DETECTIVES CAPTURE MURDER WHILE HE READS THE BIBLE

CHICAGO, Aug. 17 (UP)—Murderer Harry Williams, who killed a guard in his daring escape from a death row cell, stonily refused to answer questions today after he was captured reading a Bible on a streetcar.

Williams, a burly 20-year-old Negro, gave up docilely to four detectives who brought a two-day city-wide manhunt to a quiet close last night.

Five heavily-armed policemen guarded his special security cell in county jail today. But, after hours of questioning, Williams stolidly refused to tell how he broke out of the jail's execution row Tuesday.

Police brought his 40-year-old mother into the cell where he was being questioned in hopes of breaking his silence.

But Williams stood fixedly ahead and would not look at her. Later, when his mother was brought in again, he muttered: "I read what you said about giving myself up in the papers. I was thinking of coming in when they arrested me."

Williams was sitting quietly in a streetcar reading the New Testament when Sgt. Vincent Cunningham and three other policemen found him.

Cunningham, holding his gun beneath his jacket, sat down beside Williams. He jabbed the gun in Williams' stomach and asked calmly "Harry Williams?"

Sheriff John E. Babb, who had offered a $1,000 reward for Williams dead or alive, said it would be divided among Cunningham and his three assisting officers.

Williams escaped by loosening a steel plate and twisting his way up to the prison roof through a ventilating shaft. He slid to the ground on the sheets, climbed a guard tower, and killed guard George Turley.

Williams was awaiting a Sept. 14 date in the electric chair for the killing of a 45-year-old woman.

Lee Everheart Wins Grand Prize At Poultry Meet

Lee Everheart, of the Tip Top Feed and Hatchery, won the grand prize of a $425 electric deep freeze at the Texas Poultry Improvement Association meeting in Dallas this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Everheart spent the previous week in Iowa attending a poultry school of instruction sponsored by the Dr. Salisbury Company, producers of stock remedies.

While attending both meetings Everheart attended lectures and classes on the latest improvements in the poultry industry. Ways of preventing and curing diseases, methods of selecting better eggs for hatching and ways of keeping the blood strain pure in poultry were among the things Everheart studies.

Collision Fatal To Five Texans

SAN JOSE, Calif., Aug. 17 (UP)—Collision of an auto with a lumber truck 10 miles south of here yesterday cost the lives of five Texans, including an Army sergeant and his bride of a week.

Killed were Sgt. George H. Griffin, 22, of Fort Hood; his wife, Mike, 5, her son by a previous marriage; Melvin Griffin, 50, warehouse foreman of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and father of the sergeant; and his wife, Luna Mae.

Driver of the truck, Charles C. White, 30, was unhurt. He said his truck and the Texas car met in the center lane of the three-lane highway, each in passing other vehicle.

SELF STYLED "JESSE JAMES" DIES AT 107 IN GRANDBURY

GRANDBURY, Aug. 17 (UP)—J. Frank Dalton, a bearded ancient of 107, died claiming to the very end that he was the famous outlaw, Jesse James.

Dalton made headlines in 1948 when he announced that James hadn't been shot to death in 1883 at St. Joseph, Mo., as most everyone believed. No indeed, he said. The man slain actually was one Charlie Bigelow.

Dalton said he went into hiding after the shooting and kept quiet about who he really was until he told his story in 1948 to the Lawton, Okla., Constitution.

The centenarian's claims received credence in many quarters, but circuit Judge Ransom Bruer of Missouri failed to approve them.

Bruer last year threw out Dalton's petition to "restore" the name Jesse James to him.

Since then, Dalton—or, possibly, James—had lived quietly in Grandbury, telling everyone that he was James.

A great-grandson of Dalton accompanied the body to the funeral home of Ben Estes and told the undertaker: "This is Jesse James." He cautioned Estes to use the name of Jesse James in his records.

The great-grandson, Lee Hawk, also told Estes that the death certificate would be made out in the name of Jesse James, because the aged Dalton "truly was" the fabled outlaw.

Estes said funeral services for Dalton were tentatively set for either tomorrow or Sunday. He died Wednesday night.

Arrest Of Man Behind Dallas Bombings Seen

DALLAS, Aug. 17 (UP)—Officers cautiously conceded today that they may be close to the "mastermind" behind the terroristic attacks against Negro-owned property in South Dallas.

