ALLIES BLUNT RED DRIVE

Bulldogs Win Moral Victory; Tie Hobbs

The Ranger Bulldogs surprised themselves by tying the New Mexico State Champion Eagles at Hobbs, 14 to 14, Friday night.

A 20 yard pass and a 30 yard run by Billy Simpson in the second quarter put the Bulldogs ahead. But Hobbs roared back to tie the game up just before the half.

The Bulldogs weren't figured to have a chance against the heavier and more experienced New Mexico gridgers.

But a smooth-working pass defense plus some hard driving on the part of the Ranger line plus a healthy chunk of luck scored Ranger a definite moral victory with the tie.

Henderson Gets Nod As Head Of Merchant Group

Bruce Maddox Elected Veep For Next Year

Members of the Retail Merchants Association selected H. C. Henderson as president for the coming year.

Henderson is a wholesale grocerman here.

Bruce Maddox, another grocerman—this time in the retail end—was elected vice president.

Mrs. Maybell Oyer was elected secretary—a position she has held previously.

Directors elected at this week's meeting of the merchants were F. F. Brasher, H. G. Adams, T. J. Anderson, James Ratliff, Morris Newham, Al Larson, and W. F. Creager.

Newham is the outgoing president.

The directors also made plans for a membership meeting in the near future. A regular business meeting will be held monthly.

Ko Reds Spearhead Threatens To Cut Off ROK Division

COMMIES THROW AMERICANS OFF OF OLD BALDY MOUNTAIN

By Ernest Hobrecht
United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Sunday, Sept. 10 (UP)—The swiftly changing tide of battle in the Korean war swung to the Allied side today, with the threat to Taegu eased and a solid defense line guarding the northeastern approaches to Pusan restored.

Only at the extreme ends of the 100 mile defense perimeter were the Americans and South Koreans meeting reverses.

The Communists threw the Americans off "Old Baldy" mountain near Masan twice Saturday and held it at Sunday.

But Red spearheads slashed through rugged mountains to within six miles of the Korean east coast today, threatening not only to cut off the Pohang airstrip but also to encircle the entire South Korean third division.

The northeastern end of the Korean defense perimeter continued to be the most critical, with the Reds driving to exploit the wedge driven earlier this week between two South Korean divisions about halfway between Angang and Pohang. By late Saturday, the Reds had pushed eastward another four or five miles.

Bloody fighting also raged at the southern end of the line.

The mountain changed hands three times in vicious fighting Saturday, but at nightfall the Communists had it.

Other, limited, action flared all along the 100-mile defense perimeter with the most significant near Yongchon, midway point on the east-west defense line.

There, counter-attacking South Korean forces hurled a Communist spearhead back across the Yongchon-Kyongju highway, and eased pressure on the allied defense of Taegu.

THE KOREAN REPUBLICANS

struck after the enemy had smashed past Yongchon on the south, squeezing the transport hub 20 miles east of Taegu on three sides. The counter-attack began at 10 a. m. and gained nearly two miles against fairly heavy opposition.

United Press Correspondent Robert Vermillion said the counter-attack primarily was directed against the Communists south of Yongchon, and had nothing to do with other Communist forces to the east toward Kyongju.

The Communists still were blocking the Yongchon highway with mortar and artillery fire.

BUT IT WAS AT THE EASTERN end of the line that the Communists were making their greatest threat.

HERE WERE THE POSSIBILITIES:

1. The Communists would push on to the sea below the Pohang airport cutting off its South Korean and American Negro defenders. The Allies were using tanks and artillery to hold the vital airstrip which still is being used for emergency landings and to bring in some supplies.

2. By further exploiting their wedge and finally establishing a firm line to the southeast, they could isolate the third R. O. K. division now defending the right side of the line above Kyongju.

3. The Reds could continue their attempt to drive south, possibly by-passing Kyongju and heading straight down the valley for our base at Pusan, 47 miles away.

The Ranger mohair warehouse, managed by P. T. Smith, is shipping a carload of mohair this week.

The value of the car was estimated at $40,000 by Smith. He said that the warehouse ships a load four cars a year.

The warehouse is the only one of its kind in a 60 mile area. Some of the ship producers are Leslie Hagaman, Felix Fambro, Shaler Copeland and Guy Robinson.

Stassen Speaks To Rally

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 9 (UP)—Harold E. Stassen last night told a Republican rally that the U. S. should hold Russia directly responsible for aggression by its satellite countries.

Rev. Ralph E. Perkins of Sweetwater has accepted the invitation of the First Baptist church.

The new pastor will deliver his first sermon Sunday, Sept. 10. He was assistant minister of the Sweetwater Baptist church.

BULLETIN

A 20-year-old Morton Valley boy was electrocuted Saturday morning.

The boy was dead on arrival at a Ranger hospital. He was fatally injured, according to reports, when he grabbed a live wire. He was riding on top of a caterpillar tractor, lifting wires to allow the tractor to pass under. The tractor was working on construction of the Ranger to Morton Valley road.

Services will be held at 4 p. m. Sunday in the Ranger Church of Christ.

