UN Forces Spearhead Toward Kumhwa

MEET LITTLE OPPOSITION ALONG ENTIRE PENINSULA

By Frank Tremaine
United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO, April 19 (UP)—United Nations spearheads struck northwest from captured Hwachon and its big dam today toward the enemy's Central Korean Battalion of Kumhwa, rallying point for tens of thousands of retreating Chinese troops.

At the same time, another tank-tipped Allied column headed toward Kumhwa from the Southwest in a pincers drive on that key base 20 miles north of the 38th Parallel.

A third task force drove almost to Chorwon, southwest anchor of the Communist build-up area, 14 miles west of Kumhwa and 17 miles north of the Parallel. It thrust within two miles of Chorwon yesterday before retiring for the night.

Communist rear guards fought to delay the 8th Army's advance on the near approaches to Chorwon and Kumhwa, but elsewhere across the 140-mile-wide Korean Peninsula put up little if any opposition.

The Reds gave up Hwachon, seven miles north of the Parallel, and its hydroelectric dam, four miles to the east, without a fight late yesterday although they had battled the advancing Allies almost to a standstill on the dam's mountainous approaches during the past week.

The Allies found eight of the dam's 18 gates still open. The Chinese lowered them a week ago in a futile attempt to flood the Pukhan River Valley and stop the Allied advance.

An American officer who made a preliminary inspection of the dam machinery said there appeared no workable apparatus for raising or lowering the gates.

He said he did not know how the Chinese had opened them. The dam itself, 880 feet long and 275 feet high, is the third largest in Korea. It pens nearly 20 trillion cubic feet of water in the Hwanchon Reservoir, which stretches 15 miles farther East.

United Nations troops also crossed the Pukhan River and entered abandoned Kwachon, once the eastern anchor of the Communist build-up area. They liberated 11 South Korean prisoners left behind by the retreating Chinese.

B-29 Superfortresses again hit the main enemy Air Base at Pyongyang, capital of North Korea. They dropped 80 tons of bombs on and overcast with the aid of radar.

Quick Thinking Saves Man's Life
Quick thinking, fast work, and the will to never give up, saved the life of Ralph Wogenke, Mustang, around midnight Tuesday night. Wogenke was brought back from death by Jesse Mann also of Mustang.

The pair were fishing in Palo Pinto Creek near Bridge Hole when Wogenke caught a fish. The fish fouled his line up and hung on a rock. Wogenke being a good swimmer went under water to free his line. When sufficient time elapsed and he hadn't come to the surface, Mann dove in the water and found that his friend had been caught under a rock at the bottom of the creek. Apparently the top rock had caught his arm as he attempted to free his line from a rock beneath it.

After a lot of work, Mann finally freed his companion and brought him to shore. He was apparently dead. Mann had the foresight to immediately begin giving his friend artificial respiration which he continued for about an hour. When Wogenke finally showed signs of life, Mann rushed him to the West Texas Clinic in Ranger where Wogenke is reported to be doing nicely today.

FIESTA GETS A QUEEN
SAN ANTONIO, April 19 (UP)—A gala parade at 4:30 p.m. followed by coronation of the queen at 8:15 p.m. highlight today's Fiesta De San Jacinto here.

Also on tap was a band festival at 7:30 p.m., in Alamo Stadium.

Last night thousands of visitors toured La Villita Village for a taste of San Antonio as it was 100 years ago. Strolling troubadours and Mexican street dancers snaked their way through the jammed streets of La Villita, a permanent replica of old San Antonio.

DR. E. M. CAIN WILL GIVE RJC COMMENCEMENT ADDRESS

About 60 graduating seniors of Ranger Junior College and their friends, relatives, families, and others will hear the Commencement address which will be given Sunday, May 27, at 8 p.m. in the First Methodist Church, Ranger, by Dr. E. M. Cain, Head of Vocational Education for the Dallas Branch of the Veterans Administration.

The address is expected to be both timely and inspiring. Ranger is very fortunate in being able to hear a man like Dr. Cain and should be thankful for the efforts of Dr. G. C. Boswell, RJC, in bringing him here.

Further information regarding this address and a picture of Dr. Cain will run in the Times prior to the commencement exercises.

Killer Makes Desperate Try In Dallas Jail Brake Attempt

DALLAS, April 19 (UP)—A desperate jail break attempt by Robert Johnson, hillbilly musician sentenced to die for killing a rookie Dallas policeman, failed last night when a makeshift rope broke as the Californian lowered himself from his seventh-floor cell.

The 33-year-old murderer plunged more than 25 feet to land "like a sack of concrete" on the roof of a service station adjoining the jail.

Attendants at Parkland Hospital reported Johnson suffered a fractured skull, a broken right arm and fractured hip but said his condition was not critical.

Sheriff Billy Decker said Johnson fashioned his rope from ticking off the mattress in his solitary confinement cell, the only piece of equipment he was allowed.

A jailer making his regular rounds at 8:30 p.m. said he "heard a commotion" in Johnson's cell and pushed an emergency button. Deputies immediately surrounded the jail.

