

On the Go with Mary Edna Hendrix, 647-3343

Clubs and organizations have started their Fall activities with parties and meetings.

Plains Memorial Hospital Auxiliary members enjoyed a brunch on Wednesday morning at Rhoads Memorial Library, with Betty Freeman presiding. The theme this year is "Sparkle Like a Star—Giving in Care... Care in Giving, With Giving, You Sparkle Like a Star." The hostesses served party sandwiches, cinnamon rolls, fruit, orange juice and coffee to members and guests. Hostesses were Oleta Gollehon, Jewel Scott, Mary Blackwood and Retta Cluck.

The Dimmitt Book Club met Wednesday afternoon at Rhoads Memorial Library with Susie Bradford presiding. Maxine Tidwell gave a delightful review of the book Simply Barbara Bush by Donnie Radcliffe. She is capable of doing many things, including repairing the plumbing at their summer home in Maine, according to the book.

Loranel Hamilton and Oneida Hutto served finger sandwiches, cream puffs and coffee from a table decorated with pink and blue flowers and pink and blue napkins.

The girls at the beauty shop had fun decorating for Herminia's birthday. They used black and white balloons and large signs in the windows, which read "May she rest in Peace at 40 years of age," and "Look Who's 40," illustrated with crying eyes. They even decorated her car with black balloons. They served chocolate cake and coffee. Herminia received a beautiful rubber plant, and she says, "Before I forget, my age is 39."

Jeffrey Isaacs of Santa Fe, N.M. has returned home after spending a week with his mother, Martha Isaacs, his father, Jake Isaacs, and grandmother Oleada Hance. He is still involved in directing plays.

Charles Morrison from Winsboro visited his aunts, Geneva Dennis and Jauvada Curtis, and cousin, Edgar Dennis. He came out for the Wallace funeral.

Out of town visitors at the museum were M.B. and Earline Settle of Hermitage, Tenn. (Earline is a sister of Mildred Bradford), Ray and Dorothy Van Buskirk of San Carlos, Calif. (visiting their aunt, Emily Clingingsmith), Bill Hartenstein of Canyon and Shannon Paredes of Amarillo, and William H. Bellinghausen of Grand Prairie (visiting Herman and Rose Acker and Dave and Agnes Brandt and other relatives and friends in Dimmitt and Nazareth. William's wife, Rosetta, went to Italy to visit.)

Edith Graef was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club that met at the Senior Citizens' Center for a lunch of chicken strips and salad, vegetables and dessert. Loranel Hamilton won high score and Dugan Butler and Ina Rae Cates tied for second high. Others playing were Helen Braafladt, Louise Mears, Elizabeth Huckabay, Ferne Dickey, Neva Hickey, Bernice Hill, Johnnie Vannoy and Sal DiCuffa.

Tex and Norma Conard entertained family and friends with a Mexican Fiesta and home-made ice cream Thursday night. Those present were Nellie Hamlin and Paul Kellerhouse from Yucca Valley, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sadler, Stacy, Jeremy and Joshua from Sunnyside; Laura Hertado, Matthew and Christen from Muleshoe; Carrie Lynn Sadler of Lubbock; and Lois Scott and Ella Higdon of Dimmitt. Five generations were represented by Nellie Hamlin, Norma Conard, Sharon Sadler, Stacy, Jeremy and Joshua Norman, and Laura, Matthew and Christin Hertado.

I have a partial list of the 1990 graduates who are attending college: Jennifer Carter and Tish Miller are enrolled at South Plains in Levelland; David Edwards, Barry Hill, Mary Jane Lumbraera, Randy Nutt, Sandra Sandoval, Ben Scott, Justin Shultz and Scott Stahl all going to Texas Tech in Lubbock; Jennifer Hanners going to Texas Christian in Fort Worth; Priscilla Garcia at Southern Methodist in Dallas; Kay Lynn Glegghorn, Kara Schulte and Danna Ralston at Texas A&M; Cory Joiner, L.J. King and Curt Summers at West Texas State in Canyon; Anthony Milligan at Amarillo College; Rosalita Nino at Executive Secretarial School; Lisa Diane Peralez at McMurry University in Abilene; and Kristi Sims at Baylor University at Waco.

Several Dimmitt folks attended the 40th wedding reception for George and Bessie Elder, formerly of Dimmitt. George is fighting cancer and says he feels great. The Albert Hartmans, the Bill Clarks, Melvin Barton and James Horton were some of the people going from Dimmitt. The Elders' family, including Linda Claburn and Michael Elder, along with George's brothers from Portales and Muleshoe, and a sister from Muleshoe, and Bessie's sister and mother from El Paso, were all there. The Elders live in Lubbock now, where Bessie is a pharmacist with United Groceries, Inc.

A lovely Southern belle, Kimberley Ballentine, visited Texas for the first time recently, coming with her husband, Ken, and his brother, Tim, from Decatur, Alabama, to visit Joan and Bill Ballentine. Kimberley brought Joan an original counted cross-stitch piece using the meaningful poem "Footprints," along with beautiful shell designs Kimberley had worked in.

The family took a few days and enjoyed a tour of Carlsbad Caverns, a walking tour of the Living Desert with hundreds of plants and animals, and a tour of the Botanical Gardens. However, Joan rested most of that time at the motel.

Other recent visitors at the Ballentine home were Bill's sister, Nancy, and her husband, Ed Jensen from Tinley Park, Ill., and Joan's sister, Marilyn, and her husband, Harold Boyington of Flagstaff, Ariz.

The Castro County Retired Teachers Association met Sept. 10 at the Senior Citizens' Center. A good meal of Fiesta and dessert was enjoyed before the regular meeting. James Horton gave a talk on living wills.

There were 20 members present. Get well cards were mailed to Virginia Crider, Gladys Leeth, Emmett Broderson and J.V. Wescott.

The next meeting will be Oct. 8.

Robert and Frances Duke have had their children home for visits during July and August.

Larry, Lori and Ashlee from Carrollton visited for several days in mid-July and then Sandra from El Paso visited the latter part of July. She has started her second year as a high school home economics teacher for the Clint ISD.

Bob, Jeannette, Daniel, Bethany, Joshua and Christopher from Galveston stopped for an overnight visit and then went on to the New Mexico mountains for a week of camping.

They came back on Aug. 27 and stayed until Aug. 31 to visit and help move a load of furniture to the Duke home place, where Robert and Frances are in the process of "moving back to the farm."

Larry, Lori and Ashlee returned for another brief visit Aug. 30-Sept. 3 after Larry had made a business trip to the Texas Instruments plant at Abilene. Larry helped load out the rest of the furniture and helped get it in place in the farm house. Lori scrubbed windows while grandmother Frances played with Ashlee.

All the kids and grandkids thought it was great to "come home" to the farm again.

A surprise 60th birthday party was given recently honoring Jack and Muma Miller in the home of Norman and Kim Hays.

Taryn called on the telephone for them to come over to see her new 10-speed bike, and when they walked in, all their children and their spouses, and the grandchildren were there to celebrate.

Banners decorated the house with the slogan "Aged to Perfection."

The same slogan decorated a cake holding 60 candles. Napkins held the saying "Sixties are Sensational."

A wonderful visit was enjoyed by Brent, Linda, Craig and Christopher Miller of Carrollton; Norman, Kim, Taryn and Ryan Hays of Dimmitt; Hal, Cyndy, Jason, Kyle and Brad Miller of Austin; and Bingiee, Cara and Daniel Shiu of Houston.

Girl Scout sign-up, uniform sale are set

The Dimmitt area Girl Scout troop will hold a sign-up night in Dimmitt tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 at the Lamar Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church in Dimmitt.

The Dimmitt area had four Girl Scout troops last school year and local leaders are hoping to form a fifth troop for younger girls if enough sign up, said Suzzie Hubble.

A girl may register to be in a troupe or can be an "independent" scout.

Also planned tonight will be a "uniform garage sale," featuring Girl Scout uniforms. Anyone who has an old uniform they would like to put on the sale should bring it to the sign-up.

At least one parent should accompany each girl, to complete necessary forms and receive important information.

Girls between the ages of 5 and 17 are invited to become a part of the excitement of exploration found in Girl Scouting. Membership is available through troops or as individuals. Adults are invited to join the fun as leaders, assistant leaders or in a number of other short- or long-term positions.

Refreshments will be served.

For more information contact Hubble at 647-4166.

THIS IS THE RIGHT DOG for the right rancher, according to a local farmer who brought the female border collie in to Dimmitt Animal Control Officer Charles Whitman. The dog has had all of its vaccinations and was brought to Whitman by a farmer who "had too many dogs already." It has herding experience and would make an excellent farm dog. Anyone interested in "adopting" the animal should contact Whitman at 647-4545. Fees are negotiable.

Hilda Duer of Fort Worth recently spent some time here with relatives. She attended the golden wedding anniversary of Vincent and Louise Braddock on Sept. 8 and spent the rest of the time visiting with her two sisters, Louise Braddock and Alvina Gerber; and her brother, Lawrence Schmucker. She also visited with many of her nieces, nephews and friends.

Liz Brand of St. Helena, Neb., Ben and Theresa Arens of Orient, S.D., cousins of Louise Braddock also were here for the celebration. A friend, Frank Kutalik, also of South Dakota, accompanied them here. They stayed at the Braddock home while here and returned home on Monday.

Christine Hoelting has been a patient in the Tulia Hospital since last Thursday. They are still doing tests, but she hopes to be home soon.

Francis Woelfle, Betty and Jake Grey and Isabell Skidmore of Amarillo, visited with Joe and Amy Schmucker on Thursday.

