

Attlee Arrives Today For Crisis Meeting

Troops Abandon Pyongyang

RED INVASION ARMY EXPECTED TO TOTAL MILLION MEN SOON

TOKYO, Tuesday, Dec. 5 (UP)—United Nations forces abandoned Pyongyang and left it a city of terror Monday before a surging Chinese invasion army expected soon to total more than 1,000,000 men.

In northeast Korea, reunited troops of the U. S. 1st Marine Division and two regiments of the army 7th regrouped for a final, 50-mile smash through the walls of a Chinese trap barring their way to Hamhung on the east coast.

A Marine spokesman estimated the Marines had killed 15,000 of an estimated 60,000 Chinese in the Chosin reservoir area, and was confident the Leathernecks would break through the enemy encirclement.

The estimate of a 1,000,000-man Chinese invasion army came in a new appraisal from Gen. Douglas MacArthur. A communique said Red Chinese already had thrown 268,000 front-line troops into the fighting, had massed 550,000 more in rear areas and was bringing up 200,000 more.

In another, and fantastic, development in the northeastern Korean fighting, the Chinese released 29 wounded American soldiers of the 7th Division Monday, and sent them back to American lines with a message saying Chinese troops were going back to Manchuria.

The message said the Chinese were holding American officers prisoner, but would send them to San Francisco from Shanghai.

The new twist to the Chinese puzzle came only two days after refusing, fanatical Chinese troops had ambushed a truck convoy carrying wounded soldiers of the same division and slaughtered helpless Americans with grenades, burning gasoline and machinegun fire.

Another development saw the Chinese bring camels into the campaign.

American airmen told of killing five twin-humped beasts in a Chinese supply train.

The last of the rear guards were expected to be out of Pyongyang today.

United Press correspondent Peter Kalischer took one of the last planes scheduled to depart from the Pyongyang airstrip.

Clouds of dense black smoke rose from the former North Korean capital where Allied demolition squads took the last moment to blow up all military installations, fuel dumps, ammunition stores, water works and power stations.

Harried civil affairs administrators feared a bloodbath in the city when the Communists once again take over. The Allies hustled 1,400 North and South Koreans, who have been cooperating with the Allies, out of the city by truck to save them from Communist bullets or nooses.

One of the pitiful sights in the streets was that of South Korean orphans, some abandoned by American military units which had adopted them in the victorious northward march. They tugged at American coatsleeves and begged: "Seoul, Seoul, please!"

Hansford Gives Ranger Nation Wide Radio Plug

Bob Hansford of Ranger traded some tall and lusty tales of Texas and Ranger for a grab-bag full of prizes on the "Strike It Rich Program" in New York recently.

Bob, who left the Yankees with an impression of Ranger as being a "million dollar peanut growing center" and having "no poor folks," is now sporting a new Longhorns watch, a classy Homburg hat, two overcoats, two suits of clothes and several other items won on the program.

Bob's plug for Ranger was heard over the nationwide NBS network originating in massive Radio City. Bob said the prize-winning question was the "hardest" one—"What's the biggest state in the nation?"

An air force veteran of long standing, Bob ran right through the other questions he was asked. How long has air mail service been in existence in the United States? Why, 32 years, says Bob. What was the name of the first airplane that flew and where did it fly? Why, it was the Kittyhawk in North Carolina, Bob promptly answered. A few more questions and the prizes were Bob's.

"RISEN DEAD"—Weary troops of the U. S. Second Division, many of them wounded, stand around like sleepwalkers at collecting point near Pyongyang, North Korea, after fighting their way out of the murderous trap sprung by Chinese Reds near Kunu-ri. They were greeted by buddies who never expected to see them alive again. (NEA Radio-Telephoto).

British Official Says General M'Arthur Had Gone Too Far In Korea

LONDON, Dec. 4 (UP)—The British government repudiated today defense minister Emanuel Shinwell's statement that Gen. Douglas MacArthur overstepped the original objectives of the United Nations in Korea.

Ernest Davies, parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs, told commons that Gen. MacArthur's actions were "in accordance with the directives issued by the UN."

Davies was forced to back down for the government after Shinwell said in public last night what officials had been saying privately for days—that the mess in Korea could have been avoided if MacArthur had not gone "too far."

