First US Boat Sunk In War By Red Mine

Minesweeper Goes Down With 21 Missing Sailors

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (UP)—The American minesweeper Magpie was sunk and 21 U.S. sailors are missing after the ship struck a floating mine last Sunday in Korean waters where Russian-made mines have been laid, the Navy announced today.

The Magpie was the first U.S. Naval ship to be sunk in the Korean war. It was a 136-foot wood-hulled AMS, Auxiliary Motor minesweeper.

It struck the mine off the Korean east coast city of Ch'uksan-Dong.

Twelve survivors were picked up by a sister ship, the Merganser, and carried to the port of Pusan, Korea.

The Magpie and Merganser were engaged in minesweeping operations when the Magpie struck the mine about 5:30 p. m., Korean time.

The Magpie was the third U. S. Naval vessel to strike a mine in Korean waters.

The Magpie struck the mine on her starboard side and sank about two miles off shore.

McWhorter Will Miss Game Tonight; Henderson Leaves

Four Injured In Explosion At DeLeon

Carl Jones and Herbert Barker of Eastland, Willard K. Johnson, Corsicana, and Ronald W. Hughes, Olden, were hospitalized after an explosion occurring at the DeLeon Magnolia pump station, Monday, while they were making a weld on an eight inch pipe line.

Company officials said Thursday morning that none of the men were in critical condition, and that very few third degree burns were suffered.

Jones and Hughes were expected to be released from the Gorman hospital this week, and a company official said that Barker and Johnson probably would be released next week.

As accumulation of gas was believed to have caused the explosion, Johnson and Barker were burned around the face and shoulders. Jones and Hughes, who suffered less severe burns, were burned on the hands, arms and legs.

Merchants Start Autumn Sales

The annual Dollar-Day sales are getting under way again. Local merchants are offering the thrifty housewife and husband bargains in everything from clothespins to rifles.

Practically all Ranger merchants have had or are planning values on all items for fall and winter. Seasonal merchandise is being stocked up weekly by the merchants and a variety of goods are offered the customers.

Education Award Given Rising Star FFA Boy

Cecil Barton of Rising Star, is one of 15 Texas youths to win a Santa Fe Railway educational award for outstanding achievement as a Future Farmer of America.

Barton will receive his award at a special ceremony to be held at the State Fair in Dallas, Saturday.

telegram from the Army yesterday ordering him to return to active duty eleven days from now.

McWhorter, first string fullback will miss tonight's game because of a bad arm. Standsridge is still bothered with a banged up knee. Coach Yarbrough hadn't decided yesterday who he would sub for McWhorter.

If the Midwestern B Indians are as good as they were last year, the Rangers are in for a rough night. Last year's game was a story book thriller.

Ranger was leading 7-6 over Midwesterns, then called Hardin College, and right on the last play of the contest, an Indian intercepted a Ranger pass on the Midwestern 37 and almost got away for a 97 yard winning touchdown. A Ranger end finally stopped him on the Ranger 35.

Cisco Putting In Hard Drill For Ranger Tilt

Ranger Bulldog's old rivals, the Cisco Lobos, will be in town Friday night for Rangers first 8-A conference tilt.

The last meeting between the two squads was in 1948 when Cisco was still in Class AA. Ranger put it to the Lobos, 12-6. Cisco dropped back into Class A this year.

Coach Warden announced all his charges in good condition for the rugged contest. The Bulldogs spent yesterday afternoon in contact scrimmage running against Cisco plays.

Word from Cisco has the Lobos practicing hard for the game. Coaches Everett and Overall began practice Monday with a session that lasted until nearly dark.

UN Trials ALLIES CONDEMN NORTH KOREANS FOR THEIR BRUTAL SLAUGHTER OF CIVILIANS AND WAR PRISONERS; SEEK THE GUILTY

By Glenn A. Stackhouse

The Report said the Communist atrocities were committed on a large scale and "involve some cases of brutal beating and mutilation of persons prior to their murder."

