TRUMAN CRITICIZES CONGRESS BUT SIGNS NEW CONTROL BILL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (UP)—Government agencies moved swiftly today to enforce the new 11-month economic controls signed into law by a reluctant President Truman who said the act would send both prices and wages spiraling upward.

1. The Federal Reserve board slashed credit curbs to give purchasers of automobiles, television sets, radios, household appliances and furniture 18 months to pay instead of 15. Down payments were kept at one-third for cars and 15 percent for furniture. The down payment on household appliances was cut from 25 to 15 percent.

2. The Office of Price Stabilization eliminated slaughter quotas and cancelled two pending beef price rollbacks of 4 1-2 percent each. Price Stabilizer Michael W. Disalle had called the slaughtering curbs the heart of meat price controls.

3. Mr. Truman abolished the Office of Housing Expediter and transferred its functions—including administration of rent controls—to economic stabilizer Eric A. Johnston.

4. OPS ordered importers not to pay more for imported beef than domestic ceiling price. The agency said imports of beef at above ceiling prices threatened to create black markets. The price of the imported beef must include transportation and import duties.

Houston Press Brings Young Son To Dying Mother

HOUSTON, Aug. 1 (UP)—A mercy plane, chartered by the Houston Press, flew a chubby three-year-old boy from Ennis, Tex., to Houston last night so he could see his mother who was critically burned in an explosion at her apartment yesterday.

The 20-year-old mother, Pauline Nicklas, could not see him because her eyes were swollen shut from the burns, but she could hear his voice.

St. Joseph's infirmary attendants today described the mother's condition as extremely grave and said they did not expect her to recover.

The woman told detectives that the explosion occurred shortly after she had awakened and lighted a cigarette, but firemen and officers found two apparent suicide notes in the room, one addressed to her family and the other to her small son.

They also said a gas jet had been left open and the windows had been closed.

Police said the young mother might have burned to death in the apartment but for J. L. Womack, 34, who was working on a plumbing job nearby and heard the blast.

En route to the hospital, she begged: "I want to see my baby one more time. I know I'm dying." The press immediately chartered a plane from Trans-Texas Airways, piloted by veteran Johnny Hamp and carrying Press Staff Writer Betty Ewing, the plane took off for Ennis. The woman's mother, Mrs. R. H. Nicklas, her sister, Majorie Ann, and her son boarded the plane at Corsicana.

En route back to Houston, the plane was forced down in a pasture near Buffalo by a broken oil line. The group came on to Houston by automobile, arriving here at 10:15 p.m.

"Mama, mama," the burned daughter called out. "I've got to get my eyes open so I can see my baby. I can't see my baby until they wash out my eyes."

Jackie was whimpering and the young sister said softly, "well, you can at least hear him."

He dashed into the apartment and led her out. Most of her clothing had been burned off.

En route to the hospital, she begged: "I want to see my baby one more time. I know I'm dying."

The press immediately chartered a plane from Trans-Texas Airways, piloted by veteran Johnny Hamp and carrying Press Staff Writer Betty Ewing, the plane took off for Ennis. The woman's mother, Mrs. R. H. Nicklas, her sister, Majorie Ann, and her son boarded the plane at Corsicana.

State Gets $7,500 Judgment Against Blackstone Corp.

AUSTIN, Aug. 1 (UP)—A permanent injunction and an anti-trust judgment of $7,500 was obtained yesterday by the state against the Blackstone Corp., manufacturer of washing machines.

Co-defendants in the case heard by District Judge Jack Roberts were the company's Texas distributors—Southwestern Company, Inc. of Dallas; Coastal Equipment Company, Inc. of Houston; Southern Equipment Company of San Antonio; Amarillo Hardware Company of Amarillo, and J. M. Igoe, Sr., of El Paso.

Three Texans Are Jailed In Kansas

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 1 (UP)—Two Dallas, Tex., narcotics violators who had hoped a third offender would be able to raise $11,500 bond for each of them remained in jail today in Wichita, disappointed at the law's latest turn.

After being jailed May 10, following a drugstore burglary and a police chase across an open field, Bebel R. Fairris, 19, finally posted $6,500 bond yesterday and was freed from the Sedgwick County jail.

Horace Ash, 26, and William Powell, 28, charged with Fairris, also of Dallas, depended upon him to go to Texas and raise their bond.

