Charles Kiker, RJC Instructor Attends SMU

Professor Charles Kiker, of the Ranger Junior College Music Department, is attending the Fred Waring work shop at SMU this week. Last week Professor Fred Baumgardner, head of the fine arts department, attended this work shop at the University of Indiana. Miss Peggy Patterson, a new addition to Ranger Junior College music department is in Columbia University this week and next taking some special work in music. This all goes to show the music students who plan to be in Ranger Junior College next year that the faculty is making good use of these work shops in order to obtain the latest methods in the teaching of music. Dr. G. C. Boswell, President, was on the SMU campus one day last week at the work shop being conducted by the State Education Agency. Many of the faculty members are going to some work shop or do some special training before we open the college in September.

From all indications there are only two places left in the girls' dormitory. This is a greater number than we had in the dormitory last year and the college officials are very proud of these fine young ladies who are coming to the college next year.

Football certainly must be in the air from the number of boys who are coming to the college in order that they may obtain all available information about the college and football. The coaches are exceptionally well pleased with the boys who are coming to get this information for most of them seem to be exceptionally good material. Many of them are all-district players from various places.

Citizens in Abilene gave money for the scholarship fund and three from Ranger made their offerings Monday, which goes to show you that Ranger Junior College is in favor of a great number of people. No high pressure is being used to obtain these scholarships. The President just asks if they want to make a contribution to the scholarship fund, and so far there has not been a refusal.

The college officials are very proud of the response that the citizens of Ranger have given the college and they are anxious for them to know that this is greatly appreciated. To build a greater Ranger College is in line for a greater Ranger.

New Twist To An Old Tale

HOUSTON, July 31 (UP)—People leave home for a few days for various reasons, but Mrs. Wilcox Hughes has come up with a new one.

She left home, she said, to take her husband's mind off his other troubles.

The attractive housewife disappeared Saturday morning after her husband had driven her downtown where she was to do some shopping.

When she failed to return late Saturday, the husband, C. W. Hughes, sought the aid of the police missing persons bureau.

Mrs. Hughes returned home Sunday night and today gave this reason:

"My husband had an operation not long ago. Ever since then he has been worrying about it. Sometimes if you shock a person it will do them good and I wanted to get my husband's mind off his operation. So I spent the week end with a woman friend."

Did her disappearance help her husband?

"I believe it's going to help, at least for a while," she said. "He hasn't said anything about it since I came back."

Father Charged In Daughters Rape

GROESBECK, July 31 (UP)—A. A. Mathews of Port Arthur was under indictment today for sex offenses against his three young daughters.

The indictments include two for rape and one for incest. The three girls, the oldest 15, are residents of the Mexia State School.

The offenses occurred on a Sunday afternoon two weeks ago when the father visited the girls, the indictments alleged.

MANGRUM THREATENED—Lloyd Mangrum, St. Paul Open winner, leaves the Keller Golf Course in St. Paul in protective custody of Twin Cities police after receiving his first place check. Mangrum received a threatening phone call Saturday night warning him not to play "too good" on Sunday. Plainclothesmen followed him around the course "just to make sure." The Chicago pro remained calm enough to fire a 2 under par 70, for a record-breaking 72 hole total of 266. (NEA Telephoto).

TIDELANDS OIL BILL FACES SLOWDOWN BY SENATE GROUP

By Lloyd Lapham
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 31 (UP)—A tidelands oil bill which would return the oil-rich submerged lands to the states faced a slowdown in a Senate committee today after whipping through the House.

The bill, which would dismiss all federal claims to undersea oil lands off the coasts of California, Texas, and Louisiana, zipped to House approval late yesterday by a 259 to 109 vote.

But Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D., Wyo., chairman of the Senate Interior Committee, which took over the bill today, said his group had a couple of other tidelands bills to consider before taking up the House measure.

O'Mahoney said the committee first would consider his bill designed to confirm state ownership of inland waters only. Then, he said, the committee will work on an interim measure confirming federal control of the tidelands for five years. After that, the committee would discuss procedure on the House bill, O'Mahoney said.

The House-approved bill would grant all coastal states except Texas, a three-mile strip of ocean bed outside the low-water mark along their coasts. Texas would get a 10 1/2-mile strip. The effect would be to overrule Supreme Court decisions which have upheld federal control of the offshore lands.

