US Trying To Strip Russia Of Advantages Reds Won At Yalta; Russ Imply US Welsh On Agreement

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (UP)—The United States is trying to strip Russia of the advantages it won at Yalta.

Russia implies that the United States is winking on its war-time agreements.

The Soviet - U. S. tangle came to light in an exchange of notes over America's proposed Japanese peace treaty, made public yesterday.

The U. S. submitted the proposal to 12 nations, including Russia. It leaves the way clear for the United States to keep bases in Japan, and for the Japanese to remain. This surprised nobody.

But the United States also seeks a re-study of the future of Formosa, the Pescadores, South Sakhalin and the Kuriles Islands. War-time agreements already have outlined the future for these islands.

The United States, in its treaty proposals, also asked that foreign countries give up special rights in China. Russia now holds the main "special rights" in China. She got them in the Yalta agreement signed by President Roosevelt, Joseph Stalin and Winston Churchill.

The state department had no official comment on why it is trying to change war-time agreements. Some officials said Russia has broken so many of the big four agreements that the United States would be justified in calling all the pacts null and void.

The official American government reply, however, will be made to Russia directly.

The Yalta agreement signed on Feb. 11, 1945, required Russia to go to war against Japan. Russia did. Part of the price the western Allies paid for this was the Japanese-owned southern part of Sakhalin Island and the Kurile Islands which lie north of Japan.

The agreement also recognized Russia's "preeminent interests" in the Chinese port of Dairen and in two Chinese railways.

America's new treaty proposals, however, asked that special rights in China be denounced. They also ask that the Pacific big four powers—the United States, Russia, Great Britain and Nationalist China—decide the future of South Sakhalin, the Kuriles, Formosa and the Pescadores. If the big four can't agree, the problem would be turned over to the United Nations general assembly.

Russia studied the American proposals and, with considerable restraint, asked how they should be interpreted in view of the war-time big power agreements.

The Cairo and Potsdam conferences decreed that Formosa and the nearby Pescadores Islands would be returned to "China." The United States and Russia can not agree on whether "China" is the Communist regime at Peking or the Nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek on Formosa. So the United States treaty proposals, in effect, ask that the UN General Assembly decide what to do.

Pres. Will Ask More Funds For Atomic Arsenal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25 (UP)—Intelligence reports of rapid Soviet atomic progress soon will cause a presidential request that Congress pour more hundreds of millions into the U. S. Atomic weapon arsenal.

Budget director Frederick J. Lawton reviewed the request with President Truman this week. The President is expected to send it to Congress next week, probably on Wednesday.

The intelligence reports, an informed source said, have been studied by the appropriate congressional committees and are expected to assure prompt approval of the new money request.

These reports, the source said, underscore the fact that Russia has gone a lot further and a lot faster in development of Atomic weapons than U. S. postwar military planners believed it could.

Together with the Korean war, they have given atomic, military and congressional leaders a sense of urgency that was lacking six months ago.

The source would not disclose just how much Mr. Truman will ask for the new atomic spending. But he said "it is a very substantial request."

Chairman Brian McMahon, D. Conn., of the House - Senate atomic committee, and others on the inside have been saying for a long time that the United States had not been putting a big enough share of its defense spending into atomic weapons.

Grass Fires Blaze Away In Ranger; 55 Put Out In Nov.

Five days ago Ranger's Fire Department reported 33 grass fires for November. Since then, 22 more grass fires have raised that number to 55 for the first three weeks of November.

Last Thursday the firemen battled 6 fires; Friday they put out three. The fires show no respect for time of day or whether the fire trucks are available. Grass fires have occurred during the morning, in the afternoon and at night.

Ranger's worse grass fire thus far burned out 150 acres of pasture last Thursday on the Robinson ranch. Fifty men from the Fire Department, National Guard and Ranger Junior College were needed to get that one under control.

