

Landings Reflect MacArthur's Hope Of Cutting KoRed Lines

Editors Note: Hugh Ballie, president of the United Press, reports that the amphibious landings in Korea reflect General MacArthur's belief that the Communists made a mistake in extending their supply lines dangerously.

Ballie's dispatch on MacArthur's reasoning and strategy, and how it fits into the general Korean picture, follows. It is the second dispatch on the Korean war by this first major newspaper executive to go to the fighting front. He also was the first to reach many fronts in Europe during the Second World War.

By Hugh Ballie
President of the United Press
KOREA, Sept. 15 (UP)—
Gen. Douglas MacArthur is known to believe that the enemy has made a fundamental mistake in extending his supply lines in Korea until they are dangerously thin and of this he intends to take full advantage. Hence the amphibious landings in Korea.

MacArthur's judgment is that the enemy made two big mistakes. At first he permitted himself to suffer delays due to a lack of knowledge of the actual American and South Korean strength.

When confronted by small forces of Americans in the early days of the war, he hesitated and spread out in a wide front whereas a column of tanks followed by trucks carrying infantry could in the first few days have pierced directly through to Pusan. The small forces we were able to put in so quickly provided the necessary holding action which cost the enemy his plan of quick occupation of Southern Korea. This was his first mistake.

His second was in extending his supply lines to their present attenuated length.

MacArthur appears just as full of gusto and invigorating drive as he was in 1945 at the crest of victory. Now five years later with another war on his hands which he has gone into the field to direct personally, he seems to pack as much punch as ever. Naturally he shows some slight strain since he has been "sweating it out" in Korea since June 25, conducting one of the longest and most successful goal line stands in all military annals.

Since the American plan had been to abandon Korea if invaded the whole MacArthur campaign to save the country from Communism had to be improvised and extemporized with the limited number of troops then available, with growing air and sea superiority plus the training of South Korean recruits who now are seen marching manfully, singing and looking happy in their new uniforms.

The enemy's initial advance was made through using the infiltration tactics similar to those which resulted in the fall of Singapore, which astonished the world, plus the mass artillery fire from tanks.

Supplies were kept flowing through the age-old Asian custom of human burden bearers who kept relentlessly going forward, usually in the nighttime, many thousands of people of all ages acting as trucks, weapons carriers, human camels and burros.

Our style of modern warfare proved unsuitable to them this flood until we learned the tricks by tough experience.

The enemy is masterful at camouflage.

Sometimes a parade of houses moving down a road has been unmasked as tanks. Individual Korean soldiers wear lacings over their caps for arraying their heads with bushes. They move like wreaths but now we are getting help with trip wires and neck-high wires to bring them down as they sneak around our positions.

Troops in the line, who have been working 24 hours daily seven days a week, accumulating plenty of overtime, and most of whom would appreciate having their occasional beer if it's possible to get it up to them, have now solved most of the North Koreans' artificial practices and have become veterans of this style of warfare.

The North Korean troops who appeared earlier in the proceedings were said by one General to be as hard to deal with as the Germans. This original Army is now pretty well exterminated. This force and that which succeeded it was phenotypically aided by the irregulars or simple peasants who sneaked around rear areas. A simple agrarian with a burp gun can be a dangerous animal, as the bullet-riddled bodies of Americans make manifest.

One of our own Generals in the field said he himself was surprised at the formidable character of the Communist attack. This campaign has had all sorts of aspects with some elements of Bataan, some of the Alamo and some of Custer's last stand—only this time we win.

It takes a lot of stuff to lick these wily men in slippers. Sometimes they seem to survive a torrent of fire and bombs that would make a shambles of a town like, say, Greenwich, Conn.

The instances of individual heroism are numerous, such as the British patrol leader who, wounded, ordered his men to leave him behind to the mercy of the enemy so the rest could return safely with the information they had gathered.

The logistics of this campaign will make books for a future West Pointers as the full saga of how we brought the stuff in and took the wounded out, all across water, will live forever.

In Taegu, you sleep with a pistol near your hand and you are lulled by the not so distant muzzling of battle.

Many soldiers ask "what about the folks back home? Are they interested in what's going on out here? Not much pushbutton around here, hey reporter?"

Flatwood Farmer Harvests First Peanut Load

LON NORRIS WINS C OF C PREMIUM

Lon M. Norris, Flatwood farmer, won a $50 premium for the first load of peanuts delivered to the Ranger Peanut company.

Rip Galloway, secretary of the chamber of commerce, presented Norris a check from the chamber. T. C. Wylie bought the peanuts which graded 72 with one per cent damage.