Despite the apparent Senate Committee roadblock, House supporters were confident that the measure eventually would roll through the Senate and over any presidential veto, President Truman said.

Mother Robs To Feed Her Sons

CINCINNATI, O., July 31 (UP)—An attractive blonde mother of two infant sons told police today that she and her husband robbed a restaurant of $25 because they needed money for "doctor and grocery bills."

"We didn't know what to do," Mrs. Ruth M. Lane told police. She said her two sons, six-month-old Gerry and 16-month-old Charles had been sick and her husband was unable to work because of "stomach trouble."

Mrs. Lane said she helped her husband enter the cafe and then returned to the car to care for their two sons during the burglary.

Parking Lot Owner First OPS 'Case'

DALLAS, July 31 (UP)—The operator of a Dallas chain of parking lots had orders from a federal judge today to allow investigators of the Office of Price Stabilization to examine his records.

In the first case brought by the OPS in the 42-county Dallas District, E. L. Norton was also ordered to appear before district OPS enforcement director W. R. Allen and testify concerning price charges at his lots.

The order was handed down yesterday by Federal Judge William H. Atwell.

Truman Gets Control Bill

WASHINGTON, July 31 (UP)—President Truman was expected to sign reluctantly the new economic controls bills today, along with a blast at the measure as inadequate to prevent further inflation.

Congressional leaders and stabilization officials said there was next to no chance that Truman would veto the bill, although it would not give him many of the powers he had requested.

They noted that a veto would let the board controls structure expire at midnight tonight under the current one-month extension.

One Congressional source said Mr. Truman would sign the 11-month measure "reluctantly" and issue an angry statement criticizing "weaknesses" in the bill as finally approved by the Senate and House.

The United Labor Policy Committee, claiming to represent 15,000,000 CIO and AFL members, promised to support Mr. Truman if he vetoed the bill. The committee called the measure a "callous betrayal" of consumers and a "disgraceful surrender to those who stand to profit from inflation," but said it would go along with the president if he felt he had to accept the legislation.

In addition to price control and rent control powers, the measure gives Mr. Truman authority to allocate scarce materials, issue priorities and give production incentives to some defense-scarce materials. It also relaxes curbs on installment buying.

The measure denies the president powers that he had requested to continue livestock slaughtering quotas, build war plants, license firms under price control and grant farm subsidies.

One message said "keep up your courage," and Mrs. Abney said the members of her group plan to do just that without retreating one whit.

The housewives recently protested to Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder. They said that placing domestic servants under provisions of the Social Security Act was unconstitutional.

Snyder declined to engage in a public dispute with the women. But the internal revenue office at nearby Longview, Tex., gave notice that if the defiant housewives don't pay their social security bills, warrants for the seizure of their personal property might be served.

Internal revenue spokesmen, however, declined to say when the warrants might be sought.

But Mrs. Abney indicated her group would be ready when the time came.

She said a "secret counter move" had been drawn up for execution when the warrants are served. What it was, she wouldn't say.

Two Negroes held for robbery

FORT WORTH, July 31 (UP)—Two Dallas Negroes were being questioned today by Tarrant County sheriff's officers in the July 12 robbery-beating of a Grapevine grocery owner's wife.

Mrs. Louise Hurst was robbed of $50 and beaten by two Negroes who alone.

The Negro suspects were arrested Saturday in Houston.

At THE FRONT, Korea, July 31 (UP)—Blood seeped through the white bandage on the sergeant's head.

"How are truce talks going at Kaesong?" he asked.

Artillery sounds like summer thundering in the distance. A puff of smoke spirals suddenly from the next hill.

"Napalm," Sgt. Edwin R. Jarrett, of Paragould, Ark., says without stirring a muscle. "Fire jelly bombs."

He was sitting calmly on a North Korean hillside. War rumbled around his bandaged head—perhaps death in the next minute.

It was 11 a. m.

At 11 a. m., 10 men sat down at Kaesong on chairs with white slip covers—five on each side of the long table. Adm. C. Turner Joy read something in English to Gen. Nam Il, Chief Communist Negotiator. Nam Il doesn't speak English.

The North Korean then read a statement in Korean to the Chief UN negotiator. Joy didn't understand him. The interpreters talking while negotiators lighted cigarettes.