Tony and Mary Gerber, Vincent and Toby Gerber, Elma and Florene Schulte, Arnold and Catherine Huseman and Dolly Schulte drove to Pueblo, Colo., recently to attend the 50th wedding anniversary celebration for their cousin, Otto and Aurclia Huber.

Ray Schmucker is home to recuperate after having surgery on his shoulder in St. Anthony's Hospital.

Keith Gerber is home after finishing his third series of chemotherapy at St. Anthony's Hospital.

Congratulations to Andy and Oleda Schumacher of Dimmitt were honored on their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday with a mass offered in the Immaculate-Conception Church with Rev. Harold Heiman officiating, assisted by Rev. Norbert Choong, pastor. Hosting the event were their children, Charlotte Rentfro, Yvonne Wilcox, Nan Davis and Glenn and Randy Schumacher. A reception followed at the Senior Citizens' Building with cake and punch served to many friends and relatives. At 7 p.m. a supper was served to brothers, sisters, nieces and nephews of the couple. Six of their seven grandchildren attended along with one great-grandchild. One grandchild could not attend because he and his wife are expecting a child of their own.

Relatives and friends from Dimmitt, Nazareth, Hereford, Sunray, Amarillo and Muenster were present. Special guests were Rev. Harold Heiman of Subiaco, Ark., and Sister Jeanne Heiman, Oleda's brother and sister. We wish Andy and Oleda many more happy years.

Letter

'Who should pay more tax?'

Dear Editor:
In the Lubbock Avalanche Journal last Friday morning, Sept. 14, the Associated Press reported data from Congress's non-partisan Joint Tax Committee.

GOP tax proposals would raise taxes a total of $11 billion, with $4.1 billion of that placed on people who earn $50,000 or less, while the biggest tax cut would go to those who earn $200,000 or more a year.

The Democratic Party would cut taxes by $4 billion for people earning $20,000 or less annually, and boost taxes by $26.8 billion for everyone else. This would shift the tax burden to those who should shoulder it.

For ten years, we have had a very weak agricultural program, our federal fiscal policy has failed, and we now have a total lack of an energy policy. It is time we let those in charge know how we really feel. Middle class Americans have paid long enough for the mistakes and greed of those responsible for getting us in this mess.

Now is the time for us to revitalize our economy by strengthening the economic health of middle America.

Certainly, all of us must share the responsibility for the $3 trillion debt; however, this proposal of the Republicans illustrates the fundamental difference between the two parties on who should bear the tax burden and the lack of fiscal leadership that we have had for 10 years.

Letter

Is this what forefathers wanted?

Dear Editor:

I can recall the recent cry for support of a state tax increase. I remember the organizations of this state that issued those cries for our support and I remember having heard them say, "The burden on local tax payers caused by educational spending will be lessened by a state tax increase."

Now, just as the economic forecasters are predicting a recession, these organizations are thanking us for our support (whether active or passive) by promising to increase our local property taxes over the next four years by as much as 45 to 50%.

They feel we should be supportive of this new tax increase because it will allow them to receive more of the previous tax increase. Well, I'm no economic wizard, but I fail to see how two negatives can equal a positive.

I believe the time has come for us (tax payers) to disallow those who govern (local, county, state and national) to perpetrate such atrocities against our economic system. We should demand the return of the supreme power given to the people of a democracy—the right to vote.

I can't recall ever having had the opportunity to vote on such important issues as a tax increase, can you? Should entities supported with tax dollars be given the power to increase taxes without the consent of those who pay that tax? I think not.

I am not opposed to a fair amount of taxation and neither were the founding fathers of this great nation. It was excessive taxation and the fact they were being taxed without their consent that led our forefathers to establish a new and better form of government. Taxation without the consent of those being taxed has inspired such well-known and highly publicized events as The Boston Massacre of 1770, the Boston Tea Party of 1773 and the American Revolution from 1775 through 1783, to name a few.

Have our governing bodies crossed the line of fair taxation set forth by those revolutionaries that founded our nation? I believe that they have and I feel that they should realize that when they use the words "tax" and "increase" in the same sentence that "them there are fighting words."

One prominent revolutionary and well-known publisher, Thomas Paine wrote, "These are the times that try men's souls." If he and others like him were around today, I wonder if what we have done with our heritage would be as they intended or would they once again utter the cry of revolution.

Bobcats hold off stubborn Cubs, 9-6

By DON NELSON

On paper, the Bobcats were 16-point favorites over Brownfield's Cubs.

But on the field Friday night, they were happy to come away with a 9-6 victory in the first meeting between the two teams.

The Bobcats won the first half of their home opener with a touchdown, extra point and safety to take a 9-0 lead.

But the stubborn Cubs came back and won the second half 6-0 with inspired play.

"We had to fight for our lives in the third and fourth quarters," Bobcat Coach Army Salinas said, "and I was real proud of our kids for playing as hard as they did. Sometimes we didn't play well, but sometimes if you play hard but not so well you can still win, and I feel like that's what we did."

Dimmitt's coaches had to throw away their scouting reports early because the Cubs did so many things differently than they were expected to.

For one thing, in the wake of their opening-game loss to Muleshoe, they had moved speedy quarterback Eric Jackson to tailback and installed sophomore Noel Garcia full-time to run their Power-I offense.

And Garcia came into his own as a running quarterback Friday night as he gained 79 yards on 17 option-play carries.

"And defensively, they loaded up against us," Salinas said. "Their game plan was to stop our running game and make us beat them with the pass if we could. And I'm glad we had the passing game to do it. They gave us the pass early, and we took advantage of it."

The Bobcats' only touchdown came on their longest drive of the night—99 yards.

Pinned on their own 1-yard line by a 47-yard Brownfield punt, the Bobcats started the scoring drive midway in the first and used 10 plays to cover the distance, scoring on the second play of the second quarter.

Dimmitt got only 31 of its scoring-drive yards on the ground. Most of the yardage came on passes from Freddy Martinez to Casey Summers (20 yards), Armando Arce (11 yards) and a big 41-yard completion to Robert Ruiz that carried to the Brownfield 17 on the first play of the second quarter.

Martinez rolled right, evaded a tackle, then winged the ball from the Dimmitt 42 down the sideline to Ruiz, who wrestled it loose from a Brownfield defender at the 27, then dragged his tackler 10 yards.

On the next play, Arce burst up the middle from the 17 and carried a defender over the goal line with him. Arce's TD jaunt turned out to be Dimmitt's longest run all night.

Ruiz kicked the extra point to make it 7-0 with the second quarter just 37 seconds old.

After pouncing on a Cub fumble at the Brownfield 48 later in the same period, the Bobcats launched another drive that yielded a penetration to the Brownfield 15, but no score. On fourth down from the 17, a lob pass from Martinez glanced off the fingertips of Michael Ethridge in the end zone. That would be the closest the Bobcats would get to another TD the rest of the night.

However, with Brownfield preparing to punt away from the 24 as the final seconds ticked away before halftime, a high snap sent the ball sailing over punter Raymond Martinez's head, and Casey Summers nailed him in the end zone for a safety to hike Dimmitt's lead to 9-0.

The Cubs' Adam Morales intercepted Martinez's first pass of the third quarter at the Brownfield 25 and returned it to the 34. Four plays later the Cubs punted the Bobcats back to the Dimmitt 19, then forced the home team to punt and returned it to midfield.

From there, Garcia sparked the Cubs to their lone TD on an 11-play drive. Garcia got the final four yards on a right-side keeper on the second play of the fourth quarter.

The Cubs went for a two-point conversion, but Albert Ramirez nailed the Brownfield quarterback behind the line of scrimmage to hold the score at 9-6 with 11:19 remaining in the game.

The rest of the contest was an old-fashioned defensive battle as neither team threatened again.

"We're glad to have them behind us," Coach Salinas commented. "Since they're a much bigger school, we worried when we booked them that we might not have much of a chance against them."

He added, "We thought they played better than they had been doing. We talked with their coaches after the game and they said it was the best they've played. We're very proud of the win."

Hart wins annual battle with Swifts

By CINDY ALBRACHT and TERRY PITTMAN

Three first-quarter touchdowns did the trick for Hart Friday night, as they defeated cross-county rival Nazareth, 21-12, at Longhorn Stadium.

Jay Davis, Hart's quarterback, threw for one touchdown and ran for two more to lead the Longhorns.

After falling behind 14-0 early in the game, the Swifts amassed 12 points with their aerial assault under the direction of quarterback Michael Schmucker, who connected with Wade Hoelting for a 34-yard scoring pass late in the opening stanza; and found Nick Johnson for a 67-yard TD in the final period.

