Herbert Williams Looks Classy In Afternoon Football Practice

By Darrell F. Holmes, Jr.

We weren't exactly running out of angles with all the good material that the Ranger High School Football Coaching Staff has on hand but this writer never liked arm-chair quarterbacks who knew all about a ball game without getting out of the grandstand. That's the same principle as the war correspondent who picked up all of his material at the officer's clubs.

Acting under those conditions, this writer donned a football uniform and joined the RHHS Bulldogs in a scrimmage session Friday afternoon. The boys were ever bit as good as they looked from the sidelines. They hit hard but they hit clean.

Tackle Herbert Williams led the line attack with outstanding blocking while on offense and with hard charging while playing defense. He wasn't by himself in playing heads-up ball. There was a center named Jerry Rushing that had a bang-up of an afternoon. Rushing didn't appear to be particularly fast on his feet but somehow that boy was always in the right place at the right time after centering the ball straight to its mark.

Line Coach Sam Aills said that he believed the line was shaping up as well as he expected. He said that his boys were going all-out to learn fundamental blocking and tackling assignments as they are under actual game conditions.

The players acted in a way which was very pleasing to this writer, in that there were people all around watching including a sports (?) writer in their mist, and they didn't grandstand in any way.

Sure, when they hit they hit like a speeding freight—but—that's part of the game. Too often a team will try to operate as eleven individual stars when they are being watched. But not Ranger. There weren't eleven players out there as far as they were concerned—there was one smooth operating machine.

There wasn't a play in which Jimmy "Rip-Roar" Comacho didn't figure in some fashion. Friday as always the flying powerhouse was right in there giving the game that extra something which makes football what it is in Ranger.

Jimmy has one more year of high school and then—watch out for some real college football as Comacho roars down the field.

Plays are working more smoothly and the blocking seems improved. The tackling is getting more savage and the spirit is still as high as it has been throughout the spring training. Wayne Hargraves had his best day of the year, as his playing became more professional and he showed more hustle.

Billy Don Browning has improved greatly since the beginning of the practice season. He is fast on his feet and is a good running back. He helps make the backfield what it is.

But ahead of the backfield is that forward fall that is the backbone of every football team. They are good guys to have in front of you when you are trying to gain those well needed inches on some rugged game night. All in an afternoon work those guys block, tackle, rush, fall back, fight and get kicked in the face. Give 'em a hand folks—they deserve it.

Hotel Burns In Jacksboro

JACKSBORO, March 26 (UP)—The Jacksboro Hotel, a 56-year-old landmark here, was destroyed by fire yesterday.

Seven guests and the owners, Mr. and Mrs. James Brandenburg, escaped without injury.

Firemen said the blaze apparently originated in a corner of the lobby, then quickly enveloped the 36 room, two-story frame building.

Brandenburg said he had no estimate of the loss on the hotel, built in 1895 just west of the town square.

Action-Packed Week Is Ahead Of Legislature

AUSTIN, March 26 (UP)—An action-packed week lay ahead of the 52nd Legislature today, with work expected on taxes, spending, crime and prohibition.

The House will not return from its long Easter week until 11 a.m. tomorrow, but the Senate scheduled a "solo session" for this morning.

The House Crime Investigating Committee will open hearings tomorrow at 9 a.m., when west coast gambler Mickey Cohen and six other persons were summoned to appear.

Cohen was subpoenaed last week while he was attending the funeral of a friend in El Paso. At the time, he said he would return to appear before the House committee investigating organized crime in Texas, but later he said in Los Angeles that he was "broke" and the lawmakers would have to pay his expenses from California.

There was still a question today whether Cohen would show. Failure to answer a legislative summons can result in a fine of up to $1,000, a one-year jail term, or both. However, the charge is a misdemeanor—and though not impossible—it would be doubtful that Cohen could be extradited from California.