Killingsworth Funeral Home will have charge. Marvin was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lee of Morton Valley.

Two Rippetoes Hold Services

Rev. Ernest Rippetoe from Stephenville and Rev. Walter Rippetoe will conduct services at the Franklin Baptist church Saturday night and Sunday. Everyone is invited.

Subscription Price Drops For Short Time

In order to introduce the Ranger Daily Times to more families in a 25 mile vicinity, the Times is selling one year subscriptions for two dollars.

This is a saving of 2.50. The introductory offer will be of short duration.

This offer is also being made to present subscribers.

Those with past due subscriptions may pay up their subscriptions at the regular price and then get an advance one year subscription at the reduced rate.

Those who have paid in advance may extend their subscriptions for one year at the reduced rate.

The Times is sent into Olden, Strawn, Mingus, Gordon, Desdemona, Gorman and rural routes from these towns plus the three Ranger routes.

The Times hopes to serve both its subscribers, Ranger and the advertisers better with the enlarged subscriptions.

DEWEY PREDICTS WAR COMING WITH RUSSIA EVENTUALLY; HE SAYS SOME SAY THIS MONTH

By John A. Goldsmith
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (UP)—Congressional leaders and top government officials were wondering today what "well-informed people" told Gov. Thomas E. Dewey that war with Russia will come "this month."

Like Dewey—who said he did not believe his informants—reliable capital sources could find no indications in official government or diplomatic quarters that war with Russia is an immediate likelihood.

Dewey's flat statement that war with Russia is coming "eventually" provoked an equal amount of speculation. It seemed to reflect a change in attitude for the New York governor who has repeatedly said he hopes all-out war can be avoided.

His statement, implying an inevitable war with the Soviet, ran directly counter to the attitude of the State department. It differed sharply from the best analysis of the world situation available in diplomatic circles.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson has said in the strongest terms that war is not inevitable. Like President Truman, Acheson is known to be violently opposed to the idea of a "preventive war" with Russia. He immediately quashed the idea when it was advanced by Navy Secretary Francis P. Matthews.

THE PRESIDENT SAID ONLY last week that he hopes the present Korean war will not expand into a general war. He also attacked the concept of a "preventive" war and said the United States is dead against it.

Dewey made the remarks at a Chamber of Commerce farm dinner in Syracuse, N. Y., last night. He prefaced his statement by saying that he has been asked by many persons when a third World War would break out.

"A number of well informed people tell me it will come this month—however, I don't believe it," Dewey said.

"BUT IT IS COMING EVENTUALLY," he added.

The New York Governor, twice defeated as GOP candidate for President, said the conviction had a lot to do with his last minute decision to run again for governor.

The State Department refused to comment on Dewey's statement. White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross also declined comment.

A State Department spokesman said, however, that he had not heard of Dewey discussing foreign policy with anyone.

Nancy Jo Walker, little Texas miss, stricken in the 1949 polio epidemic, will be aided in her fight to walk again by dimes voluntarily contributed for a glass of beverage at the Val-Sweet Grape Nectar booth during the Texas State Fair at Dallas. Two lovely Val-Sweet maidens, Misses Beverly McCormick and Pat Bradley, will dispense the nectar, usually given free to fair-goers. Truman Speaks Saturday

Controls On Installment Buying Become Effective September 18

By Merriman Smith
United Press White House Reporter

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (UP)—President Truman tells the American people Saturday what further economic sacrifices are in store to go along with newly-imposed curbs on installment buying.

In a fireside talk over all major radio and television networks at 10:30 p. m., EDT (8 p. m. Saturday here) the President is expected to explain in general terms how deeply and how soon the Korean war and the threat of further Communist aggression will cut into the civilian economy.

Late yesterday, Truman signed the defense production act giving him sweeping powers to control wages and prices, invoke rationing, curb consumer and real estate credit, allocate materials, assign priorities and requisition facilities for defense production.

Within an hour, the Federal Reserve Board whipped out an order, effective Sept. 18, drastically restricting consumer credit. The regulations will make it harder for the public to buy automobiles, washing machines, television sets, radios and a long list of other consumer goods on the old free-and-easy, dollar-down basis.

There were indications that the next 10 days may see a wave of "rush" buying for consumer goods covered by the Board order. A cross the nation, automobile and home appliance dealers said the interval will see a tremendous upswing in retail business caused by consumer trying to beat the deadline.

Once that buying wave is ended, after the controls become effective Sept. 18, dealers expect their volume to sag 10 to 20 per cent below current levels on automobiles and about 25 per cent on home appliances.

All signs were that the President would not carry the belt-tightening much beyond the consumer credit order in his talk tonight. He was expected to say that wage and price controls are not in the

Local Boy To Give His First Sermon, Sunday

John Gilbert, Jr., a local boy, will preach his first sermon Sunday evening at the First Methodist church. His subject: "One's Obligation to His Lord."

John, his wife, and young son, Gibb Carl, will soon move to Ft. Worth where John will enroll in Texas Wesleyan College to further prepare himself for his life's work.