The admission followed filing of arson charges yesterday against four men accused of burning a small home in the fringe area where 13 bombings and bombing attempts have occurred.

The new cases brought to light the number of men charged in the terroristic activities.

Ranger Capt. Bob Crowder and Deputy Police Chief Harry Riddle said "several fires" in the area tie in with the bombings and that "money from the same source" paid for both.

Arson counts were lodged against Elmer H. (Red) White, manager of a Dallas liquor store; Dowell C. Bailey, identified as a resident of the store building; Burl Foster, a truck driver and painter, and T. D. Peacock, Jr., 24, a Fort Worth ex-convict employed as a truck driver.

White and Bailey were charged with arson on Feb. 25, 1950, in the fire which damaged the frame home at 4518 Leland, in the bomb-hit neighborhood.

Foster and Peacock were charged with starting a second fire at the same house which destroyed it on March 3, 1950.

The house was owned by its white occupant, Oscar P. Fischer, Crowder said, and Fischer had offered it for sale, and showed it to several prospective Negro buyers.

At the time of the destructive second blaze, Fischer had agreed on a sale to Tennessee Germany, a Negro, and moved out.

None of the accused men lived in the strained neighborhood and Riddle and Crowder said they apparently were "hired for the job, by money from the same source that paid for the bombings."

The officers said "some" of the new suspects made statements implicating themselves and the others in burning of the home.

Rangers and police said "several" other South Dallas fires which occurred before the chain of bombings are under investigation because "we believe they were motivated by the same thing and that some of the same people are involved."

Bankline Gets Huge Gasser In Lake Test

Bankline Oil Company's No. 1 B George P. Fee showed an estimated 15 million cubic feet of gas in the Lake Sand in a drillstem test Wednesday, indicating that the well is one of the biggest gas wells ever to be drilled in the area, about five miles northwest of Eastland.

The lake was topped at 3,451 feet Tuesday and showed five million cubic feet of gas with no oil. Drilling was resumed to 3,485 feet and a second test was run. Operators were continuing drilling in the Lake in an effort to increase the oil.

In the same area, J. J. Lynn has staked two offsets to his recently completed No. 1 J. Arnold, the No. 3 and No. 4 J. Arnold.

The No. 3 Arnold is to be 1,170 feet from the north and 1,950 feet from the west lines of Section 44, Block 4, H&TC Survey.

The No. 4 Arnold will be 1,520 feet from the north and 1,950 feet from the west lines of the same section. Both wells are to be drilled with rotary.

Air Force Will Use B-25s Again

DAYTON, O., Aug. 17 (UP)—The U. S. Air Force is going to put its World War II B-25 Mitchell bombers back to work, the Air Force Air Materiel Command announced today.

Reconditioning and modification of the B-25's will be the first operation at the reactivated Birmingham, Ala., modification center, the AMC said. The bombers, in storage at Pyote, Texas, since World War II, will become TB-25's and will be used for twin-engine pilot training.

The reconditioning and modification program will be handled by the Hayes Aircraft Corp. and will cost about $5,600,000, AMC said. Hayes will employ some 3000 workers to do the job.

Hitler's Yacht To Be Scrapped

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Aug. 17 (UP)—A mobilization official applied a cutting torch to Adolf Hitler's $4,000,000 yacht today and sent it on its way to "join freedom's fight" against a possible new aggressor.

The ceremony at a local dock was the first step in breaking up the 476-foot vessel for scrap, urgently needed for making tanks, guns and other steel products.

The National Production Authority (NPA) estimated that the luxury yacht, built for Hitler in 1935, would yield 3,000 tons of high quality scrap steel valued at $200,000. Mills use half a ton of scrap for every ton of steel produced.

Woman Murderer Very Thorough

WESTERHOLT, Germany, Aug. 17 (UP)—Police accused Mrs. Elizabeth Ilmisch, 57, of murdering her husband but admitted that at least she was thorough.

Albert Ilmisch, 55, went home drunk Wednesday night and threatened Mrs. Ilmisch with a knife, police said. She then, they charged, threw a handful of pepper into his face, hit him with a heavy hammer, slashed a vein in his arm with a knife and poured a bottle of essence vinegar into his mouth.