Chinese artillery blazed forth at the trapped GI's. The Communists had lured the American patrol into a minefield.

The 54-year-old general will speak on "world affairs." Two radio stations will broadcast the address.

Nothing Less Than "Drastic Action" Will End Deadlock

NEITHER SIDE WILL GIVE IN ON LOCATION OF BUFFER ZONE

By Ernest Hoherech
United Press Staff Correspondent
UN ADVANCE BASE BELOW KAESONG, Wednesday, Aug. 1 (UP)—A deadlock in cease-fire negotiations at Kaesong neared the crisis stage today and United Nations officials predicted that nothing less than "drastic action" would break it.

There were hints that an entirely new approach might be made to the question of a buffer zone between the UN and Communist armies along the 135-mile Korean war front.

For the sixth day, the negotiations were stalled by a Communist demand that the zone be fixed along the 38th parallel instead of the present front, which is almost entirely in North Korean territory.

It was admitted that no progress was made at Tuesday's meeting.

Only a compromise, it appeared, can save the negotiations at this stage and it was believed that South Korean Foreign Minister Yang Tso Pyun may have dropped a hint of one yesterday.

Speaking to the Korean National Assembly in the temporary South Korean capital of Pusan, Yang Tso Pyun suggested a broad buffer zone which "would include both the fighting front and the 38th parallel."

There were no indications that Yang Tso Pyun was speaking for the UN command or with knowledge of what it was thinking. But the South Koreans have been informed fully on the daily cease-fire talks.

Neither side budged from its position during a one hour and 34 minute fruitless talk at Kaesong yesterday.

"Both sides now, I am firmly convinced, understand the viewpoints of the other side, although they may not appreciate it," an official UN spokesman said.

A UN communique said there was "no perceptible change in the expressed viewpoints of the two delegations."

"No progress can be reported as a result of today's conference," it said.

There was speculation that the Communists may ask tomorrow for a recess to consult Peking and Pyongyang, the Communist capitals.

They resorted to similar tactics July 21, when the conference threatened to collapse over a Communist demand for withdrawal of UN troops from Korea. On their return to the conference table last Wednesday, the Reds withdrew the demand.

Shivers Asked To Grant Stay

AUSTIN, July 31 (UP)—Gov. Allan Shivers was expected to act today on a Board of Pardons and Paroles order recommending a 30-day stay of execution for Richard W. McGee of Lubbock.

McGee was scheduled to die in the electric chair at Huntsville State Penitentiary on Thursday. He was convicted on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying July 7, 1948, of R. L. Alister of Lubbock after the grocery company executive protested McGee's attentions to his daughter.

The board issued its unanimous recommendation late yesterday after receiving word a sanity hearing for McGee would probably be held at Lubbock.

Housewives Get Support In Fight

MARSHALL, July 31 (UP)—Messages of support showered down today on 18 resolute housewives who have pitted themselves against the government in their refusal to pay social security taxes on their domestic employees.

They claim the government has asked them to serve as "unpaid tax collectors."

Mrs. Carolyn Abney, spokesman for the group, said hundreds of messages were arriving by mail, telegraph and telephone. All but seven, she said, support "our stand against the encroachment by the government on our individual rights."

One message said "keep up your courage," and Mrs. Abney said the members of her group plan to do just that without retreating one whit.

The housewives recently protested to Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder. They said that placing domestic servants under provisions of the Social Security Act was unconstitutional.

Snyder declined to engage in a public dispute with the women. But the internal revenue office at nearby Longview, Tex., gave notice that if the defiant housewives don't pay their social security bills, warrants for the seizure of their personal property might be served.

Adair Defense Rests Case

KAUFMAN, July 31 (UP)—Defense attorneys for Fred Felix Adair, Jr., of Dallas, indicated today they would end their case in the convicted rapist's third sanity hearing at noon today but the case was not expected to reach a jury until sometime Wednesday.

Assistant Dallas County District Attorney Gene Bailey said the state would call several witnesses today, after having used only one witness in yesterday's session.

The state's witness, Dr. A. D. Pattilo, testified that a panel of five doctors at the Terrell State Hospital which he heads believes Adair sane.

Adair, convicted of raping a suburban Dallas housewife and sentenced to die in the electric chair, was found insane by a Dallas County jury in April this year and committed to the Terrell institution.