(MacArthur said in a statement Saturday that his command never had exceeded its authority and had acted "in complete harmony and coordination with higher authority.")

Shinwell's speech in Wingate created a near sensation in the British press a few hours before British Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee was due in Washington for talks with President Truman.

Regardless of the expediency of Shinwell's statement, it had the merit of putting on the record not only the official British view, but the view of all other Britons and most of Europe.

Here is what he said:

"The crux of the whole problem is that the objectives of the United Nations in Korea were limited. We were to go up to the 38th Parallel and drive the North Koreans out of South Korea. Then it was hoped that a UN commission would come in and try to unify the country."

"Well, General MacArthur was in command. I am not going to criticize him because it is difficult—very difficult—to understand the position of the commander on the spot. It is not appropriate that people who know nothing about it should criticize."

"At the moment, it would appear that General MacArthur went beyond the objectives at the beginning of the affair, and that as a result, he went up to near the Manchurian border, where there was a very large force of Chinese."

"We knew there were about 70,000 of them ready to fight. MacArthur may have thought he was quite capable of dealing with them. Well, there may be far too many of them. Perhaps his intelligence was at fault."

"The British government has tried to prevail upon the United States administration that our objectives should remain limited and that whatever happens, we should not do anything that will bring us into conflict with China."

LETTERS TO SANTA CLAUS SHOW THAT KIDS LIABLE TO WANT ANYTHING FOR XMAS--FROM ATOM BOMB TO NEW 'DADDY'

By Harman W. Nichols
WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (UP)—The atomic age has hit the kids who depend on Santa for the surprises that come down the chimney Christmas eve.

I have been snooping in Mr. Claus' catch-all—the dead letter office of the U. S. Postal Department.

"Dear Santa: Please send me two atom bombs, a couple of pistols and a good sharp knife."

That one was signed in bold printed letters, "One Horse Harry, aged nine."

One kid, who said she was a "plain little girl named Alice," asked for a cannon, a cowgirl suit and atoy a-bomb set, "If you can make it work, please."

The influence of the movies and the horsey films seen on television is apparent.

Scores of children asked for cowboy outfits, toy sidearms and post offices all over the country.

Unless some charitable organizations come to the offices and sift the letters for worthy cases, they are destroyed. A smart kid would make a carbon of his letter and see that it somehow landed in a conspicuous spot around his home.

In this area, the influence of Congress is prominent.

One little boy asked the jolly old fellow to send him a "toy senator and a picture of Harry Terman."

The one which caught my fancy, though, was written by a 10-year-old girl who didn't sign her name. She said:

"Dear Santa: My daddy is a Congressman, or rather he used to be."

"Something happened and he got heat in the last election. My mommy and me like Washington very much on account of the cherry Blossoms."

"So I don't want much. Just send me another daddy—one who works in Washington. Thank you, Santa."

Houston Tells Eng. 'No Appeasement' In Note To Pres.

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 4 (UP)—Scores of Houston businessmen and women have sent President Truman a telegram that Prime Minister Attlee should be told to "leave the British umbrella of appeasement at home or send (Winston) Churchill with the belligerent cigar."

The telegram was compiled Saturday and sent to Washington yesterday. It read:

"Tell Attlee we will accept no ultimatum from England or Western Europe. America will not tolerate pressure politics from England or Western Europe, particularly an appeasement policy. It will be Western Europe standing alone if war comes, not the United States. The American people still believe that the dog wags the tail, not the tail the dog. No more gifts or donations to England. Tell Attlee to leave the British umbrella of appeasement at home or send Churchill."

Blackwell Rites Held At Church Of Christ Sun.

Funeral services were held 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the Cheaney Church of Christ for James W. Blackwell who died in a Ranger hospital, Saturday, Dec. 2.

Interment was at Alameda Cemetery and Brother Manchester of Rising Star conducted the services. Arrangement were under the care of Morris Funeral Home.

Mr. Blackwell lived at Rt. 1, Ranger, and had lived in the Ranger vicinity for 70 years. He was born in Kentucky on May 1, 1872. He married Lenora L. Alinworth in 1895. Mr. Blackwell was a member of the Church of Christ.