The pastor will preach at the morning hour, using for his subject, "Reaching out for God."

A most cordial invitation is extended to the public to worship at the First Methodist church. The congregation extends special greetings and a warm welcome to the new students attending Ranger Junior College.

Twins Injured In Auto Crash

Cotton and Pee Wee Maynard, twin brothers of Carbon, who were seriously injured Thursday night when their pickup struck a parked truck on the farm to market road between Rising Star and Okra, were still in serious condition Friday night.

Both boys were carried to Gorman hospital by the Higginbotham ambulance company of Rising Star following the accident.

Cotton suffered cuts above the eyes, and one eye was badly damaged. He was reported to be slightly improved Friday night.

Pee Wee's right leg was crushed in the accident. He also suffered a broken left leg and hip and jaw bone. He was taken to an Abilene hospital Friday, and was to undergo an operation Saturday morning.

The truck belonged to Gilchrist Drilling company. Truman Ellison, driver of the truck was not injured seriously. He said that the lights on the truck had gone out and he was working to get them burning again.

New Featherweight King Complains About Willie Pep's Rough Tactics

By Milton Fishman
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (UP)—Slippery Sandy Saddler, the new featherweight king, was all smiles today and, for his money, Willie Pep is all thumbs.

Saddler, who won the title at Yankee stadium last night when Pep suffered a partial shoulder dislocation and could not answer the bell for the eighth round, talked readily about Willie's rough-house tactics.

"He thumbed me in the eye a couple times," declared the skinny Negro slugger. "I was ready for something like that because he pulled the same thing in our other two fights."

"Yeah, I told the referee about it," he replied in answer to a question, "but that Pep never stopped thumping."

Saddler, relaxing at a table after the bout, drew his colorful Scotch-plaid bath robe tighter around his shoulders and admitted he thought he was behind when the end came.

"I figured he had an edge up to then," Sandy commented, "but I also knew I had won a couple rounds. Another thing I new," he added smiling slightly, "was that there were a lotta rounds left to catch him."

Saddler paused a moment for the benefit of photographers and then continued:

"I thought there was something funny when Pep couldn't come out for the eighth," he said, "but I didn't know what was wrong with him."

"I just tended to my business. When the bell rang for the eighth round to start, I came across the ring fast and was ready."

But Willie wasn't.

Pep, a forlorn figure with his head down and his battered eyes half-closed, simply sat on his stool and watched without protest as referee Rudy Goldstein headed off the onrushing Saddler.

In his dressing room, the somber, dejected-looking Pep blamed his downfall on Sandy's judo holds rather than his punches.

"Saddler got me in a double arm lock," he said somewhat bitterly. "He twisted my arm twice. That's what did it, not his punches. Sure, he hurt me a few times but I could have beat him."

While Pep talked, his handlers urged him to keep his head and face covered with a robe so photographers could not take a picture of his swollen features.

"Those guys made a mess of you after the last fight," said one of Willie's seconds. "Don't let 'em do it to you again."

Saddler by this time began unlacing his shoes and prepared to shower.

"If there's still any question," he said without any show of arrogance, "I'll fight him again any time he wants. But right now I'm gonna rest and take it easy for a while. It was just another fight to me."

During the bout, Saddler said nothing to Pep. Perhaps, Sandy's greatest source of annoyance stemmed from a small army of moths that were attracted by the lights and flew overhead.

It developed, however, that there were no flies on Saddler.

Ranger Rambling

Well, it's a quite day, a sunny day, and a happy day in Ranger as the Bulldogs tied the Hobbs Eagles. They weren't supposed to do that. Which just goes to show you that when it's all said and done nobody knows nothing about a football team's potentialities.

Now the next thing on the agenda is for the Bulldogs to get cocky and get knocked off by somebody as lightweight as the Rambling's favorites were supposed to have been.

The Commies are only 47 miles from Pusan on the north.

Which is about half way to Ft. Worth. It's not the closest that the Commies have been to our last part in Korea. But this is the first time since we got into the battle that a huge chunk of Allied troops is being caught in a pincer movement—with the dirty-green Japanese sea on one side and fanatic KoReds on the other.

Maybe the worst tragedy of this war is that we're being forced to fight the other guy's game and not make some rules ourselves.

Like they say, you're a sucker if you play against the house. And Mister we're playing against the house in Korea. An article in a national magazine this week reports that KoRed troops can march all day and all night and then charge. That this fanatics can run—not dogtrot—up a 1,500 foot slope.

That's the kind of stamina that comes from working 12 and 15 hours a day on farms—and I mean back bending work—not tractor riding.

When we were walking across the continent, we could do it.

But we can't do it now—and no amount of physical conditioning will put us in that kind of shape.

So we've got to make allowances for this by packing heavier fire power, using bigger tanks and out-thinking the enemy. In short using the skills we are high on to counter-balance the KoReds, the Chinese Commies' and the Russian's physical stamina.

But do we do that?

Naw, we let the Germans and the Russians build a better tank that we've got into manufacture. We build a light Bazooka instead of making a rocket firing gun that will pierce Russian armor.