Hearings will be held on nine tax bills Tuesday and Wednesday at the House Revenue and Taxation Committee, headed by Rep. Jim Lindsey of Texas, steps up the pace on considering revenue-raising measures.

Included will be a proposal to increase taxes on natural gas, authored by Reps. R. E. (Peppy) Blount of Big Spring and Dene Tufares of Wichita Falls. There are other measures call for gross receipts taxes on hotels and on storing or parking of automobiles, sponsored by Rep. Jack Bryan of Buffalo.

A prohibition measure—expected to bring dry forces marching on the capitol—was docketed for a 2:30 p.m. hearing Wednesday by the House Constitutional Amendments Committee.

The state-wide prohibition plan, sponsored by Rep. Milton Wilkinson of Patton, calls for a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the people.

A state spending program for the next biennium was expected to move into its final stages this week with submission of the bill to a joint conference committee to iron out differences between the two lawmaking bodies.

The House-approved measure totals $163,000,000 while the Senate-passed program amounts to $169,000,000.

Both House and Senate scheduled committee hearings on controversial legislation affecting the state's trucking interests.

The Senate Highways and Motor Traffic Committee posted a Monday hearing on a bill increasing the legal limit for trucks from 48,000 to 72,000 pounds. Meanwhile, the House Motor Traffic Committee docketed a Tuesday hearing on a measure to boost legal truck lengths from 45 to 55 feet.

In a heated exchange of debate on the floor of the House this week when the Senate bill was brought up, Burleson said, "Every-one recognized that Texas and Alabama were due acreage increases to correct inequities of the past law. That's why the House passed a bill early this year giving the States 79,000 more acres. But the Senate returns the bill today cutting this to 35,000 acres for the two States, and refusing to discuss it further."

Can't Do All Of The Work Kefauver Says

Ranger Junior College To Present Little Theatre Players Of TCU In Plays And Programs Here April 3rd

Urge Public To Turn Out Strong

The Ranger Junior College announces the presentation of the last number in the initial series of Plays and Programs. A play, with all the trimmings, to be given by the Little Theatre Players of TCU on Tuesday afternoon and evening, April 3rd in the High School Auditorium.

Originally the drama group from TCU intended to give "As You Like It" but according to the following quotes from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, the existing-scare during Christmas holidays necessitated changes in that plan:

"TCU's Little Theatre is feeling a shortage of 'man power.' Because of it, a scheduled Shakespearean play has been cancelled, and 'The Rivals,' a play which requires a much smaller cast, will be staged Tuesday through Saturday, and again on April 10-14.

"The Rivals" is a comedy of bad manners." The plot centers around three couples of lovers and the events and complex circumstances surrounding them."

Ranger audiences will have the dual advantage of lower prices, plus the week's run which the play have prior to playing in Ranger. The play will resume run in Fort Worth the week after being produced here at the High School.

A section of reserved seats has been established for sale of those patrons who desire to have the advantages of sitting in a reserved section. It is announced that those patrons of the Plays and Programs series who hold season tickets can exchange the season pass for a reserved seat ticket to this last number in the series. The exchange can be made, with no increase in cost over the season ticket, by either bringing or mailing your season pass to the secretary at the college office. This includes the student as well as the adult priced ticket.

MacArthur Again Has Hands Tied By Administration

WASHINGTON, March 24 (UP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, it was learned today, not clear with military and diplomatic leaders here either his offer to negotiate a peace in Korea or his threat of a possible UN attack on Red China.

It was said flatly on high authority that the Supreme Allied Commander did not consult with Washington on either matter before announcing them in Tokyo.

The State Department, however, seemed to underwrite MacArthur's under military directives to the 8th Army had been ordered to cross the 38th Parallel, if necessary, in their drive against the Chinese and North Korean Reds.

The Department's brief statement said:

"Gen. MacArthur is conducting UN military operations in Korea under military directives issued through the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff which, as the president stated in a recent press conference, are fully adequate to cover the present military situation in Korea.

