Livestock Show Opens March 24th In Ranger

LARGE CROWDS EXPECTED TO BE ON HAND FOR SHOW

A great amount of time, trouble, care, hope and expense have gone into the preparations for the annual Tri-County Livestock Show which is being held in Ranger March 23 and 24 under the sponsorship of local merchants through the Ranger Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The show is being given for the purpose of improving and expanding the livestock industry in this and adjoining counties. All livestock producers, who are eligible under the rules of the show, are invited to enter and take part in this project. There will be no cost connected with entering the show.

It is the wish of the sponsors that visitors and exhibitors alike will reap an educational benefit worthy of their efforts, through the facilities of the show.

Realizing the enormity of the farming and ranching business in this section of the state, the Ranger Jaycees have strived to promote the cause of agriculture here through the building of a show barn and supporting the Vocational Agriculture students in their educational program.

Information regarding the entries in the stock show should be sent by prospective exhibitors to B. S. Dudley, Jr., Box 577, Ranger. All intentions of entering the show should be included in the letters.

The entries will be under the control of the show officials with desirable prizes offered in all classes. Numerous activities will be on the program including a greased pig scramble.

The Ranger Jaycees introduced a new dairy improvement program during their 1949 show through which rural youth of Eastland County were allowed to scramble for greased pigs. The reward for catching a pig was a registered Jersey heifer. Only special selected and qualified FFA and 4-H Club boys were allowed to scramble for the pigs. There are twice as many boys as pigs so the fellows really have to be on their toes.

Each boy receiving a heifer is required to breed his heifer to a registered Jersey bull and return the first heifer calf to the sponsor who in turn will award the calf to another boy. To date, sixteen of these outstanding registered Jersey heifers have been awarded qualified boys.

This year three boys Weldon Cunningham, Frank Robinson and Jackie Poyor have heifers which will be turned back to the sponsors. The following merchants are among those who have furnished heifers which were awarded during the 1950 Ranger Jaycee Annual Rodeo:

Ratliff Feed Store, Owen Implement Co., Ranger Jaycees, L. R. Pearson, Banner Creamery, Ranger Times, C. B. Pruet, C. D. Hartnett Co., Swaney's Pharmacy, Crawford's Rexall Drugs, Greer Boot Shop, Leveille Motor Company, Ranger Auto Parts, Texas Drug, Lloyd Clem, Inc., Ranger Peanut Co., Killingsworths, Ranger Furniture Exchange, Globe Clothiers, Tip-Top Feed Store, Eastland National Bank, Dr. Pepper Bottling Co., H. G. Adams Grocery, Strawn National Bank, H. F. Earnest Texaco Products, Ranger Frozen Food Lockers, Texas Electric Service Company, C. E. May, Insurance, and the Commercial State Bank.

Russia Welshes On Promise

WASHINGTON, March 22 (UP)—Russia has welshed on its wartime promise to return lend-lease goods to the United States, and prospects today were that further negotiations would be only name-calling.

The United States has been demanding that Russia return 670 ships and pay $800,000,000 for the rest of the $11,000,000,000 in lend-lease aid the Soviet Union received.

Russia replied yesterday that it would pay no more than $240,000,000 and "refuse to consider the return of the ships." The United States was expected to protest formally.

Under the lend-lease agreement, Russia promised to return to the U. S. certain goods upon request. These goods included items that survived the war and which "shall be determined by the President (of the U. S.) to be useful in the defense of the U. S. or of the Western Hemisphere or to be otherwise of use to the U. S."

Secretary of State Dean Acheson invoked this clause on Feb. 7 and asked the Soviet to return the lend-lease ships. Russia's flat refusal, contained in a note handed to the State Department, said the United States did not need the disputed ships.

Forward March!

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 22 (UP)—St. Louis Cardinal outfielder Hal Rice was scheduled to take his army physical examination today at McDill Field. The 26-year-old right-hander, who hit .310 for Rochester in 1950, is a lieutenant in the reserves.

4-H Boys, Girls Enter Animals In Tri-County Show

The 4-H Club boys and girls of Eastland County have entered 332 head of livestock in the Tri-County Livestock Show to be held at Ranger, Friday and Saturday, according to C. V. Whitaker, assistant county agent.

Nine of these are beef calves and three are beef breeding heifers. There are twelve dairy heifers, two dairy cows and one dairy bull. Twenty-four head of swine are entered: two fat barrows, 14 gilts, three sows, and five boars. Five sheep and six goats are also entered.

Chickens constitute the largest number of entries with a total of seventy-one. The Tri-County Show is the only time that the 4-H Club members with poultry projects have a chance to show, which accounts for the large number of entries in the poultry division.

Mrs. Hendricks Rites Held At Kokomo Church

Movie Stars May Tell Of Red Hollywood Ties

WASHINGTON, March 22 (UP)—Several movie stars who once were Communists may follow Larry Parks and tell about Red activity in Hollywood, a member of the House Un-American Activities Committee said today.