Surgeon Charged In Killing By Drunkenly Giving Drugs

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Aug. 17 (UP)—A $40,000-a-year brain specialist was charged today with killing a woman patient by drunkenly injecting drugs into her neck to relieve a headache, then trying to revive her by pouring a drink of gin into her mouth.

Dr. Perry E. Hewitt, Jr., pleaded innocent at his arraignment yesterday. He said he hoped the hearing into the death of Mrs. Allene Shuler, 38, of Berger, Tex., would be quick and "the sooner the better."

He was ordered to appear Tuesday for a preliminary hearing of first degree manslaughter charges.

Mrs. Shuler died Aug. 9 in City Hospital 17 hours after Hewitt injected intracaine into her neck to relieve headache pains. She never regained consciousness.

The complaint charged "that while in a state of intoxication and without a desire to effect death, Hewitt administered certain drugs and medicine known as intracaine by injecting said medicine in the back of the neck."

"While still in a state of intoxication," the complaint said Hewitt "continued over a period of approximately two hours to administer other drugs and medicines" including "caffeine, coramine and metrazol."

The charges grew out of a prolonged investigation and were filed by Muskogee County attorney Ed Edmondson.

Edmondson quoted Hewitt as saying "the woman collapsed in a chair when the injection was made with a long hypodermic needle."

Hewitt told police he tried to revive his patient by giving her counter-injections and when that failed he tried to force a drink of gin into Mrs. Shuler's mouth. That did not work either, he

DELEGATES LEAVE INFORMAL MEETING IN VERY GOOD MOOD

United Press Staff Correspondent
UN ADVANCE BASE BELOW KAESONG, Korea, Saturday, Aug. 18 (UP)—The United Nations and Communist commands opened informal negotiations on a Korean truce line in a friendly atmosphere Friday and hope for a compromise agreement rose sharply.

There were indications that both sides are prepared to make concessions in an attempt to end a three-week deadlock on the line to be drawn between the UN and Red armies.

A sub-committee named to discuss the truce line on a man-to-man basis under a news blackout, met for four hours and two minutes at Kaesong yesterday. The next meeting is set for 11 a.m. today (7 p.m. Friday CST).

The Chinese Communist Peiping Radio, giving the strongest indication yet that the Reds might be ready to compromise, said their demand for a truce line along the 38th Parallel "can certainly be adjusted where necessary and reasonable from the point of topography and the defensive needs of both sides."

A broadcast by the "Voice of the UN Command" radio of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's Supreme Headquarters in Tokyo, referring to the Allied demand for a truce line based on the present battle front, said:

"The UN command is willing to balance the land it will gain north of the Parallel by making concessions on the west coast. The land area thus will remain about the same, whether the line is on the 38th Parallel or along the present battle line positions."

Taken together, the broadcasts seemed to imply that the subcommittee meeting in Kaesong might have instructions which would lead them toward agreement.

The two United Nations and two Communist negotiators declined comment on the results of their meeting, but they emerged from the conference room in a jovial mood.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. (riamming Hank) Hodes, Deputy Chief of Staff of the 8th Army and chief Allied representative on the subcommittee, put his arm around the Chief North Korean delegate, Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho, as the group posed for pictures together.

The other two delegates, U. S. Rear Admiral Arleigh (31-Knot) Burke and Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Faig, believed the "brains" of the Communist cease-fire delegation, also appeared in good spirits.

Both sides were believed to have begun their search for a mutually-acceptable cease-fire line and demilitarized buffer zone in a mood to compromise.

The Chinese Communist radio at Peiping only a few hours earlier for the first time said the Reds were willing to make "adjustments" in their demand for a buffer zone along the 38th Parallel, pre-war frontier between North and South Korea.

The UN command also has expressed willingness to make "adjustments" in its proposal for a cease-fire along the present battlefront, in some places 30 miles north of the Parallel.

Other developments in the cease-fire conference situation included:

1. Supreme UN Commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's public information office issued a bulletin warning the Reds again that if the truce talks break down over the location of a cease-fire line, "the onus of further war will be placed on the Communist shoulders."

2. A second bulletin from Ridgway's public information office suggested that Communist commanders may be using the cease-fire truce flag as a cover to supply front-line troops.

3. Communist liaison officers rejected a UN offer of safe-conduct for conference vehicles between the conference city of Kaesong and the Communist capital P'yongyang, if the Reds abided by a regular schedule during daylight hours.