And the cost is paid in human lives—American lives.

We won't win this game until we get to bank the game 50 per cent of the time. And that means we got to set up our own game—cause you can't walk into another guy's joint and get a fair shake whether it's in Dallas or in Korea.

One Elephant—Check!

LOWELL, Mass. (UP)—Joseph McCarthy, a trouble-shooter for the Lowell Electric Light Corp., did a double-take as he drove along at 4 a. m. in response to a call. The huge elephant he saw ambling along the road was real enough. It had strolled off from a nearby circus.

Oklahoma Divorcee Figures She'll Fight The Whole Vanderbilt Clan

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9 (UP)—A port Oklahoma divorcee, heiress to a $50,000,000 fortune, said today she plans to fight "the whole Vanderbilt clan" and the state of Connecticut to prove her innocence of a perjury charge in connection with her recent Reno divorce.

Mrs. Julia Wooten Scott Stafford Sage, 30, was arrested at her Nob Hill hotel here at the request of Reno police. They charged she committed "subornation of perjury" when she obtained a divorce from Edwin Eddleston Sage, Jr., on Sept. 1.

Sage was described by his former wife as an "impoverished member of the Vanderbilt family," whom she helped finance in a frozen food locker business in West Hartford, Conn. The whole affair, she said, is an attempt by Sage to gain custody of their children.

Bejeweled and wearing a mink coat, Mrs. Sage went through formalities of arraignment before Municipal Judge Carl Allen here yesterday. She was released on $1,000 bail and ordered to appear again Sept. 22 for instructions on her possible extradition to Nevada.

Charges against the attractive brunette came after the arrest of a key witness in the divorce case, Eli Resler, a parking lot attendant at Lake Tahoe's Cal-Neva lodge.

In Reno, authorities said Resler told them Mrs. Sage paid $500 to have him testify that she was at Cal-Neva daily between June 15 and July 25, the period during which she was establishing six weeks Nevada residence required by law for a divorce.

A signed statement by Resler, however, said Mrs. Sage admitted to him that she had been in San Francisco during the period for "required medical attention." A tip that she was missing from Nevada was obtained from an anonymous source, police said.

Mrs. Sage insisted there were no irregularities in connection with her divorce. She obtained the divorce on grounds of cruelty, and under terms of a settlement, was given custody of the couple's two children, Edwin, III, three-years-old, and Julia, one.

Except for $23,000, which Mrs. Sage claims she advanced her husband, each waived all claim to the other's estate.

She also is the mother of a third child, a nine-year-old son by a previous marriage to Army Colonel Robert Stuart Stafford. They were divorced in 1940.

The young divorcee is the granddaughter of the late Richard Kelley Wooten, whose rise to success was in the best "Horatio Alger" tradition. His first job was as a janitor in a country store.

He later became the founder and president of the Chickasha Cottonseed Oil Co. of Chickasha, Okla., described as "one of the largest firms in the south."

G. Nicholson Owns, Operates Texas Pharmacy

The Texas Pharmacy has been in Ranger for the past 20 years. George Nicholson, the present owner, bought the pharmacy three years ago from J. H. Chapman.

Nicholson came here 15 years ago from Dallas. Joe Harness originally founded the pharmacy about 1930.

Like most drugstores nowadays, the pharmacy has a profitable sideline in soda fountain, magazine sections, cosmetics and sundries. Nicholson is on duty 24 hours a day—16 at the store and 8 at his home. Employees are Mrs. Ruby Hughes and Nicholson's wife and son, Lynn.

Pity the man who thinks the room for improvement isn't big enough for him.

Thinking of the Long Pull?

Better Buy Buick!

If that car of yours has put its best days behind it, there's no time like right now to think about starting out afresh with a taut, new, up-to-the-minute motorcar with all its mileage still in it.

And there's no better place in the world to start than with the beauty pictured here, for a variety of reasons.

For one thing, this Buick SPECIAL is a quick-stepping Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight that's priced lower than some sixes.

For another, it's built with typical Buick ruggedness through and through—a husky that can take a lot of years without crying "Uncle!"

Then, too—this high-styled beauty is proving to be one of the most economical Buicks ever built—easy on gas, easy on upkeep, easy on you in its soft, floating, light-handling comfort.

It even comes with Dynaflo Drive* if you like—and Dynaflo means that you will never have to service or replace a friction clutch, and that rear-end or transmission servicing—even engine upkeep—are cut to a minimum.

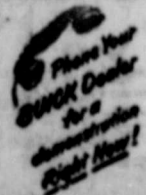

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Of course, you can't see all of this in the brief span of a trial drive.

But you can experience the good solid feel of Buick strength beneath you. You can satisfy yourself on the lightness of the controls, the utter smoothness of Dynaflo, the quick surge of Buick's Fireball power.

All such things will tell you that this is a car you'll be glad to live with for a long time to come—and you need only to ask your Buick dealer for a demonstration to see precisely what we mean.

Why not call on him soon to talk about signing up?