At the rear they found Johnson dangling at the end of the rope which extended only about three stories toward the ground. "Come on down Johnson or I'll kill you," Chief Jailer Ed H. Morrow shouted.

Instead, Johnson pushed his feet against the wall and swung into space toward the filling station. As Johnson swung out the rope broke and he crashed face downward on the station roof.

Decker said Johnson staggered a short distance on the roof then collapsed. He was carried down by a fireman as armed officers stood by.

Decker said the Californian had blades to hack through the lightweight metal grating that covered the single window in the cell.

"We didn't find any knife on him but he could have thrown it away," Decker said. "We did find an empty razor blade package in his pocket."

He said Johnson had no visitors yesterday but that he had several callers this week.

Johnson was sentenced to die last month for shooting rookie officer Johnny Sides who had stopped him and three companions for running a red light. The three companions, Maxx B. Pomeroy and brothers J. W. and Marvin Johnson, nephews of Robert, are scheduled to be tried for murder on May 14.

Decker said that Johnson's rope was short "by at least 25 feet" of reaching a level with the filling station roof. Every bit of ticking had been stripped from Johnson's mattress.

"He had to do it all between 5 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.," Decker said. "When the jailer made his 5 o'clock round the mattress was intact. The side lying on the floor may have been stripped but the rest hadn't been touched."

Leaders in both Houses have indicated they want to bring the present session to a rapid close, probably on or before May 9, which is the 120-day mark after which lawmakers' pay drops from $10 to $5 a day.

The sweet crude oil gathered by Service Pipe Line Co. for producers in the area will be transported to Humble Pipe Line Co.'s Ballinger station thence via Humble Pipe Line Co. to the company's pump station at Ranger for delivery to refineries.

Ranger Citizens Urged To Listen

David D. Pickrell, director of The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Ranger, has urged local people to tune in to the speeches of John Ben Sheppard and Robert Stripling. These speeches are an effort to inculcate into the minds of the young citizens of Texas the drastic need for citizenship responsibility and a more fundamental concept concerning our free enterprise economy.

Sheppard will speak tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. over KWKC and Stripling will talk Saturday at 2:30 p.m. over KRBC.

Change Commencement

Still Want General Mac For President

San Antonio, April 19 (UP)—The San Antonio MacArthur for President movement today ignored the General's "no politics" pronouncement today and went ahead with plans to draft him for the White House job in 1952.

"We are still running Doug MacArthur, American, for President," said John Johnston, a San Antonio Oil Broker and President of the movement.

The general said in San Francisco yesterday that he had "no political ambitions whatsoever."

"MacArthur's statement doesn't change our course one iota," Johnston said. "Even if he came into our office and told us, it wouldn't matter. We knew we'd have to draft him from the start."

Johnston said his group realized that MacArthur did not return to the United States to enter politics, but he added: "But if he's elected, he will serve."

Johnston said the movement, which has its headquarters in San Antonio, already had spread to 30 cities from Texas and from Florida to California.

The group will offer MacArthur's name as a candidate at the 1952 Republican convention. Should the Republicans reject the General as their candidate, Johnston said, the organization will "still run him as Doug MacArthur, American."

Houston Law Hold El Paso "Minstrels"

Houston, April 19 (UP)—The wandering "minstrels" from El Paso, ages 9 and 12 years old, were held by the County Probation Department today, awaiting arrival of their parents to return them home.

The two young boys, Dickie and Bobby Asquith, were picked up yesterday by constable W. L. McKaskle when he saw them strolling along a residential section. Dickie, the oldest one, was plunking on his ukulele.

Taken to police headquarters, the boys played a repeat minstrel performance for officers.

Dickie told police that he and Bobby left their home "after supper" Tuesday because they "just wanted to do some traveling."

Before leaving, however, they busted their piggy bank and got $2 to make the trip on. Then they walked to the Dallas highway and started hitchhiking.

"A pretty big, red truck picked us up and brought us all the way to Houston," Dickie said. He could not explain how the truck made such a quick trip to Houston.

Dickie, who said his favorite singer is Tex Ritter, played his ukulele and sang several songs at the request of police officers. He told authorities that they had no city in mind when they left home.

"We just happen to come here because that is where the truck was headed."

PIPE STORED IN RANGER

Vaughn and Taylor Construction Co., Wichita Falls, has started construction of about 17 miles of crude oil gathering pipe lines in the Talpaarea (Orden-Mabeo, Burt, and Saxon fields) of Runnels and Coleman counties, Texas, for Service Pipe Line Co.

Nice Trick... But It Didn't Work On Deen
FORT WORTH, April 19 (UP)—City councilman Edgar Deen, thought he'd been tagged for overtime parking yesterday when he found a ticket on his automobile windshield.

Closer examination by the examiner, however, disclosed that the ticket listed the license and make of another car.

Deen surmised the motorist who has received the ticket had switched it to his windshield.