THE FARMER HARVESTED 18,890 pounds or 629 bushels, selling at $31.17 a bushel, off of 23 acres. The yield of 27 bushels an acre is reported to be a way above average for early peanuts and beat last year's county-wide record average.

Norris figures that the county average this year will be a little better than 20 bushels to the acre.

NORRIS HAS BEEN FARMING peanuts since 1915 when the first crops were grown here. His son, Truitt Norris, raises peanuts on a farm at Carbon.

Norris, 61 years old, owns a 54 acre farm on which he grows sorghum feeds and truck crops in addition to the peanuts.

He planted his crop on April 15. He figures that he made about $950 net profit. The peanut hay which he uses for fertilizer is valued at seven dollars a ton.

Young P-TA To Continue Milk Program

The Parent-Teachers of Young School met this week to discuss plans for a lunch room program.

The group decided to continue the milk program, serving free milk to youngsters who bring their lunches. This program will be referred to the district supervisor at Stephenville for approval, reports Mrs. E. E. Warren, president.

The PTA will continue the concessions at the football game, proceeds to help finance the installation of a fully equipped lunch room at some future date. Tables have been installed for the youngsters to eat their noon meal.

Mrs. G. E. Harper, who has been making a study of neighboring lunchrooms, told the group that Ranger is the only town in Eastland County which does not have lunchrooms.

According to the lunch program, the government provides surplus foods for the school lunches, and allows 8 cents per meal on a grade A meal.

Plans were made for a membership drive to be launched Oct. 2-10, the school room soliciting the largest percentage of membership to receive $5. The mothers also voted to award an attendance prize of $1.50 to the room having the most mothers present at the monthly meetings.

Bulldogs Meet Weatherford Rivals Tonight

The Ranger Bulldogs have their work cut out for them Friday night when they meet their long standing rivals at Weatherford.

Coach O. C. Warden says that his boys know they have a scrap ahead. They know what they got to meet and for that reason aren't over-confident.

Little things may decide tonight's game with Weatherford. Weatherford's edge in the pre-team has almost the same line it did last year when it beat the Bulldogs.

The backfield is sparkplugged by two reputed very fast and smooth runners.

TO MEET THIS CHALLENGE

The Bulldogs have the remembrance of defeats dating back to 1946, a hard game under their belt and the confidence and team work they displayed in tying the powerhouse Hobbes, N. M., eleven last week 14 to 14.

This will be the season opener for Weatherford. But the Ranger foe has scrimmaged several good teams—including Arlington High last week.

RANGER WILL ALSO BE HANDED BY THREE INJURED PLAYERS

Gerald Bagwell left end, won't see action due to a shoulder injured in no practice—not at the Hobbs game.

Action for Quarterback Wayne Cunningham and High Guard G. L. Barnes will be limited. Cunningham hurt his foot in practice; Barnes has a twisted shoulder, also hurt in practice.

RJC Gridders Fall To H-SU Freshmen, 6-0

RAIN TURNS FIELD INTO MUDDY SLUSH

A rain, lightning tormented night saw the initial try of the Ranger Junior College graders fall 6 to 0 to Hardin-Simmons University Fresh Thursday night.

THE GAME WAS CALLED with four and a half minutes to go when the lights blinked out in the Abilene stadium. But before the final score was written, some 2,000 fans at the start had seen brilliant defensive work by Neal, White and B. Williams—and some highly skilled offensive playing by Williams and McWhorter.

It was Abilene's night when Clifford Rowland climaxed a 67 yard drive to give the Fresh a 6-0 victory.

IN THE STATISTICS RANGER scored highly, picking up more yards rushing, more first downs and more yards passing, than the H-SU squad.

Superintendent Of Schools Asks Sportsmanship

Superintendent of Ranger Schools G. B. Rush pleaded for crowd sportsmanship at Weatherford tonight.

Rush pointed out that a fan's excessive zeal could cost the Ranger team a 15 yard penalty under new high school football rules.

"Win, lose or draw, let's be good sports," he said.

Quarterback Club Reports On Lighting

E. F. Arterburn, spokesman for the Quarterback club, said that adjustments would be made on the football stadium lights as soon as possible.

It may not be possible until the end of the current football season.

But he pointed out that the lights are giving the center of the field almost five times the amount of light as the former ones.

Most Complaints Again

At the recently installed lights apparently derive from glare that spectators have noticed. Arterburn suggested that fans who wear glasses should wear hats to cut out the glare.