"The Commission condemns the complete disregard by the North Korean authorities of civilized standards of behavior as well as of the principles of the Geneva convention," the report said.

The commission and the U. S. Army, began work to run down North Korean war criminals and bring them before the court of international justice, as was done with German and Japanese war criminals at the end of World War II.

"It may be a long time before we are ready," the Army spokesman said, "but it will be done in the United Nations Courts in Korea."

Bits and scraps of information from North Korean war prisoners, survivors of the atrocities, and other witnesses, are being pieced together.

There will be thrills and heart failure enough if tonight's game is anything like last week when Ranger upset Tarleton State 7-6 and both teams exchanged fumbles within Ranger's 15 yard line in the last few minutes of the game.

Coach Boone Yarbrough tapered off practice yesterday with the team practicing kicking off, trying extra points and running through plays with no contact work.

Three Downtown Stores Sell Grid Tickets

To ease the buying of general admission tickets for Ranger's first conference game, Friday, against Cisco, three downtown merchants will sell the ducks today and tomorrow.

General admission tickets for 75 cents can be bought at the Oil City Pharmacy, 113 W. Main, Swaney's Pharmacy, 215 W. Main or at the Paramount Coffee Shop, 220 W. Main.

A big crowd is expected from Cisco and with most of Ranger planning to see the game, ticket buyers will be plentiful. Football fans are asked to use the downtown ticket booths and help ease the selling of tickets at the gate.

Reserve seat tickets are on sale at the Recreation Building.

Stamps Ozark Quartet Due At Singing Meet

The Eastland County Singing Convention will meet at Mountain Top Church on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 7 and 8.

The church is located midway between Rising Star and Cisco, just off the paved highway to the east. The Stamps Quartet and a number of leading singers are to be at the Convention.

TO REGROUP IN SPECTH PARALLEL

By Earnest Hoberecht

United Press Staff Correspondent

TOKYO, Oct. 5 (UP)—The Communists are attempting to regroup and set up a new defense line on the West Korean coast in prewar positions just north of the 38th parallel. Facing them just below the border are 150,000 Allied troops massing for their final assault to crush Communist arms in Korea.

British and Australian troops wheeled into the line today, alongside Americans and South Koreans preparing for the offensive.

As the Allies massed below the Parallel, the South Korean Third Division resumed its northward advance along the North Korean east coast, plunging forward another 10 miles before meeting strong enemy resistance at Changjon.

The South Koreans repulsed a strong enemy counter-attack, and then pushed forward another five miles beyond Changjon. They had advanced 85 miles beyond the 38th Parallel and were only 45 miles from Wonsan, expected to be a Communist rallying point.

However, it appeared that the heaviest fighting would take place in the area facing the American infantrymen and Marines on the route from Seoul to Pyongyang.

Maj. Gen. Earle E. Partridge's Fifth Air Force summary disclosed that the Communists were attempting to regroup in pre-war positions just north of the 38th parallel from Haeju on the west coast inland some 110 miles to Hwachon.

Available to Gen. Douglas MacArthur for his all-out offensive were some 190,000 Allied troops, but they included divisions still engaged in mopping up operations to the south.

Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, Eighth Army commander in Korea, sent a message of congratulations to his United Nations forces today for their heroic delaying action and the subsequent offensive which defeated the Communists in South Korea.

The South Korean campaign, he said, brought the Communists to "a condition of collapse and disintegration from which there could be no recovery."

The enemy radio at Pyongyang broadcast to the North Koreans today an admission that Communist troops were in retreat.

The enemy radio also broadcast an implied appeal to the Chinese Communists for help.

A message from North Korean Foreign Minister Pak Hon Yong to Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En Lai said:

"We feel certain that the peoples of both China and Korea should make an even stronger joint effort in their strife against American imperialism."

Pilots were instructed not to attack Choson about 25 miles west of Samcheok below the 38th Parallel because "indications were that enemy troops occupying this village desired to surrender."

