Dave Pickrell, superintendent for Premier Oil company, has been elected president of the county chapter of the Texas Economy commission.

Other members of the commission, appointed by the governor are Buck Pickens of Eastland; J. J. Calloway of Cisco, Virgil Seaberry of Eastland; Mrs. Joseph Perkins of Eastland and Frank Pearsall of Ranger.

Other officers elected for the local chapter follow: Pickens, finance chairman; Mrs. Perkins, publicity chairman; Seaberry, speakers chairman; and Mrs. Leslie Hagaman, study club chairman.

The Economy commission is to make recommendations and sponsor legislation to effect economy by curtailing expenses through the reorganization of state departments holding overlapping authority.

John Ben Sheppard, secretary of state, is secretary of the commission. The Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce has promised the commission its assistance.

PREMIER OIL GIVES LOCAL FIRE DEPARTMENT HUNDRED BECAUSE OF PROMPT HELP

Volunteers Sponsor Midnight Show Saturday To Get Money

Premier Oil company led contributors to the Volunteer Fire Department.

Superintendent Dave Pickrell made a $100 contribution for the company.

The department is sponsoring a midnight show at the Arcadia theatre Saturday in an effort to raise more funds. Bran Garner, manager of the theatre, has made the movie and house available to the department.

Pickrell said, in explaining the company's large contribution, that the prompt arrival of the department at a grass fire, endangering the company plant, saved the company a considerable amount of money, and maybe the plant.

He said that the department definitely saved one man's house. He said that it was the policy of Premier to make contributions to fire departments after receiving help.

Other contributors to the Volunteer Fire fund are Piggly Wiggly, A & P Store, Pulley Jewelry, Smart Shop, Montgomery Ward Company, E. L. Martin and Sons.

The Globe, Joseph's Department Store, Ratliff Feed Store, Texas Electric Service, Moffitt Electric Shop, Kings Cafe, Williams Hardware, H. H. Vaughn, Page Plumbing Company, Ranger Times, Printing Company, Killingsworth.

52 TURN OUT FOR FIRST DAY OF RJC GRID PRACTICE MEET

Fifty-two hopeful grid men turned out for Coach Boone Yarbrough's first Ranger Junior college football practice session.

The coach said that six more are expected to come out for the next practice session.

Coach Yarbrough has only eight days to prepare his team to meet Warden-Simmons' freshmen there on September 8. The coach has scheduled two practices per day until school starts, September 6.

Dr. G. C. Boswell, president of the college, said that today's turnout of players was about 20 more than had ever turned out for the first practice session at the Junior college.

East German Commie Party Purges Six

By John McDermott

United Press Staff Correspondent BERLIN, Sept. 1 (UP)—The East German Communist party announced today the expulsion of six ranking officials and reliable sources said Propaganda Chief Gerhard Eisler might be the next purge victim.

A party announcement said the officials had plotted with American spies.

They included Eisler's Press Chief, the General Manager of the East German railways and the News Chief of the Soviet-controlled radio.

The six presumably were under arrest.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT, printed in the Neues Deutschland official Communist newspaper, said the purge was the beginning of "clearance from the party of the remnants of hostile agents."

Sources close to developments in the Communist-controlled East German state said Eisler was being investigated.

Eisler long has been reported in dispute with German Communist leaders. He fled from the United States on the Polish liner Ratory and became head of the East German propaganda office.

WESTERN ALLIED OFFICIALS dismissed the statement that the ousted officials were in contact with American espionage agents. They said the accusations were probably a cloak for other charges, perhaps those of Titoism.

It was the first purge in the Party's upper echelons since its Central Committee was reformed on the Bolshevik pattern in July at a Party Congress here.

NEUES DEUTSCHLAND SAID the purge was revealed in a party communiqué regarding an investigation into the "activities of former German political refugees with the American spy of American imperialism, Noel H. Field."

Field, a former U. S. State Department official, disappeared in the summer of 1949 while visiting Prague. His brother, Hermann, a Cleveland architect, vanished a few weeks later after calling his wife in Britain that he was flying from Warsaw to Prague to see Noel.