Eleven Blue Ribbons Awarded At Fourth Annual Dairy Show

A total of 109 ribbons were awarded at the fourth annual Eastland County Dairy Show held in Eastland, Wednesday.

Various types of dairy cattle were shown including one Brown Swiss, a number of Guernsey and Holstein and a large group of Jersey.

The judging was on a classification basis, with each animal pitted against the ideal animal. The animals were not judged as to how they compared with each other, but on how they compared with the ideal dairy animal.

Eleven blue ribbons were awarded, 34 red ribbons and 34 white ribbons were given.

A. M. Meekma, dairy specialist from Texas A & M College, of the extension service, was judge for the show. He explained that the judging is done on a point basis. The animal's head and neck has a possible point total of nine points, the body and legs, 39 points, the udder, 36 points and the size and general appearance 16 points, making a possible point total of 100 points. In the judging, points are taken away for each portion of the animal which does not meet highest ideals.

Blue ribbon animals at the show were shown by V. L. Jones, Ranger; Jerry Tones, Ranger; A. Z. Myrick, Cisco; Byron Gailey, Ranger; Buddy Aaron, Eastland;

HAY WILL SURRENDER
WICHITA FALLS, April 19 (UP)—Eddie Daniel Hay, much-sought ex-convict who jumped appeal bond on a 12-year burglary sentence in Wichita County, will surrender himself to Wichita County authorities at Huntville Friday, sheriff Hammett Vance said last night.

Vance said Hay contacted him and suggested the Huntville meeting place because he was "afraid to return to Wichita County. He had been scheduled to return, on $7,500 bond, Monday to begin serving his prison term when a second motion for new trial was denied.

Hay also was sought by Dallas authorities in connection with the April 4 twin-killing of Gambler Vincent J. Zupanic and Tavern Owner John McDowell in McDowell's Tavern.

Witnesses at the shooting said Hay was Zupanic's companion when a gunman entered the tavern and killed the two men. The ex-convict immediately disappeared.

Bank Will Be Closed Saturday
The Commercial State Bank of Ranger will be closed all day Saturday in observance of "San Jacinto Day." Bank officials have requested that all business be transacted Friday.

Baby Is Dead
HOUSTON, April 19 (UP)—A 14-month-old baby, identified as Johnnie Tolar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Tolar, died last night at North Houston Hospital from injuries suffered in an accident.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, April 19 (UP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur grimly told Congress today that the United States must abandon policies of "defeatism" and strike the Chinese Communists in Manchuria and elsewhere if it wants victory in the Far East.

The homecoming hero declared he understood those proposals had the support of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, although they have been rejected by President Truman.

RJC WINS TRACK MEET

The Ranger Junior College Track Team won a four way track meet yesterday at Graham in defeating Cisco, John Tariton, and Decator teams. High score man for Ranger was Jerry Cook.

Cook helped rack up the 46 points made by the Rangers in winning first place in the pole vaulting, the 100 yard dash, the 220 yard dash, and the 110 high hurdles. Harry Weldon slashed out second place in the 100 yard dash and came in third in the 220.

Jim Smith took fourth place in the 100 yard dash. Jimmy Gerth won fourth in the low hurdles and ran on the sprint relay team. Tommy Wilson won the low hurdles, took second in the high hurdles, and ran on the sprint relay team.

Earl Keller won fourth in the shot put and second in the sprints. Otis Mosely claimed fourth place in the pole vault and third in the high jump. Jim Bridges took second place in the mile relay.

John Tariton took second place in the meet with 45 1-2 points. Decator had 31 points while Cisco was left with 23.

PAIR LIKE LIFE IN AFRICA DODGE ELEPHANTS NOT TAXIS

By Elizabeth Toomey
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 19 (UP)—Elephants never back up, remarkable blondest, charming Michaela Denis to explain why she considered Africa a safer place to live than Manhattan.

But taxicabs, she moaned as her husband nodded agreement, do. Go in reverse, that is.

Mrs. Denis and her husband, Armand, experts on Africa and co-producers of jungle films, said an elephant is easier to dodge, even frontwards, than a taxicab. "We do get charged by elephants more than anything, don't we Armand?" Mrs. Denis said in her precise, English accent. "But we always get away. Elephants are very shortsighted, and often they make one or two false charges before they really go for you."

As soon as British-born Michaela gets her American citizenship papers, and Belgium-born Armand gets necessary equipment for their next safari, the two will leave for Nairobi, in British East Africa, to build their home.

Parts of African living would appeal to any couple, like being able to buy beefsteak for two for 14 cents a pound and hiring a native male for about $14 a month.

"Our house will be about ten miles from Nairobi and we can buy beef from the natives who raise their own cattle," Mrs. Denis explained enthusiastically. "Our cook is a Kikuyu and he has filed teeth."

The disadvantages, like having 27 lions within walking distance, are shrugged off by both. "The house will only be our base of operations," Denis, a former Rhodes Scholar, said. "We both want to spend most of our time in the jungle, photographing native life that is rapidly disappearing."