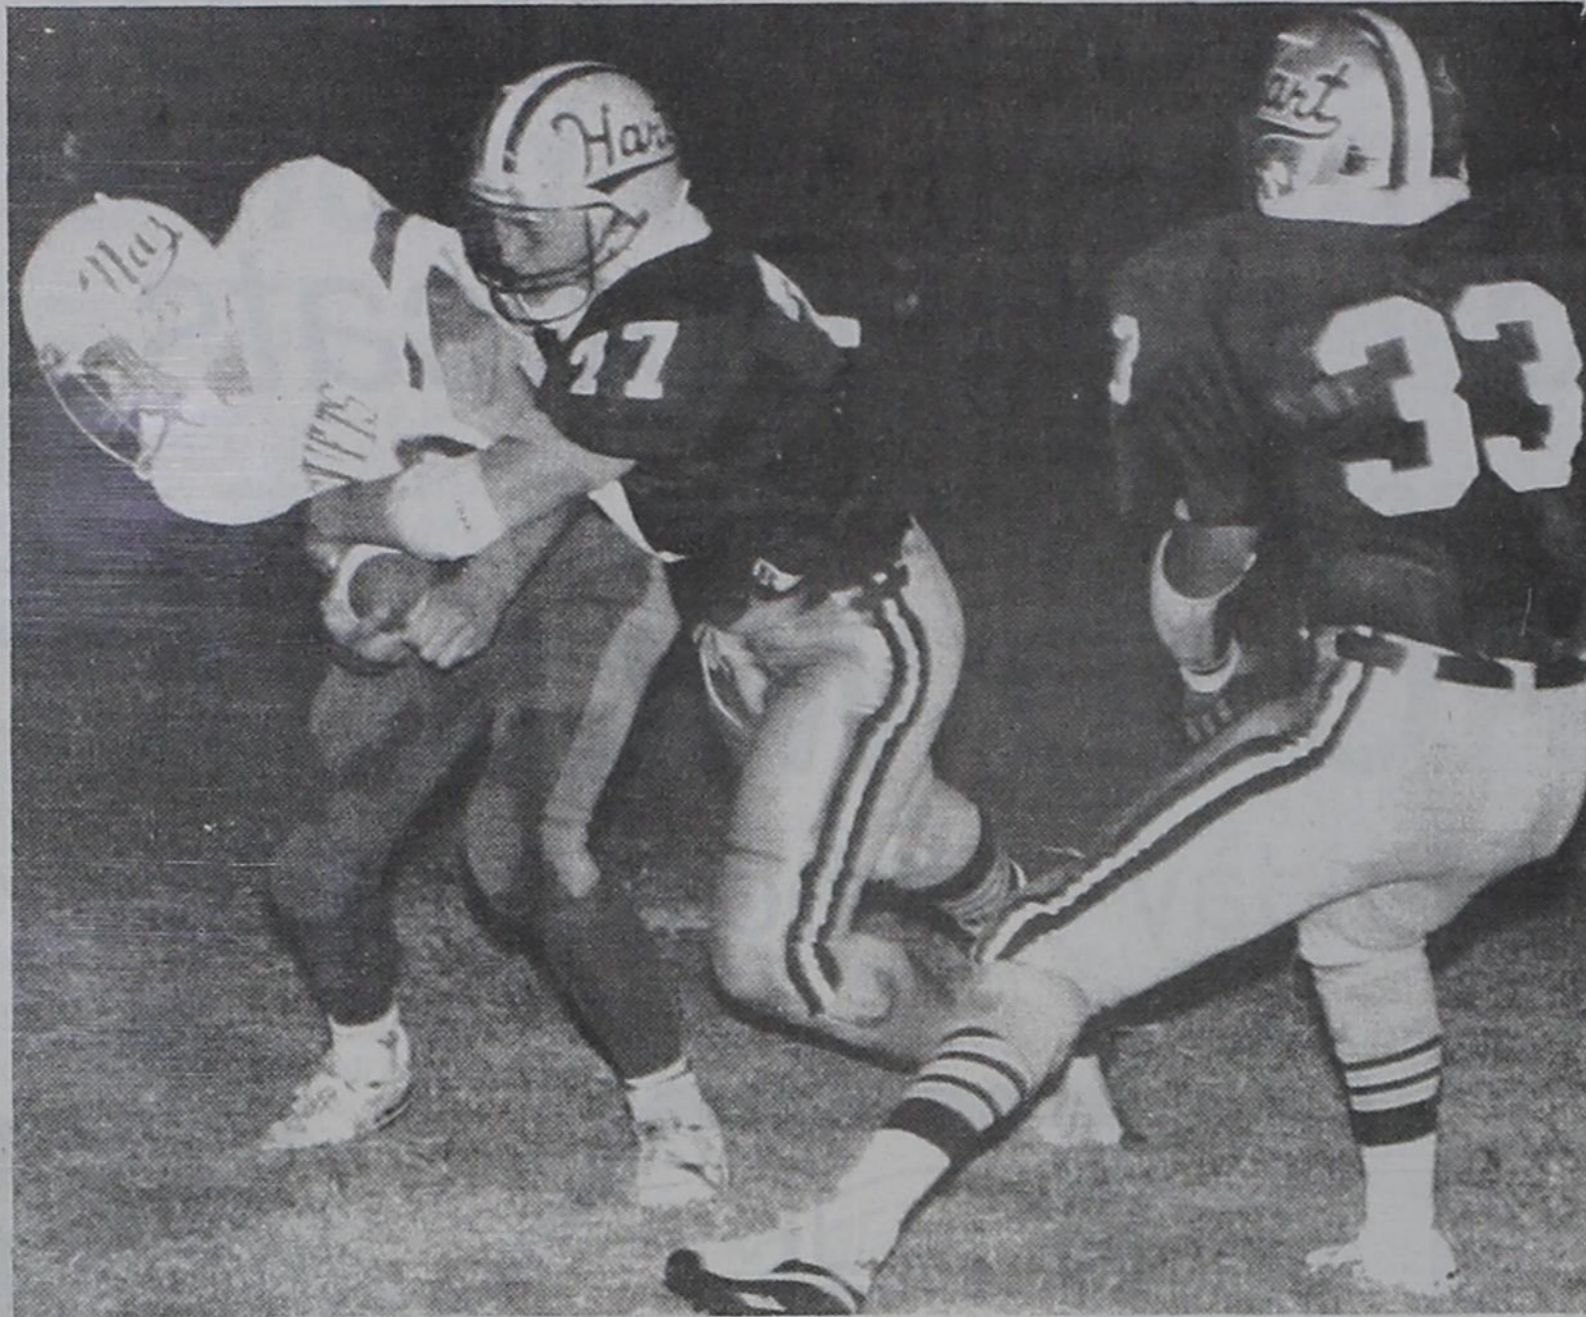

"Nazareth buckled down after a shaky start and held us in check for the remainder of the game," said Hart coaches.

Hart coaches praised Roger Avila, who recorded 11 tackles and five sacks; Roger Medrano and Junior Isaguirre for their defensive play.

Offensively, Danny Reyna led the Horns in rushing, carrying 14 times for 85 yards. Davis completed 7 of 12 passes for 76 yards and a touchdown for Hart, which dominated the offensive totals with 284 yards, compared with Nazareth's 159.

"We let them be the aggressors, said Nazareth Head Coach Rick Price. "But once we started playing as aggressive (as they were), we held our own."

The Hart defense was the key to the game, holding the Swifts to a minus 25 yards rushing. Nazareth did manage to get its passing game in shape, with Schmucker completing 13 of 27 tosses for 184 yards NAZARETH'S BRANDON SCHILLING (80) is wrapped up and dropped behind the line of scrimmage by Hart defender Brian Welps (77) Friday night during the cross-county matchup between the Swifts and Horns at Longhorn Stadium. Also ready to help defend the play is Longhorn defender Andres Marin (33). Hart's defense stymied Nazareth's running game, holding the Swifts to a minus-25 yards rushing offense enroute to a 21-12 victory. The score stood at 21-6 after the first quarter and that's the way it remained until Nazareth struck mid-way through the fourth quarter on a long touchdown pass from Michael Schmucker to Nick Johnson. plays later Hart scored. Davis connected with Coby Emery in the end zone for a 20-yard scoring strike. Andres Marin ran in the two-point conversion and Hart led, 14-0, with 5:34 left in the first quarter.

"We need to keep good mixture of run and pass. The effort was real good. We got behind, but didn't give up and the kids played real hard," Price said.

With less than four minutes gone in the game, the Longhorns plowed 72 yards upfield, culminating a drive when Davis barreled in from five yards out. Brian Welps' extra-point try was wide to the left, leaving the score at 6-0 with 8:05 left in the opening quarter.

The Swifts took over possession, but were unable to gain any yardage. T.J. Garza faked a punt and attempted a pass, but it fell incomplete.

A Swift penalty put the Horns on Nazareth's 13-yard line and three plays later Hart scored. Davis connected with Coby Emery in the end zone for a 20-yard scoring strike. Andres Marin ran in the two-point conversion and Hart led, 14-0, with 5:34 left in the first quarter.

On the Swifts next possession, Schmucker found the right gear to get his offense in motion, completing two passes that moved Nazareth into Longhorn territory. The Swifts got on the scoreboard when Schmucker connected with Hoelting for a 34-yard scoring play. Johnson's point-after-try was blocked and the score stood at 14-6.

Nazareth's celebration didn't last long, however.

Hart took over possession and had extended its lead within three plays.

On third-and-three, Davis took the snap, kept the ball, and raced 63 yards for the score. Welps' PAT sailed through the uprights to finalize the first quarter, second quarter and third quarter score at 21-6.

The next touchdown of the game came late in the game, when Schmucker's pass fell complete to Johnson, who raced 67 yards for the score. Johnson's PAT was blocked, leaving the score at 21-12.

Junior highs split openers

Dimmitt's eighth grade Bobcats won their season opener over Brownfield here last Thursday, 14-6. But the seventh graders weren't so lucky as they dropped a 36-6 decision.

In the eighth grade game, Derrick Thomas gained 140 yards on 13 carries, including a 55-yard touchdown run. Mike Perez scored Dimmitt's other TD on a five-yard run. Both extra-point attempts failed, but Martin Martinez and Johnny Flores made up for it when they tackled a Brownfield runner in the end zone for a two-point safety. Coaches cited Martinez as the top defensive player in the game.

Jason Wooten threw a six-yard scoring pass to Joel Townsend for Dimmitt's only touchdown in the seventh grade game.

Castro is added to nontoxic shot zone

Castro County is among the 27 Texas counties that have been added to the nontoxic shot zone list for waterfowl hunting in 1990. The entire state will require steel shot as of Sept. 1, 1991.