"The political issues which Gen. MacArthur has stated are beyond his responsibilities as a field Commander are being dealt with in the United Nations and by inter-governmental consultations.

MacArthur has been pressing for instructions that would free his air power to attack Communist bases inside Manchuria, but there is little interest here or on behalf of other UN Allies to grant this authority unless Reg. Air Power attacks UN ground forces on a major scale.

Dodgers Report Making A Deal

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 26 (UP)—A deal which would send holdout Pitcher Howie Pollet to the Brooklyn Dodgers and infielder Eddie Miksis to the St. Louis Cardinals was reported in the preliminary stage today.

Cardinal owner Fred Saigh and Dodgers boss Walter O'Malley conferred twice within the last 24 hours and it is understood Saigh is considering an offer of Miksis and either Outfielder Gene Hermanski or $50,000 in cash for the veteran southpaw.

The Cardinals need a shortstop to replace Manager Marty Marion while the Dodgers are seeking a pitcher to fill the vacancy left by Ery Palica's induction into the Army. Saigh has made no secret of his willingness to trade or sell Pollet. Howie won 14 games and lost 13 in 1950 and is said to be demanding a 1951 contract of $26,500—the same as he made last year.

TWO AMERICAN COLUMNS LINK UP NORTH OF SEOUL

By Ernest Hoberecht

TOKYO, March 26 (UP)—Two U. S. tank and infantry columns linked up north of Seoul today and smashed a sizable Communist pocket south of Korea's 38th Parallel. The Chinese 26th Army and remnants of the North Korean 1st Corps—totaling 30,000 or more men—fled toward the Parcell rather than be trapped by the East-West junction of Allied troops above Uijongbu.

The advance put the 8th Army within 10 miles of the old North Korean frontier all along the western half of the 140-mile front. In the eastern half, the Allies were on the frontier at a number of points and South Korean patrols apparently were stabbing across it at will.

There still was no crossing in force, however. Gen. Douglas MacArthur said Saturday that the 8th Army would cross the Parallel "if and when its security makes it tactically advisable."

The South Korean Army reported that one of its patrols dashed two miles across the Parallel Saturday in the first announced crossing since the Allies' retreat last January. The patrol engaged an enemy company and then withdrew.

A South Korean Naval raiding party on the same day boldly landed on North Korea's west coast 40 miles above the 38th Parallel in a hit-run attack.

The sailors killed 100 Communist soldiers and took 69 prisoners before withdrawing with captured enemy machineguns and other equipment. Two South Korean mine-layers supported the landing, just south of the Taedong River Estuary leading to the big enemy port of Chinnampo.

The two American tank and infantry columns above Seoul linked up about eight miles north of Uijongbu and 10 miles south of the 38th Parallel.

Moran Indicted By Grand Jury

NEW YORK, March 26 (UP)—James J. Moran, intimate political friend of former Mayor William O'Dwyer, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on a charge of lying to the Senate Crime Investigating Committee about his relations with a Brooklyn policy racketeer.

A perjury indictment was returned against Luis Weber, burly, Puerto-born numbers king. The jury charged that he lied when he denied that he knew Moran, whose political fortunes rose and fell with O'Dwyer's. He was forced to resign a $15,000 a year lifetime post as water commissioner, an O'Dwyer plum, by disclosure before the senate committee.

Moran was indicted on three counts—all involving his testimony regarding Weber. The first count charged that he lied when he said the underworld character visited him "possibly three times" while he was a deputy fire commissioner between 1946 and 1950. Weber was a frequent visitor during that period, the jury charged.

In commenting on the indictments, U. S. Attorney Irving H. Saypol indicated that he would inquire into testimony of O'Dwyer and Moran regarding gifts totaling $65,000 which John Crane, President of the Uniformed Firemen's Association, swore he contributed. Both O'Dwyer and Moran denied receiving the money.

grating enemy rear-guard resistance and the other had driven east from Munsan, 16 miles to the northeast and also 10 miles south of the Parallel.

