BULLDOGS HARD AT WORK ON OFFENSIVE, DEFENSIVE PASS

No rest for the weary. The Ranger Bulldogs were out for their first practice session after the Hamilton game, hard at work on their pass defense and weaker protection for the passer.

Coaches Warden and Aills said that they can't seem to stop the other teams from completing their passes on the same plays that the Bulldogs use themselves, but yet they cannot make a complete themselves.

The lack of completion by the Bulldog passing attack was blamed on the weak protection of the passer. The passer must have protection before he can even hope of throwing the pass.

Coach Aills had his linemen at one end of the practice field working on screening, and Warden had the backs at the other end, working on stopping the passing attack of the other team.

It seems that the biggest mistake the Bulldog line has been making in trying to keep the opposing line away from the Ranger passer is that of using the wrong blocking or screening. The line has been lunging at the charging defenders, and they have not been successful in stopping them from filtering in to tackle the passer.

Aills spent the majority of the workout showing the line their most evident mistakes and telling them how to correct them.

Coach Warden had his backs prowling and defending at the same time, trying different safety combinations all the while, to see if they could help.

One group of backs would try to make gains by passing and the others would try to stop them.

Later the two groups, the line and the backs, were formed into a defensive and offensive unit to work as a whole. Possibly by the time Ranger meets Coleman there Friday night the passing and pass defense will be more in proportion to the running attack. And still be able to take some of the strain off the running game.

In the Hamilton game Ranger racked up 294 yards, all on the ground. They attempted very few passes and were able to protect the passer only one time, long enough to allow him to throw the ball; the other times the Hamilton line would come charging in to spoil the day.

With all the accent on these two phases of the game, Ranger will probably field a much better balanced team at Coleman.

Local Men To Attend Flood Control Meet

David Pickrell and R. V. (Rip) Galloway will attend a flood control meeting in Gatesville, Friday, October 12, at which Secretary of Agriculture Charles P. Brannan will be the principal speaker.

The meeting in Gatesville will be a get-together of persons from all over the state interested in flood control on the Leon and Little Rivers.

The meeting will stress the necessity of flood control through small dams on the upper reaches of these two rivers. This also coincides with the study being made by the Water Resource Board of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce for an additional water supply for the Ranger area.

Besides holding the position of chairman of the Water Resources Board of the Ranger Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Pickrell is also the secretary of the Eastland County Water Supply District.

He and Mr. Galloway will be at this meeting with the other men in the state, to study ways and means of improving water conditions in this area, as well as controlling floods and soil erosion with the same small dams on these two rivers, the Leon and the Little.

Iran Oil Will Not Go To Reds, Preier Says

UNITED NATIONS, Oct. 9 (UP)—Hossein Fatemi, vice premier of Iran, pledged today that his country's oil will not fall into Soviet hands because of the dispute which Britain has brought to the United Nations.

While Mohammed Mossadegh, the 76-year-old Iranian Premier, exhausted by his 33-hour plane trip from Tehran, rested at the New York hospital for his Thursday appearance before the Security Council, his 34 year old aide and chief adviser said in an exclusive interview:

"Britain has sought to spread false propaganda that Iran will fall or be pushed into the Soviet orbit if her demands are not satisfied. I do not think the National Front Movement (the government party will go along with and 'international movement'.

"We are not going to marry whoever says hello to us."

Speaking freely in his swank hotel suite, the little Iranian made this significant point:

Former Wife Of Elliot Roosevelt Wants A Divorce

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Oct. 9 (UP)—Elliott Roosevelt's first wife was seeking to shed her third husband today on the grounds that he turned out to be a fortune hunter.

The wealthy Mrs. Elizabeth Donner Hanson's suit, charging extreme cruelty, claimed that Rev. Benedict H. Hanson wanted her to:

1. Make large monetary contributions to the church.

2. Provide a $5,000 annual allowance for his mother.

3. Provide a "substantial yearly allowance," as has been done by the spouses of several rich wives, including Barbara Hutton.

The Hansons were married in June, 1947, and were separated in the fall of last year. Mrs. Hanson asked the court for custody of their three-year-old child.