We're seeing the end of the great epic struggle of primitive man against nature, the jungle expert said.

"Just as an example, in the Masai Country where we live, no young man was qualified to marry until he went out to the jungle and killed a lion with a spear," Denis said. "That was 25 years ago. Today the natives call the game department and report it if a lion is annoying them."

His wife interrupted to say, "We recently crossed the Belgian Congo, and saw one antelope." They both conceded there were sections of Africa still well supplied with wild animals. They probably find them too, since they've already crossed Africa five times since they met and married three years ago in the mountains of Ecuador.

Charges Will Be Filed In Murder Case

DALHART, April 19 (UP)—A charge of murder with malice will be filed against 18-year-old Anna Lou Davenport who officers said had admitted shooting her father, District Attorney Floyd H. Richards said today.

The girl, alleged to have fired a shotgun charge through the door of the family home west of here Monday night, killing 53-year-old William Frank Davenport remained in a hospital for treatment of shock.

Richards said filing of the charge would be delayed until the girl's condition has improved. She was hysterical when officers arrived at the shooting scene.

In announcing the charge would be filed, Richards said he "could not be the judge and jury, and the thing to do is get the matter before a court."

The girl indicated she would waive preliminary hearing and ask to appear before the Dallas County Grand Jury.

Davenport, father of 10 children, was killed while trying to enter the family home, family members said.

Officers said that recently the widow, Mrs. Rebecca Davenport, filed a divorce action against her husband and at the same time the eldest son, Leon, charged his father with assault. The family further asked a court order to restrain Davenport from coming on the premises. All the actions were withdrawn shortly after they were filed, officers said.

Mrs. Perkins Reports On State Convention

Mrs. J. M. Perkins gave a report on the State Convention of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs held last week in San Antonio for members of the Music Study Club at their meeting Wednesday evening at the Woman's Club.

Mrs. W. E. Brashier, president, presided over a short business session and acted as hostess in the absence of Mrs. Marlene Johnson.

She talked on the origin of the American Music Clubs and presented Carolyn Moore, soloist, and Mary Deffebach, pianist, who played "Sweet and Dainty," by Edward J. Evans. Miss Deffebach also played, "Two Part Invention" by Bach.

Present were Meses. W. E.

The Rev. Ralph Perkins reports that a splendid program was given at the Texas Baptist Sunday School convention at Amarillo. Those attending from First Baptist church, Rango, were the Rev. and Mrs. Perkins; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Clegg; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Shockley; Mrs. J. L. Jones; Joy and Cynthia Hull.

General Sunday School officers and departmental Sunday School superintendents and associate superintendents will meet in the intermediate department of the First Baptist Church tonight at 7:30 p.m. according to C. B. Pruet.

Gene Fuller of Midland visited his sister, Mrs. A. W. Warford, Sunday. Mr. Fuller was on his way to Dallas where he will take his 32nd degree in masonry this week.

H. D. QUGG BEAT MACARTHUR IN GETTING TO WASHINGTON

By H. D. Qugg
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON, April 19 (UP)—We raced General MacArthur across the country. And we won.

We started from San Francisco 25 minutes after he took off. We arrived at Washington National Airport 32 minutes before he did. "Operation Catch-Up" was a complete success.

Twenty newspaper men wanted to see the general bid farewell to San Francisco. They also wanted to see him say hello to Washington. So American Airlines arranged for a special flight of one of its new four engine DC-6H's, a plane with 1,200 more horsepower than its DC-6.

Both planes flew from coast-to-coast non-stop. The reporters made it in seven hours and six minutes. We didn't set a commercial plane record, but it was a mighty fast way to get from San Francisco to Washington.

We climbed up to 21,000 feet consuming 420 gallons of gasoline an hour. MacArthur's pilot, Lt. Col. Tony Story, kept the Constellation Bataan at 19,000. We zipped over Lake Tahoe, and at Reno we were only 26 minutes behind.

We picked up a 90-mile tailwind and winged over Rock Springs, Wyo., only 18 minutes behind. We were doing 415 miles an hour over the ground.

It was 30 degrees below zero outside the plane. We were pouring on the coal. At Cheyenne, we were 11 minutes behind.

Over the flatlands of Nebraska at 7:30 p.m. CST, and the moon was higher, brighter, yellower. At North Platte we were eight minutes behind; at Omaha, seven.

We caught the Bataan somewhere over Illinois and passed it just south of Chicago. Then we began barreling downhill to Washington, coming down 500 feet a minute through an overcast. We hit the National airport

Left Wing Plans For Negro Vote

DALLAS April 19 (UP)—Mayor Wallace Savage has said that "a careful investigation" of the police shooting of a Negro prisoner last Saturday will be made and he charged that organized protest of the incident is "a plan to gain control of Negro votes."

Mayor Savage's statement came after a delegation of nine persons, headed by Rev. Stacey Adams, unsuccessful Negro candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Texas on the Progressive ticket last year, and attorney Sam Barbara, called on city manager Charles Ford this morning.