The committee member, who declined use of his name, said the legislators know of several name actors who, like Parks, may testify they were "duped" into joining the Communist party and dropped out when they learned its real aims.

Hearings on Communism in the movie colony have been recessed until April 10.

"Parks, star of the 'Jolson Story' said his movie career probably was ended by his testimony yesterday that he belonged to a film actors' Communist cell from 1941 to 1945.

But Rep. Charles E. Potter, R. Mich., said he hopes "the movie industry will not seek reprisal against a man who cooperates with the committee, who was a member of the party and left when he realized the political implications of Communism."

Parks, first person from the movie industry to admit Communist party membership, said testifying before the committee was the hardest morning and afternoon he ever spent. But he said he decided to tell the committee the truth and let the future take care of itself.

NICE LIVESTOCK—R. B. Thomas, former agricultural instructor at Ranger High School poses with a student while they admire one of the prize animals which was shown at a previous show.

HOLD THAT PIG—Weldon Cunningham catches a greased pig at the annual Ranger Jaycee Rodeo which insures him the honor of receiving a Jersey Heifer which was one of many given to special selected and qualified FFA and 4-H Club boys.

Russia Doubles Iran Troops

TEHRAN, Iran, March 22 (UP)—Russia reported today to have doubled troops stationed on her joint frontier with Iran.

The report created new fears in jittery Tehran in the third day of martial law as tanks rumbled through the cobbled streets to maintain order.

An about-face in Soviet propaganda broadcasts since the assassination of premier Ali Razmara March 7 placed new emphasis on the border report.

There was some speculation that British troops might be sent to Iran to protect the British-controlled oil industry. The Iranian parliament voted to nationalize the industry despite a British concession valid until 1953.

J. A. Crutsinger Dies At Borger

Word has been received at the Times that J. A. Crutsinger, father of Mrs. Bob Hamilton, Ranger, passed away today in Borger. He is survived by his wife and four daughters. Other daughters include: Mrs. W. O. Schaefer, Odessa, Mrs. Joe Martin, Henderson, and Mrs. Lela Hatley, Phillips.

Gloom And Joy Walk Hand-In-Hand

OAKLAND, Calif., March 22 (UP)—The quick and the dead came home together today from the Korean War aboard the transport ship USS Randall.

On her decks, were 1,500 happy Marines, cheering wildly over their return to the States.

But in her holds lay the silent bodies of 52 honored war dead, most of them army soldiers.

Relatives and friends stood on the docks, shouting and waving to the returning 1st Marine Division heroes.

Intermingled among them, the bereaved parents and widows of the dead sobbed and wept quietly. The soldiers' bodies were disinterred from Korean graves to be transported back to their homeland.

All 52, including Maj. Gen. Bryant E. Moore, former Ninth Corps commander, died on the battlefield. They are the first dead returned from the Korean front.

The Marines are the second large group to return under the Marine Corps Rotation plan. Nearly 1,000 Marines landed at San Francisco several weeks ago.

Gulf Gives Raise

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., March 22 (UP)—The Gulf Oil Corporation today offered 5,000 employees a pay raise of 10 per cent above their Jan. 1, 1950 salary.

The Texas Company and the Atlantic Refining Company already has made similar offers, subject to approval of the unions.

Rotary Club Holds Meeting

The Ranger Rotary Club held its weekly meeting yesterday in the dining room of the Ranger Junior College with 19 members and five guest enjoying a meal of fried chicken with all the trimmings.

Following the social program was given by students of the Ranger Junior College Music Department in the College Music Hall. The program seemed to show that the college was fortunate in securing the talents of Fred D. Baumgardner, Professor of Music.

Every one apparently enjoyed Kenneth Wright's singing about the "Bad French Bull." He was accompanied on the piano by Miss Bette Rous-Wilcox. Miss Pat Taylor was charming in her rendition of "Frankie and Johnnie." G. W. McBea was her accompanist. Bobbie Jean Deen gave a clarinet solo entitled "Concertine."

A baritone solo was offered by Jack Hull entitled "Lily Polka." The program was applauded by the men attending the affair.

Guest present were J. A. Bates, Joe Graham, Dr. W. P. Watkins, Price Crawley, and Darrell Holmes.

Polio Fighters To Meet Friday

The Eastland County Chapter of the National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis will hold a meeting in the court room of the Eastland County Courthouse Friday, March 23 at 8 p. m., according to Merle Barthelme, acting county chairman.

It has been requested by the chapter that all interested persons attend this meeting and that they bring some other interested person along with them. A film will be shown on the care and treatment of polio. The members will also elect officers for the coming year during this meeting.

VFW To Meet Friday Night

The Ranger Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold a meeting Friday night at 8 p. m. for the purpose of electing officers for the coming term. Commander Herman Strode has requested that as many members as possible attend this meeting.

Barnes Outstanding In Practice; Chico Mendoza Returns To Line

By Darrell F. Holmes, Jr.