Two Escape Lamesa Jail

LAMESA, Oct. 9 (UP)—Two men held for robbery escaped Dawson County jail yesterday after picking a lock in their cell and sawing through three iron bars in another door.

The escapees, identified by Sheriff Roy King as Billy Jack Bennett, 23, and his brother-in-law, Curtis Floyd Mote, 25, were charged with the $1,600 holdup of the Western Union office here last May 7.

They were believed to have driven away in a car reported stolen near the courthouse about the time of the break.

AGREEMENT ON NEW SITE FOR TALKS REVIVES PEACE HOPES

UN ADVANCE BASE, Munsan, Korea, Oct. 9 (UP)—Agreement on Pan Mun Jom as the site for resumption of the Korean armistice talks revived hopes today for an early cease-fire agreement.

Some observers predicted a "stop-shooting" agreement within 30 days, or at most before winter grips the fighting front.

The UN supreme commander's message also asked the Communists to send their liaison officers to Pan Mun Jom at 10 a.m. Wednesday (8 p.m. today EST) to arrange for resumption of the cease-fire conference.

The Communists advised that a message from the Red high command would be delivered at Pan Mun Jom at 8 a.m. Wednesday (6 p.m. today EST). It was believed to be the Communist ac-site in a note delivered to the Communists at Pan Mun Jom at 8 a.m. today (6 p.m. Monday EST). Pan Mun Jom will replace Kaesong, five miles to the north-west, where the Reds broke off the truce talks Aug. 23.

The UN supreme commander's message also asked the Communists to send their liaison officers to Pan Mun Jom at 10 a.m. Wednesday (8 p.m. today EST) to arrange for resumption of the cease-fire conference.

Eastland County Turkey Tour Scheduled For Friday, October 19

Eight different flocks totaling over 5,000 birds are included for inspection on the first annual Eastland County Turkey Tour scheduled for Friday, October 19, according to word from the County Agent's office in Eastland.

Flocks to be visited on the day tour include those of Alvin Kincaid, north of Cisco, W. B. Starr, Seranton; J. Elmo Smith, Pioneer; Cecil Carr, Rising Star; Rupe Miles, R. O. Buckley and J. H. Tidwell all of Besdemona and Mrs. John Thurman of the Staff Community. Both Baby Beef Bronze and Beltville White turkeys are being grown and will be seen at one or more of the places it was said.

The group will leave from the City Hall in Eastland promptly at 9:30 o'clock that morning and the tour is expected to be completed around 4:50 o'clock that afternoon with time out for lunch at a cafe in Rising Star. The flocks are widely scattered and over 125 miles will be written on the tour by those making the complete round.

Remembering three other last-minute relievers, prison officials did not prepare Edwards for his death until after they received word from Federal Judge James V. Alfred at Houston that a writ of habeas corpus for the condemned man had been denied at a special night session.

After he was prepared, Edwards asked for another private conference with the prison chaplain. He then walked calmly into the death chamber and delivered a barely-audible statement, which night warden Marcus Heath said consumed 14 minutes.

Edwards was condemned to death for shooting Walker who was seated in a car with Edwards' estranged wife, Betty Lou. Mrs. Edwards was also slain at the time.

At the conclusion of the text of his prepared speech, he said "no president and vice president ever have worked more closely together than Harry S. Truman and I."

"We will stand on our record next year. We ask the people for another lease of power to preserve Democracy."

Some party members assumed that by "we," Barkley meant himself and the president, but others believed he referred only to the party. The vice president did not enlarge on the reference.

He said the current administration's record was one of "unmatched accomplishment."

Ranger "Pups" Play Comanche Here Tonight

In telling of the new method to be used to secure funds to support the Ranger Junior High "Pups," it was stated that they would play Comanche last night—the statement should have read Tuesday night.

The "Pups" will go against Comanche tonight, and unless an undefeated, untied, and unscathed record this year. They will be fighting to keep that record, so don't miss this contest between the Junior High teams of Comanche and Ranger tonight.