The bag of Communist prisoners below the Parallel was growing by the hour, but the thousands of by-passed or trapped enemy troops were beginning to pose a serious threat.

One band of 2,000 Red troops raided the town of Wonju in South Korea Sunday and killed five American officers, the South Korean command and 1,000 to 2,000 civilians.

Junior Chamber Of Commerce Flashes New Maroon Uniforms At Mineral Wells Rodeo Today

The Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce will be strutting out in their new uniforms today when they journey to Mineral Wells.

Twenty-five brightly clad members will ride in the Sheriff's Posse to help celebrate the Palo Pinto County Rodeo. Three Ranger girls will carry flags in the parade. Mrs. Helen Bradford will carry the American flag, Betty Penn will carry the Texas flag and the JC Rodeo flag will be carried by Carolyn Pruet.

After the parade the JC's will be guests of the Mineral Wells Sheriff's Posse at a barbecue dinner. Tonight the JC's will participate in the grand entry to the rodeo.

Maroon is the prominent color of the new uniforms, which each member bought. The trousers are maroon and in western style shirts show off maroon stripes. On the back of the shirts is an embroidered map of Texas with a star representing Ranger. The club name, Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce is also embroidered on the shirt's back.

The girls wear matching western uniforms.

State Asking $100,000 In Walker Suit

Horace Walker Charged With Retaining Moneys Collected In County On Delinquent Taxes

Horace Walker is named as defendant in a civil suit for more than $100,000 filed in the 91st District court in Eastland this week by the State of Texas, et al.

Walker is specified in the plaintiff's petition as of Dallas county.

In the original plaintiff's petition filed at 3:32 p. m., Oct. 3, charges Walker with retaining $101,229.24 of delinquent tax moneys he collected in Eastland county, and converted the money to his personal use and benefit.

The petition reads: State of Texas et al, vs. Horace Walker, et al, suit to collect debt.

Walker entered into a contract for the collection of delinquent taxes with Eastland county on January 1, 1949. The petition specifies that Walker "fraudulently and illegally" retained more of the collected money than is allowed under the law.

Also named in the petition is the U. S. Trust and Guaranty Company, with principle offices in Waco. The Trust company executed a surety bond of $5,000 as surety on Walker.

The petition calls for $5,000 from the Trust company, and $96,229.24, with six per cent interest per annum until paid, from Walker.

No hearing date has been set in the case, and Wednesday, Walker had made no answer to the petition.

A cloud is a high fog. A fog is a mist hanging low enough to reach the earth.

ENTERING INTO BLISS—It's not so unusual to find cars in supermarkets these days, but normally they don't crash in like this one driven by Joseph McCarthy of New York did. Actor Who Became Star Learns It Costs More To Keep Up Front; It's Ciro's Now, Not Hamburgers

By Virginia McPherson

(UP) Hollywood Correspondent—HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 5 (UP)—Tony Curtis, who likes to date pretty girls, got to be a movie star last week. He still likes to date girls—but now he has to spend money at it.

And this is not good, our new star reports, on account of they're still paying him his non-star salary.

Universal - International, the film factory that upped him to the top after he beat every big name on their list in fan mail, says they're gonna get around to changing that one of these days.

"Meanwhile," Tony says, "I'm going broke."

Two weeks ago he could call up Shelly Winters or Ann Blythe or Janet Leigh, take 'em to a movie, treat 'em to a hamburger at a drive-in, and call it a fine evening.

Now he's a big shot. He's gotta splurge.

"We used to go to the beach and have a million laughs," Tony said, "Especially with Janet. She's my new girl."

"But I can't buy her a hamburger now. If I do I'm a cheap-skate. It's gotta be Ciro's no less!" His first taste of stardom, outside of snagging the lead in "The Prince Who Was A Thief," came in the barber's chair.

"I went in for a haircut," Tony explained. "I came out with a massage, a manicure and a shoe-shine. They came at me from all angles. Cost me five bucks."