Experts Pick Oklahoma To Win Conference

The experts pick Oklahoma to win again in the Big Seven and return to the Sugar Bowl next New Year's Day. But Coach Bud Wilkinson says they could be wrong.

The experts, if that's the proper word, have been wrong on numerous occasions. In fact, in the Big Seven they have come up with only one winner in forecasts for the past four seasons.

But it certainly looks like another Oklahoma year, despite Wilkinson's views. He says he has probably the only team in the history of collegiate football that has been selected in advance to win its conference title "despite the loss of everybody on its starting eleven save its fullback."

The fullback is Leon Heath. A lot of dopsters think he'll make everybody's All-America team this year.

There's no argument about Heath's value to the club. He is the best in the business, Oklahoma says, and he may even see duty on defense this year. Wilkinson considers him the finest Sooner linebacker since Myrtle Greathouse.

Buddy Jones and Ed Lisak have shown promise as pass defenders and Wilkinson has confessed his secondary will be "almost as good as last year's."

More than one-half the players on Oklahoma's first three offensive teams this season will be sophomores. They will have to make Wilkinson's split-T work, probably with Arnold running the show.

Wilkinson has said several times he expects to lose two of his first four games, and then "I think we can have a good team in November."

The first four opponents include Boston College, Texas A.M., Texas, and Kansas State. Later will come Iowa State, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska and finally Oklahoma A.M.

Maddocks Firm Opened Here At Start Of Boom

The C. E. Maddocks and Co. insurance business was founded in 1919 by Maddocks. It is now owned and operated by Miss Marjorie Maddocks. The business has been located at 207 Main street since 1922.

It was originally located on North Marston by the old Post Office. Miss Maddocks grew up in the business that handles fire and allied lines of insurance, real estate and rentals.

Employees of the firm are Mrs. Hattie Bragg, secretary, and Mrs. James Higdon, manager of the real estate department.

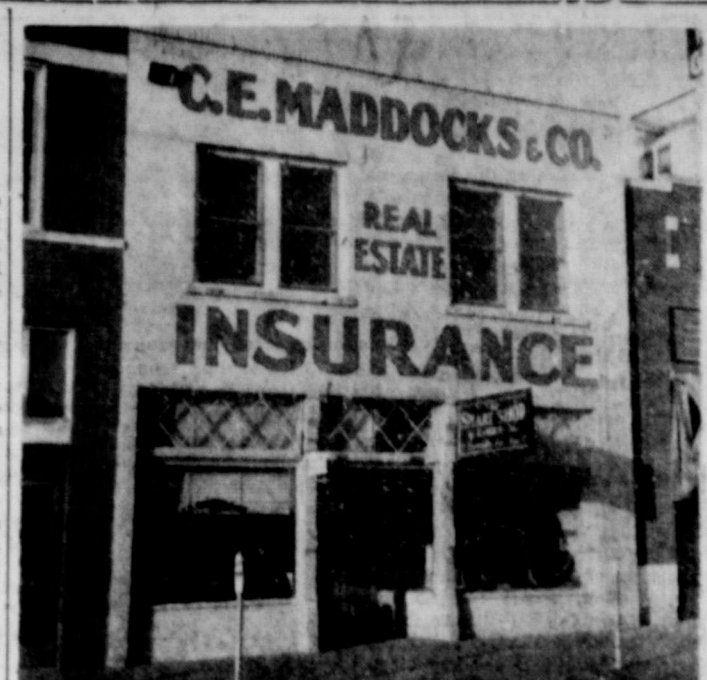

Miss Maddocks reported that the policy of the firm is "rapid, cheerful service; prompt payment of claims."

County Lady's Literary Work Is Recognized

Mrs. Johnnie Barber Bradford of Eastland, has been made an honorary member of the International Mark Twain Society.

The membership was given to Mrs. Bradford for her outstanding work in literature.

Memberships to the society are conferred upon those entitled to recognition in the various fields of endeavor. When awarded to an author it is conferred in public recognition of the writer's contribution to literature.

The honorary membership represents the most valued and important award which the society has to bestow.

"Weave of Foam and Rock," is the title of Mrs. Bradford's latest book. She also has written, "The Joy of Living," and "No Greater Gift."

Included in the society's membership are such notables as Winston Churchill, The Duke of Windsor, Jan C. Smutts, Harry S. Truman, George B. Shaw, Jean Sibelius and Herbert Hoover.

Cyril Clemens is president of the society.

Mrs. Bradford lives at 310 Hill Crest. She recently won the May Portrait Prize Award of the Poet-

Mrs. J. E. Bryan To Host Meet Of Women's Council

Mrs. J. E. Bryan will be hostess to members of the Women's Council of the First Christian Church at their regular monthly meeting, at 1 o'clock, Monday afternoon at her home on Blundell Street.

The meeting was scheduled to be held in the home of Mrs. Franke Weekes, but has been changed due to the illness of Mrs. Weekes. All members are asked to please note the change.

Child Study Assoc. To Meet Thursday

The Child Study Association Pre-School will meet at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, in the home of Mrs. R. V. Robinson on Desdemona Road.