Truman Asks For Six Million To Finance FBI

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1 (UP)—President Truman today asked Congress for an extra $6,000,000 to finance increased FBI activities made necessary by Communist aggression.

Soon after the Korean war started the FBI stepped up security activities and the President appealed to the people to give the agency any evidence of subversion and spying.

THE WHITE HOUSE ANNOUNCEMENT of the supplemental request said the FBI needs more money than originally budgeted because of "the changed international situation."

The FBI request was one of several which Truman sent to Congress today.

"Talk of Chinese bases supplying North Korea with military equipment was only a pretext for the crime of the U. S. Air Force," the Communist agency said.

FOURTH HURRICANE SMASHES LEeward ISLES WITH BIG WIND ON WAY TO PUERTO RICO

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 1 (UP)—The fourth hurricane of one of the busiest storm seasons on record flailed the Leeward Islands with 140-mile-an-hour winds today on a drive up the stepping-stone chain toward Puerto Rico.

Hurricane warnings were posted in the Virgin Islands.

Storm No. 2, meanwhile, breathed its dying gasps in wet but impotent puffs through the Mississippi and Ohio valleys after missing up the Gulf Coast to the tune of about $1,000,000.

CHINESE COMMIES CONTINUE WAR OF NERVES WITH U. S.

By Charles Moore

United Press Staff Correspondent TOKYO, Sept. 1 (UP)—The Chinese Communists said today "hostile" American air attacks on Manchuria were no mistake but planned in advance to slow down Red reconstruction.

At the same time a U. S. Far East Air Force spokesman in Tokyo said he could add nothing to the American statement in the United Nations Security Council that one American F-51 fighter plane "may have by mistake" strafed the Antung airstrip in Manchuria Aug. 27.

The statement was made yesterday by Ambassador Warren R. Austin, Chief U. S. delegate to the U. N. Warren said evidence of such an accidental attack has not been fully confirmed. He denied the broad Chinese Communist charge that U. S. planes bombed and shot up Chinese territory.

The Air Force spokesman said: "We will have to stand on the Austin statement. It is complete and correct."

The spokesman flatly denied a Japanese allegation that four-engine Russian bombers flew over Northern Japan three or four times since Aug. 23.

Japanese sources who made this report said they expected it to be denied "for at least a while."

Chinese Communist propaganda broadcasts attacking American air "depreations" and demanding withdrawal of U. S. troops from Korea continued without let-up.

Leading newspapers throughout China swelled the campaign. Their editorial attacks were broadcast over the Peiping radio.

A Chinese Communist news agency dispatch from Peiping said a report in the Washington Star on Aug. 26, on the eve of the first U. S. raid in Manchuria, showed that "U. S. government authorities for some time have been plotting an attack on Northeast China."

The Washington Star, the Red dispatch said, reported that U. S. authorities were considering raids on Manchurian bases which allegedly were supplying the North Koreans.

The third big blow, which never came very close to land, was away up in the North Atlantic and the season-opener had already blown itself out.

The new one looked like a hum-dinger—"severe and dangerous" the weather bureau called it. It apparently was giving the islanders a hard time although there were no direct reports because of communication difficulties.

Enemy Uses 50,000 To Break Line

By Ernest Hoberecht

United Press Staff Correspondent TOKYO, Sept. 1 (UP)—American forces snapped back today after the initial blow of the greatest Communist offensive of the war, and recaptured Haman under cover of bombing, strafing and rocketing U. S. planes.

Fresh troops rushed into the line to reinforce the mauled 24th regiment went over to the counter-attack at 4 p. m. By 8 p. m. they had recovered the lost ground and were fighting west of ruined and smoking Haman.

Haman, eight and a half miles from the port of Masan, is at the southern end of the flaming 50 mile front along which the Reds loosed their greatest offensive and advanced up to eight and a half miles at one point.

On the Nakdong river line farther north, where the Reds made 17 crossings, a Second division spokesman said the Yanks were "stacking up dead Koreans by the hundreds."

In the Masan area, the initial attack alone cost the Communists 1,000 dead.

American losses were described as "moderate to heavy." Front reports indicated that on the Masan and Nakdong river fronts the Reds were using possibly as many as 50,000 men. However, many of their divisions have been cut up badly and may be below strength.