The lights are now furnishing 10 foot candles of illumination in the center of the field. Last year's lights furnished only two foot candles. The school board and Coach O. C. Warden figure that the center of the field should have 20 foot candles.

MARINES LAND AT INCHON PORT

TOKYO, Sept. 15 (UP)—United States Marines, storming ashore from the biggest armada of the Korean war, captured the island of Wolmi today and drove on into the important west coast port of Inchon.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in a daring maneuver to cut off the Communist army from its supply bases, landed forces behind the enemy lines on both the east and west coasts of Korea. A short time after the landing on the west coast, MacArthur went ashore in a small boat to take personal command.

The American flag flies today only 18 miles from Seoul, the Southern Korean capital from which the defenders were driven in the early days of the war.

C of C Schedules Luncheon Here Tuesday Noon

The Chamber of Commerce membership luncheon will be held Tuesday noon at the Gibson Coffee Shop. J. A. Bates, president of the school board will discuss present changes in the school system. F. P. Brasher, incoming president, will preside at the meeting. Reservations should be made with the Chamber of Commerce office here by Monday noon.

Nuessle Slated To Make Talks

J. M. Nuessle, Ranger attorney volunteered to accept speaking engagements before civic groups and other public spirited organizations in Eastland County on behalf of the program of Governor Allan Shivers' Texas Economy Commission.

Governor Shivers appointed 600 Texans to this advisory body to conduct intensive research into the state government and to make recommendations for economic and efficient reforms.

UNITED STATES AND BRITISH WARSHIPS (symbols on map) made a tremendous bombardment of Seoul's port of Inchon on the west coast of Korea before Marines landed successfully. They successfully capture and holding of Seoul will cut the main north-south artery of the Communists and might mean an early end to the Korean war.

TWO SOLDIERS REPORT SEEING WOUNDED AMERICANS THROWN IN FIRE BY N. KOREANS ON AUGUST 31, EAST OF NAKTONG RIVER

By Jack Barby
United Press Staff Correspondent

WITH U. S. 2ND DIVISION, Korea, September 15 (UP)—Two U. S. infantrymen said today they saw Communist point 150 feet away. He said he saw two men cast into a roaring bonfire on the night of August 31.

One said he watched three Americans thrown into the fire from his hiding place 200 or 300 feet from an overrun command post just east of the Naktong river.

The other said he watched the barbarous scene from a point 150 feet away. He said he saw two men cast into a heap of blazing tents and shelter props. A third soldier was carried toward the fire, he said, but "I didn't see him thrown into it because I didn't look."

The men were Sgt. Lester Marcum of Vaughns Mill, Ky., and Sgt. Max H. Stephen of Route 4, Greeley.

Their stories tallied, although they watched from different positions and neither knew the other was there.

"IT APPEARED THAT GASO-line was used to make the blaze bigger," he said. "It was a hell of a big blaze. The enemy then took up the wounded GIs who with folks who suffered stomach disturbances due to lack of Vitamins B, B₂, Iron and Nicotin in their systems!

By RANDY DURAND
THE QUESTION
Have you ever taken the great new HADACOL everyone is talking about for such stomach distress? What has been your experience?

THE ANSWERS
Mrs. Ann Poling, 608 Delaware Street, Indianapolis, Indiana: "Three months ago a friend of mine told me about HADACOL. She knew now I suffered from stomach distress. Anything with acid or fried foods I just couldn't eat. It affected my sleep too. Then after I started taking HADACOL, I began to feel better. I've got a bottle in the house now and will continue to take HADACOL from now on. Now I eat anything I want and I get a good night's sleep. I can't praise HADACOL enough."

Mr. Arthur Trasler, 1410 Desire Street, New Orleans, Louisiana: "I had been sick for quite some time. The trouble was mainly a stomach disturbance. I was unable to eat any fried foods at all. I was very nervous, and it affected my work. Now that I've been taking HADACOL, my stomach is in tip-top condition and my nerves are just fine. My appetite has improved too, and fried foods are on our menu at least several times a week. That's because I've been taking HADACOL, and you can bet I won't stop taking it."

Mrs. Alma Kincaid, 2125 E. Adelaide Street, St. Louis, Missouri: "I've been taking HADACOL for over a year. Before that I had been suffering stomach distress. Imagine how awfully hard it was when you can't eat such delicious things as tomatoes, oranges without upsetting your stomach. Then I took my husband's advice and got some HADACOL. Now that I'm taking HADACOL, I can eat anything I want and really enjoy it."

