Army Is Ordered To Keep RR Running

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (UP)—President Truman today ordered the Army to keep the railroads running despite a strike of union men who, he said, ran out of an agreement like a bunch of Russians.

Okla. Boils When Texhoma Called 'Texas Ocean'

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 8 (UP)—There's no "ocean in Texas" and the Oklahoma legislature wants the world to know about it.

So they passed a resolution yesterday, which among other things, called Texas the land where "men are men and women are governors," an obvious reference to the Lone Star State's Mrs. Jim "Ma" Ferguson.

The Oklahoma lawmakers became incensed by an article in "Ford Times" which referred to Lake Texoma as a "new ocean in Texas." The lake lies principally in the Sooner state.

In an eloquent resolution that ran the gamut, from flowery poetry to chopped prose, Rep. Lucien Spear of Hugo urged the Oklahoma governor to instruct state employes not to buy Ford cars until the company apologizes for the article.

"Only one time was Oklahoma mentioned in that article," Spear said. "It makes my heart boil. Texas brags about being under six flags, but she doesn't mention when she was under a flour sack."

Spear apparently referred to the time when W. Lee O'Daniel, flour mill executive, was Texas' chief executive.

The Hugo lawmaker wound up a resolution by describing Oklahoma as the land where "river flow with brandy," (illegally, of course, since the state is dry) and "where coffee grows on post oak trees."

The measure was passed with a strong chorus of "ayes" from the floor.

At Least Four Persons Dead, 18 Injured

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 8 (UP)—A tremendous explosion ripped apart a building of the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company plant today and it was feared many persons were killed or injured.

At least four persons were known dead at 10:25 a.m. (CST) and at least 18 were injured. Two bodies had been received at the Ramsey County morgue and the coroner's office said it had received a report that more bodies were enroute.

Ancker Hospital reported that two unidentified bodies had been brought there.

Authorities said it would be hours before the first dead could be identified because they were mutilated badly.

The first victim brought to the morgue was a man about 45 or 50. His head was crushed. His left leg had been blown off.

Ancker Hospital attendants said three persons in critical condition there were being treated with 15 others less seriously wounded.

"More are coming in," the hospital said.

"It's a hell of a mess," one workman said. "It seemed like more than 50 persons were lying around, horribly mutilated. You couldn't get near the place without hearing awful moanings."

The company manufactures Scotch tape.

Two hospitals reported they had filled all available space with injured workmen.

The blast, which occurred about 8:30 a.m. (CST) knocked out the company's switchboard but a man on duty at an emergency circuit said "all I know is that there's been an explosion up there."

A St. Paul fire department dispatcher said, shortly after the blast occurred, that "dead people were lying all over the place."

The blast was heard for miles. Police switchboards were swamped with telephone calls and, once the location of the explosion was determined, many anxious wives and families rushed to the scene.

Police roped off the blast area, as fire equipment and firemen swarmed into the explosion area. The building was a shambles.

The firm manufactures several types of abrasives, in addition to Scotch tape.

It is one of the oldest and largest concerns of its kind.

Mrs. Mildred Wilson said she was in the bedroom of her home several miles from the blast when she heard it rip through the air.

Laundry, room and board will be supplied free and if the mother is unable to provide transportation to and from the institution, Miss Glenn will assist in finding community resources to meet this need.

School For Deaf Offers Instruction To Mother, Child

Miss Elsie Glenn, Field Worker State Department of Public Welfare, Eastland, Texas, has asked this paper's cooperation in locating the mother of any pre-school deaf child who would like to be, in company with the child, guest of the Texas School for the Deaf for 10 days, beginning June 6, 1951.

There will be instructions and lectures primarily to aid each mother in the care of the child before the child is eligible to attend school, and a general orientation with mother and child to the prospects of entering the school.

This instruction will help to comfort the little deaf child who is suddenly torn from the warm family circle and taken into institutional life with little understanding of what the purpose may be. This instruction will also help give the mother an understanding of what the institution can do and how it works, and it will give the child an understanding to the end that he will eagerly anticipate the beginning of his first school term.

This clinic for mother and pre-school deaf child is available to any parent with such a child, who plans for that child to be trained in one of the institutions available in Texas.

