

Egypt Accuses Britain Of Waging A War

PARIS, Nov. 16 (UP)—Egypt accused Britain before the United Nations today of waging a "real war" against the Nile country, but offered a plebiscite in the Sudan to settle at least one phase of the dispute.

In explosive terms that astonished the assembled diplomats, Egyptian Foreign Minister Salah El-Din charged British actions in the Suez Canal Zone represented an actual breach of world peace.

But in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, claimed by the Cairo government as territory under the crown of King Farouk, he proposed a plebiscite to determine its future. Egypt will withdraw its armed forces and officials from the jointly administered Sudan for the plebiscite if Britain will do the same, he said.

"The necessary machinery, atmosphere and preparation" for the plebiscite, could be provided with cooperation from the UN, Salah El-Din told the general assembly.

Otherwise, in his torrent of accusations against the British, he did not request any specific UN action. The 25-page address, delivered in a breaking voice, was aimed chiefly at arousing world opinion.

A British delegation spokesman described the address as "a rehearsal of a frenzied harangue."

UP Foreign Editor Balances Good And Bad News Of The Week

By HARRY FERGUSON, United Press Foreign News Editor. Balance sheet for the week between good news and bad in the hot and cold wars:

GOOD NEWS:

1. President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill plan to confer early next year on means of keeping British rearmament going. There is a fair chance that out of their talks will come some fresh approach to the problem of how to end the cold war, and, in any event, the two nations probably will emerge with a solid front attitude toward Russia and her satellites.

2. Yugoslavia, despite being a Communist nation, moved further into the Moscow camp. She went before the United Nations General Assembly in Paris with an appeal to halt what are described as aggressive plans against her by Russia and her European satellites. The United States and Yugoslavia signed an agreement that will provide modern weapons for Marshal Tito's army.

3. A ray of hope remained that some settlement of British-Iranian controversy over nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. could be worked out in Washington. U. S. Government agencies were reported to be giving "sym-

LIONS ENJOY OUTING AT LACASSA HD CLUB THURSDAY

About 35 or 40 Lions and Lionesses thoroughly enjoyed a ladies night meeting Thursday night at Lacassa, with the ladies of the Home Demonstration Club of Lacassa as hostesses.

In addition to those attending from Ranger, about 25 men of the Lacassa community were guests of the local club. A heaping plate of turkey, dressing, cranberry sauce and all the fixings comprised the bounteous feast, with cherry pie as dessert.

President Pat Thomas introduced A. N. Larson who made a humorous talk with jokes that drew rounds of applause. L. L. Bruce, Dr. W. P. Watkins also made short talks as did Mr. Bradford of Lacassa. After the meal Tail Twister Dick Hodges, assisted by Wilson Guest proceeded to assess and collect fines from all the Lions for various "crimes," and some were hesitant about paying off and in those instances the tail twisters severed their ties. Bids were made by other Lions for ties of the victims and in some cases the ze-

Former Resident Dies At McKinney

Word has been received here of the death of a former Ranger resident and the son of Mrs. Tessie Stokes, also formerly of Ranger. Mr. George Stokes passed away at his home in McKinney last night.

Survivors include his wife, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Smith of Ranger, two children, Patricia Ann, 2½-year-old, and Butch, 1½. One brother of Crane, and his mother.

Funeral arrangements are with the Craine - Sun Funeral Home, with services scheduled for Sunday, November 18.

Mr. Stokes was a graduate of Ranger High School about 1937.

pathetic consideration" to the request of Premier Mohammed Massadeh of Iran for a loan. In return this nation may win some concessions in Britain's behalf.

BAD NEWS:

1. It became clear at the United Nations general assembly in Paris that there is scant hope for Russia and the western democracies to arrive at a workable compromise on the cold war. Representatives of both sides delivered speeches in which they refused to budge from the positions they now occupy. Russia flatly refused to consider a proposal for a realistic limitation of armaments, including atomic bombs.