Ford said he told the group grand jury investigation of the shooting of Ray Butler has begun and "I cannot prejudice this incident before the grand jury acts."

Policeman M. L. Morgan and A. L. Edwards said they were bringing Butler to headquarters in a patrol car when the prisoner slipped one hand free of the handcuffs.

The officers said he grabbed the meeting named a 20-man committee to carry their protest to authorities.

Edward's gun and pointed it at the officers head. Morgan said he drew his own pistol and shot Butler through the heart.

A mass meeting of about 300 persons, most of them Negroes, "There will be a careful investigation to see what the facts are in this case," Mayor Savage said. "This is particularly important because left-wingers have a plan."

"This plan," the mayor continued, "is to gain control of Negro votes by such charges as that the police abuse Negroes. This is not true, and the voting record in our Negro precincts shows our colored citizens know it is not true."

MacArthur Will Visit Chicago

CHICAGO, April 19 (UP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur has accepted an invitation to visit Chicago, probably next week, Mayor Martin L. Kennelly's office said yesterday.

Kennelly's office said that acceptance of the mayor's invitation to MacArthur was relayed from Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's secretary, but that the date was not defined in the acceptance.

The general was expected to arrive here Wednesday or Thursday, the mayor's office said, but the exact date and time are not expected to be determined until Saturday, after MacArthur has reached New York.

BASCOM GILES CALLS TIDELANDS STEAL AN OBLIGATION OF THE U. S. CONGRESS

In an address by Bascom Giles, State Land Commissioner of Texas, he called for unity of all Texans and for a tougher fight to reclaim the stolen Tidelands. His address is published below.

I believe this is an obligation of Congress because our covenant of annexation was made with the Congress of the United States. The history of annexation and of Texas as an independent nation certainly belies the attitude of the Supreme Court that Texas entered the Union just as did any other state. The circumstances were utterly different. The gentlemen of the United States Congress need only to refer to their records of their own sessions to know that.

For long years I have been crying out that Texas must act and Texans must stand together to maintain this priceless heritage of our public schools. For a time I was a lone voice crying in the wilderness. Now others are taking it up. I welcome them. There will not be enough of them, however, until ALL Texans are joining in the clamor.

At stake is more than a single parcel of land. At stake is more than the integrity of Texas. At stake is the dignity and the honor of mankind. At stake is every principle on which was founded these United States of America into whose circle Texas came, in the words of Sam Houston, "not as a humble suppliant but as a bride arrayed for the altar."

I was delighted with the response of Ranger citizens to my recent remarks. If every city were as awakened as Ranger seems to be, the fight would be further along. I am grateful to the Ranger Times for the space for these words, and to the readers of this fine newspaper, and to all of Ranger's colorful citizenry. I say in the words of navy men, "Welcome Aboard."

I have said again and again that Texas owns her tidelands by civil statute, by international treaty, by accepted practice and by the Grace of Almighty God.

In my lifetime I have not been a man of radical belief. In all other issues I have been able to see the justice of sharply conflicting issues. I have always been willing to concede that there are two sides to every question. It has been my obligation as Commissioner of the General Land Office to study conflicts of title and extension of land and to give solemn consideration to both sides.

But in the manner of the submerged lands along the Texas Gulf Coast I can honestly see only one side. I can only say that as Land Commissioner I have signed leases awarding Gulf areas to oil companies for the purpose of mineral exploration. I have signed grants awarding land to homesteaders and grazing leases to cattlemen. One act was as legal and should be as binding as the other.

The title of the public schools of Texas to the tidelands is as valid as that awarded to any individual to any parcel of Texas soil.

I feel that it is the solemn obligation of the United States Congress to perpetuate us in the possession of our public domain, as it was described in the covenant of annexation. That covenant specifically described this domain as extending ten leagues into the Gulf of Mexico.

Russian Press Sounds Off

The official newspaper Pravda said yesterday Gen. Douglas MacArthur was dismissed for failing to invade Communist China.

The Communist Party Organ devoted three columns of its front page to the first authoritative, Soviet Analysts of President Truman's action a week ago. The only previous comment in the Soviet Press was one paragraph in the Literary Gazette, last week, said, "That American interventionists troops aimed not only at seizing Korea but at invading Manchuria and attacking the Chinese Peoples Republic."

North Koreans, aided by Chinese volunteers, "disrupted these criminal plans," Pravda said.

"Precisely for this inability to materialize such plans of conquest was luckless MacArthur removed.

"His inability to cope with the Korean situation was the cause of the inglorious crash of MacArthur's career."

SUGAR WITH A SALTY TASTE

By Darrell F. Holmes, Jr.
A Continued Feature of The Ranger Times
CHAPTER I

It was like a cyclone that Lance Runyon blew into the Rio Grande Valley. He was typically Texas of 1868 from his run-down-at-the-heel cowboy boots to the wide sombrero that topped his head. He was tall—well over six feet, and as raw and lean as a starving Comanche.