The firemen have already made several trips to Olden and other surrounding communities to fight the dangerous fires. They are short of both men and equipment and have done a good job in keeping damage to a minimum. With little more than a month remaining in the year, fire damage in Ranger has been but $2200 for 1950. Last year $13,000 worth of fire damage was recorded. The year before Ranger had $38,000 worth of fire damage.

This year's drastic reduction in fire damage speaks well for the firemen's work. But one fire could cause enough damage to surpass all previous figures. All evidence shows that nearly all the grass fires are a result of carelessness. Someone throws a lighted match or burning cigarette on a field; someone else foolishly tries to burn a heaping pile of trash in this gusty wind. Firemen have repeatedly asked the people NOT to burn trash in the open. A covered metal barrel should be used, and the utmost precaution should be taken even then.

Actress Katharine Hepburn, who tangled with the law in a real-life courtroom drama, had a ruffled temper and a scorching $5,500 mink coat today as results.

Her chauffeur, Charles Newhill, received a ticket from a highway patrolman while rushing Miss Hepburn to Wichita, Kan., for a performance of "As You Like It" last night.

Patrolman Wayne Young told acting Peace Justice Roy Cox that the fiery Miss Hepburn's Lincoln automobile was going 80 miles an hour when he made the pinch.

The actress, remembering the scenes in the movie "Adam's Rib" in which she played an attorney, tried the gentle approach. She told Cox she was responsible for Newhill's conduct and they just hadn't realized he was violating the 65 M. P. H. speed limit.

"We would have been glad to slow down," she said, "if you (pointing a finger at Young) had just warned us."

Actress Burns Temper, Coat In Courtroom

BLACKWELL, Okla., Nov. 25 (UP)—Actress Katharine Hepburn, who tangled with the law in a real-life courtroom drama, had a ruffled temper and a scorching $5,500 mink coat today as results.

Her chauffeur, Charles Newhill, received a ticket from a highway patrolman while rushing Miss Hepburn to Wichita, Kan., for a performance of "As You Like It" last night.

Patrolman Wayne Young told acting Peace Justice Roy Cox that the fiery Miss Hepburn's Lincoln automobile was going 80 miles an hour when he made the pinch.

The actress, remembering the scenes in the movie "Adam's Rib" in which she played an attorney, tried the gentle approach. She told Cox she was responsible for Newhill's conduct and they just hadn't realized he was violating the 65 M. P. H. speed limit.

"We would have been glad to slow down," she said, "if you (pointing a finger at Young) had just warned us."

The trooper just smiled. The judge remained unconvinced. Miss Hepburn tossed her red hair and glared at Young.

"You don't have sense enough to be an officer," she snapped. Then she backed into the courtroom stove. The long mink coat she was wearing scorched.

Cox fined Newhill $10 and said he was sorry Miss Hepburn had burned her coat.

"It probably didn't hurt that $1,000 coat too much," he commented.

The actress, turning to leave, was indignant. "One thousand? This coat cost $5,500," she snarled and stalked out of the room.

Deadly Poison Gases Blamed In Death Of 14

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 25 (UP)—Deadly industrial gases held to earth by a low bank of clouds were blamed today for the death of 14 persons and poisoning of 64 others at the giant Pozo Rica oil field 120 miles northeast of here.

A spokesman for the Mexican Government oil company said the gases escaped from a sulphur elimination plant early yesterday when the flame which usually burns them was extinguished accidentally. The gases built up under a cloud bank and a light wind drove them into the housing area where the victims were sleeping.

The company said the workers' homes were located "away from areas considered dangerous" and the gases would have blown away harmlessly if there had not been "extraordinary" cloud, wind and temperature conditions. It said the persons sickened by the gas were reported to be "out of danger" by physicians at the company hospital.

The tragedy recalled the Donora, Pa., poison smog which took the lives of 21 persons in October, 1948.