Mr. Seymour Marks, 1229 Morrison Street, St. Louis, Missouri: "Before I started taking HADACOL, there was many a night I lay awake. I just couldn't get any sleep. Food just didn't agree with me. I took only two bottles of HADACOL before I was feeling much better. Now I am in the best of condition and have only HADACOL to thank."

NOTE: HADACOL is bringing wonderful relief to thousands of men and women who suffer from indigestion, heartburn, gas pains, bloating after eating, when their condition is due to lack of Vitamins B, B₂, Iron and Nicotin in their systems. Remember this great new HADACOL actually relieves the cause of these troubles when due to such deficiencies. And continued use helps prevent such stomach distress from coming back. That's the kind of product you want! HADACOL comes in special liquid form so that it's easily absorbed and assimilated by the blood—ready to go to work at once. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days' time. Why don't you get that wonderful HADACOL feeling everyone is talking about? Hundreds upon hundreds of doctors recommend HADACOL. HADACOL costs only a small amount a day. Trial-size bottle, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.90.

General Bolsters Walker Promises 24th Division They Will Get Opportunity To Avenge Themselves On Commies

By Robert Bennyhoff
United Press Staff Correspondent
WITH U. S. 24th DIVISION, Korea, Sept. 15 (UP)—Lt. Gen. Walton Walker said Thursday that when the time comes for the Americans to take the offensive—and that will be "in the near future"—he hoped the 24th division would be the first outfit to re-enter Seoul.

The commander of ground forces in Korea addressed 24th division troops only a day after he spoke to the 1st Cavalry, 2nd and 25th Divisions of a coming allied offensive.

During his visit to the 1st Cavalry sector on the road on which Walker traveled was under mortar fire. Some shells fell fairly close. His GI driver told a friend, "You know, I almost got it today." "Our days of purgatory here have ended," Walker told the men of the 24th, "and we will pass to the offensive in the near future."

He declined to say what he meant by "near future." He said he meant that the day was "some-time in the future."

Twenty-four hours earlier he told other troops of his 8th Army that "we will go forward within a short period of time. We feel a definite weakening of the enemy, and in some places he is even pulling back. I am sure that once we punch through the thin crust, he will fold up."

This correspondent asked Walker what he thought of the present position of the Communists around the United Nations perimeter in Korea.

"They are softening, without a doubt," Walker replied. "If they were not afraid of something, they still have enough to make it damned uncomfortable for us."

Again he declined to elaborate. He praised the men of the 24th, saying: "They have been through more hell than anyone over here."

The 24th was the first American division to reach Korea after the outbreak of war in June. It bore the brunt of the fighting until help began to arrive two weeks later.

Its officers and men always have hoped that when the United Nations offensive finally begins, they would have the privilege of being the first Americans to travel back over the roads they sold so dearly to the Communists.

Before talking with men at 24th division headquarters, Walker chatted with a group of combat veterans of the 19th infantry regiment, the outfit he originally joined as a 2nd lieutenant when he began his Army career.

Walker's son, Lt. William Walker, is commander of a line company of the 19th regiment. Some of the infantrymen who belong to the 19th were fighting only a short distance away as Walker talked.

The 19th regiment entered the war in Korea during the battle of the Kum river above Taegon, and has been fighting more steadily than any other American outfit.

TEXAS NEWS BRIEFS

By United Press
AUSTIN, Sept. 15—The University of Texas laid plans today for a five-year research program designed to learn what school officials need to know for their jobs.

Total cost of the regional research program, which will get under way this month, was estimated at $500,000—including a $400,000 grant by the W. K. Kellogg Foundation. The program is part of a national study of improving educational leadership.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 15—A 56-year-old carpenter, Arthur R. Weaving, was killed yesterday when he fell 26 feet from a construction scaffold at the Riverside Baptist Church.

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 15—A 12-year-old Mexican boy accused of killing a seven-year-old girl, has been adjudged sane.

Doctors at the state hospital in San Antonio, after observing the lad for two months, advised Cameron County officials he was of sound mind. He is accused of beating and drowning Francisca Castro as she played near an abandoned irrigation ditch.

EDINBURG, Sept. 15—The Chamber of Commerce planned today to name an Edinburg street for Xavier—a Texas city that doesn't exist.

Chamber directors decided to name a row of streets after Texas cities, in alphabetical order. When they came to the 24th street, they couldn't find a city starting with the letter "X."

Dr. S. S. Storey solved their problem. He suggested the name Xavier, theorizing that "someday there might be a town by that name somewhere in the state."

FORT WORTH, Sept. 15—A London vicar was here today, delivering personal thanks to people in Fort Worth for their part in supplying three pigs for a barbecue that helped rebuild a bombed English church.