Miss Glenn may be reached by writing P. O. Box 471, Eastland, or by telephone, 279, Eastland. Also, any inquiries will be given to her by City Hall officials, in Ranger.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 (UP)—The Army today ordered striking railroad men to return to work or be fired. At the same time, the Army announced that yardmen and yardmasters will be given a wage increase of 12½ cents an hour and road service employes an increase of five cents an hour retroactive to Oct. 1 pending settlement of their dispute with the management.

Paper Shortage In Korea Slows Letter Writing

ON THE WESTERN FRONT, Korea, Feb. 8 (UP)—If letters from your fighting man in Korea are scarce, blame it on the most critical shortage here—stationery.

GIs write letters on any scrap of paper they can find and often have to fold a piece of paper for a makeshift envelope. A Puerto Rican soldier wrote a letter on the back of his military orders that sent him here.

Red Cross field worker Gerald Page, of Santa Ana, Calif., said he started out in January with 20,000 envelopes.

"That sounds like a lot, but it's only one letter a day for every man in the division," Page said.

He suggested a way for the home-folks to solve the problem would be to enclose a few sheets of blank paper and an envelope in every letter they send.

The Army usually supplies front line troops with stationery but it takes hundreds of thousands of sheets of paper and envelopes to supply a division for a week. That creates a tough logistic problem and ammunition and other equipment is more important.

Attempt Made To Break Into Library

Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin, city librarian, reported today that sometime between Monday night and Wednesday morning, someone tried to enter the community library. A screen was cut in an attempt to gain entrance. Mrs. McLaughlin said there is no money in the library that would be of interest to a burglar.

She also announced the names of several new books that have been added to the library: Son of a Hundred Kings by Thomas Costain; Joy Street by Frances Kays; Balance Wheel by Taylor Caldwell; River of the Sun by James Allman; Bonnet's Welcome by Ingles Fletcher; Pathway to the Stars by Hartnett Kane; The Loved and Envious by Knid Bagwood; Corn Bread Aristocrat by Claude Garner and 24 juvenile books.

Drought Causes Low Water Flow

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 8 (UP)—Texas streams and reservoirs had record low flows in January because of a prolonged drought, a newly-issued report by the state board of water engineers showed today.

The report summarized water conditions since 1924, when first studies were made.

Waitress Confesses Murder

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Feb. 8 (UP)—A pretty waitress has confessed to bludgeoning her brother-in-law to death when he made drunken advances on a lonely mountain road, authorities said today.

Railroad May Face 75 Million Dollar Claims

WWOBRIDGE, N. J., Feb. 8 (UP)—Seven investigations sought to learn today whether excessive speed and the absence of warning signals caused the nation's worst train wreck in 33 years.

It was estimated $75,000,000 in claims may be filed against the Pennsylvania Railroad in the Tuesday night wreck in which 84 rush hour passengers were killed and 500 injured when the "Broken" Express toppled off a temporary trestle in this small town.

Engineer Joseph H. Fitzsimmons, 57, admitted to state authorities yesterday he was going 50 miles an hour at the time of the accident.

Fitzsimmons also told authorities he had read an order authorizing him to approach the trestle at 25-mile-an-hour speed but neglected to do so because there were no amber signals warning him to slow down.

The conductor of the train, John H. Bishop, said he had noticed that the express was traveling at an excessive rate of speed and was about to reach for the emergency cord to signal a slow-down when the crash occurred.

The 84th identified victim was Henrietta Bernard, 22, a bride of only eight months who was returning to Long Branch, N. J., on the Broker's New York-Bay Head Junction, N. J., run.

Her body was identified last night by her grief-stricken mother, Mrs. Anna Wolfe of Newark at the end of a daylong tour of morgues and hospitals.

There was a possibility that the death toll would mount even higher with 15 of the 121 hospitalized survivors in critical condition.

The Interstate Commerce Commission planned to open a hearing into the wreck at 2 p.m. EST, in New York.

UN Asks Scouts Collect Clothes For Needy People

In some cases door to door campaigns will be made. The collection will continue through the month of February. If you have clothing to contribute, be on the look-out for these collection boxes. Your contribution will help a freezing family of another country.

SIZEABLE ALLIED VICTORY PREDICTED IN NEW ASSAULT

TOKYO, Friday, Feb. 9 (UP)—Allied artillery shells screamed into Seoul last night for the first time since the Chinese Communists drove United Nations forces out of the city.