All members are urged to attend.

The J. C. Penney company store, pictured above, is managed by Joe N. Graham. He said that the local store follows the principles first formulated by the founder of the company—"Always the lowest possible prices consistent with quality merchandise."

Engagement Announced

Mrs. Eugene Kelley announces the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Mildred Walls, to Harvey L. Black, son of Mrs. Kelley Black.

The wedding will be September 14, 1950 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murrell Brister, 1100 Oddis Street.

Ladies Bible Class To Meet Wednesday

The Ladies Bible Class of the Church of Christ will meet at 9:30 a. m., Wednesday at the church.

All members are urged to attend.

O. E. S. To Meet Monday Night

The regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star will be held at 8 p. m., Monday, at the Masonic Hall.

Personals

Leonard Arterburn, Earl Swoveland, and Lynn Nicholson attended the football in Hobbs Friday night.

Mrs. E. F. Arterburn is visiting in McAlester, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Ervin have had as their guests their daughter, Mrs. Claud Hoarn and children of Big Spring, formerly of Ranger.

Dora Niska, who has been ill at her home for sometime, is reported to be improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris have had as their guests this week, Borden Manley of Leuders and Miss Mary Hammett of Morrilton, Arkansas.

Penney Builds Chain On Plan Of Partnership

The J. C. Penney store, managed by Joe N. Graham, is one of many chain stores.

The chain was built on the company policy of "always the lowest possible prices consistent with quality merchandise."

Penny opened the first store in Kemmerer, Wyo. in 1902.

Graham was working in the steel mills in Birmingham, Ala. when he heard of Penny's partnership plan for management.

He immediately secured extra work in the Ensley Ala. Penny store. This eventually led to regular work and finally to management of the present Ranger store.

Controls Of Installment Buying—

Truman, however, may announce creation of a skeleton economic stabilization board to prepare the machinery for these controls for use if they are needed later.

The installment buying curbs going into operation Sept. 18 are regarded by the Federal Reserve Board as a major blow at inflation.

Consumer credit totaled $660,000,000 in July alone, when war-scarred shoppers jammed the stores to lay away goods they thought would be hard to get.

At the end of 1946, consumer credit outstanding amounted to $10,191,000,000. Since then it has climbed steadily to an all time peak of $26,340,000,000 at the end of July.

Under the new regulations, similar to the wartime regulation which was terminated on June 30, 1949, the down payment on automobiles costing less than $5,000 must be one-third of the price and the balance must be paid off in 24 months.

Other installment curbs included: 1—A 15 per cent down payment and no more than 18 months to pay on household equipment such as refrigerators, stoves, deep freezers and vacuum cleaners.

2—A 10 per cent down payment and an 18-month time limit on household furniture and rugs.

3—A 10 per cent down payment and a 30-month time limit on residential repairs, alterations or improvements.

Sterilized Gal Gets Another Hubby, Anyway

EUREKA, Nev., Sept. (UP)—Ann Cooper Hewitt, 35, sterilized herself once she said she "just couldn't stand to be unmarried," honeymooned with her first husband today.

Miss Hewitt was married here Monday to Donald Charles Walter, a cowboy of Manhattan, Nev.

Her last husband was Frank "Rodeo Roy" Nicholson, former radio disc jockey. She divorced him in May, saying she wanted to run for U. S. Senator on the Republican ticket. She later decided not to run.

Miss Hewitt sued her mother and two physicians in 1936 for $500,000 claiming her mother, the late Mrs. Maryon Hewitt McCar-

Young Moderns Store Opened In War Years

Bell's Young Moderns, exclusive children's store, had a small beginning during the war years.

Mrs. Aaron Bell remembers with shudders the time when merchandising was hard to get, when almost every salesman would say, "Sorry but we can't accept a new account. We can't take care of the ones we have."

But the store survived and by persistent effort, Mrs. Bell has secured nationally advertised lines.

She carries Nitey Nite pajamas and Trimfit Sox, Jumping Jack, Acrolat, Edward shoes for boys and girls, Helen Fenton Originals of California and many other lines.

The place to shop in Ranger for the tiny tot is at the store pictured above—Bell's Young Moderns. The store specializes in quality merchandise for the tot from age one day to age 12.

No Bull
GALESVILLE, Wis., (UP) — Two thousand dollars in hand is better than a bull in the rendering plant, the operators of the Swiss Hill Farms learned. They turned down an offer of $2,000 for their prize bull, Galahad. Galahad then developed a slight limp and dropped dead.

THIS CHURCH PAGE IS PUBLISHED WEEKLY WITH THE HOPE THAT MORE PEOPLE WILL GO TO CHURCH. IT IS SPONSORED BY LOCAL BUSINESS FIRMS WHO BELIEVE WE SHOULD ATTEND RELIGIOUS SERVICES REGULARLY.

Communism in Russia deserves to be measured over against the intolerable tyranny and oppression of the Czars; it may even be a step in advance of that which it replaced.