Actor Mark Stevens got to him next. Told him he'd better get a new top on his convertible. Said people'd start talking.

"I figured he oughta know—he's a star," Tony said. "But his advice cost me $59.50."

His tailor's giving him a bad time, too. All of a sudden, that guy "doesn't have a thing" under $135.

"And take my pals," Tony added. "I used to wave when I saw 'em. Now I have to stop and talk. Otherwise I'm going high-hat."

The only gent who appreciates Tony's new status is his roommate, Marlon Brando.

"We share an apartment," Tony said.

said. "Marlon sleeps in the bed and I get the couch. But the night I got my promotion he let me have the bed—for eight whole hours."

Missions, Vols Meet Today In Deciding Game

NASHVILLE, Tenn. Oct. 5 (UP)—The San Antonio Missions and Nashville Vols meet tonight in the seventh and deciding game of the 28th Dixie series.

The Padres, champions of the Texas League, forced the series to the limit with a 6 to 3 triumph over the Southern Association kingpins. It was the sixth game and each team now has three victories.

San Antonio got to four Nashville hurlers for 16 hits—one of them fifth-inning home run knocked by Rocky Ippolito.

Johnny Pavlick was the winning pitcher, but gave way to Lefty Al Hudson in the sixth. Red Barrett, the Vol starter, was the loser.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 5—Attorney Frank Massey today gave up his fight for the judgeship of the 67th District Court.

The Texas Supreme Court declined yesterday, for the second time, to strip Judge Harris Brewster of the democratic nomination—awarded to him by the state party convention—and Massey announced he would withdraw as an independent candidate.

Massey had contended that both he and Brewster, serving by appointment, should run as independents since democratic voters had no say in the nomination at the July and August primaries.

Stassen Writes To Joe Stalin On World Peace

By Harry Ferguson
United Press Foreign News Editor
Harold Stassen may or may not get an answer to a letter he wrote suggesting something be done to save the peace of the world, but he certainly sent it to the right man. He addressed it to Josef Stalin, the Kremlin, Moscow, USSR.

The Russian dictator is the most powerful man in the world. A few words from him, or even a nod of his head could ease most of the tensions that plague us today. Almost one-third of the people on the globe owe allegiance to Stalin in one form or another. The North Koreans could stop fighting at noon today if they got the word from Moscow.

Stalin never was one to be glibulous, but in recent years his silences have been longer than usual. His health is uncertain—he is believed to suffer from high blood pressure—and he spends long vacations in the balmy climate of the Black Sea. But there is no sign that he has loosened his grip on the Politburo, the dozen men who run Russia and, indirectly, much of the rest of the world. The boss is still very much on the job.

Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, suggested in his letter that he go to Moscow along with some other private American citizens and talk things over face to face. One reason he made the suggestion is that three years ago he had a talk with Stalin in the Kremlin, partly because Stassen had been mentioned as a possible Republican presidential candidate.

They had a long chat, but the nub of the matter was that Stalin made two statements; (1) Russia wanted peace, and (2) Capitalism was doomed and there soon would be an economic collapse in the United States.

Russia is in a tough spot on the Korean war, and she may think the time is right for a "peace offensive." In that event Stassen might open his mail some morning and find a letter filled with sweetness and light. Stranger things than that have happened inside the Kremlin.

Brown Beats Phils In Series Opener And Heads For Baseball Immortality As Series Hitter

By Oscar Fraley
United Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5 (UP)—Bobby Brown—a part-time ball player who often wonders whether he might be better off as a full-time doctor—was advancing today toward baseball immortality as one of the all-time World Series hitters.

The lean, handsome Bobby was the young gent whose double, opening the fourth inning, set up the New York Yankees' winning run as they knocked off the Phillies in yesterday's series starter.