He is survived by his wife; four sons, Thomas W. Blackwell of Boston; Earl Curtis Blackwell and Ernest Blackwell of Crosby; and Willis Blackwell of Crosby; two brothers, Robert and J. R. Blackwell of Ranger; three sisters, Mrs. Morris Woods and Mrs. Arthur Lawrence of Ranger and Mrs. Joe Cheaney of Santa Anna; 14 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Barney Wheat, J. T. Blackwell, Everett Weaver, Earl Blackwell, Jr., Ray Todd and Richard Johnson.

Pontiac Marks 25th Anniversary With 1951 Model

Pontiac Motor Division, which this year celebrates its Silver Anniversary, will announce its 1951 models with the greatest and most diversified advertising campaign in its 25 year history, according to H. J. Klingler, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

Newspapers again will form the backbone of the Pontiac announcement campaign with top-size advertisements, in many cases full pages, in 14,000 daily and weekly newspapers. These will be followed by more large semi-announcement type advertisements.

Double and full page announcements will appear in The Saturday Evening Post, Life, Time, Collier's Newsweek, The New Yorker, U. S. News, Holiday, Sports Afield, Outdoor Life, Field & Stream, Country Gentleman, Successful Farming and Progressive Farmer.

Pre-announcement and announcement radio spots will be aired five times daily over 1,125 stations and 96 leading television stations will carry an average of three spots daily during the same period. Radio and TV spots—so successful in Pontiac's case last year—again will feature famous personalities, commentators, actresses and news analysts, including John Daly, John Kennedy, Kyle MacDonnell, Arlene Francis, Leland Stowe, Harry Conover, John W. Vandercreek, Wilbur Shaw and John Cameron Swayze.

A strikingly beautiful announcement poster, "Twenty-Fifth Year... More Beautiful Than Ever," by Bradshaw Crandell will appear on 14,000 outdoor boards.

PRIME MINISTER SAYS REDS CAN'T SPLIT U.S. AND BRITAIN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4 (UP)—British Prime Minister Clement R. Attlee arrived today for momentous talks with President Truman, and said the United States and Great Britain must stand together to maintain peace and resist aggression.

As Attlee stepped from his plane at National Airport here, he was met by President Truman and a number of cabinet members, and top diplomats.

Then Attlee told reporters: "My air in these talks is to align our policies in the new and trouble situation in the world and to find the means of upholding what we both know to be right."

He said that Russia and the Cominform are wasting time in trying to split the United States and Great Britain.

Attlee said that the Democratic way of life is in peril and "we must take counsel."

Attlee and President Truman had only a few words together. They'll get down tomorrow to the real work of what to do about the Korean crisis and the threat of a third world war.

Despite Attlee's calm words, Britain and the United States government realize that grave decisions must be made now to keep the Chinese Communists intervention in Korea from spreading into a full-blown war which might involve Russia.

And there is ample evidence of many differences in the European and American views on the situation. Europe wants to settle the Korean affair at almost any price.

President Truman waited 21 minutes in a chill, damp wind for Attlee's plane to arrive. When it touched down he moved out to it for his first meeting with Attlee since 1945.

After they exchanged greetings, Attlee spoke to reporters and over the radio. Then Attlee drove to the British embassy where he will confer with British officials until tomorrow.

Mr. Truman drove back to the White House, arriving there a few minutes after 10 a.m. where his congressional "big four" were awaiting a conference with him.

The President and other officials had a long series of conferences yesterday and last night with diplomatic, military and congressional leaders of both parties.

The congressmen were sober and grim after the conferences, reflecting the grave military reversals suffered by the United Nations forces in Korea.

At the airport Attlee read this statement:

"I am very glad to come to Washington at this critical time to confer with President Truman. For many years past Great Britain and the United States have been agreed on the broad objectives of their international policy—the maintenance of peace, resistance to aggression, the improvement of living standards in all countries, the upholding of a Democratic way of life.

"These objectives are again implied and we must take counsel together on how we can stand firm in their defense."

"Troubles always brings us together more closely than ever. The latest propaganda attempt of the Cominform to drive a wedge between our two peoples. They are wasting their effort. And never more so than at this time when we are waging together, under the United Nations, the struggle in Korea in which the United States is carrying so heavy a share of the burden, but where we and other members of the British Commonwealth are playing our part."

Men Critically Needed By Air Forces, Recruiting Officer Says

With the growing seriousness of the world situation, the Air Forces of the United States need men now, S-Sgt. Charles Brannon, local recruiting officer for the Air Forces, has announced.