Other counties added to the nontoxic shot zone include Deaf Smith County, along with Austin, Bosque, Burleson, Cameron, Collin, Denton, Eastland, Erath, Henderson, Hood, Hunt, Kleberg, Moore, Red River, Refugio, Robertson, Rockwall, San Patricio, Shelby, Smith, Titus, Walker, Washington, Wise and Wood counties.

The counties that were added from 1987-89 are: Colorado, Harris, Jefferson, Nueces, Waller, Liberty, Baylor, Brazos, Comanche, Grayson, Hopkins, Marion, Trinity and Willacy.

Bob Jessen, Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. waterfowl program leader, said the main reason for going to steel shot is that millions of birds are dying annually across the US from ingesting lead shot.

With the addition of counties this year, the number of waterfowl taken with steel shot will be more than 80%, Jessen said, adding that, "We're going to save two to three million birds a year, nationally."

This year, areas with harvests of five or more birds per square mile were moved into the steel shot zone, with the entire state required to go to steel shot in 1991.

Cats and Horns to put unbeaten records on line

The Hart Longhorns and Farwell Steers will square off in Farwell in a battle of unbeaten teams, Dimmitt puts its perfect record on the line when River Road comes to town and Nazareth tries to get back on the winning side by taking on the Bulldogs in Anton Friday night in gridiron action.

Kickoff is 8 p.m. in each contest.

River Road at Dimmitt

River Road's Wildcats haven't won yet, but they've always played Dimmitt tough. Friday night should be no exception.

The non-district Catfight will kick off at 8 p.m. in Bobcat Stadium.

"Yes, they're gonna be tough," Bobcat Coach Army Salinas promised.

After losing their opener to Friona, 39-23, the Wildcats suffered their second loss Friday night to Panhandle — one of the best small-school teams in this part of the state — by a 37-12 count.

New River Road Coach Craig Shores is trying to "shore up" his Wildcats by building around five offensive and three defensive starters from last year's 2-8 team.

The RR players who have most impressed Dimmitt's scouts are quarterback Clint Latham (175-lb. junior), a second-year starter; big tight end Aaron Roberts (192-lb. junior), who also started last year; tailback Jimmy Cook (155-lb. junior); returning center Clint Lowin (195-lb. junior), who also anchors the defensive line; and 168-lb. fullback Chris Pilgrim ("a tough runner").

"You're basically going to see a mirrored offense and defense," Salinas said. "They run the Wing-T, the same as we do, and the '59' defense, the same as we do. I just hope we can do it better."

Bobcat tackle Arthur "Big A" Velasquez will be back in the lineup Friday night after missing the Brownfield game with an injury received in mid-week practice. And the rest of the team came out of the Brownfield game with no major injuries, Salinas reported.

Hart at Farwell

Last year when Hart and Farwell met in District 3-AA play, the Horns fell victim to the Steers powerful offense, 42-11.

Hart Head Coach Alan Cherry and his team hope to exact a little revenge for last year's loss, but it'll be a tough battle when the two undefeated teams tangle Friday night in Farwell. Kickoff is slated at 8 p.m.

Farwell, which dropped to Class A this season, advanced to the AA area playoffs last year before losing to West Texas High, 21-6. Graduation was easy on the Steers, and they return 15 starters — eight offensive and seven defensive — from last year's 11-1 squad.

So far this year the Steers are undefeated, beating Plains 34-13 in the season opener, then demolishing Olton Friday night 55-8.

The Steers, predicted to make the state playoffs again this year sport a powerhouse I offense led by four-year veteran starting quarterback Greg Atkinson (6-3, 180); and returning starters Darren Haseloff, a 5-11, 160-lb. senior end and Shawn Stewart, a 5-11, 175-lb. senior tailback.

Other returning starters include Michael Arce (5-8, 145), end-linebacker; Brad Atwell (6-0, 180), offensive guard - defensive end; Chad Byrd (6-0, 165), end-cornertack; Monty Delgado (5-11, 170) wingback-linebacker; Heath Dollar (6-0, 250) offensive and defensive tackle; and Adrian Nicolas (6-0, 210) offensive and defensive tackle.

Last year's team averaged 361 yards and 32.8 points per game under Atkinson's direction. He threw for 1,141 yards and 12 touchdowns in nine games. Stewart led the ground attack, rushing for 1,102 yards, and caught 20 passes for 210 more yards while leading South Plains 2A teams in scoring. Haseloff led all area squads in receiving with 32 receptions for 507 yards and four touchdowns.

Nazareth at Anton

After a tough loss to Hart Friday night, the Swifts hope to get back on the winning track Friday night with a victory of the Anton Bulldogs. Game time is set for 8 at Anton.

The Bulldogs won only one game last year, finishing 1-8 overall and 1-5 in District 4-A play (sixth place). The school hasn't made the football playoffs since 1987.

Anton's Wing-T offensive alignment is run by senior Seven Garcia (5-10, 160), a returning quarterback who threw for 779 yards and two touchdowns last season. One of his main targets is Jamie Sorrells (6-0, 175), who moved from tight end to wing back this season. Sorrells hauled in 23 passes last year and was the No. 3-rated receiver among South Plains Class A players.

The Bulldogs' ground attack will be led by Artemio Tarango, who has led the team in rushing for the past two seasons.

Anton boasts 14 of 16 returning lettermen including nine offensive and nine defensive starters including Garcia, Sorrells and Tarango.

Other returnees include Rene Alvarado (5-9, 140), end-defensive back; Paul Lawrence (5-10, 160), offensive guard and linebacker; Randy Parker (6-2, 260) offensive and defensive tackle; Rodney Rendon (5-10, 170) running back-defensive end; John Hodges (6-0, 180), offensive tackle - defensive end; and Richard Gonzales (5-8, 135) offensive guard - defensive end.

Defensively, the Bulldogs operate out of a Split 6 with Parker, Rendon, Hodges, Tarango and Gonzales returning to the line. Linebackers back include Lawrence and Sorrells.

LONG GAINER—Dimmitt's Lincoln Stewart (right) turns upfield after catching a short sideline pass from quarterback Freddy Martinez in the fourth quarter of the Bobcats' home opener against Brownfield Friday night. After making the catch at midfield, Stewart shook off this first would-be tackler and gained 10 more yards to make it a 17-yard gain to the Brownfield 40. Dimmitt won the hard-fought game, 9-6.

Southwest Outdoors

with Mel Phillips

It is a great time to be outdoors. The kids are in school, dove season is open and my favorite season is here.

Fall in our part of Texas offers the best of the outdoors. The mornings are cool and the afternoons are warm. The hunters can finally quit talking about hunting and start doing it. Smart anglers know that when the water skiers get off the lake the fish bite better.

One of the great events of fall is when bass school up and chase shad. When you see bass busting shad, pick up a silver with blue back RAT-L-TRAP by Bill Lewis and get ready for the time of your life. This is also the time of the year to try a white or pearl worm. Game fish go on a feeding frenzy before winter sets in. If you find them schooled up and can't catch them, then give me a call and I will be glad to help.

The newest fishing line on the market is P-Line. It is ultra-limp for good casting and sensitivity. Ultra-small diameter allows stronger line with less visibility to the fish. I know first hand that it will jerk seven-pound bass out of cattails. Remember the old cliché about the perfect fishing line—unbreakable and invisible? Well, P-Line is close to perfection. It is available from G. Pucci at P.O. Box 140-43 Park Lane in Brisbane, Calif. 94005.

FOR THE RECORD: The biggest bass from Baylor Lake is 11.97-lbs., caught last spring by Joe Holland. I had the pleasure of seeing this truly beautiful bass and urge you to keep your hooks sharp and the nicks out of your line when fishing a salt craw in eight feet of water.

TOURNAMENT NEWS: The next big bass tournament on Lake

Baylor is Sunday, Oct. 7. Entry fee is $50 and after Oct. 1, the fee goes up to $60. The lake is off-limits all day Saturday. Registration at the lake starts Saturday at 6 p.m. and Sunday morning at 5 a.m. until the official start time of 6:30 a.m. Entry is limited to 100 anglers and a full field will pay $2,500 for first place.

White River Lake will be the site of a $20 entry "Fun Tournament" on Saturday, Oct. 6. Registration, at the marina, starts Friday at 5 p.m. and will also be held Saturday morning from 5 a.m. until the official start time of 6:30 a.m. The best three fish limit earns $1,000 based on 150 entries. New funding approved for rural health care

A key US Senate subcommittee has approved new funding for rural health care services that will have a major impact in rural Texas, according to reports from US Sen. Phil Gramm.

The funding is included in the Fiscal Year 1991 Dept. of Health and Human Services appropriations bill.

Specifically, the senator said, $25 million was provided for the Rural Health Transition grant program, a program on which many rural Texas health facilities rely increasingly for help. The program assists small, non-profit hospitals and local communities in delivering care to rural areas.

Texas' rural hospitals, many of which are struggling against heavy financial pressure to continue delivering health care in far-flung areas of the state, are expected to benefit from this program, which received a $7 million increase over last year.

A related health program, MED-NET, a $1.9 million, three-year telecommunications network headquartered at and operated by Texas Tech University in Lubbock, will be refunded under the legislation. The network makes modern medical technology available in rural, medically - undeserved areas in West Texas through the telecommunications network.

In addition, $1.1 million was approved to permit the University of Texas Health Sciences Center at San Antonio to continue a three-year $3.3 million program that provides nurses and medical residents and faculty to underserved areas in South Texas.

Gramm said other programs receiving funding under the bill include the Head Start Program, which will receive $2 billion; Runaway and Homeless Youth Program, $36 million; the Alcohol, Drug Abuse and Mental Health Block Grant Program, $1.3 billion; the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Program, $532 million; the Drop-Out Prevention Demonstration Program, $40 million; and Job Corps Centers, $879 million.