This is getting to be a habit with Brown, an unspectacular third baseman during the regular season who in three of the last four years has contributed the thumping thunder of the October classic. Back in 1947, Bobby was a rookie who hit .300 in his irregular appearances. Came the series and he was called on four times as a pinch hitter. All he did was whack out two doubles and a single in three official times at bat—and walked the other time. That's a World Series record for pinch hitters.

There are two reasons for this decision to delay his medical career. "First, I'd like to prove to myself that I really am a good ball player," he explained. "And I hope to become financially independent enough by playing baseball to be able to afford the specialized training I would like to take later on."

The reason for his explosive batting in the World Series is a mystery which even his medical training doesn't help to diagnose. "In the spring, I was miserable," he recalled, "smoothing his blond hair. "In my first 2 times at bat I didn't get a hit and finally went one for 4."

That's an .041 average, which is lousy even for left-handed pitchers.

"I really was crushing that pea," Bobby derided that early showing. "The only thing I did right all year was to get my degree."

But, here came the series—and her comes Brown.

There are two reasons for this decision to delay his medical career. "First, I'd like to prove to myself that I really am a good ball player," he explained. "And I hope to become financially independent enough by playing baseball to be able to afford the specialized training I would like to take later on."

Reports Of Dyer Leaving Cards Still In Air

HOUSTON, Oct. 5 (UP)—A damper was placed today on reports that Eddie Dyer may not manage the St. Louis Cardinals in 1951, and the word came from Skipper Dyer in person.

He said "nothing has been settled with President Fred Saigh of the Cardinals."

"We have talked about next year briefly, but the whole thing is still up in the air."

Dyer added that he and Saigh will meet in St. Louis Oct. 15 for a discussion and "we will make a joint statement Oct. 16 at a press conference."

Dyer said if he left the Cards he would consider another major league post "if it is the right kind of proposition—otherwise, I'll stay in Houston."

Large Meteor Flashes Across Tennessee Sky

NASHVILLE, Tenn., October 5 (UP)—A large meteor, the second in two weeks, shot across the sky yesterday so fast a farmer didn't have time to show it to his wife.

Eastern Airlines Pilot J. W. Clayton said the meteor made "an extremely bright flash." Farmer Frank E. Knight described it as "a big ball about the size of a washtub. It was going so fast I didn't have time to show it to my wife, who was standing beside me."

Stripteaser Gets Careless; Fined By Canada Cops

COLLINGWOOD, Ont., Oct. 5 (UP)—Red-haired stripteaser Anne Danereau, who plays it safe by dancing in two G-strings, paid a $25 fine for carelessness today.

Two provincial police constables testified that when they witnessed Miss Danereau's performance the G-strings were unmoored and flapped about.

"I'm used to that surprised look," Eileen explained a few minutes later. "We go up to any serviceman in line first now that we're fighting another war. But they always act so surprised to find somebody paying special attention to them."

The nearest she's come to rescuing a serviceman in distress was to get a last minute reservation for a soldier on the 20th Century Limited to Chicago.

"I had only five minutes to do it, and it made me feel real good to see him race through those gates with his ticket," she said.

TWO FORCEPS, A FOXHOLE AND A LITTLE MORPHINE SERVES NAVY DENTIST WHILE YANKING GI TEETH ON KOREAN WARFRONT

By H. D. Quigg
United Press Staff Correspondent
SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 5 (UP)—Rooftop snipers were cracking a-way in all directions on the third day of the battle for Seoul when your correspondent stumbled in on a professional man who was digging his own office.

Stumbled is used as literal as you can get. Maybe slid is a better word. The professional man was a dentist. His office was a foxhole. He digs a new one every day.

Navy Lt. Charles W. Fain of Winter Haven, Fla. He did his work in one of those starched white kimonos that dentists wear.

Now he keeps office in a hole in the ground, and on some days he doesn't have even that. The day before I saw him, he had pulled a tooth—an upper left molar—for a Marine rifleman while sitting on the front steps of a Seoul bank building.