Firemen See Demonstration Of Inhalator

The regular firemen of the Ranger Fire Department and fifteen of the Volunteer firemen, witnessed a demonstration of an inhalator by Mr. W. H. Gates of Dallas.

Johnny Bates of the Lone Star Gasoline Company and Dr. White of the Ranger Clinic were also at the demonstration representing their respective professions.

The demonstration lasted about three hours and brought out the many uses of the inhalator. It would be very valuable to the Fire Department here in the event of persons overcome by smoke, shock cases, polio, drowning, and in any other instance that breathing stops.

The price of the unit is $429. As there are no funds available to the Fire Department for the purchase of this equipment, nor do the Volunteers have enough money in their treasury to buy the inhalator, so if the equipment is made available to the fire departments it will be bought through donations from the public.

Both fire departments are going to raise funds through any possible means to purchase the equipment for Ranger. Most of the money will probably be raised through solicitations from the public.

Anyone that may care to help toward the purchase of the inhalator should contact either of the two Fire Chiefs, Charlie Isbell or Volunteer Virge Johnson.

Turkey growers and breeders, buyers, feed men and others interested in the turkey industry in the country are cordially invited to participate on the tour. Women as well as men are invited.

Mrs. John Thurman, J. H. Tidwell, J. Elmo Smith and P. C. Spenny served on a committee along with J. M. Cooner, County Agricultural Agent to plan the tour at a meeting at the high school in Carbon recently.

Peace Justice Ruling Stops Texas Rangers

GALVESTON, Oct. 9 (UP)—Texas Rangers were blocked from destruction of 106 confiscated slot machines today because of a Justice of the Peace court ruling saying the gadgets weren't gambling devices after the payoff mechanism was removed.

Justice of the Peace James L. McKenna made the ruling yesterday and directed the Rangers to return the machines to the Wiley & Nichols warehouse where they were seized Sept. 13.

McKenna said the state failed to show the machines were gambling devices during hearings Sept. 25. Attorneys for the machine owners also contended the new state law banning slot machines is unconstitutional. McKenna said it was beyond his providence to rule on that question.

Fort Worth Strikers Face Job Loss

FORT WORTH, Oct. 9 (UP)—Some 200 striking trash disposal workers faced an ultimatum today to end their strike or be fired.

The workers have stayed off their jobs in protest to the city's new hourly system of pay. They said such a system would penalize them during bad weather when they couldn't work.

The city council late Monday said that employees would not be permitted to "dictate" policies of the city government. The council's ultimatum followed a prediction by Public Works Director C. M. Thelin last week that if the workers struck they probably would lose their jobs.

Dallas Forms Club For "Ike"

DALLAS, Oct. 9 (UP)—Officers for a new Texas-for-Eisenhower Club were opened in downtown Dallas today with the purpose of organizing support for Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's nomination for president in 1952.

Mrs. Allie M. Currie, active Republican Party leader in Dallas County, said the "rank and file" of Texans want the general elected but "he's got to be nominated by a political party" first.

She said the club hopes to make its influence felt at the Texas GOP convention next May.

Troop 15 Will Meet At 6:30

The meeting time of the Boy Scouts of Troop 15 has been advanced from 7:00 to 6:30 p.m. tonight.

Scout master Keith Langford said that this early meeting hour would be far tonight only, in order that the Scouts may attend the meeting and also see the Ranger High School "Pups" play Comanche, later in the evening.

UN Drive Halted By Fanatic Reds

Only Minor Gains Reported As Reds Make Stubborn Stand

8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS
Korea, Oct. 9 (UP)—Fanatic Reds battled attacking U. S. troops to a standstill on two vital ridges in east-central Korea today.

Another American unit captured a strategic hill in an adjacent sector, however. On the western front, the U. S. 1st Cavalry Division smashed ahead more than a mile against mounting resistance.

(In Tokyo, the U. S. Navy announced that two of its warships were damaged near Hungnam on the northeast Korean coast last week-end.

It said eight men were killed and 19 others injured when the destroyer U. S. S. Ernest G. Small struck a mine. A Washington announcement said a sixth man had died. Tokyo also said the auxiliary minesweeper Ams 19 Fire Creak was hit Friday "above the water line" by a Communist 75-millimeter shell. There was no mention of casualties.