His spirited horse held her head high as a steady tanned hand held the reins loosely to the left of the saddle horn. The eyes on his strong, tanned face set apart by a wide, but solid foreline and his lips were tight and did not move. "Brownsville has changed with the war", Lance thought to himself as he caught a quick glance of a number of strange and hostile faces on both sides of him. He didn't see a soul he knew. It had been seven years since Lance had ridden out of Brownsville with his father and brother to join the Confederate forces in the War for Southern Independence. His father was killed at Vicksburg and Ned had fallen at a place in Virginia called Appomattox. Lance had started home from the war but had heard that the Yanks had taken over everything in Texas and that his mother had been killed by stray shots in a gun battle when carpetbaggers had raided the ranch. He learned also that the man who killed his mother had been killed by one of the Bar X riders so there had been nothing to bring him back to Brownsville.

Lance, had wondered all through the South and was bitter from what he had seen. Now he was going home to try to pull together what he had left of a ranch and make a home. He was still bitter but was trying to forget and to forgive the wrong that had been done his beloved Confederacy and the people there in.

Lance had ridden into town at a gallop and with his right hand sagging close at his side, ready to let the Colt '44 spring into his hand should anyone attempt to keep him from being peaceful. He pulled Pecos to a halt at the Pilot Bar and sprang from the saddle. The presence of Yankee uniforms annoyed him but he tried not to show it. He tied Pecos to the rail and went inside. He ordered a glass of tequila and drank it in a gulp. Then he backed against the wall to look over the room.

Blue uniforms were all over the place. Lance still wore a pair of faded gray cavalry breeches tucked in his high-heeled boots. His light green flannel shirt fitted tightly about his frame. His pistol hung low and was tied down to his leg with rawhide which extended from the bottom of his holster and was looped around his leg just above the knee. He pushed the white sombrero back on his head and his curly black hair hung down in his face. He tossed his head back and flung it out of his face. His lips still were held firm and he showed no emotion.

Suddenly a drunken soldier stroled up to him and looked him over. Lance's eyes went close together and looked at the man with a stare. The trooper didn't speak at first, just staggered toward Lance and stopped several inches from him.

"You want something fella?" Lance demanded suddenly.

"Who are you", the trooper blasted out. "I never saw you before."

"That's a small part of your business Yank. Shove off."

"You don't like me hur", the burly trooper shot out.

"Frankly no, now you had better leave while you are able", Lance replied coolly.

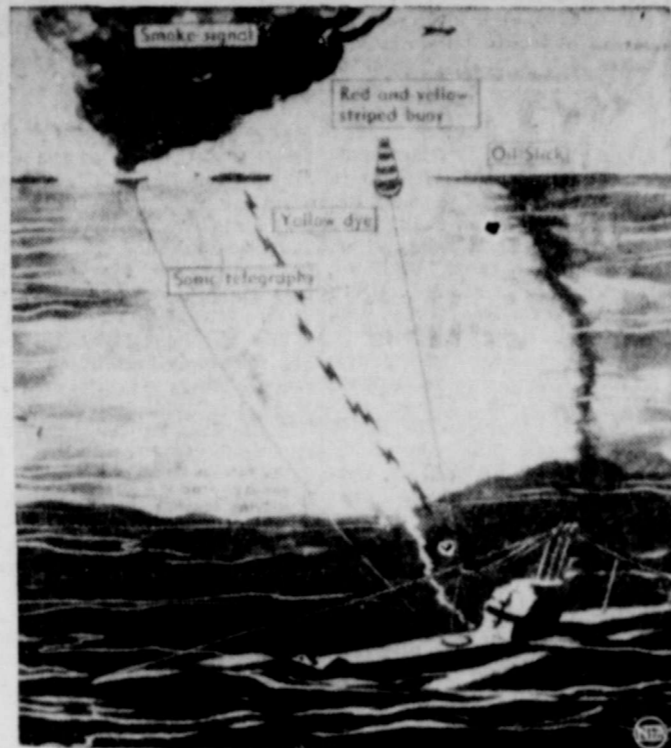

"I think I'll beat the tar out of you."

"I wouldn't try that fella."

"A tough guy hur", the trooper wanted to know.

"I wouldn't advise you to try and find out", Lance returned.

"I'm going to hit you Johnny Reb", the trooper drew back.

BRITISH SUBMARINE AFFRAY SUNK—This is an artist's conception of submarine distress signals that is hoped may locate the British sub HMS Affray, believed on the bottom of the English Channel under 240-feet of water. The Affray, a crack ship, carried up-to-the-minute rescue devices. In addition to the signals shown, she had ejection hatches through which crew members might escape, but it is feared depth of water precludes their use. (NEA Telephoto).

"Go tell the Army it wants you", Lance said as he shoved the trooper out of the way and walked off.

All at once the trooper drew his pistol and fired at Lance's back. He missed by inches. Lance drew as he turned and sent a bullet tearing into the soldier's heart.

