Fire Sweeps Gorman Business District

THREE STORES DESTROYED; BLAZE LASTS ALL NIGHT

Three stores were destroyed and several others damaged by a raging fire which swept the Gorman business district last night. Origin of the fire was unknown and the amount of damage had not been determined today.

The fire started in an old frame building which housed the City Tailor Shop and Maupin Barber shop. Both stores were destroyed. A warehouse operated by W. G. Baker, located behind the building and containing fertilizer and peanut seed, was also destroyed by the fire. The fire cracked the walls of the Gorman Hotel, located alongside the burning building and smoke and water damaged the Texas Electric Co. building across the alley. Heat scorched a nearby cafe.

Firemen fought the fire all night and their efforts prevented the entire business district from being destroyed by the fire. No one was injured.

Oil Tank Fire In Sealy Still Burning Today

SEALY TEX., Feb. 15 (UP)—Two 50,000 barrel oil tanks at the Magnolia Petroleum Company farm which were set on fire late yesterday by lightning were still burning today, but posed no threat to other tanks on the farm, officials said.

Firemen from Sealy and employees of the oil company tried to extinguish the fire, but were unable to do so. A skeleton guard was posted to keep the flames from spreading.

L. B. Bryan, chief engineer at the pumping station, said there was no danger of the fire spreading to the other seven tanks in the area.

"A strong north wind is blowing the fire away from the others," he said. "And we have built up the firewall around the two tanks on fire."

"This firewall will prevent the burning oil from spreading over the ground when an expected holover comes," he added.

General Almond Promoted

IN THE CENTRAL FRONT, Korea, Feb. 15 (UP)—U. S. 8th Army Commander Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway flew to the front today to promote Maj. Gen. Edward M. Almond to the three-star rank of Lieutenant General.

73-Year-Old Poetry Writing Texan Hunts For Former Sweethearts To Give Them Copy Of His New Book

VERNON, Tex., Feb. 15 (UP)—A poetry-writing Texan who ran newspaper advertisements in an effort to find three former sweethearts wanted it understood today he's not in a marrying mood.

Charles Early Cole, 73-year-old retired Vernon druggist, said he wanted to contact his old flames because "I'm getting out a book of poetry and the pictures of all three are in the book."

Poems dedicated to the ladies will be under their pictures, he said. "I'm not gonna marry any of 'em," Cole explained. "I just wanted to give them a copy of the book because I thought so much of them a long time ago."

Cole's quest for his former women friends came to light yesterday when the United Press found Margaret Coltart, sweetheart of Cole "about 45 years ago," in Memphis, Tenn.

The elderly Texan had advertised in the Memphis Press-Scimitar seeking to learn the whereabouts of Miss Coltart and explaining he wanted to give her a "most unusual gift."

Miss Coltart, who is not married, said hearing from Cole was "almost like Christmas."

"We were mighty good friends way back yonder when he lived in Memphis," she recalled. Miss

US Tanks Rescue Trapped Force

Reds Reported Massing 120,000 Chinese Troops For New Attacks

By Earnest Hoberecht TOKYO, Friday, Feb. 16 (UP)—American tanks smashed the Communist encirclement of Chipyong Thursday and rescued the trapped French-American force which has held the vital central Korean road hub against four days of fanatical Red attacks.

Red siege forces south of Chipyong were put to flight by the blazing American armored relief column, which shot its way into town after a 14-mile dash from the Yaju area to the south.

But central front dispatches said the Reds were massing 120,000 Chinese Communist troops north of Chipyong and Wonsu for new assaults on the two anchor posts of the United Nations line.

Two Chinese Communist armies of 30,000 men each were gathering north of Chipyong, the dispatches said. Another 60,000 Chinese Reds were massing north of Wonsu, 19 miles southeast.

The American relief column, described by one officer as "loaded for bear," jumped off to the rescue Wednesday night. It smashed and scattered a Communist battalion holding a roadblock in the hills around Koku, 4 1/2 miles south of Chipyong and then roared on into town.

The Yanks and Frenchmen in Chipyong, supplied by air during the four-day siege, still were holding an unbroken defense perimeter when the rescue column arrived.

Col. Paul L. Freeman, of Roanoke, Va., commander of the Chipyong garrison, said he could hardly hold out as long as he was ordered to do so.

Glenn McCarthy's Daughter Works For Rival Co

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 15 (UP)—Glennalee McCarthy, Pontikes who incurred the wrath of her multimillionaire father, oilman Glenn McCarthy, when she eloped with a shoemaker's son last fall is now working for an oil company which competes with him.