Men who previously tried to enlist in the Air Forces but were turned down may now be able to get in Brannon said.

"Because of the critical situation we now face, and of the great need for men, the Air Forces have lowered educational requirements, and are now accepting men with no more than two dependents," Brannon added.

"The people must wake up to the critical situation we are now facing if this nation is to survive," Brannon said. "The Air Forces need men now, and need them badly."

Brannon pointed out that precious time would be wasted if men waited to be drafted.

"It is evident that we are going to need many, many men in the near future to face the challenge of Communism," Brannon added. "Those men need to join the Air Force now so that they may have valuable training when they are needed."

"The importance of getting men into uniform immediately was stressed by Brannon. A man with good training is much more valuable in the fighting, and is much likelier to survive than one who is rushed through training of necessity."

"Patriotic young men who can qualify for the Air Forces should enlist now. If this country ever needed these volunteers, it needs them now as it faces the greatest challenge in its history," Brannon concluded. I hope everyone interested in joining the Air Force will come in and talk it over."

The Air Force recruiting office in Eastland is located at 311 Main, near the post office.

SCENES AROUND RANGER

We're up to our necks in the Korean War. And we're sinking under fast. Our feet were just beginning to get dry when the Chinese Communies suddenly and swiftly pushed us back into the muck and mire of war's filth.

Just one week ago a rosy picture was painted in the Far East squabble. The Times ran this headline: "UN 55 Miles From Soviet Siberia." Sunday, the headline "Allied 'Dunkirk' Feared As Troops Retreat" painted an ugly picture of impending catastrophe.

And now the A-Bomb once again looms into the scene—more realistically and more potent than ever before.

And America is having to struggle with its conscious on the best of using the atom bomb. Each widespread destruction of lives packed in one atom bomb goes against every principle of Christianity and human belief. We are at crossroads of making up our minds.

On the one hand we are convinced of the right in fighting Communists but on the other we have been hogtied by conflicting "rules" of war each side is using. We look on the butchery of prisoners in horror and disgust. Unconsciously many of us still think war should be fought with rules on both sides. When the side does not practice these rules of warfare—we are stuck and we can't bring ourselves to use the same tactics. To use sneaky phrase, war is war. Man killing man and all of sportsmanship went out game when the first battle fought.

don't want to use the atom because we don't want to see destruction poured upon us. And we don't want to see a bomb because of the way it would bring upon us. Even knows for sure if the bomb would prevent a greater war. But we are at the point of having to decide one way or the other. We have no intention of pulling out of Korea which means we will fight to stay there. We will fight with what? with the usual guns, tanks and planes. We will hope to overcome the Chinese Communists with more of our troops. In other words we say we will fight to stay in Korea yet we draw the line on the use of weapons. So we will continue to pour our men into the war, we continue to levy appropriations for armament. We are headed for national bankruptcy any way you look at it. A nation, no matter how rich in resources, will be appalled of its wealth in the continuous epidemic of war.

And now, Britain and France come in with the age-old briefcase filled with offerings of appeasement. They say offer the Chinese a buffer state at the Manchurian border. They say in effect, offer anything to prevent a Third World War. This is where we came in. The actors have changed but it's the same tune—before, it was Neville Chamberlain and "Peace in our time." Now, it is "A buffer state and no World War."

Yes, keep the Korean War localized. Keep it a local affair until that other "local war" in Indo-China explodes to bring statesmen hurrying with their briefcases of appeasement. Keep it "localized" until the "localized" Tibetan skirmish blows up or an "incident" occurs in the Middle East or pops up in the Balkans or in Germany. We have so many "localized" wars that it sounds a bit hollow to be talking about preventing a third World War.

The United States winds itself in an unenviable position. The burden is completely on our shoulders. While our face is being scratched by the Chinese Communists our back is being mauled by the frenzied tappings of Europe's appeasers.

Drop the atom bomb and if we have the hydrogen bomb drop it, too. This is war and we are tired of playing the game. Appease the Communists and we tighten the noose around our necks. It comes down to this: How much are we willing to sacrifice? If we set a number of war casualties that we are willing to expend, and no more, then we've been wasting a lot of time. We'd better pull out and let the Chinese have every inch of Korea. We'd better pull out all our soldiers and equipment and revert to our isolationism of the 30's. And then all we would have to do is wait. And I don't think we would have long to wait.