He hasn't got the speed of the fazzel-dazzel of the flashy Ranger High School Ace Jimmy "Rip-Roaring" Comacho, but J. L. "Jay" Barnes makes up for it in sheer power, nerve, and classy ball handling. That's why this writer believes that Coach "Stubby" Warden made a good choice in robbing Line Coach S. B. Allen of his All-District Guard from the 1950 hall club.

Don Varner Jimmy Cole

Pushed by graduation, Warden shifted Barnes from his two year stand at Guard and moved him into the fullback slot. For three days Warden has been putting him through the paces. Barnes works well with the rest of the backfield and may well end up being a triple-threat man in his own right.

The coaching staff has been throwing the book at the squad with running, passing, blocking, tackling, pass receiving, defense, play running, and every thing else which adds up to a lot of fun and plenty of hard work.

The team welcomed the return of Chico Mendoza who gave up all ideas of being confined to a sick bed and played a bang up afternoon right end. Mendoza played most of the season last year on defense but from practice indications could end up playing times during which both sides have the ball.

Once again a bright spot in the practice session was the play of Don Varner along with the brilliance of Jimmy Cole. The lineman and the man in the back-ground both have the knack of being in the right place at the right time.

The practice has been going as well as expected, according to a member of the coaching staff who stated, the boys all have the heart for the game and are giving it all they have. Some of the boys haven't any previous football experience but I believe they will come through all right.

AMERICAN FORCES ADVANCE MOVING IN FOR THE KILL

By Earnest Hoherecht

United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, March 22 (UP)—United Nations Forces rolled closer to the 38th Parallel today, meeting their heaviest resistance from entrenched Chinese within 3-4 miles of the border north of reoccupied Chunchon.

A front dispatch said latest reports indicated that even this resistance had been pushed aside and that the steady northward advance toward tactical objectives had been resumed.

Light scattered enemy resistance was reported by United Nations forces all along the Korean front, 8th Army communique said.

Dispatches said the Chinese rear guard actions were being fought by company-sized units of around 150 men employing small arms, automatic weapons and mortars.

These reports indicated the powerful American tank columns, backed by shattering artillery and air strikes, were rolling over the Communists in a slow but steady advance.

The Reds abandoned one major hill position—bloody "Tomstone Hill"—on the Hongchon-Puyong road after two days of murderous attacks by American troops who had to crawl a mile forward on their bellies and kill the Communists in their foxholes.

Starting the third day of attacks Thursday, the Americans found the 1,200-foot hill abandoned. The Reds apparently pulled out under cover of darkness during the night.

On the Central Front American patrols entered Chunchon at 8 a. m. Thursday (6 p. m. Wednesday EST) for the second time after they withdrew Wednesday night.

By mid-day they full reoccupied the town and sent a tank column spearheading north. The tanks reached a point within 3-4 miles of the Parallel before running into heavy enemy opposition.

At this point the Reds had created a roadblock by dynamiting a huge hole in the highway. They covered the roadblock by pouring intense fire of all kinds into the tanks.

The Americans withdrew to let artillery and planes open up on the Reds. A late dispatch said that the advance had been resumed.

Protest Issued To Russia About Demonstrations

BERLIN, Germany, March 22 (UP)—The United States has protested to Russia about six demonstrations against U. S. military trains passing through the Soviet zone between Berlin and West Germany, it was disclosed today.

In one case, the protest said, a bullet coming from the direction of Russian troop barracks in Marienborn penetrated the door of a c o a c h. The incident occurred March 9.

The protest letter, made public today, said in five other cases, groups of Germans, apparently under Soviet direction, staged anti-American demonstrations outside trains temporarily halted at Magdeburg.

On one of these occasions, demonstrators broke the glass of a train door.

Most demonstrations consisted of chanting anti-American songs, plastering anti-American posters on the trains' sides and tossing pamphlets into open windows of the coaches.

Roy Yeary Dies In Fort Worth

Roy Yeary, formally of Ranger, died today at his Fort Worth home. Yeary worked in Ranger for the L. E. Gray Barber Shop during his residence here. He is survived by his wife and a son Bobby, who make their home in Fort Worth.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at a cemetery eight miles east of Weatherford at 11 a. m. The body will rest tonight at the Lucas Funeral Home, Riverside, Fort Worth.

Hidalgo Officers Are Standing By

EDCOUCH, March 22 (UP)—Seven Hidalgo County Officers and Highway Patrolmen kept a watch today over a vegetable shed here where some 100 idle workers milled last night in an apparent protest over changes in working hours by shed owner Bob Tankersley.

The milling workers did not picket other workers in the area who were loading carrots.

Tankersley said he ordered all workers on a 40-hour week thus cutting out overtime for many of them. He said it was either cut the number of hours or lay off part of the workers.

PAUL TWING shook his head as he spoke, seated on the bank with Captain Martin Jaboe, Judy and May around him.

"It's been for nothing," Paul repeated. "If there were only some way out of this—some way to keep from sending little Judy back to that woman!"

Captain Martin Jaboe started to say something, but Judy Twing interrupted. She reached out her hand and took Paul's hand in hers.