The Rev. John Nickels, 36-year-old ex-Loyal Navy Chaplain, said sale of the barbecue meat brought 450 pounds sterling—$1,200 at American value. It helped rebuild his Episcopal church, St. Mary the Bolton.

Everyone is familiar with the saying that the way to assure an Englishman of a happy age is to tell him two or three good jokes when he is young.

When you tell an Englishman a joke, he will laugh twice—once when he hears it and again when he understands it.

When you tell a Frenchman a joke, he will laugh once—when he hears it; he never understands it.

ARBOR
 A NEW PATTERN BY HAVILAND

 The classic grape design of the Arbors is a must with great style. The slant, thick purple base of the grape is highlighted by darker purple shades while light brown accents and the cluster repeats.

 Migratory waterfowl hunting regulations designed to gear the harvest to the production of wild ducks and geese, recently were announced by the department of the interior's fish and wildlife service.
 Texas and Oklahoma this year have identical seasons, beginning Nov. 3 through Dec. 17—45 consecutive days. Texas and Oklahoma, being in the central flyway, have their daily bag limit increased by one duck and the possession limit by two ducks.
 Congratulations are in order for Albert M. Day and the U. S. fish and wildlife service in submitting the recommendations for the 1950 season. For the first time proposals designed to balance the harvest with production will come nearer to such a goal.
 This year's recommendations are the result of years of study and planning by the fish and wildlife service. They represent the most balanced program ever enacted for the preservation of duck hunting.
 It has been no easy task to attempt to adjust hunting pressure to the anticipated flights of ducks and geese in the various sections of the United States, commonly called "flyways."
 In addition to the balanced and far-reaching recommendations for this season, the preferences of the states with respect to open season dates have been observed within the limits of uniformity for flyways and wherever consistent with sound conservation practices.
 New for a brief summary of the major changes by flyways:
 The length of the season in the Atlantic flyway states will remain the same as last year—40 consecutive days or two periods of 16 days each. Bag limit of four ducks and eight in possession remains the same.

Married Life Hard
 GALLIPOLIS, O. (UP)—Judge Robert M. Bots quickly granted a divorce to Wesley Hart, who said his wife, Vesta, shot at him, tried to scald him with boiling water, retired each night with a loaded shotgun held at his back, demanded all his earnings and refused to cook.

HALF INSURED?
 Would a fire cheat you out of half of your property?
 It would indeed if you have only half-insured it. The best way to make sure that you have enough Fire Insurance is to ask a competent insurance agency to check your needs.

Mildred Wall Becomes Bride Of Harvey Black In Home Ceremony

Miss Lenna Mildred Wall became the bride of Harvey L. Black of Corpus Christi, in a ceremony read at 8:30 p. m., Sept. 14, 1950 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Meale Brister, 1100 Oddis Street.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Eugene L. Kelly of Ranger and the groom is the son of Mrs. Callie Black of Ranger.

Floyd J. Spivy, Church of Christ minister, officiated before an altar decorated with greenery and baskets of white gladiolas, daisies, and chrysanthemums, and two candelabras holding fourteen white cathedral candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, Dave Thompson of Star, wore an aqua blue crepe dress with a corsage of white carnations. She carried a white bible topped with white carnations.

Too Soldiers—

Admiral Struble said the "basic idea" of MacArthur's sudden and bold maneuver was "to attempt to destroy the North Korean army in South Korea."

Once in Seoul, which the South Koreans abandoned June 28 in the face of the first Communist assault, the Allies will have a strangle hold on the best north-south route in the country. They also will have regained possession of Kimpo airport, 10 miles north of Inchon, the best airfield in the country.

STEPHAN WAS SQUAD LEADER at the same command post. He and his squad fought for about 15 minutes before being forced to withdraw. About 150 feet from the command post, Stephan's feet got tangled in some wire. While trying to untangle himself, he saw the Communists start the fire.

He said the fire was about 10 feet wide, but the flames billowed 20 feet in the air.

TWO NORTH KOREANS CARRIED the first American to the fire, he said, and a third joined them to throw him in. He said he thought the American must have been wounded badly, because he didn't struggle or cry out.

Then two more Communists, holding a GI upright between them, walked to the fire. He heard the GI scream "don't." One North Korean hit the soldier, he said, and the wounded man sagged. Then he was thrown into the fire.

Stephan said he turned away when he saw a third U.S. soldier being carried toward the fire.

"About that time they saw me, and I had to take off," he concluded.