Lt. Fain is assigned to a U. S. Marine Corps regiment, and when that regiment is making an assault he is an assault dentist. An assault dentist's main work is casualty evacuation and assisting the regimental surgeon. But he must be prepared to do dentistry, and he carries a small work kit along with him.

In the kit is a little toothache medicine, some morphine and novocaine, a bit of treatment filing, and two tooth pulling forceps—one upper, one lower. "Only two forceps," said Fain. "To a dentist that would make him cry. We've got 24 forceps at home."

Fain put aside the shovel with which he had been digging. His office at that point was about two feet deep, two feet wide and four feet long.

"I can stop for a while," he said. "I only dig sketchy ones anyway. But they sure come in handy."

He pointed to a thick vine branch about five feet away which had been nearly severed by a sniper's bullet. Communist snipers were hidden among hundreds of slate roofs on the levels through the hills the Marines were advancing on. It was impossible to spot them. South Korean Marines were making a house to house search for them.

All medical men with the U. S. Marines are Naval personnel. Fain was aboard a ship in the Pacific in the last war.

"What a difference," he said, rubbing a dirty two-day growth of beard. "On the ship there was a clean change of clothes every day and a shower, every night."

Fain's combat dentist's clothing consisted of green fatigues, pants with Marine leggings and a brown wool shirt with a .45 in a holster strapped across his chest. He had a sandy mustache. A green field cap sat above his brown shell rim glasses.

Marines with serious dental trouble are sent to the rear for treatment. Fain had had only four dental cases since hitting the beach at Inchon. His extraction technique is simple. He sits on the edge of a foxhole. The Marine with the aching tooth sits down in the crook of Fain's elbow. Fain grabs the head like a halfback holding a football on a swing around end, with the chin in his palm. The rest is pure dentistry.

"I was a civilian on Aug. 1," Fain said. "I had a dental practice in Winter Haven. I was in the Naval Reserve, and the whole Marine unit I was attached to was called in. Six weeks from the date I was called in, I landed on the shore of Korea."

Fain has two daughters, Helen, 8, and Retta, 1 year old, and a wife named Betty. I asked him if he'd thought about Christmas presents for them.

"I haven't had time to get Christmas presents," he said. "I'll just have to send them love and kisses. If you could do that for me it would be one of the finest things that could happen."

Okay. Here are three kisses. One for Helen, one for Retta and one for (blush) Betty. (XXX). I hope the Lieutenant doesn't get mad with me for lingering on 'till last X.

It Was Just An Accident—
... that Columbus discovered America, or was it luck? He himself said that his journey would be hazardous and he didn't know where he was going. But he had faith that he would discover a great land, and he did. Likewise, the person who buys land without an abstract is embarking on a dangerous course. Like Columbus he must have faith that he won't lose his all and plenty of luck to avoid disaster.

Labor Director Gets Questions On Child Work

Calls and inquiries ranging from West Texas to Arkansas concerning child labor in agriculture today led William J. Rogers, Regional Director of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the U. S. Department of Labor in Dallas, to say he considers most people in the Southwest to be good citizens who would not violate Federal Laws, "once they understand them."

He indicated, however, that he had directed Federal investigators to look into the child-labor situation in various parts of his five-state region during the coming weeks.

His statement came as a result of calls and comments concerning the child-labor provisions which Congress wrote into the Fair Labor Standards Act last year, enforcement of which falls to the U. S. Department of Labor.

The amended laws make it unlawful to employ children under 16 years of age in agriculture during school hours. By "school hours" is meant hours when school is in session for the district where the child under 16 is currently living.

Before this time a good many such children, of both domestic and alien parents, have been used in the cotton fields in various sections of the cotton belt, according to reports.

In West Texas, several mass meetings of farmers has been held in order to consider the new outlook with reference to youthful cotton pickers.

Mr. Rogers made it clear that the Law does not apply to the farmer's own children working on their parent's farm. Likewise, he said, the law sets no minimum age for the employment of children in agriculture, before or after school hours on any school day, or at any time on school holidays, or during school vacations.