One previous jury had deadlocked on the question of Adair's sanity.

Defense witnesses yesterday included Adair's father, a resident of El Paso, and his petite blond wife, who appeared as a witness for the first time since the original rape trial.

Both said they believed Adair's mental condition unchanged since his commitment to the State Hospital.

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 31 (UP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer (Ret), outspoken backer of Douglas MacArthur's demand that Manchurian supply lines be bombed, delivers his first address as a civilian here tonight.

Wedemeyer retired yesterday from command of the Sixth Army in San Francisco. The former commander of U. S. Forces in China during World War II was scheduled to arrive here by plane this afternoon.

The 54-year-old general will speak on "world affairs." Two radio stations will broadcast the address.

Airman Held For Mystery Attack

SAN ANTONIO, July 31 (UP)—Brooke Air Force Base authorities today held an 18-year-old Pueblo, Colo., airman for questioning about last month's mystery attack on a Brooke Sentry standing regular guard duty.

Pvt. James M. Branaum, whose father is a veterans administration official at Pueblo, was taken into custody yesterday after Air Police found the guard's missing carbine in Branaum's automobile.

The Sentry, Pfc. Francis McGill, reported June 27 that he was slugged by a man dressed in Army fatigue clothing and wearing a mask. The assailant escaped with McGill's .30 caliber carbine. It has been missing since the attack.

Base authorities said Branaum was spotted at a San Antonio filling station yesterday by two airmen who thought he was AWOL. They held Branaum until Air Police arrived.

The carbine found in Branaum's car had the same serial number as that taken from McGill.

Jaycees Give $50 To Fire Department

Virge Johnson, Chief of the Volunteer Fire Department, wishes to express in behalf of the entire force their appreciation of the fifty dollars donated to the department by the Jaycees.

GI's At Front Ask; What Are They Doing At Kaesong?

"I was lucky," said Sgt. Jarrett. "One of our men was killed." He fingered his bandage. "I sure hope they can do something over there at Kaesong."

There is no sign of life on this sweltering morning. But from these plains, the silent Chinese emerge suddenly for midnight raids—ambush by moonlight. Down these plains, the next Red drive may sweep at any moment—Kaesong or no Kaesong. The GI's wait.

A bottle of cold tea sits before each delegate at the table. The talk goes on and on. Cigarette butts pile up on ashtrays. A UN communique says "no progress."

Pfc. David W. Boyle sticks a sweat-streaked face out of his foxhole to see who is coming up the trail.

"Correspondent, huh?" He says noticing the patch. "What's going on at Kaesong... what about this agenda thing? We are hungry for information up here."

Six young Americans are up at this point of the front. Six free-thinking men in uniform wondering about what goes on in the palatial negotiation building in Kaesong. Sure, they're interested. Their lives are at stake.

A helicopter hovers overhead. It is searching the gulleys and valleys for enemy infiltration units.

Another helicopter was carrying UN negotiators back to their advance base—the so-called "truce camp." There, the delegates rested up, ate hot meals, slept in beds.

The staccato of an automatic weapon breaks the stillness. It contracts with the steady thump of Canadian heavy artillery.

A faint popping sound on the plains. A light airplane veers suddenly. It is one of our reconnaissance planes. An enemy sniper just shot at it.

"Real quiet here—except at night," the GI's say. "Then star shells light things up and patrols go into skirmishes."

There is quiet at the advance UN base at night time. Allied spokesmen tell newsmen a little of what transpired at Kaesong. Pencils scribble away—eager for every scrap of news.

The tall Arkansas soldier with the bandaged head says: "The enemy chased us for two miles with a creeping barrage and they were only 75 feet behind us when we finally got under a protecting bluff."

"What are they doing at Kaesong?"

Ranger Girl Will Join WAF Sat.

Miss Maxine Landroop will be sworn into the WAF, Saturday, August 10, at Eastland. The ceremony will be open to the public and will be an added feature of the Horned Toad Derby. Miss Landroop is a graduate of Ranger High School and Ranger Junior College.

Maxine will be sworn in by Major Noble, who is the WAC and WAF recruiter for this area from Dallas.

The first Armored Division Band from Fort Hood will appear in the parade preceding the Derby and will give a concert later in the evening.