"No, Uncle Paul. I want to stay with you," she said.

Paul put his arm around her, pulled her little head against his chest and stroked her.

"I'll get sent to the electric chair," Paul continued grimly. "It's death for kidnapping, you know. May Jenkins will spend the next 10 years or so in prison. His voice became hard. "It's a great solution, Jo-Jo, but I'm not having it—thanks!"

Captain Jaboe shook his head as he looked at the child.

"She doesn't understand," he said. "Don't you see, Paul? It's impossible. For her sake—for yours. And," he turned to May Jenkins, "for your sake too. We're your friends, Paul. We'd suggest nothing if it wasn't for the best."

"No," Paul said stubbornly.

Captain Jaboe seemed at loss for words. He looked at May.

"Can't you make him see?"

"How can I?" May asked. "I don't see myself. You want him to surrender. To go to jail—"

"And to the electric chair," Paul reminded the sea captain.

Moss, who had remained in the background since he had been introduced by Captain Jaboe, now stepped forward in front of the captain.

"You're all wrong, Twing. That's not what is going to happen to any of you."

CAPTAIN JABOE'S lips twisted into a half-smile again. "Maybe you didn't catch his full name when I introduced you. This is Victor Moss."

"Victor Moss, the criminal lawyer!" Paul's eyes narrowed, then widened. He remembered the lawyer's name mentioned in the newspaper accounts of the formation of "Justice for Twing" clubs.

"The best there is," Jaboe added. "If he can't win a case, it isn't much of a case. And I think you've got a good one. I don't think you ever did lose one, did you, Moss?"

Moss smiled. "I lost a few, but that was a long time ago. Listen to me, Twing. Jaboe's giving you good, sound advice. You can't get away—not forever. Give yourself up now and put yourself in my hands. It's your best bet."

"Listen to him, Paul," said Captain Jaboe.

"Yes, listen. I've swung juries by manufacturing sympathy for men who were hard-boiled sinners. You're a natural. You're no sinner and I'm staking my reputation that you'll come out on top and that includes legal custody of the child. What a witness she'll make!"

Paul stared at Moss. Then he asked in a choked voice: "What about May? Can't we keep her out of it?"

The lawyer shook his head. "Of course not. She's in it. She's been seen in it, but we'll take care of her. I don't know anything about the set-up, now she fits into the picture, but I do know you're all right, and the kid's all right and she must be all right too."

PAUL turned to May Jenkins. His face was pale and his eyes were glistening.

"Yes, she's all right," he breathed. "There never was anyone who was rightier." He reached out and took May's hand. "What do you think about it, May?"

May's voice was a whisper. "I believe you should do as they say."

Paul looked at Jaboe and nodded. "Then that's it, Jo-Jo." He turned again to May and smiled.

"When we get on the ship, May," Paul told her, "I was going to ask you if I could have the captain marry us."

May turned her head away and said nothing, but she pressed her hand as hard as she could. She couldn't use her voice.

Captain Jaboe chuckled. He slapped Paul's shoulder with the back of his hand. "Say it right, you swab!"

PAUL stood up and put his hands on May's shoulders. Judy Twing, who had been at Paul's knees, was caught between Paul and May.

"This is a heck of a time and a heck of a place to say it," Paul said hoarsely. "but I love you, May. Darling May. I think you're wonderful. Will you marry me?"

May's lips moved but nobody, not even Captain Jaboe who was close by, seemed to hear anything.

Judy Twing poked her head out from between the couple and grinned impishly at Captain Jaboe and Victor Moss.

"She said, 'Yes,'" Judy giggled.

THE END

before today's athletic young women mastered the manipulation of the 22-inch plume fan.

"The psychology of the fan is playing with it," he explained, flipping over a black imported lace fan. "If it doesn't open and close right it's useless. That's why each of these fans is mounted by hand just as they were 50 years ago."

Bremer, who has been in the fan and feather business for 36 years, opened another drawer and lifted out a tiny, yellowed pamphlet on a faded red string.

"One of these used to be tied on each fan that went out of here," he said. Called "the language of the fan," the 30-year-old pamphlet, advised that "mildly would fan become adept in the practice..." of the fan code.

Unfurling the fan quickly, for instance, told a hot-blooded swain "you are to bold." If a girl wanted to get rid of a suitor, she could do it wordlessly just by snapping the fan shut quickly. That, according to the fan code, meant "I hate you."

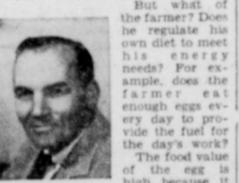

Naturally, the boys have to learn the language of a girl's winking her time. But there's an up-to-date little pamphlet just released on fan language by the Houbigant Perfume Company.

If a girl drops her fan today, she'd better drop the booklet with it. Otherwise her heart interest will assume she's just careless—not eager for a moment alone with him.

FARM Facts

A lot of farm and ranch chores may be measured in "horsepower," but did anyone ever try to evaluate the energy required of the farmer?