Everything came to a standstill as Lance backed back to the wall with his gun drawn. No one moved, but every eye in the place turned on the rugged looking Texan who had drawn with the speed of a striking rattler.

Lance stood there with the gun held in his right hand and the barrel beating in his left palm. He didn't speak. It wasn't long before a squad of troopers with drawn pistols rushed into the bar. Lance looked at them without concern as they rushed to ward the body of their slain comrade.

Suddenly the sergeant looked up and demanded to know who did it. A soldier nodded at Lance. The sergeant began to speak in his New York brogue.

"Wal feller, yer had just as well hand over that pistol. We have you out manned."

"He shot first", Lance said without moving. "Ask anyone."

"In any case you are under arrest. Gimme that weapon or I'll have to take it by force."

"That could be very dangerous for you sonny", Lance let him know.

"Are yer going ter gimme that gun or ain't yer?"

"I might", Lance said, "I might if you act real nice."

"Look feller, I have 16 men in here and you only have yourself. We can cut you down in no time."

"Go ahead. Some of you will go with me. You will be first when you give the order to fire."

"But you are under arrest."

"How you got to be a sergeant, I'll never know", Lance told him as he handed him the pistol and said, "Here lets get this silly questioning over with."

Lance was taken before a short stocky major who wore horn rimmed glasses. The major asked his name and reached in a desk drawer. He took out a file of papers.

"Ah yes, Runyon, been expecting you for most a year. Heard you would come this way and try to make trouble. Lets see, you served with a Texas outfit in Virginia during the rebellion and—"

"I served in Virginia, Mississippi, Georgia, Texas, and Alabama during the War for Southern Independence", Lance told him, "I am here to settle this shooting not to review my war record."

"Let me see", the officer went on, "You were an officer in the Rebel Army when you were 18. You served under Lee in the Virginia campaign and then under Hood down here. You were apparently a good soldier but on the wrong side. We have orders to arrest you anyway in question of the murder of a Union officer in Missouri and now this thing. Lock him up sergeant until I can arrange a trial."

"If you Yankees will please raise your hands I'll be happy", came a voice from the doorway. Everyone turned to see a tall Mexican standing in the doorway with a shotgun in his hands.

"Paunch", shouted Lance as he shoved the Yank sergeant aside to seize the arm of his friend. The two exchanged greetings in peñalo Spanish and Lance retrieved his pistol from the officers. Then he raised a hand and waved, "See

Court Changes Previous Ruling

AUSTIN, April 19 (UP)—The court of criminal appeals has reversed its previous decision and ruled Albert Edwards of Houston should be executed for the gunshot slaying of Paul Walker.

Walker was slain May 26, 1949, as he sat in a parked car with Mrs. Betty Lou Edwards, estranged wife of Edwards. Mrs. Edwards was also killed.

The court originally ruled of Feb. 28 that Edwards should have a new trial because testimony damaging to his character and not pertinent to the accusations was admitted as evidence.

A prostitute had testified as a states' witness.

The court noted today that the original opinion reversed the lower court judgment "because of the admission of evidence concerning acts of sexual intercourse had by appellant with a prostitute shortly after the homicide."

"We adhere," the court said, "to our ruling that such evidence was improper, but reverse our decision as to the effect of its admission in this particular case because of the circumstances under which it was admitted."

The court ruled that part of the evidence was admissible. The defense had objected to all of it.

"Since part of the evidence was admissible," the court ruled, "an objection to the whole will not be sustained."

Mother's Day Cake Recipe

Mother has made the cakes all these years, but for this Mother's Day the tables are turning and daughters-in-law are making the cakes for Mother's Day. May 13, according to Mrs. Tucker, the dear old lady of shortening and margarine fame who is often referred to as "The Mother of the Southwest."

And to make it easier for these daughters, Mrs. Tucker's Homemakers' Department has created a brand new cake recipe, which is not only new and different but is easy for any cook to use. It is a Fresh Orange Layer Cake, which, with its coconut top decorated with fresh orange segments, looks like a million dollars and tastes better.

This is one of the Speed-Mix recipes developed by Mrs. Tucker's home economists and it can be prepared in a jiffy.

Those who would like to make their mother a special Mother's Day Cake, this year are invited to write Mrs. Tucker, Sherman, Texas, and she will send them a Fresh Orange Layer Cake recipe and a special Mother's Day card without charge by return mail. The Mother's Day card is a little poem which will be most appropriate for my daughter to present to Mother along with the cake.

you sometime Yanks, sorry I can't accept your quarters but must decline this time. Adios. He was out of the building and on a waiting horse before a guard could be called out. (Continued next Thursday)

Non-Profit Organization Offer Extended To May 31

Sherman, Texas—To give church, club, service and other non-profit organizations an opportunity to make more money, the Mrs. Tucker's folks of this city, who are currently offering these non-profit groups 5¢ for every Meadolake Margarine carton End Flap with Mrs. Tucker's picture on it, have decided to extend from April 10, the original expiration date, to May 31, 1951 the date for shipping all such End Flaps to Mrs. Tucker, Sherman, Texas.