The unorthodox 18-year-old honey-blond bride disclosed today that she is working for the Humble Oil and Refining Company as a hall girl, at a salary of $180 per month, the amount she probably used to get from her father as an allowance.

Close friends said McCarthy, as in the case of the elopement, didn't know about the job until Glennalee went to work.

She eloped last December with George Pontikes, 20-year-old football player, son of an immigrant shoemaker. They were married by a justice of the peace at Waco, Tex., last Dec. 2.

The elopement incurred the displeasure of McCarthy who refused to even admit the marriage for a week after he found out about it.

But George and Glennalee said they intended to "make our own way" in life and stayed with young Pontikes' parents in their modest home some 30 blocks from the $700,000 McCarthy mansion. Recently, they moved to a small apartment "so we can be alone."

There was no fanfare when Glennalee applied for the job with Humble. Officials of the firm said she applied "like anybody else would and received the same sort of examination."

Glennalee applied for a secretarial job. None was open, but she hopes to move into one as soon as she can.

George also has a part-time job at the Federal Steel Company, working in the shipping department.

"We just want to live our own lives," Glennalee said. George added, "Yes, we do, but you had better talk to her father before you publish anything about Glennalee's job."

He said the Reds threw everything in their arsenal against the city day and night but didn't gain an inch. When the Reds formed up for a banzai attack the Yanks and Frenchmen went at them with the bayonet and scattered them before they could get going.

"Their old ace in the hole, that human sea attack technique, did not work at Chipyong," Freeman said. "Whenever we spotted a banzai attack in the making we made a bayonet charge of our own and hit them before they got rolling our way. The Yanks and Frenchmen, incidentally, both have taken to the cold steel with a vengeance."

Another American force, the U. S. 3rd Division holding ground west of Chipyong, also defied the Reds to attack again and take more losses of 148 to one as they did Wednesday.

The Reds threw a regiment against the 3rd Division command post and walked in an Allied trap which killed 1,993 of them in a single day's fighting.

Total casualties inflicted on the Reds in the past 22 days of fighting are 87,718, according to 8th Army announcements.

The 8th Army's "meat grinder" tactics continued Thursday. Allied artillery in the Wonsu area blasted Red troop concentrations there with a continuous bombardment.

Ranger Schools Close Until Monday

Weather conditions have forced all Ranger public schools to close until Monday, Sept. 6. B. Rush announced today. Schools have been closed since Wednesday noon and were scheduled to re-open Friday. But road conditions are still too hazardous for use by school buses.

Chinese Reds Use Flamethrowers For First Time

ON THE WESTERN FRONT, Korea, Feb. 15 (UP)—The Chinese Communists used flamethrowers against United Nations forces in Korea for the first time yesterday.

A company of U. S. infantrymen storming a hill north of Ichon ran into the fire weapons near the crest of a ridge.

The first man to top the hill was cut down by machinegun fire. The six men who followed him ran into a solid crossfire of flame thrown at them from flamethrowers dug in on top of the hill.

The GI's said they did not get a look at the flamethrowers or the men firing them and could not tell whether it was captured American equipment or Russian-made.

Bartender Held For 'Mistake' Shooting Of Man

FORT WORTH TEX., Feb. 15 (UP)—Doyle David Parks, 38-year-old bartender, today faced trial for murder in the "mistake" shooting of his ex-wife's intended new husband.

Parks was charged yesterday after he told authorities he broke into a hotel room "intending to kill" his ex-wife, Mrs. Mickey Parks, 36, and shot Paschal T. Simms, 26, of Godley, "by mistake."

Mrs. Parks said she and Simms had planned for a month to get married. The wedding was to have been yesterday.

Congress Decides To Delay Tax Increase Until Summer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (UP)—Congress today virtually guaranteed taxpayers that taxes won't be increased before June or July.

After that, all bets are off. The odds at present favor a hefty tax increase by mid-summer to help pay climbing costs of rearmament.

The decision to delay the imposition of higher taxes was made late yesterday by the revenue-raising House Ways and Means Committee. It came in the face of strong pressure from President Truman and other administration spokesmen for a quick $10,000,000,000 increase.

many words that it was going to delay things, but that was the effect of an agreement it reached.

Under the agreement, the committee will proceed with exhaustive hearings before it sets out to draft a bill. Treasury Secretary John W. Snyder, who outlined a President Truman's $10,000,000,000 program to the committee 10 days ago, will be invited to make any further suggestions.

Under the administration program, the first $10,000,000,000 would be raised through higher taxes on individuals and corporations, and through increased excise taxes. Neither Mr. Truman nor Snyder has yet said where the other $6,500,000,000 was to come from.