Waves of 1,150 Air Force, Marine and Australian fighters and bombers ranged over the swaying front. Returning pilots said their strafing was "very satisfactory."

Greatest air support was thrown into the Haman area, athwart the route to our major supply port of Pusan. The planes worked as close as 50 yards ahead of the ground troops.

United Press Correspondent Charles Cordry, with the 25th division, reported the recapture of Haman.

He said the attack which retook the smoking town was preceded by intense air strikes. Light bombers dropped 1,000 pound proximity fuse bombs on the area in addition to strafing and rocketing enemy positions.

The Reds had opened a new mortar and artillery bombardment on the American left flank, but on the center and right side of the line our troops were on the attack.

North of Haman, the 35th Regimental combat team counter-attacked after the Reds penetrated 3,000 yards on the extreme right flank in the vicinity of Masan-Ni. Masan-Ni is near the confluence of the Nam and Nakdong rivers. A military spokesman said one company of the 35th was surrounded by 600 Reds, but pressure was relieved somewhat by two flights of fighter bombers which dropped jellied gasoline bombs on the enemy.

The spokesman said one battalion of the 24th regiment which took the brunt of the attack last night and this morning is secure, but that another had been "disorganized and driven back."

MICKY COHEN GETS RUSHED OUT OF TEXAS—Mickey Cohen, of Los Angeles, Calif., decided to leave the Lone Star State after two Texas Rangers roused him from his sleep in Wichita Falls, carted him off to the police station for fingerprinting. They then brought Mickey to Ft. Worth where he boarded an airline to return to Los Angeles. (NEA Telephoto).

"I don't know if I should stay," she said doubtfully. "Muriel may be back. She may want me for something."
 He laughed. "You don't know the Garden Club. When those females get together, they're good for half the night. Besides, what if Muriel is back? We could still talk, I suppose."
 "All right." She sat down, pulled on her sandals. "But not for long. What did you want to say to me?"
 BRENTH dropped down by her. "I want to tell you something," he said slowly. "Then I'm going to ask a favor. But I don't know just how to do either. I'm afraid it'll sound like doubletalk to you."
 "Naturally. I don't understand. Why can't you just speak out?"
 "This is one time when that's difficult. So I'll merely tell you, even if it sounds like that the way a thing looks isn't necessarily the way it is."
 "That is doubletalk," she said. "Well, I won't ask you what that's about as long as you don't mind my asking you what it is."
 "What's the matter?"
 "I'm afraid so." She gave an embarrassed laugh. "If you call it singing when I can't carry a note."
 "I liked it," Brent said.
 She glanced at him quickly but behind his pipe, his face was serious.
 A moment passed, with Brent puffing silently. Alice reached for her robe. "Well, I think I can sleep now."
 He took the pipe from his mouth. "Don't go just yet, Alice."
 "Why?" She was a little puzzled. His voice had been unusual. Almost—well, timid.
 "Because I'd like to talk to you." She hesitated, without understanding the hesitation. For days she had studiously avoided Brent.

COMING FROM Brent, this should have sounded insincere. Somehow it didn't.
 "But that's been a pleasure," Alice said. "I'm crazy about the child."
 "Well, please go on being that way. I'm sorry I can't be more explicit. But sort of see to him, will you?"
 "Certainly. But we all will, won't we?"
 "No," said Brent. "I won't, most of the time. I've been dickered up a job, Alice, for some time. Now it's come through. In Providence, that means I'll only be here week-ends from now on."
 "But why a job?" she asked in surprise. "Isn't your painting a full-time job?"
 "Full-time, yes. But not fully compensated. Frankly, I haven't done so well since the war. And now—a determined note came into his voice—"I've got to make money."
 "What kind of a job, Brent?"
 "It's Perkins and Grant, an advertising agency up town. The boss here. I'm to be an art director. Never did that before, but I'm hoping to get away with it."

The Alsops this week in the Saturday Evening Post, outlined what may be the consequences of our past military policy.

And they stated the need of fast and rapid mobilization of the Western world to stop the Commies.

They maintain that in the era of absolute weapons the Western Hemisphere can not resist the rest of the world, alone.