TES To Honor 25 Yr. Workers With Dinner

The annual dinner honoring members of the Texas Electric Service Company's Quarter Century Club in the four-county area around Ranger will be held Monday at 6:30 p. m. in the gymnasium of Eastland High School. A. N. Larson, Ranger manager of the company announced. More than 350 company employees and guests will attend, including employees and groups from Eastland, Breckenridge, Graham, De Leon, Gorman and from the company's offices in Fort Worth.

J. B. Thomas, president and general manager, will address the gathering following a western style barbecue dinner and will present gold watches to three employees who this year have completed 25 years of continuous service with the company. The new members will bring the total number of Quarter Century Club members in this area to 16.

Ranger Vet Sends Turkey Day Menu Of Hospital

Carl Christian from Ranger, who is a patient in the veteran's hospital in Dallas, sent the Times a menu of the Thanksgiving dinner served at the hospital.

In his letter, Christian said that some people do not think that "we are fed as well as or better than we are fed anywhere that I know of."

Girl Killed For Twisting Her Brother's Leg

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 25 (UP)—An 11-year-old boy told police today he shot and killed his 14-year-old sister because she twisted his leg while they were playing.

Earl (Buckie) Nagel admitted the shooting to police lieutenant Maurice O'Neill after first telling him that the girl, Edna Marie Nagel, was shot accidentally when he dropped a .22 caliber rifle on the floor of their home.

The boy was held on open charges. O'Neill said the boy told him that he and his sister had been quarreling for several days. Yesterday they were playing with two step - sisters, Ellen, 9, and Carol, 6, and a neighbor child, Fern Usher, 9.

Earl said Edna angered him by "twisting my leg." He said he went to his room, loaded his rifle with one cartridge and returned to the room where the girls were playing.

"I'm going to kill you," he told Edna.

The girl, shot through an eye, was dead upon arrival at City Hospital.

The boy's father, Ernest Nagel, and his wife were at work when the shooting occurred. Nagel listened as his son made the admission.

Edna was a daughter of Mrs. Nagel by a previous marriage. She had adopted her step-father's name.

It takes only about five hours of labor per year to raise one sheep, according to the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

US 24TH DIVISION PACES 'HOME BY XMAS' OFFENSIVE

TOKYO, Nov. 25 (UP)—United Nations armies pushed ahead on both sides of Korea today to within 45 to 50 miles of Manchuria and 55 miles of Soviet Siberia in the end-of-the-war offensive.

The U. S. 24th Division paced the two-day-old "Home-by-Christmas" offensive on the northwest front with an unopposed thrust up the coast through Chongju, 50 miles from the Manchurian border.

DALLAS, Nov. 25 (UP)—Bryan Yancey Cummings, one of the lawyers who defended Gov. James E. Ferguson in the latter's impeachment trial 33 years ago, died here yesterday.

Cummings, 77, had been living in Dallas since his retirement from active law practice at Fort Worth in 1946. He had been inactive since suffering a stroke two years ago.

Cummings met Ferguson while the famed politician campaigned in his home county, Bell, and supported Ferguson in both the 1914 and 1916 campaigns.

When impeachment proceedings were brought against Ferguson as a result of his attempt to close the University of Texas by vetoing its appropriation bill, Cummings was named one of his defenders.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the Lesson - Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 26.

The Golden Text is: "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong" (1 Corinthians 16:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson - Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand" (Matthew 12:25).

The Lesson - Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus cast out evil and healed the sick, not only without drugs, but without hypnotism, which is the reverse of ethical and pathological Truth - power" (page 185).

BOYCE HOUSE SAYS

Soon after a Texas soldier landed in North Africa during the recent war, he wrote back, "I can't tell you where we are but near us is a family of laughing hyenas." His good old mother commented, "Well, at least Joe has pleasant neighbors." Adolph was explaining how it was that he lost a fight, "Dot passed hit me in the stomach when my back was turned."