The church classes and circles, Boy Scout troops, Campfire groups, garden clubs and service organizations working in this Meadolake Margarine campaign are enthusiastically creating more demand for this "better spread for our daily bread." Members are asking their friends to use Meadolake and give them the valuable end flaps, and these friends are reported in increasing numbers as thanking their "benefactors" who recommended this well known margarine to them. The fresh-from-the-farm flavor of Meadolake makes a hit at every table, and repeat orders are making steady users as the carton end flaps earn more and more money for the organizations.

This generous offer, according to Mrs. Tucker, of shortening as well as margarine fame, is not to individuals; it is to non-profit organizations only. All such eligible groups are urged to intensify their efforts to get members and friends using Meadolake, to collect the carton End Flaps every week and to be sure that the last End Flaps are mailed to Mrs. Tucker, Sherman, Texas, before midnight May 31, 1951. Just as soon as Mrs. Tucker receives these End Flaps with her picture on them, she will send a check to the non-profit organization—5¢ for each correct End Flap shipped by midnight May 31.

Make This Special Mothers Day Cake

Quickly... Easily... Surely
WITH
Mrs. Tucker's SPEED-MIX SHORTENING

Mother Has Long Made the Cakes... Now Make a Cake For Her Day!

Daughters, granddaughters, daughters-in-law... Turn the tables Mother's Day, May 13, and make your Mother this big, luscious Fresh-Orange Layer Cake.

It's easy with this recipe created by Mrs. Tucker's Homemakers' Department using Mrs. Tucker's SPEED-MIX Shortening that mixes so quickly to make extra-special cakes.

TESTED GUARANTEED

RECIPE

Sift together...
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon salt

Add...
1/2 cup MRS. TUCKER'S SHORTENING
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup unstrained orange juice
1/2 cup milk or water

Mix two minutes on medium speed of mixer or by hand, covering 150 beating strokes a minute. Scrape bowl and beaters frequently.

Then add...
1/2 cup unbroken eggs (2 medium)
1/2 cup unbroken eggs (2 medium)

Mix 2 minutes on medium speed of mixer or by hand, covering 150 beating strokes a minute. Bake in 2 round 8 inch layer cake pans rubbed with MRS. TUCKER'S SHORTENING and lined with wax paper or in 12. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes or until cake springs back to the touch. Cool.

Frost with ORANGE CREAM FROSTING. Cream together 1/2 cup MEADOLAKE MARGARINE, 3 cups confection sugar, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind and 1 tablespoon orange juice. Spread on cake, sprinkle top with coconut and garnish with fresh orange segments.

Your Baking Success GUARANTEED

If you don't bake a better cake with Mrs. Tucker's all-vegetable Shortening than with ANY other shortening using the same recipe—if your cake isn't bigger, lighter, richer, more moist and tender—send Mrs. Tucker the recipe and tell what you don't like about the cake, and she will pay you for all ingredients used PLUS a dollar for your baking time!

They Are A-Fueled In And A-Fighting Up In Yankee Land

EAST LANSING, MICH., April 19 (UP)—A battle of the sexes at Michigan State College ended yesterday with seven male warriors on the wrong side of the law, as they attempted to invade a girl's dormitory for the third time since the feud started last week.

The first dormitory invasion last week was part of an initiation for pledges to scabbard and blade, an ROTC fraternity. Early Saturday the cadets further antagonized coeds at the dormitory by parading near the building to the bare of bugles and counting of cadence. The girls counterattacked by singing "Good Morning to You" in front of the men's dormitory at an early hour.

The men entered the dormitory Monday night and were splashed with water by the coeds for two hours.

Bandit Uses Curb Service

A lone bandit robbed the Stevens Service Station here early yesterday in a "curb service" stickup in which the night manager was forced to deliver $104 to the robber while he sat in his car.

Manager Henry Springs of the gas station said he was alone when the thug drove up and pointed a shotgun at him. The manager was ordered to "get the cash."

Springs said the bandit watched him through the plate glass front of the station while he brought the money from the cash register and handed it through the automobile window.

The "curb service" hijacking occurred only two blocks away from a liquor store where eight hours earlier a robber was slain by a special guard.

Maybe The Man Had Rocks In His Head

HOUSTON, April 19 (UP)—Lupe Vasquez, 40-year-old convicted "torch killer" of a 21-year-old girl, died today in the hospital ward of County Jail shortly before the court of criminal appeals at Austin upheld his death sentence.

Doctors said a malignant backing tuberculosis killed the blackhair Vasquez. The disease had kept him confined to the ward on the fifth floor of the county jail for the past two months.

Vasquez was charged with the slaying in April 1950, of Josephine Campos. The state accused of kicking and stomping the woman, and then setting fire to her dress after piling old inner tubes and other trash on her body.

The high court noted in its opinion that the defense had entered no exceptions to the trial court actions that Vasquez made a voluntary confession and that the facts the case were sufficient to warrant the jury's verdict.