If that's the case, maybe you and I had better revamp our philosophy for adjustment to a Commie regime.

Because at the present snail's pace of mobilization, the Reds will have conquered the rest of the world before we're ready to fight.

Time is rapidly running out for us. Every day's delay in fortifying America is a day's gain for Russia. Russia is now winning. Unless she is stopped soon, folks that sincerely believe in democracy and all the other catch phrases of the slogan makers better prepare themselves for firing squads and concentration camps.

The rest of us can simply adjust to longer hours at less food with a few knouting thrown in for good measure.

The O. K. Grocery is having a big opening today. They've been around a long time.

But they recently hooked up with the Independent Grocers Association and have painted the front of the store—so they're calling an opening to tell people about it.

And the weatherman is sure fouling things up. Today started out like a cool November morning with a near hint of snow in the air.

Wonder what it'll do this winter—fry eggs on the side walk?

200 County Farmers Attend Tour Thursday

Over 200 Eastland county farmers attended the annual soil conservation tour and field day for Zone 5 of the Upper Leon Soil Conservation District at Kokomo Thursday, according to L. R. Higginbottom, Gorman, district supervisor for this area.

Higginbottom was chairman of the annual meeting and tour for the day. K. F. Reeves, Rising Star, Soil Conservation Service, was leader of the morning tour where soil conservation and saving measures were inspected on the farms of Albert Hendricks, J. C. Caraway, J. C. Donaldson and Cecil Self.

Lunch was served to the group at noon through the courtesy of the Gorman Lions Club and the Chambers of Commerce of Eastland, Ranger and Cisco.

Kilgore's Creamery, Eastland, and the Coca Cola Co., also cooperated in the lunch.

The afternoon tour under the direction of John Simpson, De Leon, soil conservation service, checked soil saving devices on the farms of J. W. Brown, J. J. Brown, Odie Rodgers and Ed Harrison.

Soil conservation practices viewed by the group included semi-channel type terraces, contour and strip crops, a new summer legume soil building crop named Guar, results of vetch seed inoculation, Crotalaria and vetch strips, Little Bluestem pastures and a large 23,000 pound brush cutter following a bulldozer which was knocking down the brush.

Enemy Uses 50,000—

The 25th division was to have air cover all night, but a division spokesman said, "I think we are in for a bad night."

On the 2nd division front along the Naktong, where the defenders reeled back as much as eight and a half miles under the initial Red assault, observation pilots said the Communists were loading rafts on the west side of the river to reinforce their already extensive crossings.

B-26 Marauders ranged up and down the river, shooting up everything in sight in an effort to halt the Communist drive.

The Communists were using ox carts, packhorses and vehicles to stream across hastily constructed sandbag bridges over the Naktong in the central sector.

The 50 mile line today was swayed-backed, anchored in general at Hyongpung, about 15 miles southwest of Taegu, and at recaptured Haman. It dipped in the center where the Communists scored their greatest gains in terms of miles. It was just above the point where the Nam and Naktong rivers join, and then around the curve of the Naktong eastward, that the Communists made the greatest number of their 17 river crossings.

The Allies, main communications road on the Naktong line runs 21 miles southward from Hyongpung on the north, all the way to the river's great eastward bend on the south. The enemy had been able to throw at least one block across the highway and it was under artillery fire near its southern end.

It Was An Error In Judgment—

... when the rejected candidate was led to believe that he had his race in the bag because every voter he met told him so. And about as disillusioned is the person who is convinced that an abstract is a lot of extra expense, and unnecessary, in a real estate transaction. There's another error in judgment. He stands to lose more, perhaps, than the candidate who lost the election. A winner always insists on an abstract when he buys real estate, and you can't beat that for good judgment.

THE LARGEST REQUEST was for $23,347,000 "to pay for current expenses of educating children who reside on tax exempt federal property and in local areas which are overburdened by a sudden and substantial increase in enrollment due to federal activities."

In this request the President asked $23,000,000 for grants and $347,000 for administrative expenses of the office of education. The White House explained that this request was made in anticipation of Congressional passage of an act consolidating in the office of education all authority for financing the education of these children.