The junction virtually completed the rout of some 15,000 Chinese and 15,000 to 18,000 North Koreans.

A front dispatch tonight said the only enemy troops spotted south of the 38th Parallel were a company of Reds—fewer than 200 men—equipped with tanks farther up the road running from Uijongbu to Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

South Korean patrols pushing out from Munsan, captured in the mass American parachute jump last Friday, found no Communist troops south of the curving Imjin River.

Division staff officers said the speedy link-up "saved us four or five days of tough fighting" above Uijongbu.

B-29 Superfortresses dropped 180 tons of bombs today and enemy marshalling yards and supply areas at Pyongyang, the Red capital, and Anju on the west coast and Hamhung on the east coast.

The Far East Air Forces reported Communist air activity increasing with more than 140 enemy planes sighted between March 8 and 23 compared with 90 during all of February.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Criticism of G.I. Conduct in Europe Pops Up Again

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—First of what is probably a new crop of reports on the questionable behavior of American troops in Europe are beginning to appear. This is an old story—as old as war itself. Yet it's always treated as something new.

Latest manifestation of this phenomenon comes in the form of a letter to Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas. Senator Johnson is chairman of the Senate Preparedness Subcommittee. This group has thus far been so busy investigating the material evils of the defense program—waste and inefficiency—that it hasn't got around to investigating the human relationships and moral values of the cold war.

Currently the Rev. Mr. Lewis has a Westminster fellowship for advanced study at St. Andrew's University, Scotland. Recently he boarded a train for London and entered a compartment in which were three American airmen—nicely dressed, good-looking young men. They had a case of beer on the seat. They mistook the Rev. Mr. Lewis for a Britisher.

THIS is a highly condensed and expurgated version of his letter: "I know the difference between 'salty talk' and filth. I have served with officers and men . . . of whom it was said that every time they spit the grass withered. But these men weren't on some coral isle cursing mosquitoes and coconut rats. . . . They were on a public conveyance in a foreign country . . . utterly irresponsible . . . These fellows looked up in astonishment when I refused both beer and cigars. One of them began to say that I oughta come to the States to see how things were run. So, with as much calm as I could muster, I told him . . . it suddenly seemed useless to build armies, fight battles, to kill and be killed to preserve freedom in the world when freedom was used as they were using it . . .

"When I left the airmen I kept trying to convince myself that I had simply stumbled into an unfortunate set of circumstances which showed our servicemen up in an extremely bad light. . . . But next morning I was having a conversation with a man I had met a few months earlier. His name is the Rev. Dudley Jones, an Anglican priest and chaplain at Cambridge. I had made no mention of my previous experience. He said: 'Jack, I believe I know you well enough to tell you an experience I had recently. It preys on my mind. . . . I had to make a trip to London and when I got on the train in Cambridge I saw four American servicemen.

"I HAD brought my newspaper (as all Britishers do) but before I could unfold it, one of the Americans took the paper off my lap. . . . Remarks were made about the British which indicated they thought all British people were jealous of America. . . . They were insulting to the conductor and later to me. . . . When I got off the train I had the peculiar sensation of having been in the presence of troops of an occupying power. . . . troops which regard Britain as a satellite of the U. S. A."

Now, these are only a couple of isolated incidents from prejudiced witnesses and a whole Army should not be condemned on the basis of such complaints. Senator Johnson, in all fairness to him, didn't make the letter public—and he doesn't intend to do anything about it because the evidence isn't conclusive. Chaplain Jones made it public by sending 250 copies to friends in Texas.

Olney was described by Daniel as "one of the best informed men in the nation concerning the national crime syndicate and alliance with operations in the various states."

Investigations and reports of the California organization said, "Were most helpful in our recent injunction against the race horse wire service, and no one has done more toward driving slot machines from a state than Warren Olney and California Crime Commission."