Senate Joint Resolution 2, Sixth Called Session, 71st Legislature, proposes a constitutional amendment to provide that if the Senate, at any special session, does not take final action to confirm or reject an appointee of the Governor made during a recess of the Senate, the appointee is entitled to continue in office until the Senate rejects the appointee at a subsequent session or until the Governor appoints another person to fill the vacancy, but such a nominee whom the Senate does not act to confirm or reject at a subsequent regular session is considered to be rejected when the session ends.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to clarify the authority of the senate to consider certain nominees to state and district offices and to provide for filling vacancies in those offices."

Groundbreaking was last Thursday

Construction underway at Holly Sugar facility

Economic prospects in Hereford are sweeter because of plans at the Holly Sugar factory to install a process that will extract up to 10% more sugar from sugar beets.

The molasses desugarization process to be utilized by the new facility, termed ion exclusion, originated in Scandinavia in the 1950s. However, the high-tech separation technique had no economic application to molasses desugarization in the US until early 1981.

Groundbreaking ceremonies at the site of the new plant were held last Thursday, and following the ceremony, Robert C. Hanna, president of Imperial Holly Corp., spoke to a gathering of company officials along with local government and business leaders on the significance both of ion exclusion capabilities and the selection of Hereford for the Imperial Holly facility.

Ushering in a new decade of production for Imperial Holly Corp., the new facility will expand economic opportunities for the Hereford area. New jobs will be created, tax revenues increased and use of the Holly Sugar facilities will expand to 12 months per year.

Although the plant is expanding its operations, it won't affect the acreage contracted to farmers in the local area including those in Castro County—the acreages will remain the same, according to Holly officials.

Roger Hill, president of Holly Sugar Corp., announced Holly's addition of the ion exclusion process at a press conference in Hereford on Aug. 10. He described how the new $12 million plant, which will be ready for the 1991 campaign, would increase sugar production approximately 500,000 hundredweight per year. The new facility will create up to 20 new employee positions.

The ion exclusion process will allow sugar to be processed in Hereford beyond the beet slicing campaign effectively extending factory operations.

A by-product of the conventional sugar beet production process is molasses, a low purity non-edible syrup sold as animal feed stock which contains approximately 50% sugar. About 900 pounds of sugar are contained in a ton of molasses presently being sold as feed stock. The ion exclusion process coupled with conventional crystallization techniques, is designed to recover about 80% of the sugar in the molasses.

During the beet slicing campaign, molasses produced during sugar processing is stored for later use. To extract sugar, molasses enters a pre-treatment process. It then flows through chromatographic columns separating sugar and nonsugar portions. The sugar portion is concentrated, stored and then returned to the factory's refined sugar processing system and crystallized into granulated sugar. By-products from the separation process are concentrated and marketed as an animal feed supplement or feedstock.

Imperial Sugar Co. of Sugar Land acquired the Colorado Springs-based Holly Corp. in 1988 and merged it into Imperial Holly Corp. At that time, the new company embarked on a capital investment program intended, in Hanna's words, "to balance Imperial Holly Corporation's interests and increase its capabilities for the long term."

"In the past three years we have committed almost $60 million to bringing factories up to their most modern potential," Hanna said. "The single most important item in that three-year program is the new facility in Hereford for desugaring molasses—a $12 million project in itself."

The Holly Sugar factory is one of Hereford's largest individual private employers, providing jobs for more than 400 citizens and generating an annual payroll of $5 million, according to Mike Carr of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. Carr and other officials in Hereford are enthusiastic about Holly's influence on their region's economic outlook.

"For growers it certainly will be a long-term gain, it will open avenues for the sugar industry and make it more solid than it ever has been," Carr said. "Hopefully allied industries will be attracted. If so, the tax base will be increased and it puts more jobs and more money in the economy. This enhances the entire business community and further stabilizes the beet industry."

Hereford Mayor Wes Fisher, who arrived in Hereford 13 years ago as the first agricultural manager for Holly Sugar, said he is elated and grateful for the confidence Holly has shown in the area. Hereford was chosen from among a number of communities for its proximity to the cattle feeding industry and because of the successful 26-year relationship between Holly and the Hereford community.

"Our strongest asset is promoting agriculture and the cattle industry," said Fisher. "Anything that enhances the industry makes us more solid."

Imperial Holly Corp., with eight beet sugar factories and a cane sugar refinery at Sugar Land is now the second largest publicly held sugar company in the US and ranks among the Fortune 500 industrial corporations.

JOINING TOGETHER to break ground for a new $12 million ion exclusion facility at Holly Sugar Corp.'s Hereford factory were (from left) James Kempner, executive vice president and chief financial officer of Holly Sugar's parent, Imperial Holly Corp. of Sugar Land; James Witherspoon, executive secretary of the Texas Sugar Beet Growers Association; Robert Hanna, president and chief executive officer of Imperial Holly; and Hereford Mayor Wes Fisher. The new facility, scheduled to open in August 1991, features a molasses desugarization process that will extract up to 10% more sugar from beets.

Texas growers market high quality food corn

The Texas Corn Producers Board (TCPB) has launched a program to establish and emphasize Texas as the food corn state of the nation. A large portion of the Texas production already is used in food processing.

Texans produce the highest quality food corn in the nation, according to the Texas Corn Producers Board, and a long growing season and natural climatic conditions allow corn to dry in the field and avoid severe artificial drying. Hard endosperm varieties, adapted to the Texas climate, produce the qualities sought by food processors worldwide. Texas corn farmers will be capitalizing on these natural advantages to improve their net income.

"No other state can consistently produce the high quality food corn that we grow in Texas," said Carl King, executive director of the TCPB.

The TCPB was expanded statewide this year in a referendum of Texas corn farmers. The purpose of TCPB is to improve the profitability of Texas corn production through research and market development.

In worldwide demand, especially from Mexico and Venezuela, Texas, also enjoys a geographic advantage, with major ports and the Mexican border joining corn production regions of the state.

In its Aug. 9 meeting, TCPB adopted "Texas Supreme" as the name to identify Texas highest quality corn. To receive the label "Texas Supreme," the corn must be of varieties that consistently produce the characteristics desired in food corn.

Dr. Lloyd Rooney, cereal chemist at Texas A&M University, has identified the following desirable characteristics of food corn:

- 1. Pericarp easily removed with lime treatment.
- 2. Hard endosperm.
- 3. High density and test weight.
- 4. Reduced dent, rounded crowns.
- 5. Large kernels.
- 6. Aflatoxin below 20 ppb
- 7. White cob.
- 8. Low breakage and stress cracks.

"Texas Supreme" will include both white and yellow corn. There will be Grades No. 1 and No. 2, which basically reflect FGIS standards, but with higher test weights. Seed companies interested in having their corn seed varieties certified for "Texas Supreme" production should contact TCPB for information about this certification.

TCPB is working to obtain forward contracts for "Texas Supreme" production. The selection of specific varieties and extra care require that farmers have a contract which assures the price prior to planting. Early discussions indicate that forward contracting will be accepted, even by foreign buyers.

TCPB will not be a party of the actual contracts, but will work to develop markets for Texas Supreme food corn and bring buyers and sellers together. TCPB will also be working to negotiate the most favorable freight rates to make the benefits of export sales available to the entire state. It is anticipated that most contracting will be through local elevators.

Elbert Harp, agricultural consultant and TCPB executive assistant, said "Texas Supreme" premium prices will allow many of the state's farmers to continue profitable corn production while otherwise they would be forced to seek alternate crops.

"Texas Supreme corn for food, taking advantage of our natural benefits of climate and location, offers Texas corn farmers an exciting opportunity for expanded income," said Harp.

IA alumni group elects officers

The Dimmitt Industrial Arts Club (DATA) alumni elected officers at its first meeting of the 1990-91 school year Sept. 10.

Charles Cotter, chapter advisor, presided over the meeting and gave an overview of the club for the coming year.

Officers elected included Shawn Cotter, president; Sasario Sarez, vice president; Tammy Heard, secretary - reporter; Donna Reinart, treasurer; and Lee Schilling, sergeant at arms.

Jim Wright, state president, and Reinart, state reporter, are both active members of the local club, participating in all activities as well as representing the state organization.

The group will meet the first Tuesday of each month and everyone is invited to join. Anyone who has an interest in the organization should contact any officer or Cotter.

The next meeting is scheduled Oct. 1 at the woodworking shop. All ex-industrial arts students are invited to attend.

Maid of Cotton entries needed

Applications are now being accepted by the National Cotton Council from young women interested in entering the annual Maid of Cotton contest.

The selection is open to young women between the ages of 19 and 23 who have never been married and are residents of cotton-producing states. Judging is based on appearance, poise, personality and communications skills.

The 1991 winner will receive a $10,000 educational award made possible by a grant to The Cotton Foundation from Ciba-Geigy Corporation.

Application forms may be obtained from the National Cotton Council headquarters, P.O. Box 12285, Memphis, Tenn. 38182. Entry deadline is Nov. 2.

This year's selection will be held in the Loews Anatole Hotel in Dallas Dec. 29, with the winner making her first official appearance at the Cotton Bowl on Jan. 1.

King concerned about effects of farm policies

Carl King, president of the Texas and American Corn Growers Association, is concerned the United States could be headed towards a depression if agriculture prices continue to decline.

King said that the United States has faced an economic depression before and feels policy makers have not learned from the past.

"When they break agriculture, they have broken the economy of this country. That looks like what is happening already in 1990 farm bill proposals," said King.

In a recent letter to U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, King expressed his concerns about current and future farm policies detrimental effects on agriculture.