The U. S. 8th Army said Allied forces were destroying Red troop concentration south of the city in an assault which may result in a "sizeable victory, in terms of enemy losses."

On the ground and in the air United Nations forces were on the attack. Allied planes roared out in one of the heaviest raids of the war to blast vast Hordes of Chinese Communist reinforcements pouring into Korea from Manchuria.

In a heavily censored dispatch from U. S. 3rd Division headquarters on the western front, United Press war correspondent Jack Burby said Maj. David Spiece, Washington, D. C., ordered the first artillery rounds fired into Seoul at 9:47 o'clock last night.

The shells soared across the Han River, which skirts Seoul on the south.

United Press correspondent Richard Applegate reported from the western front, that tanks of "Task Force Dolvin" rumbled up the highway to within gunshot of Seoul and fired 30 rounds into the city. A spotter plane confirmed that the shells fell inside Seoul.

"We fired into the city just to show the Chinks we were on their tails," said an intelligence officer who accompanied the tanks to a point seven and one-half miles from Seoul.

Announcement that an Allied assault was under way south of Seoul was made in an 8th Army memorandum to correspondents. It said destruction of a Red pocket was the objective of the current phase of the 8th Army's "limited offensive."

"No further implications should be attached to the present situation," the memorandum said. The Allied line plunged three miles closer to Seoul, and Allied troops dug into new positions only four-and-one-half to six miles south of the South Korean capital.

The offensive has gained more than 35 miles in 15 days and Allies claim they have killed or wounded nearly 55,000 Chinese and North Korean troops.

Highway Dept. Urges Texans Buy Auto License Now

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 8 (UP)—The highway department today urged Texans to buy 1951 automobile license plates immediately, rather than waiting until the April 1 deadline.

There now are 3,000,000 vehicles in the state and the department said a last-minute rush was inevitable unless motorists get their plates soon from county tax collectors.

Oscar J. Fox, One Of Texas' Few Native Born Song Writers, Will Appear At 1st Baptist Church Mon.

Ranger Junior College presents Oscar J. Fox, song writer and musician of note, Monday evening, February 12, 1951, at 8 at the First Baptist Church.

Oscar J. Fox is one of the few Texas composers entitled to the designation, "Texas." Fox was born in Burnet County on Oct. 11, 1879 of Pioneer German-Swiss ancestry, who settled in Texas in 1845, and shared with them the hardships and isolation common to frontier life in the backwoods. His heritage and environment fostered and encouraged his natural love for music and stimulated the urge for musical expression, even before mastering the alphabet. From his earliest childhood he was taught the first rudiments of music.

In 1894 Fox was taken to San Antonio where he experienced his first contact with city life, attending public school and pursuing his musical studies. In 1896 he left San Antonio for Zurich, Switzerland, where he attended the Municipal School of Music, returning to Texas in 1899. After one year's residence in Galveston, Fox resumed his musical studies—this time in New York City, returning to Galveston in 1902 and two years later moving to San Antonio. Since then the Alamo City has been his permanent home with the exception of two years (1928-1930) spent in Dallas, and study and for conferences with his publishers.

The move to Dallas made it necessary for Fox to relinquish his activities at the University of Texas where he served from 1925-1928 as director of the Men's and Girl's Glee Clubs, and the University Choral Society. Mr. Fox recalls with pleasure his concert tours with the University Men's Glee Club. Each program featured a group of his traditional Cowboy ballads arranged especially for the boys who seemed always to delight in singing them and the audiences received them with considerable enthusiasm.

Veneral Disease Cases Reach 98 A Day In Texas

AUSTIN, TEXAS, Feb. 8.—Here are some ominous statistics to ponder.

State Health Officer George W. Cox reveals an average of 98 veneral disease cases were uncovered each day of 1950. Total new cases of syphilis and gonorrhea for the year just passed reached 35,863.

"We had more cases of syphilis last year than the combined total for tuberculosis, smallpox, scarlet fever, polio, diphtheria, malaria, and typhoid fever," the state health official said.

Veneral diseases far outnumbered any one of the eighteen other communicable infections reported in the state, with the single exception of influenza.

"It isn't an enviable record," Dr. Cox declared. "Not for gonorrhea, anyway."