The heaviest fighting was above Yangju on the east-central front, where the 8th Army was trying to break through the enemy's "Little Siegfried Line" to the valley approaches to the east coast port of Wonsan.

The U. S. 2nd Division's 38th Infantry Regiment charged stubborn North Korean Reds with fixed bayonets on "Kim Il Sung ridge," named for the North Korean premier and commander in chief.

A fragmentary report at 6 p.m. (3 a.m. EST) said the Yanks were locked in a vicious hand-to-hand combat with the Communists. It said enemy reinforcements were moving out of a series of terraced bunkers on the crest of the ridge line to join the fray.

To the east, the 23rd division battered in vain at a Communist battalion holding out in deep log and dirt bunkers atop the north-eastmost and last enemy-held peak on "Heartbreak Ridge." An 8th Army communique reported "little or no gains" during the day.

A tank-led task force dashed up the valley between the two ridges for the fourth straight day to shoot up bunkers on "Heartbreak Ridge" and other enemy positions. The tankers reported that enemy engineers had rebuilt many of the bunkers during the night, but they were destroyed again in the latest attack.

Farther northeast, units of the 9th Regiment were driven back by withering mortar and artillery fire during an attack on a strategic hill. The Americans regrouped, then drove north again and captured the hill at 3 p.m. (1 a.m. EST).

UN fighter planes ranged out in force all along the east-central front to Napsalm, rocket and bomb enemy bunkers, gun positions and assembly areas. Airmen reported they destroyed 153 bunkers and killed or wounded 165 Red troops.

On the western front, the 1st Cavalry Division drove ahead 2,000 yards north northwest of Yonchon during the morning, but ran into stiff resistance at mid-day.

Jones Case Is Docketed In Eastland Court

A case styled Ruth Legget Jones No. 17,497A vs. The First National Bank in Dallas, recently tried in the 42nd District Court in Abilene, of which J. R. Black is presiding judge, has been appealed, and has been docketed in the Eleventh Court of Civil Appeals, in Eastland. However, no date has been set for a hearing.

The case, because of the prominence of the litigants and the amount of money involved, is attracting widespread attention. It has to do with the will and property settlement of the late Percy Jones of Abilene, millionaire businessman and railroad owner; he formerly being president of the Abilene Southern Railway.

Escapee Back In Jail; With His Wife This Time

TEXARKANA, Oct. 9 (UP)—A fleet-footed Arkansas native who escaped yesterday by leaping out of a sheriff's car was back in jail today, along with his wife.

Sheriff W. E. Davis said J. E. Burns, 33, of Corning, Ark., bolted from the car while being taken to the Western Union office to sign for a money order. The Western Union call was "faked," Davis said.

Late yesterday, officers found Burns straggling along Highway 82 two miles west of here. He surrendered without resistance.

Officers also picked up his wife, Roxanna, who had prepared luggage in apparent anticipation of her husband's escape. Both are accused of passing worthless checks in Hot Springs and Austin the sheriff said. They were held here on a false-pretense charge.

Walker is facing trial on five criminal counts, as well as a civil suit.

Out-Of-State Governors Are Coming To Fair

DALLAS, Oct. 9 (UP)—Dallas this week will become almost as lush with governors as was Gatlinburg, Tenn., last week with chief executives from at least five states scheduled to take in the annual State Fair of Texas.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, Gov. Johnston Murray of Oklahoma and Gov. Forrest Smith of Missouri were all expected here Tuesday.

Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado and Gov. Howard Pyle of Arizona have said they'll arrive Wednesday, in time for speeches by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, D. Tex., and Defense Mobilization Director Charles E. Wilson.

Encouraged by brisk, autumn weather, Texans are streaming in to the 187-acre fairground at a faster clip than ever before.

Through Monday, 398,222 persons had passed through the gates, 37,709 more than a comparable period last year. Monday's attendance amounted to 47,791.

