Kids Run Wild On Halloween

Editor's Note: Ranger passed through a relatively quiet and damage-free Halloween night. The kids mostly rang bells, shot off firecrackers, turned over some garbage cans and potted plants and dumped paint on sidewalks. Window soaping was held to a minimum. Several street lights were knocked out on Oak and Cypress streets. Otherwise, it was just a lot of noisy, fun-making.

By United Press
Halloween spooks tormented citizens throughout Texas last night and early today, but the worst reports of vandalism came from Amarillo, where hoodlums flooded city streets.

An organized gang gave Amarillo police and firemen their most hectic Oct. 31 in history. About 100 firetrucks in all parts of Amarillo were opened by nocturnal prowlers, who took the caps with them.

Many Amarillo motorists told police they drove through water up to or above their hub caps. A city water official said one storage tank had been lowered more than two feet by midnight.

In certain areas of Amarillo, a master valve must be turned off before the flow of water through a fire plug can be stopped. As soon as police turned off an underground master valve in one section, reports of open fire plugs came from across town.

Water was flowing again in Amarillo mains about 6 a. m. today, after five plug caps had been replaced.

At Brownwood, Editor Ernest Jones of the Brownwood Bulletin sensed disaster as a dynamite blast shook a 10-block section of his city.

His investigation revealed that vandals had stolen dynamite from a quarry and had blown the rear steps off the building where the Bulletin is published.

Overworked Dallas police answered a call per minute during the peak hours of property destruction. Sample squad calls:

"Boys breaking street car windows. . . house windows. . . store windows. . . street lights."

"Boys discharging shotgun at passing cars."

"Boys throwing explosives in a yard."

"Investigate two boys attempting to set house on fire."

Austin police checked off a hectic night that kept dispatcher phones ringing almost constantly until well beyond midnight.

Vandalism spread from east Austin to the swank suburbs on the western outskirts of the city. A full police force was augmented by 30 firemen as authorities attempted to control frolicing youths.

Police were issued fire hydrant wrenches as standard equipment when teen-aged youngsters began flooding streets. Street lights were broken. Motorist complained their cars were splashed with red paint. Burning boards were tossed in yards. Trash was dumped on front porches. Mail boxes were torn down. Rocks and ladders were thrown into streets. Garbage cans festooned some residential areas.

Four San Antonio teen-agers fashioned make-shift "Molotov cocktails" by pouring gasoline into glass bottles and tossing them into the streets.

They were picked up by police on a complaint but were released without charges.

Goal Line Still Uncrossed As Pups Win Fifth Straight 26-0

Their goal line was still uncrossed as the Pups passed to an easy victory over the visiting Mineral Wells junior team last night, 26-0.

Except for a third-quarter spurt when Mineral Wells, with the aid of a recovered Ranger fumble, was stopped on the Pups 19 yard line, the outclassed opponents never threatened seriously.

But the Pups' fifth straight victory was costly. Linebacker James broke his leg in the first quarter and will be out for the rest of the season. In the fourth quarter, quarterback Ferris, received a broken nose in a rough mixup at the line.

The game was a smoothly performed Pup display of hard line play, amazing passing for a junior team and excellent defensive work by the backs who intercepted three passes. Eight fumbles marred another well-played tilt. Ranger fumbled three times and lost the ball twice; Mineral Wells recovered only one of their five fumbles.

On the second play of the game, Perrin intercepted a pass. A play later, Browning skirted 15 yards around left end for a score. Again, after the kick-off, Browning intercepted a Mineral Wells pass on the visitors 22. Sharp went off tackle from the five for the touchdown.

In the second quarter, Perrin heaved a 19-yard pass to Browning on the Mineral Wells' 33 that was good for a score. The pass and run covered 52 yards.

Six plays later, Browning made a beautiful catch of a beautiful throw on Mineral Wells 25. He almost stumbled as he caught the ball but running fast he kept his feet to ramble on for the Pups' last touchdown. That pass and run play covered 57 yards.

That was all the scoring as both teams were busy fumbling and recovering fumbles during the second half.

Ranger Play Promises Fun For Everyone

There will be a lot of "fueidin', fussin' and a-fightin'" in town when the Band Boosters Club put on their play in the High School auditorium on Tuesday evening, Nov. 7 at 7:30.

However, the excitement will all be on the stage with the hilarious Sittler family in "Comin' Round the Mountain." Written by the popular playwright, Robert St. Clair, this play is guaranteed to be one of the best ones presented in Ranger in years.