But Fairris failed. He was picked up immediately by Deputy Sheriff Stanley Madison of Independence, Kan., and taken to jail there, where he faces burglary charges almost identical with those he faces in Sedgwick County.

Independence has hold orders on Ash and Powell, also.

The Texas men will be tried here in the next term of court, probably in October.

Cease Fire Talks May Collapse

UN ADVANCE BASE BELOW KAESONG, Korea, Aug. 1 (UP)—Gen. Peng Teh-Huai, Chinese commander in Korea, said today that the cease-fire conference will collapse if the United Nations "deliberately off" impossible demands and stick to them."

The Chinese General's warning was broadcast by the Peiping radio shortly after UN and Communist truce negotiators at Kaesong had argued through a sixth day of deadlock over an armistice buffer zone in Korea.

A UN communique said the negotiators "failed to make progress" or change their basic positions during two hours and 22 minutes of debate.

However, Brig. Gen. William Nuckols, the official Allied briefing officer, told newsmen that the Communist negotiators had seemed "more reasonable." He did not elaborate.

F&R Oilers Defeat King Motor 3 to 2

The Ranger battery was Simpson pitching to Hamrick; Eastland had Maynard pitching to Beck. Eastland had two runs, six hits and four errors. Ranger bettered them in everything but the hit department with three runs, no errors and six hits.

Simpson of Ranger fell one short of the strikeouts set by Maynard of Eastland. Maynard bore down to retire eight Ranger batters with called strikes.

Ennis Man Is Hit By Train

ENNIS, Aug. 1 (UP)—A Southern Pacific passenger train struck and killed E. R. Cox, 74, yesterday as he crossed the railroad's tracks in front of his farm home two miles north of Ennis.

Authorities said Cox apparently failed to see or hear the train. He was walking to a mailbox when hit.

US Far Eastern Policy Blasted By Wedemeyer

'Love Burglar' Will Learn His Fate Soon

KAUFMAN, Aug. 1 (UP)—Fred Felix Adair, Jr., handsome Dallas "Love Burglar," may learn today whether he must die in the electric chair or be returned to a state mental institution.

A Kaufman County jury failed to reach a verdict last night in a sanity hearing for the 27-year-old Adair, principal in one of the most sensational cases in Dallas history.

The jury began deliberating at 9:55 p.m. and recessed three hours later. It was ordered to resume at 9 a.m. today.

Adair was convicted in March, 1950, of raping a suburban Dallas housewife as her children looked on. He was sentenced to die in the electric chair.

Adair was transferred to "death row" at Huntsville Penitentiary but his attorneys gained a stay of execution on a plea of insanity. A Dallas jury found him insane last April and he was committed to the Terrell State Hospital.

Miami Ranchers Have Cow Call

MIAMI, Tex., Aug. 1 (UP)—Ranchers in the Miami vicinity, mindful of the Third Annual Roberts County Cow Calling Contest Saturday, prepared today to move their cattle to distant points of their ranches.

They don't want any fences torn down by cattle answering calls of contestants, said County Judge Woody Pound, general chairman of the contest and a former title-holder himself.

Both contestants and spectators will get a break this year, Pound said.

Contestants will call toward Deer Creek, instead of toward a mesa as in the past. This should provide greater range, Pound explained, since the calls will bounce off the creek bank and the echoes roll down the stream bed.

Spectators also will be able to see the callers in full voice. Last year, only their backs were visible to spectators.

Club Members Attend Barbecue At Country Club

Approximately one hundred people attended the Country Club barbecue held last night at the Club House.

"Cur" Goodman and the troupe that was here for the appearance at the Arcadia Theatre entertained the members for a short time at the barbecue before leaving to meet their engagement at the movie.

After the barbecue was served at the barbecue pit below the club house the members returned to the club house for bridge and other games.

Child Abandoned By Waco Couple

WACO, Aug. 1 (UP)—Waco police searched today for a couple who apparently abandoned their eight-month-old daughter with an elderly baby sitter who complained to police yesterday the child was "wearing me out."

Mrs. Maude Derkman, 65, said the couple had left the child with her on several previous occasions and always returned.

But Sunday, she said, they left the child "for an hour or so." They hadn't returned yet today.

Friends Plow For Neighbor

SHAMROCK, Aug. 1 (UP)—J. A. Glover's crop was all plowed and attended to today, as friends and neighbors took care of him for a third time.