It is a well-known fact that a tractor needs quality fuel and lubricants, a team of horses, a span of mules, or even a yoke of oxen, require an adequate amount of the proper ration to do the job.

By H. C. Schaefer, Manager Nutritional Research Laboratories, Houbigant Perfume Company

But what of the farmer? Does he regulate his own diet to meet his energy needs? For example, does the farmer eat enough eggs every day to provide the fuel for the day's work?

The food value of the egg is high because it contains within itself all the materials needed for the development of the chick within the short space of 21 days.

Feed tests with laboratory animals and human subjects show that for them also it is a food of remarkably high value. Its protein, egg albumin, supports an even faster rate of growth than the protein meat and milk. Its fat occurs in a finely emulsified form and is as easily digested as milk fat. It contains all known vitamins except Vitamin C and all the mineral elements needed for the formation of blood.

For the farmer who works a full day, an ideal breakfast includes two eggs, fried, boiled, poached—or served in his favorite style. Eggs, too, are versatile inasmuch as there are so many tasty ways to use them, either as a dish or as a supplement to other recipes, that one need never tire of them.

Fruit juice, breakfast pastry and a cup of coffee may seem to satisfy the person who expends little or no energy during the day, but for the man who does a man's work, it's a man's breakfast which includes at least two eggs.

Parking Attendant Asserted to Have Attacked Oil Man

R. J. Hamilton, a "dignified looking" 46-year-old oil operator, today filed suit for $55,000 damages as the result of what he said was an attempt to over-charge him 20 cents in a downtown parking lot.

Because he insisted the advertised charges for parking a car less than 30 minutes in the parking lot was 15 cents, Hamilton claimed he was severely beaten by the lot attendant with a club.

The suit said the incident happened last Sunday.

While driving to his office, Hamilton said he was attracted to the parking lot by a large sign reading "15 cents for a half hour."

Underneath it, in smaller letters, were added: "30 cents for the first hour. Fifteen cents each additional half hour."

Hamilton said in the suit he laid down a quarter and that the unidentified attendant demanded another dime. When he refused to pay it, he said, the attendant picked up a cardboard sign which read "35 cents in advance." The attendant handed him back his quarter.

Hamilton said he told the attendant: "Your sign says 15 cents for a half hour and I'll be back in less than that."

In 20 minutes, Hamilton said he was back.

"When I walked into the parking lot, the attendant grabbed an ice pick and started cursing me," he said. "Then he laid down the ice pick and jumped at me with a piece of wood. He beat me over the head and seriously injured my left hand."

River Driftwood Makes Material For "Zoo"

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UP)—Mrs. M. L. Naramore hunts along Alabama river banks for the animals which go into her unusual zoo.

Mrs. Naramore's "weapon" is a small hacksaw which she carries in her purse. Her "prey" is driftwood, shaped by drift water into the faces and forms of wild creatures.

Mrs. Naramore exhibits her zoo animals in their natural habitats. A wooden turtle lies in an arrangement of bullrushes. A ram regards his head for masping flowers.

Dainty Lace Fab Of Yesteryears Is Coming Back

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, March 22 (UP)—Note the dainty lace fan yonder young lady just dropped on the dance floor.

Once, in the days of bustles and pompadours, the dropped fan meant "I must see you alone."

Now, with feminine chignons and bouffant ball gowns making girls look more feminine, fan folks are breathlessly predicting a revival of coquettish fans. Maybe, even, a revival of those fan signals young girls used to learn before the girl scouts spread the semaphore code.

In a feather-laden fan factory in midtown Manhattan, one of the country's leading manufacturers obligingly reviewed the situation by rummaging through drawers filled with fans dating back 50 years.

"I think the girl is coming back," said A. S. Bremer, designer and salesman for the Bernard

Lang Fan Co. "We were in the masculine state for a while, when girls would rather wear slacks than a dress. But Paris started designing for the girl again several years ago, and now," he added, holding up a brand new aqua blue plume fan with a mother of pearl handle, "we're making fans again."

The plume fans, made almost exactly like the plume fans of a quarter century ago, are less popular than the dainty lace, sequin-studded net, and even flowered taffeta fans, Bremer said. He acknowledged it might take a while

KENTUCKY TAKES SPOTLIGHT IN NCAA REGIONAL TOURNEY

NEW YORK, March 22 (UP)—Kentucky will be the spotlight here tonight in the Semi-final round of the Eastern NCAA Regional tournament, while the Oklahoma Aggies take the center of the stage at Kansas City in the quarter-final round of the Western Regionals.

The lineup for the Eastern semifinals at Madison Square Garden sends Kentucky, the Nation's No. 1 basketball team, against St. John's, and Illinois against North Carolina State.

At Kansas City, the double-header that will clean up the quarter-final round of the Western Regionals pits the Oklahoma Aggies, the Nation's No. 2 team, against Montana State, and Washington against the Texas Aggies.

Kansas State and Brigham Young, won the first two games of the Western Regionals last night, but each ran into more trouble than expected. Kansas State survived a terrific storm to beat Arizona, 61 to 59, while Brigham Young downed San Jose State, 68-61.