Why Settle for Symptomatic Relief When HADACOL Has Helped People Like These with Such Deficiencies

Mrs. Dennis Deemes, 111 Florence Street, Hot Springs, Arkansas: "My little girl has taken four $1.25 size bottles of HADACOL. She is three years old, was pale, nervous, had no appetite. Didn't care to play like other children. At night, she would awaken many times frightened and nervous. She would only sit around days and was very easy to cry. I was worried, because she was so pale and had no appetite at all. Then, I had heard of the wonders that HADACOL had done for so many people, both young and old. So I decided to give it to my little girl. I did so, and the third day after she began taking HADACOL, she was more cheerful and began to eat. She awoke hungry on the 3rd morning, and has been both eating and sleeping fine ever since, and isn't nervous at all. She is as cheerful as any child can be. Thanks to the makers of HADACOL, we are a HADACOL family. My little girl's name is Mary Helen Deemes."

Mrs. Verna Riley, 514 Missouri Avenue, Jeffersonville, Indiana: "I had been sick off and on for a long time. I am now 51 years old. After I heard about HADACOL, I have taken two bottles. I don't have that fullness in my stomach and I can eat anything I wish. I sleep much better at night now. Myself, I wouldn't do without HADACOL. My family also takes HADACOL."

Mr. Grady Thomas, Route 2, Somerville, Alabama: "My age is 39. I was sick for a long time. Could not sleep at night. After taking three bottles of HADACOL, I felt much better and now I can sleep all night. My wife says she believes I could sleep a week. I can do a full day's work on my farm. Before taking HADACOL, I couldn't work more than an hour or two at a time. I am very thankful for learning about this product."

Mrs. Marjorie Mullins, Jewellridge, Virginia: "I feel like HADACOL has helped me in many ways. My health was very poor, till I decided to give it a trial. I got one economy size bottle. It helped so much. I decided I wouldn't be without it. So now I am on my 4th large bottle. Before I took it, I wasn't able to do my housework, and care for my family. Every month, I would have to give up and think I was going to die. But thanks to HADACOL I never feel those weak spells any more. I tell my neighbors about it. I do my housework, my washing and never feel like my age is getting me down now. I am the mother of eight children and have been a widow for 28 years. I worked hard and sent my children to school, and now they are old enough to help me."

Lloyd E. Scheultz, 6045 Erie Avenue, Houston, Texas: "Before I took HADACOL, I did not know what it was to sleep for over an hour at night. Since using HADACOL, I sleep all night without pain. I have taken three bottles of HADACOL, and the relief has been wonderful. I have started on my fourth bottle."

Mrs. C. H. Strack, 681 1/2 West Second Avenue, Pine Bluff, Arkansas: "Before using HADACOL, I was rundown, nervous, and had upset stomach. My friends could not understand the way I was acting. After I took HADACOL, I felt better than I have ever felt. I am not at all nervous and my friends have remarked at the change in me. I am forever grateful for what HADACOL has done for me. I wish to let the whole world know how much I praise HADACOL."

Bennie Hollingsworth, Box 8, Simons, Louisiana: "I am ten years old. I have been sick for a good while. I was nervous. I could not sleep at night. I did not want to study my school lessons. Then, some of my friends told me about HADACOL. Now I have taken only three bottles of HADACOL. I can say that HADACOL has helped me a lot. Now, I can sleep. I am not so nervous. I do not hate to get my school lessons. I want to thank my friends for telling me about HADACOL."

SENATOR DUDLEY J. LEBLANC, Whose Tireless Efforts For Relief Of Suffering, Have Brought Humanity Today's Great HADACOL

Senator LeBlanc in all of his political activities has always championed the cause of the oppressed, and the poor and underprivileged. He was the first candidate for Governor to advocate a specific Old Age Pension... and today in Louisiana, he is known as the Father of the Old Age Pension. In the course of his long, lone fight he has had his critics, but to those who opposed him he has continually stated: "If you do not believe in Old Age Pensions, remember the mandate of the Lord himself—'Honor thy Father and thy Mother that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.'"

Senator LeBlanc is known as a friend of the veterans. He introduced and successfully passed the law that created the State Service Commissioner whose duty it is to see that every service man receives his just compensation from both State and Federal governments. His activities