Glover has been unable to work the past several months because of illness.

The first time, volunteer workers plowed his crop. Then they replanted it after heavy rains washed it out. The third time, they returned to plow and cultivate it.

80,000 CASUALTIES; STILL INDECISION IN KOREAN WAR

By Carter Bradley
United Press Staff Correspondent
OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 1 (UP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer (Ret.) has sharply criticized this nation's Far Eastern policy and said every available means should be used to gain victory in Korea.

He made no reference, however, to the use of the atom bomb.

Wedemeyer, who retired from the Army Monday after 32 years of service, bluntly expressed his views in two addresses here last night.

He declared that the United States was "naively" drawn into a war which "hasn't settled anything" despite 80,000 American casualties.

"Let us not permit the United Nations to dissipate our manpower and resources all over the world," said the American military commander in China during World War II.

"If the decision is to keep our boys in Korea, then remove the restrictions and give our boys every weapon in democracy's arsenal."

Ezzard Expected To Force Return Fight Of Walcott

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (UP)—Ezzard Charles was expected to triumph over champion Jersey Joe Walcott today in their dispute about the date for a return heavy-weight title fight.

Backed by "about 10,000 letters from clergymen and other youth-molders," Pappy Walcott wanted to delay their return bout until next summer so that he could "deliver the message of a clean life to the nation's youngsters."

But backed by a contract providing for a return bout before Oct. 16, ex-champ Charles of Cincinnati insisted that 37-year-old Jersey Joe carry out the terms of his agreement.

Their managers were slated to make their arguments before promoter Jim Norris of the International Boxing Club today at a secret huddle in a mid-town hotel.

Whether Norris sided with either was not known. He has each under contract for exclusive ring service with the I.B.C. However, Norris and Attorney Sol Strauss did explore thoroughly the return bout contract yesterday. But Norris admitted he would not try to force Jersey Joe into a quick decision, in case the Charles outfit unexpectedly agreed to a delay.

In such case Norris would be ready to substitute a feather-weight title fight between champion Sandy Saddler and ex-champ Willie Pep at the Polo Grounds, Sept. 26.

Tom Tannas, co-manager of Charles, still insisted today that Walcott must defend against Ezzard before Oct. 16.

Tannas, here for the conference, said: "We gave Walcott the shot at Ezzard's title at Pittsburgh, July 18, on condition that Walcott grant Ezzard a return bout within 90 days in case Walcott won. We believed then that Walcott signed the return-bout in good faith, and now we expect him to live up to it."

Feller Gets 16th Win Of Season

NEW YORK, Aug. 1 (UP)—Bobby Feller's proudest moments in baseball may be just ahead today because the incomparable Cleveland right hander is pitching at the same lustrous level as in 1939 and 1940, which were the two greatest years of his career.

Feller, number one winner in the majors with 16 victories against only four defeats, gained his latest triumph last night, 5 to 3, over the Senators in Washington, putting the Indians within two games of the idle Yankees, and a full game ahead of the Red Sox, who were defeated, 8 to 6 by the lowly Browns.

The one-time Iowa plowboy, whose fireball made him the greatest pitcher in the majors in the decade before World War II, no longer has that zip in his grip, but he's winning more consistently than ever. For in 1940, when he had his top year in the majors with 27 wins and 11 defeats, his mark on Aug. 1 was 17-6, giving him a better percentage as of now. And in 1939, the year in which he wound up with his top winning percentage of 24-9, he had a mark of 16-6 as of this date.

Last night's victory which came when the Indians put over three runs in the ninth inning was especially significant because it put Feller in the books officially as Cleveland's all-time number one hurler. It was his 224th triumph, tapping the club's previous all-time high of 223 set by Mel Harder, now a Cleveland coach, between 1930 and 1947. Feller has won his games in the much more short span of 1936-1951 counting out three full years for Navy service.

At Boston, the Browns roared up with four runs in the eighth to clinch the victory for reliever Setchel Paige, who went to the rescue of ace Ned Garver when he pulled a leg muscle in the fifth. The Red Sox protested the victory because they claimed Paige's famous "hesitation period" constituted a balk motion with runners on base. Two of the Browns' home runs came on a wild throw by Billy Goodman.

In the only other American league game the skidding White Sox lost their 10th decision in the last 11, and fell 7 1/2 games behind the pace, dropping a 4 to 2 game to the Athletics.