"In my 30 years of being in the farm organization, leading a commodity group and being a farmer, I have never been so concerned about the future of agriculture," said King.

"Even if we had the same bill that we had with the 1985 farm bill, according to the General Accounting Office, we would have lost another half a million farmers. It appears that it is even going to be worse than that," he added.

If Congress cannot decide on budget cuts, the Gramm-Rudman Act will cut all federal expenditures automatically — including agriculture program expenditures.

According to King, "Agriculture has already had more than its share of cuts in the past."

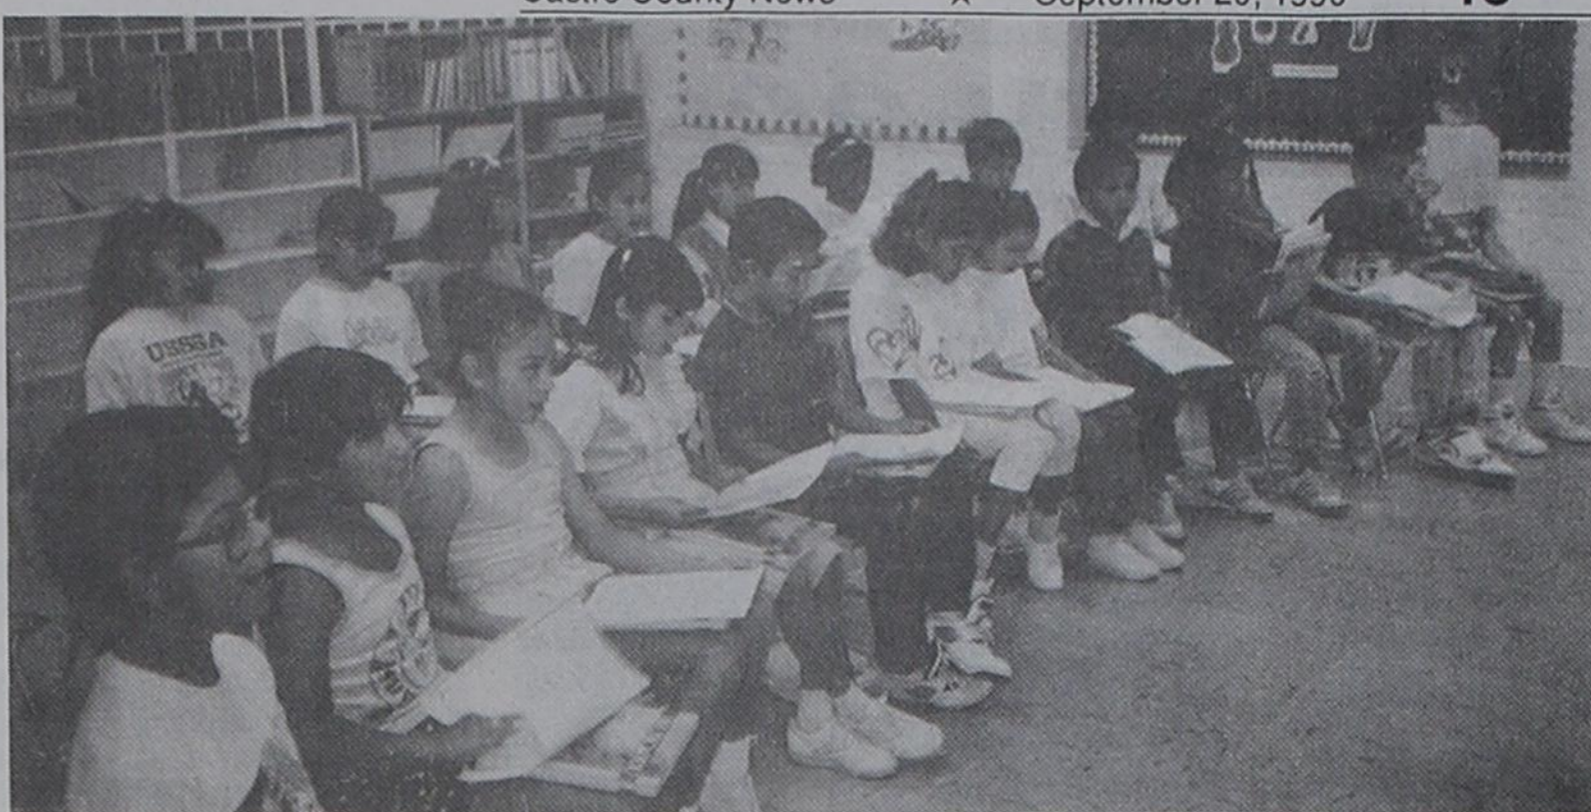

One of the USDA branches affected by the cuts would be the ASCS offices. King said offices will not be able to do their work if the work week is shortened from five days to three days.

King recommends raising loan levels to include production costs. Deficiency payments and target prices would then be eliminated, and farmers would get their money out of the market place, he maintains.

"If something is not done to alleviate our situation in agriculture, then it is going to be a drastic problem to every American," King said.

CRP is beneficial to wildlife

The Conservation Reserve Program (CRP), in existence since 1985, has proven beneficial to wildlife across the state, particularly in the High Plains.

The voluntary US Dept. of Agriculture program was designed to conserve and improve soil and water resources by taking highly erodible croplands and wetlands out of crop production. Under the program, landowners and operators receive annual payments for the 10-year life of the CRP agreement and up to 50% of the cost of installing approved conservation practices.

Hunting is allowed on CRP lands and landowners may lease the land to hunters, but grazing or harvesting crops is not allowed.

"One option allows up to 10% of the CRP land to be put into wildlife food plots annually, thus adding food and cover and diversity to improved grass plantings," said Trey Carpenter, Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. wildlife technician in Abilene. "This 10% can be incorporated as a border around a CRP field, put into strips or planted as plots (no larger than 10 acres) throughout the field."

CRP lands in Texas total more than 3.9 million acres. CRP lands in the High Plains produce secure, high-quality nesting habitat and winter cover for birds, said Gene Miller, TPWD wildlife biologist in Amarillo.

Ring-necked pheasant populations in the High Plains often are limited by a lack of nesting cover, travel lanes and winter habitat, but CRP can satisfy these needs.

Miller said pheasant use of playa basins is known to increase during the harvest season as farming practices reduce cover availability and deplete the available habitat. Current research projects evaluating CRP fields as wintering habitat for birds in the High Plains are locating pheasants in the cover provided by CRP fields, especially where a variety of wildlife practices are used.

A study covering 101 randomly selected CRP contracts in 24 High Plains counties was conducted recently by TPWD and US Fish and Wildlife Service biologists to evaluate wildlife nesting habitat suitability.

In March, 73% of these 101 fields were totally undisturbed by mowing, an encouraging number, Miller said. But biologists are concerned about reports of more than 60% disturbance in some counties caused by excessive mowing for weed control. Extensive mowing, when performed in early summer, can harm wildlife by direct mortality and destruction.

Miller said during grass-establishment years, some mowing or spraying may be required to control undesirable vegetation, but thereafter, mowing, spraying or other disturbances should be kept to a minimum, particularly during the April-August nesting period.

He added that if grass-dominated CRP plantings are not renewed by some type of disturbance every few years, wildlife habitat quality will eventually decline.

"While wildlife might be better served by carefully controlled, prescribed burning during the winter instead of mowing, it cannot be denied that an occasional, properly-timed mowing, is better than no disturbance at all," he said. "Of course, the best mowing would occur no more often than every three to five years, be done in early fall in mosaic patterns with individual fields and be followed by raking to reduce and loosen litter."

County accepts motor grader bid

At the Sept. 10 meeting of the Castro County Commissioners' Court, approval was given to accept a bid for a motor grader for Precinct 3.

The purchase will come out of the 1990-91 fiscal year, which begins Oct. 1.

Yellowhouse Machinery was awarded the bid on a John Deere motor grader, priced at $48,263, with a guaranteed maintenance plan included for $3,500 more.

West Texas Equipment Co. submitted a bid of $75,139 difference after trade-in allowance and $3,500 for guaranteed maintenance, for a total of $78,639, with a guaranteed re-purchase price of $82,000.

Three commissioners voted in favor of the lower bid, with Precinct 1 Commissioner Harold Smith voting against.

Jack Cartwright requested county help in controlling bindweed along the county roads near his property, saying he had done a lot of the work himself in the past. He said if the county would supply the chemicals, he has the equipment to apply it.

He also requested that Smith grade the shoulders of the road a little more smoothly to ease operation of the spraying equipment.

The commissioners approved raising the mileage allowance paid to county employees to the state level of 24 cents per mile. The county had been paying 23 cents per mile.

Approval was given to sign a resolution calling for legislative consideration of highway funding.

Larry Gonzales told the commissioners that he expects to have people come to the county in about a month to look at redrawing the precinct lines in accordance with 1990 census figures.

Gonzales also complimented Smith on the road improvements Smith had shown him. He also encouraged the commissioners to try to work together.

Smith made a motion to divide the county road and bridge funds judiciously and equitably between the precincts, including the machinery, money in the bank and any money coming to the precincts in the future.

The motion died for lack of a second, although Pct. 3 Commissioner Jeff Robertson said he would second it if he didn't feel that it was already being done.

Gilbreath says change is needed in land office

Wes Gilbreath says he feels there is a "definite need for a change" in the land commissioner's office, and that's why he's a candidate for the office.

Gilbreath, who lives in Houston, was raised on a farm and ranch in Central Texas and migrated to Houston after graduating from high school.

The Republican candidate for land commissioner stopped in Dimmitt along his campaign trail Aug. 31.