ONLY FOUR MORE TO GO—Thirty-two states out of the necessary 36 have now ratified the proposed 22nd amendment to the Constitution which would limit any future president to two terms. The proposal, passed by Congress in March, 1947, has until March, 1954, to secure ratification and become a part of the Constitution. However, eight states have already approved proposal this year, and at least four more are considered likely to ratify at an early date. Although President Truman is specifically exempted from the proposal, some politicians believe it is building up an ethical obstacle to his nomination in 1952.

PORTABLE TYPEWRITERS ARE VERY HANDY GADGETS

By H. D. QUIGG
United Press Staff correspondent
TOKYO, March 26 (UP)—To all makers of portable typewriters, greetings:

Your valuable machines are the handiest gadgets a war correspondent can have around. They drive a person crazy trying to type on them, but when you've got them with you in the field you need not worry for anything—if you've even been foresighted. They can be made to take on the quality of one of those self-sufficient units that fast-talking salesmen peddle at fairs—those handy, all-in-one potato-peeler-copener-olive-stuffer-onion-squasher things.

They're a boon to persons traveling light and a menace to the overnight bag business. Here's why. Right now I'm carrying in my portable case the following: Four notebooks filled with de-caying facts, one extra type-writer ribbon for emergencies, one roll of cellophane tape for mending things, 16 unanswered letters, one small brush, a large bath towel, six lead pencils, one nail clipper, a file of carbon copies of stuff I've written, a folder of carbon paper, 15 airmail envelopes, a sizeable stock of paper to write on, four pamphlets from the city-planning department of Hiroshima, clipping from newspapers, a book of Korean songs, (look, I'm not kidding about this) a water-proof rubber bag, a large tube of shaving cream, two tubes of toothpaste, one can of tooth powder, a toothbrush in a case, four rolls of dental floss, one tube of fungicide, one comb, one razor in a case, four packages of razor blades, one bottle of hair dressing, one bar of soap, and—I don't care, you can believe this or not, it's true—

Inquest Ends In Doctor's Death

HOUSTON, March 26 (UP)—Dr. J. E. Langston, 61-year-old Houston doctor who lived in fear of his life following several mysterious assaults and was found dead March 15 on his smoldering bed, died from accidental burns and suffocation.

The inquest verdict by Justice of the Peace Tom Mae apparently concludes an official investigation by Houston police.

Langston's family reported there were indications that the doctor was beaten about the head, but police said it could not be substantiated by an intensive investigation. They concluded that the crippled doctor who lived alone and was known to smoke in bed had ignited the bed clothing with a cigaret.

Couple Jailed For Smoking While In Bed

HOUSTON, March 26 (UP)—Mr. and Mrs. William Ralph Brady of Oakland, Calif., were jailed today under the city's new anti-smoking in bed ordinance.

A frantic helpline beat in their door at the Milby Hotel to find their bed on fire and the Bradys sleeping soundly.

Brady, an interior decorator who has worked here for several weeks, received hand and back burns. He admitted smoking in bed.

Too Cold for Them

DALLAS, Tex. (UP)—County jailers reported being swamped during a severe cold wave by transients and loiterers who preferred abandoning their chilly independence for the snug security of a cell. The men got overnight lodging but no food.

Ticking In Head Doesn't Stop His Getting Drafted

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 26 (UP)—Draft Officials don't care what makes Jack Husband tick. They've marked his physically qualified anyway.

Husband has a "tick-tock" in his head that's been ticking merrily away for at least 11 years. More than 200 doctors have examined him without finding the origin of the staccato ticking. Selective Service Doctors had no better luck but decided he was qualified for service anyway.

The ticking noise, it would seem, is loud enough to hear if he holds close to Husband's head. "I thought everybody ticked until somebody told me different," Husband said.

He found out that he had something exclusive while wrestling with another boy when he was nine years old. He's now 20.