Admission prices is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Naval Officer Positions Open To Civilians

According to an announcement made by LCDR. H. Heine, Jr., officer in charge of Navy recruiting station and office of Naval Officer Procurement, Dallas, authority has been granted to open procurement effective November 1950, of civilian candidates for appointment as officers in the Naval Reserve.

The programs thus re-opened are for general line officer, electronic specialist, petroleum engineer, civil engineer, supply corps, chaplains, and Merchant Marine officers.

Although officer commissions in the Naval Reserve secured under these programs are primarily for inactive duty, subject to active duty in a national emergency, there is an opportunity in the general line and supply corps programs for those candidates who have a 1-A draft classification to apply for immediate active duty if they are commissioned.

The procurement programs re-opened as of November 1, are in addition to those reserve programs already in effect, namely, Medical Corps, Dental Corps, Nurse Corps, and the Navy's numerous programs for those students in medical and dental schools.

A general statement of qualifications cannot be made, since applicants must meet the special qualifications for the different programs. However, in most cases, a college degree is a basic requirement.

Any civilian desiring to make application for a Naval Reserve commission is requested to contact the Office of Naval Officer Procurement, Room 1904, 1114 Commerce Street, Dallas, for detailed information.

Eight Producing Wells 12 Miles NW Of Ranger

The Jackson Pool, 12 miles northwest of Ranger with eight producing wells is readily being developed. Six rigs are working with about 70 to 100 men. All wells were developed by hydrofrac in the last four or five months.

Knapper on Jackson is drilling on top of pay at 1769 preparing to hydrofrac. Choate and Fair are drilling at 630 feet on Jackson. Another Jackson location has been made.

Patke on Gray is on pay at 1789 preparing to hydrofrac. Rush Carbon-Strong on Gray is on pay at 1774 preparing to hydrofrac. They also hydrofraced another another well at 1791 which swabbed 117 barrels per day.

Johnson and Ines on Bonney moved in a rig yesterday. Another offset location has been made. McCarty and Coleman on Glasscock are drilling at 885. Pitzer on Simmons moved in a rig yesterday.

Texas Bragging Needs State Help Sen. Says

McALLEN, Tex., Nov. 1 (UP)—Texas, the home of the big brag is falling down on the job when it comes to an organized program of extolling the state's virtues to the outside world and "to each other," State Sen. Rogers Kelley said last night.

The Edinburg lawmaker said he would introduce a resolution in the coming state legislative session calling for repeal of a constitutional provision forbidding use of state funds for advertising.

In an address before delegates to a convention of the State Motor Court Assn., Kelley emphasized that Texas is one of only two states that doesn't appropriate money for publicity.

"Delaware is the other and it has nothing to advertise anyway," said Kelley.

The lawmaker said Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arkansas, Louisiana and Colorado spend an estimated million dollars plugging their merits.

Despite the cold reception given similar plans for Texas in the past, Kelley said he believed the state was ready "because the people have awakened to the potentialities of the state—not only as a tourist vacation resort but as a future home for industry."

The day's top readings were 91 at Alice and Presidio, while Marfa had the state's low of 79.

A cool front from the Rockies would reach the northwest portion of East Texas late this afternoon or tonight, the U. S. Weather Bureau predicted. By tomorrow morning, the Panhandle, South Plains and El Paso area were expected to have cooler, and normal November weather.

No precipitation was recorded in the past 24 hours, and none was expected today and Thursday.

THE WEATHER

By United Press

Maximum temperatures yesterday broke or equaled all-time records at three Texas cities, but the weatherman said cooler weather was moving across the state today.

El Paso recorded a high of 87 yesterday, the hottest Oct. 31st in the city's history. Amarillo equaled a previous record for Oct. 31 with its high of 85-degrees, and Dallas reached a previous record of 86 degrees.

Chamber Of Commerce Activities Have Been Numerous During Past Fiscal Year Annual Report Shows

The annual report of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce brings to light many activities that were sponsored and inaugurated by the local organization.

In 1948 the Chamber sponsored the location of a light weight aggregate plant here, and raised about $8,000 among Ranger firms as a loan to get the plant started. A deal has just about been completed with Bill Williams of the National Aggregate Corporation of San Antonio for taking over of two additional kilns and operating the plant at full capacity.

The company has had about 15 men working for the past few weeks setting up the kilns and installing other machinery and the plant should be in operation in a short time.