"But during school hours, the Federal Law forbids the employment of children under 16 in agriculture when the product goes directly or indirectly into interstate commerce," he said.

Mr. Rogers emphasized again that farmers themselves are responsible if they hire under-age children during school hours. That includes children hired either as individuals or as part of a family group directed by labor contractors, processors, or others.

with enough shoulder padding so "they won't look like wet sparrows," and after that, Adrian said, they should just buy clothes they like and hang on to them.

The jet and atomic age, he believes, won't call for any radically different wardrobes.

"Women," he said, "couldn't be much more active than they are today."

HADACOL Helpful To Three Generations of Hot Springs Folks

Miss Frances Price is an attractive young lady with such beautiful complexion and sparkling personality that even at the mature age of three she attracts more than her share of admirers among the Junior wifels of Hot Springs National Park, Ark. She wasn't always the vibrant person she is today, because, like her mother and her grandmother, she suffered a deficiency of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Niacin, and Iron.

Miss Price is a member of a HADACOL family because her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Kenneth Price, and Mrs. Myrtle Dyer, who operates a progressive store in Hot Springs, also take HADACOL.

Here is what Mrs. Price, who had suffered deficiencies, said: "Our family sells and takes HADACOL. My mother, Mrs. Dyer, started taking HADACOL some time ago for indigestion. She had aches and pains of neuritis, but after the first three bottles of HADACOL she felt better. I was so enthused about my mother's results that I started taking HADACOL as a dietary supplement. I was weak and run down and now feel fine. We were then worried about my three year old daughter. She was weak, run down and her food did not agree with her. After taking HADACOL she is now brimful of energy. Her cheeks are rosy. Ours is a neighborhood store and many of our customers are just as enthusiastic as we are."

Wonderful for Both Old and Young

This new HADACOL is simply wonderful for men, women and children of all ages who are sick and ailing because their systems are lacking these important Vitamins B-1, B-2, Iron, and Niacin.

The important Vitamins and Minerals in HADACOL, come to you in special liquid form so that they are quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood stream, ready to go right to work at once. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days. HADACOL even builds up the red blood cells (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious elements to every part of your body—to your kidneys, lungs, heart, liver.

Relieves Cause of Your Sickness from Such Deficiencies

HADACOL now makes it possible for you to relieve the cause of neuritis, pains and a general run-down nervous condition when due to deficiencies of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Iron, and Niacin.

There Should Be No Doubt

After reading Mrs. Price's wonderful experience with HADACOL—how can you doubt that this great product will help you if your system is lacking in Vitamins B-1, B-2, Iron, and Niacin?

What HADACOL did for Mrs. Price, it can do for you if you're suffering neuritis aches and pains, or other trouble due to such deficiencies.

So what are you waiting for? Don't continue to suffer—can't continue to be miserable!

Don't Be Satisfied With Symptomatic Relief!

HADACOL is not a quick-acting pill which gives symptomatic relief—rather it acts to relieve the real cause of your pains and aches or a weak, nervous run-down condition due to such deficiencies. And continued use of HADACOL helps prevent such agonizing pains and such troubles from coming back. That's the kind of product you want—that's the kind you should buy and that's the kind you should start taking NOW!

HADACOL costs only $1.95 for a trial-size bottle. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. It is sold on a 21 money-back guarantee. At any drugstore, Adv. © 1950, The Lulline Corporation

The origin of the slow motion picture. Two Scotchmen watching for the dinner check.

Four friends, one of them a Scotchman were having dinner together. At the close of the meal, as the waiter was tearing the check from his pad, a voice of unmistakably Scotch accent said, "Give me the check," so he handed the bill to McTavish.

The headline in next day's newspaper read: "Scotchman Kills Ventriloquist."