Also coming thru the efforts of M-Sgt. Frank Lockman of the Eastland Recruiting Office will be guns of all caliber, tanks, jeeps, and many other interesting pieces of equipment that is in current use by the armed forces.

Sgt. Lockman stated that the equipment is there for the public to view and they may examine the exhibits as closely as they desire, especially the children.

There will be a recruiting booth set up at the Derby and any young man or woman wishing further information contact M-Sgt. Lockman.

They resorted to similar tactics July 21, when the conference threatened to collapse over a Communist demand for withdrawal of UN troops from Korea. On their return to the conference table last Wednesday, the Reds withdrew the demand.

Texas League Breaks Record

The Texas League, long famed as a pitcher's circuit, lived up to its reputation last night. Tulsa's Joe Nuxhall turned in the top performance. He allowed only four hits as the Oilers defeated Beaumont, 2 to 0.

Tom Gorman was the loser, but he set a Texas League record, nevertheless. The young right-hander didn't allow a run until the eighth inning and extended his string of scoreless frames to 42.

The old record of 41 scoreless innings was set in 1907 by H. I. Gayn, pitching for Waco. Gorman's streak began July 9 when he shut out Oklahoma City. He next blanked Tulsa and added two white washings of Fort Worth. It ended when Alex Grammas honored last night.

Big Hal Erickson scattered nine hits for Dallas as the Eagles defeated the league-leading Buffs, 4 to 2. Erickson capped the performance by fanning Jerry White, the Buff's home run artist, in the ninth with two on and two out. The victory moved Dallas within a game of second-running Beaumont, now seven and a half games behind Houston.

Fort Worth's Cata, meanwhile, pulled into a fourth place tie with San Antonio as they defeated the Missions' 6 to 1. Bill McCahan earned his 16th victory of the season as he allowed six hits. Hugh King of Oklahoma City also pitched a six-hitter as the Indians nipped Shreveport, 2 to 1. Joe Budny, the loser, allowed 9 hits.

The schedule remains unchanged tonight: Beaumont at Tulsa, Houston at Dallas, Shreveport at Oklahoma City, San Antonio at Fort Worth.

Trade between the Netherlands and Japan, under a new agreement, is expected to total $14,600,000 during the calendar year 1951.

Marriage Rates Return To Normal

NEW YORK, N. Y. July 31—The soaring marriage rates which followed World War II throughout much of the world have now declined to approximately pre-war levels, according to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians.

In reporting on the extent to which World War II has influenced marriage rates during the past decade, the statisticians note that the changes varied from country to country, with the most pronounced effects felt in the occupied nations and in those belligerents actively engaged in hostilities. In the neutrals, on the other hand, there was relatively little change.

In 1929-1942 the English speaking nations experienced a high point in the number of marriages which was followed by a decline for two or three years. Termination of the conflict, however, brought a new high, the peak occurring in 1945 in the British Isles, and the following year in the United States, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand.

"In this country," say the statisticians, "the rate of 16.2 marriages per 1,000 population attained in 1946 was not only the highest in the nation's history, but also higher than that of any other county in the postwar period."

The rate of marriages fell off greatly in the occupied countries

'New Look' May Come Again

PARIS, July 31 (UP)—Christian Dior, Paris fashion dictator, has decreed that midlady's skirts this winter must be nearly as long as the "new look" style he made famous four years ago.

The bachelor designer unveiled his latest creations in a plush, perfumed salon off the Champs Elysees yesterday. Models displayed skirts 10 to 12 inches off the floor.

The "new look" of 1947 set hemlines at a flat 10 inches from the floor.

of Europe during the later years of the war. In some, as Belgium, France, Italy, Luxembourg, and Romania, it was continually below the pre-war level with 5 marriages per 1,000 population not uncommon.

However, in almost every case, the end of the struggle brought a sharp upturn and in some instances, especially France the number of marriages remains much higher today than in the pre-war period.

"In general it is likely that the decline in marriage rates will continue during the next few years," observe the statisticians, "because we are entering the period in which effects of the low birth rate during the depression years will be shown in fewer people attaining marriageable age."

Student Awaits Decision On Theft

HOUSTON, July 31 (UP)—A University of North Carolina student whose conscience almost drove him "nuts" after he stole $1,900 from a ship's safe three years ago, learns today if he will face prosecution.