Statistical records kept by the state health agency show a sharp reduction in syphilis rates, but gonorrhea cases have remained almost constant, with 1950 showing a slight increase over 1949.

Dr. Cox said it indicates a "large segment of the people are not aware of the seriousness of gonorrhea infections, or else they're indifferent to their own health and that of others."

It is a common misconception that gonorrhea is a minor ailment, when the truth of the matter is that it's a serious disease, capable of causing permanent body damage.

"Untreated gonorrhea can cause blindness, sterility, arthritic conditions, and have other serious consequences," Dr. Cox asserted. "Sometimes it requires operative procedures."

Geiger Counters Show Los Angeles Bit Radioactive

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8 (UP)—Los Angeles has become slightly more radioactive since recent atomic test explosions started 300 miles away near Las Vegas, Nev., a newspaper said today.

The Los Angeles Times said a survey made by local firms with geiger counters showed radioactivity increased about 20 to 25 per cent in the "background count" since experiments were launched Jan. 27 at Frenchman Flat in Nevada.

The newspapers emphasized that the increase is absolutely no danger to humans or animals. California Institute of Technology radiation expert Dr. C. C. Lauritsen said background geiger counts would have to be multiplied hundreds of times to become dangerous, the Times said.

The Atomic Energy Commission suspended tests Tuesday after setting off five atomic blasts at Frenchman Flat.

LEADER OF MARINE BAND DOESN'T KNOW HOW TO PLAY AN INSTRUMENT BUT HE CAN TEACH YOU HOW TO RUN A MACHINEGUN

BY H. D. QUIGG

WITH 1st MARINE DIVISION, Korea, Feb. 7 (UP)—Come on along up to the man who's the leader of the Marine band. He's quite a man. If you get ammunition box and stand on it you can talk to him face to face. But don't talk music. He doesn't know any.

He's six feet four and one-quarter inches tall, weighs 230 pounds (after having lost a lot of weight in this war) and has a beautiful full-brown bright brown handle bar mustache.

Lt. Charles Harvey Sullivan doesn't know how to play an instrument but knows how to run a machinegun. He has taught band members how to play one of those. The band's instruments are back in Japan. The thing Sullivan leads them in is battle.

Sullivan, 29, whose home is at Sacramento, California, is an all-around athlete—football, basketball, swimming, track. He was national junior college high hurdles champion in 1946. He was a decathlon man, which includes javelin hurling.

At 2:30 a.m. on Dec. 6, according to an eyewitness, he ran out of ammunition while the Chinese were attacking and used his carbine like a javelin on a Communist with a tommygun. The carbine with bayonet fixed traveled 10 years on a straight line and rammed the Communist through the lower chest.

Sullivan, who has been in the Marine Corps nine years, started working with the band back in Japan when they turned in their instruments and drew machine guns. As security officer of division headquarters he uses the band as his security. At Hagaru he had a band composed of four machine gun squads and two rifle squads.

"They are the rightest damn band in the world," he said. "They were the perimeter at Hagaru. There wasn't anything between them and the Chinese."

We sat in Sullivan's tent and watched his two one-month-old Korean chow dogs, Ochan and Incon, chew on straw mats which covered the dirt floor.

"We've had one killed and eight wounded in battle," said M-Sgt. A. M. Brannock of Mount Airy, N. C. Brannock has been in the Marine Corps 23 years as drum major of the band. He added wistfully:

"We haven't seen an instrument since we've been in Korea."

Sullivan said that on the trip from Hagaru to Kotori, the Communists set fire to their vehicles with tracer ammunition, and that the band got into a seven-hour fight.

"The Chinese cut the convoy right at division headquarters," he said. "I was the point of the convoy. Four hand machine gun squads went into action right away. If we hadn't had 'em it would have been our lives. They grabbed a Thompson submachine gun and crawled on the ground as close as from here to that door and threw grenades."

One of the Marines who saw Sullivan at work with the rifle-javelin was Capt. John H. Griffin of Vallejo, Calif., the division provost marshal.

"Everybody was a fighting mad," Griffin said. "This Chinese who got within ten yards was throwing lead at us with the tommygun. He shot the tires off a truck which was already afire. Sully was down by the front wheel, and when he ran out of ammo, he stood up and javelined that carbine right through that SOB. Hit him in the gut, dead center. The gun just went thru and waded there for a minute. The Gook fell right there."