2. The Chinese Reds continue to commit atrocities on allied prisoners of war in Korea. There was confusion and contradiction among allied officers in Tokyo and Korea as to the extent of the crimes against the prisoners, but the Communists consistently were violating the Geneva Convention which sets forth rules for civilized warfare.

3. British and Egyptian blood was shed in a clash in the Suez Canal Zone. There appeared to be no way to conciliate the quarrel that broke out when Egypt repudiated a treaty with London and demanded that British troops leave the Canal zone. Both Cairo and London announced they were standing firm.

McCarthy Reveals Plans in Egypt

CAIRO, EGYPT, Nov. 16 (UP)—Texas oilman Glenn McCarthy lifted the lid today on his hopes to launch a "huge" oil exploitation project in Egypt.

The deal could be closed in a minute, he said, if Egypt waives its law that 51 per cent of the proposed company's stock must be owned by Egyptians.

"If the Egyptian government agrees to let me own an operate my business," McCarthy said, "I'll buy all the land I can explore on."

The Houston oil and hotel executive said millions of dollars were involved but did not name a specific sum. He issued the statement after a two-day swing by plane and automobile of the Red Sea coast and Sinai Peninsula.

McCarthy said that the areas he inspected have "plenty of good oil possibilities."

"The government seems to be cooperating by listening to my views, but it must relax the ownership law before my business can begin functioning," he said.

McCarthy indicated he will begin his work over row with publicist Solvay Meyer, former Howard Hughes agent, who traveled with him on the entire mission.

At the time the two men set out for the middle east, they made no statements on the mission and scrupulously avoided the press. It was reported—and later denied in Washington—that McCarthy and Meyer were on a government mission.

Oilman's Yule Display Brings City Objection

WICHITA, KAN., Nov. 16 (UP)—Residents of an east Wichita neighborhood believe the elaborate Christmas decorations of oilman Al Skalsky are "a nuisance a traffic hazard and disturbance of the peace."

They asked the city council yesterday to stop Skalsky from putting up his display this year. The residents complained that the decorations, which last year included animated mechanical deer, drew such crowds of sightseers that streets are choked intermittently for weeks.

Jealous Buck Gores Keeper

MACON, GA., Nov. 16 (UP)—A big buck deer flew into a jealous rage and gored a 74-year-old zoo attendant here when the man's attention's to a doe arounded the buck's ire.

Macon hospital attendants said Joe Everidge, Baconfield Park Zoo caretaker, was in "fair" condition today. Everidge was found bleeding an unconscious yesterday by another attendant, Albert Guest.

Guest said he found Everidge lying unconscious in the deer pen, "with the big buck pacing all around him."

Guest said Everidge petted the doe an always fed her first. He said all bucks are ill-tempered during the mating season, and the animal resented Everidge's attentions to the doe.

Connally Says Cease Fire Is Near In Korea

FORT WORTH, Nov. 16 (UP)—Sen. Tom Connally said last night that American negotiators are nearer a cease fire agreement in Korea than at any time since the conference began and blamed continuance of the war on Soviet Russia.

In his first report to Texas since Congress ended its session, the veteran Democratic party leader struck out against administration critics with a statement that the nation is the "richest... strongest country on the globe."

"But for the encouragement from Communist Russia and her influence with Communist China, the war would already have come to an end," Connally said.

The Senator, already announced as a candidate for re-election next year, made no direct mention of his personal critics in the radio address.

He said, however, "I am aware that there is considerable dissatisfaction among some people as to the situation in the United States."

"However," he continued, "I want to point out that a citizen of the United States today lives in the richest... strongest country on the globe. He lives in the most prosperous nation the world has ever seen. Let the American people contemplate these facts and examine their own conditions, as compared with what those conditions were in other years."

MUD HOLDING UP FIGHTING ON FRONT AS TALKS GO ON

By Arnold Dibble, United Press Staff Correspondent. PANMUNJOM, Korea, Nov. 16 (UP)—Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, United Nations truce negotiator, warned the Communists sharply today that fighting in Korea will continue until an armistice is actually signed whether it be days, weeks or months.