Among other things, today was American Hereford Association Day, Texas Cotton Ginners Day, Veterans Day, Hillsboro and Hill County Day, Texas Purebred Sheep Breeders Association Day, South Plains Day and Lubbock at the exposition.

No Gas Shortage In Near Future, Chapman States

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9 (UP)—Secretary of Interior Oscar L. Chapman says he does not believe gasoline rationing will be necessary in the near future unless the steel shortage curtails oil drilling.

Chapman, here for a Democratic party dinner for members from 11 western states, was scheduled to leave today for Beaumont, to address the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

He said the steel shortage might cut down drilling activity and force "a rationing situation to arise," but barring that possibility, the nation should have all the petroleum it needs for both military and civilian uses.

The normal marketing petroleum process has been upset, Chapman said, by the seizure of the Anglo-Iranian refineries in Iran, which meant a loss to the world of 500,000 barrels of crude oil a day.

"Iran's Abadan refineries provided part of the million barrels of oil imported daily by the United States to make up the deficit between our daily production of 6,000,000 barrels and our 7,000,000 barrel-a-day consumption," he said.

"Some have suggested we need 50,000 new wells drilled this year," he said, "but if there is a shortage of steel pipe, we won't be able to hit that goal."

Chapman said he was urging a greater allocation of steel for the petroleum industry because "our whole military effort would collapse without oil."

Sgt. Frank Lockman To Remain Overtime To Discuss Enlistment

EMBEZZLEMENT CASE CALLED FOR TRIAL, IS POSTPONED; ORIGINATED IN THIS COUNTY

The case styled State of Texas vs. Horace Walker, in which Walker is charged by indictment with embezzlement, was called for trial in District Court in Breckenridge Monday morning. However, for some reason, not known to us, the case was postponed.

New trial date has been set for October 22.

This case originated in Eastland county, where Walker is charged with the embezzlement

Commission Rules Football Is A Big Business

DENVER, Oct. 9 (UP)—The Colorado Industrial Commission took an official stand today that collegiate football is "big business" and the relation between school and athlete is "that of employer and employee."

Commissioner Referee David F. How, Jr., ruled yesterday that Ernest E. Nemeth, former Denver University grad, was, in effect, an employee of the university and therefore entitled to disability pay which may exceed $3,000 plus medical expenses.

How ruled that Nemeth, 24, be paid a total of $178.95 for a three-month period of total disability and his weekly "salary" until otherwise ordered for temporary disability. He also ruled that his medical expenses, up to $1,000, be paid.

Nemeth, a stocky 190-pound ex-guard, was injured during spring practice in 1950. Unable to work at his part-time university job because of a dislocated vertebral disc, he filed a disability claim with the London Accident and Guarantee Co., Ltd., which carries a blanket insurance policy on all university employees.

When the London Company denied his claim, Nemeth filed the Industrial Commission claim.

During the Industrial Commission hearing, Nemeth testified that a $50-a-month part-time job free training-table meals and free board depended solely on his ability to make the varsity team.

The weather bureau said no new cool fronts are in sight. It will remain clear to partly cloudy and warmer for a couple of days, the weatherman said.

The weather bureau said no new cool fronts are in sight. It will remain clear to partly cloudy and warmer for a couple of days, the weatherman said.

West Texas—generally fair this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday. Warmer Wednesday.

New trial date has been set for October 22.

This case originated in Eastland county, where Walker is charged with the embezzlement of county funds. The alleged shortage was discovered at a time when Walker was employed by the county to collect delinquent taxes. The case, originally called for trial and trial date set for September 10, was transferred to Stephens county. The case has had statewide attention and is being closely watched.

Walker is facing trial on five criminal counts, as well as a civil suit.

The local football picture is falling into shape at the midway marker with all the Ranger teams at the top of the totem pole. The Ranger Junior College team is leading the Pioneer Conference in the won and lost department with three wins and one loss for an average of .750.

Having played five games, the Ranger Bulldogs have a .800 per cent won and lost record, after their thrilling defeat of the Hamilton Bulldogs Friday.