Working from the General Land Office, the land commissioner chairs the Permanent School Fund, the Veterans Land programs and is on the Permanent University Fund board. The office of land commissioner currently manages $11.1 billion dollars in assets.

"I'm running for land commissioner because I feel there is a definite need for change in that area and I don't say that loosely," Gilbreath said. "We have incompetence chiefly in the areas where school children and the public school fund are involved. We have seen a stupendous drop of over 50% on revenue production in that area, and that's why I feel like we're having so many problems and special sessions in Austin."

The money generated for the Permanent School Fund assets is collected and turned into the available school fund and the available school fund disperses it to all the school districts over the state of Texas.

According to Gilbreath, income from Permanent School oil and gas has dropped 82.4% and the drop has caused major problems in the schooling of children. He also says the Veterans Land Program, with its $1.2 billion of bonded indebtedness, is now paying 10.10% for the money that previously was costing only 4.7%.

"We cannot loan money out to veterans and expect them to buy properties at 8-1/2% when it's WES GILBREATH, Republican candidate for land commissioner, stopped in Dimmitt. Gilbreath, who was raised on a farm and ranch, says he will work to improve problems with the Permanent School Fund and Veterans Land Program.

costing the Veterans Land Program 10.10% This program was established in 1946 to assist veterans in buying properties. It has accumulated and amassed a great multitude of properties and needless to say, it's taken them off the tax rolls. The taxpayers are having to make up the shortfalls. Also, it is costing the overall program millions of dollars (in the inventory of the Veterans Land Program)," Gilbreath said.

"The 10.10% cost to run the Veterans program is an embarrassment to every veteran of Texas.

This problem can be corrected by buying and selling land to veterans at fair market value rather than expecting veterans to pay for the mismanagement by over-priced sales to veterans."

If elected, Gilbreath said he expects to generate additional revenue for the benefit of the school children.

"The land commissioner controls more assets than any other elected state official, and I will see that all assets will be used for the education of our school children or the benefits of veterans.

"This is the first time they've (legislators) have ever had a special session, much less four special sessions, because there was a shortfall of $256 million in the schooling of our children in 1988 alone. When you're losing a quarter of a million dollars because of incompetent management, you're going to have to have some help. We wound up with a 1/4-percent sales tax increase. I intend to work toward reducing, not increasing, any taxes. I'm against any form of tax that takes money out of our pockets to benefit professional politicians," Gilbreath said.

"Education is 90% of the assets... and that should be a major concern to whoever is in that office (General Land Office). I intend to have a complete and comprehensive audit of ever department when I'm elected, and before I leave office I intend to instill checks and balances," Gilbreath said.

County's first quarter sales up

Castro County buyers purchased 6.3% more goods and services during the first quarter of 1990, over the same period in 1989, according to figures released by the State Comptroller's Office.

The county's 161 individual businesses with a sales and use tax permit who filed a return in the first quarter, recorded gross sales of $14,319,250 for the first three months of 1990, compared with $13,468,984 in 1989. The gross sales includes the total amount of all sales, leases and rentals of tangible personal property and all labor and service charges made during the reporting period.

Use tax purchases, which includes the cost of all taxable items removed from inventory for personal or business use and all purchases on which no Texas sales tax was paid or use tax accrued, were listed at $926,139.

The amount subject to the state sales and use tax, calculated by taking taxable sales and adding use tax purchases, was $4,778,878 for the period.

Ag commission candidate honored

Republican Agriculture Commissioner candidate Rick Perry spoke to Dimmitt area residents at a cookout fundraiser held in his honor last Thursday night in Dimmitt.

More than 100 farmers and business people attended the hamburger cookout held at the home of Monty and Sue Boozer in Dimmitt. Twelve couples served as hosts for the fundraiser and Allison Davis, Castro County Chairman for Texans for Perry, coordinated the activities.

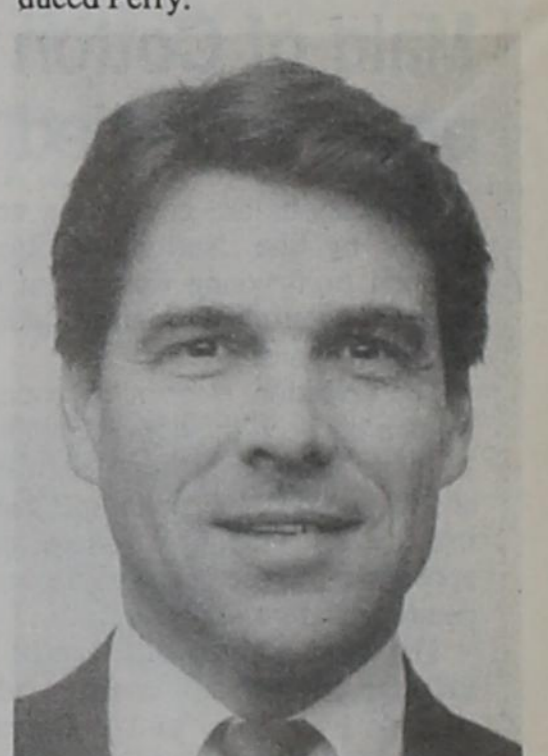

Perry is a fifth generation farmer and rancher from Haskell County. He won the 64th District representative seat as a Democrat in 1984, and he has served on the agriculture and livestock committee, the appropriations committee, the calendars committee and the Southern Legislative Conference agriculture and rural development committee.

He was a key player in the 1989 Workers' Compensation Reform Act, authored the Fire Emergency Program and Fund for training and equipment as well as the 50% severance tax reduction for enhanced oil recovery projects and was named one of the 10 most effective lawmakers by the Dallas Morning News in 1989.

As a result of his experience in the House, Perry said he found himself on the opposite side of the Democrats on many issues, and decided to join the Republican Party in the fall of 1989.

Deanne Clark, Castro County GOP chairman, said Representative Roy Frazier of Big Spring introduced Perry.

Cities sales tax rebates decrease

Checks totaling $20,282.70 in monthly tax rebates were sent to Dimmitt, Hart and Nazareth recently, but payments to each taxing entity were down from the same period last year.

This month's checks reflect taxes collected on July sales and reported in late August by businesses filing monthly returns.

The biggest individual decrease came on Hart's payment—a minus 34.41%. The $933.89 check for July 1990, dropped from $1,423.78 for July of last year. Hart's yearly total stands at $11,904.99, up 1.12% from 1989's total of $11,773.60 through July.

Nazareth received a check for $1,199.95, down 23.85% from 1989's July payment of $1,575.68. That brings its yearly rebate totals to $13,033.62, up 16.38%.

Dimmitt's rebate payment reflected a 17.17% drop from the July 1989 check. This year's payment was $18,148.86, compared with $21,911.35 for the same period last year. Year-to-date, Dimmitt's rebates are up 129.04%, from $201,485.91 to $461,481.92.

Merchants collect the state and local sales taxes and send them to the State Comptroller's office with their tax returns. The state keeps its 6-1/4% share and each month sends cities and counties their portion of the sales tax.

All local sales taxes must be approved by local voters and may be used for any legal city or county expenses. Most areas put the regular 1% city sales tax in the General Fund and use it for operations like firefighting, maintaining roads and law enforcement. Cities use additional 1/2% city sales taxes to help fund local economic development and to reduce property taxes.

Six Cat Card Club Winners for this week have been named at Dimmitt Middle School.

The city council ordered the first city election under the new city charter and the newly drawn single-member district plan for Nov. 6. Councilmen Wayne Proffitt and Harold Hyman will be up for reelection as single-member district representatives of Dist. 3 and 4

In other business, the council voted to place on the city the responsibility of maintaining and installing the Christmas decorations in the downtown area. The job had recently been performed by volunteers under the direction of the Dimmitt Chamber of Commerce. Chamber Executive Director Delores Heller told the council that the chamber would also be willing to give the city the $437.59 left in the decorations account.

The council passed a resolution giving approval for a Texas Parks and Wildlife feasibility study on turning the lake area south of town into a recreation or park area. Burros was authorized to place any excess fire department funds at the end of the fiscal year in a CD to save up for the purchase of a new fire truck at some future date.

covered by cashing in a $100,000 90-day CD from the general fund.

The revised county budget that was approved included total revenues of $2,950,737 and total expenditures of $2,624,050.

Pct. 1 Commissioner Harold Smith walked out of the meeting for the second time at around 3:10 p.m. just before the final vote for approval was taken. The other three commissioners voted in favor, and also approved the 31.53-cent tax rate.

Smith told the commissioners he did not "think any of this budget is in the taxpayers' interests, and certainly not the Pct. 1 part."

Simpson asked what part specifically did not meet the taxpayers' interest, and Smith replied that he had submitted his proposal for Pct. 1's budget.

"What about the budget for the rest of the county?" Simpson inquired.

Smith indicated that he was not concerned about that, and walked out of the meeting.

Smith had left the meeting earlier, shortly after it convened at 1 p.m. He walked out when Simpson commented that she felt a problem with fund transfers in relation to Pct. 1. He returned around 2:45 or so, after visiting a couple of downtown businesses.

Smith told the commissioners that the state says rural population should determine 40% of the division of funds for road and bridge improvements.

"In other words, you want 40% of the money," Robertson commented.

"Yes," Smith replied. Robertson had earlier commented that Smith's precinct had more money than any of the others, and Smith had answered, "Yes, and I plan to spend it."

Public hunt deadlines announced

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has announced deadlines for receiving applications in drawings to hunt on state wildlife management areas (WMAs).

Participation in hunts for most big game species on Type I WMAs requires selection in an advance drawing. Completed applications must be received in the TPWD Austin headquarters by 5 p.m. on the following dates for respective categories of public hunts: gun deer, either sex, Sept. 24; gun deer antlerless only, Sept. 24; javelina, Oct. 29; feral hog, Dec. 3; and turkey (spring season), Feb. 18, 1991.

