Houston of Eastland, Miss Virginia Weiser, of Cisco and Miss Sally Hicks of Sabanno with escorts will also be on the program. The three were other candidates in the race for Queen. Miss Houston was runner-up.

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Baill Ruyssdael spent 40 of his 82 years looking for an easy way to make a living. Then he tried movie acting.

"Better than a pension," he said today. "A trifle hard on the feet sometimes, but it's never hard on the mind. Nothing like it. I'm seriously considering it as my life work—if you can call it work."

Ruyssdael was an opera singer, an airplane pilot, a voice coach, a stage actor, an electrical engineer, inventor, radio writer and radio announcer. They all tired him out.

Eighteen months ago he tried movie acting. He'd had 16 picture roles since then. In his current movie at 20th Century-Fox, "Half Angel," he plays a doctor who straightens out Loretta Young's split personality which makes her love John Cotten one minute and hate him the next.

"All I have to do is move in and out of half the scenes watching and making profound observations—thought up by someone else—about the comic twist of her brain."

"No labor involved. I don't have to stand or lift anything heavier than a warning finger. The job is good for five weeks. Out of the three weeks I work only 13 days. On one of these days I will be actually before the camera for more than three or four hours, and that includes rehearsal and retakes."

"And for those, say 39 hours of labor I'll be paid enough to keep me for many months. Yes, I think I'll make a career of this."

Ruyssdael's been lucky in Hollywood, however. In this year and a half of character acting he's worked oftener than many a more experienced actor does in five years.

The job is just the kind he's been looking for, he said, since he got his first steady work at age 22 as a Metropolitan Opera basso profundo.

Schools spend a lot of time teaching us to read.

They start the process in the first grade—and carry it through the senior year in college.

And they fail miserably a good percentage of the time. Reading is more than knowing the alphabet, being able to scan so many pages a minute learning a bunch of facts.

Reading is a thinking process. And for us to understand what we read we must use the rich background of miscellaneous information which we all have.

By doing this, we increase our understanding and our enjoyment. And if you're a hedonist the understanding part doesn't amount to a hill of beans to you as motivation—but the enjoyment should encourage you to think while reading.

There's a little story on the front page today—which I displayed rather prominently because I think it will cause you to talk.

This story says that a Guatemalan exile reports the Russians may have a submarine base on the coast of Guatemala. If you know how close Guatemala is to the Panama Canal and if you know what a threat such a base would be to our gulf shipping—you will be interested in that story—perhaps interested enough to say that there's another example of almost treasonable US foreign policy.

But if you do a little thinking along with the reading you'll question just how much of an authority this Guatemalan exile is. You'll realize that he's just been kicked out of his country, just lost some wealth and he knows the only way to get back into power is by riding behind US marines.

And you'll figure that he's figured that one good way to get the Marines interested in Guatemala is by shouting the Russians have a sub base there.

And maybe then you won't be so liable to yell against the state department and war department. At the same time you'll be a bit more watchful of Guatemala because there just might be something to what the Exile says.

You can use this same technique of thinking in interpreting the dispatches from Korea.

MaeArthur has clamped the evilist censorship on our newsmen that any general ever dared. He's not censoring copy for security reasons. He's using the threat of expulsion to stop newsmen from criticizing MaeArthur's commands and the Army strategy.

Therefore you must read the dispatches with a wary eye. You

Among the guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Major Keith the past week end were his cousin, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McGough and their daughter, Mrs. Emma Green.

Must make allowances for the fact that Ernest Hoberrecht is reading his stories with good news—and must read the next to last paragraph for the bad news—and see if that bad news isn't more important than the good news.

You read that the Marines are highly trained. Yet you also read that they are suffering from heat prostration. And those two statements don't correlate. Because when you were a young man you use to work in a hot sun—as hot as any Koera has. And you use to work in close, cramped spaces moving bales of hay, loading that. And you know that if that if you were use, to the work, the heat was only a cursed nuisance and nothing to fear.

And so you'll doubt if the Marines are in good shape right now. And then you have a fairly reliable truth to help you further in evaluating other news dispatches.