In a confused and quarrelsome meeting in the Panmunjom truce tent, Communist Gen. Lee Sang Cho asked Hodes to redefine the Allied objectives in insisting that fighting be continued during negotiations.

"You know what that objective is," Hodes said firmly. "We are after an armistice and not gain on the ground."

"If the delay (in negotiations) lasts four or five months, the fighting will continue until the armistice is signed. Or, if negotiations continue for two days, three days or three weeks or longer, the fighting will continue until an armistice is achieved."

"You might as well know this now if you have not known it before."

A UN communique said the Reds argued in the longest subcommittee meeting yet held that the Allies had strayed far from their earlier proposals based on definite demarcation lines drawn on a map.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, chief UN representative, replied that the earlier Allied proposals were now outdated.

The meeting ended "without attaining any tangible results," the UN communique said. However, the subcommittee will meet again at 11 a.m. tomorrow (9 p.m. today EST).

The latest meeting lasted five hours and 15 minutes in a new conference tent erected by the Communists to replace the leaky former meeting place.

The Reds took up the morning session with the argument that Hodes was trying to evade compliance with the second item of the agenda—settlement of a cease-fire line and buffer zone across Korea.

Hodes replied that the UN proposal to base the cease-fire line on the batteline existing when the rest of the armistice agreement is ready for signing contains "the three essentials for the fixing of a demarcation line—the how, the when, and the where."

The Reds switched their attack in the afternoon session to the contention that the latest Allied proposal was inconsistent with earlier UN proposals, all of which included demarcation lines drawn on a map.

Hodes answered that the earlier proposals actually contemplated adjustments to the predetermined contact line, whereas the new proposal would merely stop the fighting at the final batteline without any adjustments.

ON THE FRONT. 8th ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Nov. 16 (UP)—Communist troops knocked the Allies off a hill on the east Korean front in a nine-hour battle today.

The United Nations forces regrouped and counter-attacked shortly after dark tonight in an attempt to recapture the height.

The fight was the only noteworthy ground action reported along the muddy 135-mile front.

United Nations planes at the same time stepped up their aerial offensive against Communist North Korea under clearing skies.

B-29 Superfortresses flew through rain and snow before dawn to hit nearly a completed enemy airfield in northwest Korea for the second straight day.

Bombing by radar, the B-29s rained the airstrip at Teachen twice and that at Namul once. The Reds are trying to complete the airstrips as bases for Russian-built MIG-15 jet fighters now flying from Manchurian airfields.

The rain and snow ceased during the morning, and Allied planes swarmed north in force for the first time in 86 hours. They sighted MIGs over northwest Korea for the first time in five days, but did not engage them.

At least 116 Communist jets were seen during the day but all refused battle with the Allied planes.

United Nations fighters and fighter-bombers cut Communist rail line in at least 22 places and destroyed or damaged 22 enemy supply buildings, two locomotives, 32 railway cars, two railway bridges, and six anti-aircraft gun positions.

An 8th Army communique reported "no significant activity" during the morning along the muddy-bound ground fronts. Two enemy probing attacks, each by a Communist platoon, were repulsed southwest of Kumsong on the central front.

CARBON MAN GETS $50 FOR FIRST 10,000 LBS. PEANUTS

Paul Norris of Carbon has been awarded the Ranger Chamber of Commerce $50.00 award for the first ten thousand pound load of peanuts brought here that meet the award requirements.

He was given the award Wednesday by the Ranger Chamber of Commerce after he had taken the load of peanuts to the Ranger Peanut Company where they were weighed and graded.

The load brought in by Norris weighed 12380 pounds, graded 70 with 1 per cent damage and a 6 per cent moisture content.

Comedy Western At Your Tower

PLUG 'N TRIGGER

Hunters ignore the difficulties of the climb up to high country and the rigors of the hunt when the quarry is a handsome buck deer. Of all American big game animals, perhaps the deer is the most sought after.