A corporation tax increase might be made retroactive to cover part of the time post, but individual income tax increases are not likely to be made retroactive. Excise taxes cannot be made retroactive.

Survivors include: his wife; four sons, Robert D. James of Ranger, Andrew J. James of Arvin, Calif., M. J. James of Stanfield, Ore., and Charles W. James of Norwalk, Calif.; five daughters, Mrs. Robert Matthews of Ranger, Mrs. May Webb of Lompasas, Mrs. Lillian Chambers of San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. Kitha Cox of Etowanda Calif.; and Mrs. B. G. Ray of Austin; 26 grandchildren and 39 great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Clarence L. James, Otis O. James and Eddie Joe James, grandsons of the deceased; Fred W. Matthews, R. J. Matthews and Vernon Ray.

Mom Who Drowned Child Will Go To State Institution

FORT WORTH TEX., Feb. 15 (UP)—Mrs. Robert H. Taylor, 30-year-old mother who admitted drowning her 3-year-old daughter in a dishpan, will be sent to a state institution, the district attorney's office announced late yesterday. The murder charge against her, however, will not be dropped at this time, the D.A.'s office said.

City policeman Ed Freeman drove Jerry and his mother to Dallas and the boy was reported resting well during the trip. Doctors were examining Jerry this morning and a report of his condition is expected today.

Man Charged With Rape

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 15 (UP)—A 45-year-old carpenter was jailed today on a charge of raping the 14-year-old daughter of his neighbor.

Weather Won't Stop Lions March

In rain, or sunshine, snow, sleet or mud, regardless of the weather, the Lions will cover the city Friday night, between 7 and 8 to get your contributions to the March of Dimes.

Turn your porch light on or tie a white cloth on your front door knob and this will be the signal for the Lion covering your territory to stop and get your contribution.

No solicitation will be made, it is purely voluntary. It is done in order to give every citizen a chance to help in this most cause.

Every victim of polio, regardless of race, creed or color, gets the very best treatment available, and it may be your child next. No one knows when or where it strikes.

This fund not only helps to bear the expenses of treatment of victims of the dread disease, but the National Foundation is doing research work every day in the year trying to find ways to eliminate the disease. Be liberal in your contribution Friday night.

Gradual Warmup Forecast For Most of Texas

Ranger was in for some slush today. The two-day cold spell was beginning to break up this morning. And clear skies gave the sun a chance to start melting the three-inch snow and sleet that had glazed the ground.

Yesterday's high was 23 degrees. Thursday's minimum was 13 degrees early this morning, the same as 24 hours ago. Two severe cold waves have struck Ranger this winter but the city has luckily been free of any serious accidents or bone-breaking falls by pedestrians. A few cars bumped into one another when brakes failed to hold on the slick roads.

By United Press A vast storm eased up in West Texas today, but the eastern portion of the state faced another day of sporadic freezing rain, sleet and light snow.

The lower Rio Grande Valley, its farmers and laborers still reeling from a crushing ice storm of two weeks ago, escaped a predicted freeze in today's early hours. The lowest Valley temperature was 37 in the McAllen-Edinburg area—10 degrees above the forecast.

Highway officials said all main highways were listed as open, but they discouraged all but emergency traffic and said conditions were hazardous on highways from border to border.

At least three deaths were attributed to crashes on glazed highways since the storm first hit the state Tuesday.

Most schools in the worst part of the ice-covered belt around Dallas and Fort Worth closed, including the city public schools.

Skies turned clear in southwest Texas and over the South Plains, the first indication that a warmup process was about to begin, but the ice, snow and sleet cap that covered at least three-fifths of Texas was due to hang around for another 24 to 48 hours.

Southwestern Bell said at least 22 of its exchanges, including Greenville, Commerce, Rockwell, Bonham and Paris, were isolated from outside telephone communication.

The disappearance of a cloud cover in the Plains allowed temperatures to dip sharply during the night hours. Lubbock and a Plainview reported lows of 8. Farther north, in the Panhandle where the clouds held overnight, low temperatures were 12 at Childress, 13 at Amarillo and 14 at Dalhart.

For Central and South Texas, the sleet and freezing rain that came with the Arctic-born storm was a blessing. It was the first appreciable moisture bone-dry farm fields had in those sections since last September.

Farmers everywhere agreed, however, that "we can use more."

RJC Announces Events Slated March, May

Dr. G. C. Boswell, president of Ranger Junior College, announced today the following events that will be held at the college:

March 2, Ranch Day, and ranch week will begin at the college on Wednesday, Feb. 28. Students and teachers will go western in dress on these days and the college extends to all of the people of the town to follow suit in this matter.