As a crowd of 10,500 watched in awe, the K-State Wildcats, champions of the Big Seven, started out to make mincemeat of the Arizona Wildcats, champions of the Border Conference. But with a minute and a half to go, Roger Johnson's goal brought Arizona up to a 60-59 deficit. K-State froze the ball and added a free throw to gain the narrow triumph.

Brigham Young, the National Invitation Tournament champion shooting for the "grand slam" didn't impress in first NCAA victory.

That could be because Roland Minson, who won the Nit's "most valuable players" award, picked up four first-half fouls and spent so much time on the bench that he scored only 12 points.

The Oklahoma Aggies (27-4), were expected to have only a routine assignment against Montana State (22-12). However, the game between Washington (22-5), champion of the Pacific Coast Conference, and Texas A&M (16-11), champion of the Southwest Conference, was expected to be nip-and-tuck.

Kentucky was a solid choice over St. John's, but the Illinois-North Carolina State game was a toss-up in the east.

Cadillac Draws Men And Cops Brunette Says

HOUSTON, March 21 (UP)—Miss Norma Barnes said today she supposed she would have to sell her Cadillac and purchase a Model A because proposing men and traffic officers won't leave her alone.

"That Cadillac," moaned the 37-year-old brunette after Justice Neal Shurtliff fined her $15 for speeding, "has caused me no end of trouble in the three months I've had it."

"Cops arrest me on suspicion or for trivial traffic violations because they think I can pay the fine," she said. "And the Cadillac draws men like flies because they think I have money."

She emphatically declared she wasn't speeding through the small town of Genoa, when a deputy constable arrested her for speeding which she drew the $15 fine.

"It's just that when anybody sees the Cadillac, they try to take advantage of me."

Miss Barnes' for high-powered automobiles started getting her in trouble back in 1949. And it was "a little old Buick that started things off then."

"I worked hard in a shipyard until 1949 and saved my money instead of spending it on whisky and dancing," she said. "So, I bought a Buick and went to work for a Houston department store.

"The manager of the store found out about my car. He had only a 'three-holer' Buick and just couldn't stand to see me drive a 'four-holer.' I was finally forced out of a job at the store."

After that, she said, she decided to fulfill an ambition and get a Cadillac.

"But I should have known better," Miss Barnes quipped. "Now look at my troubles. I can't get a job because managers won't hire help with Cadillacs. Service station attendants try to stick me for unnecessary parts and repairs."

"Then cops arrest me on suspicion for trivial traffic violations because they think I can pay the fine. Everybody tries to get to me."

Miss Barnes said those troubles however, were nothing compared to the trouble she has with men.

"That Cadillac draws them like flies," she said. "Why, I get four or five proposals a month from those guys who call me up for dates. Then they expect me to pay the checks."

She said practically all the money she saved is gone, but admitted she couldn't convince "those gold-diggers of that—not after they see that car."

Teen-Agers Charged With Rape Of Girl

Seven teen-age youths were charged here today with criminally assaulting a teen-age girl on repeated occasions during the past 10 days.

Five of the youths, arrested yesterday, waived preliminary hearing before Justice L. C. Elliot today and were bound over to the Grand Jury on $1,500 bond each. The remaining two youths were sought by authorities.

The arrests capped a recent wave of juvenile vandalism in this Panhandle city, which included an attempt to burn the Children's High School and numerous robberies and burglaries.

Jury Indicts Three Men On Burglary Charges

Three more alleged members of a Panhandle burglary ring were indicted yesterday, bringing to 12 the number implicated in the gang.

A Moore County Grand Jury returned the latest indictments against Melvin Duane Velebil, 21; Robert E. Simpson, 24; and Robt. J. Smith, 24. The indictments grew out of a break-in at the Gosselin store in Dumas.

The three were previously indicted for burglary in Potter County.

KEFAUVER SAYS CRIME IS RAGING IN AMERICA

By Barbara Bundsch
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 NEW YORK, March 21, (UP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today his Senate Crime hearings here have proved that gangsters from the prohibition era still can place "men who could help them" in choice political jobs.

As the klieg-lighted session went into its eighth and final day, the committee called Frank "The Boss" Costello (at 9:30 a.m. EST) for one last chance to answer the $64 question: "How much are you worth?" or face contempt charges.

Then the committee planned to dig into violence on the New York waterfront with Albert Anastasia, identified as head of Brooklyn's infamous Murder, Inc. And still the most powerful figure on the waterfront, as the star of some 40 additional witnesses.

Kefauver, Lincolnque Democrat from Tennessee, said Costello's admission yesterday that he was a friend of 10 of Tammany Hall's 16 district leaders, formed "a very important part of the pattern" the committee has found in its coast-to-coast study of crime.

"Here is the pattern of a gangster able to build up his importance with political influence, able to put men in big spots for doing things for him," Kefauver said in an interview. "But he's here. He's always escaped prosecution."