Milburn M. Respass, 27, of Pike Road, N.C., walked into Houston police headquarters Sunday. He carried a suitcase containing $1,200 and calmly told officers it was part of his loot from the safe of the SS Mary Luckenbach.

Police doubted his story and for 24 hours the conscience-stricken youth demanded that they believe him.

He told of taking $1,900 while he was serving as a purser aboard the Mary Luckenbach at Galveston, Tex. He persisted to such an extent that police double checked and found his story "true in every detail."

"I took the money while I was drunk," he told officers. "Since then, he said, "every time a door opened I expected to see a policeman coming in after me."

"I've about gone nuts," he added. Respass said he hid $1,500 in his North Carolina home but found last Friday that he could no longer fight his conscience. He went to the cache and found it gone. A neighbor had taken the money, he said, but gave it back.

Respass came here with the $1,200 and offered to make up the additional $600 with a promissory note.

W. J. Burns, Chief of Galveston Detectives, said he thought Respass "has already more than paid for the crime." He believed Respass would be "turned loose," but it would have to be with the agreement of an insurance company which restored the funds to the steamship line.

The Fidelity and Casualty Insurance Co., of New York City, had the final say on prosecution, Burns added.

The Luckenbach Company said it had "no further interest" in the case.

Ranger now has a traffic victim. We are fortunate that there are not more victims of speeding and reckless driving on the highway that passes through the east side of town. Highway 80 carries a heavy load of traffic day after day. The amount of traffic is not dangerous, it is the speeds they travel while passing through the city. The people of Ranger and the surrounding area are just as guilty as the transients. One of the policemen said they are going to crack down on reckless driving in Ranger. The accident that occurred near the sales barn the other day should awaken the people to the need of stricter enforcement of the driving ordinances. The next person that is killed in Ranger may be you.

The coaches from the high school and the college are attending the coaching clinic conducted by the High School Coaches Association in San Antonio this week. A lot of valuable information should be passed along to all the coaches present by the big name coaches that will conduct the clinic. When a football coach graduates from college his troubles have just started. He has to apply his knowledge to the material that he is given to from a football team. Sometimes the fans of any sport do not realize what a tough row these coaches may have to hoe. A lot depends on the coaches, but even more depends on the boys that are playing the sport. Ranger has the coaches and the material, what everyone should be thinking about now is how to be a good sport.

At the latest report the well that is located on the Pearson ranch is down to six hundred feet. It is to soon to tell anything about the potential of the well. There is a lot of interest in the test as it is a little deeper than the average well that is drilled in this area.

Anyone wishing to see some hotly contested golf without the usual labor of walking around the course, should go out in the late evening and watch the putting matches that take place at the clubhouse.

After the boys have finished their day of "Cow Pasture Pool" they retire to the clubhouse and talk it all over and engage in some hotly contested putting matches.

The Fire Department answered a call to the Addie Williams home yesterday to put out a grass fire that had ignited some wooden buildings at the back of the house. The fire was quenched before extensive damage was done.

These dry hot days are giving the Municipal Pool a rush business. Most of the kids and a number of the grownups are hitting the water to get relief from the heat.

ARMY SECRETARY WARNS WAR WITH RUSSIA IMMINENT

By JOHN L. STEELE
United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, July 31 (UP)—Army Secretary Frank C. Pace Jr. has warned Senators that a Russian attack on Iran or Yugoslavia may be imminent, and that the United States may be fighting a third world war "at any moment," it was disclosed today.

Pace's warning came as two Senate committees called on Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army Chief of Staff, and George W. Perkins, assistant secretary of State for European affairs, for up-to-the-minute briefing on the military situation in Europe.

Collins and Perkins faced questioning (at 10:30 a.m. EDT) by the Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees, which joined forces for consideration of the administration's $8,500,000,000 foreign military-economic aid bill.

Pace told the senate military spending subcommittee in a closed-door session yesterday that "the free world may be confronted at any moment with Communist aggression in Iran, Yugoslavia or some other international soft spot."

"At any moment, should the Soviets see fit to attack, we may be fighting another world war," Pace said.

Pace's warning of the possibility of a Russian strike through south east Europe and a total war was the third in recent days. Defense Secretary George C. Marshall has said that "the enemy's buildup" has increased the danger of all-out war, and President Truman warned on Saturday that the Communist were building up their forces along the Yugoslav borders.