In the National League, Brooklyn won its 10th game in a row as Don Newcombe won his ninth straight and his 15th of the season, 4 to 3 from Pittsburgh, while the second place Giants stayed 9 1/2 games back by topping the Cubs, 4 to 3. Rookie Chet Nichols of the Braves blanked the Cardinals, 6 to 0, on four hits, and the Phillies made six runs in the ninth, three on a homer by Del Ennis to defeat Cincinnati 7 to 5.

Motley county ranchers have sprayed more than 14,000 acres of range land this year with ester of 2, 4, 5-T to control mesquite. It was applied by airplane.

PLUG 'N TRIGGER

A gloomy forecast for Texas 1951 hunting season, particularly on migratory birds, was made today by a Game, Fish and Oyster Commission official.

Last winter's hard freeze and the continuing drought were reported taking their toll, with prospects for the white-wing dove season in south Texas described as "pretty discouraging."

E. G. Marsh, assistant game commission director for the commission, said the situation in the Rio Grande Valley "looks pretty low."

He said the bird population was abnormally low and the birds have had a bad nesting season. Reports from officials who investigated white-wing dove breeding grounds in northeast Mexico indicate that the breeding population is 75 per cent lower than last year, he said.

"We don't know what happened to them," he said, "or where they went."

Marsh pointed out that the birds normally travel from southern Mexico, where they live in the winter, to the breeding grounds. This year, many of them didn't make it.

The severe freeze, last winter, he added, killed a large amount of nesting cover for the birds in the lower Rio Grande Valley. Coupled with the continuing drought, he said, "it's pretty discouraging looking from where we stand now."

Eagles Regaining Early Season Form

The Dallas Eagles appear to be regaining their early-season form and that's bad news for other Texas League clubs.

The Eagles defeated the league-leading Houston Buffaloes, 4 to 0, last night. They engineered the win, their second in a row over the Buffs, on sparkling one-hit pitching by young Ray Narleski coupled with timely hitting.

Narleski allowed the lone hit, a single, in the seventh inning to Larry Higgins. He struck out 10 and allowed three walks while his teammates collected seven hits.

The victory moved Dallas into a second-place tie with Beaumont, seven-and-a-half games behind Houston. Beaumont lost last night, 5 to 0, as Tulsa's Bob Curley handcuffed the Roughnecks on four hits.

San Antonio, meanwhile, took undisputed possession of fourth place by defeating Fort Worth's Cats, 4 to 1, in a game briefly interrupted by rain. A first-inning homer by Babe Martin, good for three runs, was the blow that strapped a fourth-place tie between the clubs going into the game.

Shreveport also got back on the winning track for a chance as it whipped Oklahoma City, 10 to 5. The Sports did it the hard way, coming behind with late-inning runs. Grant Danlap provided the biggest punch—a grand-slam homer in the eighth.

The schedule changes tonight. San Antonio is at Dallas, Houston at Fort Worth, Shreveport at Tulsa, and Beaumont at Oklahoma City.

WT-NM League Gets Back Its Hitting Form

West Texas-New Mexico League sluggers got back into the groove last night to the obvious delight of fans.

League-leading Abilene connected for 12 hits as it trounced Lubbock, 12 to 1. The second-place Hubbers got six hits.

Amarillo turned in the lushest display of power. The Gold Sox smashed 13 hits, just enough to top Clovis, 9 to 8, in a see-saw battle. Clovis collected 11 safeties.

Fampa, fighting hard to win a first-inning berth, collected a dozen hits in howling over Lamesa, 12 to 6.

Borger had the weakest winning attack—"weak" by West Texas-New Mexico League standards, that is—as it whipped Albuquerque, 8 to 1, on 11 hits.

KILLER'S PACE

BY JULIUS LONG

THE STORY: In order to save his life from the electric chair, Star Williams, her lawyer and my (Julius Long's) boss, did some sleight of hand. His trick was exposed and now he must prove Rose innocent or be hanged. But right after the trial Rose was murdered and twice I had to tell her she had to shoot me.

Imagine him lending LaGrange to a client, and I can imagine the rest of the gang desiring to avenge LaGrange's death at your hands."

OUTSIDE La Jolla Club was a nightmar in neon; inside it was about average for the Midwest. To the right as you entered was a long bar with a lot of neon and glass at the back and three nearby bald bartenders.