Former Mayor William O'Dwyer testified yesterday that he had tried to pull Costello's carefully manicured hands out of Tammany politics but admitted he had appointed five friends of Costello, Joe Adonis and Willie Moretti to city jobs when he was mayor. "There are things you have to do politically if you want cooperation," he explained.

"All over the country we have heard testimony about Costello and Meyer Lansky and Joe Adonis and Jerry Catena," Kefauver said. "This has been brought together to show how they got started—bringing liquor down from Canada during prohibition. The springboard for the syndicates all over the country was here and in Chicago and Cleveland."

He said testimony given by Ambassador to Mexico O'Dwyer Monday and Tuesday indicated that the interstate gang was composed of the same thugs who directed Murder, Inc., and spread crime across the country in the years following the death of the speaker.

"I don't think it's as tight a federation as of now," Kefauver said. "But the old figures are still there. They still have common contacts."

Costello refused to answer the

They are dark, and their exposed surfaces are whitened from the explosion.

You see much evidence of bombing, the regular kind of bombs, on this long train ride from Hiroshima to Tokyo. Acres and acres of the industrial cities have that bombed-out look.

Fruit trees are in bloom along the way, and farmers, men and women, are planting in their little vegetable patches. The paddies are full of water, and they mirror the sky and the train.

Sometimes when you stop at a station, you see a group of workmen in a scene that is typically Japanese. They make a musical comedy production job of swinging their picks or sledge hammers. They pair off, and each pair strokes in unison. You see them pull the picks up to the top of the swing, then a little wiggle, and then the stroke, right together. Good as any chorus girl.

Rapid Growth Brings Need For New School

AMARILLO, March 21 (UP)—Amarillo's rapid growth has brought a need for at least three new elementary schools and one junior high costing a total of some $1,000,000, Charles M. Rogers, City School Superintendent, told the Amarillo School Board yesterday.

Rogers, along with George Waddell, business manager of the schools, urged the board to push a bond issue for that amount to ease the city's "growing pains."

Each is tagged and labelled as to its distance from the bomb epicenter and its position in the architecture of pre-bomb Hiroshima.

There are also sealed and twisted tree trunks and plant life. And there are maps, charts, photographs, and a huge model layout of the city showing how it looked right after the bombing.

The hall is closed to the public right now. But Harry Umeda, of the Foreign Affairs Section of the city government, who was later the former director of the hall, Shogo Nagoka, came in, when I asked where I could get an atom-bomb stone or two. Nagoka thrust some excess items upon me from his personal selection.

Hence the laden duffelbag. In my collection are six pieces of basalt rock which were lying on the ground in a shrine, nearly 400 yards from the blast center.

Truman Enjoys Sunshine While Doughboys Fight

KEY WEST, Fla., March 22 (UP)—President Truman ended a "most satisfactory" work-and-play vacation today and prepared to fly back to the troubles he left in Washington three weeks ago.

He is scheduled to take off at 1 p.m. CST from Boca Chica Naval Air Station—eight miles from here—aboard his personal plane. The Independence. That will put him back in Washington soon after 4 p.m. CST.

Before leaving the Little White House, Mr. Truman planned one more swim if the weather is warm enough.

Three weeks in the sun and surf at his favorite vacation retreat here have put Truman in good spirits and he is sporting a fine tan.

Bars No Barrier

PASADENA, Calif., March 22 (UP)—Prison bars are no barrier to friendship as far as Frank MacNeill, 33, and James Tooke, 34 are concerned.

MacNeill was arrested yesterday on charges of issuing fictitious checks totaling $1,000.

An officer idly inquired, "where's your pal, Tooke?"

"He'll show up," MacNeill answered. "We have a gentleman's agreement. If one of us gets arrested the other will surrender."

Five minutes later Tooke appeared at the jail and demanded a d m i t t a n c e . Obliging officers booked him on check charges.

House Debate Expected On State Spending

AUSTIN, March 22 (AP)—The Texas House of Representatives was expected to open the final round of debate today on its recommended $159,000,000 spending program.

Only the higher educational chapter of the unique omnibus "single package" appropriation bill remained to be gone over.

In day-long consideration of the proposed $159,000,000 money measure yesterday, the representatives skipped through debate on the judiciary, junior college and state hospital and special school chapters of the bill and raised long enough over state departments to put in an extra $200,000.

Expected polishing of the House appropriation bill today will meet the self-imposed 70-day legislative deadline of 8 a. m. today for action on money measures and probably put the House and Senate versions of the appropriation legislation in a joint House-Senate Conference Committee by Easter week-end.

The Conference Committee must make the two bills match. The final spending figure agreed on by the conferees will determine the size of new tax legislation.

A third day's consideration by the House of its money legislation was in contrast to the Senate where a spending measure totaling $162,000,000—the largest in the state's history—was approved Tuesday in less than an hour.

Five amendments tacked onto the departmental section of the appropriation measure, in the House increased the money granted state departments for the next two years by $205,000.

The major increase was in an amendment by Rep. S. J. Isacks of El Paso providing $100,000,000 for the coming biennium for the Attorney General's department to handle pending Texas Tidelands lawsuits.