It is the desire of the college to lend of its aid toward this project since the town and surrounding country is interested in ranch life. The evening will close with a dance at the Elk's Hall.

March 9, the night of the coronation. This is one of the biggest events of the college year. This is when the boys will go tuxedo and the girls in their evening gowns. The Queen will be crowned in the Recreation Building.

February 22 to 27, Easter Holidays, when most students make their homeward trek.

May 25, this is Commencement Day. The services for exercises will be in the First Methodist Church, at 8 p.m. Seniors and faculty will wear academic apparel.

The college will appreciate it very much if these dates are placed on your calendar in order that you may be free to take part with the college to bring to a close a very successful year, Dr. Boswell said.

Starry-Eyed Youngsters Advised To Be Careful In Storming N. Y.

By John Rosenberg United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP)—Tilli Dieterle, a comely young pianist, says Hollywood is an easier nut to crack than New York for America's stage-struck youngsters.

She advises "the country kids with stars in their eyes" to think twice before buying a bus ticket to the Big Town to try a career in show business.

"New York is 'Big League,'" she said. "It's no place for amateurs. Anyone who comes here should have at least two years experience. Nowhere else in the country—perhaps the world—is competition keener. Nowhere else are agents and editors harder to impress."

She said entertainment-minded youngsters could get experience in and around their home towns. They should work with an agent near home, too, she said, one who has affiliations with New York agents.

"The thing to do is get a good backlog of experience and make Broadway and Radio City contacts," she advised. "Then, before coming, send photos and publicity."

She said it was "virtually impossible" to make a "cold" approach and receive any attention.

"The people who do the hiring won't even talk to you, no matter how much talent you may have, unless they have seen proof of your work," she contended. "It's a hard-boiled business and the big shots don't have time to listen to dreams."

She said Hollywood, her home town, is a less difficult place for the aspiring entertainer to get a start because "you can be an out-and-out phony and get by."

New York, she also points out, offers economic as well as professional problems.

Living Cost High "The would-be actors and actresses who come here had better be prepared to handle a side line job," she said. "The cost of living is very high and they've got to eat. They certainly can't count on jumping right into a job, or even getting a job that guarantees any sort of steady income."

"That also means that the kids who want to crack Broadway must make up their minds that they'll have to work and work hard. The girls of course, have the toughest time. If they're pretty—and most of them are, or they wouldn't want to be entertainers—they'll get the 'rush act' and they'll meet a lot of guys with a fast line."

SCENES AROUND RANGER

By John Chopelas

SCENES AROUND RANGER

The Hex of the Press is still with us. Yesterday the snow and sleet came pouring down and the press blew a gasket or something. And again you didn't get your Times until later than usual. We've just resigned ourselves to waiting out this run of bad luck. So far this week we've had a pressman break his toe, several webbs breaks, a busted press and one pickup from the Eastland Telegram which flipped over while on its way to Ranger. We're keeping our fingers crossed until this week is gone forever.

Mrs. Lottie Davenport passed on to us a page from a California paper. She got it from Mrs. Horstense Matthews who in turn received it from her daughter, Mrs. Fred Lehrer, who lives in California. The entire page is devoted to facts and rules about the atom bomb and how to protect yourself against an atomic explosion. Points worth repeating are the six survival secrets for atomic attacks:

- (1). Try to get shielded. If you have time, get down in a basement or subway. Should you unexpectedly be caught out-of-doors seek shelter alongside a building, or jump in a handy ditch or gutter.
- (2). Drop flat on ground or floor. To keep from being tossed about and to lessen the chances of being struck by falling and flying objects, flatten out at the base of a wall, or at the bottom of a bank.
- (3). Bury your Face in Your Arms. When you drop flat, hide your eyes in the crook of your elbow. That will protect your face from flash burns, prevent temporary blindness and keep flying objects out of your eyes.
- (4). Don't Rush Outside Right After a Bombing. After an air burst, wait a few minutes then go help fight fires. After other kinds of bursts wait at least 1 hour to give lingering radiation some chance to die down.

(5). Don't Take Chances With Food or Water in Open Containers. To prevent radioactive poisoning or disease, select your food and water with care. When there is reason to believe they may be contaminated, stick to canned and bottled things if possible.

(6). Don't Start Rumors. In the confusion that follows a bombing a single rumor might touch off a panic that could cost your life.
The articles ends with a note of advice: "Keep the above rules until you have memorized them."

GI's Swarm To Day Club In Korea; Plank Down $1.12 For Can Of Beer

(UP)—A day club opened here today. It was the first such opening of a South Korean town since the war.