Certainly it is among the most elusive. It is an extremely nervous animal, highly susceptible to shock. But it is also one of the hardest to kill.

This hunter has seen a buck run 200 yards or more, even with his vitals—the heart or lungs—punctured by a well-placed shot. The stamina of the deer is almost unbelievable.

It is true that there are many instantaneous kills each season, but for every one of these there are many hits which resolve themselves into losses as the wounded animal disappears, not to be seen again.

Thus it becomes obvious that the deer hunter needs, among other things, to get his deer: a high-powered rifle with tremendous shocking power and a well-placed shot.

Sometimes at the opening of the season, the hunter will have the good fortune to run across a deer that presents a standing shot. But once the season gets in swing and the number of hunters increase, the nervousness of the deer increases and the third important factor—skillful hunting ability—becomes at least equally as important as the high-powered rifle and supreme marksmanship.

The deer, besides being high-strung, is also very curious. And, if his curiosity is tickled, will sometimes stand like a statue for as much as half an hour watching the hunter—especially if the huntsman is downwind. But once given a sniff of that terrifying human smell, the animal is off on winged feet.

Many hunters try to pick their shots, but a majority will take a chance every time on a running shot, for there is ever hope in the heart of every hunter.

Any hit on a running buck is a good one. If you can hit him just where you want, hats are off to you, for you are an expert marksman without dispute.

But let's face it! Luck plays a part, also, in the successful hunt. There's something about the uneven gait of the deer, particularly this in rough country, that makes it hard to catch properly in the gunner's sights.

Mae West Turns Down TV Offer

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 16 (UP)—Bixbee Mae West turned thumbs down on television today because "it hasn't reached large enough proportions yet."

The golden-haired actress returned to Hollywood yesterday, all bundled up in a blue mink coat and wearing long blue eyelashes to match, and announced she would like to make a movie "if I could find a script that had what the people want."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

In view of recent news dispatches throughout the nation, I as a citizen of the United States feel it to be my duty to ask for publication of the following facts.

I am a citizen of the United States and entitled to the rights and privileges inherent to a citizen as expressed in the Bill of Rights, the first ten amendments to the constitution, namely:

1. Freedom of Religion.
2. Freedom of Speech and the press.
3. Freedom of Assembly.
4. The right to petition the government.
5. Freedom to bear arms in the defense of the country.
6. Freedom of one's house and person from unwarranted search and seizure.
7. Freedom from the billeting of soldiers.
8. Freedom of private property from confiscation except for a public purpose and with adequate compensation.
9. Freedom from arbitrary arrest and imprisonment.
10. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus.
11. The right to a speedy and public trial by a jury of one's peers, to subpoena witnesses and to have legal assistance in one's defense.
12. Freedom from bills of attainder ex post facto laws, excessive fines, and cruel and unusual punishments.

I am a citizen of the United States, a member of the white race, a member of the Catholic Church, a member of the Democratic party.

I state this so no one person or group may accuse me of striving to hide any political, racial, or religious loyalties. I write this to defend no political, racial, or religious loyalties. I write solely as a citizen of the United States.

Recent political actions have brought a flood of accusations and denunciations upon my religion. In order to clarify this situation I submit that:

The president of the United States and the members of the Congress of the United States are elected by the citizens of the United States, not by one creed, one race or one political party. If any actions of the president and the Congress of the United States go against wishes of all or a few of the citizens of the United States, and the blame for such action rests upon all the citizens and not any one creed, race or political party, if any group of citizens organizes in an effort to bring discredit and hatred to bear upon another person or group for any reason it is denying the accused person or group their civil rights as stated in our constitution.

I, hereby, announce that until such time as I am deprived of my civil rights through disloyalty to my government, through conviction of a crime or through an amendment to the constitution, I shall expect and demand that my government and fellow citizens grant me and all citizens those rights. I ask that this be published because as a citizen I am proud and grateful that the founders of my government have insured me these rights and because I feel that no citizen of the United States would want to do away with these rights—I also feel, personally, that any effort to deny our civil right to any one person or group will only serve to cause hatred, turmoil and distrust within our country at a time when the whole free world is looking to our United States for leadership against our common enemy, Communism.