But Communism within the United States is quite a different thing. Here it appears as a threat to that great good that we call democracy; and worse still, it seeks to overthrow the Christian religion which has been the sure foundation of our freedom and our integrity. Toward Communism in Russia we may take an attitude of sympathy, hoping that a great nation will move on to higher ground, though we recognize the right of the Russian people to choose their own political and economic system. So we say to each other, "Hands off" of the internal affairs of other nations. But we ought to be mightily concerned with the appearance of Communism in the U. S. A. Perhaps here, however, we ought to be on our guard against the reality rather than the name. It is one thing to belong to the Communist Party, which looks us squarely in the face and announces its position. It is quite another and a more dangerous thing to be a Communist and not let it be known. It is the under cover Communism which threatens us most.

Communism sets itself up as a religion, denying God and the Christian Faith; it would close the doors of the Church. Do you support the Church, or could its doors close so far as you are concerned? There are sixty million people in this country who are not members of any Church; they are the Communists we should fear. Godless women and men, intent on themselves or some political party as the chief good, irreverent and devoted to material ends—these are the Communists whom we Americans should fear and seek to change.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE
 "Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 10.

The Golden Text is: "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now here-with, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it" (Malachi 3:10).
 Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Riches and honour are with me; yea, durable riches and righteousness" (Proverbs 8:18).
 The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Material sense does not unfold the facts of existence; but spiritual sense lifts human consciousness into eternal truth" (page 95).

Morris Funeral Home Found By Late James P.

The Morris Funeral Home, located at 114 North Marston Street was founded in 1941 by the late James P. Morris. Mrs. Morris is the present owner. The firm offers complete funeral service, burial insurance and ambulance service.
 Employees are Charles T. Bott and James T. McCleskey. The home is now being redecorated. When it is completed it will have completely modern equipment and an air conditioned chapel. Mrs. Morris feels that her business "is a service to others."

West Helps Negroes
 BERKLEY, Calif., (UP)—Newly-minted Booker T. Washington Memorial half-dollars are being offered for sale by 12 Berkeley business firms as part of a west coast drive to help establish an industrial training center for underprivileged Negroes in the South. The United States mint in San Francisco struck 500,000 of the coins, which are being sold for $2 each.

Hollywood Film Shop

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—There is one movie star who always knows his lines.
 The movie camera crews pretend to hate Paul Douglas because he never misses a word of his dialogue. That means they have to buy their own smokes.
 Douglas doesn't care which profile the cameramen focus on. He lets the cameramen worry about their business and sticks to his own, which is living out with his lines properly.
 That's just the trouble. During the first day's shooting on 20th Century-Fox's "Fourteen Hours" Douglas had a long scene in which he never muffed a line. The camera crew applauded but informed him it'd never happen again.
 "I bought 'em a box of cigars the next day, just by way of thanks," Douglas said. "And I told 'em—with my fingers crossed—that I'd bring another every time I missed a line."

The camera crew heaved a collective sigh, and Douglas Basehart, out of his perch on a 15-story ledge, blows his top in a last hope of shocking him into coming in. Basehart did his part perfectly. So did Douglas.

Can't Be Stumped
 But through all his long speeches after that, Douglas has never been anything but line-perfect.

One day the crew was sure they had him. He had to spout nearly four pages of dialogue at Agnes Moorhead in the morning and let forth five pages of angry tirades at Richard Basehart in the afternoon.

The camera boys inquired when he came on the set whether he had the cigars ready. He didn't. The lensmen grinned in anticipation.

Director Henry Hathaway got the scene perfectly on the first try at 9:30 a. m. He got a close-up of Miss Moorhead's reaction to Douglas' look-to-the-camera repeat of his four page spiel at 9:45. By 10:10 the whole scene was in the bag.

Both Letter Perfect
 The cameramen, down but not out, figured they still had a chance with the next scene. That was the five-page special in which Douglas tired of trying to calm, wheedle, lective high of mock despair. They had to buy their own cigars still another day.

But director Henry Hathaway, who had figured taking the whole day on the Douglas-Moorhead scene and rehearsing the Douglas-Basehart scene for tomorrow, brought forth a box of choice cigars. The line-perfect cast had put him a day and a half ahead of schedule.

"I'll pay off for a cast like this," he remarked as he passed the cigars, "any time."

BOYCE HOUSE SAYS

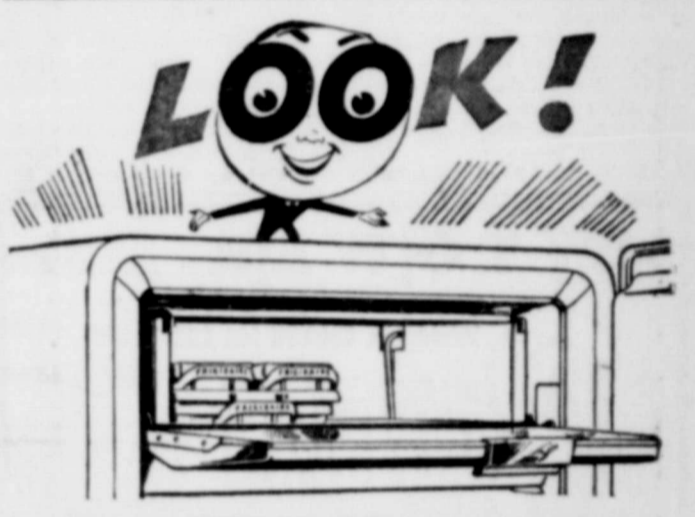

A dear old lady said, "If we have a depression, I hope it won't be like the last one. That one came while so many people were out of work."