Red Attack Stops Rokks

TOKYO, Nov. 1 (UP)—An American armored column drove with in artillery range of the Manchurian frontier in northwest Korea today, but a fierce Communist counter-attack saved in South Korean forces on its right flank.

A tank-tipped U. S. 24th Division task force spearheaded eight miles up the northwest coastal highway before halting temporarily 1,000 yards west of Chonko, 14 air miles from the Yalu River Manchurian frontier and 16 miles from the North Korean emergency capital of Sinuiju.

Seven enemy tanks sought to delay the advance, but American artillery knocked out all seven.

Pipkins Purchase Grocery Store In Coleman

The purchase of a grocery store in Coleman which will be Pipkin's 10th Piggy-Wiggly store, has been announced by Grady Pipkin.

Perry Staubach established the newly purchased store about 20 years ago. It has been operated the last four years by Gifford Scott. Scott is in the ranching business and sold the store so that he might devote full time to his ranch.

Pipkin said the store would be operated on the same basis as other stores of the Pipkin chain, among the same personnel that Scott has been using for the last four years. The building of the store has a 60 foot front with a 120 foot depth.

Ross Russell, who was part owner of the store before its purchase by Pipkin, will manage the store. Coleman has a population of about 7,500.

Pipkins plan to open their store No. 11 in Midland and their store No. 12 in Odessa during the month of November, bringing the total number of stores in their chain to 12.

The Coleman store will be supervised out of Eastland, Pipkin said.

Noel Judy's Condition Improves; But More Help Is Needed To Get Medicine For Arthritis Victim

Noel Judy will be seeing some football games. And he'll be doing a lot more things he hasn't been able to do for a long time.

Noel, who will be 17 Dec. 21, has been stricken with arthritis for several years. This painful, crippling disease which inflames the bone joints, has drastically curtailed Noel's activities.

He hasn't been able to attend school for several years. But with the help of expensive medicine the Ranger youth is slowly improving. Even the racking pains have decreased a lot, Noel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Judy, said.

Noel's improving progress has been possible only through the aid of Ranger citizens who have seen to it that the expensive medicine is available to the boy. The First Baptist Church has set up a "Noel Judy Fund" for the purpose of providing medicine to fight the disease. The fund is now almost depleted. Club and Sunday school classes of other churches have been giving to the fund. More help is needed. Noel is given three shots of the expensive medicine every day.

If you were at the Hamilton game, you'll remember seeing Noel in his wheelchair by the Bulldog's bench. For the first time in many weeks, Noel was able to watch his favorite sport. His presence was made possible through the efforts of Rev. Ralph Perkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

Ranger citizens are asked to keep the "Noel Judy Fund" active. Noel's slow improvement and the lessening of his suffering are an encouraging and heartening sign. But the medicine is expensive and help is needed to buy more of it.

DIRECT A FOOTBALL TEAM BY RADIO? SOUNDS CRAZY BUT HERE IS HOW IT CAN HAPPEN TO COACH SPIKE MCNASTY

(Editors Note: A ham radio operator in Lagrange, Ga., installed receiving equipment in the back of a quarterback and tried to sell the high school football coach the idea of directing the team by radio from the bench. The following fantasy seems to show what things like this could lead to.)

ATLANTA, Nov. 1 (UP)—"They're jamming us again, sir!" shouted the assistant coach in charge of electronics. His voice trembled with emotion.

"That last signal didn't get through. I relayed your instructions for a field goal and the quarterback called a screened pass."

Head coach Spike McNasty blanched and reached for the aspirin bucket, gulping down several tablets at once.

"I knew that Upper State U. For Good Used Cars (Trade-ins on the New Olds) Oldsmobile Motor Company, Eastland had been monitoring our bench-to-team broadcasts," he moaned, "but I never thought they'd stoop to a low trick like jamming."

"How did they do it?" assistant coach Markowitz asked. "How did they ever discover our frequency? We completely fooled Seaboard Tech. last week when we switched from A. M. to F. M."

"The trouble with you, Markowitz, is that you're still living in the era of the single wing formation and the crystal set," McNasty chided. "Upper State obviously scouted our game with a wire recorder and knew that we were going to use the short wave length."

"It never would have happened if the Alumni Association had put up the funds for that new transmission tower I asked for," the assistant said, defensively. "I don't see how they can expect me to get a clear channel broadcast with our old 50-foot tower when Upper State has a new 75-footer."