It Was An Error In Judgment—

... when the rejected candidate was led to believe that he had his race in the bag because every voter he met told him so. And about as disillusioned is the person who is convinced that an abstract is a lot of extra expense, and unnecessary, in a real estate transaction. There's another error in judgment. He stands to lose more, perhaps, than the candidate who lost the election. A winner always insists on an abstract when he buys real estate, and you can't beat that for good judgment.

Leslie S. Ladd, Jr., of 34 Cleveland Avenue, Nashville, Tenn., sure knows his HADACOL. He, his mother and his grandfather get precious Vitamin B1, B2, Niacin and Iron from this family product.

"Mamma, we haven't taken our HADACOL," says Leslie when his mother forgets sometimes. Mrs. Ladd explains, however, that hers will always be a HADACOL family because it has helped relieve deficiencies of Vitamin B1, B2, Niacin and Iron for herself, little Leslie and her father.

TAKES 10 BOTTLES
Read Mrs. Ladd's own statement of their experiences once they learned that they were suffering from such deficiencies and began taking HADACOL: "I have taken 10 bottles of HADACOL. I have been run down since my oldest son was born. I am 25 years old. I have had very little appetite and I had weak spells every morning. I would almost faint but, after taking HADACOL, they are gone and I stay hungry all the time."

WONDERFUL HADACOL FEELING
HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation—promising blessed relief for your indigestion, stomach disturbances, gas, heartburn, sour "risings" after meals, for normal growth in children, as well as that general run-down condition and aches and pains of neuritis, if your system lacks Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. HADACOL is being recommended by many doctors. HADACOL is so amazingly successful because if your system lacks Vitamins B1, B2, Iron, and Niacin it acts directly to relieve this deficiency—the real cause of your trouble. That's the kind of product you want—the kind you should buy—the kind you should start taking immediately.

Only One Genuine HADACOL
Don't go through life suffering such fiendish torture from your stomach or aches and pains of neuritis when relief is as close at hand as the nearest drugstore for sufferers from these deficiencies. Buy HADACOL today. Trial size bottle only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes. There's only one true and genuine HADACOL—Adv.

Kid's Derby To Start Toad Activity At 3 PM; Coronation Is At 3:30

EASTLAND, (Special)—Saturday is the day. The day which Eastland-citizens have been waiting for a long time.

Time for the second annual Old Rip Horned Toad Derby, has arrived, and a gay program is promised for those who attend.

The first action of the day will come at 3 p.m. on the west side of the courthouse where the Kid's derby will be held. About 60 kids are expected to bring a toad for the little derby.

Following the derby, a show featuring Marzini, a well-known juvenile magician, will be held in the same place.

Old Rip Derby activities will be started with the crowning of the Horned Toad Derby Queen, Miss Adele Fairbetter, on the south steps of the courthouse in Eastland.

County Home Demonstration Clubs are sponsoring the coronation program which is free to all who wish to attend.

AFTER THE QUEEN IS crowned, the bugler will sound the call for the first group of horned toads, and the 1950 version of the Old Rip Horned Toad Derby will be underway.

The toads will be brightly decorated with their owner's number, clearly showing. At 7:30 p.m., the first group of toads will leave the starting gate in the first heat of the night. An electric starting device will be used to start the toads into action.

Nineteen heats, and possibly more, will follow the first race before the sweepstakes race to was dug out of the cornerstone of the old county courthouse.

Last year the derby was made into a grown-up affair with 149 entries from two states. This year, more than 400 entries from 20 states and one foreign country will participate.

ABILENE, DALLAS AND FORT WORTH have furnished more than 20 entries each. Derby officials are confident that next year's derby entry list will pass 500.

Entries have come from such famous personage as Edgar Bergen and James Farley. And with it Old Rip's fame continues to spread, although he has been dead for over 20 years.

A program complete with race form, is being prepared for those who attend the race.

A gala square dance will complete the night's program. It is slated to begin at 8:30 p.m., on the street in front of the softball park where the derby will be held.

At the close of the derby, the owner of the sweepstakes winner will get $300, the runner-up will receive $200 and the third place toad will pay $100.

OFFICIALS ESTIMATE THAT 5,000 persons will crowd into town to take in the proceedings. They will be able to amuse themselves at more than 20 concession stands on the derby grounds which are sponsored by local organizations. Although the derby has only recently reached its official status, a kid's derby has been held annually at Eastland since Old Rip