"I said, 'did you get him, Sully?' and he said, 'you blinking well right I got him.'"

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Pearsall of Corpus Christi visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Pearsall, today.

SCENES AROUND RANGER

By John Chopelas

You can tell that election time is just about here. The man on the street is already talking of who'll be running in this year's city race. Most of the talk is rumors—nothing definite has been established as yet. This week, a group of Ranger citizens filed at city hall the names of present commissioners and mayor for re-election. This action might be considered the official start of local campaigning. The opposition is expected to come out soon with their list of candidates, and, in between, names of individual candidates are expected to be filed, if local politics follow the unusual procedure.

In Cisco, the District 8-A tournament gets under way today. This afternoon, the Bulldogs and Beauties play the boy and girl teams from Comanche. Round-robin play saw the Bulldogs defeat Comanche 37-27 and the Beauties lose to the Comanche girls 26-21. Hamilton is the big favorite to sweep the tournament and take district honors. They got a break on the first day of the tourney by drawing a bye and will not play until Friday. In other opening round games, Eastland plays DeLeon and Cisco meets Dublin. Ranger entries should advance into the semi-finals. However, district tourneys are always unpredictable and sometimes a darkhorse confuses things with an upset or two.

Improvements on the Ranger airport will be a boon for the city. And it will also help air travelers find their way here. A story is going around town about the man who was flying here on oil business. And he flew clean past the Ranger field because of insufficient identification. Weeds and grass along the runways made it hard to spot the field. But the Chamber of Commerce's plan to improve the field will clear that up.

If you have some local news you'd like to put in the Times, go right ahead and phone it in. We have to depend on a lot of Ranger news to come in from our readers. Like that injury J. H. McKinney sustained in a fall the other day. We heard about it just before deadline and, since the McKinney's phone was busy at the moment, we hurried downtown to see what anyone else had heard. We got all sorts of rumors and also a lot of people wanted to know just what happened and how serious the injury was. So, even if you might think some news about yourself or your friends is not important, it usually is of interest to other readers. So phone it in or drop by the Times office and tell us about it.

A Cotton Research Committee of Texas project, the report shows where and how much of 22 varieties were planted in the state's nine U. S. Department of Agriculture (Crop Reporting Districts).

"Data on varieties help locate cotton with specific fiber properties and that means better market," Research Scientist Joel Hembree explained.

Scientific Knowledge Of Hormones May Open New Medical Treatment

BY PAUL M. ELLIS

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 8 (UP)—The "wonder drugs"—the sulfa, penicillin and streptomycin—opened a new field medical treatment, and now another new horizon is in view.

It may turn out to be the brightest horizon of all. Over it may come an effective treatment for cancer, polio, tuberculosis and the degenerative diseases, such as types of arthritis, and some forms of heart disease. Perhaps old age itself.

The new horizon is coming via the new scientific knowledge of hormones and their effect on the human body.

Medical scientists have been experimenting with hormonal substances for some years. Two of the most widely talked about are cortisone and acth. Both have brought startling results in some types of arthritis, and even in some cancer cases—but no cures.

Hormones are chemical agents, or forces, that the body manufactures to maintain a proper function. The doctors say that as long as those forces are in proper balance health will continue. When the force get out of line the body begins to deteriorate.

In the case of sulfa, penicillin and streptomycin it is an attack against bacteria. In the case of hormones. It is an attack against a breakdown of the body's mechanism.

The doctors point out that if a body is functioning properly it can better throw off bacterial disease naturally.

So along comes the hormone treatment of certain diseases. It is a brand new field of medicine, although it has been used for some years in the experimental stage. One synthetic hormone, insulin, already has proved its value in the treatment of diabetes.

The newer hormone substances such as cortisone and acth, have brought sensational results, but in some cases there have been serious side effects. Other hormone substances, such as the female sex hormones, progesterone and estrone, and the male sex hormone, testosterone, have been synthesized and are being used to some extent to treat certain types of cancer in men and women. They also are being used experimentally in certain types of glandular deficiencies.

Another series of synthetic hormones are those that are identical, or have the identical action of those produced normally by the adrenal glands. They, too, are now being used in treatment of some types of cancer and other disease.