Chief U.S. Delegate to the United Nations Warren R. Austin said in New York last night, "if Yugoslavia is attacked, we (the UN) will go to her rescue," he added, however, that he does not believe any Soviet attack on Yugoslavia is imminent.

Pace told the committee that despite "risks" involved, the military establishment still favors a policy of limited rather than total mobilization. He said limited mobilization would permit a rapid buildup if full mobilization is necessary, and could be sustained for

Practice Bomb Falls Thru Home

AMHERST, N.H., July 31 (UP)—Mrs. Earl E. Setzer, 54, narrowly escaped death when a 100-pound practice bomb dropped through the roof of her house and passed through a bedroom and first floor hallway before burying itself in the ground.

Officials at Grenier Field said that the bomb was dropped accidentally by a plane enroute to a bombing range at New Boston yesterday.

Mrs. Setzer said she was within three feet of the spot where the bomb fell.

"Another two seconds and I would have been exactly where it dropped," she said.

Bank Assets Up This Year

AUSTIN, July 31 (UP)—Total assets of the 450 state banks have increased more than $58,000,000 in the last year.

J. M. Falkner, Texas Banking Commissioner, reports their total assets on June 30 amounted to more than $1,234,000,000. Deposits of $1,237,000,000 were up some $48,000,000 over the same period in 1950.

Veteran Cattle Buyer Dies

FORT WORTH, July 31 (UP)—Funeral arrangements were being made today for R. H. (Bob) Tadiok, 65, veteran cattle buyer and first manager of the indoor rodeo of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

Tadiok died last night in a Fort Worth hospital where he had been in a critical condition for some time with a lung malignancy.

He had been in the cattle business since 1905, and was active when reported, however. Farther east, UN infantrymen dug out the last remaining Communists on mountains above Yigu, on the east-central front. The doughboys wrested the main peak of the heights from the Reds yesterday after a 5 1/2 day battle.

Elsewhere on the 155-mile fighting front, action was limited to patrol clashes and small-scale Communist probing attacks.

None of the enemy thrusts penetrated the Allied lines and most were repulsed in a matter of minutes.

Out of the Past "Englishman, 25 years old, five feet eight inches high, in different build, bends forward when he walks, pale appearance, red-brownish hair, small mustache, talks through his nose, cannot pronounce letter S properly and does not know any Dutch." From the Transvaal Government poster offering 25 pounds for the recapture of Winston Spencer Churchill, prisoner of war, after his escape from Pretoria Prison in December, 1899.

"This is my Property— . . . and I can prove it" was an announcement displayed on a signboard placed in front of a farm home which all motorists could see as they passed that way. As we read the words we wondered why it was necessary to have such a notice anyway. If this man really owned the place and could prove it, he had a good title, probably a title policy, both based on an abstract. No other proof or notice would be necessary.

Nine States Visited On Vacation Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Addie Williams and daughter, Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Williams and son of Duncan, Okla., Mrs. Liddy Herring of Fort Worth, Doris and Helen Williams and Mr. Williams, mother of Mrs. Fountain, have returned from an extended vacation and trip to Oregon to visit Mr. and Mrs. S. Garbo and daughter, Verdie Mae, of Portland.

Mrs. Fountain is 72 years old and this was her first long trip to make. She reports that it was worth waiting for.

The party drove through nine states and saw many things of interest. They traveled the northern route going and took the southern route for the return trip. Mrs. Fountain especially enjoyed crossing the highest bridge that spans the Royal Gorge in Colorado, and going through the state capital in Salt Lake City, Utah and the famous Mormon Temple there.

The group spent sometime on the seashore of the Pacific coast in Oregon, visited Jansen Beach in the state of Washington and journeyed up Mt. Hood, one of the highest mountains. There they reveled in the snow that covers the top of Mt. Hood the year round.

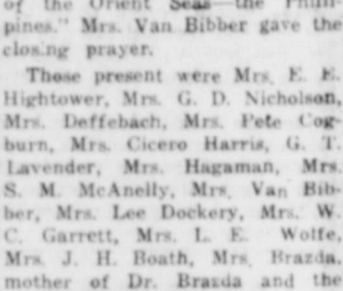

The return trip brought them through the Red Wood Forest of California, across the Golden Gate Bridge and through the Painted Desert of California and back to Ranger.