SCENES AROUND RANGER

I'm still on the subject of football. Now that the season has ended for the high school it might be a good idea to go back and see how the Bulldogs will stack up next year. Coach Warden loses seven men off this year's district champs.

They are: tackles Bill Yung, Jackie Hummel, captain H. V. Davenport and Ed Polston, quarterback Weldon Cunningham, halfback Billy Simpson and fullback Floyd Woods. Yung and Hummel will be sorely missed in the line. They have developed into two of the district's best linemen and should be ready for college football this time next year.

Cunningham is the boy in the backfield who will be hard to replace. For my money he measured up to any quarterback in the district and was better than most of them. It always amazes me when the small-size boys get out and play ball. Weldon weighs only 125 and I'm still trying to figure out where he gets the power to punt the ball like he does.

That broken right leg he got in the Coleman game will keep him on crutches for about four weeks and the injury knocks him off the basketball squad.

Jimmy Cole will replace Cunningham next year. He did a good job of it this year. Cole is more than a good passer and is exceptionally good on the long throws. He's coming along on his punting too, which the Bulldogs will need in '51.

Of course Comacho will be back and I have more to say about him later on. Massegree, with some weight, looks like the fleet-winged back of next year. In the line Hargraves, Varner, Barnes, who seems rugged just to look at him, Cantrell, Mendoza, Hill, Justice, Rushing, Ferguson and Tune will all return. And Gerald Bagwell, a good defensive back, will return to bolster what should be a more experienced team.

Cantrell and Mendoza, with some added weight and height, should be among the best wingmen in the district. And Justice, who already has progressed more rapidly than any other player, shapes up to be twice as good as he was this year. Most of the other teams in the district will be stronger next year and they'll be laying for Ranger just as they were this year. For a team that had an "inexperienced" line, the Bulldogs did right well for themselves. With the added know-how, they should be hard to de-thrown next year.

Ranger scored 255 points against their opponents 208. In district play, the Bulldogs tallied 87 first downs to 44 for the opposition; 1559 yards rushing to 614; 564 passing to 468; attempted 72 passes and completed 36 for an even 500 mark—their opponents attempted 96 and completed 30. He Bulldogs had 44 penalties called against them for 317 yards while their opponents caught 23 penalties for 195 yards.

And now Comacho. This is the first time that I will ever admit that another paper's figures are correct. The Abilene Reporter-News had Comacho down for 77 yards rushing in the Coleman game. I had it 66 yards. But I bow to the superior mathematical genius of the Abilene Sport-scribe so it's 77 yards. And plus the 52 yards Comacho made passing brings his game's total to 129 yards.

Comacho has scored 24 touchdowns and 29 extra points for a total of 173 points this year. I've kept up with him only since I first came here and saw the Bulldogs for the first time in the Brady game. So the following figures are not complete. But in yards rushing Comacho has gained at least 990 yards and his total offense is at least 1448 yards.

In the De Leon game which Ranger won 35-6 Comacho scored all his team's points and gained 113 of the Bulldog's 304 yards rushing. In Ranger's 41-6 win over Comacho he scored 35 points and gained 258 of the Bulldog's 459 yard's rushing.

This is as far as I have to go to know that Comacho belongs on the All-State team. He is a candidate for it but unfortunately it seems that those who pick the team have a lapse of memory about this time of year and can only remember those players who get as far as the quarter finals or farther. I hope I'm wrong. I have a mind to make up my own All-State team to make sure Comacho gets on it but that would be publishing something that everyone in Ranger, at least, already agrees with.

Balance Sheet Of Weeks War News Leans To Bad Side Of Conflict

By Phil Newsom
United Press Staff Correspondent
Balance sheet for the week between good and bad news in the hot and cold wars:

BAD NEWS
1. The Chinese and Russian radios talked tougher than ever, despite assurances that we have no designs on Manchuria and that Chinese rights to power from the Yalu River dams will be protected. In Washington, there was some uneasiness that the Russians and Chinese were attempting to link Japan with the war in Korea so that they might invoke their mutual assistance pact, and thus possibly touch off a major conflict. The pact provides mutual aid in the case of either being attacked by Japan or a nation allied with Japan.