Other increases included: an amendment by Mrs. Dorothy Gill of Del Rio, $21,000 a year to the Livestock Sanitary Commission, to boost the number of predatory hunters in Texas from 60 to 70.

Another amendment by Rep. Frank Owen III of Fabens reinstated the Rio Grande Compact Commission—abolished in appropriations committee—and granted the group an appropriation of $7,789 yearly.

But although Owen succeeded in gaining reinstatement of the Rio Grande Compact Commission efforts failed to reinstate the Veterans Affairs Commission and The Pecos River Compact Commission.

Aggies Favored In Track Meet

HOUSTON, March 22 (UP)—Texas A&M, Rice Institute and Texas meet tomorrow afternoon in the first Southwest Conference Triangular Track Meet of the year and the Aggies wear the favorite's shoes.

The Aggies became the favorite on the basis of their convincing 91-1-2 to 44-1-2 point victory over the Longhorns in a dual meet at College Station last week-end, as well as their 77-1-0 triumph at the Border Olympics in Laredo.

Many top individual performances are expected. The outstanding star will be young Darrow Hooper, who broke the 17-year-old Southwest Conference shot put record unofficially as a Freshman last year, and then beat the mark over a foot with a 51-foot-three inch heave at College Station last Saturday.

Another feature will be the 120-yard high hurdles duel between Rice's Bill Howton and the

Aggies' Bill Howton and the diligent contributors, eleven-year-old Muriel Shields.

For four years, she has refused gifts on her birthday. Instead, she invites friends to her house for a party and asks each to bring polo donations rather than gifts.

To date, she has turned over more than $130 to the March of Dimes fund.

68 Years Old, Yet Now Climbs 155 Feet to Work on Scaffold

HADACOL Relieves the Cause of Nervousness and Weakness When Due to a Lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron.

Seems like more and more folks are finding out every day that they have to keep themselves in tip-top condition to really stay on the ball as far as doing a good job is concerned. Mr. John L. Napier, Route 1, Moselle, Mississippi, certainly found out that aches and pains, weakness and nervousness were interfering with his work as a bricklayer and carpenter.

But Mr. Napier heard how HADACOL was helping folks with such conditions that may have been due to deficiencies of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.
Here are his own words: "Before taking HADACOL, I was suffering with aches and pains for awhile. Then, came the time when I was weak and nervous. I am a carpenter and bricklayer. I also run a farm. I kept feeling bad and getting worse. Then I heard about HADACOL and immediately began taking it. After taking only one bottle, when I retired at 9 P.M. I would fall asleep immediately.

After the third bottle I went back to work, carpentering and laying bricks. Now, I climb as high as 155 feet and work all day on a scaffold. I have never felt so well in many years. I am 68 years of age. And when there is no carpenter or brick work to do, I work on my farm, planting and harvesting my crops. Thanks to HADACOL."
There's a clue that may help you, if you are suffering from a lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. Why continue to suffer... why experiment... why let your distress drag you farther and farther down? For it is these very Vitamins and Minerals you may need that HADACOL supplies in a quantity greater than the minimum daily requirements. And this marvelous formula contains helpful quantities of Phosphorus and Calcium, too.
HADACOL builds up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when Iron is needed) to send these elements coursing, surging, throughout your body, to every body organ. Already dissolved, in a special liquid form, the elements are absorbed quickly and easily in your system. Carries a strict money-back guarantee.

Brownie Troops 6 and 7 held a joint investiture service Tuesday afternoon at their regular meeting. The girls who had been Brownies for a year received a tiny five petaled gold flower pendant to be worn on the official pin. At the close of the investiture service, the girls went to an Easter Egg hunt on the lawn of the First Methodist Church.

Leaders Mrs. J. B. Rayfield, Mrs. Lloyd Estes, Mrs. Lee Hickerson and Mrs. H. A. Cogburn were also present.

"ROOM" WITH A VIEW—"Close that window," says John Muldowney, Tufts College student, as he arises in his cross-ventilated "bedroom" on the front lawn of a fraternity house on Professor Row, Medford, Mass. Muldowney, president of the college's inter-fraternity council, returned home late at night to find that pranksters had moved the entire contents of his room out onto the lawn. So he zipped himself into a sleeping bag and turned in.

POLICE PLAY GAME OF TAG

AUSTIN, March 21 (UP)—Rookie Highway Patrolman and City Cops played tag last night in the darkness of a residential section, and police switchboards got plenty of calls from citizens alarmed by screaming tires.

The 49 Rookie Highway Officers were staging a night-driving test in completing a two-month training course. The plan called for open sirens, but somehow city prowlers in the area hadn't been notified. They rushed to the scene in answer to phone calls and nabbed several highway "hot rods" before everything was cleared up.

None of the cars hit more than 40 miles an hour, Highway Patrol Safety Captain J. B. Carlisle said.

Five of Rice's six runs came in the first inning, when Ohio State committed three errors.