"You've got to play with the material you've got," answered McNasty. "I knew we were sunk when our left halfback broke his antenna in practice."

"Well, if Upper State keeps jamming us, why don't you report it to the Federal Communications officials," suggested Markowitz. "Those deaf Toms!" snorted McNasty. "Why Seaboard Tech used profanity on the air three times last week and didn't draw a single penalty. You should have heard the fans with portable radios booing."

"It looks hopeless then," sighed Markowitz. "Since you can't get through to our quarterback it looks like you'll have to resort to the last resort—and in a substitute with a new play."

"Never!" vowed McNasty. "I'd rather lose than be called old-fashioned."

"Suit yourself," Markowitz said. "Myself, I've got to make a station break."

Cyclone Davis Blows Into Ohio To Help Taft

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 1 (UP)—"Cyclone" Davis, shaggy veteran of Texas politics, was expected to blow into Cincinnati today to "help" Bob Taft get re-elected.

Davis, Dallas fender repair man and part time politician, was expected to confer soon after his arrival with Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft as to just how he might be of help.

The tall and courtly Texan, who sports a rich growth of yellow beard, was unperturbed by the fact he's a life-long Democrat supporting a Republican.

A friend in Dallas quoted him as commenting, "Sure, I'm a Democrat, but first I'm an American." The elderly Davis, who has run in Texas for the offices of governor, lieutenant governor and Congressman with insurable enthusiasm, has never been elected to high office.

However, his speeches—delivered in graceful, effortless style before crowds large or small—frequently are spiced by reference to his father, the original "Cyclone" Davis, who served a term as Texas Congressman at the turn of the century.

Davis was lured into Ohio politics by his interest in old-age pensions which have formed the basis of his platform in most of his bids for political office. Seems that Taft is in favor of a pay-as-you-go pension plan for citizens over 65.

C. H. Anderson, perennial Davis backer and himself the author of one pension plan, said he arranged the trip to Ohio in a talk with Sen. Taft Saturday.

He said Taft indicated he would be glad to have Davis' help.

If the bearded Texan takes the stump, Ohioans will be seeing one of the most colorful campaigners in the history of the Lone Star State—not even barring former Sen. W. Lee (Fappy) O'Daniel.

Texas voters regard him fondly, although it doesn't show at the polls.

Davis led a snake dance through one North Texas town last summer during his campaign for lieutenant governor. He is regarded as a fixture at any Texas political meeting involving more than three people.

He promised the electorate faithfully he would unroll his patriarchal beard and allow it to fall freely to the floor as he reigned over the Texas Senate, if he were elected.

It Takes Many Years—

... to build up an abstract plant to the point where it is considered safe to offer title information to the public for sale. The public generally does not realize this, but some do. If an abstract comes from a plant with adequate facilities, an established reputation and sufficient financial responsibility to protect the customer, it should be safe. The best title attorneys steadfastly refuse to render an opinion on an abstract which they believe to be sub-standard, and they should.

Gene Nowell, Royce Wheat Marriage Solemized At Double Ring Ceremony

Miss Melva Gene Nowell and Royce L. Wheat were united in marriage Saturday, October 28, in the home of Rev. and Mrs. C. C. McKeever, 6516 Hollis Drive in Dallas. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. C. C. McKeever.

The bride chose a blue crepe dress and selected an off the face navy hat with a shoulder length navy veil, with navy accessories. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, and she carried a white linen bibb topped with a corsage of white carnations. The bride carried out the old tradition of something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue, and also with penny in her shoe.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Nowell of Goldthwaite. She attended Goldthwaite High School and Texas School of Beauty Culture in Brownwood. She has been an employee of Young's Beauty Shoppe since April 1949. The brides only attendant was Mrs. Finis Wheat. She wore a grey suit and navy accessories.

The groom is the son of Mrs. Mary J. Wheat. He was attended by his brother, Finis Wheat, of Ranger.

A reception was given in the home of Rev. and Mrs. McKeever. The three tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was served with ice cream.

BOYCE HOUSE SAYS

The city's leading merchant had a nephew that he wanted to become a reporter. So the youth was hired. But he wasn't cut out for the work and failed on assignment after assignment. At last, the city editor sent him out on an important "story" because he had nobody else. A movie actor was being sued by his fourth wife for divorce and, oddly enough, was hiding to avoid publicity. The young news-seeker was told that the star was in a hotel suite and he went there but was topped at