The first session of the cease-fire subcommittee charged with finding a solution to the deadlock over location of a cease-fire line lasted four hours and two minutes.

Radio Peiping, voice of Communist China, quoted North Korean Gen. Nam Il chief of the Communist negotiating team in Kaesong, as saying that the Reds are willing to make "adjustments" in their demand for a buffer zone along the 38th Parallel.

"Our proposal on the demilitarized zone—can, of course, be adjusted where this is necessary and reasonable from the view of topography and the corresponding requirements of both sides," Peiping quoted Nam Il as saying.

It indicated the North Korean General made his offer of "adjustments" during Thursday's 26th full plenary session.

Although Nam Il is officially head of the Communist negotiating team, China's Hsieh is believed the real top man and his presence in the subcommittee was considered significant.

Shuler said his wife had been treated previously by Hewitt.

The 41-year-old specialist enjoys a high reputation in this area. His large practice is said to earn him $40,000 a year. He was freed on $5,000 bond.

Edmondson said the needle and drug used in the initial injection were examined by the FBI at Washington and an autopsy was performed on Mrs. Shuler's body at Tulsa, Okla.

But he refused to disclose the results of either examination.

"The terms of our reports will be made public at trial time and we have no further statement to make at this time.

The subcommittee will begin its work immediately and the main negotiations will be recessed until the subcommittee makes its recommendations. Maj. Gen. Henry Hodes, left, Deputy Chief of Staff of the 8th Army, and one other delegate still to be named, will represent the UN on the subcommittee. The red representatives will be Maj. Gen. Information On Newcastle In Flock Given

AUSTIN, (Spl.)—How successful a farmer may be in avoiding Newcastle disease losses in his poultry flock in the months ahead depends a lot on what he does this summer says a report today by the American Foundation for Animal Health.

"Newcastle disease is much easier to keep off a farm than it is to control once it becomes established," reports the Foundation.

Faultymen were advised to take these steps this month to help keep the deadly virus from their flocks:

- (1) Visitors and buyers should not be allowed in the poultry yard. The virus may be carried in shoes, clothing and trucks. (2) Feed should be brought only in new bags, or used bags which have been thoroughly disinfected. (3) Crates returned from market should be sterilized before they are allowed on the farm. (4) Rats should be poisoned, and cats and dogs kept out of the yards and feed rooms. They may act as mechanical carriers of the disease. (5) Chicks should be bought only from Newcastle-accredited hatcheries. (6) All dead birds should be promptly buried or burned. (7) New birds should be isolated from the old flock for several weeks to make sure they do not have Newcastle disease. (8) Chickens which may have been exposed to the virus at fairs or show places should be eliminated from the flock.

Have To Be Born There To Be Accepted

DANVILLE, N. H. (UP)—In rural New England areas, folks can live in a community a dozen years and still be considered foreigners by the natives.

Take the case of a 92-year-old man who lived here 60 years before he died. An elderly couple were talking of his death, recalled he had lived in the village three score years, and said: "He was a wonderful man—too bad he wasn't born here."

Frogs have been known to eat fireflies. Birds, despite their good appetites for insects, are more fastidious, and rarely if ever eat fireflies, U. S. Government studies show.

AUSTIN, Aug. 17 (UP)—Buses of Coastal Coaches, Inc., can't get on the Galveston-Bulvar ferry ahead of other waiting cars, Attorney General Price Daniel has ruled.

Dies Takes Over Fight Of Wives Against SS Taxes

MARSHALL, Tex., Aug. 17 (UP)—Martin Dies, former congressman from Texas, said today the case of 18 Marshall housewives who refuse to pay social security taxes on their servants would have to be settled by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The housewives hired Dies yesterday to press their case which has attracted nationwide attention. They claim the government seeks to make them "unpaid federal tax collectors."

Mrs. Carolyn Abney, one of the leaders of the battling housewives, said "we've only begun to fight." She said that now that the case is in Dies' hands, he will do "all the talking in the future."

Dies talked, and willingly. "This is a matter of whether Congress can control a private citizen in an intrastate matter as an involuntary and uncompensated tax collector to raise funds to be promptly wasted," said the one-time head of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

He said the highway commission has no authority to give special treatment to buses.