The place is on a side street just off the main drag. The hours of business, as stated on the door, are "9:00 (8 a.m.) to 1:30 (6:30 p.m.)." It has to be a day club instead of a night club because the Military curfew hereabout is 7 p.m.

The big sign outside says "Paramount Grill (open daily)." An afterthought signed below the name sign reads "Welcome UN Forces Grill." The Paramount is directly across the street from "Ciro's Grill (welcome UN Army)." Old day owls around these parts says Giro's can't bat in the same league, hoity tohtily, with Paramount because Giro's has no orchestra.

Anyhow, your correspondent just happened to mosey by the Paramount and heard the music from within and just happened to mosey in, a lot of GI's did likewise. Two M.P.'s cars stood outside, one American and one British, lending a proper note to the opening.

On the outside of the front door were three small mirrors set in a triangle. On the top one was painted the UN crest, on the left one the Korean and on the right one the American. The inside was a square white walled room with a bare concrete floor, a cool nated stove made out of 2 1/2 oil and surmounted by a dogleg stove pipe, and a drape and hangings of UN patrol blue bunting looped gaily from the rafters. There were many tables, covered with white linen and surrounded by GI's wearing field jackets and winter caps and carrying M1 rifles on their backs.

Good Crops May Depend On Certified Seed

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 15.—Farmers who plant poor quality seed are likely to harvest poor crops, warns L. C. Coffey, associate agronomist for the Texas A&M Extension Service. Careful examination of the tag on each sack of seed will help the farmer determine quality of the seed he is getting.

Coffey says that certified seed are usually the best seed of a particular variety available. Certified seed come from fields that have been inspected during the growing season, and have been properly handled at harvest time.

cleaned, tested for purity and germination, and properly stored.

Blue tags attached to each sack of certified seed carry accurate information about the quality of the planting seed. These blue tags are issued by the State Department of Agriculture for use on seed which have met certain high standards of purity and germination. In 1950, blue tags were issued for 96 varieties of 12 different crops grown in Texas.

Although certified seed may cost slightly more than seed that are not certified, the added expense is offset by the assurance of purity and percentage of germination, says Coffey. Seed of questionable germination and purity may not be cheap at any price.

When farmers buy certified seed, they know what they are getting. Coffey reminds farmers that the certification tags are an excellent source of valuable information when they are buying planting seed.

We Like To Talk About Abstracts—

... because making abstracts has been our business for many years. And it is an interesting subject. Every day people come to us with their title problems. Some cases are tragic. Take the example of the couple who have spent their all for a home to find out later they have no title. Most title problems are simple and the abstracts help to make them simple. So before buying real estate of any kind have the title examined.

Lady's Bonnet Can Say A Lot

BY ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 (UP)—A hat's a good way for a girl to let a man know she's romantically interested in him, says Sally Victory.

In fact, the hat designer is convinced that a lady's bonnet can say a lot for her, if it's carefully chosen.

"Well, first, of course, the hat should be flattering," she commented in her carpeted showroom crowded with colorful spring straws and felts.

"Then the hat can tell a man if a girl's the efficient type, the clinging vine sort of girl, or a down-to-earth homemaker who'd make an ideal wife," Mrs. Victor said, walking over to a display of her spring models and picking several hats to illustrate her point.

"First, let me tell you how a woman should go about buying a hat," she said. "Don't buy a hat unless you're standing up in front of a full-length mirror. It can look so adorable from the neck up and so out of proportion from the neck down."

Mrs. Victor also frowns on getting all dressed up to go to buy a hat "because the first time you don't feel well or every hair isn't in place, the hat doesn't look well."

She doesn't think a woman should go on buying sailors or cloches just because they pleased her the year before, either.

"Your hair and your clothes change from season to season, so you should try new hat silhouettes, if only to turn them down," she said emphatically.

Now to get down to the bonnet language.

"Here's a hat for the woman who wants to look coy—to let her boy friend know she's interested," she said, and held up a brief white organdy bonnet with tiny felt flowers in various shades of lavender tucked in the scalloped brim.

"This one says, 'I'm an efficient person, a career is important to me,'" Mrs. Victor said, twirling a tweed straw derby in shades of black, gray and white, with a wide black velvet ribbon band. "There's no question about it, the girl who wears this means business."

For the girl who wants it known she's a glamour girl the hat designer suggested a bright red shantung straw picture hat, with a brim slit in points at either side and red and white camellias at each side of the brim to make the points droop alluringly around the face.

"And here's the hat for the girl who wants to say she's feminine, but dependable—the ideal wife," Mrs. Victor said, triumphantly holding up a natural tussan straw sailor with pale pink roses edging the brim.