2. The council of Europe at Strasbourg got nowhere. German elections showed strong opposition to German rearmament as part of a vast Western European land army to resist aggression by the Russians. The council further was split by the deep cleavage between France and Britain over the French plan to pool Europe's coal and steel resources. The French feel that Britain is dragging her feet at the expense of the security of continental Europe.

3. The situation in Indo-China worsened. It appeared that the Viet Minh rebels were about ready to loose a major assault against Indo-China's rich red river delta, one of the greatest rice producing areas in the world. The French appealed urgently to the United States and Britain for additional arms and equipment but said they would not ask for men unless it were proved that Chinese forces were fighting with the rebels.

THE GOOD
1. Gen. Douglas MacArthur launched his "end-the-war" offensive in Korea. For two weeks he had built up his stockpiles and Friday morning (Korea time) he loosed his 100,000-man army in northwest Korea against an equal number of Chinese and North Korean Communists.

Numerically, the two forces were the same but the United Nations had absolute control of the air and heavily outgunned the enemy in artillery and tanks.

2. The United Nations approved the outline of secretary Trygve Lie's 20-year peace plan. The plan provides for periodic high level security council meetings to review world problems, another attempt to solve the problem of atomic energy control and the early establishment of a military force under the security council. The vote was a defeat for the Russians who had demanded the seating of Red China as a preliminary to any long-range peace plan.

3. The Chinese on Wednesday suddenly escorted 27 wounded GI's back to their own lines and released them, along with a somewhat larger number of South Korean war prisoners. The reasons behind the Chinese action were obscure, but the good news lay in the fact the returned prisoners reported they had been well treated and well-fed. It aroused hope for some 350 other Americans believed held by the Chinese and was a welcome change from stories of North Korean atrocities against war prisoners.

Mrs. J. P. Macaure, 408 Radiance St. New Orleans, La., can't imagine a person not taking HADACOL who is sick and run-down due to deficiencies of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Niacin and Iron. She says she continually sings the praises of HADACOL to all her friends. Mrs. Macaure was suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Niacin, and Iron which HADACOL contains.

Here is Mrs. Macaure's own statement: "I have taken at least 5 bottles of HADACOL. Before I took HADACOL I was very nervous. My family was affected, too, because I was so irritable. Then my sister suggested I take HADACOL and I started taking it immediately. After the second bottle I felt like I had taken all the troubles of the world off my shoulders. My nerves are now as steady as ever. My family thinks HADACOL is wonderful because my disposition is 100 per cent better and I am not the least bit irritable. That's because I always have a bottle of HADACOL on the kitchen shelf. HADACOL is the most wonderful product on the market."

Give HADACOL a Chance to help you. If your system lacks these essential elements, you, too, will be amazed at the wonderful results HADACOL can bring you, as it has to thousands of other fine folks who suffered a deficiency of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Niacin, and Iron, which HADACOL contains. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body.

HADACOL is that wonderful new preparation — promising blessed relief for your indigestion, stomach disturbances (gas, heartburn, sour "risings" after meals), as well as that general run-down condition, and nagging aches and pains, if due to lack of Vitamins B-1, B-2, Niacin, and Iron in your system.

HADACOL is so amazingly successful because if your system lacks Vitamins B-1, B-2, Iron and Niacin it acts directly to relieve this deficiency—the real cause of your trouble. That's the kind of product you want—the kind you should buy—the kind you should start taking immediately.

Only One Genuine HADACOL
Don't go through life suffering nagging aches and pains if caused by such deficiencies when relief may be as close as hand as the nearest drugstore, for sufferers from these deficiencies, Buy HADACOL today. Trial size bottle only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes! There's only one true and genuine HADACOL.