The problem facing scientists these days, according to some experts, is to find the "common denominator"—to find the smooth road, rather than the detours with their bad bumps and dangerous curves.

Thus, the doctors point out, while some hormone substances being produced today may bring some temporary remissions of disease, the final answer has not been found.

In the laboratories of the Syntex Corporation here, the scientists are making numerous types of synthetic steroid hormone substances, but they are agreed that the "common denominator" has not yet been developed.

work alone or in a team with other hormones to provide the answer to most of man's health problems.

Dr. Habib Awad Of Lebanon Speaks 10 Languages, Has Four Degrees, And Works In NY Hamburger Shop

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 (UP)—Dr. Habib Awad would be the first man to tell you that a college degree and a professorship is no handicap when it comes to getting a job.

He was hired on the spot as night cashier of a midtown hamburger shop, even though the owners did raise their eyebrows over his education.

He is explained between adding up hamburger checks at Hamburg Heaven, a graduate of the University of the Propaganda in Rome, with PhD and S.T. M. (Sacred Theology Master) degree.

"I also got my PHD in psychology at the Roman Academy and then I was acknowledged a PHD by Columbia University," the 50-year-old cashier explained.

He only speaks 10 languages fluently "but I can read and translate 25." During the war he was a controlling member of nine languages for the Voice of America. At one time he taught Spanish, French, Latin and Greek at St. John's University in Brooklyn.

"Excuse me a moment," he said and turned to a customer. "The cigarette machine is in the back."

"Now, let's see. About my teaching. At the moment I am teaching practical psychology in the evenings at Brooklyn College." He lives in Brooklyn with his wife.

He noticed a stunned look on a customer's face who had overheard the conversation.

"Everyone thinks it is strange for me to be here. But where else could I run into so many of the common man?" he said. Speaking of English with a slight accent, "I can apply my psychology and get business experience too. I would like to set up an exporting business."

Dr. Awad was born in Lebanon and first came here in 1927. "Now I am international," he said proudly. "I am Phoenician descent, Arab civilization, an American citizen and a Roman Catholic."

He also is developing a taste for cheeseburgers on his new job, though he admitted they wouldn't be popular in his native land.

"They know about them over there, because Coca Cola and hamburgers are symbols of America. But in all the Arabic world, they appreciate only the trade and the medicine of America," the genial professor said. "They could not digest the hamburgers."

As for the common man here in America—the learned cashier is alternately delighted and surprised.

"They have the most confidence in others of any people in the world," he said. "All the American wants is a smile and he will trust you. He doesn't like to be ordered, but he likes to be entertained. And if he thinks you can analyze his problems here Dr. Awad rolled his eyes upward and smiled, "why he will tell you everything. Everybody wants his problems analyzed."

He left to make change for a customer and came back shaking his head. "The tipping is surprising," he said. "They eat one dollar and tip 50 cents. But then, that is the reputation of Americans in other countries. They work hard and spend all they make."

The shepherd represents one of the oldest occupations known to man the National Geographic Society notes. Archeologists have unearthed evidence that domesticated sheep shared the huts of Swiss Lake Dwellers, a race that lived about 8,250 B.C.

We Like To Talk About Abstracts—

... because making abstracts has been our business for many years. And it is an interesting subject. Every day people come to us with their title problems. Some cases are tragic. Take the example of the couple who have spent their all for a home to find out later they have no title. Most title problems are simple and the abstracts help to make them simple. So before buying real estate of any kind have the title examined.

211 Men Named Smith In Marine Division Join Forces In Battle

WITH MARINES, KOREA, Feb. 8 (UP)—Ordinary men work here. But when you mass more than 20,000 of them and infuse them with the spirit of the U.S. Marine Corps, you have something special. You have a marine division.

They are plain men with plain names. There are 211 men named Smith in the 1st Marine Division. Let's take four Smiths and turn them over separately.

There's Harry Elwood Smith, Sam Smith, Hogjaw Smith and O. P. Smith, a private, a captain, a first lieutenant, and a captain, general. A former, a Missouri state trooper, a dead hero and a quiet scholar.

Harry Elwood Smith is 20 years old. When the war is over he would like to go back and farm the acres owned by his father, John Smith, near Townsend, Del. Harry Elwood is 6 feet one inch and weighs 225 pounds. He enlisted as a marine in 1948 because he had been reading about their glamour since he was in the fourth grade.