A doctor had a good friend and he was worried about the friend's health. He said to the man's wife, "I don't like the way your husband looks."

She said, "Well, doctor, neither do I, but he has always been mighty good to the children and me."

TEXAS NEWS BRIEFS

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 9—A professional rain maker may come to the aid of farmers in the Lake Medina region where little rain has fallen this summer.

The Guadalupe-Medina Flood Water Reclamation Association passed the hat today. It set a $30,000 goal to employ the Charles S. Barnes Precipitation Control Company of Phoenix, Ariz. Lake Medina currently has only an estimated five days supply of irrigation water. Its circumference has shrunk from 100 to 15 miles. The Barnes firm, if hired, will sow silver iodine in clouds using both aerial and ground apparatus.

ALICE, Sept. 9—District Judge

Sam G. Reams has set Thursday as trial date for a suit contesting the commissioner's runoff election in precinct 1 of Jim Wells county.

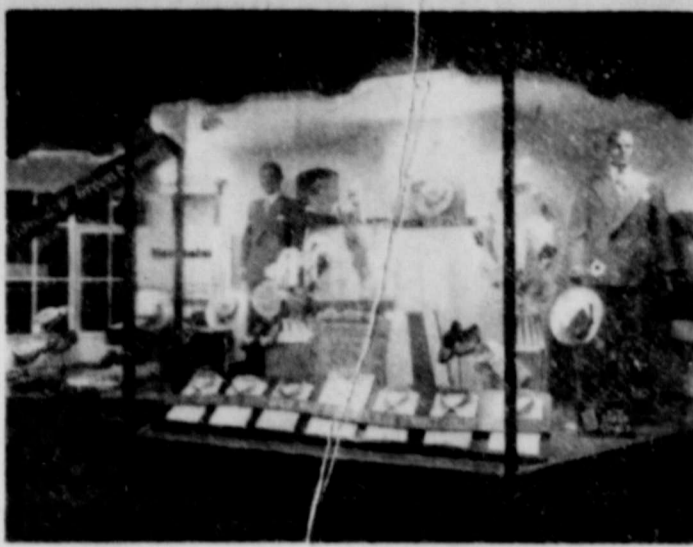

Incumbent Commissioner Dan J. Scruggs brought the suit. Scruggs, loser by 72 votes to W. R. (Buster) Perkins, claimed that 200 votes could be challenged.

Reams impounded all ballot boxes and election supplies pending trial.

WESLACO, Sept. 9—State Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald's opposition to marketing of green citrus fruit had backing today from the Texas Citrus Commission.

Jack Drake, manager of the Commission, commended McDonald's order for inspections of fruit before it leaves the valley.

Drake said the Commission is on the verge of a major advertising campaign for Texas oranges and grapefruit. "The industry naturally wants to be sure the fruit passes the 'sponn' test before it is sold to housewives."

LAREDO, Sept. 9—Mexican Historian Ismael Falcon said yesterday that discrimination against people of Mexican extraction is rapidly disappearing in Texas.

Falcon, ending an eight-months visit to Texas, plans a book to correct Mexican misconceptions about Texas.

DALLAS, Sept. 9—Union officials today expressed high hopes for reaching an agreement with Chance-Vought Aircraft Co., although production workers overwhelmingly rejected a company offer of raises ranging from four to 18 cents per hour.

Company spokesman said raises would have averaged some nine cents hourly. However, John W. Vinson, area director of the United Auto Workers (CIO), said the proposed contract would have given the higher increases to only about 70 per cent of the employees.

Officials said no strike could be called before mid-December.

DENISON, Sept. 9—Bus patrons crowded into taxicabs and private autos today as the city's buses stayed in the garage because the transit company's public liability insurance lapsed.

Only minor confusion resulted yesterday as the city went busless for the first time. Mayor Harry Glidden proposed that taxi charges reduced fares during the emergency.

Gorman 4-H Club Member Wins Contest

Joe Edd Reynolds of Gorman, Texas, was the winner in a recently completed county wide contest of the Texas 4-H Electric Awards Program.

Reynolds is a member of the Carbon 4-H Club.

About 12 boys entered the contest, which consisted of writing a theme on the topic of finding a better way of doing things on the farm and in the farm home through the use of electricity.

Reynolds' theme subject was, "Dairy Farming by Electricity." Brooks West of Rising Star won second place with the theme, "Two Ways We Use Electricity." Edwin Robertson of the Carbon 4-H Club was the third place winner.

For his winning efforts, Reynolds will receive a gold-filled medal of honor. His theme will be entered in the state contest.