It was my first trip inside the place. I went over to the bar and ordered bourbon.

I was just giving the order when I noticed a couple entering. It was Larry Stone and Madam Sonya Sareeta, all right, and though Stone was very pretty in a tux, it was Madam Sonya who had put on the war paint for the occasion.

Her jet-black hair was up in some kind of an elaborate hair-do, and only a silvery slim gal could have gotten away with the slinky gown she wore.

Stone escorted her to a table in a secluded alcove, and eyes popped over her chair. It looked as if she had but on the gown backwards.

The waiter had taken their order when a man in a tuxedo appeared from a draped doorway at the left and walked to the table. He was middle-aged, about 50, but his bushy, graying hair gave him a distinguished look. He was Al Nanabarro, the proprietor, Larry Stone rose and shook hands with a certain deference.

Lots of people treated Al Nanabarro with a certain deference. I have known few night club owners with bona fide gangster backgrounds, but I thought it probable that Nanabarro's past lived up to his reputation. Some months back there had been quite a stink about the strange death of a line girl, Frannie Martin, who had been Nanabarro's favorite. She had apparently died when she had driven his car off a bridge and into a river. Nanabarro didn't remain long at the table. He excused himself and crossed to the bar. I observed him through the mirror. We had only a slight speaking acquaintance; I hoped he wouldn't recognize me with my back turned. His deep facial creases grew deeper, as he asked a barman:

"Louise hasn't come in yet?" "No, Mr. Nanabarro. Shall I tell her you want to see her?" "Never mind."

He crossed to the draped door beyond which must have been his office and vanished.

About 10, five girls walked in. Their clothes and make-up stamped them as show girls. They spoke cheerily to the barman and vanished through a doorway at the right.

After a while all five girls came back and climbed on bar stools and went through the business of being chummy with the customers. At a quarter after 10 a sixth girl walked in. She was as obviously a line girl as the others, but she had it on them by a good 50 miles. Moreover, she walked with a certain authority. This, I decided, would be Louise, the boss's girl friend.

LOUISE came back, eyed the remaining bar stools and selected one about five stools from me. There was a vacant stool on either side of her, and I moved to the one on her left.

"Hello, Louise." Louise gave me the fish-eye. She was trying to make up her mind if she had ever known me. The nearest barman gave me a sour stare. Louise said:

"I don't believe I ever met you before, Mac." "No, they told me the best-looking girl here was named Louise, so I knew you had to be Louise."

"They also tell you Louise is the boss's girl?" "Sure. By the way, he was inquiring about you a little while ago. I think he had an idea you were late or something." Louise looked frightened. Then she put on a smile.

Eisenhower's Recent Speech Is Mark of Internationalism

BY PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's Fourth of July speech before the English Speaking Union in London is being studied closely in Washington as a declaration of his political principles. If the Republican Party takes Eisenhower as its Presidential candidate in 1952, it will have to take the general's ideas along with the man.

For unless the general has a complete change of character from a political bug bite, he will not surrender his principles just for the sake of being agreeable to the ultra-reactionary Republican hierarchy.

General Eisenhower's speech in London was a clear-cut and forceful declaration in favor of international cooperation. The main theme was the need for unification in Europe. This is, of course, not an American political problem. It's up to the Europeans.

But in the course of his remarks, General Eisenhower emphasized that this is also an American and a British problem.

"Could we not help?" he asked. "We, the peoples of the British Commonwealth and of the United States have profited by unity at home. If, with our moral and material assistance, the free European nations could attain a similar integration, our friends would be strengthened, our own economies would be improved, and the laborious North Atlantic Treaty machinery of mutual assistance vastly simplified."

As for America's contribution to this effort, General Eisenhower defined it simply. "We must develop promptly the American force that will assure the safety of our friends upon the continent and the security of the free world," he said.

"THIS is the challenge of our times," he continued—"that until satisfactory met, establishes priorities in all our thoughts, our work, our sacrifices. The hand of the aggressor is stayed by strength—and by strength alone."

Now this is a doctrine of internationalism. It is far removed from the traditional Republican brand of isolationism. The people who advocate that America should "go it alone," those who believe that American foreign aid programs should be drastically cut, and those who even believe that the American defense mobilization should be slowed down will find little comfort in General Eisenhower's views.