Polio Hits New Peak For Year

AUSTIN, Aug. 17 (UP)—Polio rocketed to 97 cases in Texas last week, hitting a new high for the year, state health officer George W. Cox reported today.

The latest figure compared with 92 for the previous week and brought the total for this far in 1951 to 874, far under last year's record-breaking toll.

Dallas paced the state last week with a total of 17 cases. Other counties reporting included: Bexar and Tarrant, 10 each; Taylor, 8; Harris, 7; Tom Green, 4; Nueces and Young, 3 each; Gregg, Jefferson, McLennan, Milam, Navarro, Smith and Travis, 2 each; Baylor, Bell, Bowie, Brazos, Cameron, Clay, Galveston, Gray, Hale, Haskell, Hidalgo, Hockley, Howard, Hutchinson, Lamb, Medina, Orange, Parker, Van Zandt, Victoria, and Armed Forces, 1 each.

HERE'S EASY WAY TO MAKE HOME GROW

Finishing the attic into rooms is the easy and economical way to expand a small home, as a Navy veteran recently demonstrated. He found a trim bungalow (upper left) he liked in a Minneapolis suburb but it was too cramped for his family of five. His solution was to convert the unfinished attic (lower left) into living quarters, including an attractive bedroom, a playroom, a sewing center and a storage area. The bedroom (right) has ceiling and sidewalls of decorative insulating board, an easy-to-apply material that builds, insulates and decorates at the same time. Insulating board in large sheets is used for the ceiling, while planks of the same material form the sidewalls. Space behind the knee wall on one side of the attic is finished with doors, drawers and shelves for storage. Cost for materials to finish the entire attic, including building items, wiring and fixtures, hardware and heating ducts, was well under $400. Photos by American Builder

The Time Between You— . . . and financial loss may be years away depending on circumstances, but if you are living in a home without knowing anything about the title it may be sooner than you realize. Consider the couple who lost their all by buying without an abstract. It's better to be safe than sorry and a thousand times cheaper. Be wise and follow the course of successful business men who always insist on an abstract before buying any kind of real estate.

Rev. and Mrs. Spivy Tour Nine States During Their Vacation

Rev. and Mrs. Floyd J. Spivy returned Wednesday night from a three weeks tour which took them through nine states.

The Spivys met Rev. Spivy's sister, Mrs. Lydal Sears of Kansas City, in Little Rock and she also accompanied them on the trip. Rev. Spivy had only seen his sister once in twenty years.

They visited their old home place in Tennessee and Rev. Spivy conducted two revival meetings in the churches of his childhood. One was the Greenwood Church of Christ and the other was the Pleasant Valley church. While there they visited many old friends and schoolmates of by gone days.

The group went to see two of their half-sisters living in Huntsville, Ala.

The party toured the ancient Buried City in Kentucky. This is where the old mound dwellers lived and had their burial places. There are forty-two mounds there but only five have been opened for inspection.

Rev. Spivy reported that when a mound is opened up a shelter is built over it and then people are permitted to go through and examine it. He told how that the bodies were placed in the mounds in layers with each layer covered with dirt from the river and charcoal where their homes had been burned.

In one mound only infants were found buried and in the other it seemed to be families.

From all indications, these ancient people worshipped the sun and seemed to be descendants of the Mongolian race.

The man that owned this property has retired from operating it and had turned it over to the Baptist people in that section. They are asking the proceeds gained from tourists visiting, and building a hospital in Louisville, Ky. After the hospital is finished, the proceeds will be used to open some more of the mounds.

The Spivy party motored through Illinois, crossing the Ohio River at Karo and then crossing the Mississippi before proceeding to the home of Mrs. Sears in Kansas City.

While in Kansas City they toured the flood stricken areas and reported that words could not describe the destruction and waste that has taken place there.

US Presidential Adviser Reenters Iranian Dispute

U. S. Presidential Adviser W. Averell Harriman stepped actively into Anglo-Iranian oil negotiations today to prevent their collapse.

Informed sources said he planned meetings with both parties in separate conferences behind closed doors during the day.

It was understood Harriman decided to shed his role as an inactive observer when British and Iranian negotiators struck a deadlock in their dispute over nationalization of British oil interests. Harriman was responsible for bringing the two nations together for the present talks when the original negotiations broke down last June.