Heading both are the "Pups" and the "B" team of the Bulldogs with a batting average of 1000. Both teams stand undefeated, untied, and unscored on this year.

Police Watch An Embezzler For Suicide Attempt

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9 (UP)—Police kept a suicide watch today on a 35-year-old shipping firm cashier who leaped from a waterfront pier to escape arrest for embezzling more than $40,000 in the company's funds.

Margaret Crosthwaite, an employe of the Inter-Ocean Shipping Co., leaped from a ferry slip into San Francisco Bay yesterday while police inspectors waited at her home to question her about missing company records.

She was pulled from the water by a pile driver crew and taken to an emergency hospital where she told police she had been raiding the company's treasury for the past four years.

She also told police she staged a holdup and two burglaries in order to carry away company books which would have incriminated her.

Ask anyone that saw the game last Friday night between Ranger and Hamilton and they will tell you that it was no mistake that Ranger won.

If you would ask Hamilton what they saw on the offensive, they would tell you—Varner, Barnes, Mendoza, Cantrell, and Hargraves on nearly every play. When they were on the defensive all they saw was Comacho flying by looking from under one of the Ranger blockers.

An interesting sideline to that game was the way Comacho tore loose—he averaged 11 yards per carry in 15 tries to gain 201 of the Ranger 294 yards for the night.

TEXAS PLAYBOY REPORTED TO BE MARRIED TO FORMER WIFE

HOUSTON, Oct. 9 (UP)—The international romance of a Texas playboy that spanned three continents showed signs today of turning into a King-size matrimonial quiz show.

The "former" wife of Sheppard King III arrived home here from Paris, France, last night and denied she had remarried the oil heir last June, as Kaufman County records indicated.

King, traveling in the opposite direction, arrived in Cairo, Egypt and prepared to become a Moslem so he can marry Samia Gamil, the Egyptian belly dancer he met in a Paris nightclub.

But in Dallas, Judge Robert Hall said he had remarried King and Gloria, the wife whom he was divorced from in 1950, last June 2. An executed marriage license was on file in neighboring Kaufman County where it was issued two days before their "remarriage."

"I'm not remarried," Gloria said on her arrival.

"I was divorced in 1950 and I've never been remarried." She and King's sister, Patricia, 18, both gave their blessing to his engagement to the beautiful dancer who they had met in Paris. His mother, Mrs. Bonner King, who has threatened to disinherit her son if he marries the Moslem charmer, would not comment on his reported remarriage to her former daughter-in-law.

Patricia said at the airport she was headed for home "to tell her mother all about this affair." She dismissed questions about King's remarriage, saying—"I don't know—I'm only his sister."

Don't Blame The Fire For The Damage

You don't blame the automobile when the driver runs it into a telephone pole. Or the hammer when it slips causes a smashed finger. Or the stepladder when someone falls from its height.

So why blame the match when there's a fire?

The ordinary safety match passes 37 tests before it reaches the consumer. During match production, samples are taken from a lot every few minutes, to test striking qualities and safety. If the sample doesn't come up to industry standards, the entire lot is destroyed.

It isn't the match, but the careless use of the match, which causes fires," points out Clarke K. Wolfret, dean of match chemists. "It's the 38th element—the human element—which accounts for the country's annual multi-million-dollar loss from fire."

Cautions Mr. Wolfret: The one sure way to guard against fires is to know that cigarette butts, campfires and lighted matches are put out before you leave them. Don't just think you've extinguished the flame. Be sure!

Mrs. Wolfret's message is particularly timely just now. In case you've forgotten, October 8 to 14 is Fire Prevention Week.

Wrong Idea On Antelope Hunt

AUSTIN, Oct. — The Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission said some reaction to the Texas method of hunting antelope in the Big Bend country indicates need for those who have not hunted pronghorns to try their hand at it.

He said the opinion of some persons who have not participated in the short shoot of the West Texas game animals seems to sense similarity "to shooting fish in a barrel."

"It's not that easy," he explained, "and you may need more ammunition than you took along."

"From published reports, it is indicated that some folks associate antelope hunting with buffalo 'hunting' in some Western states where the huge animals are rounded up and executed," continued the Executive Secretary.