There is no application charge, but selected applicants will be assessed a permit fee prior to the hunt for which they are chosen.

Application cards for drawings and information on other hunts not requiring selection by drawing are included in the department's booklet, Hunting Opportunities, Type I Wildlife Management Areas, 1990-91. The publication can be obtained free of charge from department offices across the state by writing TPWD, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, 78744, or by calling toll free 1-800-792-1112 or (512) 389-4505.

Also persons who purchase the $35 annual Type II Wildlife Management Area - Public Hunting Lands permit are eligible for certain restricted Type II hunts. Type II hunts with respective application deadlines are: buck pronghorn antelope hunt on the Rita Blanca National Grasslands, Sept. 17; buck mule deer hunt on the Black Gap WMA, Nov. 1; and buck whitetail or buck mule deer hunt on the Matador WMA, Nov. 1.

There is no additional charge for holders of the Type II permit to apply for these drawings or, if selected, to participate in the hunts. Application for the restricted Type II hunts can be found in the map booklet issued with each Type II permit.

street become fainter in the distance, like mountain ridges on a hazy day. And not being able to see downtown from Allsup's.

The front-page story in last week's issue that said Rick Perry, Republican candidate for agriculture commissioner, would address the public on the courthouse square last Thursday evening at 6:30 turned out to be untrue.

He didn't show. Instead, he went straight to a fund-raising cookout at Bethel (which, according to the information we had, he was supposed to do after a public appearance at the courthouse).

Also, the story said Kent Hance would be accompanying Perry. But Kent didn't show either—not on the courthouse steps and not at the fund-raiser.

We were disappointed that Perry made no public appearance, and that we didn't get the opportunity to question him on one of the main issues where he and incumbent Jim Hightower are poles apart.

Perry is reported to have endorsed the Bush Administration's proposals to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). Hightower (and most of the state's commodity groups) are very opposed to the GATT proposals made by the Reagan and Bush administrations. We had read Hightower's position on these proposals. He feels that they would cut commodity prices so drastically that they would force many more farmers out of business; that they would destroy US "pure food" safeguards; and that they would benefit only the international grain cartels. We wanted to hear, and report, Perry's views on the same issue.

Apparently, the mix-up was caused by a snafu somewhere down the line in Perry's campaign organization. Such things happen in virtually all statewide political campaigns sooner or later.

County Republican Chairman Deanne Clark (who stood at the courthouse steps Thursday evening to apologize to those who showed up) also was upset that Perry didn't make the "scheduled" public appearance. Later, at the fund-raiser, she asked him why.

"He wondered what I was talking about," she said. "He said the only thing written on his schedule was to show up at the cookout."

We'd still like to ask him those questions.

Even for a magazine as zany as Texas Monthly, this month's cover is one of the zaniest yet.

The cover photo shows a beaming Ann Richards (in an impeccable blue suit) and a big-grinning Clayton Williams (with his hat on) embraced in a swinging waltz step. Alongside the photo is a huge caption, "Dirty Dancing."

The picture, of course, is photo-lab trickery, using models and superimposed heads. Anyone who doesn't realize that at first glance doesn't know how Texas Monthly stretches the envelope.

Inside are articles on both candidates' backgrounds and gubernatorial campaigns. Neither article does the candidates any favors.

Police Calls

Police Calls from Week of Sept. 4-11

A 22-year-old Dimmitt man has been accused of aggravated assault in an incident about 4:32 a.m. Sept. 10. A woman seeking treatment at Plains Memorial Hospital for cuts on her left hand and ear told police that the suspect had allegedly thrown a rock at the driver's side window of her car when she had refused to let him drive home because he was drunk. Investigation into the incident is continuing.

A 22-year-old Friona man asked the wrong woman to dance Sept. 9 at the Star Dance Hall in Dimmitt. Dimmitt Police Officer Rita Ramos was at the dance hall on another matter, when the suspect grabbed her arm and asked her to dance. She refused, but the suspect repeated the invitation, reportedly swaying unsteadily, so Ramos placed the man under arrest for public intoxication and disorderly conduct.

Police received a report about 10:48 p.m. Sept. 6 that a man was beating up a woman in the vicinity of the 800 block of East Jones. Officers began questioning a man in that area, and the suspect allegedly became argumentative and yelled profanity at the officers. As the officers attempted to arrest the man for disorderly conduct, the suspect allegedly resisted arrest. Public intoxication was added to the charges as well. The man is out on $750 bond on the misdemeanor charges.

About 2 a.m. Sept. 11, a Dimmitt officer noticed the front glass window at Red X Travel Center had been broken out. Elsie Beaver, owner of the business, reported the only items that appeared to be missing were five cartons of cigarettes, valued at $90, and four lighters, valued at $2.95. However, damage to the window was estimated at $400. Also, a shed in back of the store received $100 in damage from an attempted entry, and another entry was apparently attempted through an air conditioning vent in the ceiling. Officers are continuing the investigation.

Sept. 11 at 9:45 a.m., a 1986 Toyota pickup, driven by Jackie Lynn Edwards, 30, of Plainview, failed to yield right of way at an intersection and struck a 1982 Grand Marquis, driven by Jewell Connell, 72, of Dimmitt. According to police reports, Edwards was east bound in the 700 block of West Lee Street and Connell was heading north on Front Street. No injuries were reported and damage was estimated light to both vehicles. Edwards was ticketed for failure to yield.

Marie Howell of Dimmitt told police last week that someone apparently broke into her home sometime in June and took several items of jewelry, and several credit card checks. She told police that she delayed reporting the items missing, because she thought she might have misplaced them. However, her credit card account turned up several charges she had not made. Investigation is continuing.

Two Hereford women were arrested on charges of theft Sept. 5 when an alarm sounded as they attempted to leave the Perry Brothers Store in Dimmitt. A search of the women's purses allegedly revealed $45 in stolen merchandise, including earrings, men's socks, barrettes, a sweatshirt and four pairs of baby pants.

Vandals have struck again in Dimmitt—this time causing $600 in damages, scratching the paint and causing a dent on a 1984 Oldsmobile owned by Paul Reyes of Dimmitt; and $1,000 in damage to the paint of a 1987 Fiero owned by June Norman of Dimmitt.

Levi Reynolds, 17, of Dimmitt told police that four men had allegedly assaulted him Sept. 8 at 3:30 a.m. at the roadside park on South US 385. He reported that the men kicked him and struck him with their fists. Reynolds gave the names of three suspects, all of Dimmitt, ages 27, 21 and 19. One assailant was unknown to the victim. Investigation is continuing in the matter.

A 17-year-old woman from Whitney was arrested Sept. 12 for investigation of unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. Dimmitt officers spotted her around 8:58 p.m. at the roadside park on South US 385 with a car that had been reported stolen from Hillsboro. Owner of the car is Rebecca Fuqua of Marshall. Investigation is continuing.

An accident Sunday at 7:25 p.m. left two vehicles with light damage, but none of the 10 occupants of the two vehicles were injured, according to police reports. Jose Manuel Moran, 34, of Dimmitt, along with his wife and five children, were in a 1972 Chevy pickup, traveling east on SH 194. George Gregory Wall, 20, of Dimmitt, along with two passengers, was driving a 1984 Olds Delta on East Road, and had stopped at the stop sign at the intersection with SH 194. The police report stated that Wall failed to yield right of way, and his car struck Moran's pickup. Wall was ticketed for failure to yield and Moran was ticketed for failure to maintain financial responsibility.

Charges of criminal trespass of a habitation have been made against a 40-year-old Dimmitt man by two Dimmitt women who told police Friday that the suspect had been on their property without permission, after they had gotten the district attorney to warn the suspect twice to stay away.

A 16-year-old Dimmitt youth was arrested on charges of indecency with a child Sept. 11, and was referred to the Juvenile Probation Office. The incident allegedly occurred Sept. 10 at 5:30 a.m.

Monday night, officers stopped a 1981 Gran Prix driven by a 22-year-old Hereford man, who was subsequently charged with DWI and reckless driving. His two passengers were charged with public intoxication. The vehicle was stopped in the 100 block of South Broadway, after officers spotted it traveling at a high rate of speed.

A 34-year-old Dimmitt woman was charged with disorderly conduct after officers had a report of a disturbance in the 200 block of West Dulin about 2:47 a.m. Sunday.

A Bovina man, 21, and a Hereford man, 30, were charged with disorderly conduct Monday at 12:02 a.m. after officers received a report that the two had been fighting in the restroom at the Star Dance Hall in Dimmitt.

Two other cases of DWI were reported in the past week and one of public intoxication.

PD lays down law for dogs

Within the past several months, the City of Dimmitt has received numerous complaints about dogs running loose in the city. Consequently, the city will begin tougher enforcement on animal ordinances, effective immediately, according to Police Chief Gary Thurman.

Thurman noted that a tranquilizer rifle has been obtained to aid in controlling roaming animals.

Thurman also stressed the current animal control ordinances in effect in the city:

—All dogs and cats six months of age or older inside the city limits must have a yearly rabies vaccination.

—All dogs must have a city license.

—A kennel license is required for anyone keeping three dogs or more.

—The animal warden or a police officer has the right to enter upon any property not enclosed in pursuit of any animal which has been running at large.

—Any animal which has been involved in biting must be surrendered to the animal warden for rabies observation.

—Any unlicensed dog will be kept for three days before being disposed of.

—Any licensed dog will be kept for five days before disposal.

Thurman noted that violations of these or other animal control ordinances may result in a citation being issued, with fines ranging up to $200.