FARM NEWS

By MAC CROW
Ranger Junior College

Every year thousands of shade trees are damaged in Texas by freezing rain. We lose more trees here in the south by this cause, than in the northern states where the winters are more severe.

As soon as the shade tree goes into the dormant stage, it will be all right to start trimming off those branches that could easily be broken by an ice storm. In trimming a branch off, you should try to keep the tree symmetry in shape; also, the cut should be flush with main limb so as to increase the speed in healing of the wound.

There are several good mixtures that can be used in painting over the wound. A combination of cresosote and coal tar has long been used as a dressing for tree wounds. The reason for this treatment is to kill the fungi that cause a tree to rot. When a tree starts decaying, you can expect that part of the plant to die completely without proper treatment.

The U.S.D.A. puts out a bulletin on Care of Damaged Shade Trees and it can be secured by writing a postcard to United States Department of Agriculture, Texas A&M College Station, Texas, and asking for Farmers Bulletin No. 1896.

If you have a nice shade tree around the place remember that a tree takes several years to grow. A ice storm that last only a few days can cause enough damage to kill the tree completely.

In treating a tree wound it is better to follow a prevention method rather than the curing methods.

Grow Christmas Flowers From Bulbs in Water

Growing flowers for Christmas in the modern home is not easy, but it can be done if Paper White Narcissus bulbs are started Nov. 1, and grown in carefully regulated temperatures. Without such care the flowers are likely to be inferior and the stems weak, because the bulbs have not matured to the degree most favorable for "forcing."

"Forcing" is the florist's word for making a plant flower out of season; and the formula for accomplishing this is much the same with all bulbs. Bulbs develop, even in storage, and take time to reach the stage where they are ready to grow. If planted then, they first must produce roots, since top growth without good roots is weak, and seldom flowers.

Paper White narcissi, planted in bowls filled with gravel or peat chips, should be kept in a temperature below 60 degrees for four weeks; preferably in dim light. When root growth is sufficient, top growth will begin, and then they should have all the light possible. Best flowers will result when the temperature never exceeds 70 degrees; keep them away from radiators and steam pipes, and out of overheated living rooms.

Instead of gravel, bowls may be filled with bulb fibre, or potting soil. Containers should be deep enough to allow two inches of gravel, fibre or soil below them. Set the bulbs close together but do not let them touch; and only the necks should emerge from the soil.

Yellow Paper Whites (soil d'or) and Narcissus Early Perfection can also be grown by these methods; but they take longer to make flowers. The best time to start all these is Dec. 1, for mid-January flowers.

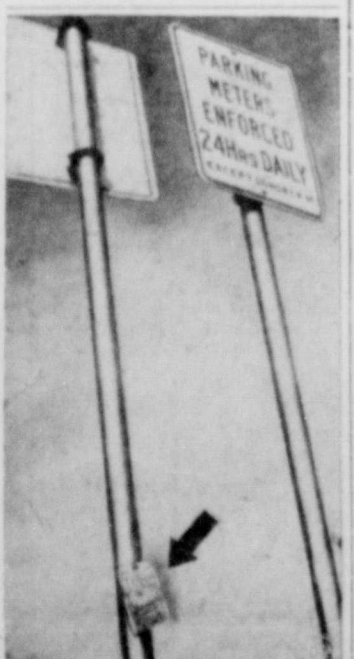

Large bulbs of hyacinths can be grown in water in special glasses; and both bulbs and glasses are available this year for the first time since the war began. The glasses support the bulbs just above the water, into which their roots drop. It takes 10 to 12 weeks for the roots to develop. In a dark place, in cool temperature. When roots fill the glass and top growth begins, acustom the plant gradually to light, and grow slowly in a temperature below 65 degrees. The water should not be changed, but merely replenished.