Traffic, Not Men Are Cause Of Short Skirts

By Elizabeth Toomey United Press Staff Correspondent NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—Unglamorous as it sounds, at least one famous designer is convinced that mechanical marvels, not streamlined silhouettes, are responsible for today's fashions.

Modern inventions, says Adrian, who has been dreaming up women's clothes for 20 years, are the reason for short skirts, trim suits, light-weight fabrics and glamorous hostess gowns.

What's more, he's still sticking by his statement that women will be wearing essentially the same kind of clothes 50 years from now that they are today.

Here's how he explains it. "Airplane travel means light-weight clothes and trim suits. Most women know how to drive a car today, and they want to wear things that won't get caught in the clutches. That's why the new look wasn't successful." Short evening dresses, the way Adrian reasons, can even be credited to traffic, not male appreciation of female legs.

"It's harder to get taxis these days because of the increased traffic, so short formals are more practical," he explained, sitting with his wife, former movie star, Janet Gaynor, in their hotel suite. She seemed to be in smiling agreement with everything her husband said, even standing up to model a new suit he had designed for her.

"It's raisin-colored wool," he explained, "with a pleat just at the hemline in front to give walking room."

Let the girls wear their clothes about 15 inches from the floor,

New C Rations Improve With Tastier Food

By H. D. Quigg
United Press Staff Correspondent
WITH U. S. FORCES IN KOREA, Oct. 5 (UP)—Veterans of the Second World War will probably feel like releasing an emotion or two when they learn that the next for today is the C ration.

Don't stalk out in disgust, men. C ration has come of age. Something new has been added to the canned stuff "our boys" are chomping in the field. Much of the new C ration is tasty enough to grace the table in a semi-respectable eating dump in the states.

The old C ration, as I remember it in the last war, came in three delicious flavors: meat and beans, meat and vegetable stew, and meat and vegetable hash. After a while—say three or four months—there developed about this diet a monotony which can only be described by direct quotation: "ugh."

In the new ration, however, you are likely to bump without warning into cans containing such labels as sausage patties with gravy, ham and eggs with potatoes, chicken and vegetables, ham and lima beans, beans with pork and tomato, sauce, hamburgers with gravy, and ground meat and spaghetti in sauce.

They can be, and very frequently are, eaten cold. But they're much better hot. Heating involves starting a fire. That might be done by rubbing together North Korean and South Korean—or possibly Marine and G. I.—but the common method is by strapping a "humidity resistant safety mat."

NSRB Officer Tells Of Steel Supply Shortage

DALLAS, Oct. 5—Brig Gen Robert J. Smith, vice chairman of the National Security Resources Board, told Texas petroleum industry leaders Wednesday that they will be expected to continue exploration and development of the state's oil and gas resources, but the supply of steel will be short.

General Smith described the function of the Resources Board as that of "umpire and expeditor," and said that "umpire and expeditor" come in an "accessory racket" in the C ration or "individual combat ration box." They work fine except when wet or "after long exposure to damp air" as it says on the match folder.

While heating your food you're practically certain to be surrounded by kids, their hands extended, calling "allo, allo," and likely to be visited—as I was the other day—by a Korean housewife about your laundry. My housewife pointed toward a sign in her front yard. This is exactly what it said: "High opposite, a wash house. Please call or whistle if you necessary."

The new C ration is well balanced, and thoughtful about your needs. The last box of "individual combat ration" I opened, for instance, (it was after spending the night in the grass of the Duk Soe palace grounds in Seoul) contained three 12-ounce cans—frankfurters and beans, sausage patties, chicken and vegetables; two six-ounce cans—fruit cocktail and peaches; a bar of soap; and two cans containing coffee, sugar, jam and crackers.

peacemaker and prodder." He said the president has charged the agency with coordinating the various government agencies which will administer the defense production Act which was enacted last month.

"It is hoped that by this means essential balance among the components of our industrial life may obtain," General Smith said. "It will require teamwork for the common good. It will not be easy, and too frequently it will be grim."