"First of all this limited herd-thinning project is necessary to manage and maintain vigorous herds, in the process of restoring antelope."

"Secondly, the Commission has to carefully supervise the shoot for the safety of the herds, the landowners' cattle and the hunters themselves."

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9 (UP)—Thomas H. Holmes, Jr., 21, was discharged from the Air Force 11 days ago after 25 bombing missions over Korea in which he escaped unscathed.

Yesterday, while painting the front door of his father's house, young Holmes lost his balance and fell four feet from the doorstep—suffering a possible skull fracture.

IRAN—

"In a political struggle between big powers, in day-to-day politics, a country like Iran is bound to profit. But we have asked him from nobody. We did not ask Russia to support us (when Soviet delegate Semyon Tsarapkin opposed Security Council consideration of the Anglo-Iranian dispute), but we appreciated it when she did and we thanked the Russians.

"The United States and Britain supported Iran in Azerbaijan (in the 1946 dispute with Russia) and now, in the oil dispute, Russia has not remained impartial. All we do is for Iran's national integrity but no government, if it helps us in any question, should have hopes of atoning our gratitude."

Asked whether Iran might consider oil concessions in its northern territories to Russia, Fatemi said no.

"The nationalization law," he said, "Applies to the north as well as to the south."

Fatemi spoke after ambassador Ernest A. Gross, deputy chief of the United States delegation, and George McGhee, Assistant Secretary of State, had spent an hour with Mossadegh in his $240-a-day hospital suite. Informed sources said it was only a courtesy visit.

After seeing Mossadegh, however, Gross went into a conference with Sir Gladwyn Jebb, chief of the British delegation, and Francis Lacombe, acting permanent UN representative from France. Diplomatic sources said that Gross went to express the state department's views on a revised British resolution in the oil impasse.

Under the new resolution, it was understood, Britain would content itself with a passing reference to the international court of justice injunction to both the British and Iranians not to interfere in operations of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company and would ask the council to recall on both sides to resume the negotiations broken off at Tehran last month. The new resolution, however, probably will not be ready for presentation when the council convenes at Flushing Meadow at 10:30 a.m. Thursday.

U. S. Atomic Weapons Far From Outmoded; Says Army Secretary

BEAUMONT, Oct. 9 (UP)—The United States army is in no danger of becoming outmoded in the fields of atomic weapons, guided missiles "and other advanced weapons," Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, Jr., said last night.

"While we have hastened to put weapons into mass production, we have been careful not to put a 'freeze' on new ideas for improvement," he said.

Recently, I visited a number of our proving grounds where the latest weapons are tested. I can report to you that the Army is in no danger of becoming outmoded because of failure to keep up with the times."

Pace's statement came near the end of a prepared speech on "the pattern of our defenses" made before a meeting of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association. Speakers today included Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman.

While Pace made no reference to Russia's progress in the field of atomic warfare, many of his listeners interpreted the statement to be a direct answer to Premier Josef Stalin's recent confirmation of successful atomic detonations in Russia.

In a review of this country's attempts to halt the spread of Communist aggression, Pace said the U.S. has laid down a "pattern of defense" based on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, stepped up defense preparations in the Pacific, including bilateral treaties with New Zealand, Australia and the Philippines, and

We are blushing

"We're embarrassed." We'd like to tell you how smart we think we are about insurance. But it might sound like bragging.

But we can say this: We provide insurance for lots of people for various purposes. We keep up on all the new kinds of policies. We're right in the middle of insurance all the time.

So, we think we can qualify as insurance experts. And insurance is a complex subject, these days.

We can make it simple for you, if you'll come in to discuss the protections that you may need — and ask us what they'll cost.

Bucking the Line of Scrimmage—

... if we may borrow from football parlance, is the sort of exercise that toughens fibre and prepares the participant for heavy duty ahead. As in sports, so it is with those who attain success in life. The weak falter while the strong survive. Getting the job done is bucking the line, a sure demand of the public in business life. Some call it success, but we like to think of it as a lot of hard work. In a nutshell, that's it!