When top growth begins, these bulbs must have all the light you can give them. They should be kept near windows, in a sunporch or room where ventilation can be given and temperatures kept down. By arranging shelves in front of a window on which the plants can stand, an attractive display is made.

PAY-AS-YOU-GO—Settle it on the spot, is the motto of the motorist who left a dollar bill and his parking ticket (arrow) attached to the parking meter in Minneapolis, Minn. It was a nice gesture, but not fully satisfactory to police because the fine for parking violations is two dollars.

On and Off the Streets—
... owners of land as well as prospective owners discuss with us freely the many problems growing out of the ownership of real estate. One of the big problems, of course, is the title problem. We tell them frankly that a few dollars invested in an abstract now may save them hundreds of dollars later on. The old saying that "a stitch in time saves nine" is still true and very aptly applies itself to all real estate transactions.

Comanche Indians Will Be Out For Bulldog Scalp Tonite

The Bulldogs take on their last conference foe tonite when the Comanche Indians come to town hunting a Bulldog scalp to put in their wigwag.

The Indians were at one stage of the game figured as the team to watch with Ranger for the district crown.

Now that Ranger has the honor of representing the district in the Bulldog doghouse the Indians would be more than happy if they could defeat the champs.

Other than Charles Masseege who is out with his bad leg the Bulldogs will be in their pitching for a clean slate in district play.

Had they defeated Stamford earlier in the season they would be undefeated all the way. Stamford bowled them over by seven points early in the running.

The record shows that the Bulldogs have scored 259 points against all opponents this year, while having 53 tolled against them in nine games.

Junior Arterburn

Tech's Success Accredited Largely To Junior Arterburn

Special To The Ranger Times
LUBBOCK, Nov. 14 (Sp.)—Tech's surprising showing this season has been largely due to the efforts of a quarterback from Ranger, Junior Arterburn.

At the season's start, DeWitt Weaver and his staff of assistants—all new—faced a rough schedule with only three returning offensive starters. Texas Christian, Baylor, and Texas A&M were to be faced, along with the best teams in the Border Conference. So were Tulsa University, Houston, and New Mexico.

Weaver and company brought with them the explosive spit-T offense utilized to such advantage by Oklahoma University and Maryland. But to make it work they had to develop a spit-T quarterback—no easy chore.

Arterburn, who did most of his playing last season on defense, was the man picked to carry Tech's record. For the season they have won four games and lost three.

That's not phenomenal, but one of the victories was over the leading team in the Southwest Conference—TCU. Tech actually coasted to a 33-19 victory. Third and fourth stringers played out the fourth quarter while TCU was getting its only points.

The other three victories were over Border Conference teams—West Texas State, defending champ, 46-7; Arizona, pre-season favorite, 41-0; and Texas Western, 27-7. Consequently, Tech is in a tie for first place with Hardin-Simmons, whom the Red Raiders meet here Dec. 1.

And none of the defeats were disgraceful—to Houston, 0-6; to A&M, 7-20 and to Baylor, 20-40.

For his work against Texas Christian, Arterburn gained back-of-the-week honors for the Southwest and ranked third in the nation on the AP poll.

Against Arizona he gained three-fourths of Tech's yardage and was officially nominated for All-American honors.

In the game with the Wildcats he ran for 128 yards and three touchdowns and passed for 139 yards. One of his scores was on a 49-yard run; the other, on a 37-yard scamper.

Arterburn is slightly-built at 165 pounds spread over a 5 feet 11 frame, but he is tough enough to take a lot of punishment.

He's a senior majoring in business management, but he will probably be interested in a coaching job upon graduation. Arterburn was all-district at Ranger High School and all-conference for Ranger Junior College.

An art program was presented in conjunction with Art Week. Mrs. John Thurman, as leader, presented the invocation. She stated that there is no art to compare with the art found in nature's beauty. Mrs. J. T. Killingsworth told about "color."

After a display of posters from each of the grade schools, Mrs. H. L. Coody gave a talk on "Art and Its Uses."

Refreshments that carried out the art theme were served.