As private first class in Korea, he served as rocket gunner in an assault platoon. He saw his best friend killed. Twice his outfit was trapped. He found no glamour, but when his outfit fought out of its first trap near Seoul he found out Marine spirit.

Capt. Sam Smith, 31, a sandy haired soft-spoken marine from (1011 S. Main St.) Independence, Mo., fought in the last war at Iwo Jima. He left the corps at the end of the war and became a state trooper.

At Independence he lived in a two-story house with his mother, father, wife and 3-year-old son. "It's a big house but not as rambling as Betsy's," he says. By "Betsy" he means Mrs. Harry S. Truman. He likes being a state trooper, he says, "Because people depend on you—they need you to find their lost children, cars and pigs."

Sam Smith took over in late September as commander of dog company, 5th Marine Regiment. He's fifth commander in Korea of a company which now has left only 32 of the 240 men who sailed from the states in July. Most of those 32 have been wounded once.

Sam Smith's toughest action was south of Hagaru when dog company was assigned to take two hills and break a roadblock so the division could start its fight back to the sea. The company killed 250 Chinese and captured 180. Smith came off the plateau with 86 men out of his original company. He probably was inspired as a company commander because he took over after a man named Hogjaw Smith.

First Lt. H. J. Smith of Tulsa, Okla., was blond and wiry and always had a big plug of tobacco inside his jaw. When they saw the plug and the initials H. J. Dog Company Gyrene tied the nickname Hogjaw on him. When he got to hill 194 outside Seoul H. J. Smith had 45 men left. He was told to take the hill at any cost.

There was a Communist division headquarters on top. Smith called the 45 together and said: "There's enough up there, for everybody," they charged up. A North Korean with a burp gun killed Hogjaw Smith with a burp in the chest after he had led Dog Company 100 yards.

The company went on to the top. Smith was recommended for a posthumous medal of honor.

O. P. Smith, a white-haired Major General is in charge here. He is cool and analytical in battle and a scholar of military history.

He speaks French fluently, has a phenomenal memory, smokes a pipe, doesn't drink, writes shorthand, loves hot cakes, and knows the quality of men he commands. He is a confident man because as he says:

"Once you get a marine division massed there is nothing on God's green earth that can stop it."

Detection by Sound

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP)—Sharp ears come in handy as a police asset, according to two Ft. Worth officers. Policemen A. J. Mitchell and H. H. Alexander, Jr., heard the sound of breaking glass as they cruised along. They stepped, searched a nearby building and captured two burglars.

Joe Louis Still Lacks KO Punch

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 8 (UP)—Joe Louis insisted today that he keeps getting "better and better" in every fight even though he flubbed his bid for a knockout when he defeated willing but wild Orelia Agramonte of Havana last night.

Louis scored a unanimous 10-round decision over the Cuban before 19,000 chilled spectators at Miami Stadium last night. Agramonte was on the canvas once—but he wasn't put there by Lewis. He slipped, and rested on one knee for a two-count.

The Brown Bomber opened cuts under both of Agramonte's eyes and pushed him all over the ring. But that legendary knockout punch never showed, even though Lewis stalked his lithe and cautious foe with menacing intent throughout the last round.

Louis weighed less last night than he has since his second Billy Conn fight in 1946. He tipped the scales at 209 at Agramonte's 187. Louis said he would remain in training for his Feb. 23 fight against Andy Walker in San Francisco.

That Walker fight, plus the victory last night, are designed by the ex-champion as steps toward a second crack at heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles.

Before the main event, a section of the bleachers collapsed,

Teachers Needed In Hawaii Schools

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 8—Hawaii needs kindergarten and elementary teachers for the 1951-52 school year, Dr. Hob Gray, University of Texas Teacher Placement Service director, reports.

Teachers for kindergarten and the first three grades are most in demand, with only a limited number needed in fourth, fifth, and sixth grades, Dr. Gray said.

Only U. S. citizens will be employed. Preference will go to applicants with masters' degrees. Next in line will be applicants with bachelors' degrees and one year or more of successful teaching experience. Practice teaching and a minimum of 18 hours in education are required. Teachers will receive their initial appointments to rural consolidated schools.

For further information, interested teachers may contact Dr. Gray at Box 2138, University Station, Austin, Texas.