"The project of achieving European unity faces the deadly danger of procrastination, timid measures, slow steps and cautious stages," he declared. "Granted that the bars of tradition and habit are numerous and stout, the greatest bars to this, as in any human enterprise, lie in the minds of men themselves."

Darkhorse Favored In Women's Open Red Sox Protest

DETROIT, Aug. 1 (UP)—Barbara McIntyre, 16-year-old Toledo, O., high school junior, loomed today as the number one dark horse as the second round of the Women's Western Amateur Open Golf Tournament got underway.

The pretty brunette who would "rather play golf than eat," climbed from the ranks of the unknown yesterday with a blistering sub-par performance to oust the 1950 runner-up, Mae Murray of Rutland, Vt.

Miss McIntyre was four strokes under par when she ended the match on the 15th green. She was to tee off against veteran tournament player Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur, Ill., today.

Man With 3 Year Hiccups Seeks New Treatment

LOS ANGELES, July 31 (UP)—Thin, hollow-eyed Jack O'Leary, who has hiccupped once every second for more than three years, leaves today for a Portland, Ore., clinic, where he hopes to find a cure for his strange ailment.

The former grocery clerk's mother, Mrs. Margaret O'Leary, said she would accompany her son to a clinic which was recommended by doctors at Salt Lake City, Utah, where O'Leary recently underwent a series of tests.

A friend has offered to pay their train fare to Portland, she said.

Navy Continues Pounding Wonsan

8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Aug. 1 (UP)—Rain and heavy overcast combined with cease-fire talks today to keep all quiet on the Korean front.

But United Nations Naval forces reported they carried the longest sustained naval battle on record through its 169th straight day Tuesday by shelling the Communist east coast port of Wonsan.

Bad Weather kept UN warplane sorties to a total of a little more than 100, 44 of them before dawn.

"Eighth Army Forces maintained positions and patrolled, encountering light enemy resistance along the Korean battlefield," a communique said.

There were brief engagements with the enemy by patrols on the western front. Some patrols ran into mine fields.

A navy press release said the United States heavy cruiser Helena and the destroyers O'Brien, Hubbard, Brown, and Yarnall rained hundreds of eight inch and five inch shells on Wonsan to "defeat another determined effort by the Reds to drive UN Forces out of the harbor."

Communist artillery batteries in the hills along the shore fired steadily at the bombarding warships until they were silenced.

Cotton Prospects Down In Texas

The U. S. Department of Agriculture blamed extreme temperatures and a general lack of rain.

However, the picture was fairly bright across the northern part of the state and in the high plains where cotton was blooming and fruiting rapidly.

Crops and pastures, the USDA said, continued to suffer from lack of moisture in all areas except the high plains, parts of the low rolling plains extreme north-central counties.

The cotton harvest was starting as far north as south-central and southeastern counties.

Combining of grain sorghums was in full swing in the upper coastal and south-central counties.

Some producers were benefiting from the generally unfavorable conditions. The USDA said conditions continued favorable for active harvest of the few remaining commercial vegetables. Rail movement of watermelons was active and supplies were expected to be available in volume for fairly active movement through most of August.

However, some growers in the lower valley were reported delaying preparation of seed beds because of the uncertainty of ample water for irrigation. In the

"This is my Property—
... and I can prove it" was an announcement displayed on a signboard placed in front of a farm home which all motorists could see as they passed that way. As we read the words we wondered why it was necessary to have such a notice anyway. If this man really owned the place and could prove it, he had a good title, probably a title policy, both based on an abstract. No other proof or notice would be necessary.

Waco Parents Get Letter From Son Missing In Action

WACO, Aug. 1 (UP)—A letter was received here yesterday from the second Waco soldier reported missing in action in Korea, and presumably a prisoner of the enemy.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hernandez, parents of Pfc. Abraham R. Hernandez, said their son, in a letter dated March 15, said he was getting the best of treatment, enough to eat and lived in warm quarters.

Pfc. Hernandez has been missing since Jan. 1, this year. He was with the 19th Regiment, 24th Infantry Division.

Earlier, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Becker received a letter from their son, Cpl. A. J. Becker, containing a message similar to that written by Hernandez. Cpl. Becker was with the 1st Cavalry Division and has been missing since Nov. 2, 1950.

Both letters were postmarked at Canton, China, and bore the stamp "Chinese People's Committee for World Peace."