"What's that?" His wrestling partner asked. He had disclosed the metallic ticking in Husband's head.

For a few days he was afraid to tell his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Roy H. Husband of Donna, Tex.

When he finally confided in his mother, he was whisked off to the first long line of examinations by specialists in several cities. None of them could tell him what made him tick.

Husband, now a student at Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Okla., said he's used to the noise.

"Once, when he went for an airplane ride, the noise stopped."

"The silence nearly drove me crazy," he said. The ticking seems louder in Husband's left ear. It can be heard from four inches away is audible over a telephone. A recording has been made of it.

Husband has one problem. He

DEATH TAKES NO HOLIDAY

TEXAS CITY, March 26 (UP)—A verdict of accidental death was returned yesterday for four-year-old Charlie Smith, who suffocated in an abandoned ice box during an Easter egg hunt.

Justice of the Peace G. F. Reddell said the child had been hanging eggs with his two older sisters, Barbara, 6, and Wanda, 13, while their mother, Mrs. Eva Watkins, was at work. He apparently crawled into the ice box and closed the door. Barbara found Charlie dead an hour later.

There is as much difference in the quality of title information as there is in people and personalities. Most attorneys try to protect their clients against the hazards of irresponsible and sub-standard abstracts, and they should. Texas Will Not Send Money To Mickey Cohen penses beyond El Paso—the place where he received his subpoena ordering his appearance before the crime investigating group.

AUSTIN, March 25 (UP)—West Coast Gambler Mickey Cohen will appear to testify tomorrow as ordered or take the consequences, the hard-bitten chairman of the House Crime Investigating Committee said today.

The committee will open hearings tomorrow at 9 a.m. when Cohen and six other persons were summoned to appear.

Meantime, an action-packed week lay ahead of the legislature, with work expected on taxes, spending, crime and prohibition.

The House enjoyed a long Easter week-end while the Senate went to a "solo session" today.

Fireman Braves Rugged Flames

KILGORE, March 26 (UP)—Fire Chief W. J. McBride braved a rain of hot oil last night to choke off a spectacular 12-minute fire at an oil well in the downtown business district.

Protected by torrents of water from fire hoses, McBride extinguished the 100-foot-high flames by turning valves that stopped the flow from the well.

Jimmy Allen, a switcher employed by the M. V. McVey Company, operator of the well, was burned critically. Attendees at the Roy H. Laird Memorial Hospital said he received second and third degree burns over more than 50 per cent of his body.

The roaring fire spread to the K. Wolens Department Store, adjacent to the well but McBride said damage was "slight" to both the store property and to the Masonic Lodge quarters upstairs. McBride said the fire started when a connection blew off a flow line, carrying oil from the well to a heating unit for the purpose of raising its temperature enroute to storage tanks.

Youth Hurt In Freak Gun Accident

FORT WORTH, March 26 (UP)—A young hunter, shot in the abdomen by an "empty rifle," was carried across a part of the Trinity River to a waiting ambulance yesterday with the help of some 35 men who formed a human chain.

Wilbur Peacock, 21, was reported in critical condition today after the freak accident that took place as he and friends were ending a day of river bottom hunting.

The 35 men stripped their undelighting and clasped hands to form a steady line down a 40-foot embankment and across the river as ambulance attendants waded over in the swift current.

The rescue took more than an hour and was watched by hundreds of persons who had been attending stock car races nearby.

Peacock and three young companions went to the river bottoms yesterday morning to hunt. Peacock, Bobby Deaver, 18, Clarence Deaver, 15, and Gene Daniel, 19, had captured a possum and killed a snake and had started home. They thought they had emptied their rifles, they said. They were on a little island in the river and Peacock started to hand the guns to Clarence on a rickety bridge above him.

Clarence couldn't reach the first rifle, and after the boys agreed the guns were empty, Peacock put a forked stick in the trigger guard and started to hand a rifle to Clarence. The gun discharged, hitting Peacock in the stomach.
